Session 1939.

133d of the General Assembly.

Vol. 23

HARRISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, JANUARY 3, 1939.

No. 1.

SENATE

January 3, 1939, 12 O'Clock Noon.

This being the day and hour fixed by the Constitution for the meeting of the General Assembly, the members of the Senate together with the Senators-elect chosen at the last general election held on November 8, 1938, assembled in the Senate Chamber.

The PRESIDENT. (Lieutenant-Governor Thomas Kennedy) called the Senate to order at 12 o'clock noon.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. GEORGE WALKER BUCKNER, LL.D., offered the following prayer:

Our Father-God, we look backward today with mingled emotions of humility and thankfulness; yet while Thy New Year of Grace is young, we haste to invoke Thy blessing, and to seek Thy counsel.

Conscious of neither sin nor fault in so doing, we rejoice in the peculiar glory of our institutions in the triumphs of democracy, in which we think not of personal victories or defeats; but rather, of the wholesome acquiescence in the democratic process. Help us to be insistently faithful to its orderly ways.

May Thy blessing rest upon the new personalities of this group; upon those no longer to be associated in the collaborations of this body; upon the memory of those choice spirits, the late Senators Homsher and Huffman, who have gone to their rewards, leaving to us the rich legacy of their example.

Bless him who has presided with such wisdom and skill over the sessions of the Senate, and those who have served efficiently in varied ministries on this floor.

May Thy Grace rest upon him who is soon to speak to us in review of the labors and achievements of the quadrennium drawing to its close, and upon those who have labored with him through the years. We thank Thee for the Epic of his idealism, his courage and devotion—a bright page to be, in the history of our Commonwealth.

And may a double portion of Thy Spirit be upon him, who, as the choice of a sovereign people, is soon to become the Governor of us all. As he brings to his high office a wealth of native gifts, a wide and varied experience in the service of the State, may we bring to him a just and honest support; and under Thy guidance may there come to our people an era of happiness and peace.

May the Grace of our God be upon us all. Amen.

The PRESIDENT. May the Chair say that at my left is the Sheriff of Philadelphia County, about to serve a paper on the presiding officer. May I say to him and to all others that I have charge of police matters in this room and I am immune from the service of papers, so you can take your paper, please and —

The PRESIDENT. Let us have order, please!

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President,—

Mr. SHAPIRO. There is nothing before the Senate at this time.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, there will be in a moment—

The PRESIDENT. The Chair is competent to handle the affairs of the Senate.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I—

The PRESIDENT. For what purpose does the Senator rise?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, for the purpose of making a motion. I appeal from the decision of the Chair and file the following appeal.

The PRESIDENT. The only thing in order is the recognition of the Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I file the following appeal from the decision of the Chair in which the Chair rules nothing was now in order but the recognition of the Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate. I ask for a roll call on the appeal.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair rules that the appeal is not in order. There is nothing before the Senate except the recognition of the Sergeant-at-Arms.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I insist upon the allowance of an appeal being considered by the Senate and ask that the roll be called, and I further state that I propose to make the following motion: I move that the papers just served on the President of the Senate by the Marshall of the Supreme Court be read at length for the information of the Senate and spread on the record.

The PRESIDENT. The motion is out of order and the Chair rules that the appeal is not allowable at this time.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I make the following motion: I move, Mr. President, that the paper just served upon the President of the Senate by the Marshall of the Supreme Court, which reads as follows,—

"To the Senate of Pennsylvania, The Honorable Thomas Kennedy"—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, will state his point of order.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the Senator from Tioga is out of order. There is nothing before the Senate except the receiving of the message from the Secretary of the Commonwealth. This is an organization meeting.

The PRESIDENT. The point of order is well taken.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I want to say in making that point of order that it is rather surprising to the members of the Senate that the Republican organization is so well informed upon the activities of the Supreme Court before anyone knows anything about it.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I appeal from the ruling of the Chair in sustaining the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, in his point of order that this motion I was about to make is out of order, and I will file an appeal immediately.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair is of the opinion that the appeal is out of order. There is nothing before the Senate except the orderly procedure of this body.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, for the purpose of the record, Mr. President, I desire to complete my motion—

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I object to the Senator making further motion to the Senate or reading his motion, because there is nothing before the Senate except the organization procedure.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. There is nothing in order; the Chair will again rule—

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I appeal from the decision of the Chair holding that a question of personal privilege is out of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I ask if the President will permit me to file an appeal from the decision just made.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair rules that no appeals are in order at this time. The only business before the Senate is to recognize the Sergeant-at-Arms. The Chair recognizes the Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate.

The Sergeant-at-Arms presented the Deputy Secretary of the Commonwealth, Isaac Keim.

PRESENTATION OF ELECTION RETURNS

Mr. KEIM. Mr. President, I hereby present to you the votes cast for the offices of Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Secretary of Internal Affairs, and Senators in the General Assembly, at the election of November 3, 1938.

The PRESIDENT. May the Chair inquire if these returns are complete?

Mr. KEIM. Mr. President, no, sir.

The PRESIDENT. What ones are missing?

Mr. KEIM. Mr. President, the Second Senatorial District; I am unable to bring the returns of that District because the Secretary of the Commonwealth was restrained by the Dauphin County Court from bringing those returns into the Senate at this time.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair is of the opinion that the Senate, being the judge of the qualifications of its own members, in order to arrive at the conclusion of that matter intelligently it is necessary that the full and complete returns covering every Senatorial election be supplied to the Senate, and the Chair instructs the Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate to proceed to the Bureau of Elections and secure the returns from the Second Senatorial District in order that the Senate may have the complete returns of the elections.

There is nothing in order until the Sergeant-at-Arms returns with the complete returns.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President—

The PRESIDENT. For what purpose does the Senator rise?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I move that the returns from the Second Senatorial District be not presented to the Senate for the reason that the Court of Dauphin County, sustained by the Supreme Court, has issued the following decree—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro will state his point of order.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the Senator from Tioga is out of order. The Senate is at ease and there is nothing before the Senate except awaiting the return of the Sergeant-at-Arms.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, the Senate is in session.

The PRESIDENT. The Point of order is well taken. The Chair previously ruled to that effect.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I appeal from the decision of the Chair and ask leave to file the following appeal.

The PRESIDENT. The appeal is too absurd. It is out of order of its own motion.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, am I to understand that the appeal will not be received?

The PRESIDENT. The appeal will not be received.

POINT OF LEGISLATIVE INQUIRY

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I rise to a point of legislative inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, will state his point of legislative inquiry.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I desire to inquire whether the papers just served on the Lieutenant Governor as the President of this Senate affect the whole body of the Senate.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I object. There is nothing before the Senate except the reading of the returns, and there are no papers before the Senate.

The PRESIDENT. As far as the President is concerned he knows of no papers before this Senate except the official papers having to do with the business of this Senate.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, as a Senator in his seat in the body of this Senate I observed certain papers being served upon the Lieutenant Governor as President of this Senate, and my legislative inquiry is directed to the question as to whether they contain information which the members of this Senate should have. May I request that the presiding officer of this body inform the Senate as to that inquiry?

The PRESIDENT. I do not know the answer to your inquiry. The Chair recognizes the Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate.

The SERGEANT-AT-ARMS. Mr. President I herewith present the election returns from the Second Senatorial District of Philadelphia.

The PRESIDENT. The returns will be received.

MOTION TO HAVE RETURNS OPENED AND READ

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I move that all the returns from the Districts of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania be opened and read by the Clerk.

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I offer the following amendment to the motion just made: I move that the motion be amended to read that all the returns now submitted to the Senate, with the exception of the returns of the Second Senatorial District, be read to the Senate, and that that be set aside for the present.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, will state his point of order.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the obligation of the Secretary of the Commonwealth under the law is to present the returns of all the Districts to the Senate. The duty of the Clerk of the Senate is to read all of the returns. There can be no separation of returns according to the Constitution and the law.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair is of the opinion that the amendment kills the very purpose of the original motion. It is therefore not in order.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I appeal from the decision of the Chair and ask leave to file the following appeal.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, will state his point of order.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, if the appeal were to carry, the Senate would be in the position of violating the laws of the Commonwealth and the Constitution of the State by reading only a portion of the returns. Therefore an appeal which is ineffectual certainly cannot be permitted, and I ask that the Chair declare the appeal out of order.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, in answer to my colleague from Philadelphia, Senator Shapiro, may I call the President's attention—

Mr. SHAPIRO. I object. An appeal to the Chair is not debatable.

The PRESIDENT. Only within narrow limits. The Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, may offer his explanation.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I desire to call the Senate's attention to the fact that on December 22nd, the Court of Dauphin County issued an injunction enjoining the Secretary of the Commonwealth, his agents and employees, from issuing an election certificate to the office of Senator in the General Assembly from the Second District of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to Mr. Herbert S. Levin, and from presenting to the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania after it shall have been convened, the returns of the election for the office of Senator in the General Assembly from the Second Senatorial District.

And I call the President's attention further to the fact that on December 31, by a per curiam opinion, the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania refused to set aside that injunction. And may I further call the President's attention, and the Senators' attention to the fact that this amendment which I have now offered would merely carry out the mandate of the Court, and would submit to this body the returns from all the Districts save the one concerning which the Secretary of the Commonwealth has been enjoined from presenting the returns.

I therefore believe that my amendment is in order, and I move that the roll be called on the amendment.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair is of the opinion, and he wants to state it, that this is a coordinate branch of government. There is no injunction issued against the Senate of Pennsylvania. The Senate has a right to determine the qualifications of its own members, and in exercising that right is entitled to full and complete knowledge with respect to the election returns from every District in the Commonwealth. That material is now before us. These other matters are not germane to the subject.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I ask that the Chair rule on my point of order.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, may I call the President's attention to the fact that my motion would result in the members of the Senate themselves determining the qualifications of their own members rather than the presiding officer of the Senate doing so?

The PRESIDENT. Well, they will do that when the returns are read. The Chair doesn't wish to decide the qualifications of any member. He believes that the Senate is entitled to full and complete information, and then the Senate will decide as to who is eligible to sit in this body—not the chairman.

The point of order raised by the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, has been sustained. The Clerk will proceed with the reading of the returns.

The election returns were accordingly read by the Clerk, and were as follows:

SENATORS IN THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY

SECOND SENATORIAL DISTRICT

	Edward J. Coleman, D.	Stanley J. Davis, R.
Lackawanna county,	69,504	56,892

Coleman's plurality, 12,612.

The PRESIDENT. According to the signed writ which shows Frederick L. Lord received 11,155 votes and John G. Snowden 10,832. That evidently is an error. The lead pencil markings up here show Snowden's majority was 7,593.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, may I interrogate the Senator from Lycoming, Mr. Snowden?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I object. He is not a member of the Senate.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, may I interrogate the Senator-elect from Lycoming, Mr. Snowden to find out whether he has received his Certificate of Election?

The PRESIDENT. I do not think there is any question about his election except the return board of the county board of elections has evidently put the figures in the wrong column.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. SHAPIRO. The Clerk has not read the correct returns from the Twenty-fourth Senatorial District.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair suggests that the Clerk read the returns from each county in the Senatorial District.

TWENTY-FOURTH SENATORIAL DISTRICT

The PRESIDENT. In respect to the returns of the Second Senatorial District the President of the Senate has received the following petition, from Herbert S. Levin which was referred to the Attorney General for an opinion, and the opinion of the Attorney General, all of which will be read by the Clerk.

PETITION

Honorable Thomas Kennedy,
Lieutenant Governor and President of the Senate,
Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Herbert S. Levin, the petitioner, is a citizen of the City of Philadelphia and Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and also a candidate for election to the Senate of Pennsylvania at the last general election, November 8, 1938, in the II Senatorial District of the Commonwealth.

Your petitioner avers in said election the votes cast were as follows:

Herbert S. Levin	23,487
Samuel W. Salus	23,440

Your petitioner was therefore elected by a majority of forty-seven (47) votes.

Following the said election the said vote was re-canvassed by the Court of Common Pleas No. 4 upon the petition of electors in the District in behalf of Samuel W. Salus.

The said re-canvass was made under the direction of the Court and the recount was thereafter certified by Honorable Thomas D. Finletter, President Judge of the Court of Common Pleas No. 4 for the City and County of Philadelphia, and as certified by the Honorable Thomas D. Finletter the total figures in said election district were as follows:

Samuel W. Salus	23,440

Thereafter, the County Election Board, according to law, certified to the Secretary of the Commonwealth, and filed with said Secretary of the Commonwealth, the aforesaid election returns as certified to by the said Judge of the Court of Common Pleas No. 4, and the County Board of Elections.

Subsequently thereto, and on or about the seventh day of December, 1938, the Court of Dauphin County issued an injunction restraining the Secretary of the Commonwealth from issuing a certificate of election to your Petitioner and further restraining the Secretary of the Commonwealth from presenting the election returns of said Senatorial District to the Senate of Pennsylvania at the hour fixed by law for the convention of the Senate.

At the same time the Dauphin County Court issued an injunction restraining the said Herbert S. Levin from taking or occupying his seat in the said Senate as a Senator.

Subsequently, upon application of the Counsel of the said Herbert S. Levin, Petitioner herein, the Dauphin County Court, dissolved the aforesaid injunction against Herbert S. Levin.

The matter was appealed to the Supreme Court of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and the Supreme Court of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania affirmed the action of the lower court in dismissing the injunction against the said Herbert S. Levin from taking his seat and exercising his function as Senator and at the same time decreed that there was reasonable grounds for the action of the Dauphin County Court in continuing the injunction against David L. Lawrence, Secretary of the Commonwealth, as aforesaid.

Your petitioner avers that subsequently to his election and prior to the entry of the aforesaid injunction, your petitioner has exercised the duties and prerogatives of his office since December 1, 1938, the time fixed by the Constitution of Pennsylvania as the beginning of his term of office.

Your petitioner avers that the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania provides as follows; in Article II, Section 9:

"Each House shall choose its other officers and shall be sole judge of the election and qualifications of its members."

Your petitioner avers that uniformly the Supreme Court of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has held that notwithstanding decisions of any election court each House is the sole judge of the qualifications and election of its members, and the Senate may seat an elected candidate notwithstanding a contest be pending.

Therefore, your petitioner prays that appropriate action be taken immediately by the members of your august body to seat your petitioner and administer the oath of office and permit him to exercise the rights and functions thereof.

HERBERT S. LEVIN.

January 3, 1939.

Hon. Guy K. Bard,
Attorney General,
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.
My dear Mr. Bard:

Enclosed herewith you will find a petition of Herbert S. Levin directed to me and the Senate of Pennsylvania, requesting that he be seated as the duly elected Senator from the Second Senatorial District. The petition sets forth the facts in detail.

Will you kindly furnish me with your legal opinion as to whether or not this Senate can seat Mr. Levin and administer to him the oath of office so that he may participate in the functions of the Senate.

Very truly yours,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant-Governor and President of the Senate.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Department of Justice, Harrisburg, January 3, 1939.

Hon. Thomas Kennedy,
Lieutenant Governor,
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.
Dear Governor Kennedy:

This acknowledges receipt of your letter of this date in which you ask whether the decree of the Dauphin County Court and the order of the Supreme Court in the case of Samuel W. Salus, Patrick F. DeWarle, John Hannan, John J. O'Connor, Charles W. Fitzpatrick and Louis Gabler vs. David L. Lawrence, Secretary of the Commonwealth and Herbert S. Levin will prevent the Senate of Pennsylvania from seating Herbert S. Levin as a member.

The decree of the Dauphin County Court ordered that an injunction issue, enjoining David L. Lawrence, Secretary of the Commonwealth, his agents, servants and employees, from issuing a certificate of election to the office of Senator in the General Assembly from the Second Senatorial District of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to the defendant Herbert S. Levin and from presenting before the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, after it shall have been convened, the returns of the election for the office of Senator in the General Assembly from the Second Senatorial District, which have been forwarded to him by the County Board of Elections of Philadelphia.

A preliminary injunction had also been issued enjoining Herbert S. Levin from taking the oath of the said office and entering upon the duties and exercising the functions thereof. This part of the decree enjoining Herbert S. Levin has since been dismissed. There is, therefore, nothing in the Court's decree enjoining Herbert S. Levin from taking the oath of office if the Senate of Pennsylvania will seat him.

The County Board of Elections of Philadelphia certified the election of Herbert S. Levin to the Secretary of the Commonwealth, stating that he had been elected at the election on November 8, 1938. The laws of the Commonwealth state that the term of service of members of the General Assembly "shall begin on the 1st day of December next after the election." As a matter of fact Herbert S. Levin since December 1st, the time his term of service as a Senator began, has been performing certain senatorial duties. He has endorsed several applications for notary public and forwarded them to the office of the Governor of the Commonwealth.

Under these circumstances you ask whether there is anything in the decree of the Dauphin County Court or the order of the Supreme Court affirming the decree of the lower Court, to prevent the Senate of Pennsylvania from seating Herbert S. Levin in the Senate of Pennsylvania. My answer is no.

The Senate is the sole judge of the election and qualification of its members. The Supreme Court of Pennsylvania has decided this in "Re Contested Election of Hugh McNeill as Senator" 111 Pa. 235. The Supreme Court declared in election contests courts merely determine which candidate received the greatest number of legal votes. It further holds that each House of the General Assembly has the power to judge and determine who shall be seated as members. According to the Supreme Court, the decision of the Senate expressed by its vote is final and conclusive as to who is entitled to membership in its own body.

Very truly yours,

GUY K. BARD,
Attorney General.

MOTION TO ADMINISTER OATH OF OFFICE

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I now move that the oath of office be administered to the Senator from the Second Senatorial District, and that he be permitted to take his seat.

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, I second the motion. On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I offer the following amendment to the resolution just offered, and I move that said resolution be amended to read that the Senate exercise its constitutional prerogative by having the said Herbert S. Levin not receive and take his oath or be seated as a member of the Senate of Pennsylvania, pending the decision of the courts relating to his election, and in support of said amendment, Mr. President, I desire for the information of the Senate to state as follows:—

The PRESIDENT. Now, we have an affirmative motion here. Isn't it clear and obvious that your amendment kills that motion and is therefore not in order?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, it is my understanding that my motion does not kill it, but merely postpones the taking of the oath of office until the Senator for the Second Senatorial District contest is determined.

The PRESIDENT. If that does not kill the affirmative motion, then I do not know anything about parliamentary law.

Mr. OWLETT. On the question now before the Senate, the Republicans agree that this body, by a proper vote may judge whether a particular Senator has been duly elected to the Senate. No one can deny this conclusion, since the Constitution covers that power in clear language. These decisions of the Dauphin County Court, of the Supreme Court, affirm this power.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order. The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, will state his point of order.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, this amendment offered is certainly not debatable until it has been accepted and the amendment has not been accepted. I understood that you ruled that the amendment destroys the original purpose of the motion, and cannot be accepted. Therefore, there is nothing to be debated here.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, do I understand that the President so ruled?

The PRESIDENT. The President did rule that your amendment destroys the purpose and intent of the original motion, and therefore it could not be accepted by the Chair.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, may I inquire whether the President will entertain an appeal from that decision?

The PRESIDENT. The Chair is of the opinion that on this affirmative motion the qualified members of the Senate can determine the matter by voting on the motion.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, do I understand that that answer means that the President will not entertain an appeal from his decision holding my amendment to be out of order?

The PRESIDENT. That is obvious.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, may I then ask that the Senate vote down this resolution just offered and state for the information of the Senate that if this motion is voted down I propose to offer a resolution to the effect that Herbert S. Levin of the Second Senatorial District, claiming to be entitled to receive his oath of office and be received as a member of the Senate of Pennsylvania, be denied the oath of office of a Senator of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania until the election contest pending in the Courts of Philadelphia County has been finally determined.

Now, for the further information of the Senate I wish to make this position clear. On the question now before the Senate, the Republicans agree that this body by a proper vote may judge whether a particular Senator has been duly elected to the Senate. No one can deny this conclusion since the Constitution covers that power in clear language. The recent decision of the Dauphin County Court and the Supreme Court affirmed this power. However, this is not the issue which is before the Senate as I see it. An attack has been made against the validity of the election of the person now in question. The courts have held that under the plain terms of the statute written and enacted by Democratic majority, the returns of election may not be certified by the County Election Board and that no certificate of election can be issued by the Secretary of the Commonwealth, nor may election returns in this case be laid before the Senate because they have been illegally filed at the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth, pending the determination of this contest.

The Election Code in section 1414 clearly provides that a certificate of election may be issued to a Senator and that election returns may be presented to the Senate. If this body desires to disregard this section of the law, if this body desires to dispose of an election contest before it is in possession of the findings of the Court, and without making any investigation on its own initiative to ascertain whether fraud was committed or voters bribed, it probably has the constitutional power to do so. This is seemingly a matter which rests in the consciences of the members of this Senate. Each must judge for himself how he will cast his vote on this issue.

One other matter should be called to the attention of the Senate. It is that in an election contest involving a seat in the Senate the Court hearing the contest does not decide that contest. It decides which of the candidates received the greatest number of votes and is entitled to the election. This decision is sent to the Secretary of the Commonwealth who upon its receipt presents the returns if the Senate is in session to the presiding officer of the Senate. The party aggrieved by the decision then has an appeal to the Senate. The appeal is referred to a standing committee which hears the claims of the contestants and makes a report. On this report the Senate makes its final decision as to who is entitled to the seat. Here is the procedure by which a contest is decided. There is nothing in this procedure which denies the constitutional power of this body.

Before the Election Code of 1937 was enacted, the returns of the election were laid before the body before the contest was decided. That body could decide whether it wished to seat a person having the largest vote pending the decision of the Court in the contest or whether he should stand aside pending that decision. That law was changed by the Election Code of 1937. The Court so found, that as a result no certificate of election may issue and the vote cast may not lay before the Senate pending the decision of the contest.

If this Senate without any record whatever before it desires to seat a Senator, it probably has the power to do so but such an action by this body may justly be viewed as revolutionary. It means that a majority in control of this body can arbitrarily seat anyone even though he was clearly defeated and no contest is pending. For this body to make up its own returns and disregard that procedure is not government under law, it is revolution. I therefore ask the members of this body to vote down the motion just made by the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I will not undertake to answer the gentleman's arguments, because I think the Constitution answers those arguments and there is no need for going into a long technical discussion which no one will understand.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise to inquire as to whether or not the vote on this question will be restricted to those members of the Senate who are already sworn.

The PRESIDENT. The vote would apply to those who have been qualified and sworn as members of the Senate.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, will state his point of order.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, the Senate of Pennsylvania at this moment consists of the twenty-four Senators whose terms did not expire, and twenty-five Senators-elect. In all matters of organization the twenty-five Senators-elect have the right to vote. If that right is denied them by this Senate, and the votes received of only those Senators whose terms of office did not expire and who are now members, then it follows that there is not a constitutional majority of twenty-six members here present who can vote or do any business. I therefore call the President's attention to the fact that on a motion such as this it is our opinion that all the members-elect who have presented themselves here have the right to vote and I ask the Chair to so rule on that point of order.

The PRESIDENT. May the Chair amplify his ruling by this statement: the Senate of Pennsylvania at this moment legally constituted, is composed of twenty-five members who have been qualified and sworn in. In the organization of the Senate, especially with regard to this particular subject, or rather in the preliminaries to the organization of the Senate, these men qualified and sworn are the only persons competent to cast a vote on this particular question.

Let me cite from Jefferson's Manual of Parliamentary Practice and usage, as determined in the Senate of the United States. "Out of conditions arising between 1861 and 1891, the rule was established that a majority of the members chosen and living constituted the quorum required by the Constitution but later examination has resulted in a decision confirming in the House of Representatives the construction established in the Senate, that a quorum consists of a majority of Senators actually chosen and sworn."

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, as representing one of the Senators—

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I hope the gentleman will not think I am rude, and am not doing it for the purpose of being rude, but he is raising the very question I am asking you to decide. He is not a sworn member of the Senate yet and therefore out of order.

The PRESIDENT. May the Chair point out that in the real organization of the Senate, which after all is constituted by the election of the President Pro Tempore and other officers and by the creation and establishment of the rules, that all Senators who will then be sworn in and qualified will be and are required to vote on that organization. These are the preliminaries leading up to the organization of the Senate.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I want to state the position that I take and that of the other Senators, and I certainly have a right to state that position here before the Senate.

The PRESIDENT. I doubt that. You are not a Senator qualified and sworn.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, let me point out this to you. You had an opinion from the Attorney General of this Commonwealth. That opinion is merely advisory. But in that opinion the Attorney General points out that Mr. Levin has been a Senator since the first of December, that he has performed certain duties as a Senator. I am a Senator. I was elected at the November election and I have been performing duties also. I want to point out this—

The PRESIDENT. Well, if that is the case Senator then technically Mr. Levin has been a member of this Senate since the first of December, and then how could the Supreme Court unseat him as a member.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, well I am not going into that question but let me state that I do not know whether the Supreme Court can unseat him. I am not attempting to decide that question. I wish to point out that the organization of the Senate of the United States is very much different from the organization of this Senate. There it is a continuing body. Only one third of the members are elected in each two years and two thirds of the members of the Senate are always members, and therefore it is a continuing body and there is always a majority to rule. Now, here we can never affect an organization under your ruling Mr. President. Certainly in all these matters we have a right to be heard.

The PRESIDENT. May the Chair point out that you require no constitutional majority in the organization of a House. That has been decided many, many years ago—in fact, at one time in the House of Representatives new members were sworn in in the absence of : quorum.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, that is all right and would have been proper here if we could have been sworn in, but we want to proceed according to the orderly procedure and heretofore it has always been the custom in this Senate for anyone, new or old, to get up and move that the returns be received and opened.

The PRESIDENT. Of course, heretofore you did not have the trouble of the controversy that we have here today, and it would be unfair to expect men to cast a vote who have not been sworn in yet as members of the Senate.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, if the ruling of the Chair is correct, then certainly the point of the Senator from Tioga that we have not a constitutional quorum here to act is correct. The proper procedure would have been to have—

The PRESIDENT. There have been decisions in parliamentary law and usage that new members although not voting could be taken into consideration in determining a question of a quorum.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, if I am not a member here having a right to speak on this floor, then I am not a member for any purpose.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair wants to again point out that this is preliminary to the organization of the Senate. Constitutional majorities are not required. When the Senate does organize by the creation and establishment of its rules, and the election of its officers, then those sworn among the new members will be entitled of course to vote.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, well there has been no question whatever about my election. The returns have been submitted and I ask that I be sworn before this question is decided.

The PRESIDENT. The point of order is not well taken, the parliamentary inquiry has been answered. The roll will be called.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I appeal from the decision of the Chair holding that only votes of those to hold over can be received at this time on this question and I file my appeal.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I ask that the Senate be informed as to whether or not members who have not been sworn in will be privileged to vote on the appeal.

The PRESIDENT. They are not privileged to vote on the appeal.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I request on behalf of the members-elect who are here and who have received certificates of election and whose returns have already been presented, that their names be called and they indicate how they would vote should the Chair permit them so to vote.

The PRESIDENT. Let the Chair say this, that the Chair has stated the point in his answer to the parliamentary question. The opinion that I have given is substantiated by parliamentary law and parliamentary usage, and after all in the absence of rules parliamentary law governs. That has been well known and determined for many many years. Consequently the only persons entitled to vote on the motion are the duly qualified and sworn members of this Senate.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, do I understand that that ruling applies to the appeal just taken from the decision of the Chair?

The PRESIDENT. As far as voting on the appeal is concerned, yes. It would be restricted to the men authorized to vote.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the newly elected Senators to ascertain for the purpose of the record how they would vote if permitted.

The PRESIDENT. Senator, that interrogation is clearly out of order and you know that.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I appeal from that decision that that interrogation is out of order.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, will state his point of order.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, if one appeal is pending any other appeal is out of order. I ask for a roll call on the question.

The PRESIDENT. The question is the one raised by Mr. Shapiro that Herbert S. Levin be seated as a member of the Senate.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, the question is on the appeal taken from the ruling of the Chair holding that only those who are holdovers may vote.

The PRESIDENT. The vote will be confined to those qualified to vote.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I ask for a roll call on the appeal.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, will the Chair state the appeal in order that we may know what an 'aye' vote and a 'nay' vote means.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I take it that a vote on this appeal will carry the main question. In other words, if the Chair is sustained then the Senator from the Second District is seated.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair is in doubt about that.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, then the question is shall the decision of the Chair be overruled and a vote "no" is a vote to sustain the President.

The PRESIDENT. The decision of the Chair is that only those duly qualified members can vote and the question now is, "shall the Chair be overruled," and a vote "no" means that the Chair is sustained.

The yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—8

Deitrick,	Heyburn,	Owlett,	Scarlett,
Gelder,	Homsher,	Pierson,	Wolfenden,

NAYS—14

Dent,	Jacobs,	Mundy,	Shapiro,
DiSilvestro,	Jaspan,	Rice,	Sipe,
Gileon,	Kilgallen,	Ruth,	Stiefel,
Haluska,	Kunkel,

So the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I call for action on the motion.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, the names of all of the Senators elected were not called, and the majority of the Senate, not being polled there is no quorum.

The PRESIDENT. The majority of Senators duly qualified to vote have been called and a majority has sustained the Chair.

We will now proceed to vote on the motion of the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro. Shall the Senator from the Second District of Philadelphia, Mr. Herbert S. Levin, be administered his oath of office and permitted to take his seat?

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. OWLETT, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—14

Dent,	Jacobs,	Mundy,	Shapiro,
DiSilvestro,	Jaspan,	Rice,	Sipe,
Gileon,	Kilgallen,	Ruth,	Stiefel,
Haluska,	Kunkel,

NAYS—8

Deitrick,	Heyburn,	Owlett,	Scarlett,
Gelder,	Homsher,	Pierson,	Wolfenden,

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I object to the receipt of this vote because a majority of the Senators have not voted.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair again repeats that a majority of those qualified have participated in this vote and the motion has been agreed to.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I move that the oath of office be administered to the Senator-elect from the Second District.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I offer the following resolution and ask its immediate adoption.

The PRESIDENT. The purpose of the motion just agreed to will be carried out and the Senator-elect from the Second District is directed to appear at the bar to take the oath of office.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, the resolution just offered affects this matter.

The PRESIDENT. It cannot affect this matter which was determined by the votes of duly qualified and sworn members of this Senate. I am carrying out instructions. The Senator from the Second District is directed to appear at the bar to be sworn in as a member of this body.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, do I understand that the Chair refuses to swear in the other Senators-elect?

The PRESIDENT. No, the Chair is carrying out the motion just passed.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I now ask the Chair whether or not he refuses to swear in the other Senators-elect?

The PRESIDENT. That can be provided for in a subsequent motion.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, do I understand that the President refuses to swear in these Senators-elect?

The PRESIDENT. The Chair does not refuse that at all. The Chair is carrying out a motion.

The oath of office was accordingly administered to Senator-Elect Herbert S. Levin.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, the Senator from Somerset Mr. Ealy, and the others whose returns have been filed, at this time ask the Chair whether the Chair will permit the newly-elected Senators to take their oath of office.

The PRESIDENT. That is not in conformity with the motion. A subsequent motion may be made when this has been complied with.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, do I understand from the reply of the President that the President refuses to let the other Senators-elect take their oaths of office?

The PRESIDENT. The Chair is complying with the instructions contained in the motion made by the Senator from Philadelphia Mr. Shapiro.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, is that the Chair's ruling?

The PRESIDENT. At this time, yes!

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I offer the three following resolutions and ask their immediate adoption.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, will state his point of order.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I have presented a resolution and we cannot proceed to another until my resolution is disposed of.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair has no knowledge of a resolution. Let us have order, or this room is going to be cleared.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, may I respectfully call the Chair's attention to the fact that before Mr. Levin was sworn in I presented the following motion:

"RESOLVED, That the following persons be declared duly elected—"

The PRESIDENT. The Chair has no knowledge of the receipt of that motion.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, that resolution was submitted to the Chair and received by the clerks at the desk and the clerks at the desk now have that motion and it was there before Mr. Shapiro's motion.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair has no knowledge of such a resolution. The Secretary will read the resolutions.

The resolutions were twice read as follows:

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO WHETHER OR NOT A. H. LETZLER SHALL BE SEATED AS A MEMBER OF THE SENATE

In the Senate, January 3, 1939.

Whereas, A. H. Letzler has received the majority of votes for Senator in the Thirty-fourth Senatorial District, and

Whereas, It was charged in the Extraordinary Session of 1938 on the floor of this Senate that said election was obtained by means of fraud, bribe and other shameful and corrupt practices, and

Whereas, Under the Constitution the Senate is the sole judge of the election and qualification of its own members, now therefore, be it

Resolved, That the question of seating the said A. H. Letzler be referred to the Standing Committee on Elections of this Senate as soon as said Committee is appointed for its consideration and recommendation as to whether the said A. H. Letzler shall be seated as a member of this Senate and the oath of office administered to him.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO WHETHER OR NOT JOHN G. SNOWDEN SHALL BE SEATED AS A MEMBER OF THE SENATE

In the Senate, January 3, 1939.

Whereas, John G. Snowden has received the majority of votes cast for Senator in the Twenty-fourth Senatorial District, and

Whereas, The said John G. Snowden filed an account of his expenses which was in violation of the election laws of this Commonwealth, and

Whereas, Upon an audit of said account the costs thereof were imposed upon him by the court of Lycoming County, and

Whereas, Under the election laws of this Commonwealth it is unlawful to administer an oath of office to any candidate elected to any public office and it is unlawful for any such person to enter upon the duties of his office until such account be properly filed, now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the question of seating the said John G. Snowden be referred to the Standing Committee on Elections of this Senate as soon as said Committee is appointed for its consideration and recommendation as to whether the said John G. Snowden shall be seated as a member of this Senate and the oath of office administered to him.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO WHETHER OR NOT J. FRED THOMAS SHALL BE SEATED AS A MEMBER OF THE SENATE

In the Senate, January 3, 1939.

Whereas, J. Fred Thomas has received a majority of votes cast for Senator in the 50th Senatorial District, and

Whereas, the said J. Fred Thomas was at that time and is now occupying the office of Mayor of the City of Sharon, and

Whereas, The office of Mayor is one carrying with it state-wide powers and authority, and

Whereas, The Supreme Court has recently indicated that an office carrying with it state-wide powers and authority is incompatible with that of Senator, now be it

Resolved, That the question of seating the said J. Fred Thomas be referred to the Standing Committee on Elections of this Senate as soon as said Committee is appointed for its consideration and recommendation as to whether the said J. Fred Thomas shall be seated as a member of this Senate and the oath of office administered to him.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order. The PRESIDENT. The Senator will state his point of order.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, three resolutions cannot be considered together.

The PRESIDENT. I will agree with your point.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I ask that the resolution regarding Mr. Letzler of the Thirty-fourth District be considered first.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I desire to ascertain whether the President proposes to receive all of the votes of the members elected as well as those who are hold-overs?

The PRESIDENT. The names will be called of those Senators who voted on the other motion.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, the vote of the Senators just sworn in by Judge Millar of Philadelphia and who have signed the oath of office should be called.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair has no knowledge of any Senators with the exception of Mr. Levin having been sworn in.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I desire to inquire if this resolution is adopted he proposes to follow it with the resolution concerning Mr. Thomas or Mr. Snowden.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I suggest that there is nothing before the Senate except the calling of the roll on this resolution.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, That is not an answer to my inquiry.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I repeat that there is nothing before this Senate but the calling of the roll.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I want to know if the clerks at the desk are recording the remarks of all Senators present.

The PRESIDENT. They have not and will not until all members are sworn in.

The Chair has ruled previously that only those Senators who are qualified and sworn can vote. The Clerk will call the roll.

And the question recurring.

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. OWLETT and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—14.

Dent,	Jacobs,	Mundy,	Shapiro,
DiSilvestro,	Jaspan,	Rice,	Sipe,
Glison,	Kilgallen,	Ruth,	Stiefel,
Haluska,	Kunkel,

NAYS—8.

Deltrick,	Heyburn,	Owlett,	Scarlett,
Gelder,	Homsher,	Pierson,	Wolfenden,

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I now call up for consideration the resolution concerning Mr. Snowden.

The resolution was read as follows:

In the Senate, January 3, 1939.

Whereas, John G. Snowden has received the majority of votes cast for Senator in the Twenty-fourth Senatorial District, and

Whereas, the said John G. Snowden filed an account of his expenses which was in violation of the election laws of this Commonwealth, and

Whereas, Upon an audit of said account the costs thereof were imposed upon him by the court of Lycoming County, and

Whereas, Under the election laws of this Commonwealth it is unlawful to administer an oath of office to any candidate elected to any public office and it is unlawful for any such person to enter upon the duties of his office until such account be properly filed, now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the question of seating the said John G. Snowden be referred to the Standing Committee on Elections of this Senate as soon as said Committee is appointed for its consideration and recommendation as to whether the said John G. Snowden shall be seated as a member of this Senate and the oath of office administered to him.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I desire to inquire whether the President proposes to receive the votes of the Senators just sworn in by Judge Millar and who have signed the oath of office.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair has no knowledge that such members have been sworn in.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, may I point out that the Chair has been given such knowledge by the presentation of their oaths of office, duly signed by each, and they were sworn in the presence of everybody in this room.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair has no knowledge of the matter.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I respectfully ask if the Chair will receive the votes of these Senators on this question.

The PRESIDENT. Those who are qualified and properly sworn are entitled to vote.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I desire to know whether the names of the Senators sworn in by Judge Millar will be called.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair has no knowledge that any Senators were sworn with the exception of Mr. Levin.

Mr. OWLETT. Then the Chair will not receive the votes of these men.

The PRESIDENT. When the Senate directs the Chair to swear in these men, they will be sworn in.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. OWLETT and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—14.

Dent,
DiSilvestro,
Gilsen,
Haluska,

Jacobs,
Jaspan,
Kilgallen,
Kunkel,

Mundy,
Rice,
Ruth,

Shapiro,
Sipe,
Stiefel,

NAYS—8.

Deitrick,
Gelder,

Heyburn,
Homsher,

Owlett,
Pierson,

Scarlett,
Wolfenden,

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I now call up for consideration the resolution concerning Mr. Thomas.

The resolution was read as follows:

In the Senate, January 3, 1939.

Whereas, J. Fred Thomas has received a majority of votes cast for Senator in the 50th Senatorial District, and

Whereas, The said J. Fred Thomas was at that time and is now occupying the office of Mayor of the City of Sharon, and

Whereas, the office of Mayor is one carrying with it state-wide powers and authority, and

Whereas, The Supreme Court has recently indicated that an office carrying with it state-wide powers and authority is incompatible with that of Senator, now be it

Resolved, That the question of seating the said J. Fred Thomas be referred to the Standing Committee on Elections of this Senate as soon as said Committee is appointed for its consideration and recommendation as to whether the said J. Fred Thomas shall be seated as a member of this Senate and the oath of office administered to him.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like to inquire whether the Chair proposes to receive the votes of those Senators whose returns have been presented to the Senate, whose certificates of election have been issued by the Secretary of the Commonwealth, and who have been sworn by Judge Millar and their signed oaths of office presented to the Chair.

The PRESIDENT. It is useless to again repeat the ruling of the Chair. The same Senators who voted on previous questions will vote on this one.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, may I repeat my question of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. I might state that the resolution in question simply refers the matter of the seating of Mr. Thomas to the Election Committee when appointed.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. OWLETT and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—14.

Dent,
DiSilvestro,
Gilsen,
Haluska

Jacobs,
Jaspan,
Kilgallen,
Kunkel,

Mundy,
Rice,
Ruth,

Shapiro,
Sipe,
Stiefel,

NAYS—8.

Deitrick,
Gelder,

Heyburn,
Homsher,

Owlett,
Pierson,

Scarlett,
Wolfenden,

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

MOTION TO ADMINISTER OATH OF OFFICE

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I move that the oath of office be administered to the Senators-elect from the Fourth, Sixth, Eighth, Tenth, Twelfth, Fourteenth, Sixteenth, Eighteenth, Twentieth, Twenty-second, Twenty-sixth, Twenty-eighth, Thirtieth, Thirty-second, Thirty-sixth, Thirty-eighth, fortieth, Forty-second, Forty-fourth, Forty-sixth and Forty-eighth districts.

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The PRESIDENT. The oath of office will be administered to all Senators-elect except those from the Fiftieth, Thirty-fourth, Twenty-fourth and Second districts.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I presented to the Chair a motion and ask that it be acted upon.

The PRESIDENT. The motion was not received by the Chair.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I offer the following amendment to the motion of the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro: I move that the Senators-elect from the following named districts be sworn: Fourth, Sixth, Eighth, Tenth, Twelfth, Fourteenth, Sixteenth, Eighteenth, Twentieth, Twenty-second, Twenty-fourth, Twenty-sixth, Twenty-eighth, Thirtieth, Thirty-second, Thirty-fourth, Thirty-sixth, Thirty-eighth, Fortieth, Forty-second, Forty-fourth, Forty-sixth, Forty-eighth, Fiftieth.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I accept the amendment and ask my colleagues to vote "no."

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, what are we voting on?

The PRESIDENT. On your amendment.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

The Clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, the roll is not being called properly. Some of the members names are being omitted.

The PRESIDENT. The roll is being called in pursuance to previous decisions of the Chair. Those Senators who are qualified and sworn are qualified to vote.

The Clerk resumed the calling of the roll, which was as follows:

YEAS—8.

Deitrick, Gelder,	Heyburn, Homsher,	Owlett, Pierson,	Scarlett, Wolfenden,
----------------------	----------------------	---------------------	-------------------------

NAYS—14.

Dent, DiSilvestro, Gilson, Haluska.	Jacobs, Jaspan, Kilgallen, Kunkel,	Mundy, Rice, Ruth,	Shapiro, Sipe, Stiefel,
----------------------------------------------	---------------------------------------------	--------------------------	-------------------------------

So the question was determined in the negative.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. OWLETT. This is a matter directly affecting the organization of the Senate and certainly those whose writs have been presented here should have the right to vote.

The PRESIDENT. The organization of the Senate is represented in the election of its officers, establishment of its rules, et cetera. The Senators duly elected and qualified will vote.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, am I to understand that only the Senators already sworn can vote on this.

The PRESIDENT. The motion now before the Senate provides for that very thing to be done. The motion has been made providing for the swearing in of Senators with the exception of the three districts.

Mr. OWLETT. Yes, Mr. President, but we are the ones who are concerned with this. You are preventing us from taking part in the organization.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair simply repeats his previous ruling. Those Senators qualified and sworn are entitled to vote.

On the question of the adoption of the amendment

"Ayes" were eight and the "Nays" were fourteen.

The vote will now occur upon the original motion. The Clerk will call the roll.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I want to state that the

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President. The gentleman from Tioga submitted an amendment to my motion that the three Senators be sworn in by this body and now tell us that these men have already been sworn in by this body.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I want to state that the men are willing to be sworn in the second time if all of them can be sworn. I want to state for the information of the Senate, however, that if this body continues to arbitrarily limit voting and intends to arbitrarily exclude three of the members in the face of the fact that they have already accepted a member from Philadelphia in which there is a contest pending, I want to state for the information of this Senate that the Republican members of this Senate-elect will not vote for this resolution and will not again present themselves to the body of the Senate for any other oath.

The PRESIDENT. On the question of the adoption of this resolution the Clerk will call the roll.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I ask that this resolution be voted down.

The yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

YEAS—14

Dent, DiSilvestro, Gilson, Haluska,	Jacobs, Jaspan, Kilgallen, Kunkel,	Mundy, Rice, Ruth,	Shapiro, Sipe, Stiefel,
----------------------------------------------	---------------------------------------------	--------------------------	-------------------------------

NAYS—8

Deitrick, Gelder,	Heyburn, Homsher,	Owlett, Pierson,	Scarlett, Wolfenden,
----------------------	----------------------	---------------------	-------------------------

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

The PRESIDENT. All the Senators-elect, with exception of the Senators-elect from the Fiftieth, Thirty-fourth, Twenty-fourth and Second Districts will appear at the bar of the Senate where the oath of office will be administered to them.

The Clerk will call the names of the Senators to be sworn. Those who swear by the Bible will present themselves first and those with uplifted hand second and those who affirm last.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I ask that those named by me in my motion be called.

The PRESIDENT. The names of those to be sworn in will be called by the Clerk.

The roll was called and was as follows:

Mr. McCREESH.

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, here.

Mr. WOODWARD.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I am not prepared to be sworn; I have already been sworn.

Mr. FARRELL.

Mr. FARRELL. Mr. President, I have already been sworn.

Mr. JAMES.

Mr. JAMES. Mr. President, I have already been sworn.

Mr. EDMONDS.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I have already been sworn and signed the oath.

Mr. REED.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, here.

Mr. CHAPMAN.

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I have already been sworn.

The PRESIDENT. Judge Sheely of Adams County will administer the oath of office.

The oath was then administered by Judge Sheely of Adams County to the following Senators-elect.

Anthony Cavalcante,

John J. McCreesh,

Edward J. Coleman,

Bernard B. McGinnis,

Edward R. Frey,

J. Albert Reed.

Henry E. Lanius,

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I desire to inquire whether the Chair will now receive the votes of those Senators who were included in the resolution just adopted and who have been sworn in by Judge Millar.

The PRESIDENT. You mean the Senators with the exception of Messrs. Thomas, Letzler and Snowden?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, will the Chair receive the votes of the Senators covered by the resolution?

The PRESIDENT. In the first place the Chair is of the opinion that he has no knowledge of the swearing in and the Chair questions whether Judge Millar had the right to invade the floor of this Senate and attempt to administer oaths of office without the consent of the officers of the Senate. Under the motion or the resolution, all the Senators were to be sworn with the exception of Messrs. Thomas, Letzler and Snowden, who were ordered to stand aside. The Chair would suggest that all of the Senators with the exception of those three come to the desk to be sworn and if they wish to be sworn by Judge Millar, the Chair has no objection.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I ask that the Senate be at ease for a few moments.

The PRESIDENT. The Senate will be at ease for a few moments.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, pursuant to the suggestion of the presiding officer that the men who have been duly elected should be sworn again at the bar of the Senate and without conceding the necessity of having such swearing again, I want to state to the presiding officer that the men are ready.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair suggests that they present themselves at the bar to be sworn. Judge Albert S. C. Millar administered the oath of office to the following Senators elect:

Charles A. P. Bartlett

James A. Geltz

Leroy E. Chapman

Howard I. James

Montgomery F. Crowe

Robert M. Miller

Charles H. Ealy

George B. Stevenson

Franklin Spencer Edmonds

Oscar Jacob Tallman

Louis H. Farrell

John M. Walker

ELECTION OF PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I move that the Senate proceed to the election of the President Pro Tempore.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

Mr. SIPE. Mr. President and members of the Pennsylvania Senate, I rise to place in nomination for the office of President Pro Tempore of the Pennsylvania Senate that Honored member of this Senate, the Honorable John S. Rice of Adams County.

Mr. Rice is an honor to the Pennsylvania Senate, he is an honor to the people of his district and to the Democratic Party. That means something, for there are lots of people who look upon a Democrat as a sort of inferior person, who look upon him with contempt; but I here repeat that it is an honor to be an intelligent and conscientious member of the great Democratic Party, the party that was founded by the man who wrote the Declaration of Independence, the party that has seen more than a dozen other political parties in America come forth and disappear. Yes, the Democratic Party has seen more than a dozen other political parties come forth upon the political arena of the United States. It has seen them rise; it has seen them flourish; it has seen them fall. It has been at their births; it has been at their deaths. And it has produced as many presidents of the United States as all political parties put together. So that is no mean distinction to be a member of the Democratic Party.

Mr. President and members of the Senate, on the fifteenth of November 1938, I, with twenty-four other Democratic members of this Senate, signed an agreement which I will read:

"We the undersigned, agree one with the other to abide by the decision of the Democratic Caucus for the Session of 1939 in the matter of the election of a President Pro Tempore and all other matters pertaining to the organization of the Senate, and that we all agree to be present and vote accordingly at the organization session of the Assembly."

Mr. President, I am here in agreement with this declaration which I have read, to put in place the nomination of John S. Rice for the office of President Pro Tempore. Let me take you into my confidence a moment, let me tell you a secret. A great deal of pressure has been brought upon me not to keep that agreement. A great deal of pressure has been brought upon me to desert the Democratic Party, to join with the Republicans in the organization of this Senate and to reap the rewards of such perfidy. Let me be specific. A story is always better when you mention names. In the saintly county of Butler, one of the counties in my district, is a Republican County Chairman who has hitherto been my personal friend. He is a fellow member of the Butler Bar; he is the president of the second largest bank in Butler County. I say that hitherto I esteemed him as one of my cherished friends. But for the last month this Republican County Chairman of the saintly county of Butler has been sending me invitations to come to see him. I suspected that he had politics in his mind and I paid no attention to the invitations. But you know Mahomet had the experience that if the mountain could not come to him he would go to the mountain; and so William B. Purvis, member of the Butler Bar, president of our second largest bank, Republican County Chairman of Butler County, came to me. He met me in the office of a very reputable member of the Armstrong County Bar, Harry A. Heilman. I was there on a little business and Mr. Purvis knew where I was. So, he asked me to come back into Mr. Heilman's library. I did not know whether he wanted to look up the law or not; I suspected that his mission was otherwise and I soon found it to be otherwise. William B. Purvis stated there, about ten days ago in the library of Harry A. Heilman, Esquire, of the Kittanning Bar, his reason for asking me to come into the library. He put this proposition to me. He said to me, "If you will join with the Republicans, help to organize the Senate Republican and go along with the James program" (of course, by the way, he did not know what the James program will be and I dare any of you gentlemen to state it), "if you will help to organize the Senate Republican, if you go along with the James program, then you can resign at the end of this general session to become the recipient of a mighty good job at the hands of the James Administration." "Now," he said, "I know what I am telling you has the approval of Jim Torrance"—and of course we all know who Jim Torrance is.

In other words, Mr. Purvis did not directly offer me a sum of money in the amount of $20,000 or $25,000 as the emissary of the Republican State Chairman of Pennsylvania; but he offered its equivalent in cash and of course having a little respect for myself, I told him that I was not interested in his proposition, that I have to live the remainder of my life with myself, which includes living with my conscience. Now, gentlemen, then and there the friendship ceased. I do not consider any person who considers me so low as to make a proposition of this kind to me to be worthy of my friendship. I have many friends in the Republican Party and I always respect a man of conviction whether his convictions are the same as mine or not, and I demand the same respect for me. And in addition to the enormity I have mentioned, it was mighty poor legal ethics for one member of the Bar to put such a proposition to another member of the Bar. Now I am not telling you any secret now, when I say to the members of this Senate that today is not a day of very lofty legal ethics in Pennsylvania, is it? We had a sample of it here this afternoon when the sapient judge from Philadelphia intruded himself into this Senate and of course you and I know that we had a very much more flagrant sample of the same lack of legal ethics during the last campaign when the Governor-elect went chasing and ranting over Pennsylvania, thumbing his nose at the ethics and cannons of the American Bar Association. Mr. President, I place in nomination the name of John S. Rice.

Mr. GILSON. Mr. President, and members of the Senate of Pennsylvania, I rise this evening to second the nomination of the Honorable John S. Rice of Adams for the office of President Pro Tempore of the Senate. I share with Senator Sipe and I believe with all the members of this Senate who have served with Senator Rice, the conviction that from the point of view of character, ability and appearance, Senator Rice is ideally equipped, and most seriously qualified for the confidence of this body. It has been after a great deal of reflection that I have taken this position. I have tried in my brief incumbency of the office of State Senator to look beyond the veil of party organization and try and pierce if I could the maze that personal passion, party loyalty, etc., raised against the vision and discernment of one who is trying patriotically to serve his State first and his Party second.

I felt that this fall in the November election, the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania had spoken. Their answer was that the public affairs of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania were to be entrusted to the Republican Administration. They have placed upon that party its leadership as represented by the Governor-elect, the responsibility of fulfilling the pledges of the Republican platform and I for one felt that that responsibility should be accepted and that we of the Democratic party should see to it that the Republican Administration and the Republican party accepted that responsibility whether they cared to do so or not. And in that line I have very carefully considered whether or not it was my duty to further the efforts of the Republican Administration to organize the Senate of Pennsylvania on this the third day of January. Were it not, Mr. President, for certain very definite reasons furnished to me by the responsible spokesman of the Republican Administration I would have adhered to that conviction. I regret to say that my mind has been changed from that conviction by the actions of a responsible spokesman of the Republican Administration. I have been inevitably brought to this conclusion—that when it is demonstrated beyond any reasonable doubt that the effort to organize the Senate of Pennsylvania is worth to the Republican Administration the inducement which was offered to me to further that organization, that it then becomes my duty to say no. I was one of those who signed a round robin pledging myself to stay with the Democratic Caucus. I did so after it was made apparent to me what it was worth to me not to do that very thing. It is a matter of grave concern and regret to me to return here to Harrisburg today and see this Senate, who should be first charged with the welfare of the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, engaging in something which is no more dignified than a cat fight, to see who will control the election of the officers of this Senate, to see who will appoint the Committees of this Senate.

I cannot conceive of how this session today can go down in history as rising above the dignity of a common brawl. I realize that at this time there is left to some of us the self-respect which their record throughout their term of office in this Senate has shown them to be entirely above the dictates of any party manipulations. I wish that it might have been otherwise, but when the people on November the eighth returned their verdict as to who should control the affairs of the State of Pennsylvania for the next two or four years that that verdict might have been accepted in real American sportsmanship. I wish to adjust one thing, and I do this in fairness to any suspicion that may be cast upon any of the Republican members of the Senate of Pennsylvania. My mind was not changed and my decision was not made because of any of the overtures of any Republican in this Senate with whom I have been associated. I say to them that I regret that we can not continue to meet with the full confidence and accord from them to me and me to them; that their motives are open, above board and for the welfare of the people of Pennsylvania.

I wish to make it clear to them that it would be idle for anyone to place upon any Republican member of this Senate the identity of being the emissary who approached me and accomplished the opposite of the object of his approach. To the Republican members of the Senate let me say that I appreciate the confidence which they have bestowed upon me by not having made that effort and I regret that it was made by others.

Mr. President, I believe that this action today goes beyond the mere details of the mechanics of what legislation is going to be brought before this body in the session of 1939. I consider it an honor, I consider it a duty to second the nomination of the Honorable John S. Rice of Adams County for the position of President Pro Tempore of the Senate.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I too like the Senator from Armstrong, feel a great degree of pride that I am a member of the party that was started by Thomas Jefferson, the gentleman whose hand struck the Declaration of Independence. I also feel a slight degree of pride that the document from which he read and to which was appended my signature and that of 24 other colleagues was struck by my hand and by me signed first. There was no compulsion upon me, there was no inducement at that time. The election was over and the only thing that pervaded me was an honest and sincere desire to carry out what my conscience dictated to be the will and desire of the people of this Commonwealth. At that time that will and desire was manifested to me as being a will and desire that the State Government or the executive branch of this State should be in the hands of a Republican Governor, and that will and desire also manifested to me that it was the desire of the people that the House of Representatives should be controlled by a Republican party, and it was also manifested to me by the same channels that the people of this Commonwealth wanted the Senate of Pennsylvania to have a complexion of twenty-six Democrats and twenty-four Republicans.

There was no compulsion, no inducement of any reward whatsoever when I wrote this document and signed my name in the presence of twenty-four other Democratic colleagues. I feel positive that at that meeting at which the document was written and signed that there was present among all of us who signed that document the same spirit of patriotism and desire to do what was honorable and just as was present when those patriots appended their signatures to that Declaration of Independence. The last sentence of that declaration is this, "and for the support of this declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of the Divine providence, we mutually pledge to each other our lives, our fortunes and our sacred honor." Nothing has happened to disturb that feeling within me up to this time. That spirit is still present and I trust that that spirit still prevails within the hearts and minds of those other twenty-four colleagues. I rise to second also the nomination of my colleague from Adams, Mr. Rice, because today I have been aggrieved by the accusations that those men who appended their names to this document were robbers. That accusation has come to me through a newspaper called the "Philadelphia Inquirer" which I have definitely known is the mouthpiece not of the honest and decent Republican citizens of this Commonwealth, but is the mouthpiece of that Tory reactionary and corrupt leadership of the Republican party, and that paper this afternoon in bold headlines across its front page says "Democrats in Senate steal."

Gentlemen, the Democrats are not in any Senate steal, the steal was already perpetrated by the Supreme Court and other Courts of this Commonwealth before this Senate convened this noon, and I was proud and I am proud with the Republican colleagues of this Senate that today the members of this Senate had the integrity, the honor, and the spirit to tell to that Supreme Court and other Courts that the Senate of Pennsylvania is a coordinate branch of this government and that they who are elected to that body will judge of its own organization and of its own members as they have the sovereign prerogative under the Constitution written and adopted by the people. To me, my Republican colleagues and Democratic colleagues, whether the Republican members of this Senate organize the machinery of this Senate or whether the Democratic members organize it, is an insignificant matter. The greatest principle decided here today and for which each and every one of us ought to be eternally proud and happy is that we have had the popular guts, the internal fortitude, to demonstrate that we are the elected members of the Senate and not the Judiciary.

Yet this Philadelphia Inquirer, as I understand it, is edited by a man by the name of Moe Annenburg, a man that the records of this Senate show was a gangster in Chicago vying with an Al Capone, that he is the king of the race track booky rackets throughout this State and this nation, a newspaper edited by a man of that type has the gaul, the temerity, to publish across its front page that the Democrats elected to this body are in a Senate steal.

I have resented and will continue to resent the intrusion of that Judge of the Courts of Philadelphia who invaded the floor of this Senate today in contempt of the Chair to administer an oath to my colleagues here on the Republican side. I have resented and will continue to resent the interference of the Supreme Court or any other court of this State in the exercise of the prerogatives of this Senate and they will hear from me further from the floor of this Senate some time later. I resent and any other honorable gentleman from the other side of this floor will resent the accusation by a scoundrel and a rascal like Moe Annenburg that the twenty-six elected Democratic Senators of this State are engaged in a Senate steal and I have risen to second the nomination of my colleague John S. Rice, because I regard honorable the signature that I appended to that document in which I pledged with him and the others and to each other our sacred honor that we would vote as the people have directed us, Democratic for a President Pro Tempore and other matters touching upon the organization of the Senate.

So therefore, Mr. President, I too second the nomination of my colleague, Senator John S. Rice.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, before I add my seconding motion to those already given by my Democratic colleagues, I would like to call attention to the visitors here and to my colleagues of the various feats of mysticism that have been shown to us today. First of all, I saw a little huddle on my right. I thought perhaps they were getting into a signal calling formation and out of it a little tiny judge walks with some sort of a book in his hand which I hope was a Bible and said that these men had been duly sworn because he, a judge, had said so.

Then later we find that they themselves were not sure of having been sworn in and made a motion that they be duly sworn in. Then I attempted to go through the barber shop in the rear. The door was locked and finally after much persuasion and a little fussing, the door opened and a great big fellow about a foot and a half taller than I was came out and I said "what were you doing in there?" he said, "I was not in there." Well things have been moving so fast that probably he was not. Maybe the door was not even locked. I know that I let the barber run me out of there—I do not know why.

But then I look around me and I see that two of our Democratic Senators are missing. One I understand has gone to Oklahoma—they said he struck oil. The other one I am glad to see is here. I want to make this position clear to all. I do not intend to be during this session an obstacle in the way of any legislation that will bring to Pennsylvania that prosperity promised by the successful party in the State. I am first an American, second a Democrat. Any piece of legislation that comes before this body designed to give to the people of Pennsylvania a more prosperous life will get my vote even though at times I have to stretch my imagination a little to see where the prosperity is coming from. I fully intend to support at all times legislation that will reduce the taxes on industry, legislation that will give to the working men a square deal, legislation that will reduce the taxes on the home-owners of Pennsylvania. However, I serve notice that those pieces of legislation that we succeeded in passing in the last two years of our administration shall not be burned. I will not attend the bonfire and sit idly by without doing my best to put the fire out especially in the matter of legislation that has tried to give to the working men and women of Pennsylvania the fair, square deal that they should have had many many years ago.

But aside from all the mystery, I think the mystery is being cleared up before my eyes, I think perhaps I may know some of the reasons certain things are done but not being positive, I cannot of course state them. However, when I second this nomination for John Rice I do so not only because my name is on that round robin but also because I believe that he is the type of man that exemplifies Americanism, whether it is in this party or the other party.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, in making any motion or in voting upon any legislation in this body I think each Senator owes it to himself and his constituents to consider the seriousness of the action. In nominating a man to be the President Pro Tempore of the Senate, with all the powers, obligations and duties that go with that office, there ought to be a clear understanding of the reason why a vote is cast against one or the other or for one or the other. I am sure that in the minds of many of the Senators here in this room tonight there is running through their brains the thought, "well now why all these speeches to second the nomination of Senator Rice? You know very well that you do not have enough votes to elect him. You know very well that when you came here to the Senate you were twenty-five Republicans or rather twenty-four Republicans and twenty-six Democrats. You know very well that the reason for signing the round robin was not because you did not trust your colleagues but because it had been brought to your attention that many of your colleagues were being annoyed and insulted by the propositions that were put to them to desert the party which elected them and the people who expect them to carry out the policies for which they were elected."

As evidence of that fact I should like to take advantage of this opportunity to correct the mistake that has been made by some of my colleagues by calling attention to the fact that the so called round robin is only signed by twenty-four Democratic Senators. My colleague Senator Reed who was not present at the time, did not then and has not since then signed the round robin, but you gentlemen here will find that the written word is worth no more than the character of the man, and you will find that in spite of the absence of the signature of Senator Reed from this document, his vote will be according to his conscience and constituency. You will find that the document means nothing, not only is a man's word his bond but a man's bond is worthless unless his word means something. You would also say to me, "you know very well or you knew last night when you came here that from the twenty-six Democratic Senators who were elected one of the gentlemen in all honesty chose to join with the Republicans because he has the proper and reasonable excuse if he sees fit to take it that when he was elected he was elected with the support of the Republican vote and I find no quarrel with that position. But you would say to me also, "you knew last night that one of the Senators who had signed this document was on his way to Oklahoma." And right in passing on that point I want to say that it is high time that we feel and understand that there is nothing funny about a man who is sworn and elected to perform a duty in that man's failing to do his duty. It is because of that kind of light way of taking responsibility by elected officials that government by Democracy fails and I want to raise my voice in protest against the laughter that arose because reference was made to the fact that a man who has been elected and was sworn to perform a duty sees fit for whatever reason it may be to come to his place of duty and then surreptitiously leave that place and fail to perform that duty. I would have had more respect for the man if he came here and had the courage of his convictions or his agreements to come in and vote accordingly. You might also say to me, "you know very well that last night one of your other members whom you were trying to get to the caucus to find out whether he too would carry out his obligations and his sworn duty could not be found and that you knew this morning that when you went to his room in the hotel to find him he was transferred to another room and you saw with your own eyes what occurred, when the barber of the Senate arranged for the meeting places of members of the other side. You know all those things and you know them now and why do you make a speech to second the nomination of your colleague Senator Rice?"

I make this speech because I feel that the only way that the real Democratic Government can exist and continue to exist is by pointing out whenever the occasion arises the corrupt practices of either party, the corrupt methods and the corrupt attempts to interfere with the honest administration of government. I raise my voice in behalf of my colleagues because I realize that the cost of government in Pennsylvania has gone up from one hundred and fifty-five million dollars in 1931, to three hundred and ten million dollars in 1937. I raise my voice here and now in behalf of this man, my colleague, because I realize that we have a problem confronting us. Out of a population of ten millions of people, almost two millions are unemployed, and it is our duty to provide ways and means to see to it that those people's interest shall be protected, and that the men and the party they represent shall be representative of the people and shall perform their duty according to their conscience. I raise my voice in this case because I want it understood that I realize the responsibility that is mine as one man of fifty—a handful of men that control the destiny of ten millions of people. I want it understood that I appreciate the privileges of a Democratic Country. I have heard it said that some of those that come here from a foreign land should be criticized for certain things they do, and that they don't know what this Country means. Let me say to you that unless you have suffered the oppressions of foreign lands, you are in no position to make comparisons. Most of us are without imaginations, most of us read in the papers what goes on in countries that are not Democratic, and most of us say for the moment, "Well, that is awful," but none of us have enough imagination to realize what that means and what it portends. Some of us are so built that we don't believe that there is suffering unless we see the blood run. Some of us are absolutely without imaginations and to my mind the likeness with which the benefits of the Democratic Party are understood and appreciated show to me the danger that lies in every Democracy. This Democratic Party has levied taxes to halt relief and we have complained and heard complaints about taxes. I want to say to you that one of the greatest Justices this Country has ever known, the late Justice Holmes of the Supreme Court of the United States, said, "I like to pay taxes because with taxes I buy civilization." I like to see taxes levied if they are levied for a proper cause—that is my own statement. I have no fear of taxes if they are imposed properly and reasonably and if they are imposed for the benefit of the taxed, and if they are imposed upon those best able to pay the burden.

And so I must rise and second the nomination of my colleague, Senator Rice, because I feel that a large State with its troubles of this kind, that a State which has problems which will be severe and trying should have in the Senate representation and leadership that speaks of honesty and decency and I am making these statements because I want the light of day to be thrown upon the actions and the attitude of those who are responsible for the advances that have been recited by my colleague, and that we ourselves, and some of the other members of this Senate have seen. I have no allusions about the results of today or tomorrow. We knew, certainly I did, what the final result would be, but we had a purpose and we wanted to make a showing to the public of what this kind of activity on the part of any party means. I say to you, gentlemen, very frankly, I am somewhat responsible for the delay in reconvening and I apologize for it, but it was a grave problem and we had to decide and we took time in deciding it. And you will see and have seen that instead of disorganizing the party that was defeated in the last election by the conduct that has been detailed here to you members and in the presence of my voice, you have seen that you have solidified that party. You have seen that they have been as one voice in their actions today. Not because any of them had any belief that they would have the strength or the financial responsibility or the available finances to beat the picture that was set up, but because we all felt that it was high time that these things were exposed to the public and that the candidates that we present should be presented properly before this body and before the public so that they might know, even if he goes down to defeat what he stands for. I want to repeat to you and say that one of the most serious conditions that can arise in a Democracy has arisen here today. I have said and I repeat here, I believe that the Courts are the last bulwark of any Democracy and I have refrained and will refrain from making criticisms of any court or any judge. I will not accept and use the prerogative which I have, but without making any reflections upon them, I say referring to the statement of my colleague, Senator Cavalcante that there is a general impression attempted to be created that we are trying to steal something which we own and which we enjoy by virtue of the voice of the people. The people left us with a majority in this Senate and if we leave here today with a minority it is because it has been stolen from us. Not because we stole or attempted to steal anything from anyone else. That is what I want to make plain. If there has been any stealing here, it has not been by us. I have enough respect for my colleague to say that although I have been elected floor leader by my colleagues, if he is not elected as President Pro Tempore, I shall be very glad to turn back to him the floor leadership of this Senate which he so ably handled during the last Session. I'm not anxious to be a floor leader. I am not anxious to accept responsibility other than I need, but I am anxious and proud of the opportunity to repay to a great Commonwealth, and a great Country, something for the privileges that I have enjoyed, for the privilege of raising a family, for the privilege of educating them, for the privilege of speaking my mind, for the privilege of being permitted to act for and on behalf of ten millions of people.

The time has come when we must stop and take stock of what we are doing. We must not by our actions destroy the confidence of the people in the legislature and in the courts which are the fundamentals of Democracy. Hovering over us is a sceptre, and whether it falls or not depends upon what we do as publicly elected officials, and I say to you and my colleagues, not of resentment but of appeal to save a great Country from destruction, that there should be a secession of this kind of conduct and that because of that and because I believe that my colleague, Senator Rice stands for all those things and feels about those things as I do, that I take great pleasure and pride in seconding his nomination.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I am directed by the Caucus of Republican Senators to place in nomination for the office of President Pro Tempore of the Senate the name of the Honorable Frederick T. Gelder, of Susquehanna County.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I have the honor to second the nomination of my colleague from Susquehanna County, the Honorable Frederick T. Gelder.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I rise and consider it a great pleasure to second the nomination of the Honorable Frederick T. Gelder, as President Pro Tempore of this Senate, and in that connection I would like to remark that as I sat here and listened to these speeches of my colleagues from the Democratic side, I listened with some amusement. After witnessing in this Senate today the spectacle of by strong armed methods of preventing the swearing in of three duly elected members of this Senate, one of them because he was alleged to be the mayor of Sharon, when it was discovered that he had already resigned, I say that the speeches that I have heard in seconding the nomination of my esteemed colleague, Mr.

Rice, came to me with some amusement, especially after the seating of a Mr. Levin. And I want to say to the members of this Senate that I believe that this spectacle today that we witnessed here in this Senate justified any member from the Democratic side in disregarding any paper he may have signed. When this body met at twelve o'clock noon under the Constitution of Pennsylvania and these colleagues of ours presented themselves with their election returns with certificates in their hands, and by arbitrary, unlawful unheard of methods, we denied these men their seats today, I say to you in all sincerity, I don't think any single member of this Senate is bound by any commitment he has made before, and I with great pleasure second the nomination of Senator Gelder.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair suggests a motion that the nomination be closed.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I move that the nomination be closed.

Mr. FREY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

It was agreed to.

The PRESIDENT. On the election of the President Pro Tempore the Chief Clerk will call the roll, and the clerks of the Senate will act as tellers. The candidates are the Honorable John S. Rice of Adams County and the Honorable Frederick T. Gelder of Susquehanna County.

The roll was called and resulted as follows:

FOR MR. GELDER

Bartlett,	Eroe,	Mallery,	Stevenson,
Chapman,	Farrell,	Miller,	Tallman,
Crowe,	Geltz,	Owlett,	Walker,
Detrick,	Heyburn,	Pierson,	Wolfenden,
Ealy,	Homsher,	Rice,	Woodward,
Edmonds	James,	Scarlett,

FOR MR. RICE

Cavalcante,	Gilson,	Lanins,	Reed,
Coleman,	Haluska,	Levin,	Ruth,
Dent,	Jacobs,	McCreesh,	Shapiro,
DiSilvestro,	Jaspan,	McGinnis,	Sipe,
Frey,	Kilgallen,	Mundy,	Stiefel,
Gelder,	Kunkel,

The PRESIDENT. The Clerks agree in their tally, and the results show that the Honorable Frederick T. Gelder received 23 votes, and the Honorable John S. Rice received 22 votes. The Chair declares the Honorable Frederick T. Gelder elected President Pro Tempore of the Senate of Pennsylvania. The Chair appoints the Senator from Adams, Mr. Rice and the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, to escort the Honorable President Pro Tempore elect to the rostrum to take the oath of office.

ADMINISTRATION OF OATH TO THE PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

The PRESIDENT. The oath of office will be administered to the newly elected President Pro Tempore by the Honorable W. C. Sheely of Adams County.

The oath of office was accordingly administered.

The PRESIDENT. We now have the honor of presenting to the Senate the President Pro Tempore elect the Honorable Frederick T. Gelder of Susquehanna County.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, and fellow members of the Senate, may I extend to my colleagues my appreciation in your confidence in voting for me for President Pro Tempore of the Senate, and asking your cooperation and advice that I may carry on the impending duties to the satisfaction of all of the Members of the Senate. We are faced with grave responsibilities. The ten million people of Pennsylvania whose representatives we are, will expect of each and everyone of us that we face the problems which may arise with careful consideration, candor and courage.

The best interests of these people must be our concern. The financial condition of the Commonwealth will require immediate attention. The costs of Government has been mounting by leaps and bounds. Heavy tax burdens resulted. There will be still further demands for the expansion in Government. Counter demands equally insistent will be made for drastic reductions in the costs of government and taxation. This Session will be no different from other sessions that have preceded it in the demands made for changes and additions to existing laws. We must remember that proposals are not necessarily either radical or reactionary because so named by groups interested in their passage. It will take our best judgment to reject the faults and accept the truth. A problem of tremendous size and the utmost importance confronts us as we organize this Session. There is immediate need of providing funds to carry on the work of assisting the citizens of this Commonwealth who due to the conditions of the past few years are in need of public assistance. I know I can assure the Senate of Pennsylvania will cooperate in the full with the House of Representatives and with the Governor in providing the necessary funds and carrying on this work. At the same time I am impelled to point out that the cooperation of all citizens is needed to reduce the relief role, quicken private industry, agriculture and business, so that there will be a greater spread of employment and the man seeking a job can find one.

We have come through a stormy organization meeting but fortunately after storms the sun shines again and the sky clears. Knowing this Senate in its tradition I am confident its membership will work unitedly for the up-building of our Commonwealth and the happiness and prosperity of our people. Pennsylvania has a proud heritage of progress and stands among the first of American States. Economy and efficiency in government should be joined with consistent and common sense progress in this Session of the General Assembly for the welfare of the people of Pennsylvania. I was very glad in the remarks that were made in the seconding of the nomination of my esteemed colleague Senator Rice that no attack was made upon the members of the Senate of Pennsylvania and I would suggest to my Democratic colleagues, "To thine own self be true and it must follow as the night the day, thou cannot be false to any man." I would suggest that we make that the motto of this Session of the Legislature.

I earnestly ask your cooperation that we may have a session this year that will be of real benefit to the people of Pennsylvania. I promise you my own heartiest cooperation. I ask your assistance and advice and if I retain your esteem at the end of this Session of the Legislature I assure you it will be a great gratification to me. I thank you.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair expresses the thanks of the Senate to Senator Gelder for the splendid address delivered to us this evening.

ELECTION OF SECRETARY

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I move that the Senate

now proceed to the election of a Secretary of the Senate.

Mr. FREY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

It was agreed to.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, in order to save time, we can elect the three officers at one time.

The PRESIDENT. The custom and tradition of the Senate has been to elect these officers individually. First the Secretary, then the Chief Clerk and then the Senate Librarian. They must be elected individually.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, in 1935, the three officers were included in one motion at that time.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I place in nomination the name of John C. Morlock for Secretary of the Senate.

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I second the nomination.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I am directed by the caucus of the Republican Senators to place in nomination the name of George F. Holmes.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I second the nomination.

The PRESIDENT. If there are no other nominations, the nominations will close.

The Clerk will call the roll.

The roll was called and was as follows:

FOR MR. MORLOCK

Cavalcante,	Gilson,	Lanlus,	Rice,
Coleman,	Haluska,	Levin,	Ruth,
Dent,	Jacobs,	McCreesh,	Shapiro,
DiSilvestro,	Jaspan,	McGinnis,	Sipe,
Eroe,	Kilgallen,	Mundy,	Stiefel,
Frey,	Kunkel,	Reed,

FOR MR. HOLMES

Bartlett,	Farrell,	Mallery,	Stevenson,
Chapman,	Gelder,	Miller,	Tallman,
Crowe,	Geltz,	Owlett,	Walker,
Detrick,	Heyburn,	Pierson,	Wolfenden,
Ealy,	Homsher,	Scarlett,	Woodward,
Edmonds,	James,

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I did not hear the names of Mr. Letzler, Mr. Thomas or Mr. Snowden called on the roll call. They have been duly elected and their election returns certified to this body and election certificates issued by the Secretary of the Commonwealth and they have been sworn and I therefore ask that their names be called.

The PRESIDENT. They were not sworn.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I now ask that their names be called.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair is unable to comply with your request.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, their returns have been certified to this Senate and election certificates have been issued to them by the Secretary of the Commonwealth and they have been sworn.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair disagrees with the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett. There is nothing in order but the announcement of the vote.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I appeal from the ruling of the Chair.

The PRESIDENT. There is nothing in order but the announcement of the vote. John C. Morlock having received 23 votes, and George F. Holmes 22 votes, I therefore declare John C. Morlock, of Philadelphia, duly elected Secretary of the Senate.

ELECTION OF CHIEF CLERK

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I now move that the Senate proceed to the election of Chief Clerk of the Senate.

Mr. FREY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I place in nomination the name of Dennis J. Mulvihill of Pittsburgh for Chief Clerk of the Senate.

Mr. FREY. Mr. President, I second the nomination.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I am directed by the caucus of Republican Senators to place in nomination for the office of Chief Clerk of the Senate, the name of William J. Ridge.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I second the nomination.

The PRESIDENT. If there are no other nominations, I declare the nominations closed. The Clerk will call the roll.

The roll was called and was as follows:

FOR MR. MULVIHILL

Cavalcante.	Gilson.	Lanius.	Rice.
Coleman.	Haluska.	Levin.	Ruth.
Dent.	Jacobs.	McCreesh.	Shapiro.
DiSilvestro.	Jaspan.	McGinnis.	Sipe.
Eroe.	Kilgallen.	Mundy.	Stiefel.
Frey.	Kunkel.	Reed.

FOR MR. RIDGE

Bartlett.	Farrell.	Mallery.	Stevenson.
Chapman.	Gelder.	Miller.	Tallman.
Crowe.	Geltz.	Owlett.	Walker.
Deitrick.	Heyburn.	Pierson.	Wolfenden.
Ealy.	Homsher.	Scarlett.	Woodward.
Edmonds.	James.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I failed to hear the names of Messrs. Letzler, Snowden and Thomas when the roll was called and they have been duly elected, their election returns certified to this Senate, their election certificates issued by the Secretary of the Commonwealth and they have been sworn. I ask that their names be called.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair records the same answer as before on this matter.

The Chair will announce the results of the election of Chief Clerk: Dennis J. Mulvihill—23 votes; William J. Ridge—22 votes.

The Chair declares Dennis J. Mulvihill elected Chief Clerk of the Senate of Pennsylvania.

ELECTION OF LIBRARIAN

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I now move that we proceed to the election of Librarian of the Senate.

Mr. FREY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I place in nomination the name of Thomas J. Callahan for the office of Librarian of the Senate.

Mr. FREY. Mr. President, I second the nomination.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I am directed by the caucus of Republican Senators to place in nomination for the office of Librarian of the Senate the name of Alex S. Cooper.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I second the nomination.

The PRESIDENT. If there are no other nominations, I declare the nominations closed. The Clerk will call the roll.

The roll was called and was as follows:

FOR MR. CALLAHAN

Cavalcante.	Gilson.	Lanius.	Rice.
Coleman.	Haluska.	Levin.	Ruth.
Dent.	Jacobs.	McCreesh.	Shapiro.
DiSilvestro.	Jaspan.	McGinnis.	Sipe.
Eroe.	Kilgallen.	Mundy.	Stiefel.
Frey.	Kunkel.	Reed.

FOR MR. COOPER

Bartlett.	Farrell.	Mallery.	Stevenson.
Chapman.	Gelder.	Miller.	Tallman.
Crowe.	Geltz.	Owlett.	Walker.
Deitrick.	Heyburn.	Pierson.	Wolfenden.
Ealy.	Homsher.	Scarlett.	Woodward.
Edmonds.	James.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair will announce the results of the election of Librarian: Thomas J. Callahan—23 votes; Alex S. Cooper—22 votes. The Chair declares Thomas J. Callahan elected Librarian of the Senate of Pennsylvania.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, when the roll was called, I did not hear the names of Messrs. Snowden, Thomas and Letzler called. I now ask that their names be now called, they having been duly elected, their election returns certified to this body, their election certificates issued by the Secretary of the Commonwealth and they have been sworn.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair records the same answer.

The PRESIDENT. The oath will be administered to these officers in the office of the Secretary of the Senate.

RECESS

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I move that the Senate now recess for twenty minutes.

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. OWLETT and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—23

Cavalcante.	Gilson.	Lanius.	Rice.
Coleman.	Haluska.	Levin.	Ruth.
Dent.	Jacobs.	McCreesh.	Shapiro.
DiSilvestro.	Jaspan.	McGinnis.	Sipe.
Eroe.	Kilgallen.	Mundy.	Stiefel.
Frey.	Kunkel.	Reed.

NAYS—22

Bartlett.	Farrell.	Mallery.	Stevenson.
Chapman.	Gelder.	Miller.	Tallman.
Crowe.	Geltz.	Owlett.	Walker.
Deitrick.	Heyburn.	Pierson.	Wolfenden.
Ealy.	Homsher.	Scarlett.	Woodward.
Edmonds.	James.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

ELECTION OF EMPLOYES

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I move that the Senate proceed to the election of officers and employes of the Senate.

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

MOTION TO LAY ON THE TABLE

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I move that the motion just made be laid on the table.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to inquire whether or not a vote "no" defeats the motion to lay the motion on the table.

The PRESIDENT. Those who vote "aye" will vote to lay on the table and vote to defeat the motion of the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I rise to a further question of Parliamentary Inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett will state his question of Parliamentary Inquiry.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, as this motion is to lay the former motion on the table, the former motion can be called up from the table at any time. I ask the Senators to vote "aye" on the motion.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. OWLETT and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—22

Bartlett.	Farrell.	Mallery.	Stevenson.
Chapman.	Gelder.	Miller.	Tallman.
Crowe.	Geltz.	Owlett.	Walker.
Detrick.	Heyburn.	Pierson.	Wolfenden.
Faly.	Hornsher.	Scarlett.	Woodward.
Edmonds.	James.

NAYS—23

Caralcante.	Gilson.	Lanius.	Rice.
Coleman.	Haluska.	Levin.	Ruth.
Dent.	Jacobs.	McCreesh.	Shapiro.
DiSilvestro.	Jaspan.	McGinnis.	Sipe.
Eroe.	Kilgallen.	Mundy.	Stiefel.
Frev.	Kunkel.	Reed.

So the question was determined in the negative.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I wish to inquire as to why the names of Messrs. Snowden, Letzler and Thomas were not called when the roll was called, they having been sworn and their election certified to this body; certificates of election have been issued by the Secretary of the Commonwealth to these three men.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair records the same answer.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to proceed to the election of officers and employes of the Senate?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, may I interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro?

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, with pleasure.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I desire to ask the Senator how many names of attaches were on that list just read.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I have not counted them.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, The Act of 1919 sets forth the number of employes of the Senate. May I ask that that Act of 1919 be brought here?

The PRESIDENT. The Senator might have brought it.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I am sure if the gentleman will look in the Manual, that he will find that these appointments conform with the Act.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I would like to have the Act brought here * * *.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, we have not been working under the rules of twenty years ago for the past ten years. These appointments are in conformity with the provisions of law as to the number of employes.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, is the Senator sure they conform with the Act?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I assume they are unless the Supreme Court rules otherwise.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I ask that the Act be produced.

The PRESIDENT. The Auditor General will not honor vouchers if they are not in conformity with the law.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, if there is an illegal list of employes or appointments, the Senate ought to know it before it votes.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator will state his point of order.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, there is nothing but my motion before this Senate.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I think the assumption of the Senator ought to be verified as there is an Act of the Commonwealth that fixes the number of attaches which this Senate has and it ought to know what that number is.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the Senator may want to question me upon my remarks and the gentleman can look up the Act even now and then he can raise the question. I have answered the gentleman that the appointments suggested in my motion are all made under Act of Assembly, not in the last four years, but under the Republican Administration.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, would the gentleman from Philadelphia use his influence with the Chair and try to get me a copy of this Act now?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the Democratic and Republican members of this Senate know that if they wish a copy of an Act all they have to do is to clap their hands for a page boy.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I now ask for a page boy or whatever comes.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair is willing to accept the statement of the gentleman from Philadelphia that the appointments are within the law.

May the Chair point out that we have got to meet in Joint Session to receive and open the election returns and whatever other duties are necessary in connection with the opening of the General Assembly?

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator allow himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I desire to inquire if his list of employes corresponds with the list in 1933?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I would rather say "no" to that because some of the positions were not filled in 1933 and in 1935. We did not fill some of the appointments this time; the office of assistant librarian was not filled.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, may I inquire how many postmasters and assistant postmasters are on the list?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, one postmaster and one assistant postmaster.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, in 1933 the Senate of Pennsylvania made an effort to economize on expenditures around the capitol and curtailed the number of employes. In 1937, the list was greatly augmented and we have not noticed that the service has been improved. It seems to me that at this time it is necessary for curtailment because between now and the First of June there will be forty million dollars more needed than is now in sight. It would be a fine gesture on the part of the Senate to start with a small number of employes and add them as needed.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the 1935 Session was controlled by the Republicans. Any increase was made by the Republicans. In the House, the Democratic majority cut out a number of positions and the Republican House showed haste in just electing an assistant clerk and filled every position not filled by the Democrats last year. We have not filed any appointments of the President Pro Tempore or of the President of the Senate, because we think that they should have their own appointees.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. OWLETT and were as follows, viz.:

YEAS—23

Cavalcante,	Gilson,	Lanius,	Rice,
Coleman,	Haluska,	Levin,	Ruth,
Dent,	Jacobs,	McGreesh,	Shapiro,
DISilvestro,	Jaspan,	McGinnis,	Sipe,
Eroe,	Kilgallen,	Mundy,	Stiefel,
Frey,	Kunkel,	Reed,

NAYS—22

Bartlett,	Farrell,	Mallery,	Stevenson,
Chapman,	Gelder,	Miller,	Tallman,
Crowe,	Geitz,	Owlett,	Walker,
Detrich,	Heyburn,	Pierson,	Wolfenden,
Ealy,	Homsher,	Scarlett,	Woodward,
Edmonds,	James,

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, not having heard the names of Messrs. Letzler, Snowden and Thomas called when the roll was called, they having been duly elected, their elections certified to this Senate, certificates of election issued by the Secretary of the Commonwealth and they having been sworn, I now ask that their names be called.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair records the same answer as before to this question.

On the question of the election of employes of the Senate, the "ayes" have 23 and the "nays" have 22, and the employes whose names were read are elected to their respective positions.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I present the following resolution and ask its immediate adoption.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

ADOPTION OF RULES

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to offer the rules at this time and move their adoption.

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The PRESIDENT. As Mr. Shapiro has made a motion to adopt the rules of the Senate at this time, I will accept his motion. The organization of the Senate has not as yet been completed.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, there is a resolution pending before the Senate at this time.

The PRESIDENT. There is no resolution pending before this body that I know of.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I presented a resolution.

The PRESIDENT. The resolution has not been recognized.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I appeal from the ruling of the Chair and file the following appeal and ask that the President Pro Tempore take the Chair, I file the written appeal signed by four Senators.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I notice the Senator presented an appeal signed by Messrs. Scarlett, Wolfenden, Pierson and Owlett. It does not state an appeal from what, but just from the ruling just made. I desire to inquire if those signatures were on that paper before the appeal was made.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, they were, of course.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I inquire if he thinks the appeal is in proper form.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I will be glad to have another one prepared.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the appeal is not in proper form. This paper presented was prepared and signed before the question of an appeal on this question was raised and I ask that it be disregarded.

The PRESIDENT. The appeal is not in order.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, does the Chair rule that we cannot appeal from the ruling of the Chair?

The PRESIDENT. Yes, you can appeal if the appeal is in proper form.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I have appealed from the ruling of the Chair and ask that the President Pro Tempore take the Chair for the purpose of voting on the appeal.

The PRESIDENT. The appeal is not in proper form.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, where is it improper?

The PRESIDENT. It is not in proper form because the names were signed on it before the appeal was made and before the nature of the appeal was written in the body of the appeal in ink.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the Chair is not acting in an advisory capacity. I know a number of good lawyers who can advise the Senator if he wants proper advice.

The PRESIDENT. The Senate is the governing body of this branch of the Legislature.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I desire to make an inquiry here. Has it not always been the custom of this body as well as other legislative bodies to allow appeals after the Chair has ruled on a question?

The PRESIDENT. May the Chair state that the Senate is not yet organized.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, we certainly have the right to present appeals.

The PRESIDENT. We are proceeding under parliamentary law,—Jefferson's Manual, until this Senate is duly organized.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, this Senate is our Senate. You are merely the presiding officer and if any ruling which you make is not agreed to by a majority of the members of this Senate, we have the right to overrule you.

The PRESIDENT. Yes, if the appeal is in proper form.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, if the appeal is not in proper form, then we will take a few minutes and put it in proper form.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, May the Senate be at ease for a few moments?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I object.

The PRESIDENT. Objection is made.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I ask that four Senators be permitted to approach the bar of the Senate and sign this appeal.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I ask that the previous question be called.

The PRESIDENT. The previous question has been called for.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, may I inquire whether the appeal has been spread at length in the records of the Senate? May I inquire whether it is placed in the records of the Senate?

The PRESIDENT. The statement is made a matter of record. The appeal was not received because it was improperly drawn.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I desire to read the appeal and ask that it become a part of the record.

January 3, 1939.

We, the undersigned, hereby appeal from your decision wherein you ruled as follows:

From ruling just made.

G. MASON OWLETT
GEORGE B. SCARLETT
H. J. PIERSON
C. GILBERT WOLFENDEN."

The PRESIDENT. The Chair has no objection to it becoming a part of the record.

READING OF THE RULES

The PRESIDENT. The Clerk will read the Rules.

RULES OF THE SENATE OF PENNSYLVANIA

DUTIES OF THE PRESIDENT—TAKING THE CHAIR

1. The President shall take the chair, each day, at the hour to which the Senate stands adjourned, when he shall call the members to order, and on the appearance of a quorum, shall cause the Journal of the preceding day to be read, which the Senate shall have the power then to correct.

ORDER OF BUSINESS

2. The order to be observed in taking up business shall be as follows:

First—The asking leave of absence.

Second—The receiving of reports of committees, which shall be called for by the President, according to the order of the committees.

Third—The reading of bills in place. The President commencing on his left and recognizing all in their order from left to right, and all bills read in place shall be accompanied by two copies of the same.

Fourth—The offering of original resolutions.

Fifth—The consideration of executive nominations.

Sixth—The reading of bills the third time.

Seventh—The reading of bills the second time.

Eighth—The reading of bills the first time, and in that state shall not be subject to amendment or a vote thereon.

ORDER AND DECORUM—PRESIDENT TO PRESERVE

3. It shall be the duty of the President to preserve order, prevent personal reflections, confine members in debate to the question and when two or more members rise at the same time, decide who shall be the first heard; but an appeal in all such cases shall lie to the Senate, and a member called to order may extenuate or justify.

BUSINESS AND DEBATES

4. Members speaking shall address the President, and when presenting a paper shall first state its import. Members shall not speak more than twice on any question without permission of the Senate, nor be interrupted when speaking, except by a call to order by the President, or by a member through the President, or by a member to explain, or by a call for the previous question.

MOTIONS

5. When a motion is made and seconded, it shall, before debate, be stated by the President. Every motion shall be reduced to writing, if the President or any member require it; but a motion may be withdrawn by the member making it before amendment, postponement, an order to lie on the table, or decision.

TO BE ENTERED ON JOURNAL

6. Every motion shall be entered on the Journal together with the name of the member making it unless it should be subsequently withdrawn.

HOW INTERRUPTED

7. A question regularly before the Senate can be interrupted only by a call for the previous question for amendment, postponement, commitment, or adjournment.

MOTION TO ADJOURN—WHEN IN ORDER

8. A motion to adjourn shall always be in order, excepting when on the call for the previous question, the main question shall have been ordered to be now put, or when a member has the floor and shall be decided without debate.

ORDER OF MOTIONS—DEBATES ON THE PREVIOUS QUESTION

9. The motion for the previous question, for postponement, for commitment and for amendment shall take precedence in the order mentioned and a motion for the previous question shall preclude any of the other motions from being made; a motion to postpone shall preclude a motion to commit; or to amend a motion to commit shall preclude a motion to amend. The motion for the previous question, postponement (other than indefinite postponement) or commitment, shall preclude debate on the original subject. The previous question shall not be moved by less than four members.

QUESTIONS FOLLOWING

10. When a call for the previous question has been made and sustained, the question shall be upon pending amendments and the main question, in their regular order, and all incidental questions of order arising after a motion for the previous question has been made, and pending such motion shall be decided, whether on appeal or otherwise, without debate.

DEBATE ON QUESTIONS OF ORDER

11. No debate shall be allowed on questions of order, unless there be an appeal, or reference by the President of the Senate. And on such appeal or reference no member shall speak more than once, unless by leave of the Senate.

FILLING UP BLANKS

12. On filling up blanks, the question shall first be taken on the largest sum, greatest number, and most distant day.

POWERS AND DUTIES OF PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

13. In the absence of the President, the President pro tempore shall exercise all the powers and perform all the duties of President. On all questions, the President pro tempore shall vote last when occupying the chair.

SIGNING OF BILLS, ET CETERA BY THE PRESIDENT

14. Acts, orders, addresses, and joint resolutions shall be signed by the President in the presence of the Senate, after their titles have been publicly read, and the fact of signing shall be entered on the Journal; and writs, warrants, and subpoenas, issued by the Senate shall be signed by him and attested by the Clerk.

GENERAL DIRECTION OF HALL

15. The President shall have the general direction of the hall. He may name a member to perform the duties of the Chair but such substitutions shall not extend beyond four days.

RECONSIDERATION

16. When a question has been once made and carried in the affirmative or negative, it shall be in order for any two members of the majority to move the reconsideration thereof. When the Senate has been equally divided on a question, or a bill shall have failed to pass, by reason of not having a constitutional majority, it shall be in order for any two who voted in the negative to move the reconsideration thereof.

Provided, however, that no motion for the reconsideration of any vote shall be in order after a bill, resolution, report, amendment or motion upon which the vote was taken shall have gone out of the possession of the Senate.

Provided further that no motion for reconsideration shall be in order unless made on the same day on which the vote was taken, or within the next five days of actual session of the Senate thereafter.

Provided further, however, that a motion to remove the President pro tempore, or any other officer or employe of the Senate, or to reconsider the appointment or election of the President pro tempore, or any other officer or employe of the Senate, shall require the consent of two-thirds of all members elected to the Senate.

BILLS

17. Every bill shall be read at length on three different days in open Senate. All amendments thereto shall be printed and laid on the desks of Senators before the final vote is taken on the bill. The final vote shall be taken by yeas and nays and the names of the persons voting for and against the same be entered on the Journal. No bill shall be declared passed, or signed by the President unless a majority of all the Senators elected to the Senate shall be recorded as voting for the same.

AMENDMENTS

18. No amendment shall be received by the President which destroys the general sense of the original section, clause, or paragraph. No amendment to bills by the House shall be concurred in by the Senate, except by the vote of a majority of the members elected thereto, taken by yeas and nays, and the names of those voting for and against recorded upon the Journal thereof.

COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE

19. All bills shall be considered by a Committee of the Whole, unless the rule be dispensed with by unanimous consent. All amendments made in Committee of the Whole, shall be reported by the chairman to the Senate, and shall by him be moved to be inserted, and if adopted, shall then be entered on the Journal. Every bill shall be read at length in Committee of the Whole, and such reading shall be considered one of the readings required by the Constitution.

REPORT OF CONFERENCE COMMITTEE

20. Every report of a committee of conference shall be printed together with the bill as amended by the committee, before action shall be had on such report.

CONCURRENCE IN AMENDMENTS OF THE HOUSE

21. That the vote on concurring in bills amended by the House or on adopting reports of committees of conference, shall not be taken until said bills and reports have been placed on the files of Senators, and particularly referred to on their calendars.

APPROPRIATION BILLS FOR CHARITABLE PURPOSES

22. No bills appropriating money for charitable or benevolent purposes shall be considered until after the general appropriation bill shall have been reported from committee.

STANDING COMMITTEES

23. There shall be the following Standing Committees:

- A Committee on Aeronautics
- A Committee on Agriculture
- A Committee on Appropriations
- A Committee on Banking
- A Committee on Constitutional Changes
- A Committee on County Government
- A Committee on Education
- A Committee on Elections
- A Committee on Executive Nominations
- A Committee on Finances
- A Committee on Forests and Waters
- A Committee on Game and Fish
- A Committee on Highways
- A Committee on Insurance
- A Committee on Judiciary General
- A Committee on Labor and Industry
- A Committee on Military Affairs
- A Committee on Mines and Mining
- A Committee on Municipal Government
- A Committee on Pensions
- A Committee on Public Health
- A Committee on Public Utilities
- A Committee on Rules
- A Committee on State Government
- A Committee on Welfare

The members and the Chairmen of the said Standing Committees shall be appointed by the President pro tempore as soon after his election as possible. All vacancies occurring in said committees by resignation or otherwise shall be filled by the President pro tempore.

The President pro tempore shall be ex-officio a member of all standing Committees and included in the number of committee members herein provided and he shall be Chairman of the Committee on Rules.

The several above committees shall consist of the following: Rules, six (6) Senators; Agriculture, Executive Nominations, Seven (7) Senators each; Elections, eight (8) Senators; Aeronautics, Forests and Waters, Game and Fisheries, Pensions, nine (9) Senators each; Banking, In-

Insurance, Labor and Industry, Military Affairs, Mines and Mining, Municipal Government, Public Health, State Government, Welfare, eleven (11) Senators each; Constitutional Changes, County Government, Highways, Public Utilities, thirteen (13) Senators each; Education, fourteen (14) Senators; Finance, fifteen (15) Senators; Appropriations, seventeen (17) Senators; Judiciary General, eighteen (18) Senators.

DUTIES OF MEMBERS OF COMMITTEES

24. Every member of a committee shall attend the call of the chairman, who shall be the first-named person on such a committee and in case of his neglect to call the committee together or in case of his absence by sickness or other cause, the committee shall attend the call of the next person named on the committee.

RULES IN COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE

25. The rules and proceedings of the Senate shall be observed, in the Committee of the Whole, excepting that a member may speak oftener than twice on the same subject. In Committee of the Whole, the previous question cannot be called, the yeas and nays required, nor can there be an appeal from the decision of the chairman.

ABSENCE

26. No member shall absent himself without leave of the Senate, first obtained, unless prevented from attending by sickness, or other sufficient cause.

FILES OF THE SENATE

27. The files of the Senate may be inspected by the members, but no paper shall be withdrawn therefrom without the consent of the Senate.

WHO PRIVILEGED TO THE FLOOR OF THE SENATE

28. No person shall be admitted within the Senate Chamber (galleries excepted) during its sessions, unless invited by a member of the Senate, except the members and officers of the two branches of the legislature, the Governor, heads of departments, ex-members of the Legislature, and stenographers to report proceedings of the Senate for publication under the direction of the President pro tempore. No person or persons shall be permitted to occupy the seats of Senators or pass across the floor of the Senate when the Senate is in session; nor shall any person or persons, at any time, be permitted to enter the room of the transcribing clerks or pass before the President. All obstructions in, and passing across the enclosed circle are prohibited.

SUSPENDING AND AMENDING RULES

29. The consent of two-thirds of the members present shall be necessary to suspend any rule.

The consent of two-thirds of all members elected to the Senate shall be necessary to alter, change, or amend these rules.

DIVISION OF A QUESTION

30. Any Senator may call for a division of a question, which shall be divided if it comprehends questions so distinct that one being taken away the rest may stand entire for the decision of the Senate. A motion to strike out and insert shall be deemed inadvisable; but a motion to strike out being lost, shall preclude neither amendment nor a motion to strike out and insert.

REFERENCE OF BILLS

31. Every bill and joint resolution which may be received from the House of Representatives, or which may be read by a Senator in his place, shall, immediately after being presented to the Chair, be referred by the President to the appropriate committee, unless otherwise ordered.

CHARACTER OF BILLS READ IN PLACE. ET CETERA

32. No member shall read in place, nor shall any committee, either standing or select, report any bill for the action of the Senate, granting corporate powers in any case, when the authority of granting such powers has been conferred upon any of the courts of this Commonwealth; or proposing to legislate upon any of the subjects prohibited by the seventh section of the third article of the Constitution; nor shall any bill be read in place, or reported from a committee, reviving, amending, or extending the provisions of any law, by reference to its title only, but the whole shall be re-enacted in words by such bill.

COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE ON A BILL ON THIRD READING

33. When the Senate shall resolve to go into Committee of the Whole on a bill on third reading, except for special amendment, the question before the Senate, when the President shall have resumed the Chair and the chairman of the committee has made a report, shall be, "Will the Senate agree to the report of the Committee?"

JEFFERSON'S MANUAL TO GOVERN THE SENATE

34. The rules of parliamentary practice comprised in Jefferson's Manual shall govern the Senate in all cases to which they are applicable, and in which they are not inconsistent with the standing rules and orders of the Senate and the joint rules of the Senate and House of Representatives.

WHEN LESS THAN A QUORUM IS PRESENT

35. When, upon a call, which may be demanded by not less than four Senators, it is found that less than a quorum is present, it shall be the duty of the President to order the doors of the Senate to be closed, and to direct the Clerk to call the roll of the Senate and note the absentees after which the names of the absentees shall be again called, and those for whose absence no excuse, or an insufficient excuse is made, may, by order of a majority of the Senators present, be sent for and taken into custody by the sergeant-at-arms, or his assistants appointed for the purpose, and brought before the bar of the Senate, where, unless excused by a majority of the Senators present, they shall be reproved by the President for neglect of duty.

WHEN LESS THAN A QUORUM VOTE BUT PRESENT

36. When less than a quorum vote upon any subject under the consideration of the Senate, not less than four Senators may demand a call of the Senate, when it shall be the duty of the President forthwith to order the doors of the Senate to be closed, the roll of the Senators to be called, and if it is ascertained that a quorum is present, either by answering to their names, or by their presence in the Senate, the President shall again order the yeas and nays, and if any Senator or Senators present refuse to vote, the name or names of such Senator or Senators shall be entered on the Journal as "present but not voting," and such refusal to vote shall be deemed a contempt, and, unless purged, the President shall direct the sergeant-at-arms to bring such Senator or Senators before the bar of the Senate, where he or they shall be publicly reprimanded by the President.

PROHIBITED LEGISLATION

37. No law shall be passed except by bill, and no bill shall be so altered or amended on its passage through the Senate as to change its original purpose. No bill shall be considered unless referred to a committee, returned therefrom, and printed for the use of the members. No local or special bill shall be reported unless the same be accompanied by proof of the publication of the notice thereof, in accordance with law, and of section eight of article three of the Constitution; and proof of such publication shall be certified to by the President or secretary of the committee reporting the bill.

EXECUTIVE NOMINATIONS

38. When nominations shall be made by the Governor to the Senate they shall after being read by the Chief Clerk, without a motion be referred by the presiding officer to appropriate committee, and after having been reported by the committee, the final question on every nomination shall be: "Will the Senate advise and consent to this nomination?" Which question shall not be put on the day on which the nomination or nominations are reported from committee, unless by unanimous consent.

All information communicated or remarks made by a Senator when acting upon nominations in committee, concerning the character or qualifications of the person nominated, shall be kept secret. If, however, charges shall be made against a person nominated, the committee may, in its discretion, notify such nominee thereof, but the name of the person making such charges shall not be disclosed.

When the consideration of executive nominations is reached in the order of business, a Senator may make a motion to go into executive session for the purpose of confirming the nominations which have been reported from a committee at a previous session and, if unanimous consent be given, also those which may be reported on the day the motion is made; and on the motion being agreed to, such nomination or nominations shall be considered the first order of the day until finally disposed of, unless the same shall be postponed by a majority of the Senate; but such business when once commenced shall not be postponed for more than five days, except in case of an adjournment of the Senate for a longer period.

When in executive session, no message shall be received from the Governor, unless it be relative to the nomination under consideration, nor from the House of Representatives, nor shall any other business be considered, except executive business, and the executive session shall not adjourn pending the consideration of the nomination until a time fixed by a majority vote of those present for the next meeting of the exclusive session to resume the consideration thereof.

When a nomination is confirmed or rejected by the Senate, any two Senators, voting with the majority, may move for a reconsideration on the same day on which the vote was taken, or on either of the next two days of actual session of the Senate; but if a notification of the confirmation or rejection of a nomination shall have been sent to the Governor before the expiration of the time within which a motion to reconsider may be made, the motion to reconsider shall be accompanied by a motion to request the Governor to return such notification to the Senate. A motion to reconsider the vote on a nomination may be laid on the table without prejudice to the nomination, and shall be a final disposition of such motion.

RESOLUTIONS

39. The following resolutions after they have been twice read, shall be referred to an appropriate committee, without debate (unless by unanimous consent the Senate shall otherwise direct) and if favorably reported by the committee, shall lie over one day for consideration, after which they may be called up as, of course, under their appropriate order of business:

All Senate and House concurrent resolutions, excepting resolutions in reference to adjournments and those recalling bills from the Governor which shall be regarded as privileged;

Resolutions containing calls for information from the heads of departments, or to alter the rules;

Resolutions giving rise to debate, except such as relate to the disposition of matters immediately before the Senate, such as relate to the business of the day on which they were offered, and such as relate to adjournment or taking a recess.

LOUNGING IN SENATE PROHIBITED

40. That the Librarian of the Senate be directed to keep the doors of the Senate chamber closed on Sunday to all persons except persons who are entitled under the twenty-eighth rule of the Senate; and that he be directed to call on any officer of the Senate to aid him in enforcing this order; and that on other days when the Senate is not in Session, the officers are hereby required to strictly prohibit any lounging within the Senate chamber by any person not connected with the Legislature, and that henceforth no officer be permitted to occupy the seat of a Senator at any time; that it shall be the duty of the President to see that this rule is enforced, and a persistent disregard of it by any officer shall be cause of dismissal by the President.

BILLS REQUIRING A TWO-THIRDS VOTE

41. When bills which require a two-thirds vote are under consideration, the concurrence of two-thirds of all the Senators elected shall not be requisite to decide any question or amendment short of the final question; and on any other question short of the final one, a majority of Senators voting shall be sufficient to pass the same.

DISCHARGING COMMITTEES

42. No committee shall be discharged from consideration of any measure within ten calendar days of its reference without unanimous consent of the Senate or after such ten day period except by majority vote of all members elected to the Senate.

NEGATIVE BILLS

43. A majority of all the members elected to the Senate shall be required to place a negative bill upon the calendar.

DIRECTION OF OFFICERS AND EMPLOYEES

44. All officers and employees of the Senate shall be subject to the order and direction of the Chief Clerk, who shall obey the direction and orders of the President and President Pro Tempore respectively, relative to the conduct of all business of the Senate.

BILLS TO BE PRINTED WHEN INTRODUCED, AND WEEKLY CALENDAR PREPARED

45. All bills when introduced in the Senate shall be numbered consecutively and printed on pink paper. A weekly calendar showing the status of all bills shall be prepared for the use of the Senate.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I would like to advise the Senators that the only changes made in these Rules from the Rules adopted at the last Session are in Rules 16, 23, 25 and 29. Rule 43 of last year was abolished. It was the rule prohibiting smoking in the Senate. It was so badly violated that we eliminated it. The rest of the rules are the same as those adopted last Session.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, what is the change in Rule 16?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the changes made in Rule 16, the first three paragraphs are clarifying changes as to what happens when a motion has been lost when there is an equal division. The last paragraph is an addition, it requires a vote of two-thirds of the members elected to change the election of the President Pro Tempore and the employees of the Senate.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, that is with the hope of freezing the employees of the Senate.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I don't like the language the gentleman uses but, the hope was really to freeze the President Pro Tempore.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I wish to inquire, in Rule 23, does that change the number of committees?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, in the set-up of the committees which the Democratic Senators had deemed proper under the circumstances I want to say to the Republican members of the Senate that we have agreed among ourselves if there are any changes which you would prefer to make we would join in the changes. If you want to add or subtract, we will go along with that because that is your prerogative now.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, what about Rule 25?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, this was a strike-out of the words "as far as practicable."

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, what about Rule 29?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, this dealt with the suspension of rules. The word used was "dispense" and the consent of two-thirds of the members is necessary to suspend the rules. Two-thirds of all the members of the Senate will be necessary to alter or change these rules.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, what about Rule 43?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, Rule 43 was the only other rule changed. It prevents us all from being violators by eliminating the rule against smoking.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, since, should these rules be adopted, they would affect the whole control of this body and since this body by the election of a Republican President Pro Tempore elected to turn the organization over to the Republican members, I move that the motion with reference to these rules be laid on the table.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I call for the previous question.

The PRESIDENT. It has been moved by Mr. Owlett and seconded by Mr. Mallery that the rules offered be laid on the table.

And the question recurring.

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. OWLETT and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—22.

Bartlett,	Farrell,	Mallery,	Stevenson,
Chapman,	Gelder,	Miller,	Tallman,
Crowe,	Geltz,	Owlett,	Walker,
Deitrich,	Heyburn,	Pierson,	Wolfenden,
Ealy,	Homsher,	Scarlett,	Woodward,
Edmonds,	James,

NAYS—23.

Cavalcante,	Gilson,	Lanius,	Rice,
Coleman,	Haluska,	Levin,	Ruth,
Dent,	Jacobs,	McCreesh,	Shapiro,
DiSilvestro,	Jaspan,	McGinnis,	Sipe,
Eroe,	Kilgallen,	Mundy,	Stiefel,
Frey,	Kunkel,	Reed,

So the question was determined in the negative.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion to adopt the rules?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. OWLETT and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—23

Cavalcante,	Gilson,	Lanius,	Rice,
Coleman,	Haluska,	Levin,	Ruth,
Dent,	Jacobs,	McCreesh,	Shapiro,
DiSilvestro,	Jaspan,	McGinnis,	Sipe,
Eroe,	Kilgallen,	Mundy,	Stiefel,
Frey,	Kunkel,	Reed,

NAYS—22

Bartlett,	Farrell,	Mallery,	Stevenson,
Chapman,	Gelder,	Miller,	Tallman,
Crowe,	Geltz,	Owlett,	Walker,
Deitrich,	Heyburn,	Pierson,	Wolfenden,
Ealy,	Homsher,	Scarlett,	Woodward,
Edmonds,	James,

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, not having heard the names of Messrs. Letzler, Snowden and Thomas called and they having been duly elected and their election returns certified to this body and their election certificates issued to them by the Secretary of the Commonwealth and they having been sworn, I therefore ask their names be called and their votes be recorded on this motion.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair records the same answer as before.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO SEATING OF JOHN G. SNOWDEN, A. H. LETZLER AND J. FRED THOMAS AS MEMBERS OF THE SENATE

Mr. OWLETT offered the following resolution which was twice read:

In the Senate of Pennsylvania, January 3, 1939.

Whereas, the returns of the election of John G. Snowden of the Twenty-fourth Senatorial District and A. R. Letzler of the Thirty-fourth Senatorial District and J. Fred Thomas of the Fiftieth Senatorial District have been duly presented to the Senate of Pennsylvania by the Secretary of the Commonwealth and have been opened and counted; and

Whereas, said returns show that said three named Senators were duly elected in their respective districts; and

Whereas, certificates of election have been issued to said three persons by the Secretary of the Commonwealth; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate of Pennsylvania that the said Senators be seated in due form forthwith and be declared members of this body.

A motion was made by Mr. OWLETT and Mr. GELDER, That Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee be dispensed with and the Senate proceed to the consideration of the foregoing resolution.

Which was agreed to

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator will state his point of order.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the Senate today adopted three resolutions on the same subject matter. It is out of order first because it has already been passed upon by the Senate and this is in effect a reconsidering motion.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair would say that the resolution is equivalent to a motion to reconsider. The resolutions passed this afternoon asked that these three men stand aside and referred their cases to a committee when appointed and this resolution will not be considered.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I second the resolution.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, a resolution does not require a second.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, as I understand the procedure this afternoon, three separate resolutions were introduced in this body raising questions which were in the nature of a contest on these seats. It merely set up a contest. When those resolutions were adopted, a resolution was made to seat these three men and this is not a reconsideration of any matter. I offered an amendment to their motion which included the swearing in of these three men and all others and that was voted down. These three men were ordered to stand aside and this is not a motion to reconsider. It is a motion that these three men be sworn in. This is the exact procedure under which Mr. Levin was sworn in. You permitted Mr. Levin to be sworn in and the three resolutions set up a contest over these three men. I am asking the Senate to take the same action for these three men as they did for Mr. Levin this afternoon.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I would like to inquire if the Senator saw the resolution which was presented this afternoon. The resolution presented this afternoon by the Senator reads that the question of the seating of Messrs. Letzler, Snowden and Thomas be referred to a standing committee. Is this not the same as the one presented this afternoon?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, there is no standing committee. If you consider this resolution in its worst light it is nothing but a contested election started in the Senate this afternoon on these three men. Mr. Levin was seated this afternoon and these three men denied seats, one of them because it was alleged he was Mayor of Sharon, another because of certain charges made against him in a swan song by Jack Thompson during the last Special Session and another because of payment of costs in a court action.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the question raised by this resolution having been referred to in a former resolution disposed of this afternoon, I therefore say that this resolution is out of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair is of the opinion that the point of order is well taken.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I now appeal from the ruling of the Chair and present an appeal signed by Messrs. Mallery, Edmonds, Ealy and myself, the appeal being in proper form, having been signed by four Senators after it had been written.

The PRESIDENT. The appeal is in order.

The PRESIDENT. In the disposition of the appeal from the decision of the Chair now pending before the Senate, in line with custom, tradition and rulings, the presiding officer who made the decision will turn the gavel over to the President Pro Tempore of the Senate.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE (Frederick T. Golder) in the Chair.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, in connection with the appeal from the decision of the decision of the Chair I desire to file the appeal in writing.

The appeal was read as follows:

January 3, 1939.

To the President of the Senate:

We the undersigned hereby appeal from your decision wherein you ruled as follows:

The motion to seat 3 Senators is out of order.

CHARLES R. MALLERY,
FRANKLIN S. EDMONDS,
CHARLES H. EALY,
G. MASON OWLETT.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE. The question is, shall the ruling of the Chair on the motion of Senator Owlett be sustained.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE. The Senator will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, do I understand that a vote "aye" sustains the appeal and a vote "no" sustains the Chair?

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE. A vote "aye" will sustain the appeal and a vote "no" will sustain the Lieutenant Governor.

The roll was called and was as follows:

AYE

Cavalcante,	Gilson,	Lanius,	Rice,
Coleman,	Haltuska,	Levin,	Ruth
Dent,	Jacobs,	McCreesh	Shapiro
DiSilvestro,	Jaspan,	McGinnis,	Sipe,
Eroc,	Kilgallen,	Mundy,	Stiefel,
Frey,	Kunkel,	Reed,

NAY

Bartlett,	Farrell,	Mallery,	Stevenson,
Chapman,	Gelder,	Miller,	Tallman,
Crowe,	Geltz,	Owlett,	Walker,
Detrick,	Heyburn,	Pierson,	Wolfenden,
Ealy,	Homsher,	Scarlett,	Woodward,
Edmonds,	James,

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, not having heard the names of Messrs. Letzler, Snowden and Thomas called and they having been duly elected, their election returns certified to this body, their election certificates issued to them by the Secretary of the Commonwealth and they having been sworn, I therefore ask that their names be called and their votes recorded on this motion.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, there is nothing before this Senate except the calling of the roll and the roll has been called.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, these men are members of this Senate.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, certainly these three men could not vote on whether they should be seated or not: they cannot vote on their own seating.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, this is a vote on an appeal from the ruling of the Chair in which the Chair held that my motion was out of order. I ask that their names be called.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the argument is no more logical than his previous motion was necessary; it is a ridiculous proposition. These men cannot vote on it because they are not seated and have not been sworn.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, it seems peculiar and ridiculous that today when Mr. Levin was seated, the argument was made that he was a Senator since December 1st. These three Senators were, as was contended in the case of Mr. Levin, duly elected as of December 1st. They were duly elected and do have a right to vote.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, may I call attention to the fact that the President Pro Tempore was one of the Senators sworn in by Judge Millar at the same time these three men were sworn.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE. The Chair is of the opinion that these three men would not be entitled to vote on the question directly effecting whether or not we should seat them as members, but the Chair is of the opinion that their names should be called on this question and so orders the clerk to call the roll.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I do not appeal from the ruling of the Chair, assuming that you

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE. On the direct question, if the President had allowed the motion to prevail then I would have ruled they could not vote.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I would suggest that we abide by the ruling.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I do not wish to agree with the President Pro Tempore entirely on whether or not these men are entitled to vote on the main question. The matter of organization here is one question every Senator who has received his certificate of election should note. This same question came up in a way before this very body. The question was raised that a Senator should not vote on a question effecting his vote in the Senate under the Constitution of 1838. The President ruled that he had a right to it and the Senate ruled otherwise. These men have not had any contest as to their election. They have been regularly elected and certified here, and I think that they ought to have a right to vote on all questions that go on in this Senate.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE. The Clerk will call the roll of the three Senators.

The roll was called as directed and was as follows:

YEA

Letzler, Snowden, Thomas,

The President Pro Tempore announced the vote as follows:

YEAS—25

NAYS—23

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I call for the question on the motion.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, for the information of the Senate, may the resolution be read?

Mr. PRESIDENT. The resolution will be read.

The Resolution was accordingly read.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I ask that the names of Messrs. Letzler, Snowden and Thomas be called.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I object to unanimous consent of the resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair is of the opinion that automatically the resolution was before the Senate for action.

The clerk will call the roll.

The yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

YEAS—22

Bartlett,	Farrell,	Mallery,	Stevenson,
Chapman,	Gelder,	Miller,	Tallman,
Crowe,	Geltz,	Owlett,	Walker,
Deitrick,	Heyburn,	Pierson,	Wolfenden,
Ealy,	Homisher,	Scarlett,	Woodward,
Edmonds.	James,

NAYS—23

Cavalcante,	Gilson,	Lanius,	Rice,
Coleman,	Haluska,	Levin,	Ruth,
Dent,	Jacobs,	McCreesh,	Shapiro,
DiSilvestro,	Jaspan,	McGinnis,	Sipe,
Eroe,	Kilgallen,	Mundy,	Stiefel,
Frey,	Kunkel,	Reed,

So the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I desire to raise the same question that the names of Messrs. Letzler, Snowden and Thomas were not called.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair records the same answer as before on this question.

The organization of the Senate has been completed.

The Chair understands that there is a committee here from the House.

The Chair recognizes the Sergeant-at-arms of the Senate.

NOTIFICATION FROM THE HOUSE

A Committee of the House of Representatives being introduced informed the Senate that the House has organized and is ready to proceed with the business of the Session.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair, on the part of the Senate, thanks the Committee of the House of Representatives.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Berks, Dr. Ruth, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President and members of the Senate, I am going to speak more particularly to the presiding officer, our Lieutenant-Governor.

During the four years of your administration you have rendered a service to the people of Pennsylvania that would take a great deal to match in any other man. During the little more than two years that I have had the privilege of being a member of this Body I admired your decisions, your fairness and conscientiousness with which you carried out your duties. You are soon to retire from public life and we want you to feel that the members of this Senate appreciate the service you have rendered to this Body and to the Citizens of Pennsylvania. Not all the duties were pleasant. You had close decisions to make but we believe and we believe the people of Pennsylvania will agree that you rendered those decisions from the heart using your best judgment. All that I can say at this late hour would only be to reiterate that thought, but as a token of appreciation more tangible than words which are soon forgotten, the members of this Senate take the opportunity at this time to present you with a token of esteem and respect from this Senate that will last longer than words.

Mr. President, I have the privilege and the honor to present to you this token of respect and esteem for your splendid work as our presiding officer and I believe that when you go back to your home to become a part of your home it will recall to you the many pleasant memories of this Body. I would also like to ask Mrs. Kennedy to please come forward.

Mrs. Kennedy, this is also an expression of esteem from the Senate to you. This is a joint presentation to the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Kennedy from the Senate.

The PRESIDENT. Speaking for myself and Mrs. Kennedy I want to thank the members of this Senate for this gift which exemplifies and typifies the respect the Senate holds for the presiding officer. It has been four years of trying service not only to the Senate but to the people of this Commonwealth and I have differed with members of the Senate with respect to rulings and other matters of policies, but I want you to know that those differences were not in any way taken in a personal sense but rather in the discharge of the duties and obligations of this office which I felt were proper and just under all of the circumstances. I believe that you will all agree with me that at least I have the respect and your confidence as a man and as an officer of this Senate. I look upon every member of this Senate as being my friend as I am their friend and I express the hope that the future will hold for every member of this Senate health, happiness and prosperity. I want to again thank the members of the Senate for the gift they have tendered myself and my wife this evening and it will be cherished always in fond remembrance of the many pleasant occasions in this Senate, and of the new friends made and of the old ones strengthened. Thank you.

INAUGURAL COMMITTEE

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced informed the Senate that the House had concurred in resolution from the Senate as follows:

In the Senate, January 3, 1939.

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur), That the President of the Senate be and is hereby authorized to appoint a committee of twelve Senators to act in conjunction with a committee of fifteen Members of the House of Representatives to be appointed by the Speaker of the House, to make necessary arrangements for the Inauguration of the Governor-elect, to await upon His Excellency, and to conduct him in a suitable manner to the Capitol for the purpose of having the oath of office administered to him; and

Resolved, That the inaugural ceremonies take place at 12 o'clock on the third Tuesday of January, the 17th instant, on the West side of the Capitol, should the weather prove favorable, otherwise, in the Hall of the House of Representatives, and be it further

Resolved, That said Committee be and is hereby authorized to expend a sum not exceeding five thousand dollars in the making and carrying out of said arrangements, the same to be provided for in the Appropriation Bills.

On behalf of the President Pro Tempore, the Chair announces the following Inaugural Committee: The Senator from Susquehanna, Mr. Gelder; the Senator from Warren, Mr. Chapman; the Senator from Northumberland, Mr. Deitrick; the Senator from Somerset, Mr. Ealy; the Senator from Delaware, Mr. Heyburn; the Senator from Blair, Mr. Mallery; the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett; the Senator from Lancaster, Mr. Pierson; the Senator from Chester, Mr. Scarlett; the Senator from Indiana, Mr. Wolfenden; the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward; and the Senator from Adams, Mr. Rice.

POSTAGE ON LEGISLATIVE JOURNAL

He also informed the Senate that the House has concurred in resolution from the Senate as follows:

In the Senate, January 3, 1939.

WHEREAS, The Post Office Department has decided that the Legislative Journal must be third class matter and has so instructed the Postmaster at Harrisburg, therefore be it

RESOLVED, (if the House of Representatives concur), That the Chief Clerks of the Senate and House of Representatives be directed to make arrangements for the necessary postage so that the Legislative Journal may be mailed according to the requirements of the Post Office Department, and that the payment of the postage for the Legislative Journal, also for the Bills, Calendars and Histories be provided for in the Appropriation Bill.

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

He also informed the Senate that the House has concurred in resolution from the Senate as follows:

In the Senate, January 3, 1939.

RESOLVED, (If the House of Representatives concur), That when the Senate adjourns this week it reconvene on Tuesday morning, January 17, 1939 at 10:30 A. M., and when the House adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday evening, January 16, 1939 at 8:00 P. M.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Tuesday, January 17, 1939, at 10:30 o'clock, A. M.

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I second the motion. The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 11:59 o'clock, P. M. until Tuesday, January 17, 1939, at 10:30 o'clock, A. M.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

TUESDAY, January 3, 1939.

(At 11:45 a. m. Mr. Norman Wood made the following announcement in the Hall of the House.)

In accordance with the provisions of the Constitution, the Members-elect of this 133rd regular session of the House of Representatives will meet this day at twelve o'clock noon, in the Hall of the House, for the purpose of organization.

The hour of twelve o'clock having arrived, Honorable THOMAS J. CALLAHAN, Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives, called the members-elect to order and announced, that

This being the day and the hour fixed by Article II, Clause 4 of the Constitution of Pennsylvania for the meeting of the General Assembly, the House of Representatives will now come to order.

PRAYER

Lieut.-Colonel JAMES A. HARVEY, Divisional Commander of the South Eastern Pennsylvania, Southern New Jersey and Delaware Division of the Salvation Army headquarters in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, offered the following prayer:

Gracious and Eternal God, our Heavenly Father, the Giver of every good and perfect gift, the One to whom we can look at all times and under all circumstances for grace and for guidance, we lift up our voices and our hearts unto Thee in gratitude and praise to Thee, O God, for Thou hast, in Thy loving kindness and tender mercy, blessed us with many material and spiritual blessings. We thank Thee, Almighty God, that Thou in Thy wisdom did guide the founders of this great nation in their deliberations, and by Thy Divine guidance, our government was established upon principles of righteousness and truth and justice, giving to all men liberty and the right to worship Thee, O God, according to the dictates of their own conscience. We thank Thee, gracious God, for this great country of ours and we thank Thee for the privilege of living in it. We thank Thee, Lord God Almighty, that we are a free people and as such we pray that Thou wilt grant to us wisdom from on high that we may show our gratitude to Thee by rendering unto Thee and unto our fellowmen that service which will make this nation a greater nation, this people a greater people. We thank Thee for this great state, beautiful for situation, rich in its natural resources, populated by a great people, and we thank Thee gracious God, that it in itself is the cradle of American liberty, and with all of these thanksgivings, Lord God Almighty, we implore Thy continued blessing upon us as a people, that we may be a tolerant people. We thank Thee, gracious God, that in this world, so full of unrest and war and depression, that we are a free people and we pray Thee, Lord God Almighty, that we may be able to maintain that liberty and that freedom, and that by the example of this great state and of this great nation we may prove to all the peoples of the world that to love Thee, O God, and to love our neighbor as ourselves, are the highest principles of living.

Bless this Assembly, those who have come here with the confidence of their neighbors and of their communities to enact laws and to direct the government of this state. In this great responsible position, we pray for them, each and all, that they shall unselfishly devote themselves to these high and noble principles of civic righteousness, giving God his rightful place as the Leader in all things. Bless, we pray Thee, the Chief Executive of our great nation. Be to him all that he needs and we believe that Thou wilt be to him all that he needs, with the great and grave responsibilities that are his. May he guide the nation aright. The Governor of our state, we pray Thee, Almighty God, that Thou shalt bless him and give unto him wisdom, and to him, who shall soon take the reins of government as the Chief Executive, we pray Thee, Almighty God that he may come with confidence and with trust in Thee, and discharge his duties fearlessly, seeking the highest benefits to all.

As we ask these things, we are mindful of Him who taught us in His teachings, and He has given to all the world the highest principles of social justice, when He said, "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you." And may we thus be guided and directed we pray in His name and for His sake, Amen.

MEMBERS ABSENT

McLane, Skale.

The CHIEF CLERK. Two hundred and six members-elect having answered to their names a quorum is present. The House is now ready to proceed to business.

RESOLUTION

OATH OF OFFICE ADMINISTERED TO MEMBERS-ELECT

Mr. HABBYSKAW, a member-elect, offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and adopted:

In the House of Representatives, January 3, 1939.

Resolved, That the Honorable Frank B. Wickersham, a Judge learned in the law of the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County, be requested to administer the oath of office required by Article VII of the Constitution to be taken by the Members-elect of the House of Representatives.

COMMITTEE APPOINTED TO ESCORT HON. FRANK B. WICKERSHAM TO ROSTRUM

The CHIEF CLERK appointed Messrs. Habbyshaw and David P. Reese to escort the Hon. Frank B. Wickersham to the rostrum to administer the oath of office to the members-elect.

OATH OF OFFICE ADMINISTERED TO MEMBERS-ELECT

The CHIEF CLERK. A Bible will be found in the desk of each member. The members-elect will present themselves before the bar of the House where the oath of office, as required by law, will be administered to them by the Honorable Frank B. Wickersham.

The oath of office was then administered to all the members-elect, except Messrs. McLane and Skale.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Mr. BOHN asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. McLane for the week on account of illness.

RESOLUTION

ELECTION OF SPEAKER

Mr. CURRAN offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and adopted.

In the House of Representatives, January 3, 1939.

Resolved, That in accordance with the provisions of Article II, Section 9, of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, the House do now proceed to the election of a Speaker, and that the clerks act as tellers.

NOMINATIONS FOR SPEAKER

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Chief Clerk and members of the House. This body has had among its members many illustrious men; men of vision, who over a century ago sponsored the public school system; men of honesty and integrity, who wrote the criminal codes of law; men of sympathy and understanding, who felt and provided for the needs of the people of this Commonwealth; men of intellect and judgment whose sound economic principles built a great industrial Commonwealth.

Today we are about to organize a new House and we stand on the threshold of a new session. Yearly the demands made upon government become more numerous and its problems more complicated. It is therefore, important for us to choose as the presiding officer of this House of Representatives a man of the type to whom I have just referred.

I propose to nominate such a man; a gentleman who has been a member of this House since 1925, and whose unselfish service to this Commonwealth entitles him to any honor this body can give him; a scholar with as thorough and complete a knowledge of this state government as any one in the Commonwealth; a man of untiring effort; a student of parliamentary procedure; a believer in representative government, jealous of the rights of the legislative branch; a man of integrity and honesty; one who will preside over this body with justice and with equity, responsive to the duties of the majority and the rights of the minority.

Mr. Chief Clerk, it is of the greatest of pleasure that I nominate for the office of speaker of this House of Representatives, my friend the gentleman from Delaware County, the Hon. Ellwood Jackson Turner.

Mr. KANE. Mr. Chief Clerk and members of the House, in the days of defeat the Republican party sent here a handful of members from opposite corners of the State, a little band from the Northwest and a still smaller but more veteran band from the Southeast. As one of the representatives of the Northwest Republicans, it gives me great pleasure to be present here today to witness the proper recognition of the services of a great representative of the Southeastern Loyalist group in this House.

In these days when the world is over-run by persons and scarce of men, when power is in the hands of the intolerant and barbarous who lead them, when we are over-run with students but scholarship is rare, it is a pleasure to find a born leader, who is a gentleman and a scholar, and I know that the Democratic members will feel that his graciousness in defeat will be the best warrant that he will be magnanimous in power.

It gives me great pleasure as the Representative of McKean County to second the nomination of Hon. Ellwood J. Turner for Speaker of the House of Representatives.

Mr. JAMES. Mr. Chief Clerk and members of the House, I do not presume to believe that anything I might say will enhance the splendid expression of esteem and approbation which has been so splendidly given by the gentleman who put the name of Mr. Turner in nomination and by the gentleman who seconded that nomination. These gentlemen have spoken to us as veterans of the House; they have spoken of a veteran; they have told us their knowledge of Mr. Turner by reason of their intimate association with him and their comradeship with him in the work of the Legislature of Pennsylvania and in the service of the Commonwealth and its people.

I should like to speak as a new recruit in this service, which Mr. Turner has so well adorned for so many years. I should like particularly to speak to those of the House who, like myself, are entering on these new duties for the first time. I can do this, I think, in reason because Ellwood Turner is my neighbor. He, like myself, is from Delaware County. We know him in our county for one particularly outstanding quality that should recommend him above all else for the speakership of this House. That quality is his fine sense of justice and his fine sense of right. Therefore, it gives me great personal pleasure to second the nomination of Ellwood J. Turner for the high distinction of Speaker of this House.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Chief Clerk and members of the House, I wish to offer for the consideration of the membership of this House the name of Roy E. Furman of Greene County for the office of Speaker. The older members of this body who have sat in the deliberations of this House since 1935 well know the manner in which Roy Furman has conducted the affairs and management of this House. I realize that at the present time Fate has written a different verdict, but I cannot allow this occasion to go by without calling to the attention of the members of the House and the people of the Commonwealth that the precedent established by Roy Furman as Speaker is one that will permeate the deliberations of this House in the years to come; in his fairness, in his judgment, in his lack of partisanship, he has established a precedent that all Speakers of the House should follow, and I hope that all Speakers of the House will follow in the future. I know that were we to uncloak ourselves of the partisanship that must undoubtedly enter into this situation, we would in one voice acclaim the splendid manner in which in which Roy Furman presided over our deliberations, and I know that with that partisanship entirely unfolded, that this House would be unanimous in the reelection of Mr. Furman as Speaker.

Mr. Chief Clerk, it gives me great pleasure to submit the name of Roy E. Furman of Greene County for Speaker of this House.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Chief Clerk and members of the House, in the selection of Speaker of this House, one cannot with years of experience help but realize those essential prerequisites that are required of a man who fills that position. The older members realize and recognize how essential and necessary it is that the man who fills that position should be fair and calm, because in the hours when debate is acrimonious, a calm head is needed in the Chair. In addition to that it is also necessary that the man who is elected to that office be non-partisan in his viewpoints. When he goes to the Chair, he goes as a partisan member, but when he assumes that position he then becomes Speaker of the House. He must then lay aside all feeling of partisanship.

The man whom I am seconding has in the past three years evidenced all the essential requirements of that position, and I deem it not only a pleasure but a great honor to second the nomination of Roy E. Furman of Greene County for Speaker.

Mr. MATTHEW H. WELSH. Mr. Chief Clerk and members of the House, coming as I do from the sister county of Greene, it is indeed a pleasure to second the nomination of that outstanding character Roy E. Furman. He is a man who has proven his ability and his courage and determination as well as his fairness to all concerned. I feel that it is an honor and we should all be proud to have him again reelected as Speaker of this House. I know of no finer character, and his record will go down in history surpassed by none.

The CHIEF CLERK. Are there any other nominations?

Mr. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, I move that the nominations for Speaker of the House be closed.

The motion was agreed to.

ROLL CALL

The CHIEF CLERK. The Clerk will call the roll. The members will name the candidate for whom they desire to vote.

The roll was called and the vote was as follows:

The CHIEF CLERK. The Tellers agree in their count and the vote cast is as follows:

Honorable Ellwood J. Turner received one hundred twenty-eight votes.

Honorable Roy E. Furman received seventy-five votes.

Honorable Ellwood J. Turner having received a majority of all the votes is declared elected Speaker of the House of Representatives for the session of 1939.

ELECTION OF SPEAKER MADE UNANIMOUS

Mr. FURMAN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I sincerely appreciate the honor that was conferred upon me today, as it was on two previous occasions by the members of this House in selecting me as Speaker.

As my worthy opponent well said on a similar occasion two years ago, the Speaker of the House of Representatives is not the speaker of any clique or political party; he is the Speaker for all of the members of the House. I wish to repeat that statement as my sentiment.

Therefore, I move you that the election of Ellwood J. Turner as Speaker of the House of Representatives be made unanimous.

The motion was agreed to.

COMMITTEE TO ESCORT SPEAKER TO ROSTRUM

The CHIEF CLERK. The Chair appoints Messrs. Woodside and Furman as a Committee to escort the Speaker to the rostrum.

OATH OF OFFICE ADMINISTERED TO SPEAKER

The CHIEF CLERK. Members of the House, I have the honor to present to you Hon. Ellwood J. Turner, Speaker-elect of this House. The oath of office will now be administered to the Speaker-elect by the Hon. Frank B. Wickersham.

The oath of office was then administered to Honorable Ellwood J. Turner, Speaker-elect of the House of Representatives by the Honorable Frank B. Wickersham, Judge of the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County.

The SPEAKER (Ellwood J. Turner) in the Chair.

ADDRESS OF THE SPEAKER.

The SPEAKER. Members of the House, fourteen years ago I took a seat in the second row to the left in this House. From that position it was almost impossible for me to be in any picture that was taken of the membership of the House, and I could not help but think this morning as the picture was taken, that on this particular day the only picture in fourteen years that will contain my likeness found me sitting in the back row among the Democrats.

Conscious and appreciative of the high honor you have just bestowed upon me, and realizing too the grave responsibility you have placed in my hands, I approach my task with humility.

More than two hundred and fifty years ago William

Penn. established in this State a government of liberty under law, the fundamentals of which rested in the Magna Charta and the English Bill of Rights.

These principles of government were restated in the Federal Constitution and in each of those adopted by this Commonwealth. Following the form of the Federal constitution, the several States divided the powers of government into three coordinate branches, each supreme in its own sphere of action, and designed to preserve the liberties of the people. By the labors and sacrifices of our forefathers and by the devotion of the people to the ideals thus set forth, this nation and this State and its people have prospered, and produced the best government ever established by the hand of man.

Today in the world torn by national hatreds and intolerance, a reversion to dictatorships has resulted in many lands, under which the rights of the individual, free enterprise and liberty under law are being sacrificed on the altar of the totalitarian State, either communist or fascist. Courts and legislatures have become the mere puppets of the dictator. By propaganda the advocates of these un-American doctrines are seeking to lead free peoples astray. They hold to the idea that such doctrines may best be spread in democracies at a time when distress exists by reason of economic maladjustments. We must be constantly on guard lest we fall victim to their false doctrines of power and hatred.

Pennsylvania is indeed fortunate that, at such a time, it has elected a Governor who, during his campaign and through the platform on which he stood, has pledged the people to maintain the ideals conceived by our forefathers, and has dedicated himself to the maintenance of constitutional Government, the protection of the Courts from Executive and Legislative invasion, and the preservation of the legislature from Executive domination.

No Session of the Legislature of Pennsylvania ever undertook a more difficult task than the one which now confronts us. The financial condition of the Commonwealth is probably worse than ever in its history. It will be our first duty to find some method of financing that will save the credit of the Commonwealth and care for our unfortunate without adding to the burden of the people.

How this is to be done is our problem.—The vast weight of it we must realize as we undertake to keep and fulfill the pledges contained in the platform upon which the Republican Party has returned to power. This is no time for individuals to seek the political spotlight. Nor is this a time to pave the way for future political favors from the people. By working together, we must justify the faith reposed in us by the voters last November.

In this House sit many members who have given years of valuable public service for small consideration. They could as well, and perhaps more acceptably, administer the office to which you have elected me. This thought alone makes me deeply sensible of the honor which you have conferred upon me. To but few members elected to Legislative bodies, comes the privilege of being chosen to preside over the deliberations of their fellow legislators. No Speaker alone can make a legislative session a success. It is only to the extent that the members and the Speaker work harmoniously and intelligently, and that the Legislature and the Executive co-operate in a true partnership, that the welfare of the people and the cause of good government may be advanced. To that achievement I ask your support and I dedicate my services.

It is our duty to promote the general happiness of the people without partiality or prejudice against any class, sect or creed.

We must reassert the verities of liberty and justice to this generation, and reaffirm and preserve government of law rather than force. There can be no choice, there can be no compromise between liberty and justice on the one hand and tyranny and oppression on the other. The greatest privilege ever accorded to any people is to live under the protection of the American Constitution.

In the words of William Penn:

"Let men be good and the government cannot be bad, for if it be ill they will cure it; but if men be bad and government be good they will warp and spoil it in their turn."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a parliamentary inquiry, which is also a question of privilege.

The SPEAKER. The Chair might say to the gentleman that the program of procedure is well established and laid down. The Chair would like to grant the floor to the gentleman and to recognize him but would like to carry through the program if possible.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, might I say to the Speaker, since I arise to a question of privilege, that a question of privilege takes precedence.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Cambria will state his question of privilege.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, as to my question of privilege which is also a parliamentary inquiry, in view of the fact that this House is proceeding without rules, not having adopted rules, are we not now operating in the status of a Committee of the Whole?

The SPEAKER. The Chair would inform the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, that we are not in the status of a Committee of the Whole because the members are organizing the House, having been elected and having been duly sworn in. They have selected their Speaker and they are now proceeding with the selection of their other officers.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a further question of privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Cambria will state his question of privilege.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, do we have any rules governing debate?

The SPEAKER. The Chair would inform the gentleman from Cambria that we have no written rules covering debate except those rules which by usage and custom have prevailed in this House.

Mr. ANDREWS. Thank you, Mr. Speaker, for ruling that the rules which have received the sanction of custom shall prevail in this House.

NOMINATIONS FOR CHIEF CLERK

Mr. WINNER offered a resolution which was twice read, as follows:

In the House of Representatives, January 3, 1939.

Resolved, That William Ward, Jr., of Delaware County, be elected Chief Clerk of this House of Representatives.

Mr. BOHN. Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, it gives me great pleasure to place in nomination the name of Thomas J. Callahan, of Luzerne County for the office of Chief Clerk of the House.

Mr. HABBYSHAW. Mr. Speaker, I move the nominations be now closed.

The motion was agreed to.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia will state his parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, may I inquire whether the gentleman who has been nominated by the Republican membership, Mr. Ward, is the Mayor of the City of Chester?

The SPEAKER. The information the Chair has is that Mr. Ward was the Mayor of the City of Chester. The Chair has no official knowledge other than that.

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, may I further inquire whether he has resigned as the Mayor of the City of Chester?

The SPEAKER. The Chair would advise the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Ominsky, that according to the information which the Chair has, the resignation of William Ward, Jr., as Mayor of the City of Chester was delivered to the Clerk of the Council of the City of Chester and accepted this morning.

Mr. OMINSKY. I thank you very much, Mr. Speaker.

ROLL CALL

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will call the roll. Each member will name the candidate for whom he votes.

The SPEAKER. Mr. William Ward, Jr., having received a majority of all the votes cast is declared elected Chief Clerk of this House.

OATH OF OFFICE ADMINISTERED TO CHIEF CLERK

The oath of office was then administered to William Ward Jr., Chief Clerk-elect of the House of Representatives by the Honorable Frank B. Wickersham, Judge of the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County.

THANKING RETIRING CHIEF CLERK

The SPEAKER. The Chair at this time desires to thank the retiring Chief Clerk, Thomas J. Callahan of Luzerne County, for his cooperation during the days we have spent in preparation for the organization of the House. He has been at all times willing to give us the utmost cooperation and his office has handled all the details with efficiency. The Chair wishes to sincerely thank him.

THANKING JUDGE FRANK B. WICKERSHAM FOR ADMINISTERING OATH

Mr. BRUNNER offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and adopted:

In the House of Representatives, January 3, 1939.

Resolved, That the Members of the House of Representatives do hereby extend their thanks to the Honorable Frank B. Wickersham, of Dauphin County, for his services in administering the oath of office to its members and officers.

AMENDMENTS TO STANDING RULES OF HOUSE

Mr. WOODSIDE offered the following resolution.

The SPEAKER. For the information of the members of the House this resolution pertains to rules. The Chair will ask the Clerk to read the resolution in its entirety and we will then take up each rule separately.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, January 3, 1939.

Resolved, That the rules of the last House of Representatives be the rules of this House, with the following amendments:

13. The House shall convene on Mondays at eight o'clock P. M. and on every other legislative day at the hour to which the House shall have adjourned by its action taken the previous legislative day. Eastern standard time shall govern the sessions of the House.

18. All bills shall be presented in triplicate, and signed by the members introducing the same, and date of filing entered thereon. The original copy is for the use of the committee, the second copy is for the use of the printer and the third copy is for the use of the members of the press. No House bill shall have more than two sponsors.

19. All bills and non-privileged resolutions (excepting resolutions of condolence and congratulations) when introduced, shall be printed for the use of the members and shall be numbered consecutively.

27. A committee composed of the Speaker; seven Members of the House selected by the majority party and three Members selected by the minority party, shall constitute a "Committee on Committee" whose duty it shall be to recommend to the House the names of the members of the following standing committees the chairmen and vice-chairmen of which shall be named by the Speaker.

[The Committee on Apportionment shall be appointed once at such times when apportionments are required to be made.]

28. No member of the House shall be elected to more than three standing committees having a membership of thirty, chairman and vice-chairman excepted.

40. That when a bill or resolution has been ten calendar days in the hands of a committee after having been referred to it, any committee may be discharged from further consideration of the bill or resolution by a vote of [eighty-five members] a majority of the members elected to the House.

Rule 44, which reads as follows:

"Rule 44. When bills on second reading are in order, the Speaker shall take up the calendar, and having announced each bill in its order, it shall be considered in the Committee of the Whole House; when the bill is reported back to the House the question shall be put, 'Will the House agree to the report of the Committee of the Whole?' and if agreed to, any amendment made by the Committee of the Whole shall become a part of the bill. The House shall then immediately proceed to the second reading of the bill: Provided, That when a bill has been read at length in Committee of the Whole House, it shall be considered on the readings required by the Constitution, and the bill shall not be again read at length on second reading, but the question shall be 'Will the House agree to the bill?' which shall be subject to amendment in any part. No House Bill shall be considered in Committee of the Whole House unless called up by a member from the second reading calendar, and if not called up for two successive weeks it shall be dropped from the calendar."

dar unless otherwise ordered by the House. Bills on second reading shall be placed upon the calendar in the order in which they were agreed to on first reading," is hereby amended to read:

Rule 44. When bills are on second reading, they shall be considered by sections or articles and be subject to amendment in any part. The title of the bill shall be read last.

No House Bill shall be considered unless called up from the second reading calendar by a Member. If not called up for fourteen calendar days it shall be dropped from the calendar unless otherwise ordered by the House.

Bills on second reading shall be placed upon the calendar in the order in which they were agreed to on first reading.

71. Every member shall be present within the Hall of the House during its sittings, unless excused by the House, or necessarily prevented, and shall vote for or against each question put, unless he has a direct personal or pecuniary interest in the determination of such question, or unless he be excused by the House.

84. All resolutions originating in the House, (except those privileged), shall be introduced by Members filing four typewritten copies thereof with the Chief Clerk, signed and dated, to be numbered by the Chief Clerk and handed to the Speaker, who shall refer all such resolutions, including all Senate Concurrent Resolutions, (not privileged), to appropriate committees in the same manner as bills. No House resolution shall have more than two sponsors.

The following resolutions are privileged for the immediate consideration of the House:

- Recalling bills from the Governor.
- Returning bills to the Governor.
- Recalling bills from one House to the other.
- Those emanating from the Committee on Rules.
- Those discharging committees.
- Those placing negative bills on the calendar.
- Those relating to joint sessions of the Senate and House.
- Those relating to condolence or congratulations shall be privileged when they relate to Members and officers of this General Assembly and their respective families.
- Those relating to adjournment or recess.

When resolutions are reported from committees, those originating in the House shall be printed and placed in the files of the Members before consideration by the House, after which they may be called up under the regular order of business for resolutions.

The SPEAKER. The resolution having been read at length the Chair will lay before the House each rule separately.

The Clerk read Rule No. 13.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the Rule?

It was adopted.

The Clerk read Rule 18.

On the question.

Will the House adopt the Rule?

It was adopted.

The Clerk read Rule 19.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the Rule?

It was adopted.

The SPEAKER. In order to conserve the time of the House, and unless there is some reason for reading all of the committees the list of committees will not be read. Is there objection? The Chair hears none and the list of committees will not be read.

The Clerk read Rule 27, exclusive of the list of Committees.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the Rule?

It was adopted.

The Clerk read Rule 28.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the Rule?

It was adopted.

The Clerk read Rule 40.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the Rule?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I wish to oppose the amendment of this rule. Possibly for the newer members of the House it would be advantageous to explain the abuse that existed under the rule which is now presented to this House for amendment, and the remedy that was brought about in 1935.

After all, we are a legislative body. Due to size of the group it is only natural that a great majority of the important functions of this House must be conducted in Committee meetings. To allow each of the two hundred and eight members of the House to inject particular ideas into a bill during the deliberation of a measure would result in confusion. So the wise founders, in the development of the rules for this House, assigned the various functions of this House to certain committees. We just enacted a new rule, reestablishing certain committees and establishing new committees. For years, one of the crying needs of this Commonwealth has been the fact that the bills in the secrecy of the Committee could not have the opportunity of being produced on the floor of the House, if perchance a majority of the Committee did not see fit to report the bill out to the House, unless the Committee were discharged, and in order to discharge the Committee, the previous rule before the Session of 1935 required a majority vote of 105. Those who were not members, we will say, of the 1933 Session, possibly would not remember the situation that arose in that Session, when the majority of the Committee were in favor of reporting a bill that was referred to one of the Committees, and where the majority of that Committee being in favor of reporting that bill out to the floor of the House, had even the will of that Committee surmounted, when the then Speaker of the House appointed additional members to that Committee, so that the majority was converted into a minority. At that particular time a motion was presented to the House to discharge the Committee, and the whole House discharged the Committee from further consideration of that bill. As a result we had enacted in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania Old Age Assistance, a constitutional old age assistance. After all, we are here only to represent our constituents. To demand before a bill can be placed on the floor of this House for discussion among the members that you are going to acquire a full majority of the votes of the members of this House is converting the open deliberation of this House into the secrecy of a back-door committee room. To demand that you require a constitutional majority before legislation can be put on this floor, before the members can get up and fulfill their responsibilities to their constituents, is converting this body from a deliberative group to a secretive group.

We had no fear in 1935 that legislation should be open to deliberation; we had no fear in 1937 that the people of the Commonwealth, our bosses, should know how we were performing our duty. We had no fear if a bill was behind the secret doors of a committee room that that bill could be reported to the floor of the House when eighty-five members of the House indicated their desire to have it returned to the floor, and, mark you men, at the time the rule was set at eighty-five the minority of this House was over ninety, and today, realizing as our Speaker has indicated, that democratic government must assert itself, that we in the legislature must assert our legislative prerogatives, we must maintain the tri-party system, into which our government has been divided, and realizing that today they come before this House with a resolution to say that before a bill can be referred from behind the doors of a Committee, it must require one hundred and five votes, a majority of the membership of this House, I say to you members, that this is too early in this session to indulge in any petty and political personalities, and I am trying to refrain from doing that. I am trying to appeal to the membership of this House, both the old and the new members of this House, that on this particular situation, if you wish to give to your constituents the things which you promised to them in your campaigns, the things upon which your successful election to this House depends, if you wish to be truthful to the trust that your constituents have imposed upon you, there is only one thing that you can do on this particular problem, and that is to say to your people whom you represent that their legislative problems are to be discussed on the floor of the House; their legislative problems are to be the open problems of the people of the Commonwealth, so that you may say to them, "I, as your Representative, want you to know how I stand on each and every legislative problem, with which we will be confronted." Not to do so is to transpose your election declamation into the secrecy of Committee rooms where your constituents cannot check up on how you have administered the trust they have imposed in you. Not to agree to the refusal of this rule, to agree to require one hundred and five rather than eighty-five, is to return, mark you, men, to the same tactics that resulted in the defeat of the new present majority. At the very inception of this Legislative session, I appeal to you men, belonging to the majority, who are sponsoring the change in the rule, I appeal to your sense of duty to your constituents, under no circumstances should this House of Representatives of the Session of 1939 go back to the previous days when legislation was considered in smoke filled hotel rooms and in the secrecy of a committee room. If you men who undoubtedly stood on your platform when you sought the votes of your constituents, if you men are willing to go back to those dark days, then you have nothing else to do but to vote with the sponsor of this resolution; but if you men have learned anything in four years, you will refuse to amend the rule whereby it requires one hundred and five before legislation can see the light of day in the House of Representatives.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, as usual the gentleman from York has very ably discussed his side of this question. However, I think a careful analysis of his argument will convince you that there is no necessity to keep the rule as it was prior to this proposed amendment. This amendment provides that a majority of the members elected to this House of Representatives, can discharge a committee when they see fit to do so. That does not prevent a vote on the measure which the majority of the members of this House want; that does not prevent this House from discharging a committee; that does not enable the committee to keep any legislation when it is the will of the majority members of the House to have that committee discharged, and the very argument which the gentleman from York used should convince us that there is no necessity to keep the number at eighty-five; because he referred to the session of 1933, when the rule was one hundred and five; when the majority of the members did want to discharge a committee and they did discharge the committee. There is a lot of work to be done in the Legislature. There are at times some twenty-five hundred bills introduced in a session, that go through the House of Representatives, and it is necessary to give them a thorough study in committee. When a majority of the members of this House desire to discharge a committee which is unjustly keeping a bill, they can do so under this rule. It is not a strange rule. It is not a rule peculiar to the State of Pennsylvania. It is a rule that is used by a great many of the states which have a large amount of legislation to pass, such as California, Illinois, Michigan, New York, Ohio and quite a number of others that require a majority of the members of the House. This amendment is to prevent a minority of the members of the House from cluttering up the calendar with a lot of legislation which they do not have enough votes to pass. If they do have enough votes to pass it, if the majority of the members of the House are in favor of the legislation, it can be put out on the floor of the House under the rule as we propose to amend it.

Therefore, I ask all the members of the House to vote for this amendment.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Woodside.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Woodside, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOODSIDE. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to inquire of the gentleman from Dauphin if he was not a member of the House in the 1935 and 1937 sessions?

Mr. WOODSIDE. I was, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I would further like to inquire of the gentleman from Dauphin if during the 1935 and 1937 sessions the calendar was cluttered up with bills which came out of committees as a result of the fact that the committees had been discharged by a minority of the members.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, as a result of the attitude of the Republican minority, it was not.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, were there any motions made to discharge a committee from consideration of any bill?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, there were very few. I do not recall of any in 1937, although I would not like to state that as a fact. It is only a conclusion; it is merely as I recall.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to inquire of the gentleman from Dauphin, and I desire to have him indicate to the members of the House one specific instance in which the rule that existed in this House since 1935 in any way embarrassed the conduct or the business of this House.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I think I have already answered that question. It was as the result of the attitude of the minority that very few motions were made to discharge a committee.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, due to the casualistic argument of the gentleman from Dauphin, possibly an impression has emanated to this House that the present minority would act any differently than the past minority. I say to the membership of this House that until the membership of this House finds any abuse forthcoming from the present minority, that the rule should maintain as it is. To do otherwise is to prejudice, and to do otherwise is to take out of the hands of the present minority,—although you require by the Rule eighty-five,—the present minority is but seventy-nine members, and we would have to go over to the majority and secure six of those members before we could become embarrassing in the conduct of the deliberations of this House.

I say to the membership of this House that the gentleman from Dauphin has not presented one substantial argument why this present rule should be enacted, and why the rule as maintained since 1935 should not continue. I say to the membership of this House that it is only an indication that the campaign promises of the majority in this House need continuous search to determine whether or not they have represented to their constituents a desire to stifle legislation. This rule has only one effect. It will keep in committee in the secret deliberations of the committee room legislation that their constituents want. To enact this rule is a step backward. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a roll call.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I have noted Legislatures organized for these many years. I have noted that irrespective of whether Legislatures are organized under Democratic or Republican auspices, that the leaders in every instance, at the beginning of the session, endeavored to create a partisan issue, evidently for the purpose of solidifying the majority against the minority, and in every instance, whether the Democrats or Republicans were in power, new members who have not had the experience to judge as to whether certain procedure is or is not desirable, are asked to vote "yes" or "no" upon a purely partisan basis.

Now, ladies and gentlemen, if this is a partisan issue, all that the minority can do is to plead to your sense of fairness, your sense of fairness, gentlemen. In this State the difference between the majority party and the minority party is about 300,000 votes, and you are asking the majority in effect to disfranchise on this floor that minority group that is within 300,000 of being a majority group. We are asked to consent to the preposterous doctrine that only measures favored by the majority are entitled to consideration, and to a hearing upon this floor.

Mr. Speaker, have these minorities no rights? Is it incompatible—(laughter)

You may laugh, gentlemen, but I have seen new members before now come into this Assembly and vote for rules which hamstring them quite as much as they hamstring the minority.

I am entitled to speak on this proposition because when the Democratic party was in power I favored sixty-five and not eighty-five as the number of members necessary to discharge a committee. I have been a member of this House when I have seen committees unable to meet because the chairman of that committee held the bill in his pocket. You create a partisan issue upon matters which are not partisan. If you can get the minority wanting a bill out and you label that Democratic, then every member of the majority group, whether he favors the measure or not, is compelled by so-called party loyalty to vote against his convictions and keep the measure in committee.

My friends on this side of the House know better than anybody else the penalty that parties pay because members do not jump through hoops in obedience to a leadership frequently mistaken. It may be, gentlemen, that your leadership upon occasion will be no wiser than the leadership of the minority group, which was once the majority group. So, I am asking you, the new members, to afford yourselves the right to bring measures out upon this floor on something other than a purely partisan basis. Whether you will do it or not, I don't know. It is your responsibility. You can do everything you like. Given a majority of twenty votes you can outrage every right of the minority. I noticed that you laughed when I talked about minorities, but I will tell you gentlemen, that you were conscious of your acts and of your responsibilities when you were the minority, and I am pleading, not for these gentlemen, but I am pleading for the new members who are asked to sanction a rule, the operation of which they know little or nothing about, and which they are following today purely because of party compulsion.

MOTION TO TABLE RULE

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, in order that we can permit the new members to thoroughly understand and study the problem now before the House, I move that the rule be placed upon the table.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Messrs. HERBERT B. COHEN, OMINSKY and ACHTERMAN.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia will state his parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, do I understand that all the rules, Rules 13, 18, 19, 27, 28, 40, 44, 71 and 84 have already been adopted?

The SPEAKER. They will not have been adopted until the entire resolution has been adopted.

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, it was my impression that all the rules except those already mentioned had been adopted in the original resolution. Am I wrong in that?

The SPEAKER. No rules have been adopted except those that have been read and acted upon.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the Rule?

The yeas and nays were required by Messrs. ACHTERMAN, REUBEN COHEN and OMINSKY, and were as follows:

So the question was determined in the affirmative and the rule was adopted.

The Clerk read Rule 44.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the Rule?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Woodside.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Dauphin permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOODSIDE. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Dauphin explain to the members of the House what defect he finds in the present Rule 44 and what will be corrected by the enactment of Rule 44 as amended by this resolution?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, the practice is now when the second reading calendar is reached for the Chair to say, "Will the House agree to dispense with the Committee of the Whole on all second reading bills?" As a general rule this is done, and you can proceed to consider the bills as a house rather than as a Committee of the Whole. If there are any amendments to be made to the bill, the amendments can be introduced and voted upon at that time. If you do not have unanimous consent of the House to dispense with going into Committee of the Whole, it is necessary to go into Committee of the Whole, when the Speaker must leave the rostrum and call another member to the Chair to preside over the Committee of the Whole, and where it will be impossible for the House to adjourn and follow certain other rules, such as making a motion for the previous question. This would enable one or two or several members of the House to block the entire procedure if they were well acquainted with the rules, and there are many able gentlemen in this House who are well acquainted with the rules and could prevent the operation of this House for a considerable length of time. For that reason I feel that the amendment should be adopted and I ask the members to vote "aye."

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, this resolution proposes probably the most important parliamentary issue that this Session of the Legislature will be called upon to decide. The right of a parliamentary body to proceed in a Committee of the Whole is as fundamental in parliamentary law as is the right of trial by jury in the criminal law. The National House of Representatives proceeds always in Committee of the Whole. Now, the gentleman from Dauphin, the majority leader, has placed his hand upon a defect in the rule. It is incompatible with sound procedure that two members of the House on their own motion and against the will of the House should be able to compel this House to consider measures in Committee of the Whole, but you wipe out again the right of a substantial minority to demand what is their parliamentary right, namely, their right to consider general amendments to a measure under circumstances that are not prescribed by the rules of the House, because many of the rules that confine debate when the House is in regular session do not prevail when the House operates in a Committee of the Whole. The purpose of a Committee of the Whole is to give freedom of expression and open the measure to general amendment and to give all of the membership a chance to be heard. Now, that right, that demand should not be based, I say, and I will agree with the gentleman from Dauphin, upon the say-so of two members. I will agree to sixty-five members, any reasonable number, and I call to the attention of the gentleman from Dauphin that there are certain things that this House can do by force of numbers, but there is some power left in the minority that is guaranteed by the Constitution. There are certain procedures that the gentleman from Dauphin well knows, and if he is determined to wrest from us all of our rights, then he can make up his mind that he is not going to proceed in this House upon any measure with unanimous consent and that the rules, regulations and stipulations of the Constitution requiring consideration of bills in this House will be strictly insisted upon.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to further interrogate the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Woodside.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Dauphin permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOODSIDE. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to inquire of the gentleman whether Rule 44 relative to the Committee on the Whole has ever been in any way subject to misuse by either the Democratic minority in 1933 or the Republican minority in 1935 or 1937?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I do not recall any instance in which it was.

MOTION TO TABLE RULE

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. That is all, Mr. Speaker.

The force and effect of the amendments to Rules 40 and 44 undoubtedly is to inject into the proceedings of this House what is commonly termed as the "gag-rule." I have been very active on the floor of this House, for the past four years at least, during which time I have always afforded to the minority the rights and privileges that were due them. On the other hand when any issue could be simplified, when the point to be voted upon could be definitely determined and the surrounding and non-important issues could be dispensed with, it was always my privilege to converse with the leader of the then minority party to determine just what should be the subject of discussion during debate, the time and limitation of debate was definitely agreed upon, and I felt sure that the rights of the minority and the majority were adequately protected.

In this particular instance, the effect of the adoption of Rule 44 would be to change the entire procedure that has been in existence in this House from time immemorial. It would be contrary to the procedure in every parliamentary body in the United States, beginning with the Congress of the United States and going down to the smallest state in this union. The Committee of the Whole is an integral part of parliamentary procedure. The Committee of the Whole is a definite part of the rule established by long usage. It is as fundamentally important in parliamentary law, as the gentleman from Cambria has stated, as the right of trial by jury. It is an inherent part of a legislative body's functioning, namely, to discuss legislation in Committee of the Whole, not surrounded by limitations imposed by strict rules. Most of the deliberations of the Congress of the United States are conducted in Committee of the Whole. Opportunity to discuss legislation presents itself before a Committee of the Whole in a manner that is not presented in the discussion of a bill of first, or third reading when it comes up for final enactment, I have no complaint with the majority if they are fearful that the minority knows all the rules and has all the brains; I have no complaint with the majority if they are afraid that our parliamentary experience, the men sitting on this side of the House, may so embarrass the majority that they will have difficulty in enacting their legislation. I have no fear, as I indicated some time ago at the closing of the last session, that we in the minority are going to be an obstructionist minority, but when the majority forces us to assume an attitude, we in the minority will use our knowledge of parliamentary law, and the enactment of this Rule and Rule 40 will in no way deter the minority if we seek to embarrass the majority in the enactment of legislation, or if we seek to embarrass the majority in the normal conduct of this House.

As the gentleman who spoke before has indicated, there are rules that are far beyond the man-made rules of this House. There are rules that in the deliberations in this House we must adhere to, that affect the very constitutionality of our enactments. There are rules that are prescribed for the enactment of legislation that have been handed down by the founders of our Constitution. If the majority feels that a time honored custom, a legislative prerogative should be wiped away at this stage of the game, we have nothing to do but acquiesce. You have the votes, but I feel sure that more mature deliberation by the leaders of the majority will bring them to the conclusion that the proper attitude to assume towards this minority would be one of conciliation and cooperation rather than starting out at this session with the institution of gag-rule.

I move, Mr. Speaker, and I feel that the majority should concur, until further deliberation has been given to the force and effect of the abolition of the Committee of the Whole, that the amendment to Rule 44 be placed upon the table.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

So the question was determined in the negative and the motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the Rule?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, the argument which has been presented against this proposed amendment to the rules would be sound if it were not for the fact that Rule 23 which is not to be amended and which we propose to adopt, reads as follows:

"The House may resolve itself into a Committee of the Whole at any time on the motion of a member which shall be duly seconded and in forming a Committee of the Whole, the Speaker shall leave the chair and a chairman shall be appointed by him to preside over said committee."

Any time this House of Representatives desires to do so, it can go into a Committee of the Whole by a majority, not of the entire membership, but by a majority of the membership voting on the motion at that particular time. That is in accordance with the rules as followed by parliamentary procedure and is in accordance with the rules that exist in all of the states in this country. We still have the Committee of the Whole; we still have this sacred, ancient institution of common law; we still operate with the Committee of the Whole and the general policy and principle of legislation to operate in the Committee of the Whole.

STATEMENT BY THE SPEAKER

The SPEAKER. The Chair would like to say to the members of the House, especially the new members, that it realizes there are many times when we all miss roll calls, but it seems to the Chair that it causes a great deal of delay to be continually missing roll calls, and most of that is occasioned by the fact that we have confusion and noise on the floor. Let us endeavor to pay more attention during the calling of the roll so that we can speed up the proceedings.

So the question was determined in the affirmative and the Resolution was adopted.

The SPEAKER. The Chair requests the gentleman from Greene, Mr. Furman, to come to the rostrum and preside. Mr. FURMAN in the Chair.

RESOLUTION

NOTIFICATION TO THE SENATE.

Mr. STOCKHAM asked and obtained unanimous consent to offer the following resolution which was twice read, considered and adopted:

In the House of Representatives, January 3, 1939.

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed to wait upon the Senate and inform that body that the House of Representatives is organized and ready to proceed with the business of the Session.

APPOINTMENT OF COMMITTEE

The SPEAKER. The Chair appoints as a Committee to wait upon the Senate and inform that body that the House is organized and ready to proceed with business, Messrs. Stockham, Dick and O'Neill.

The Committee will proceed in the performance of its duty.

NOTIFICATION TO GOVERNOR

Mr. SOLLENBERGER offered a resolution which was twice read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, January 3, 1939.

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed by the Speaker to wait upon His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, and inform him that the House of Representatives is organized and ready to receive any communication he may be pleased to make.

COMMITTEE TO WAIT UPON GOVERNOR

The SPEAKER appointed as a committee to wait upon the Governor and inform him that the House is organized and ready to receive communications Messrs. Sollenberger, Wilkinson and Hess.

The SPEAKER, (Ellwood J. Turner), in the Chair.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman from Greene, Mr. Furman.

PARLIAMENTARIAN APPOINTED

The SPEAKER. In compliance with the Act of the General Assembly approved the 28th day of May, 1938, P. L. 201, the Chair appoints S. Edward Moore of Cumberland County, as Parliamentarian.

SPEAKER EXTENDS THANKS

The SPEAKER. The former Speaker of this House who served with the Parliamentarian feels that we ought to have a speech and the Chair concurs in that request.

Apparently Mr. Moore thinks it is more important to proceed with the business of the House. I want to say this, however, to the members of this House, that even with the years I have spent here, I did not realize the vast amount of detail back of the organization of this House which was carried on by our Parliamentarian. In order that we might have a proceeding here today that would move along he has mapped an outline of the details, and I feel that we owe him a debt of gratitude for the manner in which this Session has proceeded.

While I am on that same subject, I would like to call to the attention of the members of the House, the arrangements that were made for these opening exercises. I do not know whether you gentlemen approve of them or not. Perhaps there were many people who were disappointed by their inability to gain admission to this House, but in my opinion the fact that the members, guests and families were able to have seats and the proceedings were free from the confusion which permeated previous openings, as I have known them, it was well worthwhile.

The man who has been greatly responsible for the detailed management of these proceedings, insofar as the arrangement of the chairs and admission is concerned, with the assistance of the Sergeant-at-Arms and the State Police, is Mr. Clarence L. Connor of Pennsylvania Military College at Chester. The Chair desires to extend its thanks and also the thanks of the members to Mr. Connor for his untiring efforts in the last three days in helping to bring this about. If Mr. Connor is here I would like to have him come forward and take a bow.

I would like at this time also to thank the State Police, the Department of Property and Supplies, Secretary of the State, the Chief Clerk's office and other attaches and employees on the Hill for the splendid cooperation they have given us. Colonel Wilhelm and his men have been of our service and we deeply appreciate their help.

SECRETARY TO SPEAKER APPOINTED

The SPEAKER. In compliance with the Act of the General Assembly approved the 2nd day of July, 1938, P. L. 2765, the Chair appoints Dorothy R. Daller, Delaware County, Secretary to the Speaker.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

REASONS FOR PARDONS

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, January 3, 1939.
the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I have the honor to present herewith the reasons for pardons granted by me from July 25, 1938, to date.

GEORGE H. EARLE.

The SPEAKER. The communication will be noted in the Journal and the reasons for pardons will be printed in the appendix to the Legislative Journal.

RECESS

The SPEAKER. If there are no objections the Chair will now declare a recess until 5:00 o'clock.

The Chair hears none and declares a recess until 5:00 o'clock.

AFTER RECESS

The time of recess having expired the House was called to order.

The SPEAKER, (Ellwood J. Turner), in the Chair.

RECESS

The SPEAKER. If there are no objections the Chair will now declare a recess for ten minutes to await the return of the members.

The Chair hears none and declares a recess for ten minutes.

AFTER RECESS

The time of recess having expired the House was called to order.

The SPEAKER, (Ellwood J. Turner), in the Chair.

REPORT AND DISCHARGE OF COMMITTEE

Mr. SOLLENBERGER. Mr. Speaker, I wish to inform you that the Committee appointed to wait upon the Governor and inform him that this House is organized and ready to proceed with its work has performed that duty.

The SPEAKER. The Chair receives the report and the Committee is discharged with the thanks of the House.

STATEMENT BY MR. WOODSIDE

Mr. WOODSIDE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I would like to say very much to make some remarks concerning the message of the Governor. However, to discuss any conclusion of the Governor's message at this time might lead to a critical and partisan debate. This House has a problem in which it should deal immediately, and I do not desire to take up the time of the House with any partisan political matter.

An article in the Governor's message states that the money appropriated to the Public Assistance Department, which is the money being used for relief, will be exhausted on January 27th. According to the information which we have gotten from the Department of Public Assistance, the funds will be exhausted on January 23rd, and before that estimate was made, the relief rolls have increased as a result of the thousands of WPA workers who have been discharged weekly since the first week in November.

As a result of this, the balance in the Treasury at the present time, that is, the balance of the unexpended appropriation, is $7,282,000, which will last until sometime between January 23d and January 27th. I imagine that the difference in those two dates is the result of this situation: Relief checks are made out and sent out daily while the Old Age Assistance and the so-called Mothers' Assistance and the Aid to Dependent Children checks are sent out monthly, and by using all of the money available for direct relief, it may last until January 27th, although, actually, if you figure in the Old Age and Mothers' Assistance, it will be entirely exhausted by January 23d, and possibly a day or so earlier. That being the situation, it is necessary to give the matter immediate attention in this House, because I know that some of the members of this House desire that relief should not stop even for a day, and due to the failure of the past administration and legislature to appropriate sufficient money for relief for public assistance during the balance of the biennium, it is necessary to meet that deficiency by making an appropriation to the Department of Public Assistance.

Now, it is impossible to make an appropriation to the Department of Public Assistance and continue relief without securing funds for that purpose, because there has been appropriated all of the estimated revenue, with the exception of approximately $200,000.

In order to meet this situation it has been decided to introduce bills tonight making a transfer of $26,000,000 from the Motor License Fund; $4,000,000 from the Liquor License Fund; $3,000,000 from the Liquid Fuel Tax fund and $1,000,000 from the State Insurance Fund. These acts do not provide for the immediate transfer, but provide for the transfer at such times as it is necessary to have the money to make expenditures for the Department of Public Assistance. At the same time, we will introduce a bill which will provide $12,000,000 deficiency appropriation for Public Assistance. That will not be sufficient to carry out the relief program and furnish relief for the balance of the biennium, but it will be sufficient to carry us through to close to the last of February, and to enable the incoming administration to examine the situation, and as a result of their findings, lay out a program for providing funds for the Department of Public Assistance and make a deficiency appropriation for the balance of the biennium.

The transfer of this $26,000,000 from the Motor License Fund, according to the estimates received from the Department of Revenue, and estimates of expenditures from the Department of Highways and the other departments which use some of that fund, indicate that $26,000,000 can be transferred without in any way curtailing or interfering with the road building program or the work of the Department of Highways. There will be sufficient money in the Highway Fund or in the Motor License Fund up until June 1st to make this transfer without any curtailment of the work whatsoever.

Now, that $26,000,000, as well as the $1,000,000 from the Liquor License Fund, the $3,000,000 from the Liquid Fuel Tax Fund, and the $1,000,000 from the State Insurance Fund will all be paid back, according to the acts, before September 1, 1939. It is the hope and expectation that immediately after June 1st tax anticipation notes will be floated and the money will immediately be made available to the General Fund, and these moneys which are borrowed from these special funds will be immediately returned to them.

I propose to introduce a resolution providing for a select committee to consider this legislation, to be appointed by the Speaker. This, because the standing committees have not yet been appointed and because it is the desire of the House to consider these measures immediately. This Committee will meet tonight in a Committee room, not in the Hall of the House, and will sit down and thoroughly consider and discuss these various bills. If they see fit to report them out, and I hope they will, we will ask unanimous consent to have them read for the first time tonight. We will then ask the House to adjourn until 12:01 for the Wednesday session so that the bills can be read for the second time. That will enable this legislation to be passed finally during the week of the 16th and will assure the people of this Commonwealth that the deficiency in the Public Assistance appropriation will be met and that relief will continue.

RESOLUTION

SELECT COMMITTEE ON PUBLIC ASSISTANCE

Mr. WOODSIDE asked and obtained unanimous consent to offer the following resolution which was read for the information of the House.

In the House of Representatives, January 3, 1939.

Resolved, That the Speaker of this House be authorized to appoint a Select Committee, consisting of a Chairman, Vice Chairman, and thirty Members, to which shall be referred for consideration and report, bills introduced in advance of the time the standing committees are created in accordance with the rules of the House, which provide for the transfer of moneys from special funds and making appropriations for public assistance.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of the resolution.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of the resolution? Is there objection?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, reserving my right to object, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Dauphin.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from York state the purpose in asking to interrogate at this time?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I wish to determine from the gentleman from Dauphin facts that will guide the minority in the position they will take in objecting to the proposed creation of the Committee.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Woodside, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOODSIDE. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to inquire from the gentleman from Dauphin whether it is not a fact that the moneys appropriated to the Department of Public Assistance are sufficient to last until the 27th of January, 1939.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I attempted to explain that situation, as I understood it, in my original remarks. However, I will repeat. I understand that the balance now remaining in the Public Assistance appropriation is $7,650,000, and that at the present rate of expenditure that would last seven-tenths of a month, according to the department's own figures, which means that it will be exhausted on January 23d.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I understand that there is $1,500,000 which on February 1st will be due to the Old Age Assistance, Pensions for the Blind and Pensions for Needy Children and Dependent Mothers, is that correct?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I do not have the exact figures that will be due at that time, but I assume that is approximately the amount. As I understand it, if we use that money now for the payment of direct relief there probably will be enough funds to last until January 27th.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. And that money, Mr. Speaker, the $1,500,000 that is referred to by the gentleman from Dauphin, will be due only and owing by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to the recipients of that type of relief on the first of February, is that not correct?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, the checks are sent out on the last of the month as I understand it.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. That is correct. Then, at the present time there are sufficient funds to take care of the relief requirements until the 27th of January, or possibly the 28th of January of this year, is that not correct?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, figuring the expenditure or the use of the money which is set aside for Old Age Pension or the so-called Mothers' Assistance, the aid to dependent children, assuming that there are no more lay-offs by WPA, so that the increase will not be substantial, I think it will last until possibly the 27th or 28th.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to inquire of the gentlemen from Dauphin if the moneys will last, the funds that have been appropriated to the Department of Public Assistance, until January 27th. I desire to inquire of the gentleman from Dauphin why the particular haste in the consideration of these transfers at the present time.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, we do not want to take any chance, and I do not think the gentlemen on the other side want to take any chance of this relief appropriation becoming exhausted before we have time to act upon it, and for that reason, and for the further reason that we are not positive that the funds will be available after January 23d, we feel that action should be taken before that time, and that we should have the appropriation made a few days before.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I further desire to ask the gentleman from Dauphin if he is prepared to state to the membership of the House what method will be employed to reestablish the integrity of those funds from which he seeks to divert or transfer the moneys.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, the act itself provides that the transfer will be made on or before September 1, 1939.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, is the gentleman from Dauphin presently able to state from what source of taxes those funds will be secured, which will enable repayment to the funds that are now being depreciated by this transfer?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman from York means, do I now have available the proposed budget for the next biennium, the answer is "no."

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, do I understand from the gentleman from Dauphin that he is now attempting to effectuate the transfers, running into millions of dollars, without informing the House from what source those funds will be repaid to the special funds that are being used as the source of the transfer?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman mean by his interrogation the particular tax from which those funds will be repaid? As I understand the question of the gentleman from York, it involves the entire budget set-up for the next biennium, and of course, you could not be in a position to give any information, nor has anything been done to complete a budget set-up.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, do I understand from the gentleman from Dauphin that tax legislation will be passed to create a fund whereby the repayments can be made?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, these acts or these bills provide for the repayment to these special funds by September 1, 1939. That is the intention.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I am asking the gentleman from Dauphin, since he has indicated that the bills contain a clause for repayment, I am asking the question, out of what is he going to make that repayment?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, out of the General Fund.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from Dauphin know that there are now presently available funds to the extent of $3,000,000 that can be transferred and can be utilized for the continuation of relief?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I don't know what the gentleman from York is referring to, but I know that it is absolutely necessary to make a deficiency appropriation to continue relief after the twenty-third or twenty-seventh, somewhere in that neighborhood, of this month. Legislation must be passed to make that appropriation, and in some manner or other the funds must be found to make that appropriation.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I am asking the gentleman from Dauphin if he knows the source of the fund to the extent of $3,000,000 that is now presently available and may be utilized for relief.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman mean lapsed appropriation?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, yes.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I think there is no question about it, that there are some lapsed appropriations, but the gentleman must take into consideration the fact that a deficiency of a very substantial amount in this biennium for relief will exist, and that it is not merely a matter of obtaining money for the destitute people, but there will also be the problem of obtaining money to pay the deficiency for the balance of the biennium, and we can make good use of all of the money that may be lapsed. That matter will receive very careful consideration by the incoming administration when they have an opportunity to examine and go over the records carefully to find what can be lapsed.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, do I understand that the gentleman from Dauphin now wishes to commit this House to the policy of transferring without adequately studying the entire financial situation, so that this House will be in a position to decide which is the most expeditious manner in order to make up the assistance fund.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, if the present administration and the past Legislature had appropriated sufficient moneys to the Department of Public Assistance to pay relief until the end of the biennium, as it was their duty to do, then we would not be met with the present situation.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman from Dauphin, as one of the floor leaders of the minority during the past four years, just how many measures he voted for that would have raised those funds, if any?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, the record speaks for itself, and my constituents seems to be satisfied with it.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to call the attention of the House to the fact that—

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from York desire to make a statement or interrogate the gentleman from Dauphin?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I will put it in the form of an interrogation.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Dauphin permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. WOODSIDE. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I might inquire of the gentleman from Dauphin if in view of the returns submitted to this House as to the result of the election of November, 1938, whether or not, in the same breath he would not say that my constituents were apparently satisfied?

The SPEAKER. The Chair would like to say to the gentleman from York that we at all times appreciate the by-play, but I think we are really going a little further than we should at the moment. The gentleman from York will proceed. My reason for raising the question was that I was afraid the gentleman from York might begin to ask the Speaker some pertinent questions on the same subject.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, we have no objection to the resolution.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears no objection and consent is granted.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

SELECT COMMITTEE ON PUBLIC ASSISTANCE APPOINTED

The SPEAKER. Pursuant to the provisions of the resolution adopted by this House, Tuesday, January 3rd, providing for the appointment by the Speaker of a Select Committee on Public Assistance, the Chair appoints the following members: Mr. Woodside, Chairman; Mr. McKinney, Vice Chairman and Messrs. Bretherick, Cadwalader, Cordier, Denman, Donohoe, Eckels, Fleming, Gates, Haines, Hall, Hewitt, John N. Hoffman, Imbrie, Kane, Matthews, Seif, Shearer, Stockham, Terry, Watkins, Wilkinson, O'Dare, Hamilton, Ominsky, Kilroy, O'Keefe, Shaw, Achterman, Andrews, Furman and Herbert B. Cohen.

STATEMENT BY MR. HERBERT B. COHEN

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, my colleague, the gentleman from Monroe, Mr. Achterman, has a bill which he feels should also be referred to the Select Committee and I would ask that the Chair direct that the bill be referred to that Committee. The bill provides for the lapsing or the reduction of the $5,000,000 appropriation made by the 1937 Legislature, reducing the appropriation liability under that act to $2,000,000, thereby making available possibly $3,000,000 of funds which can be utilized to meet the relief situation without the necessity of transferring from any of the funds. I feel since there is this tremendous amount of money available, it will relieve the membership of the odious task of voting for transfers of these funds, and if they can be made available they should be made available. As a result of that, I hastily had this bill drawn, which Mr. Achterman is introducing, and I would ask the Chair that it be referred along with the other bills introduced by the gentleman from Dauphin, so that this bill might be presented before the Select Committee for its consideration, when it is considering the rest of the bills in the program.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman will be spread upon the Journal. The bill will be sent to the Clerk for filing.

RESOLUTION

DUTIES OF EMPLOYEES

Mr. WINNER offered a resolution which was twice read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, January 3, 1939.

Whereas, The laws of the Commonwealth provide for the election by the Members of the House of various employees, but fail to define the duties of such employees; and Whereas, The dispatch of the business of the House requires that these duties should be prescribed by the House in order to enable the Chief Clerk to make the proper assignments and supervise the work of the employees; therefore be it

Resolved, That the employees designated by this resolution by title of the position, shall be assigned by the Chief Clerk, and shall perform the duties directed by this resolution:

Sergeant-at-Arms. The Chief Sergeant-at-Arms shall have the immediate charge of the chief assistant and assistant sergeants-at-arms. It shall be the duty of the sergeants-at-arms to police the Hall of the House of Representatives and the approaches thereto, to maintain order and decorum during the sessions of the House, to pick bills and insert them in the files on the Members' desks, and to have charge of and operate the House bill file room where bills are delivered, picked and made available for general distribution. It shall be the duty of the Chief Clerk to divide the force of sergeant-at-arms in such manner so that a sufficient number shall at all times be assigned to police duty and a sufficient number to the House bill file room and the work in connection therewith, filing and distributing bills, resolutions, calendars, histories and journals.

Clerks to Committees. The clerks to committees shall be competent and experienced stenographers or stenotypists, each of whom shall be assigned, by the Chief Clerk, to serve particular committees. It shall be the duty of the clerks to committees to act as clerks to the committees to which they have been assigned, act as a secretary to the chairman and vice-chairman of said committees, when not otherwise engaged, assist stenographers of the House with correspondence of the Members of the committees to which they have been assigned, and perform such other duties as may be assigned by the chairman of the committees which they serve.

Custodians of Committee Rooms. It shall be the duty of the custodians of committee rooms to keep all committee rooms in good order for meetings of committees, act as messengers for committees while engaged in committee sessions and perform such other duties as may be assigned to them by the Chief Clerk.

Transcribing Clerks. The personnel of the transcribing room shall be in the immediate charge of the Chief Official Reporter of the House. At least two of the persons employed in the transcribing room shall be competent and experienced stenographers. It shall be the duty of the Journal Clerk, Assistant Journal Clerk, House Message Clerk and other personnel assigned to the transcribing room by the Chief Clerk, to keep the Journal of the House.

type titles to bills, assist in typing amendments to bills, prepare and deliver communications between the two Houses, assist in the preparation and indexing of the House History of legislation and the stenographic work in connection therewith, and perform such other duties as may be assigned by the Chief Clerk and the Chief Official Reporter.

History Clerk. It shall be the duty of the History Clerk to compile the weekly history of legislation of the House which shall contain such information as may be prescribed by the Chief Clerk, and to which shall be attached a complete index of all bills and resolutions introduced. The History shall be compiled by the History Clerk in the Legislative Reference Bureau in order that the records of said office and of the History shall be in accord and errors in transcribing be detected. In the compilation of the History, the History Clerk shall have the assistance of the personnel assigned by the Chief Clerk from the transcribing room.

Reading Clerks. It shall be the duty of the Reading Clerks to be present at each session of the House, read bills, resolutions, amendments, message, communication, and other matter, and make announcements from the desk of the House under the direction and control of the Speaker, arrange and keep a schedule of committee meetings so as to avoid conflicts of meetings in the same committee room, and perform such other duties as may be assigned by the Chief Clerk.

Desk Clerks. The desk clerks shall be learned in the law. It shall be the duty of the desk clerks to read all prints of bills and resolutions to detect errors in printing and substance, arrange for the correction of printing errors without the necessity for formal amendment, call to the attention of the sponsors of bills, errors of substance, and aid and assist in amending bills and preparing copy for the printer. The desk clerks shall be assigned by the Chief Clerk to work under the supervision of the Director of the Legislative Reference Bureau.

Assistant Clerk and Chief Stenographer to Chief Clerk. It shall be the duty of the assistant clerk and chief stenographer to the Chief Clerk to prepare the calendars of the House, prepare copy of bills for the printer, be responsible for the correct insertion of amendments to bills and such work to have the assistance of the desk clerks working under the supervision of the Director of the Legislative Reference Bureau, and to perform such other duties as may be assigned by the Chief Clerk.

Post Office Employees. It shall be the duty of the postmaster, assistant postmaster and messengers in the post-office to secure, receive and distribute the mail of the Members and officers of the House, and place the same in the letter boxes assigned to said persons. It shall be the duty of the Chief Clerk to assign at least two assistant messengers who shall attend the battery of telephone booths which shall be for the exclusive use of House Members and its officers.

Pasters and Folders. It shall be the duty of the pasters and folders to prepare for mailing, and to mail out bills, resolutions, calendars, histories and legislative journals under the direction of the Chief Clerk.

Superintendent of Store Room. The superintendent of the store room shall be a person having executive ability and in addition to his duties as Superintendent of the Store Room, shall, under the direction and control of the Chief Clerk, supervise the work of the sergeants-at-arms, the document room supervisor and his assistants, the pasters and folders, the postmaster and assistants, the watchmen, and custodians of the House, the basement and the store rooms and the pages.

Custodians. One of the custodians of the House or of the basement shall be assigned by the Chief Clerk to the store room to assist the Superintendent of the Store Room.

Pages. The pages shall be in attendance at each session of the House. It shall be the duty of the pages to perform the duties on the floor of the House assigned to them by the Chief Clerk. Sufficient pages shall be assigned to committee rooms, while committees are in session to act as messengers, one page shall be assigned during sessions of the House to the Legislative Reference Bureau for the delivery of paper. The pages shall assist sergeants-at-arms in filing bills on the desks of Members, and perform such other duties as the Chief Clerk may require.

Resolved That it shall be the duty of the Chief Clerk to bring to the attention of the Speaker in order that the same may be laid before the Committee on Rules, any case of improper conduct, insubordination or failure or refusal of employees to perform their duties as prescribed by this resolution or required to be performed by the Chief Clerk.

And said bill having been read at the first time,
Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

STATEMENT BY MR. WOODSIDE

Mr. WOODSIDE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, there was some question raised about the shortness of time between now and the time that these bill will be read the second time and we received unanimous consent to read them for the first time tonight, therefore, moving them along to put them in a position to be passed early in case it proves necessary. In consideration of this, we are going to ask the Republican members to make no objection to the offering of amendments to these bills on third reading, so that unanimous consent, we hope, will be granted to the minority to offer amendments on third reading, if they desire to offer them.

STATEMENT BY MR. OMINSKY

Mr. OMINSKY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, we just saw how the Select Committee on Public Assistance acted in an emergency, or supposed emergency, which was shown by the majority of this House. We in Philadelphia also have an emergency. We have a council, which despite all protests by the citizenry of Philadelphia, has seen fit to enact a sales tax; in spite of the fact that the Mayor has declared he will veto that Sales Tax on the 9th of January. It is my duty at this time, since we are in an emergency as far as Philadelphia is concerned, to introduce at this time a bill terminating the legislative authority given certain political subdivisions of this Commonwealth to impose taxes upon sales of personal properties, and I request, Mr. Speaker, that this bill be referred also to the Select Committee on Public Assistance, so that it may be acted upon immediately, and warn council of Philadelphia that it is the intention of this legislature to take away the right of imposing taxes which are burdensome and which are obnoxious to Philadelphia and business houses generally.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman will be spread upon the Journal.

RESOLUTION

EXTENDING SYMPATHY

Mr. GATES offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and unanimously adopted by a rising vote.

In the House of Representatives, January 3, 1939.

To the family of our esteemed member from Armstrong County, the Honorable Frank J. Atkins, has come a great sorrow in the passing of Mrs. Daisy Adams Montgomery, the loved mother and grandmother of Mr. Atkins' wife and children. Her loss to them is most keenly felt, and her funeral on January 2, 1939, was an occasion of deepest sorrow.

Resolved, therefore, by the House of Representatives, that we hereby extend our sincere sympathy to our fellow member and his bereaved family; and that, in further token of our feeling, we hereby direct the Chief Clerk to transmit a certified copy of this resolution to the Honorable Frank J. Atkins and his family.

RECESS

The SPEAKER. If there are no objections the Chair will now declare a recess until 9:45 o'clock. The Chair hears none and declares a recess until 9:45 o'clock.

AFTER RECESS

The time of recess having expired the House was called to order.

The SPEAKER, (Ellwood J. Turner), in the Chair.

RECESS

The SPEAKER. If there are no objections the Chair will now declare a recess until 10:00 o'clock. The Chair hears none and declares a recess until 10:00 o'clock.

AFTER RECESS

The time of recess having expired the House was called to order.

The SPEAKER, (Ellwood J. Turner), in the Chair.

The SPEAKER. The Chair desires to advise the members that we have been waiting upon the Senate, as is the usual custom. We have sent a Committee on the part of the House to the Senate for information. The Committee has just left. To give them time to return, the Chair will declare a recess until 10:15, which the Chair hopes will be the last recess.

RECESS

The SPEAKER. If there are no objections the Chair will now declare a recess until 11:30 o'clock. The Chair hears none and declares a recess until 11:30 o'clock.

AFTER RECESS

The time of recess having expired the House was called to order.

The SPEAKER, (Ellwood J. Turner), in the Chair.

REPORT AND DISCHARGE OF COMMITTEE

Mr. STOCKHAM. Mr. Speaker, your Committee appointed to wait upon the Senate and inform that body that the House is organized and ready to proceed with the business of the session has performed that duty.

The SPEAKER. The Chair receives the report and the Committee is discharged with the thanks of the House.

NOTIFICATION FROM SENATE

The SERGEANT-AT-ARMS. Mr. Speaker, a committee on the part of the Senate.

Mr. DEITRICK. Mr. Speaker, I have the honor to inform you that the Senate of the State of Pennsylvania is duly organized and ready to proceed to business.

The SPEAKER. The Chair receives with thanks the message of the Committee of the Senate.

RESOLUTION

APPOINTMENT OF TELLER

Mr. SERRILL asked and obtained unanimous consent to offer the following resolution which was twice read, considered and adopted:

In the House of Representatives, January 3rd, 1939.

Resolved, That the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Wood, be appointed teller on the part of the House of Representatives to open, compute and count the vote for Governor, Lieutenant Governor and Secretary of Internal Affairs.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

COMMITTEE FROM SENATE

The SERGEANT-AT-ARMS. Mr. Speaker, a Committee on the part of the Senate.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. Speaker, we are a Committee from the Senate to act in conjunction with a Committee from the House, if the House appoints such a Committee, to notify the Governor that we are prepared to hear any message that he cares to deliver to the joint session.

The SPEAKER. The Chair desires to advise the Committee on the part of the Senate that a Committee on the part of the House was appointed, in the passage of a resolution from the Senate. The Committee on the part of the House has already waited upon the Governor, and the Chair would therefore respectfully suggest that the Committee on the part of the Senate proceed to the Governor and advise him of their errand.

SENATE MESSAGE

JOINT SESSION TO COUNT VOTE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, January 3, 1939.

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur) that the Senate and House of Representatives meet in joint convention Tuesday afternoon, January 3, 1939, for the purpose of witnessing the opening, computing and counting the vote for Governor, Lieutenant Governor, and

Secretary of Internal Affairs; and to elect a Director of the Legislative Reference Bureau, also for the purpose of listening to the reading of a message of His Excellency the Governor of the Commonwealth.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question.

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate? It was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

RESOLUTION

COMMITTEE TO ESCORT SENATE TO THE HALL OF HOUSE

Mr. VAN ALLSBURG asked and obtained unanimous consent to offer the following resolutions which was twice read, considered and adopted:

In the House of Representatives, January 3, 1939.

Resolved, That the Speaker appoint a committee of two to escort the Members of the Senate to the Hall of the House this day for the purpose of attending the Joint Session of the General Assembly.

COMMITTEE APPOINTED TO ESCORT SENATE

The SPEAKER. The Chair appoints as a Committee to escort the Senate to the Hall of the House, Messrs. Van Allsburg and Andrews.

SENATE MESSAGE

APPOINTMENT OF INAUGURAL COMMITTEE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, January 3, 1939.

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur), That the President of the Senate is hereby authorized to appoint a committee of twelve Senators to act in conjunction with a committee of fifteen members of the House of Representatives to be appointed by the Speaker of the House, to make necessary arrangements for the inauguration of the Governor-elect, to await upon His Excellency, and to conduct him in a suitable manner to the Capitol for the purpose of having the oath of office administered to him; and

Resolved, That the inaugural ceremonies take place at 12 o'clock on the third Tuesday of January, the 17th instant, on the West side of the Capitol, should the weather prove favorable, otherwise, in the Hall of the House of Representatives, and be it further

Resolved, That said Committee be and is hereby authorized to expend a sum not exceeding five thousand dollars in the making and carrying out of said arrangements, the same to be provided for in the Appropriation Bills.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question.

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate? It was concurred in.

Whereupon the President of the Senate announced that Arthur H. James having received the highest number of votes was duly elected Governor for the term of four years from the third Tuesday in January 1939; that Samuel S. Lewis having received the highest number of votes was duly elected Lieutenant-Governor for the term of four years from the third Tuesday in January 1939, and that William S. Livengood, Jr. having received the highest number of votes was duly elected Secretary of Internal Affairs for the term of four years from the first Tuesday of May, 1939.

Four certificates were signed in each case as follows:

CERTIFICATE OF ELECTION OF GOVERNOR

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Harrisburg, January 3, 1939

We, the President of the Senate and Speaker of the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, do certify that the President of the Senate did, on the third day of January, A. D. one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine, in the Hall of the House of Representatives at the State Capitol, open the returns of the election for Governor of this Commonwealth, and publish the same in the presence of both Houses of the General Assembly, conformably to the provisions of the Constitution and laws of said Commonwealth and upon counting the votes by a teller appointed on the part of each House, it appeared that Arthur H. James had the highest number of votes; whereupon the said Arthur H. James was declared to have been duly elected Governor of the Commonwealth.

In testimony whereof, we have hereunto set our hands and affixed our seals the day and year above written.

ELECTION OF DIRECTOR LEGISLATIVE REFERENCE BUREAU

Mr. CROWE offered the following resolution which was twice read considered and adopted:

In Joint Convention of the General Assembly,
January 3, 1939.

Resolved, That in accordance with the provisions of the act approved the seventh day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three, entitled "An act creating a Legislative Reference Bureau; providing for the election of a Director by the General Assembly, * * *," the Senate and House of Representatives in joint convention assembled elect Robert S. Frye, of York County, as Director of the Legislative Reference Bureau.

OATH OF OFFICE ADMINISTERED TO DIRECTOR LEGISLATIVE REFERENCE BUREAU

The oath of office was then administered to Robert S. Frye by Lieutenant-Governor Kennedy.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

FINAL MESSAGE OF THE GOVERNOR

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, January 3, 1939.

FINAL MESSAGE OF GEORGE H. EARLE Governor of Pennsylvania

January 3, 1939, Harrisburg, Pa.

To the Honorable, the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Four years ago I came before your honorable body immediately after taking my oath of office. We were then just barely beginning to see daylight after the dark hours of national economic catastrophe. We were moving forward, at times slowly but no less surely, toward a solution of many new problems resulting from the changing conditions of our times.

During the past four years there have been many changes in Pennsylvania's government, partly legislative, partly administrative. In making those changes we have endeavored at all times to bear in mind the fundamental purpose of government, which is to adapt itself to the needs of the people whose servant it is. Our struggle to establish Pennsylvania on a firmer economic footing, and to provide some measure of economic reconstruction, has resulted in a broad humanitarian program that has been written upon the statute books and made effective in many instances through the establishment of entirely new agencies.

In the past four years the changes in our governmental structure have been more rapid than in the entire 40 years preceding. It was inevitable that we should suffer certain reverses and disappointments, that our course at times should be stormy, our legislative deliberations racked by political dissension. It was inevitable because progress means readjustment, and readjustment is all too frequently painful.

Looking back over the past four years, there is one fact which stands out above all others. That fact is that the platform upon which we were elected has been fulfilled. Our promises to the people have been kept. Entrusted as we were with a definite task, clearly outlined in our platform of principles and policies, we have consistently carried forward the program we presented to the people of Pennsylvania.

While it is my intention to be as brief as possible, I cannot give a proper accounting of our stewardship in office, nor could I do justice to those loyal and public spirited men and women who have worked side by side with me in this Administration, if I did not tell you in as few words as possible some of the outstanding achievements, legislative and administrative, of our term in office.

A detailed account of the activities of the several Departments, Boards and Commissions, which even in abbreviated form is much too voluminous to be included in this address, has been appended as a supplement.

STATE FINANCES

Of paramount interest in any Administration is the manner in which it conducts its fiscal affairs. This interest has assumed greater proportions during my Administration than in the past because of the economic depression and the resulting demands upon our financial resources.

The preceding Administration came into office with a surplus of $34,200,000 in the Treasury. When it left it had appropriation liabilities of $31,822,106.24 and also owed $16,433,000.00 to the State's custodial special funds. Our actual inherited General Fund obligations, therefore, were $48,265,106.24. Since there was $8,352,572.23 cash on hand in the Treasury at the close of the biennium on May 31, 1935, which properly could be applied against those obligations, and lapsing appropriations of $4,160,655.91, the Commonwealth was in effect $35,751,878.10 worse off than broke.

Our General Fund appropriations from tax revenues for the four years of this Administration, plus our inherited deficiency, totaled $734,900,596.31, divided as follows:

Welfare and Assistance	$343,086,330.00
Subsidies	171,400,639.56
Interest and Sinking Fund	30,193,985.61
All Other Govt. Operations ..	154,467,763.04
Inherited Deficiency	35,751,878.10

The item of Administrative costs included $62,393,328.75 for Departments under the Governor, as compared with $57,566,124.47 appropriated by the preceding Administration, $7,332,829.14 for Departments not under the Governor, as compared with the prior Administration's appropriation of $6,215,366.82 appropriations of $57,408,193.30 for institutions as compared with $58,640,412.00 previously; $5,149,306.48 for the Legislature as compared with $5,487,913.50; and $10,175,442.00 for the Judiciary as compared with $10,093,517.92 during the preceding four years.

Although there was an increase of $4,827,204.28 in appropriations to departments under my jurisdiction, this was more than counterbalanced by the new series of government which my Administration has rendered the people, most outstanding of which are the new labor and public assistance laws, and the effective public utility laws.

The cost of collection of the necessary new taxes and the administration of the authority program were also additional items. For the same functions of government which were carried on during the four years of my predecessor, my Administration spent $46,425,927.58, compared with the prior Administration's $50,661,851.84, or $4,235,924.26 less. Approximately $7,000,000 of appropriations for Departments under the former Administration do not compare with appropriations of my Administration; conversely $6,000,000 of my Administration do not compare previously. When these required adjustments are made, the appropriations compare and the savings we have made are evident. We are proud of this record.

We are also proud of another record, that of our institutions. Although we actually appropriated less for the institutions during my Administration, that does not tell all the story. Each four year administration sees a steady growth in institutional populations. My Administration has not been an exception. The pressure for accommodations in the mental hospitals, for example, became so great that I was forced to ask the Secretary of Welfare to restrict admission only to the most serious cases, until the State Authority Building Program could provide some relief from overcrowding. However, in spite of this increase in patients, our hospitals have been operated under appropriations which were less than before.

TAXES

The preceding Administration paid part of its bills with the proceeds of bond sales, part through borrowings from Special Funds. This Administration was required to make payments on bonds in the amount of $27,525,385.00 and also to supply the deficiency of its predecessor in the amount of $35,751,878.10. In addition, its public assistance and welfare appropriations were $343,086,330.00 as compared with only $123,298,713.00 spent by its predecessor. With normal revenues inadequate under the prior Administration, it was obvious that they were hopelessly deficient in meeting the much greater obligations of the new Administration.

Constitutional limitations prohibited a bond issue to meet the relief emergency. The alternative was taxation on the one hand, widespread hunger and distress on the other. We therefore recommended, and the Legislature approved, a program of emergency taxation based upon ability to pay, 70 per cent. falling upon private and corporate wealth, 30 per cent upon semi-luxuries. We likewise inaugurated temporary emergency financing operations through tax anticipation notes, and established the sound business principle of self-assessment in the collection of taxes. Through reforms in administrative and financial methods we kept the budget in balance, operated on a pay-as-you-go basis, provided adequately for the Commonwealth's needs during a critical period of universal distress, levied taxes with as much equity as our Constitutional limitation of tax uniformity would permit, and succeeded at the same time in transferring a substantial burden from the real estate taxpayer to those better able to pay. We have maintained the State's credit—in fact our last issue of tax anticipation notes sold at a price to yield slightly more than one half of one per cent, the lowest rate ever obtained by this or any other State.

On the basis of actual receipts to date, and of conservative estimates for the remainder of the biennium, revenues applied against appropriations from General Fund levies for the four years ending May 31, 1939, will total $736,500,000, or $1,600,000 more than our present appropriation liabilities.

Unexpended lapsing balances from these appropriations will bring our excess of revenues over expenditures, on the basis of present appropriations, to approximately $6,000,000, after deductions are made for prospective deficiencies in the Department of Justice, the Department of Public Instruction and in administration of Public Assistance.

We must recognize, however, that this does not take into consideration the prospective needs of the Department of Assistance, which estimates that it will require and additional $40,052,000 to meet its obligations to the end of the biennium. In fact it is estimated that available relief funds will be exhausted by January 27. The additional amount required, therefore, will be that amount less the excess available, or approximately $34,000,000.

This was not unexpected, since the General Assembly realized when it made its relief appropriation at the recent Special Session that the amount provided would not carry beyond January, and anticipated that further financing would be necessary at the Regular Session.

ASSISTANCE

The question of public assistance was the most fundamental and far-reaching of all problems that confronted this Administration. The problem resolved itself into two phases, first the matter of providing adequate sums to care for the victims of economic collapse; and second, that of establishing administrative machinery to supplant the temporary agencies previously established, and to replace the out-moded permanent agencies that had proved unequal to the task.

During February, 1935, the first full month that this Administration was in office, there were 1,728,000 persons receiving unemployment relief grants, 33,000 receiving old age assistance, 31,000 mothers and children receiving aid, and 4,000 on the blind pension rolls. Before the end of our first year the Works Progress Administration came into being and began to transfer our cases from direct State relief to Federal work relief, with the result that we found it possible to reduce our rolls to a low of 407,000 persons by November of 1936. Because of economic conditions and fluctuation of WPA rolls this figure has since risen, and in September of this year reached 685,000, the highest point since February, 1936. While our unemployment relief rolls have dropped far below their 1935 peak, our other forms of assistance have shown great increases, primarily because the relief previously given to these groups of dependents was entirely inadequate.

In January, 1935, there were 31,000 persons on old age assistance; in January, 1938, there were 95,000. The average for the first ten months of this year was 92,000. This does not mean that there was an increase in the number requiring assistance; it means instead that we are now caring for those entitled to such assistance, many thousands of whom were on the waiting list when we entered office.

The same is true of aid to mothers and dependent children. In 1935 we had an average of 8,000 mothers and 22,000 children on our rolls. This year we had 17,000 mothers and 43,000 children. Blind pensions rolls rose from a 1935 average of 4,000 to a 1938 average of 11,000.

LEGISLATION

One of the outstanding features of our Administration was the fact that there was enacted more liberal, social, and labor legislation, and more legislation affecting the general welfare of all citizens, than ever before in the history of the Commonwealth.

During this Administration there were 5 Sessions of the General Assembly, two regular Sessions and three extraordinary Sessions—conducted, I might add in passing, at a cost below that of the Legislature during the previous Administration.

Nearly 400 bills, covering a wide range of subjects, were introduced on behalf of the Administration, and virtually all Administration bills of major consequence were written into law.

Contrary to general belief only two of the major laws sponsored by this Administration were declared unconstitutional—the General 44 Hour Week Law, and the Graduated Income Tax Law—both of which were designed primarily as test measures.

The vitally important laws which effectively established the legislative record of this Administration still remain on the statute books. In this classification we have the measures guaranteeing teacher tenure; establishing more rigid regulation of public utilities in the public interest; creating the General State Authority for the development of our great institutional program; establishing housing authorities; regulating milk in intrastate commerce; providing for financing through tax anticipation notes; establishing a united program of public assistance to replace the archaic poor laws.

I might mention also those progressive and long needed measures for the protection of labor against exploitation and against economic distress—The Labor Relations Act; the laws restricting company-paid deputy sheriffs and anti-labor injunctions; unemployment compensation; minimum wages; a stronger and more comprehensive Workmens Compensation Act; the 44 Hour Law for Women; the Labor Mediation Act; the laws curbing sweat-shops by restricting industrial homework; the Occupational Disease Compensation Act.

I think also of the new and strengthened banking laws; the Consumer Discount Act; the act regulating pawn brokers; the new laws for group hospitalization; the progressive amended motor vehicle code; the new election code and the permanent registration acts; the merger of the State Police and Highway Patrol; the Flood Control and Pure Streams Act; the new laws imposing responsibility for all mental patients upon the Commonwealth; the Municipal Authority Act; and many others too numerous to mention here.

The Legislature has, however, approved a resolution protesting a State Sales Tax. In the recent election both candidates for Governor promised to sign measures abolishing municipal sales taxes such as the one that plagued Philadelphia during nearly all of last year. I urge that this Legislature give favorable consideration to a bill which will abolish local sales taxes in Pennsylvania, which can be done by amending the Act of 1932 affecting the taxing powers of certain cities.

Apart from legislation, I believe that one of the outstanding achievements of this Administration was its remarkable record in reducing accidents and deaths on our highways.

With the return of a partial prosperity, the number of automobiles in use increased at an unprecedented rate. Cars were cheaper and faster. As registrations rose, deaths rose. Road engineering and safety education could not possibly keep pace with the accident rate.

Early in the Administration we established the Governor's Highway Safety Council, consisting of representatives of all groups interested in reducing the hazards of the highway. Billboards, newspapers, radio, motion pictures—everything was used to impress the need of safety upon the traveling public, not without some measure of success. But progress was slow and results discouraging.

In January of last year, at my instance, the Pennsylvania Motor Police were instructed to arrest all drivers exceeding the 50-mile speed limit, and to certify such arrests to the Safety Division of the Department of Revenue, which established a special hearing division which suspended the license of every offender for 90 days. We got immediate results. Fatalities dropped at once; accidents dropped; injuries dropped. After 11 months of operation under this plan I am proud and happy to report that we have saved, by actual count, 904 lives as compared with the similar period of the preceding year, and have reduced our fatality record by approximately 40 per cent. The result is that Pennsylvania today, according to the National Safety Council's statistics, leads the Nation in highway safety.

LABOR AND INDUSTRY

The problems of labor and industry have been of primary importance in this Administration. For too many year short-sighted industrial magnates controlled the government of this Commonwealth. They were determined to save their own profits regardless of the economic cost to the people of the State.

It was traditional that this State was operated from the offices of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers Association. As a result Pennsylvania was 33d among the States in Workmen's Compensation. It was infested with company towns and company stores. Women and children worked for as little as three cents an hour in Pennsylvania's sweatshops.

Labor organizers were deprived of their civil liberties. Pickets were driven off with clubs, and frequently with more deadly weapons.

We changed all that, and we have no apologies to make to anyone for doing so. We have taken the position that the worker is a free, independent citizen entitled to join labor unions, to bargain collectively, to petition his government for redress of grievances, to speak his mind as he pleases, and to fight to protect the livelihood of himself and his family.

I realize that every effort has been made and will be made to destroy the gains which labor has made under this Administration. That is a point on which I want to sound a warning. Labor has come out of the shadows in this State. For the first time it has realized that it has rights which must be respected, and for the first time it has convinced the public that such rights exist.

I specifically warn that any attempt to weaken the provisions of our new Workmens Compensation Act will be disastrous, both for those who make the attempt and for their victims, as well as for the State at large.

The protection afforded by the Labor Relations Board and our strengthened mediation services must not be lost.

The Unemployment Compensation Act, which has already given 65 millions of dollars in benefits to help unemployed workers, must not be tampered with if the general welfare is to be preserved.

The new law providing benefits for the victims of occupational diseases must be safeguarded at all costs.

The many other measures enacted during the past four years for the benefit of labor cannot be destroyed without serious consequences to employer as well as to employee. They were dictated by the economic necessities of our time, not by political expediency, and that need must be satisfied.

The time is past when unscrupulous employers can exploit the labor of women and children, when they can establish unreasonable hours and starvation wages. If this Commonwealth is to be prosperous that prosperity must rest upon a sound foundation of contented workers—workers receiving wages adequate to meet the needs of themselves and their families. Destroy their labor safeguards and you destroy the only foundation that can exist for any permanent prosperity in the world of today.

OTHER SUBJECTS

No review of this Administration would be complete without reference to the fundamental conflict of authority that arose within the past year between the Executive and Legislative branches of the State Government on the one hand and the Judicial on the other. We are all of us well aware, as this Nation has learned from its earliest history, that Democracy is seriously in danger when any one individual or any group of individuals is permitted to seize despotic power. It was for this reason that the independence of the three branches of government was guaranteed in the Constitutions of both State and Nation.

Nothing could be more designed to reduce the government of a free people to absolute despotism than the encroachment of a politically-minded Judiciary, protected by the sanctity of its robes and the tenure of its office, upon the prerogatives of the chief executive of a sovereign State. I leave office proud in the knowledge that I have resisted such aggression; that I have not willingly permitted the office I hold to be degraded by abject submission to the judicial branch.

In a world where despotism is rapidly engulfing democracy it is most vital that free people at all times resist not only overt and flagrant attacks upon their liberties, but more especially the stealthy undermining of their rights as citizens under the guise of judicial process.

I am satisfied that if Fascism or any other form of despotism arises in the State and this Nation, that disaster will come about through just such attempts of judicial encroachment as we have witnessed here in Pennsylvania.

Concerning the political charges which gave rise to this conflict I need only say at this time that the public investigation by the General Assembly upon which I insisted, in accordance with the provisions of the Constitution, has resulted in findings so meager that even the most rabid partisan dared not lift a finger and accuse any high State official of wrong doing. I am equally satisfied that no jury considering the same facts can do other than arrive as the same conclusion.

As I leave office I sincerely believe, from the bottom of my heart, that I leave the State better, more prosperous; happier; with the liberties of its people more secure and their needs more adequately fulfilled; than when I took the oath of office four years ago.

In such belief I lay down my burden without regret, happy that it has been given to me in some small measure to help my fellowmen; happy that in these troubled years through which we have gone our system of universal democracy has shown itself adequate to meet the greatest crisis and the worst catastrophe that our people have ever experienced in all their history. I feel that this is our answer, and America's answer, to those who look with longing or with approval upon the methods and the practices of dictators abroad and would-be despots at home. And I pledge myself as a private citizen to devote the utmost of my energies and abilities in the support of all progressive measures beneficial to our people that may be sponsored by my successor and his Administration. I wish him well in the tremendous task that lies before him.

And to all who have labored with this Administration in developing and making effective the legislation which has been enacted, and to all of those in my Administration and in private life who have given of themselves in the interest of public welfare, I give my heartfelt thanks.

To those who carry forward the work of government in this State I wish to sound one warning. The voice of privilege and the voice of special interest will be heard again in the legislative halls and in the councils of government. The self-seekers and the overlords of industry will reassert their right to exploit the people of this Commonwealth. The interests of the few again will rise in opposition to the welfare of the many. Therein lies the danger of the future, the danger to our institutions, the danger to those great progressive measures which have of late years become a part and parcel of the life of our times.

Let everyone remember then that we live in a broad Commonwealth of ten million people, that their needs are far more important than the interests of a privileged few, and that their voice is the voice of our Democracy.

You are charged with their promotion and their welfare, which means primarily the preservation of their fundamental liberties as citizens and the safeguarding of their economic security. So far as you shall do this well you will merit the enduring gratitude of our people, and you will successfully avert that danger of dictatorship that is so rapidly casting its shadow over the world today.

SUPPLEMENT

AGRICULTURE

During the present Administration Pennsylvania's 191,284 farm families made more progress than under any previous Administration. Their cash income increased from $192,166,000 in 1934 to $268,000,000 in 1937. Taxes on farm real estate were materially reduced, farm real estate values were enhanced and demand for farm properties restored.

The Administration's program of agricultural legislation gave them the first Soil Conservation Law, the first Agricultural Conservation Law, the first law requiring produce dealers to post bonds protecting farmers from fraud, the first indemnities for cattle suffering from Bang's Disease.

State food laws were amended and strengthened. The watered butter racket, which for years victimized both farmers and consumers, was broken up and the ring-leaders sent to the penitentiary. Cooperation of our Department of Agriculture made possible an unprecedented expansion of the canning industry, with a 50 per cent larger market for Pennsylvania canning crops. Time and again the Department saved growers from ruin by finding markets for their surpluses. Potato growers benefited through our special Potato Interests Division.

Bovine tuberculosis was finally eradicated under this Administration. Sanitation laws were strictly enforced.

Plant diseases and insect pests were eradicated or brought under control. In every phase of Pennsylvania's agricultural life the State Government extended aid and assistance, creating a renewed interest in agricultural activities which has resulted in doubled attendance at the Farm Show during the past four years, necessitating the new Farm Show Arena now being erected by the General State Authority.

MILK CONTROL

Pennsylvania was the first State in the Nation to establish a permanent milk control law—a measure which was enacted in 1937 after two years of operation under an experimental temporary act. There have been two important results of that control: First, a general stabilization of the milk industry; and second, an increase in dairy farm income.

In 1937 Pennsylvania farmers received $7,605,000 more for Class 1 milk sold in Pennsylvania than they did during the year 1934. Constitutionality of the act has been upheld in the face of numerous proceedings and its legality is now an accepted fact.

Movement of a considerable portion of Pennsylvania's milk products in Interstate Commerce has prevented many producers from enjoying the benefits of State control, but through joint Federal action these producers have been accorded partial protection during recent months and may hope to benefit still more in the future.

BANKING

The Department of Banking is completing the most successful period of its history, having passed through three consecutive years without loss to a depositor, and through the entire four years with a total loss to depositors of only $175,000. Only one bank, a small private institution which did not come under State supervision until the closing days of 1935, closed its doors during the present Administration. Never before in the history of Pennsylvania banking has such a record been established.

Banking and building and loan laws were strengthened, bringing Pennsylvania into national prominence in those fields. Examination of lending agencies was improved. Consumer credit was expanded through reduced rates, credit unions encouraged, pawnbrokers brought under supervision.

A total of $45,000,000 was recovered by the Department of Banking for the benefit of closed bank depositors, and $1,555,000 has been paid out from liquidated assets of closed building and loan associations.

An estimated $10,000,000 was saved to investors through the activity of the Securities Commission.

FORESTS AND WATERS

The Department of Forests and Waters during the past four years has initiated a large Flood Control program, a new park and recreational program, and a greatly increased program of State Forest development.

In addition it has carried on its regular functions of regulating streams and water supplies, of preventing and checking forest fires and of fighting soil erosion.

Large savings have been effected in this Department through economies in consolidation without adversely affecting the work of the Department.

The Department's Flood Control Program in particular represents a large scale approach to one of the most fundamental of Pennsylvania's problems—that of preventing disastrous floods such as that which took such a toll of lives and property in March of 1936. Reforestation, which is of vital importance in the control of floods and prevention of erosion, has been tremendously developed. In the past three years alone there has been an increase of more than 15,000,000 in the number of trees shipped from the State's four nurseries.

As a result of the general development of recreational facilities the number of persons availing themselves of the State's recreational areas has been tremendously increased, so that the Department is now not only a vital aid to general conservation in the State but also a source of pleasure and profit to the citizens of the Commonwealth.

HEALTH

The functions of the Department of Health fall within two general categories—preventive and curative. In the first classification it will be well to call attention to the Department's new program for the distribution of pneumonia serum, which accounted for the saving of more than 1,000 lives in the first eight months of last year. Another major contribution of the Department was its splendid record during the great flood of 1936, when under the most adverse conditions it succeeded in maintaining public health throughout the stricken areas to such an extent that not more than a half dozen cases of contagious diseases were directly attributable to the flood itself.

In cooperation with the Department of Mines, State health officials were responsible for the dewatering of coal mines which were flooded, thereby protecting public health and at the same time preventing large scale unemployment in the mining area.

The sealing of coal mines conducted in cooperation with the WPA, was a major movement toward the elimination of stream pollution, and its health benefits to the State cannot be calculated.

The $8,000,000 building program of the Department is placing Pennsylvania in the forefront in the fight against tuberculosis. A new sanatorium is rising for 500 adults and 50 children in Western Pennsylvania. Hamburg Sanatorium is being augmented by four new units with 200 beds and a new home for nurses. Mont Alto is being expanded to provide 400 additional beds for children, an infirmary for 500 additional patients, a new kitchen and dining room, a new nurses' home and quarters for 175 employees.

An extensive campaign is being conducted to check syphilis, diphtheria, typhoid and undulant fever, and other contagious and communicable diseases.

HIGHWAYS

Since the beginning of this Administration the Department of Highways has improved more than 8,500 miles of roads under its comprehensive construction program. More than 5,000 miles of new roads were built and more than 3,500 miles of main roads were improved to meet present day needs.

Local real estate taxpayers were relieved of a tremendous burden through the Administration's action in taking more than 5,100 miles of roads and streets into the State system, bringing the total of State highways to 40,500 miles, or more than 40% of the total of 99,000 miles of public roads in the State.

The Department likewise took over responsibility for maintenance and construction of 9,000 local bridges and for the maintenance of 44,000 miles of Second Class Township roads. The Department now is responsible for the maintenance of 84,000 miles of roads and for 25,000 bridges.

From January 1, 1935, to September 30, 1938, the Department expended $239,000,000 for construction and maintenance of highways, with the result that of the 40,500 miles of State highways only 10,000 miles are as yet unimproved. It has constructed a total of 2,362 bridges under this Administration, and has cooperated to the limit with the WPA in getting projects for highway improvements, employing as many as 135,000 persons at one time on this work.

The Department successfully met the challenge of the great flood in March of 1936. This flood caused damage to roads and bridges in excess of $10,000,000, destroying more than 275 structures, principally river bridges. Although resources were taxed to the utmost the Department proved itself adequate to the task of establishing emergency communications and speedily restoring regular lines.

In 1935-36 the Department experienced the most severe winter in its history. It distinguished itself by its work of snow removal, plowing and snow fencing to meet the emergency.

There was never a time throughout the Administration when any major road was closed for more than a few hours because of weather conditions.

The Department constructed modern fire-proof garages and office buildings in 33 counties, materially reducing rental costs and providing facilities adequate to care for the vastly increased duties of the highway force.

Extensive technical surveys relative to engineering and traffic were inaugurated, and extensive experiments in the use of new materials under varying traffic and weather conditions were undertaken. The highest safety standards were maintained at all times in the operations of the Department.

Substantial progress was made in the matter of eliminating toll bridges, and it is contemplated that at least five bridges at important junctures in the State will be taken over in the near future as a result of this activity.

TURNPIKE COMMISSION

One of the most ambitious highway projects of the present Administration was the establishment of the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission, which has been authorized to construct an All-Weather-Highway to connect Pittsburgh and the West with the eastern part of the State. The Commission has completed its financing through the assistance of the PWA and RFC, and has already let three contracts for the work. It is expected that all contracts will be let by September of this year and that the construction will be rapidly completed. This magnificent new highway will be a permanent addition to the wealth and resources of the State, entirely self-liquidating and constructed without one cent of cost to the Commonwealth.

INSURANCE

The Insurance Department, in its examination and regulation of insurance companies, has aroused the admiration of other States throughout the Nation. No insurance company doing business has failed since this Administration took office. During that same period not one dollar has been lost to any policyholder through the failure of any company. This is in comparison with the 5 years previous to the Administration, when 81 companies doing business in Pennsylvania failed, with a loss of millions of dollars to hundreds of thousands of citizens.

Fraudulent insurance rackets operating in Pennsylvania have been checked by the Department. Before they were halted it was estimated that they were defrauding Pennsylvania citizens of $10,000,000 a year, victimizing poor persons who thought they were insuring themselves and their dependents against death, sickness or accident. Hundreds of these racketeers have been arrested and large numbers of them have been sent to the penitentiary.

DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE

A total of 390 Administration bills were prepared in the Department of Justice as compared with 200 in the preceding Administration. In addition 331 Departmental bills were reviewed and 1407 bills were examined for recommendation to the Governor.

In addition to its extensive legislative and court work, the Department assisted the other agencies of the State Government by rendering 105 formal and 421 informal opinions in addition to numerous letters of legal advice.

The Board of Pardons up to November 1st of last year considered 4,087 applications, recommended 205 pardons, 724 commutations of jail sentences and 3 commutations of death sentences. It should be noted that very few pardons were recommended and most of these were to prevent deportation or to assist individuals to qualify for Civil Service ratings.

The matter of paroles and parodsn has become a topic of popular discussion, which is extremely fortunate in view of the importance of the subject. Many months ago, realizing that a survey of the parole and pardon problem was necessary, I appointed a committee of outstanding citizens to consider this subject. They have done their work at great self-sacrifice and with unselfish diligence. I want to take this occasion to congratulate the Chairman and every member for this service they have rendered, and I sincerely trust that the General Assembly will give its closest attention and consideration to their findings and recommendations, particularly in the matter of making more adequate financial provision for this vital public service.

LABOR AND INDUSTRY

The operation of the Unemployment Compensation Act has brought a greater sense of security to the working man whose job is affected by business fluctuations. Some sixty-five millions of dollars have gone into the communities of this state during the year just closed and have helped a half a million unemployed workers to live and maintain their self-respect.

For many years the worker was hounded by the shadow of an accident which would incapacitate him, destroy his earning power, and bring hunger and want to his family. Workmen's Compensation provides for the worker the protection he is not able to provide for himself.

My administration cannot assume the credit for the original protection of this type for Pennsylvania's workers, but under the old law this State ranked 33d among the states in compensation. The Workmen's Compensation Act of 1937, which was effective January 1, 1938, raised Pennsylvania to its rightful place among the leading industrial states.

Occupational diseases, not compensable prior to 1938, are included within the scope of the new Workmen's Compensation Law.

During the present Administration the work of rehabilitating the physically handicapped rose to levels unprecedented in its history. This was made possible by additional funds from both State and Federal sources and through new legislation. As a result more than two thousand individuals have ceased to be wards of the public and now are collectively earning two million dollars a year.

No service of the State is as far reaching as the inspection service of the Department. Tremendous advances have been made through the safety training of inspectors, making of them safety engineers and transforming their operations into a constructive service to industry.

Exploitation of women and children by unscrupulous employers has been forestalled by new legislation. Hours of work for women and minors have been fixed at a reasonable maximum, and the mechanism set up for establishing a minimum wage. Provision has been made for the definite regulation of industry home work.

The Pennsylvania Labor Relations Board and the Mediation Service have made invaluable contributions to the success of our progressive program.

MILITARY AFFAIRS

The Department of Military Affairs under this Administration has developed a comprehensive program of rehabilitation, including 26 new armories and repairs in many others, an airplane hangar, and a new military reservation which is considered the finest in the entire Eastern Seaboard.

The new 16,000 acre military reservation at Indiantown Gap has made possible the adequate training facilities necessary to maintain the National Guard at the peak of military efficiency.

Effective administration of the Soldiers and Sailors Home at Erie has resulted in many economies which in turn have made possible many additions and repairs to that institution.

The State Veterans Commission has successfully undertaken the major task of providing necessary relief for veterans and their families.

DEPARTMENT OF MINES

The Department of Mines, which is charged with the protection of the health and safety of mine employes, has reduced mine accidents to an all-time low during the present Administration. Fatalities occurred at the rate of 2.68 for each million tons of coal mined, as compared with the prior record of 2.95 per million tons.

In conjunction with the Department of Health this Department was responsible for the pumping of flood waters from mines which otherwise would have been permanently closed, thereby restoring employment to thousands of persons and saving entire communities from economic destitution.

Surveys now under way to determine ways and means of preventing infiltration of coal mines are expected to make possible the savings of millions of dollars annually to the coal industry.

PROPERTY AND SUPPLIES

The Department of Property and Supplies, although required to perform many additional services due to expansion of other State departments, has been operating at a lower cost under the present Administration than under its predecessor.

Creation of new governmental agencies has tremendously expanded the scope of its operations, yet in almost every instance improved and more efficient methods of purchasing have resulted in much lower unit costs for all types of merchandise.

Standardization and centralization of purchases, together with improved inspection by the Bureau of Standards, have contributed largely to this achievement.

Many improvements have been made to existing State structures and much new construction has been undertaken.

Although increased functions of the Department have resulted in larger total costs for automobiles, bonds and insurance, unit rates have been much lower because of the economies effected by the Department. Never before in the State's history has the Department of Property and Supplies been more ably, honestly and economically operated than under the present Administration.

PUBLIC ASSISTANCE

It is obvious that modern administrative machinery was imperative to meet new assistance problems. The old Poor Boards had broken down completely early in the depression. The State's first experience in placing relief funds in their hands for distribution was disastrous. Private charity had never been required to meet such conditions and was overwhelmed by the new burdens thrust upon it.

Out of this chaos emerged the State Emergency Relief Board, consisting of the Governor and other State officials, which most commendably met the problem, within its limitations, during a difficult period. Members of this Board and administrators of relief generally were the first to recognize the need for a unified program of assistance.

With the aid of a public-spirited body of representative citizens, giving fully of their time and energy without expense to the State, this Administration was able to present to the General Assembly such a program, which program was enacted into law. It provided for:

1. A Department of Public Assistance responsible for all forms of direct public aid to needy persons not requiring institutional or other such care.
2. Unpaid County Boards of Assistance responsible for local administration of such aid.
3. The abolition of the 17th century poor relief system whose symbol was the Poorhouse, and the substitution of other institutions directly supported by the State.
4. State financing of all non-Federal relief and assistance, removing this tax burden entirely from local real estate.
5. A permanent merit system for both State and local employees in the assistance field.

We may be justly proud that we have kept our pledge that no one would go hungry during this Administration. We may be proud also that even during the bitterness of the recent election contest not one person raised his voice to charge, or to claim, that political considerations were involved or had ever been involved in the granting of relief to the needy.

PUBLIC INSTRUCTION

The Department of Public Instruction has not only maintained former services but has moved forward on every educational front.

It has given recognition to administration, public school financing, instruction programs, teacher education, higher professional standards, library services, promotion of the study of Pennsylvania history, sound retirement and tenure for school employees.

It has been responsible for such major improvements as the reconstruction of obsolete and unsafe schools, the school district merger program and provisions for the health and education of handicapped children. Transportation, tuition, medical inspection, audiometric tests, supervision of special education, the right to enter younger, the wisdom of remaining longer, and the guarantee of a more uniform length of school year—these have been given greater recognition and larger appropriations.

The Department has provided for better school administration through County Board of Directors, for higher certification standards, better teacher education, sabbatical leave, reorganization of schools, vocational education and school district mergers—all representing major achievements of this Administration.

PUBLIC UTILITY COMMISSION

The Public Utility Commission, since its establishment on April 1, 1937, has brought about rate reductions resulting in an estimated annual saving to consumers of $14,473,000. Its order upon utilities to return consumers' deposits accounted for additional large sums. Reductions totaling many millions more are excepted as a result of other cases now pending.

One of the most effective features of the new Commission is that provision in the new law providing for temporary rates pending final disposition of current cases, thereby removing the incentive to the utility to protract litigation over new rates in order to defeat the purpose of regulation. Further, provision that the utilities be required to pay the cost of their own regulation is another incentive toward expediting disposition of rate cases.

In its short life the new Commission has won an enviable reputation and has enjoyed recognition throughout the country because of its determination to protect the rate payers and at the same time to impose no undue burden upon the companies it regulates.

Under the new act the entire field of motor transportation is covered for the first time in Pennsylvania. This has resulted in the development of a new field and consequently has greatly expanded the activities of the Commission. The number of motor carriers regulated by the Commission has doubled in the past year and new regulation has been established to protect not only the general public but also the carrier and shipper as well.

REVENUE

The Department of Revenue has been responsible for the collection not only of continued taxes but of the new emergency taxes for relief. It has been obliged to set up new divisions for this purpose and in addition has made considerable progress in the integration of all taxing agencies, thereby materially increasing efficiency and greatly decreasing collection costs per dollar.

Inauguration of the self-assessment feature for corporation taxes has aided greatly in expediting the work of the Department. Field investigations of tax reports, although requiring additional personnel, have made possible additional taxes which would not ordinarily have been collected, in the amount of ten million dollars. The Department has also undertaken and efficiently transacted the work of auditing the vast undertakings of the General State Authority.

It has continually plugged loopholes for tax evasion, and in doing so has brought in additional taxes for the Commonwealth which totaled $23,000,000 for a two year period. The statistics show that the Department uncovered for local taxation $917,000,000 of hitherto unreported property for 1936 and $576,000,000 for 1937. Investigations now under way are expected to bring to light additional values of not less than $300,000 for 1936 and $250,000 for 1937.

During 1937 the Department's motor vehicle registrations reached an all time peak of 2,125,142, with record high cash receipts of $38,000,000. For the first three years of this Administration motor vehicle applications increased 27% and cash receipts increased 17%. Average annual motor vehicle receipts increased $5,000,000 while the per dollar cost of collection dropped from 5.1 cents to 4.6 cents. Average cost of handling applications dropped from 30.6 cents to 22.9 cents. This has been largely the result of more efficient procedure in the handling of motor vehicle work.

Safety work has been an important function of this Department, and this year alone driving privileges were withdrawn from 13,000 drivers as compared with 6,000 in 1933. Between 55,000 and 60,000 operators were restricted in driving privileges following checkups upon their physical and mental condition. From January to November of 1936 there were 6,000 90-day suspensions of drivers' licenses, primarily for speeding. This safety work of the Department, in conjunction with the patrol work of the new Pennsylvania Motor Police, has placed Pennsylvania in the forefront of the Nation in accident reduction. During the first 10 months of last year 764 lives were saved as compared with 1937 fatalities, representing a reduction of 37%. There was a 35% decrease in accidents and a 19% reduction in injuries.

The Division of Aeronautics has become the most outstanding in the country by virtue of the steps it has taken to make Pennsylvania safe for aviation. The vital part of this work has been in the State's 20 million dollar airport program, the most comprehensive of any state, which is now nearing completion. It involves construction of 29 airports, establishment of 30 beacon lights, and the air marking of 325 additional communities and 150 fire towers.

PENNSYLVANIA MOTOR POLICE

I have heretofore mentioned the safety work of the Pennsylvania Motor Police. This fine body of men, representing the merged State Police and Highway Patrol, as well as additional recruits who have recently completed their training course, now totals 1519 men. It is doing a magnificent work on our highways. I am satisfied that all of our safety work would have been fruitless had it not been for the constant devotion of these policemen to their duty of protecting the lives of Pennsylvania's motorists.

Apart from the many regular and important duties of criminal investigation they have kept our roads patrolled in such a way as to reduce accidents to a minimum. The plan of 90-day license suspension for speeding drivers has been successful because of their efforts, and has averted many fatalities.

In a little more than a year since its organization the Pennsylvania Motor Police has become nationally famous. It has developed a morale and esprit de corps which can match that of any police or military organization in the country. By providing more adequate salary and a merit system of appointment and promotion we have made this work a career rather than a job, as may be shown by the fact that the greater percentage of our new recruits are college graduates.

In the handling of criminal investigation and in suppressing public disturbances the Pennsylvania Motor Police have never failed to answer the call of any duly constituted local authority. In industrial disputes they have scrupulously avoided any partisanship and have concerned themselves solely with the protection of the public interest through the preservation of law and order.

STATE DEPARTMENT

The Department of State during the present Administration was responsible for far-reaching changes in election laws, the most fundamental of which was the Election Code, which was the first codification of Pennsylvania's election laws in a century, and the drafting of measures placing the entire Commonwealth for the first time under permanent registration. Civil liberties of citizens were safeguarded through the activities of the new Bureau of Civil Rights and Public Information in this Department. The Bureau of Elections for the first time was made self-supporting. The Corporation Bureau was more active than at any time in the past and the Commission Bureau was called upon to handle approximately 15,000 commissions during the four-year period.

WELFARE

At the beginning of this Administration the State's hospitals and penal institutions were in deplorable condition. This was partly due to neglect and partly to bad administration. Physical conditions in many institutions were disgraceful, in many cases administration was lax and indifferent.

The Department of Welfare undertook an expansion program totaling approximately 30 million dollars, in addition to $1,500,000 spent to correct fire and safety hazards. Accommodations were increased more than 25%. Thus for the first time in many years Pennsylvania today is reaching the point where it is providing reasonably adequate accommodations for those helpless persons who are in wards, the delinquent and the physically and mentally infirm.

In addition to those for which it is directly responsible the Department also supervises 165 State-aided hospitals, 413 organizations for children and 68 county homes for indigents.

Under recent legislation the Department has been made responsible, as it should have been all along, for all mentally deficient persons in the State. This represents one of the greatest material advances in Pennsylvania's history.

To understand the scope of the Department's work one must realize that as of last June there were 38,000 persons in Welfare Departments hospitals and 45,000 in penal and correctional institutions, and that these merely represented a fraction of the total number of handicapped persons whom the Department supervises or helps.

The institutional building program involves 32 major institutions, scattered far and wide over the State. Even today, before the construction program is completed, we must realize that while this program may restore such institutions to a point where they are adequate for the moment, it still does not make proper provisions for the future. Regardless of this the fact remains that under this Administration the helpless individuals who have become the wards of the State have ceased to be forgotten men, women and children.

GENERAL STATE AUTHORITY

I have previously made mention of the General State Authority, the agency created to carry forward the State's $65,000,000 program of public construction in cooperation with the Public Works Administration. This program is rapidly approaching completion, 50 projects being now finished and 30 others well under way.

It is this construction that has made possible the relief of overcrowding in our institutions, the restoration of many structures which had become dilapidated and run down through years of neglect. This rapid development has been made possible through the whole-hearted devotion of those who have worked with this Administration in order that the needs of the present might be met and the ravages of the past repaired.

LIQUOR CONTROL BOARD

The Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board has successfully discharged its two major functions, that of controlling the traffic in liquor and that of operating the State Stores in such a way as to provide revenues for relief purposes.

Federal surveys show that Pennsylvania's store control has practically eliminated bootleg traffic in liquor. One man clubs are now practically non-existent. Licensees are required to keep within strict bounds of propriety and decency, the evils of credit transactions have been completely eliminated. Political considerations in the operation of the Board have been curbed through civil service.

So well have the State stores themselves been conducted (and so favorably have they been received by the public, that profits of the system have increased from approximately $5,000,000 in 1934 to $16,000,000 annually for 1937 and 1938 plus an additional $8,000,000 additional from the emergency relief tax.

At the same time prices have steadily decreased, to such an extent that even with the emergency tax added they are 15% below normal private store prices for popular brands in adjacent States.

GAME AND FISH

The Game and Fish Commissions deserve the highest commendation upon the splendid service they have rendered to the Commonwealth during the past four years. Their resourcefulness and intelligent planning have been of tremendous value in developing the wild life resources of our State for the benefit of many thousands of sportsmen. Because of their efforts the Commonwealth today is rightfully considered one of the best hunting and fishing States in the entire Nation.

HARRISBURG, PA., WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 4, 1939.

No. 2.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

WEDNESDAY, January 4, 1939.

The House met at 1:25 a. m.

The SPEAKER, (Ellwood J. Turner), in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, REV. EPHRAIM Z. GALLAHER, offered the following prayer:

Most gracious Lord, we approach Thy Throne of Grace humbly. We come not to ask Thee for favors which Thou dost not give. We do not ask Thee to give us wisdom or give us ability as a dole. We pray, Heavenly Father, that the wisdom we now possess, and the ability we have already acquired may now be dedicated to Thy glorification and to the further promotion and advancement of civilization. Accept, Lord, the thanks of those who esteem it an honor to occupy a seat in this House, but somehow, in some way, burn into the heart of each one that no seat possesses magical honor; that in reality all the honor a seat yields is the honor put into it by the occupant.

We pray too that all will strive to grow in Thy grace, to grow in Thy spirit and to grow in Thy wisdom.

In His name we pray. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of yesterday, when, on motion of Mr. KANE, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal approved.

COMMITTEE MEETING

The Slate Committee will meet on Wednesday, January 4, at 10:00 a. m. in Room 521.

SENATE MESSAGE

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, January 3, 1939.

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur), That when the Senate adjourns this week it reconvene on Tuesday morning, January 17, 1939 at 10:30 A. M., and when the House adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday evening, January 16, 1939, at 8:00 P. M.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?
It was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Monday, January 16, 1939, at 8:00

p. m.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 1:38 a. m.) the House adjourned until Monday, January 16, 1939, at 8:00

p. m.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

MONDAY, JANUARY 16, 1939

The House met at 8:00 p. m.

The SPEAKER, (Ellwood J. Turner), in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. Ephraim Z. Gallaher, offered the following prayer:

O Thou Giver of every good and perfect gift, help us to be like Thee in sharing life. We approach the closing of an administration and the beginning of a new. Thy blessing rest upon the outgoing executive and the incoming executive, and their families. Upon our Commonwealth we do pray for Thy sustaining help. Help us all to become co-workers for the common good of our state. We do recognize the possibility of needed party groups, but may the spirit of retaliation so much in evidence in American life and in international relations, give way to a much needed reciprocal attitude. We also recognize a place for constructive criticism, but hasten the day for the exit of the carper, of which there are many. Hasten the day when writers and public speakers will use moderation of expression when referring to our industrial problems. May there be a decided abatement of abusive epithets, which have been flung in the past like poisoned arrows, and which promote distrust and industrial warfare. Endow us Lord with a healthy desire to unify all elements of our economic life. It is not enough Lord that capital stands united; nor is it enough that labor stands united. It is imperative that both capital and labor clasp hands, co-operating for economic peace and prosperity.

We know Lord that praise and gratitude from the citizens of this great Commonwealth will be showered upon this Assembly if it successfully works to this end.

In His Holy name we do pray. Amen.

THANKING CHAPLAIN

The SPEAKER. We are bidding adieu tonight to our Chaplain, Reverend Gallaher. I am sure that the members of the House thank him for his services during the past two years and wish him God speed.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of Wednesday, January 4, 1939.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of Wednesday, January 4, 1939, when on motion of Mr. Ackermann the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal approved.

OATH ADMINISTERED TO MEMBERS

The SPEAKER. The members-elect who have not taken the oath of office will present themselves at the bar of the House where the oath of office required by Article VII, Section 1, of the Constitution of Pennsylvania will be administered to them by the Honorable Frank B. Wickersham, a Judge of the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County.

Whereupon, the oath of office was administered to Messrs. Skale, Boies and McLane.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE

Mr. LYONS asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. Imbrie for tonight and the remainder of the week on account of illness.

Mr. HABBYSKAW asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. Sarge for tonight and the remainder of the week on account of illness.

INAUGURAL ANNOUNCEMENTS

The SPEAKER. The Members and Officers of the House will proceed to the inaugural ceremonies in a body from the Hall of the House, and will be required to show their official badges upon entering the stands. Members who do not have badges will report to Chief Clerk's Office.

The families, relatives, and friends of the members who have inaugural tickets are not privileged to accompany them in the line of march. All persons holding tickets must go direct to the stands Tuesday morning, before the members leave the Hall of the House at 11:15 a. m.

Automobiles belonging to the Members and Officers of the House which are parked on the plaza in front of the Capitol must be removed tonight before twelve o'clock. Parking facilities have been provided by ticket for the Members in the rear of the Capitol Buildings.

Each member has received a letter or should have received a letter from Mr. Arthur Colegrove, Secretary of Property and Supplies, furnishing you with a special permit, to be placed in the rear window of your car, giving you parking privileges on the Capitol plaza. That will be for the convenience of the members during the session. Please see that the sticker is placed on your car so that the Capitol Police may know that you have that privilege.

Members will be admitted to the Hall of the House, Tuesday morning, at the House Post Office entrance only. The door to the right of the Speaker's rostrum will not be open.

The chair will inquire of the Chairman of the Inaugural Committee if he has any further announcement to make.

Mr. HABBYSKAW. Mr. Speaker, I have not.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Habbyslaw.

RESOLUTION

AMENDMENT TO STANDING RULES OF HOUSE

Mr. WOODSIDE asked and obtained unanimous consent to offer the following resolution which was twice read considered and adopted:

Resolved, That rule twenty-eight of the House of Representatives, which reads as follows: "No member of the House shall be elected to more than three standing committees having a membership of thirty, chairman and vice-chairman excepted" is hereby amended by striking out the rule in its entirety.

The SPEAKER. The Chair wishes to announce that the Chairman and Vice-Chairman, named by him, were ready for the respective Standing Committees in conjunction with the report of the Committee on Committees.

ANNOUNCEMENTS BY THE SPEAKER

The SPEAKER. The Chair desires to announce that the minority still have some places to be filled on these committees. It was not possible for us to see them in time to get them to the printer this afternoon so that their names might be printed on the list presented this evening. Therefore, a supplementary report will have to be made by the Committee on Committees, following the receipt from the minority committee of the names to be added to these committees.

The SPEAKER. Members are now privileged to introduce bills by filing them with the Clerk. Three copies are to be legibly signed and dated. The unbacked copy to be kept for your personal file.

COMMITTEE ON INTERSTATE COOPERATION

The SPEAKER. In compliance with the provisions of the Act of Assembly of 1935 creating a committee on Interstate Cooperation, the Chair appoints the following: Mr. Kane, Chairman; Messrs. Woodside, Stockham, Turner and Furman.

The Chair desires to meet with this committee immediately after adjournment at the rostrum.

THANKING HONORABLE FRANK B. WICKERSHAM

The SPEAKER. The Chair desires to thank the Honorable Frank B. Wickersham, Judge of the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County, for his kindness in delivering the oath of office to the members-elect tonight. The Chair would say, as the Judge might say, that he may now retire with a suspended sentence.

COMMITTEE MEETING

The SPEAKER. There will be a meeting of the Chairman and Vice-Chairman of the House Standing Committees in the Caucus Room immediately after adjournment.

REPORT OF PHILADELPHIA SAVING FUND SOCIETY

The SPEAKER laid before the House the report of the Philadelphia Saving Fund Society as of the first day of January 1938 which was read by the Clerk. (For Report see Appendix.)

REPORT OF WESTERN SAVING FUND SOCIETY

The SPEAKER laid before the House the report of the Western Saving Fund Society as of the first Monday of November, 1938, which was read by the Clerk. (For Report see Appendix.)

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1 entitled:

An Act transferring money from the Motor License Fund to the General Fund and providing for the subsequent return from the General Fund of the transferred money.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?
It was agreed to,
On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, at this very early date we are asked to hastily enact a program submitted to us by the leadership of this House, that entails tremendous implications and which will expose the membership of this House to a tremendous amount of reperussion back home. Before going into a discussion of the program that has been submitted to us by the leadership of this House, I wish to call to the attention of the membership of this House the fact that the last official act of the previous Republican Administration was to transfer funds for relief, and, very singularly, the first official act of a new Republican Administration is to also transfer funds for relief. I might also call to the attention of the House the fact that neither in 1934 nor in 1939 did any of the bills authorizing the transfer of funds from the sacred funds, from the trust funds of this Commonwealth, contain an absolute guarantee that the moneys will be returned to those funds, nor does the leadership of this House indicate to the membership from what source these funds will be reestablished in their entirety.

We are asked, as Wilson Sarig said in 1934, in this very House, we are asked to sign a blank note, by which we at this time deplete these funds to the detriment of our local communities. I know that the opposition will say, "Oh, you have transferred money too," but I wish to call to the attention of the members that every transfer that has ever been made by the previous Administration, that every invasion of these funds by the previous Administration has been repaid by the Administration that is going out. During every previous transfer there was passed an attending tax measure that would restore the depleted funds to the condition that they should have been in.

I would not on the floor of this House do anything that would in any way obviate the continued security of the people on relief, and I would not ask the membership of this House to refuse to appropriate or transfer the sum of $34,000,000 of money from the Motor License Fund, the Liquid Fuel Tax Fund, from the Liquor License Fund, and from the State Insurance Fund, if we had submitted to this House a program, that would raise the necessary moneys to take us over the emergency without the necessity of invading those funds.

Representative Leo Achterman, my colleague, at the first session introduced House Bill No. 6 that makes immediately available for utilization for relief $2,900,000 without the necessity of effectuating a transfer.

Representative Joseph Ominsky of Philadelphia, my colleague, has just introduced a bill that will make $2,000,000 available for utilization for relief by the membership of this House by the mere mechanics of repealing Act No. 40 of the Special 1938 Session. There lies a few million dollars unused, immediately available for relief. The majority of this House presents to us a program necessitating the transfer and the invasion of funds. There has also been introduced in this House by Representative Jirolanio of Northampton, a bill that will raise $930,000 by the expediency of repealing Act No. 8 of the 1938 Special Session, releasing that money, which in no way, in no manner, will embarrass any of the functions of the Commonwealth; which in no way will embarrass the continuation of municipal functions; which in no way will retard any of the municipalities of this state.

Representative Benjamin Long of Philadelphia has just introduced a bill that will raise $670,000 of funds appropriated in a previous legislative session prior to 1935, lapsing those appropriations and converting the unexpended balance for the purpose of relief.

Nevertheless, the majority leadership of this House asks us to support a program of legislation that will invade the funds or deplete the funds, destroy road building, expose buildings of the Commonwealth to a fire hazard without any security for reconstruction in case of fire, and they do that with the mere assertion that the moneys are to be repaid by December, 1939. The majority leadership of this House has not indicated to the membership from whence that money will come. The transfer act of the majority of this House deprives the special funds of $34,000,000. Nevertheless in this program for relief, of the $34,000,000 that is going to be transferred by the majority of this House, but $12,000,000 are appropriated for relief. It is my position and I feel sure it is the position of my colleagues that the reasonable, expedient, governmental manner, the business-like manner of conducting the affairs of this House would require that the moneys that are transferred, if they are transferred for relief, should be earmarked and should be appropriated for relief. If, as in this instance, we are transferring $34,000,000, then our appropriation for relief should be $34,000,000.

If, perchance, the majority will take the program of the minority, as it is here submitted, whereby we make available the sum of six and one-half million dollars of available funds, they will obviate the necessity of effectuating those transfers until the new Administration has an opportunity to intelligently study the financial needs of this Commonwealth. I am asking the membership of this House to acquiesce in that program. With that six and one-half million dollars available there is no necessity for immediate transfers of money for relief. If perchance, you insist then the appropriation bill for relief should be in the same amount as the transfer act, $34,000,000, and by the same token, if it is the desire of the majority to appropriate but $12,000,000 for relief, I submit again that business-like methods would dictate that we should transfer but $12,000,000. If the majority follow the suggestion that we have here submitted, if the majority will take the program which has been intelligently thought out, and not hastily rushed into as a stop-gap program, then our highways will be in a position to continue to function, the payments due to the municipalities on February 1st, from the Liquid Fuel Tax and Liquor License Tax will be made, those municipalities will be able to continue with their actual work, and the budgets of those municipalities will not be thrown out of line, and we as a legislative body will have given to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania a solution to a very vexing and troublesome problem.

I submit to the membership of this House, if you hold those funds the least bit sacred, if you submit to the theory that money should not be transferred from the road fund or from the trust fund unless there is not another cent available for relief, then you will refuse to go along with a program that has been hastily drawn and illy-conceived. I realize that the newness of this session imposes upon us immediate responsibilities of a tremendous nature. I also say that legislative haste means that we must repent at leisure.

I know the new members of the House would not, were they exposed to the legislative problem for any period of time go along with a program conceived as this one is, open to such valid criticism, and I ask the membership to refuse the transfer from those funds moneys as long as there are six and one-half million dollars of funds immediately available for relief purposes, and I ask the membership of the House to vote "no" on House Bill No. 1.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen, in debating this bill transcended the rules of the House in debating the entire program that we are now presenting in these five bills. I see no objection to his doing so because this is a program and should be considered more or less as a whole. Therefore, I may also transcend the rules of the House by discussing all of these bills at this time.

The majority of this House does not want or like to transfer these funds into the General Fund. The only reason they are doing so is because it has been made necessary by the failure of the now minority, the former majority, to meet the needs of this Commonwealth and the people on relief in this Commonwealth during the time in which they should have met those needs. As a result of that it is necessary for the incoming administration to find funds, to make a deficiency appropriation of approximately $40,000,000 to take care of the people on relief, to meet whose needs an appropriation should have been made during the past administration, when the now minority was in the majority. As a result of that it is necessary to meet this situation at the present time. In doing so we are proposing to transfer $26,000,000 from the Motor License Fund. From the estimates made by the Secretary of Revenue as to the income, and the estimates made by the Department of Highways as to the expenses and the obligations which it will be necessary to meet by the Department of Highways up until June 1st, we find that there is $26,000,000 available for transfer to the General Fund without interfering with the normal activities of the highways. In other words, according to the estimates we have received, this will in no way curtail or interfere with the work of the Highway Department.

We propose to transfer $4,000,000 from the Liquor License Fund. We propose to transfer $3,000,000 from the Liquid Fuel Tax Fund, and contrary to what the gentleman from York has stated, that is not due under any circumstances and would not be paid to the counties until June 1st, and under no circumstances would the counties receive that prior to that time.

The State Insurance Fund from which we expect to transfer $1,000,000 is largely a matter of bookkeeping because that is a fund which is now available. As a matter of fact but $500,000 is to be transferred into the General Fund from this Special Fund, which is set aside only for the purpose of replacing any of the Commonwealth's buildings, armories or school buildings, in any of the counties of the Commonwealth, if they would be destroyed by fire. It is a matter of money which is not now needed and will not, we hope, be needed for some time, and arrangements can easily be made to take care of that situation. We are going to need all of the $34,900,000, according to the present estimates, and we are going to need some more money, which, as has been suggested, will be found by abating certain appropriations. The incoming administration, upon investigation, has found that there are various appropriations which they hope will reach the sum of $8,000,000 instead of six and one-half million dollars. As a matter of fact in the bill already introduced and referred to the Select Committee for $3,000,000, we find that there is now available $2,900,000, so that even that amount is not entirely accurate, but we hope upon thorough investigation we will find that the sum is more than $2,900,000.

The reason why we haven't gone into lapsed appropriations at the present time is because we feel that upon a thorough investigation, which we will have time to make in the very near future, we will find a sum in excess of six and one-half million dollars, and we will find the correct sum in each particular fund to abate, to add to the money in order to meet the deficit which was left to us by the outgoing administration.

We are appropriating $12,000,000, and when that $12,000,000 is expended we will appropriate the balance necessary to carry through public assistance to the end of the biennium, but we feel at this time we cannot determine exactly just what that amount is. We feel that to appropriate six and one-half million dollars or six million dollars at this time would carry us through for twenty days or possibly less. We feel that there would not be sufficient time for us to determine just exactly what balance of appropriation will be necessary for the balance of the biennium. The $12,000,000 appropriation will carry us through to about the first of March and that will give the incoming administration time to make a careful study and give careful consideration as to the exact amount which will be necessary to carry through and to formulate a definite and final program. For that reason we feel that all of these five bills should be passed at this time, as they now are.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentlemen from Dauphin, Mr. Woodside.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Dauphin permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOODSIDE. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to inquire of the gentleman from Dauphin if it is not correct that the Liquor License Fund that is sought to be transferred to the General Fund by Act No. 3 is due and payable to the municipalities on February 1st of this year.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I believe the gentleman from York is mistaken in the number of the bill. It is the second bill. The Liquor License Fund would be paid to the municipalities on February 1, 1939, but the Liquid Fuels Tax Fund, to which the gentleman from York referred, is not payable until June first.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, as to the Liquid Fuel Tax, Section 10 of the Act of May 21, 1931, as amended by Section 1 of the Act of June 21, 1935, requires payment to be made on June first and December first, is that correct?

Mr. WOODSIDE. That is correct, Mr. Speaker, but the payments of December first have already been made, with the exception of some counties that are not qualified to receive it according to the interpretation which has been made, and some moneys have been left in the fund to take care of those payments which were due on December first. In other words, the transfer of $3,000,000 will not use of any of the money in that fund to which the counties are now entitled by setting up a special fund for the handling of it.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, do I understand that the gentleman from Dauphin has indicated that the reason that the appropriation of $12,000,000 is being made at this time is so that ample time will be given to the incoming administration to study the relief needs of the new administration.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, we feel that by that time the incoming administration will be able to determine the amount which is needed for the balance of the biennium, and it can then be cleared up for the balance of the biennium. In other words, enough time will be had to gather the necessary information and formulate a program, but we do not feel that it should be dragged on indefinitely with a large appropriation at this time until we know just exactly what the situation is, that is, a larger appropriation than is necessary, in order to give us the necessary time to make the investigation.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman from Dauphin. Mr. Speaker and members of the House.

The gentleman from Dauphin has indicated that there is a necessity now for making an appropriation for relief in the sum of $12,000,000 in order to give the incoming Administration an opportunity to study the fiscal requirements on relief and to formulate an entire program. I submit to the membership of this House that the gentleman from Dauphin has given to this House the best reason why these transfers should be defeated at this time. We have submitted a program that will raise six and one-half million dollars without the necessity of transfer. That six and one-half million dollars, without the necessity of transfer, will give the incoming administration ample time within which to make a study of the financial situation of this Commonwealth and to decide upon a program, that will be more effective than the one that has been submitted. If the gentleman from Dauphin is correct that $12,000,000 is required in order to give the new administration ample time within which to study the relief requirements of this Commonwealth, I submit that this is a solution for the membership of this House as to the action they should take on transferring of $34,000,000. I am still in the dark, and the membership of this House must also be in the dark, to understand if the $12,000,000 is required to study the relief requirements of this Commonwealth, why, we are asked, as a legislative body, to transfer, not $12,000,000 but $34,000,000. I believe that the membership of this House should have an explanation as to that divergence in figures, and I say that the membership of this House is more than justified in saying to the majority that they will not go along with a transfer of $34,000,000 and an appropriation of but $12,000,000. I ask the membership of this House to vote "no" on House Bills No. 1, 2, 3 and 4.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I believe that the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen, in his previous remarks stated that these bills provided for the return of the special fund from the General Fund on December 1st. The provision is September 1st. I desire to call that to the membership of the House because unquestionably the method which will be used to return this fund will be to float tax anticipation certificates and raise the money immediately after June 1st, thus obtaining money for the general fund to pay back all of these special funds as quickly as possible after June 1st, and all of these bills, not only Bill No. 1, but all four of the bills, have this same provision in them.

Mr. KILROY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Woodside.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Dauphin permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOODSIDE. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. KILROY. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Woodside, whether in 1936, I believe the year was, when we introduced bills with a rider on them, promising to pay back to the Highway Fund in order to meet the relief situation, as the bills were for relief,—how he voted on those bills?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I do not believe it is any concern of this House what I did personally on any measure, but, to be frank with the gentleman, I do not recall which one he is referring to, as we had a number of transfers. I voted for some and voted against some, depending upon the circumstances in the matter before the House.

Mr. KILROY. That is all, Mr. Speaker.

On the question recurring.

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken.

Messrs. Ominsky and Russell E Reese asked for a verification of the roll.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 3, entitled

An Act transferring money from the Liquid Fuels Tax Fund to the General Fund and providing for the subsequent return from the General Fund of the transferred money.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

MOTION TO TABLE BILL

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, this act or bill that we are about to vote on is not a bit different than the two preceding bills. First, like the other two bills, of course, it is a transfer bill, transferring funds that are provided under Section 10 of the Act of 1931, finally amended June 21, 1935. Briefly, it provides that one-half cent per gallon on each gallon of gasoline sold in the state of Pennsylvania shall be returned to the counties on June first and December first of every year this fund to be used by the counties for the construction, reconstruction, maintenance and repairs of roads, highways and bridges in the respective counties.

At our last meeting, I introduced a bill, House Bill No. 6. That bill was introduced, not for the purpose of embarrassing either the members of the other side of this House, or the leadership of those men, but for the purpose of constructively aiding them in carrying out this program, which their leadership has requested them to carry out. That bill, briefly, would transfer from the Department of Forests and Waters, the sum of $3,000,000 and would permit to be available the present $3,000,000 that you propose to transfer from the Liquid Fuel Tax Fund.

Now briefly, you understand that the Liquid Fuel Tax Fund furnishes the major portion of the money that each county uses in the construction of roads. In your counties, you realize that their budgets have been prepared with that in mind, and if they do not receive it on June first, and if you pass this bill they will not receive it on June first, that then part of their plan of road construction and road work in their counties will necessarily fail. It is true you say that on September first you will return it, but you realize and I realize that that date is entirely too late to commence construction and to secure remittance of the money that ordinarily they would receive in June, and it was for that purpose, and only for that purpose that I introduced the bill.

Might I, Mr. Speaker, quote you an authority on this subject.

"Proposals have been made to raid the Motor License and Liquid Fuels Tax Funds. These are proposals to take $38,000,000 which the motorists of this state paid in good faith for improved highways, and use it for purposes for which he already has paid taxes; proposals which break the pledge given when these taxes were accepted and which break the pledge given when the loans were made.

"I protest against this continued disregard of the motorists' rights; against the injustice to Pennsylvania workmen, who would be given employment, if this money were spent where it rightfully belongs—on the highways. I protest against proposals which are not based upon a full knowledge of conditions.

"A few weeks ago I pointed out to you that the largest part of the motorists' taxes go for road upkeep, for snow removal and for other services. There remains only a comparatively small amount for construction.

"It all comes down to the question of whether or not we shall perform the double duty of giving the motorists what they pay for in good roads and in giving the unemployed what they deserve in worthwhile jobs. I know what good roads have meant to Lancaster County. I know what the employment given by road-building has meant to Lancaster County. I ask you to consider the same factors in relation to your own districts.

"I call upon all those who have sincere interest in highways and who have respect for a promise given to weigh well this problem. I ask with the greatest sincerity of purpose that this House defeat for once and for all any proposal that will take highway funds from the highways, bread from the mouths of men, women and children and the real opportunity for a return to prosperity from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania."

Mr. Speaker, I am quoting the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Trout, and his remarks made in the Hall of this House on Thursday, June 13, 1935, and just to show the extent to which that authority would go, I quote also from the Journal of this House of February 16, 1937, when he stated:

"How long the motorists of this state propose permitting the misuse of taxes levied for a specific purpose, I am not prepared to say. So far as I am concerned, I must have definite and positive assurance in the future that general appropriation bills will not be taken from Motor License Funds.

"For that purpose, gentlemen, I introduced a bill to repeal the authority for making temporary transfers."

Mr. Speaker, in view of that eminent authority's remarks, in view of the fact that there is in the Select Committee now, a bill that will relieve him and the members on his side of the House from voting for that bill, and substituting the bill that is in the Committee, I, therefore, now move you, Mr. Speaker, that House Bill No. 3, Printer's No 3, be laid upon the table.

On the question.

Will the House agree to the motion?

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. TROUT. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I plead guilty to all that the gentleman from Monroe has stated, and without any apologies.

In 1935 and 1937, we made efforts to have an amendment passed by this House to forbid any further diversion of Motor Funds, or transfers of Motor Funds. We were defeated in that attempt. In 1934, this game of transferring and borrowing to make temporary relief started under the Pinchot Administration, and the records will show that I voted against and opposed the original transfer of funds. I have opposed the transfer of funds every time it has been presented in this House, and would do so again if the previous administration had made the necessary provisions to take care of unemployment relief.

In 1935, this House passed a one cent gasoline tax to be used for relief, and the Republican membership supported that. In 1936, the Democratic House reenacted that one cent gasoline tax to the General Fund where it is now and where it has been ever since, and when the gentleman from York prides himself that this administration has returned the original loans, or transfers he failed to state that the motorists were taxed an additional one cent in order to make up for that transfer to pay back the relief money. I want to say to you, gentlemen, that the reason I voted for this transfer is first, because rather than permit the people of Pennsylvania, those who are unfortunate, to be broken down on relief, I will vote for the transfer immediately of motor funds, with the provision in this act that it will be returned on or before September 1, 1939, and I pledge myself, as one member of the majority to do all that I can do to see that that is done, and that the motorists will get the benefit of these returned funds we are now transferring to take care of relief in Pennsylvania.

I want to say to the gentleman from Monroe that I am not changing my attitude and I don't propose to, so far as the motorists are concerned and so far as the motor fund is concerned, but I will do this, I will vote for the temporary transfer to procure the funds that should have been provided for in the recent session of the Legislature, and I want to say that when it comes to speedy legislation, the Lord knows that never before in the history of this House has more speedy legislation been enacted than in the first six days of the special session of 1938.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I have difficulty, of course, in understanding how the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Trout, reconciles his attitude on the present vote with his attitude as expressed in 1935 and 1937. May I say that in 1935, perhaps, we had the same problem facing us as he does today, when there was a shortage of funds and we had inherited that shortage from the Republican party, and the gentleman from Lancaster, on that occasion, made a few remarks, and, perhaps, he would like to hear them quoted:

"I say, gentlemen, I believe that the diverting of funds from the Motor Fund to the General Fund is contrary to the best interests of the citizens of Pennsylvania, and I think this bill should be defeated."

May we, Mr. Speaker, on that occasion, go over the roll just briefly, of some of the men who thought likewise, and I find recorded, Mr. Speaker, the following gentlemen: Gates, Gillette, Habbyslaw, Kane, McKinney, Schrock, Stewart, Tahl, Trout, Turner, Winner, Wood, Woodside and Yeakel.

Mr. Speaker, I believe I have answered the gentlemen.

Mr. TROUT. Mr. Speaker, I wish to interrogate the gentleman from Monroe, Mr. Achterman.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Monroe permit himself to be interropated?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Lancaster will proceed.

Mr. TROUT. Mr. Speaker, my recollection is—I don't have the record—but it seems to me that I recall that the gentleman from Monroe, Mr. Achterman, voted in favor of a similar transfer on June 9, 1936,

Mr. ACHTERMAN. I very likely did, Mr. Speaker, but may I just state this, that that is just what we had desired to do, and if the leadership on his side will only agree with us, he will find a unanimous House on this side and I hope on the other side. If you wish to transfer enough funds to study that problem, we will go with you on that, or if you wish, if you want $34,000,000, then earmark it for relief and we will go along with you, but in this particular bill that we are discussing, we say, Why curtail the counties, or your county, when the state of Pennsylvania has $3,000,000 available?

The SPEAKER. The Chair understood that the gentleman from Lancaster was interrogating the gentleman from Monroe.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. He was, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. Does the Chair now understand that the gentleman from Lancaster has yielded to the gentleman from Monroe?

Mr. TROUT. Mr. Speaker, I would like to further interrogate the gentleman from Monroe.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Monroe permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. If I am permitted to answer questions completely and fully, Mr. Speaker, then I will be delighted to be interrogated.

The SPEAKER. The Chair believes that the gentleman from Monroe will have every opportunity to answer all questions fully, within the rules of the House. The gentleman from Lancaster will proceed.

Mr. TROUT. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have the gentleman from Monroe, Mr. Achterman, answer this question, yes or no.

The question is this: if the money that is being transferred from the Motor Fund to the General Fund is returned to the Motor Fund by September 1, 1939, I want to ask the gentleman from Monroe whether or not, then, I am justified in voting for this transfer?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. My answer, Mr. Speaker, is no, he is not justified, because he will be curtailing Lancaster and all of the counties of Pennsylvania in their road work.

Mr. TROUT. Mr. Speaker, I want to assure the gentleman—

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Lancaster desire to further interrogate the gentleman from Monroe?

Mr. TROUT. Mr. Speaker, I would like to make a statement.

The SPEAKER. Is the gentleman asking consent to address the House or to debate the question before the House?

Mr. TROUT. I desire to make a statement.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. TROUT. Mr. Speaker, so far as Lancaster County is concerned, I want to assure the membership of this House that our people there will be entirely satisfied with this procedure, when we carry out the provisions of the bill, and that the road situation and the road work in Lancaster County will not be curtailed at all.

STATEMENT BY MR. HERBERT B. COHEN

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I do not wish it to appear that the minority is in any way attempting to scuttle the program of the majority. I am frank to admit that I was very active on the floor of this House in an attempt to effectuate transfers in order to maintain relief rolls. I think that every member of this House is seriously and honestly confronted with the problem, and it is not a partisan problem, because the record will show that in the past sessions, both sides of the House, at various times, have voted for transfers. The point that I think the minority is trying to make and that the majority refuses to acquiesce in, is the fact that we have submitted a substitute program that doesn't require transfers. My recollection goes back to the Sessions of 1937, 1935, and 1933, and I remember that in each of those sessions the only justification for transfers was the fact that every other source of income had been depleted, every other source of income had been vitiated, and there was a complete evenescence of available funds for relief, and I say to you, gentleman of both sides of the House tonight, that there remains available in the Treasury of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, unappropriated and unencumbered funds to the extent of six and one-half million dollars that will obviate the necessity of taking this particular bill and throwing it into the pot.

I say that back in the local counties, the local county commissioners and district supervisors and local municipalities have formulated a budget, have made plans to employ men on the roads, which plans are going to obviate the necessity of further state relief rolls. When we take that away from those municipalities, we are aggravating the very thing that we are seeking to cure. It is not a partisan measure, it is just simply a problem of both sides getting together and sitting down in a businesslike manner and deciding what is for the best interest of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania as a whole.

We of the minority submit a program making available these funds, not from a partisan viewpoint, not with the idea of embarrassing the majority, and I want the membership to know that this is not a surprise move on our part; we deliberated and debated every one of these problems in the Select Committee. We made a complete analysis of the situation there, but because the majority leadership of this House felt that their program came from them it must be the only program that must be passed in this House.

I say to you, Mr. Speaker, any I say to the membership of this House, that if we wish, in this particular instance, to do our duty to our constituents throughout the entire Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, this bill, this particular bill, should be laid upon the table, or be defeated until the new administration has an opportunity to fully go into the finances of this Commonwealth and determine whether or not they can continue to have active relief rolls diminished by leaving these funds go back to the municipalities to which they are justly entitled.

I plead with the membership of this House, for the benefit of those on relief, for the benefit of the workers of the Commonwealth, that this bill be defeated.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 4, entitled:

An Act transferring money from the State Insurance Fund to the General Fund and providing for the subsequent return from the General Fund of the transferred money.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order.

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 5, entitled:

An Act making a deficiency appropriation to the Department of Public Assistance for the purposes of carrying out the Public Assistance Law for the two fiscal years ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine.

On the question.

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Sec. 1, page 1, line 1, by striking out the following: "twelve million dollars ($12,000,000)" and inserting in lieu thereof "thirty four million dollars ($34,000,000)."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there objection?

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, it would appear that the wicked Democrats did not pass tax laws enough, or they spent too much money on relief. At any rate, they have bequeathed a very unhappy relief situation. I presume, if they had passed more tax laws, they would just have gotten licked a little harder than they got licked.

The purpose of this amendment, in this wedding of transfers and appropriations, is to consummate the marriage and make it legal. The bill appropriates $12,000,000. Now, I think that the record will show that the majority leader, in whom I have great confidence and whose leadership I respect, always opposes transfers when the Democrats propose them, and supports them when the Republicans propose them, just as happens on this side of the House. At any rate, you heard him say that they were transferring some $34,000,000, and you also heard him say that after having canvassed the situation, that we are going to need all of that $34,000,000 that we are transferring and we are probably going to need $6,000,000, $7,000,000, $8,000,000 or $9,000,000 more. Now, the majority leader can't have it both ways. If he is going to need not $34,000,000 but probably $45,000,000, positively going to need it, and says in the next breath, "We are just going to transfer $12,000,000 and find out how much we do need," that would be all right, if he admitted the balance, but if he will consult the stenographic record, he will find that he stated, "We need every penny and more." Now, it is a rather serious proposition, gentlemen of the House, to earmark funds saying you are absolutely going to need them, and then draw your punch on your own proposition and refuse to make the appropriation.

I have not been in sympathy with this transfer program; I was not in sympathy with the transfer program when my friends on this side of the House proposed it, and I haven't changed my position on this matter, simply because there has been an election, but I do say to you gentlemen, that if you know that you are going to need $40,000,000, plus, you investigated it and found out, then, as an evidence of good faith, as a justification for the arguments that have been made upon the floor of this House, I ask you to back up your own contention by appropriating the full amount of the money you have transferred.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, whether we appropriate $12,000,000 at this time or whether we appropriate $34,000,000, it would be necessary to make two appropriations to meet the deficiency necessary for the Public Assistance program for the balance of the biennium. $12,000,000 will be sufficient to give the administration an opportunity to find out the exact amount which will be needed, and we will then have to make another appropriation, and it seems to me that it is not important, since we have to make two appropriations, whether we appropriate $12,000,000 or more at this time, and I therefore ask the membership of the House to vote down the amendment.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

NAYS—0

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. GATES filed the following reasons for his vote:

I am voting "aye" on House Bills Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5 and desire to file my reasons for so doing.

In the Regular Session of 1935 and Special Session of 1936, I opposed, with one exception, the transfer of money from special funds for any purpose, maintaining that we, constitutionally, had no right to transfer funds set aside for certain interests—for instance, highways, insurance, etc.

I realize the dire necessity for funds to provide food, clothes and shelter for the unemployed of our state, and this is my only reason for voting "aye". I have also been assured by leaders of the Republican Party that an act authorizing the Commonwealth to negotiate temporary emergency loans, evidenced by tax anticipation notes secured by and payable from proceeds of these notes the amounts transferred by the above bills will be repaid, so that work on the Pennsylvania State Highways will not be interfered with.

Mr. JIROLANIO filed the following reasons for his vote:

I am herewith filing my reasons for my vote of "no" on House Bills Nos. 1, 2, 3, and 4.

As long as there are funds available that can be used for the purpose of relief, I do not think it is proper to ask that funds from various sources be tapped especially the Motor Fund, wherein both parties have gone on record, that this particular fund remain untouched and to be used only for highway purposes.

There is at present $6,500,000 that can be used by the legislature for relief purposes. This amount remains as unused in various funds as pointed out by Mr. Cohen,

Further, I can see no reason for tapping funds in the amount of $34,000,000 when the House is only making a deficiency appropriation of $12,000,000 for relief purposes.

Mr. SEIF filed the following reasons for his vote:

I have voted "Aye" on House Bills Numbers 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5, and I desire to file my reasons therefor as follows:

1. Relief payments to the needy and destitute citizens of this State must be made, and since sufficient funds are not available, I consider the passage of these bills imperative to meet the existing condition of emergency.

2. The bills provide for repayment of all funds appropriated.

Mr. TRONZO filed the following reason for his vote:

I am voting for the transfer of these funds because the needy citizens of this Commonwealth can't afford to miss their daily bread.

Mr. WALSH filed the following reason for his vote:

I Voted "No" on House Bills No. 1, 2, 3, and 4, because I believe that sufficient funds are still available for adequate relief without such transfer at this time and because there has been no provision made for repayment of the transferred funds.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. TAYLOR and DAVID P. REESE.

RESOLUTION No. 1.

In the House of Representatives, January 16, 1939.

Whereas, Pennsylvania Farm Products Show is the largest winter agricultural exposition in America and its attendance is increasing every year; and

Whereas, The number of visitors, exhibitors, demonstrators, contentants, judges and participants requiring rooming accommodations during the Farm Show, taxes the capacity of hotels, boarding houses, tourist homes and private residences in Harrisburg and vicinity; and

Whereas, The present annual dates of the Farm Products Show conflict every two years with the first full week of the regular session of the General Assembly, and conflict every four years with the Inauguration of the Governor of the Commonwealth, both conflicts being to the discomfort of citizens desiring to attend these events and having business with the General Assembly; and

Whereas, Members of the Farm Show Committee at a recent meeting indicated informally their willingness to have the dates of the Farm Show changed in order to avoid conflicts and to afford better accommodations for those attending the exposition; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives call upon the State Farm Products Show Commission to give serious consideration forthwith to setting the dates of the annual Farm Show in a week which will not conflict with the Inauguration of the Governor or with a week when the General Assembly is customarily sitting.

RESOLUTION

Mr. TRONZO offered a resolution and asked unanimous consent that it be read for the information of the House.

The SPEAKER. This is not a privileged resolution. Will the House give its unanimous consent to have it read for information? Is there objection?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I object.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objection and consent is not granted.

MOTION TO SUSPEND RULE

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker, I move that Rule 84, be suspended for the specific purpose of reading and considering a non-privileged resolution at this time.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker—

The SPEAKER. For what purpose does the gentleman from Allegheny arise?

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker, for the purpose of explaining the reason why I desire a suspension of the rule.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Allegheny will proceed.

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker and members of this House, this is a resolution which will memorialize Congress or the Senate to increase the appropriation for W. P. A. The deficiency bill has been cut and the bill will be before the Senate within the next day or so, and this only memorializes the Senate or Congress to increase the deficiency bill to its original sum of $875,000,000, as requested by President Roosevelt. The relief rolls of this state have gone up to a total—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is out of order in discussing or debating the resolution at this time. A motion to suspend the rules is before the House.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is well taken. Will the gentleman from Allegheny confine himself to the motion to suspend the rule.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Tronzo and Mr. Baker and were as follows:

No. 4.

SENATE

TUESDAY, JANUARY 17, 1939.

The Senate met at 10.30 o'clock a. m.

The PRESIDENT. (Lieutenant Governor Thomas Kennedy) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. George Walker Buckner, LLD., offered the following prayer:

Almighty God and Creator, Thankful for the boons of life, and sobered by its banes, we stand at attention before Thy Throne of Grace.

"Dear Lord and Father of mankind,
 Forgive our fev'rish ways;
 Reclothe us in our rightful mind;
 In purer lives Thy service find,
 In deeper rev'rence, praise."

Help us to answer the challenge of Thy Love in goodness to our fellow-man. Cast Thy light upon the paths before us; and may we commit ourselves to the right, as Thou givest to know the right.

May Thy Divine Favor rest upon those who this day relinquish office. Ourselves so near the scenes and deeds, we are disqualified to render verdict. We leave to Thee, and the unfolding days, their place in history, and in the hearts of their countrymen; yet our own hearts cry out, "God bless them."

May Thy sufficient, unfailing Grace rest upon him who today answers the call of a sovereign people. Bless him and his associates; and from our fellowship of genuine endeavor, may there come to our beloved people a new orientation, an era of peace, prosperity and good will.

God bless our country. May it never cease to be the asylum of the oppressed, the friend of the forgotten—"Sweet Land of Liberty." Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. RICE and Mr. FREY, the further reading was dispensed with and the minutes of the Journal approved.

COMMITTEE TO WAIT UPON JUDGE JAMES

Mr. EDMONDS offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered, and agreed to:

In the Senate January 17, 1939.

Resolved, That a Committee of three Senators be appointed to wait upon the Honorable Arthur H. James and escort him to the Senate Chamber for the purpose of administering the oath of office to Honorable Samuel S. Lewis, Lieutenant-Governor elect.

The PRESIDENT. The President Pro Tempore appoints as said Committee the Senator from Montgomery, Mr. Edmonds, the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, and the Senator from Armstrong, Mr. Sipe.

COMMITTEE TO WAIT UPON SAMUEL S. LEWIS

PRESENTATION OF GAVEL TO PRESIDENT

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the Chief Clerk of the Senate, Mr. Mulvihill.

Mr. MULVIHILL. Mr. President of the Senate, I have the honor and the privilege of presenting to you in accordance with the custom of the Senate, a gavel as a token and a symbol of your regime as presiding officer of this Senate.

In presenting this gavel to you, may I say, that you have distinguished yourself for your courtesy, your kindness, your intelligence and your knowledge of parliamentary law. May I say to you, that I think I express the general sentiment when I say to you, you came into this Senate a big man in many walks of life, and you leave this Senate as a great man. We all wish you well.

The PRESIDENT. I desire to express my thanks to the Members of this Senate for this beautiful gift. I shall treasure it always as a memento of many happy experiences in this Senate. My friends, I have differed in rulings not only with the minority party for two years, but I also differed in rulings with ~~some~~ of my own party. But that is political democracy. My friends, I am glad I live in a Commonwealth, and in a Country where we have the right to think, where we have the right to act in our Legislative Assemblies, and where the power of the ballot is greater than any other power, even that of bullets or dictatorship or revolutions. I am glad I live in a Commonwealth that recognizes God as the Supreme Being; and where the State does not supplant the Divine Master. My friends, in conclusion, may I again say that I thank each and every member of this Senate for the cooperation they have extended me for the past four years and to say to them that it is a great privilege to return as a private citizen of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Thank you very much.

PRESENTATION OF GAVEL TO PRESIDENT

PRO TEMPORE

The Chief Clerk, Dennis J. Mulvihill; and the Secretary, John C. Morlock, then presented a gavel to the Honorable John S. Rice, the former President Pro Tempore.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE TO WAIT UPON LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR-ELECT SAMUEL S. LEWIS

Mr. CHAPMAN, Chairman of the Committee appointed to wait upon the Honorable Samuel S. Lewis and escort him to the Senate Chamber, reported that they had discharged the duty devolving upon them and had the honor to report the presence of the Honorable Samuel S. Lewis.

The Lieutenant-Governor-Elect was then escorted to the space in front of the Clerk's desk.

The PRESIDENT. The Committee is discharged with the thanks of the Senate.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE TO WAIT UPON JUDGE ARTHUR H. JAMES

Mr. EDMONDS, Chairman of the Committee to wait upon the Honorable Arthur H. James, Judge of the Superior Court of Pennsylvania, reported that they had discharged the duty devolving on them and had the honor to report the presence of the Honorable Arthur H. James.

The PRESIDENT. The Committee is discharged with the thanks of the Senate.

CERTIFICATE OF ELECTION OF LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR

Whereupon the certificate of the election of the Honorable Samuel S. Lewis, of York County as Lieutenant-Governor was read by the Chief Clerk of the Senate as follows:

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,

ADMINISTRATION OF OATH TO LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR-ELECT

After which the oath of office was duly administered to the Honorable Samuel S. Lewis, by the Honorable Arthur H. James, Judge of the Superior Court of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

The Lieutenant-Governor signed the oath of office at the Rostrum of the Senate.

MR. THOMAS KENNEDY. It is my privilege and pleasure at this time to present your new President, a man well versed in the affairs of the State government, the Honorable Samuel S. Lewis, Lieutenant-Governor of Pennsylvania, to whom I turn over the gavel and the authority of office.

INAUGURAL ADDRESS OF LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR SAMUEL S. LEWIS

Governor Kennedy, Members of the Senate and friends: The LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR.

I accept this office with grave consciousness of its responsibilities.

I became a candidate for Lieutenant Governor only because it was urged upon me that my experience in State affairs should be made available to the Commonwealth at this time. Such as it is, that experience is yours to command.

I am doubly honored today to receive my oath at the hands of one who preceded me as Lieutenant Governor and is so soon to become our Chief Executive.

As presiding officer of the Senate of Pennsylvania my course is clear. I propose to decide impartially, without fear or favor, all questions of procedure. When my vote is required in accordance with the Constitution on Legislation, it will be given always in support of the platform on which I was elected.

The people of the Commonwealth should be able to look upon their Senate as representative of their highest ideals of legislative performance. Its actions must conform with the traditional dignity and decorum of the Upper Legislative branch of the Government. I propose, with the support of the members of this body—upon which I confidently rely—to give my every effort to the maintenance of that tradition.

My responsibility as Chairman of the Board of Pardons impresses me as scarcely less important.

I regard it as the solemn obligation of the members of that Board not only to offer a helping hand to the sincerely repentant and to correct injustices, but to guard vigilantly against unleashing those to whom liberty means only license to prey again upon society.

The task faced by Governor James and by all of us in his Administration is a heavy one. The people of Pennsylvania in overwhelming number last November voiced their confidence in us. The day is now here when we must fulfill that confidence.

With a prayer that I may be worthy of this great trust I approach my own duties as Lieutenant Governor.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE TO NOTIFY THE HOUSE THE SENATE WILL BE READY TO ATTEND INAUGURAL CEREMONIES OF GOVERNOR-ELECT ARTHUR H. JAMES

Mr. WOLFENDEN, Chairman of the Committee appointed to notify the House the Senate will be ready to attend the Inaugural Ceremonies of Governor-Elect Arthur H. James, reported that they had discharged the duty devolving upon them.

The PRESIDENT. The Committee is discharged with the thanks of the Senate.

INAUGURATION OF GOVERNOR-ELECT ARTHUR H. JAMES

Whereupon, the President and members of the Senate proceeded to the platform on the west side of the Capitol where, in the presence of the President and President Pro Tempore and members of the Senate and Speaker and members of the House of Representatives, the certificate of election of Arthur H. James, of Plymouth, Luzerne County, as Governor of the Commonwealth for the ensuing four years was read by the Chief Clerk of the Senate as follows:

CERTIFICATE OF ELECTION OF GOVERNOR

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Harrisburg, January 3, 1939.

We, the President of the Senate and Speaker of the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, do certify that the President of the Senate did, on the third day of January, A. After which the oath of office was administered to the Governor-elect by the Honorable John W. Kephart, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court.

Whereupon Samuel S. Lewis, Lieutenant Governor and President of the Senate, proclaimed Arthur H. James to be duly elected and qualified as Governor of the Commonwealth for the ensuing four years.

The Senate returned to its Chamber, where the President announced that after the Governor had finished the delivery of his inaugural address he placed in his hands a copy thereof, which is now submitted to the Senate as follows:

(For inaugural address see today's House Proceedings.)

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Samuel S. Lewis) in the Chair.

RECESS

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess until four o'clock this afternoon.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed the Senate will be in order.

RECESS

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, that recess having elapsed, I move that the Senate do now take a recess for ten minutes.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed the Senate will be in order.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER APPROVAL OF JOURNAL OF JANUARY 3, 1939

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I do now move that the vote by which the Senate Journal of January 3, 1939 was approved on this date be reconsidered.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. OWLETT. I voted with the majority.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. MALLERY. I voted with the majority.

The PRESIDENT. The question is on the motion to reconsider.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, before the vote is put on the motion I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett will state his point of order.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, when this Senate convened according to the constitution on the first Tuesday of January, 1939, that is on January 3, 1939, all the Senators-elect were present in this Hall, but when the Senate convened on that date all the Senators-elect with the exception of the Senator from the Second District had received from the Secretary of the Commonwealth their certificates of election and the Deputy Secretary of the Commonwealth presented the election returns to this Senate. Said returns thus presented covered all the even numbered Senatorial Districts of this Commonwealth with the exception of the returns from the Second District, which returns were procured by the Sergeant-at-Arms. Following that presentation, the same were read and showed the election of Senators Snowden, Thomas and Letzler as well as all the other Senators. All of the Senators were then duly sworn and among those so sworn were Senators Letzler, Snowden and Thomas, all of whom were sworn in by Judge Albert S. C. Millar, a judge of the Court of Common Pleas of Philadelphia, in this chamber. Following the oath administered by him although repeatedly I asked that their votes be recorded on all questions, the then presiding officer denied them their constitutional right to vote and have their vote recorded; this denial was pursuant to a motion which should not have been adopted. Although he permitted the vote on said motion only twenty-two hold-over Senators were allowed to vote and the vote being fourteen to exclude the seating of these new Senators and eight to permit them to be sworn in. Further action by the then presiding officer in permitting the said motion to be adopted showed that it was in violation of Article 2, Section 10 of the Constitution of Pennsylvania and was unconstitutional and illegal and said roll was called and the votes of all the Senators-elect excluded. Although at that time all the Republican Senators-elect had been sworn in the body of this Senate by Judge Albert S. C. Millar of the Common Pleas Court of this Commonwealth. I now raise the point of order upon which I ask this chair to rule whether or not these three Senators were illegally denied their constitutional right to have their vote recorded and whether on the question now before this Senate and on all subsequent questions they will be permitted to vote.

The PRESIDENT. On the point of order raised by the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, the Chair desires to state he was present when the proceedings took place and was in this Senate Chamber on January 3 and he has examined the record of said proceedings and he finds that the Senator from Lycoming, Mr. Snowden, the Senator from Mercer, Mr. Thomas, and the Senator from Clearfield, Mr. Letzler were present in the body of this Senate and held their certificates of election as provided by law, issued by the Secretary of the Commonwealth, and that their returns were submitted to the body of this Senate and that they showed their election to the Senate in their respective Senatorial Districts and they were thereupon sworn in by Judge Albert Millar from the Common Pleas Court of Pennsylvania in the Hall of this Senate as provided by Article 7, Section 1, of the Constitution of this State.

I desire to state further the action taken to exclude these three Senators was unconstitutional and illegal. Therefore, the Chair rules that the three Senators are duly qualified members of this Body and were illegally denied their right to vote and have their vote recorded on all questions considered by the Senate on January 3, 1939, and the Chair further rules that on future questions they are entitled to cast their votes and be recorded. The Chair hereby directs the Clerk to record their roll.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, at what time in the organization of a parliamentary body must the question of the election and qualifications of a member be raised and by whom?

The PRESIDENT. By any member at any time.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, may I ask the President if the Journal shows if the question was raised by a member of this Senate at that time.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Tioga will state his point of order.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I suggest no member has the right to interrogate the President of the Senate.

The PRESIDENT. The point of order is well taken.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I'll be very glad to.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I wish to interrogate the gentlemen from Tioga and ask him to advise the minority members of this Senate at what time in the proceedings of the organization may a member of this Senate bring up a question of the election and qualifications of an incoming member.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, in reply to the Senator's interrogation, I wish to call the Senate's attention to the fact that when this Senate convened on January 3rd, 1939, all of the members of this body who were elected last November with the exception of the election of the Senator from the Second District, had received from the Secretary of this Commonwealth their certificates of election. The returns of the election had been submitted and read to this Body and showed their election. The minority members of this Senate on that day through the ruling of the then presiding officer of this body, permitted the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Levin, to be sworn in after his returns had been read and showed his election, of whom there was in that case a bonafide contest pending. I think I stated on the floor of the Senate at that time, and I think we all ought to concede that this Body is the judge of its own members, and the qualifications of its own members, and as this Body ought to do as it did, it showed his election and that was done with Mr. Levin. I also stated at that time that I thought it was the duty of this body to regard the mandate of the court, another coordinate branch of this Government. However, the President of this Senate, who was then the presiding officer did not see fit to recognize the authority as a coordinating branch of this Government, and ordered Mr. Levin sworn in, and then without any contest pending, the three men sitting in this body, sent here by the overwhelming vote of the great majority of the people in their respective Senatorial Districts by arbitrarily, unlawfully ruling their vote was excluded for the purpose of attempting to get control of this body from the majority in this Senate. I say to you, Mr. President, that the ruling of the Chair was unconstitutional, illegal and improper. These men are entitled to vote in this body from the County they came from as Senators-elect, all the Senators-elect are entitled to vote on organization. These men were illegally excluded on the votes taken in this Senate. I submit to the Senator who has interrogated me, that the ruling of this Chair, is proper and legal and these men should now be recognized as the Senators from their respective districts from which they were sent by the overwhelming majority.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President,—

The PRESIDENT. You are out of order.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President,—

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I raise the point of order that there is nothing before the Senate but the calling of the roll.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry which supersedes all questions of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, there was a resolution properly passed in this Senate, which required three members who were not seated that their cases be referred to a committee. I want to know whether the cases were referred to the proper committee of the Senate.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President,—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President,—

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett has the floor.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I ask that the Chair rule.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I suggest to the Senator from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, that the chair has ruled that the action taken by this body in excluding the three Senators was illegal, because the Chair permitted only twenty-two to vote, being less than a quorum.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I asked the President for an answer to a parliamentary question, and did not ask the Senator from Tioga to answer that question.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President,—

Mr. DENT. Mr. President,—

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Westmoreland yield to the gentleman from Philadelphia.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I listened with a great deal of interest to your speech this morning, when you said that you intended to rule with impartiality in these proceedings; and I assume that a point of order when raised is always in order even when a Republican Senator is speaking, as well as when a Democratic Senator is speaking. If it is not, I am willing to abide by the rules such as you make because I am practical enough to understand that 26 votes is a majority. I shall save my voice, and when the other side has the votes, I shall be governed by what they do with the vote.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, when a question of parliamentary inquiry is raised, I should like to know whether that question should be answered by the Chair or by a Senator from the floor. I understand that the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, addressed the question of parliamentary inquiry to the Chair. I am asking whether he gets his answer from the Chair or from the gentleman on the floor.

The PRESIDENT. In response to the gentleman from Philadelphia, the Chair will answer the parliamentary inquiry of the gentleman from Westmoreland. What is the inquiry?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, the inquiry is whether or not, according to the resolution properly passed by the Senate that the members who have not been seated, has been referred to a committee, or whether that committee has made a report. I ask whether or not that committee has made a report on the eligibility of those three Senators.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, will state his point of order.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I suggest that the parliamentary inquiry is not well taken because it is based on an incorrect premise. The gentleman stated that the resolution was referred to a committee. It was referred to a committee because the Lieutenant-Governor permitted only less than a quorum to vote on the motion.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, you yourself said you would answer my question of parliamentary inquiry, and for the second consecutive time you have allowed the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, to answer.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentlemen yield for a moment?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I will. I never heard the Chair ask for that before.

The PRESIDENT. In reply to the question of the gentleman from Westmoreland, I wish to state that the barring of the three Senators was unconstitutional and illegal.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, on that ruling I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. Will the guests please refrain from any demonstrations. Will the Senator from Fayette state his question of parliamentary inquiry?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, under what parliamentary procedure or provision of the Constitution does the President of this Senate at this time undertake to overrule the decision of the preceding President of the Senate?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, may I suggest that when a presiding officer of this body takes an unconstitutional and illegal action no present presiding officer is bound to follow the rule.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I'm sorry but may I rise a question of parliamentary inquiry for further guidance.

The PRESIDENT. Not at this time. The question now recurs shall the Senate reconsider the vote by which the Senate Journal of January 3, 1939 was approved on this date. Those voting "Aye" vote to reconsider, those voting "No" vote against reconsideration.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Shapiro and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—26.

Bartlett,	Farrell,	Mallery,	Stevenson,
Chapman,	Gelder,	Miller,	Tallman,
Crowe,	Geltz,	Owlett,	Thomas,
Deitrick,	Heyburn,	Pierson,	Walker,
Ealy,	Homsher,	Scarlett,	Wolfenden,

Gilson,	Kunkel,	Mundy,	Sipe,

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

MOTION TO LAY JOURNAL ON TABLE

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I now move that the Journal of January 3, be laid upon the table.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, There is a motion pending.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I would like to speak on that motion. I merely want to suggest to the gentlemen on the other side and for the purpose of the record that by virtue of the action of this Senate on January 3, 1939 there was convened a joint session of the Legislature before whom only the returns of the election for a Governor and Lieutenant Governor could be read. By virtue of this convention and by virtue of the reading of the returns could only these candidates be nominated. I suggest to the gentlemen on the other side before they lay this Journal of January 3 on the table and before they take any reconsideration action they consider the effect of their action.

And the question recurring.

Will the Senate agree to the motion to lay on the table?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Shapiro, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—26.

Bartlett,	Farrell,	Mallery,	Stevenson,
Chapman,	Gelder,	Miller,	Tallman,
Crowe,	Geltz,	Owlett,	Thomas,

Coleman,	Haluska,	Lanius,	Reed,
Dent,	Jacobs,	Levin,	Rice,
DiSilvestro,	Jaspan,	McCreesh,	Ruth,
Frey,	Kilgallen,	McGinnis,	Shapiro,
			Sipe,

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

CONSIDERATION OF NOTARY PUBLIC NOMINATIONS

Mr. Gelder offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered, and agreed to:

In the Senate, January 17, 1939.

Whereas, The reference to committee of nominations by the Governor for appointment of Notaries Public has resulted in the past in duplication of printing and an avoidable expense in the matter of printing, therefore, be it

Resolved, That nominations by the Governor for the appointment of Notaries Public be laid on the table until further action, and that the other nominations be referred to the Committee on Executive Nominations.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the Sergeant-at-Arms.

RECESS

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess for twenty-five minutes.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

ANNOUNCEMENTS BY THE SECRETARY

There will be a meeting of the Democratic Senators in the office of the Secretary of the Senate.

There will be a meeting of the Committee on Executive Nominations in the office of the President Pro Tempore.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed the Senate will be in order.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to present a bill at this time. Mr. President, in presenting this bill I should like to state that at the last session of the Legislature the Governor appointed a committee known as the City Charter Commission of Philadelphia. Senator Woodward of Philadelphia, my colleague and myself are members of that Commission. That Commission has prepared a bill for a new city charter and two supplementary bills. On behalf of Senator Woodward and myself I read in place and present the following bills.

Mr. President, due to the fact that Committee appointments have not been announced I ask that these bills be laid on the table until they may be referred to some appropriate committee.

The PRESIDENT. Is there any objection?

The Chair hears none.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I am directed by the Committee on Executive Nominations to report with favorable recommendations the following nominations of His Excellency the Governor for positions in his Cabinet.

ARTHUR H. JAMES.

EXECUTIVE SESSION

By unanimous consent,

A motion was made by Mr. OWLETT and Mr. MALLERY

That Rule 38 which requires nominations made by the Governor lie over one day be dispensed with, and the Senate do now resolve itself into Executive Session, for the purpose of acting on the foregoing nominations.

Which was agreed to.

Whereupon,

A motion was made by Mr. OWLETT and Mr. MALLERY

That the Senate do advise and consent to said nominations.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I object.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I now move to suspend Rule 38 which declares that nominations made by the Governor to lie on the table one day be dispensed with and the Senate do now resolve into Executive Session for the purpose of acting on the foregoing nominations which have just been reported by the Committee on Executive Nominations.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I object. I should like to speak on the motion.

The PRESIDENT. I will read this rule for the information of this Senate "The consent of two-thirds of the members of the Senate will be necessary to dispense with any rule."

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I think it is incumbent and fair that we should make our position plain just as the Republican majority has made its position plain to us. The action of this Senate, the Republican majority have today taken against our protest, we consider involves the organization of the Senate and we feel that this Senate can conduct no business until it conforms to the order of business. Because the minutes have been laid on the table, the minutes of the session of January 3, 1938, and because there its no approval of the organization of this Senate, we take the position that we can not and should not be called upon to vote upon any confirmation by the Senate. We want to record our objections on a pervious action in reconsideration without the proper vote and without the proper authority the approval of the minutes this morning in the session of January 3, 1939, and we ask for roll call and intend to vote no.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, for the information of the Senate I desire to state that we deemed the Journal was merely a record of what took place on January 3. The vote by which that Journal was approved this morning has been reconsidered and the record laid on the table. I suggest, Mr. President, that that in no way affects the fact that a proceeding was had on January 3, 1939 no matter how illegal part of that proceeding may have been. It does not affect the original organization in so far as the action taken in that meeting on January 3, 1939 was proper but it leaves open the Journal so that this Senate if it finds that this Journal needs correction may correct it. I submit therefore, Mr. President, that the point raised by the gentleman from Philadelphia was not well taken.

May I also call the Senate's attention to the fact that from time immemorial it has been the custom and the practice of the Senate of Pennsylvania on the day that the Governor is inaugurated to submit to this Senate for consideration the Cabinet and has been the universal practice, Mr. President, for this Senate to suspend Rule 38 requiring the nominations be laid on the table one day and to give immediate consideration because this body has heretofore recognized that when the Governor is inducted into office it is necessary that if this Government is to function that he have his official family. Now I take it, Mr. President, that the Governor can not insist that the Senate take everyone of his nominations if there is serious objection to one of them or if the Senate is not satisfied as to the qualification of any nominee. I do take it that the Senate has no right to arbitrarily refuse to confirm the whole of the Governor's Cabinet and in that connection may I call the Senate's attention to the statement made by the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, in this Senate just last November 21, and it has been made repeatedly on the floor of this Senate that the Governor's Cabinet was his official family and that was his arm in the functioning of the Government of this State.

Governor James has been elected Governor of the Commonwealth by the people of Pennsylvania and I state to my friends on the left, that the people of Pennsylvania expect that this Senate will not arbitrarily block the functioning of any Governor or this new Governor, and may I call attention to my friends on the left that four years ago when Governor Earle was elected Governor of the Commonwealth we had thirty-four Republican Senators in this body and the very day that Governor Earle was sworn in office we gave unanimous consent for suspension of Rule 38 and we unanimously confirmed every single member of Governor Earle's Cabinet. Now I say to my friends, That I do not believe that you want it to go out over the State of Pennsylvania that you men propose to arbitrarily block the functioning of this new administration. I do not believe that the people of Pennsylvania will stand for this Senate arbitrarily rejecting the Cabinet of Governor James because the people of Pennsylvania expect us to give Governor James a chance of having his administration functioning in a normal regular way. So I say, Mr. President, that the objection of the Senator from Philadelphia, who himself has repeatedly stated on the floor of this Senate that a Governor is entitled to fair consideration on the merits of his Cabinet Nominations and that he intended to vote for the Governor's Cabinet. I say that when he rises here at this time a question that because merely the record of what took place January 3, has been laid upon the table so that we can correct the part of that record that is not right, I say that when he raises a point of order that it is not well taken.

Mr. President I also want to call the attention of my friends on the left that the fact at the last Special Session of this Senate which adjourned after the election on November the 8th, the Committee on Executive Nominations brought out on the floor of this Senate every single Cabinet position and we promptly confirmed them by unanimous vote, all the Republicans voting for them and at this time, Mr. President, the Senator from Philadelphia had this to say and I read from the Journal of the Senate of November 21, 1938, "Mr. Shapiro. Mr. President, the Senate has just confirmed the seven nominees for Cabinet offices and has rejected three nominees because, apparently, their terms may extend beyond January 17th. I want to recall to the minds of some of the members of the Senate now present that in 1935, when I sat on the other side of the House, I made the statement then concerning the incoming Governor, the present Governor, that that Governor was not my candidate but that he was my Governor. I want to repeat that statement now and say that while Mr. James was not my candidate, on the 17th of January he will be my Governor, and so far as I am concerned I will go along in every method that he suggests to provide better conditions for the citizens of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania." Those are the words of the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro.

Governor James has sent to this Senate the names of men for his Cabinet and has in effect said that these men will help him provide better conditions for the citizens of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. I therefore wish to make it clear, Mr. President, that if my friends and colleagues on the left see fit to vote against the motion to suspend Rule 38 so that we can not consider these nominations today, that is giving notice to the State of Pennsylvania and to the people of Pennsylvania that they are going to do everything they can to block the successful administration of Judge Arthur H. James.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I hope in the future at least, my colleagues and the people of Pennsylvania will permit a Senator to finish speaking without interruption. I tried, but my friend from Tioga, as most of our colleagues, have tried to make these debates a matter of legislation and not personal. I agree with all that the Senator has read from my previous remarks. They are not new. I cannot be in error because I have always been consistent on that point. It is true I was a member of the Republican party, and I was here elected as a Republican Senator. I did not know that it was such news today. However, I am glad that the strangers are now informed of that fact. I have given equal service to the Republican party and to the Democratic party. Both with the same desire to do so as my duty as a citizen, and as a public official. I think it is much better for the people when a candidate considers his party duty, and I say that it does not make any difference to me whether I am a Democrat or a Republican when I walk into this Senate. The gentleman has referred to the record. If he will look into the record he will find that all of the approvals that he speaks of were made after the Journal was approved. If the gentleman of this Senate will approve the Journal of the Senate as it occurred on January 3rd, 1939, I am quite sure all of us will proceed with the regular order of business and approve these people. I am going to say this. I know what occurred during the Session of January 3rd, and before that, and I have indirectly in passing referred to some of the methods used by what they called the Republican majority. At the proper time that question will be aired. I do not want to go into that now. I promised I would not complain, I would be a good sport and not complain about any action as long as they have the vote. I know you have 26 votes. I am not going to cry about it or lose any sleep over it. I am going to vote for every bill that is for the interests of the people and I am sure that you will get that cooperation from every member of this Senate. I do not think Governor James had anything to do with what occurred with these proceedings. I do not think that what we are doing today has any indication or should be any indication to the Governor that we intend to interfere with his business. I think the Governor, himself, would suggest that last week is past, the Journal is here. Let us proceed to business. When that is done you will get from the Democratic Senators, the support of your cabinet officers, more than that you will get the support of any bill that is for the interest of the people.

Let us not fool each other. We have both been playing politics and I am frank to confess that I do not like the politics that we were compelled to play on January 3rd. I stated then and I repeat now that politics were played before that by the Republicans. The actions which they took I resented, and I expressed my opinion on the floor for the purpose of letting the people know what can happen when you mix politics to such an extent as were exhibited here on January 3rd and before that time. I am not here to oppose any of these men. I am here to insist that you be just as good a sport about the vote as we are going to be about your twenty-six votes. Two weeks ago Tuesday, the President Pro Tempore was elected by the so-called legal body as you term it. Since then your President Pro Tempore has signed payrolls, the Senate has been organized. If you want to scrap about that record and journal, then you are not interested in the Governor's business, if you proceed until you approve that journal, the people of Pennsylvania will be the judges and we will have to stand for that judgment.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I ask leave to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, if we are to understand from his remarks, if we at this time proceed to correct and approve the journal of January 3rd, whether I am to understand that after that journal is so corrected and approved, if he and his colleagues will then vote for the approval of the cabinet of the Governor?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to add and amendment that the word 'corrected' be stricken out and then my answer is yes.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I ask for an answer to my question. I ask that if we should now proceed to correct and approve the journal of January 3rd, whether he can assure me and my colleagues that the Cabinet would be approved?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the gentleman asked me whether I beat my wife as often as I used to. I insist that the journal did not need any correction. Of course, my friends on the other side did not like the journal. We are going to be sports about it because he has the twenty-six votes. He may correct it in a way that we don't like. Understand I am speaking now for the Caucus and I am bound by the Caucus and shall go along in that because it cannot be pointed to by the gentleman from Tioga. In the Senate History it is indicated that a journal of one week was corrected and then the approval of the Governor's cabinet. I want to be plain and not misunderstood. I mean very frankly this is an effort on the part of the Republican party as we see it to upset what was done on January 3rd, because the President Pro Tempore was elected by the Republicans. The only thing that can be upset is about one hundred appointments that have been made to clerks of committees, page boys, etc., and things of that kind, who probably depend and are looking forward to that job for their livelihood. I do not think that the Republicans think it is necessary and I don't think if you are really interested in the welfare of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and you don't mean that you want those jobs and you want the Governor helped, we are ready to help you, by basically approving the Governor's appointments to the Cabinet. It is not good sportsmanship for the other side to upset records in which they participated. We have known differences and as we see it we do not like the decision today; and I for one won't complain about them because I don't think you get anywhere. The rule works both ways.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro submit to further interrogation?

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I desire then to ask the Senator from Philadelphia whether we are to understand that the Democratic members of this Senate are offering their votes on the serious matter of the consideration of the Governor's Cabinet on the auction block. And in effect saying to us, it is true duly elected members of the Senate of Pennsylvania and sworn as such to do our duty as Senators, and giving fair consideration on all matters before us, and hoping without hope of reward, I now ask Senator Shapiro if we are to understand that they are now placing on the auction block in consideration for our approval of an illegal proceedings, that they are asking that consideration for them to do their duty as Senators in this Senate.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I do not expect to be a candidate in this Senate for the next two years, maybe not at all, so that if this is a political speech I am not interested.

I know Dr. Ruth. He sat in our Caucus and he told me to speak for him, and he resents the action of the Senators in not being sportsmen enough about adopting a proceedings. I don't think the Reverend Doctor Ruth would place his vote on the auction block. I know Senator Reed. I don't think he is offering anything on candidate in this Senate for the next two years, maybe Senator Rice. He knows the rest of the men who have been his colleagues in this Senate Chamber, and he knows where the auction block is and where to go for it.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, as I understand it, this is a motion to suspend that part of Rule 38, which requires that nominations made by the Governor lie on the table one day, and the Senate resolve itself into Executive Session for the purpose of considering those nominations. Do I understand correctly that a vote 'aye' is to suspend the rule.

The PRESIDENT. That is the way the Chair understands it.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I want to make one thing very clear. Either today or tomorrow we are going to vote on these nominations. Our real purpose is that maybe by tomorrow morning, our colleagues may use some better judgment than what they are using today.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. SHAPIRO and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—26.

Bartlett,	Farrell,	Mallery,	Stevenson
Chapman,	Gelder,	Miller,	Tallman,
Crowe,	Geltz,	Owlett,	Thomas,
Detrick,	Heyburn,	Pierson,	Walker,

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER PROCEEDINGS IN JOURNAL OF JANUARY THIRD.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I now move that the Journal of January 3rd be taken from the table for further consideration.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, on January 3rd, 1939, action was taken in this Senate to elect a President Pro Tempore of this Body; A Secretary of the Senate; a Chief Clerk of the Senate; a Librarian of the Senate, for the adoption of rules, for the election of officers, and clerks and other employes of the Senate during this present session. On all of these matters, when the roll was called the names of three duly elected qualified Senators were excluded from the roll, over the protest of me and other Republican Senators of this Body. The Journal of this Senate, January 3rd, 1939, will show that on the votes of these various officers, and the adoption of the various rules, the names of the Senator from Lycoming, Mr. Snowden, the Senator from Mercer, Mr. Thomas, and the Senator from Clearfield, Mr. Letzler, were not included in the roll, their names were not called and their votes were not recorded, although they were in their respective seats and duly sworn by Judge Albert S. Millar, from Philadelphia County, after having duly received a certificate of their election and after the returns from their Senatorial Districts had been presented to the Senate by the Secretary of the Commonwealth and read for the information of the Senate and showed their election by an overwhelming majority. Each of these Senators were excluded from the deliberations of this Body by the illegal and unconstitutional acts of the then presiding officer as he had already ruled by permitting only twenty-two members to vote, which is less than a quorum.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER ELECTION OF OFFICERS

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I now move that the roll on the election of the President Pro Tempore of the Senate, the Secretary of the Senate, the Chief Clerk of the Senate, the Senate Librarian, the roll on the motion electing the other officers of this body, be corrected and completed by calling the names of said three Senators, have their vote recorded, and that true, correct and legal results of said action on said motion be announced and those entitled to the various offices on said motion be duly and legally determined and that the Journal of January 3, 1939, must be corrected in accordance with this motion.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, will state his point of order.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, inasmuch as this is in effect nothing less than a reconsideration of the action of the Senate on January 3, the gentlemen who makes the motion to reconsider should state that he has voted with the majority.

The PRESIDENT. The point of order is not well taken by the Senator from Philadelphia. I rule that the motion to be in order and the Clerk shall call the roll.

The spectators must maintain order.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I wish to interrogate the gentleman from Tioga, Mr. Owlett.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Tioga permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. CAVAVLCANTE. Mr. President, the gentleman from Tioga in his motion has stated the action taken by the former President of the Senate was unconstitutional. Will the gentleman from Tioga enlighten his colleagues here and point specifically to what part of the constitution he refers or to what section was violated.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I will be very happy to enlighten the Senator and his colleagues in that regard. If the Chair will bare with me just a moment until I find this section.

In answer to the question of the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, I desire to call his attention to Article 2, Section 10, of the Constitution of Pennsylvania which requires that on all actions taken by the Senate a quorum must vote. Mr. President, at the time the vote was taken to which the Senator refers to and the Chair has already ruled that it was illegal and unconstitutional, namely, the vote excluding the three Senators, the presiding officer of the Senate only permitted twenty-two Senators to vote although there were forty-seven Senators in their seats in this Body. I do not think it takes much of a constitutional lawyer to follow when the presiding officer repeatedly had excluded all but twenty-two members of a body, which is less than a quorum, in order to pass on matters that are constitutional and legal just as the Chair has ruled in order to pass some of their motions.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I appreciate the gentleman from Tioga has the legal ability to construe the legal provisions of the Constitution but at least a man who would dare to claim some credit ought to be able to read the English and if the gentleman would read the section that he has referred to, "A majority of each House shall constitute a quorum * * *" but it does not say that that majority can pass a bill by a majority of those elected, not present, and if the gentleman from Tioga who knows so much about the Constitution and constitutional law will say that a majority of the Senators duly qualified and under oath in this Body vote for the proposition that he is now maintaining and that he now says is unconstitutional and unlawful.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, not wishing to prolong this discussion may I say to the gentleman from Westmoreland, I as sorry, I mean the gentleman from Fayette.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, before the sorrow gets too great I move that we proceed to a vote.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I only want to take this much time. In 23 LRA. 354 in which this general question was ruled—

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, was that rule in Nazi Germany or Soviet Russia?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, that was decided in good old United States.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Cavalcante and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—25.

Bartlett,	Gelder,	Mallery,	Stevenson,
Chapman,	Geltz,	Miller,	Tallman,
Crowe,	Heyburn,	Owlett,	Thomas,
Deitrick,	Homsher,	Pierson,	Walker,
Ealy,	James,	Scarlett,	Wolfenden,
Edmonds,	Letzler,	Snowden,	Woodward,
Farrell,

NAYS—22.

Cavalcante,	Gilson,	Lanlus,	Reed,
Coleman,	Haluska,	Levin,	Rice,
Dent,	Jacobs,	McCreesh,	Ruth,
DiSilvestro,	Jaspan,	McGinnis,	Shapiro,
Eroe,	Kilgallen,	Mundy,	Sipe,
Frey,	Kunkel,

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

RECONSIDERATION OF ELECTION OF PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, the roll call on the Journal of January 3, will show that the gentleman from Susquehanna, Mr. Gelder, was a nominee together with the Senator from Adams, Mr. Rice, for President Pro Tempore of this Body, that he received twenty-three votes and the Senator from Adams received twenty-two votes. I now ask that the motion to ascertain and record the votes of the Senator from Lycoming, Mr. Snowden, the Senator from Mercer, Mr. Thomas, and the Senator from Clearfield, Mr. Letzler, for the purpose of correcting and completing the said roll call and that the Journal of January 3, 1939 be corrected in accordance therewith.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, will state his point of order.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, the President Pro Tempore having taken his oath of office the motion of the gentleman from Tioga is out of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair rules that point of order is not well taken.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I would request a ruling, Mr. President. I find myself in the same position as Senator Owlett was last Tuesday and I assure you I will take it in as good grace as he did. If it was not so that the Senator is asking for reconsideration of the action of the Senate and therefore must disclose that he voted with the majority, having failed to do so, I suggest that the motion is out of order.

The point of order is not well taken.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I wish to interrogate the Senator from Susquehanna, Mr. Gelder.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Susquehanna, Mr. Gelder, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, will the gentleman from Susquehanna state whether he has already assumed his oath as President Pro Tempore, whether he has lawfully executed the duties pertaining to that office?

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I have assumed the office of President Pro Tempore and have taken the oath of office and have discharged such duties as have come before me, I have, however, up to the present time—

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, thank you very much.

The PRESIDENT. The Clerk will call the roll.

The roll was called and was as follows:

For Mr. GELDER

Letzler	Snowden,	Thomas,
---------	----------	---------

The PRESIDENT. The roll call on the election of the President Pro Tempore having been completed I hereby announce that Honorable Frederick T. Gelder received twenty-six votes and the Honorable John S. Rice twenty-two votes and I hereby declare the Honorable Frederick T. Gelder elected President Pro Tempore of the Senate by a vote of twenty-six votes to twenty-two votes.

RECONSIDERATION OF ELECTION OF SECRETARY OF THE SENATE

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, pursuant to the motion already adopted I now call the Chair's attention to the fact that the roll was called and on the election of Secretary of the Senate and that John C. Morlock received twenty-three votes and George F. Holmes received twenty-two votes and said names of the three Senators, Messrs. Snowden, Thomas and Letzler not having been recorded on that call and I ask that their vote be now ascertained and the said roll be completed and corrected in order that the Journal may be completed and corrected for the Session of January 3, 1939.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to say here and now the record notes that the gentlemen who here are permitted to vote and those who are about to vote now have been by resolution adopted, referred to a special committee and their election held in abeyance until action by that committee. I merely ask that that be noted on the record.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, will state his point of order.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, the term office and duties of the employees included in the motion by the Senator from Tioga are guided by the Act of Assembly of 1919 and the motion made by the gentleman is not in conformity with that act of Assembly.

The PRESIDENT. The point of order of the Senator from Fayette is not well taken and the Clerk is directed to call the names of the three Senators.

For Mr. HOLMES

Letzler,	Snowden,	Thomas,
----------	----------	---------

The PRESIDENT. The roll call shows that George F. Holmes received twenty-five votes and that John C. Morlock received twenty-three votes. I hereby declare George F. Holmes elected Secretary of the Senate.

RECONSIDERATION OF ELECTION OF CHIEF CLERK

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, on the election of the Chief Clerk of the Senate the Journal of the Senate will show that Mr. Dennis J. Mulvihill received twenty-three votes and that William J. Ridge received twenty-two votes, with the three Senators mentioned before not having been included in said roll. For the purpose of completing said roll I move that the said three names be now called and entered on the Journal.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire the record to record the fact that these gentlemen whose names are about to be called are three members whose question of election was referred to a Committee on Elections and no action has been taken and no report has been received and the motion of the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, is out of order, in addition to which the gentlemen making the motion to reconsidered the action of the Senate did not vote in the majority and the Senator is out of order.

The PRESIDENT. The remarks will be noted in the Journal.

The roll was called and was as follows:

For Mr. RIDGE

Letzler, Snowden, Thomas,

The PRESIDENT. The roll call shows that Dennis J. Mulvihill received twenty-three votes and the William J. Ridge received twenty-five votes and I hereby declare William J. Ridge elected Chief Clerk of the Senate.

RECONSIDERATION OF ELECTION OF SENATE LIBRARIAN

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, on the election of the Senate Librarian, when the roll was called, Alex S. Cooper received twenty-two votes and Thomas J. Callahan received twenty-three votes. The three Senators hereinbefore mentioned were not permitted to vote, I now move that said roll call be completed and corrected and order that the Journal of January 3, 1939 may be completed and corrected accordingly.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The only thing in order now is the calling of the roll.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, you had better read something about Parliamentary Law!

The roll was called and was as follows:

For Mr. COOPER

Letzler, Snowden, Thomas,

The PRESIDENT. It now appears that Alex S. Cooper has been elected Senate Librarian having received twenty-five votes and Thomas J. Callahan having received twenty-three votes.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, who recorded the vote just taken?

The PRESIDENT. The Clerk.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, who is the Clerk?

Mr. OWLETT. I suggest that the new Clerk has not been sworn in yet, and will not take office until then.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, the old Clerk is only entitled to hold office until ten days after the third of January or until his successor is duly elected and qualified.

Mr. OWLETT. That is not according to the rules or the Constitution regardless of how you rule.

Mr. DENT. Who rules?

The PRESIDENT. I ruled that he has been elected.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I appeal from the decision of the Chair.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, I second the appeal.

Mr. OWLETT. I move that the appeal of the Senator from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, from the ruling of the Chair, be laid on the table.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I move—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President,

The PRESIDENT. The motion to lay on the table is not debateable.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I know it is not debateable. I know Parliamentary Law even if you do not. I move that the motion just made whereby the motion that I made be laid on the table—

The PRESIDENT. The motion is out of order.

MOTION TO ADJOURN

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I move that we now adjourn.

Mr. FREY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I rise to a question of Parliamentary Inquiry.

Mr. DENT. The motion to adjourn is not debateable.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President. As I take it we are voting on the motion to adjourn. I ask the Senate to vote "no."

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President,—

The PRESIDENT. There is nothing in order but the calling of the roll.

MOTION TO ADJOURN WITHDRAWN

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, as the maker of that motion I am entitled to talk. I withdraw my motion to adjourn.

Mr. FREY. Mr. President, I withdraw my second to Mr. Dent's motion.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, am I correct in my understanding that we are now voting on the motion to lay the appeal of the Senator from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, on the table.

The PRESIDENT. That is correct.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I ask the Senate to vote "aye."

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I understand in your talk this morning that you had not intended being arbitrary in any of your rulings.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I wish to recede from my position to appeal from decision of the Chair.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, I withdraw my second.

The PRESIDENT. You withdraw the appeal?

Mr. DENT. Absolutely!

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I now ask that the three newly elected officers of the Senate, the new Secretary of the Senate, George F. Holmes, Chief Clerk of the Senate, William J. Ridge, and Librarian of the Senate, Alex S. Cooper be sworn in by Judge Albert S. C. Millar.

The PRESIDENT. The Senate will come to order and the Senators will take their Seats.

The oath of office was then administered by Judge Albert S. C. Millar to the newly elected Secretary of the Senate, George F. Holmes, Chief Clerk of the Senate, William J. Ridge and Librarian of the Senate, Alex S. Cooper.

The PRESIDENT. I request the said newly elected officers take their place at the desk and request the retiring officers to leave and to turn over any books or papers in their possession pertaining to their duties.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President,

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman yield just a moment?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, with pleasure.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, will state his question of personal privilege.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order at this time.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, will state his point of order.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I dislike to interrupt the Senator from Fayette and I rise to raise this point of order because we have had this motion that we complete certain roll calls and there are some further roll calls to complete. I would like to ask the Senator from Fayette if he would not defer his question until we finish the work provided for in this motion.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, let the Clerk expunge what I have already said in the record and I shall yield the floor at this time to the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett.

RECONSIDERATION OF ELECTION OF OFFICERS AND EMPLOYEES

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I now ask that the roll shall be called on the resolution by which it was attempted on January 3, to fill the various offices in this Senate and I call the President's attention to the fact that the Journal will show that there were twenty three votes in favor of their election and that the three Senators named here before were excluded from voting. I therefore ask that pursuant to the motion adopted today for the purpose of completing and correcting the roll call of said resolution, the names of the three Senators, the Senator from Lycoming, Mr. Snowden, the Senator from Mercer, Mr. Thomas, and the Senator from Clearfield, Mr. Letzler, be called.

The PRESIDENT. The Clerk is hereby directed to call the roll of the three names of the Senators just named.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to object to the request for the reasons stated on the record and further it is in effect a motion to reconsider and the gentleman has not voted in the affirmative on the original motion in addition to which the resolution was introduced under act of 1919, under which these employees now hold office.

The PRESIDENT. The point of order is not well taken.

The roll of the Senators was called and was as follows:

NAY

Letzler Snowden Thomas

The PRESIDENT. The vote on the election of officers and employees of the Senate is twenty-five "ayes" and twenty-three "ayes." The motion is therefore not agreed to and those named in said motion are hereby declared not elected.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER ADOPTION OF RULES OF THE SENATE

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, the only other matter included in the motion that was adopted by the Senate with reference to completion of the roll call has to do with the roll call on adoption of the Rules. After conferring with my colleague the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, we have agreed to defer that until after a recess which has been requested.

The PRESIDENT. Before a motion to recess is made the Senator from Fayette desires to make a statement.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, this great Commonwealth has come a long way since the first colonists landed on the shores of the Delaware in the year 1638 and established the colony of New Sweden. The people who were born and who have lived within the limits of this Commonwealth have seen the political government pass from the Indian to the Swede; from the Swede to the Dutch; from the Dutch to the English and from the English to the American.

The same people have seen the wilderness yield to the hand of husbandry while the bowels of the earth have yielded up the God-hidden minerals for the disposition of mankind; where once the Indian wigwam stood now rise a million schools, churches and commodious homes. The tiny political government in Printz Hall on Tinicum Island on the Delaware has become the mighty political government in this magnificent granite monument on the banks of the beautiful Susquehanna.

This Commonwealth has enjoyed and suffered the crowned sway of mighty kings and monarchs. It has endured subjection to proprietary lordship and royal despotism. It is the present belief of people that we are now enjoying the blessings of a civil and religious liberty that is defined and guarded by a written Constitution which has been solemnly ordained and established at the instance and will of the people of this Commonwealth. Events within our immediate knowledge urge us at this time to diagnose the formability of this written Constitution to stay the hand of public officials from despotically using the powers of Government entrusted to them.

It is axiomatic that under our Constitution the powers of government are divided among three branches, namely:

- (1) The Legislature
- (2) The Executive, and
- (3) The Judiciary.

Article 2, section 1, of the Constitution provides:

"The legislative power of this Commonwealth shall be vested in a General Assembly which shall consist of a Senate and House of Representatives."

Article 4, section 2, of the same Constitution provides inter alia:

"The supreme executive power shall be vested in the governor, ———."

Article 5, section 1, of the same Constitution provides:

"The Judicial power of this Commonwealth shall be vested in a Supreme Court, in Courts of Common Pleas, courts of Oyer and Terminer and General Jail Delivery, courts of Quarter sessions of the Peace, Orphans' courts, Magistrates' Courts and any such other courts as the General Assembly may from time to time establish."

It is also axiomatic that under our constitution these three governmental branches are supreme each in its respective sphere and each is endowed with power to repel the encroachment of the others. If this were not true, the bloody struggles of the people to abolish despotism from our political government was all in vain.

With these few scattered observations in mind let us scan the recent actions of the Judiciary in matters touching this Senate. On December First, 1936, Mr. P. J. Henney, became a member of this Senate from the forty-fifth Senatorial District for a term of four years. In 1937, while still a member of this Senate, Mr. Henney was elected to the office of Coroner in Allegheny County and entered upon the duties of that office on the first Monday of January 1938. Thereafter Mr. Henney discharged the duties of both these offices without objection until shortly after the general election of November Eighth, 1938. From a political standpoint the results of this last election and the defection of the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Reyburn left this Senate evenly divided with twenty-five Democrats and twenty-five Republican members. His Excellency, the Lieutenant Governor, was expected to cast the vote to break the tie and give the Democrats the control of this Senate. To forestall this and to take control of the Senate from the Democrats the leaders of the Republican party instituted proceedings in the Courts of Allegheny County against Mr. Henney upon the grounds that the office of Senator was incompatible with that of Coroner. These proceedings finally came up for a hearing before the Supreme Court at Philadelphia at a special session of the court due to the keen interest evinced by the Chief Justice. In the Levin case the Chief Justice was much irked that his court was asked to meet to hear arguments in that case in advance of the regular argument list. Undoubtedly, in the mind of the Chief Justice the Henney case was first because Mr. Levin had already been knocked out by a lower court.

To date no opinion has been filed in the Henney case and no order has been entered in the case. It is authoritatively reported that the Chief Justice did informally express his opinion that the office of Senator and that of Coroner were incompatible because the office of Coroner involved the exercise of state wide powers in the issuance of subpoenas and that Mr. Henney should make a selection before a certain date. It is also reported that on that certain date Mr. Henney's attorney delivered to the Chief Justice a paper addressed to his Excellency, Thomas A. Kennedy, Lieutenant Governor, and purportedly to be the resignation of Mr. Henney from the office of Senator effective immediately. The Supreme Court dockets show that this paper was entered as of record in that court. It is unexplained why Mr. Henney's resignation was delivered to the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court instead of the presiding officer of the body of which Mr. Henney was a member. Surely the Chief Justice was familiar with the law in this matter as declared by the courts of the land. It is as follows:

"Sec. 132. MODE OF RESIGNATION. A resignation of a public office to be effective, must be made with the intention of relinquishing the office, accompanied by the act of relinquishment. It is not necessary that a resignation from a public office be couched in any particular words, it being only necessary that the incumbent evince a purpose to relinquish the office. Where no particular mode of resigning an office is provided by constitutional or statutory requirements, no formal method is necessary; it may be by parol, or it may be implied."

"Sec. 133. TO WHOM TENDERED. In the absence of statutory provisions regulating the matter, the resignation should be tendered, in the case of appointive office, to the person or body having the power to appoint a successor, but if the office is elective, it should be tendered to the power authorized to call an election to fill the vacancy. Where a statute provides that all resignations of office shall be tendered in writing to the one having the power to fill the vacancy, a resignation tendered to any other person is a nullity."

Now, the Chief Justice is a learned and honorable man. He surely knows that under the decisions of his own court the question in Mr. Henney's case becomes moot immediately upon the acceptance of the resignation by the Senate and not the Supreme Court.

Hence, it is a sure bet that the Chief Justice will emit a sigh of relief when the Republican members of this Senate will have accepted Mr. Henney's resignation. This will relieve the learned and honorable Chief Justice from the arduous task of declaring the office of Senator incompatible with that of Coroner as informally expressed by him. The learned Chief Justice knows that he will find no constitutional or statutory warranty to support his position. Let us help the learned and honorable Chief Justice a little.

Article 2, section 6, of the Constitution provides:

"No Senator or Representative shall, during the time for which he shall have been elected, be appointed to any civil office under this Commonwealth, and no member of Congress or other person holding any office (except of Attorney-at-law or in the militia) under the United States or this Commonwealth shall be a member of either House during his continuance in office."

Under this provision Mr. Henney cannot during the time for which he was elected Senator, "be appointed to any civil office," nor can he hold any office "under this Commonwealth." Mr. Henney was not "appointed to any civil office." The only question to be determined, therefore, by the Supreme Court was whether the Office of Coroner is an office "under this Commonwealth" or whether it is a local office. This question is not a hard one if the learned and honorable Chief Justice would read the Constitution. Let us see what the Constitution itself says about State and Local officers.

In Article 12, section 1, of the Constitution we find this significant classification;

"All officers whose selection is not provided for in this Constitution, shall be elected or appointed as may be directed by law: Provided, that elections of State officers shall be held on a general election day, and elections of local officers shall be held on a municipal election day ———."

Is a Coroner elected "on a general election day" or is he elected "on a municipal election day?" Surely the Chief Justice can read English. The Coroner is elected "on a municipal election day." This should be sufficient proof that the Coroner is a local officer and not one "under this Commonwealth." If, however, this is not sufficient proof to the learned and honorable Chief Justice then Article 14, section 1, of the same Constitution should dispell all doubt. That section provides as follows:

"County officers shall consist of sheriffs, coroners, prothonotaries, register of wills, recorders of deeds, commissioners, treasurers, surveyors, auditors or controllers, clerks of the courts, district attorneys and such others as may from time to time be established by law ———."

Can there now be any doubt in the minds of the Supreme Court that the office of Coroner is a local and county office? In view of these subsisting constitutional precepts, upon what stretch of the imagination and strained Judicial construction can the office of Coroner be declared to be a state office?

Article 14, section 2, of the Constitution provides:

"County officers shall be elected at the municipal elections and shall hold their offices for the term of four years, beginning on the first Monday of January next after their election ———"

Surely there can be no doubt as to the meaning of this language and that it applies to the office of Coroner.

If the Constitution does not declare the office of Senator incompatible with that of Coroner, may the Supreme Court by Judicial fiat create the incompatibility? Let us again look to the Constitution for an answer to this question.

Article 12, section 2, provides inter alia:

"———The General Assembly may by law declare what offices are incompatible."

Hence, the power to declare incompatibility between public offices belongs to the "General Assembly" and not to the Chief Justice nor to the Supreme or other courts. A diligent examination of our statutory law will show that the "General Assembly" has exercised this power repeatedly.

The Act of 1874 P. L. 186 has declared the following offices to be incompatible:

(1) Any office or appointment of profit and trust under the government of the United States and that of

- a. Justice of the Peace
- b. Notary Public
- c. Mayor
- d. Recorder
- e. Burgess of any city, corporate town or borough.
- f. Alderman of any city, corporate town or borough.
- g. Resident physican of the lazaretto.
- h. Constable.
- i. Judge, inspector or clerk of election.

(2) The office of associate judge and justice of the peace shall be incompatible with each other.

(3) No district attorney shall be eligible to a seat in the Legislature, or to any other office under the laws and Constitution of the state, during his continuance in office.

(4) No county commissioner shall be eligible to serve as a member of the board of health or director of the public schools, during his continuance in office.

(5) No alderman or practicing attorney shall be eligible to the office of an inspector of the county prison.

(6) No person shall at the same time, be a member of more than one of the following bodies, to-wit:

- a. City councils
- b. Guardians of the poor
- c. Board of health
- d. Inspectors of county prison nor shall any person be a member of any these bodies, who is at the same time a salaried officer under the same or under any of them.

(7) Section 15 of this Act is a substantial rescript of Article 2, section 6, of the Constitution.

(8) No member of council of any city shall be eligible to any office, employment or agency directly chosen by councils, or either branch of them, during the term for which he shall have been elected to councils.

(9) No member of city councils shall hold any office or employment in the choice of city councils during the term for which he shall have been elected.

(10) Member of city councils shall not hold any city or county offices in the choice of the people, while serving as a member of councils.

(11) No person shall be capable of holding and exercising the office of school director, constable, path-master or commissioner of roads, and that of township or borough auditor.

(12) Under the Act of 1911, section 207, P. L. 318, the offices of Mayor, chief Burgess, county commissioner, district attorney; city, borough or township or township treasurer; city councilman, township commissioner, road supervisor, tax collector, assessor, assistant assesor, comptroller, auditor, or constable—are incompatible with that of school director.

(13) Under the Act of 1915, section 1, P. L. 579, a member of council in any municipality shall not be eligible to the office of school director and a school director shall not be eligible to the office of a member of council.

(14) Under the Act of 1915, Chapter 7, Article 2, section 2, P. L. 394, no member of Congress or any person holding any office or appointment of profit or trust under the Government of the United States shall be capable of holding the office of Burgess.

These references, Mr. President, clearly indicate that the General Assembly has exercised the power to declare what offices shall be incompatible. The only county office declared to be incompatible with that of a member of the Legislature is that of District Attorney.

If the General Assembly wished to declare the other county offices incompatible with that of a seat in the Legislature they would have done so.

It is unfortunate that the learned and Honorable Chief Justice has undertaken to exercise this legislative power through Judicial fiat. I care not what partisans may think about it. In my humble opinion of the conduct of the Chief Justice in the Henney case was down right Judicial tyranny and unless his hand is stayed our democratic form of government will be endangered.

HOUSE MESSAGE

RECESS

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess until 8:00 a. m. today.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I second the motion. The motion was agreed to.

ANNOUNCEMENTS BY THE SECRETARY

There will be a Caucus of the Republican Senators in the office of the President Pro Tempore during the recess.

There will be a caucus of the Democratic Senators in the office of the Secretary during the Recess.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed the Senate will be in order.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair will clear the table.

The communications from the Governor will be read by the Clerk.

POSTAGE ON LEGISLATIVE JOURNAL

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,

Governor's Office, Harrisburg, Pa., January 16, 1939.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed a resolution of the Senate and House of Representatives authorizing the Chief Clerk of the Senate and the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives to make proper arrangements for the necessary postage, in order that the Legislative Journal may be mailed according to the requirements of the Post Office Department, etc.

GEORGE H. EARLE

LEGISLATIVE INAUGURAL COMMITTEE

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,

Governor's Office, Harrisburg, Pa., January 6, 1939.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed Senate Concurrent Resolution authorizing the appointment of a Legislative Inaugural Committee making an appropriation, etc.

GEORGE H. EARLE

RECONSIDERATION OF ADOPTION OF RULES

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, the Journal of January 3, will show that a resolution was submitted for the adoption of the Rules of procedure and a vote was taken thereof, the result being twenty-three votes for the adoption of said rule and twenty-two against. The roll on said resolution did not contain the names of the three Senators heretofore mentioned. I now ask that the roll be completed and corrected accordingly and that the Journal of January 3 be completed accordingly.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I object on the grounds that this is merely a reconsideration and the gentleman, not having voted in the majority, is not entitled to make this motion. I ask that the motion be declared out of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Clerk will proceed to call the roll.

NAY

Letzler. Snowden. Thomas.

The PRESIDENT. It now appears that said roll having been completed and corrected shows twenty-five votes opposing the adoption of the rules and twenty-three in favor of the adoption of the rules and they are therefore not adopted.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I now move that the Journal of the Session of January 3, 1939 be corrected and completed according to the new roll calls taken and the further reading be dispensed with and that it be approved and corrected and completed according to the action taken here tonight.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Shapiro and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—25.

Bartlett.	Gelder.	Mallery.	Stevenson.
Chapman.	Geltz.	Miller.	Tallman.
Crowe.	Heyburn.	Owlett.	Thomas.
Detrick.	Homsher.	Pierson.	Walker.
Ealy.	James.	Carlett.	Wolfenden.
Edmonds.	Letzler.	Snowden.	Woodward.
Farrell.

NAYS—22.

Caualcante.	Gilson.	Lanius.	Reed.
Coleman.	Haluska.	Levin.	Rice.
Dent.	Jacobs.	McCreesh.	Ruth.
DiSilvestro.	Jaspan.	McGinnis.	Shapiro.
Eroe.	Kilgallen.	Mundy.	Sipe.
Frey.	Kunkel.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to ask for leave of absence at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there any objection?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I should have not neglected to ask leave of absence for my colleague, Senator Stiefel who is ill.

The PRESIDENT. Are there any objections? The Chair hears none. The leave is granted.

ADOPTION OF RULES

Mr. GELDER offered the following resolution which was twice read:

In the Senate, January 17, 1939.

Resolved, That the Standing Rules of the Senate during the Regular Session of 1937 be adopted for the government of the Senate during the Regular Session of 1939, with the exception of Rule 16 which is hereby amended to read as follows:

Rule 16. When a question has been once made and carried in the affirmative or negative, it shall be in order for any two members of the majority to move the reconsideration thereof. When the Senate has been equally divided on a question, or a bill shall have failed to pass, by reason of not having a constitutional majority, it shall be in order for any two who voted in the negative to move the reconsideration thereof.

Provided however, that no motion for the reconsideration of any vote shall be in order after a bill, resolution, report, amendment or motion upon which the vote was taken shall have gone out of the possession of the Senate.

Provided, further that no motion for reconsideration shall be in order unless made on the same day on which the vote was taken, or within the next five days of actual session of the Senate thereafter.

Provided further, however, that a motion to remove the President pro tempore or any other officer or employee of the Senate, or to reconsider the appointment or election of the President pro tempore, or any other officer or employee of the Senate, shall require the consent of two-thirds of all members elected to the Senate.

Also with the exception of Rule 23 which is hereby amended as follows:

Rule 23. There shall be the following Standing Committees:

Committee on Aeronautics
Committee on Agriculture

Committee on Appropriations Committee on Banking
 Committee on Corporations
 Committee on County Government
 Committee on Elections
 Committee on Education
 Committee on Executive Nominations Committee on Federal Relations
 Committee on Finance Committee on Forestry, Game and Fish
 Committee on Highways
 Committee on Insurance
 Committee on Judiciary General
 Committee on Judiciary Special Committee on Labor and Industry
 Committee on Law and Order
 Committee on Military Affairs
 Committee on Mines and Mining
 Committee on Municipal Government
 Committee on Public Health
 Committee on Public Utilities
 Committee on Rules
 Committee on State Government
 Committee on Welfare, Public Assistance and Pensions.

The members and the Chairman of the said Standing Committees shall be appointed by the President pro tempore as soon after his election as possible. All vacancies occurring in said committees by resignation or otherwise shall be filled by the President pro tempore.

The President pro tempore shall be ex-officio a member of all Standing Committees and included in the number of committee members herein provided and he shall be Chairman of the Committee on Rules.

The several above committees shall consist of the following:

Aeronautics, Agriculture County Government, Education, Finance, Labor and Industry, Law and Order, and State Government, fifteen (15) Senators each; Appropriations, Judiciary General, twenty-one (21) Senators each; Banking and Mines and Mining, fourteen (14) Senators each; Corporations and Municipal Government, thirteen (13) Senators each; Elections and Executive Nominations, seven (7) Senators each; Federal Relations, ten (10) Senators; Forestry, Game and Fish and Welfare, Public Assistance and Pensions, sixteen (16) Senators each; Highways, eighteen (18) Senators; Insurance, Military Affairs and Public Utilities, twelve (12) Senators each; Judiciary Special nine (9) Senators; Public Health, eleven (11) Senators; Rules, six (6) Senators.

Also with the exception of Rule 25 which is hereby amended as follows:

Rule 25. The rules and proceedings of the Senate shall be observed, in the Committee of the Whole, excepting that a member may speak oftener than twice on the same subject. In Committee Whole, the previous question cannot be called, the yeas and nays required, nor can there be an appeal from the decision of the chairman.

And further, with the exception of Rule 29 which is hereby amended to read as follows:

Rule 29. The consent of two thirds of the members present shall be necessary to suspend any rule.

The consent of two-thirds of all members elected to the Senate shall be necessary to alter, change, or amend these rules.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, this is another motion which in affect is to reconsider the previous action of this Senate and I expect requires that the gentlemen voting in the majority from Susquehanna vote in the affirmative which he did not. I therefore rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro will state his point of order.

Mr. SHAPIRO. The motion is out of order. The Senator did not vote with the majority. Also since this is a change of the existing rules it requires a two-thirds vote.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I suggest that this point of order is not well taken for the reason that the action of this Senate, in completing the roll had the effect of completing the Journal.

The PRESIDENT. The point of order is well taken.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, very gladly.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President do I understand that the gentleman from Tioga that the Senate has been operating without any rules?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I take the position that the rules which were claimed to have been adopted in the Senate on January 3, were not legally adopted because three Senators legally entitled to vote in the legislative body were deprived of that vote. No legislative body can act without rules. We have gone on the assumption they were illegally adopted and were therefore not adopted at all. The rules we are now submitting are the procedure for this body. That is the position I take.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I merely wish the record to be correct. The gentleman from Tioga said we have had no Rules all day. I would like that corrected. If not I would like to know at which point during the day we have had no rules or when the new ones begin.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I submit, Mr. President that the statements I have just made states our positions and does not clarify records.

Mr. CAVALVANTE. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, very gladly.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, some time ago the Senator made a motion to suspend Rule 38. May I ask which Rule 38 he means?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, as I stated a few moments ago some rules were stated by the then President of the Senate to have been adopted, and we today have proceeded under those rules. They were illegally adopted because three Senators did not vote for them. It has been determined that those rules were not adopted at all. I maintain, Mr. President, in answer to the interrogation of the Senator from Fayette, that a Legislative body may act under regular rules of legislative procedure and that is what we have done today.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, if that is so, Mr. President, why did the gentleman from Tioga make a motion to suspend Rule 38 in order to confirm the appointments of the Governor.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I think I have answered the question for the record.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, on the adoption of the resolution introduced by the Senator from Susquehanna,

Mr. Gelder as chairman of the Rules Committee the vote "Aye" will support the adoption of the resolution.

The PRESIDENT. That is correct.
The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Cavalcante and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—26.
Bartlett,	Farrell,	Mallery,	Stevenson,
Chapman,	Gelder,	Miller,	Tallman,
Crowe,	Geitz,	Owlett,	Thomas,
Deltrick,	Heyburn,	Pierson,	Walker,
Ealy,	Homsher,	Scarlett,	Wolfenden,
Edmonds,	James,	Snowden,	Woodward,
Eroe	Letzler,

NAYS—21.
Cavalcante,	Haluska,	Lanius,	Reed,
Coleman,	Jacobs,	Levin,	Rice,
Dent,	Jaspan,	McCreesh,	Ruth,
DiSilvestro,	Kilgallen,	McGinnis,	Shapiro,
Frey,	Kunkel,	Mundy,	Sipe,
Gilson,

So the question was determined in the affirmative.
Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, am I to understand the Rules adopted just now are in effect?

The PRESIDENT. They are.
Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I am informed under the new Rules smoking is prohibited in the Senate. Is that right?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I am glad to see my colleague, Mr. Haluska, lighting his cigar.
Mr. President, I now move that Rule 38 which requires Nominations made by the Governor to lie on the table one day be dispensed with and the Senate do now resolve itself into Executive Session to act on the nominations reported at today's session, being the nominations by the Governor for his Cabinet.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I second the motion.
The motion was agreed to.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I suggest that the names be voted on as in one vote.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the Democratic members of the Senate have caucused on these names. I regret exceedingly that we have interfered with some of the Republican members of the Senate enjoying a social function tonight that is in the minds of many of the Republican Senators. I am sure it is not in the minds of the Democrats. I am quite sure that you will all agree that the affairs of the State are more important than this social function tonight.

I would like to say for the purpose of record and for the purpose of explaining the position which the Democratic members of the Senate will take on these nominations. We regret exceedingly that there was no precedent at least for the action of the Senate majority tonight. We feel that Lieutenant-Governor Kennedy's reputation as a parliamentarian and as a fair man are sufficient to answer, if one is needed, for the fact that he did what he felt was the rule in the action which he took. As he said and when he did need parliamentary ruling to support his action he quoted it for any member of the Senate at that time.

I am expressing the thought with all due respect to the present Chair of this Senate that it may be the novelty of the situation in which he finds himself for the reason for some of the rulings that we have had here today. That will be a matter or those who care to go further with the proceedings. For the purpose of good government we feel that we have taken a fair, honest and I think a real purpose and position which was necessary in order to dis-close what may happen when rules and laws are disre-garded. We may be entirely wrong but what we have done in response to an inquiry if the proceedings of January 3, were approved, we would vote on the Cabinet members, I was speaking for the Caucus and my answer was "no." I was not prepared to say that we would do that.

The rules have been corrected. We do not agree. The same rule that we suggested also applies to us at least so we felt in Caucus, that the Governor we are quite sure has had no hand in these proceedings. We feel that he is the Governor. I personally feel that he is my Governor I feel that we can go along with him and along with each other if our purpose will be for good Government. We have the right to furnish him with our assistance to carry out any program which he may conceive, if that program is for the good of the people of the Commonwealth. We suggest to him that probably he and other Governors of the Commonwealth should pay a little more attention to the activity to the leadership in the Senate that some of the things that have occurred should not occur in the future. We do not feel that we are justified in opposing his ap-pointments just because somebody would not agree with us for some things which were done in the Senate which was wrong and we sincerely believe everything was wrong. We do not feel that that is sufficient justification for op-posing the nominations of the Governor and we do feel that we have the right and we hope that in the future it will be exercised whenever necessary to know about the men who are suggested here, whether they are quali-fied, whether there is any reason why they should not be appointed and where we find that there is some question we propose to object.

So that there will be no misunderstanding we can see no reason why we should give bent to any spleen or de-bate upon these candidates and after all they are not in this fight. If they had anything to say, they would say "let us get down to business and leave us out of this fight." As far as we are able to ascertain at present we are will-ing and happy to go along with the recommendations with the exception of two names to which I am about to refer. Lynn G. Adams, for Commissioner of Pennsylvania Motor Police, William J. Hamilton, Jr., Philadelphia, for the appointment as Secretary of Revenue. In fairness to these men, I want to say now that the mere fact we are abjecting to them should be no implication of our con-fidence in them. We have had a discussion about these two names and we want an opportunity to ascertain the fact and we want to have the Democratic Senators re-presented on the Committee on Executive Nominations so that we may question them on that subject. They have come before us and if we are satisfied that they are en-titled to their rights of appointment we will be glad to remove our objections. We are now ready to vote in favor of the other members of the Cabinet. You may bring them all up if you want to, we are not prepared to vote for the confirmation of all of them. It is perfectly agreeably to us that the rest being voted upon as a whole excepting these two.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT .The Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, do I understand that a vote will now be taken to obtain the consent of two-thirds of the Senate for the approval of the Cabinet as follows:

Miss S. M. R. O'Hara, as Secretary of the Commonwealth.

Claude Trexler Reno, for Attorney General.

Edward Martin, as Adjutant General.

Matthew H. Taggart, as Insurance Commissioner.

Robert W. Doty, Secretary of Banking.

John H. Light Secretary of Agriculture.

Rodger Rowland, as Secretary of Property and Supplies.

G. Albert Stewart, as Secretary of Forest and Waters.

John Ira Thomas, as Secretary of Mines.

I. Lamont Hughes, as Secretary of Highways.

John J. Shaw, as Secretary of Health.

Lewis G. Hines, as Secretary of Labor and Industry.

E. Arthur Sweeney, as Secretary of Welfare.

Howard L. Russell, as Secretary of Public Assistance.

The PRESIDENT. That is correct.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I ask that the nominations I have just enumerated be voted on together.

The yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—47.

Bartlett,	Frev,	Lanius,	Ruth,
Cavalcante,	Gelder,	Letzler,	Scarlett,
Chapman,	Geltz,	Levin,	Shapiro,
Coleman,	Gilson,	Mallery,	Sipe
Crowe,	Haluska,	McCreesh,	Snowden,
Deltrick,	Heyburn,	McGinnis,	Stevenson,
Dent,	Homsher,	Miller,	Tallman,
DiSilvestro,	Jacobs,	Mundy,	Thomas,
Ealy,	James,	Owlett,	Walker,
Edmonds,	Jaspan,	Pierson,	Wolfenden,
Eroe,	Kilgallen,	Reed,	Woodward,
Farrell,	Kunkel,	Rice,

NAYS—0.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, for the information of some of my colleagues may the Clerk read the list of those we have just confirmed.

The Clerk proceeded to read the list of the foregoing nominations for the Governor's cabinet.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I move that the nominations of the Governor for the appointment of Lynn G. Adams as Commissioner of the Pennsylvania Motor Police, and William J. Hamilton, Jr., as Secretary of Revenue, be re-committed to the Committee on Executives Nominations.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I move that the Executive Session do now arise.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

TUESDAY, JANUARY 17, 1939

The House met at 10.00 a. m.

The SPEAKER (Ellwood J. Turner) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. Walter Evans Deibler, offered the following prayer:

Eternal God, Creator of us all, we humbly bow our hearts before Thee as we invoke Thy blessings upon the meeting of this Assembly. With Thy servants of old, we most sincerely declare "hitherto hath the Lord helped us." We thank Thee for all faithful servants of the State, who have guided the destinies of our people. We are to that without Thee we cannot do anything. Therefore we come to Thee, O God, for the help that we need. We believe that Thou art and that Thou art a rewarder of those who diligently seek Thee. Grant, we beseech Thee, O God, to give to the officers and members of this House the wisdom that cometh from above. We hear Thee say "He that lacketh wisdom let him ask of God who giveth cheerfully and upbraideth not." Remember with us the citizens of this Commonwealth, all public officials and those who are in authority. Wilt Thou rule and over rule for the good of all and give us prosperity and peace that thy land may be blest, that Thy kingdom may be advanced and Thy name given honor and glory through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday. The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings, when, on motion of Mr. Bronson the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal approved.

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. TRONZO.

RESOLUTION No. 2.

In the House of Representatives, January 16, 1939.

Whereas, The appropriation by Congress of only $725,-00,000 for the Works Progress Administration will cause the dismissal of 97,000 WPA workers in Pennsylvania; and

Whereas, The great majority of dismissed WPA workers will, with their dependents, be thrown upon the relief rolls of this Commonwealth; and

Whereas, The present financial resources of this Commonwealth cannot absorb such a huge increase in relief requirements; and

Whereas, The only course then open to this Commonwealth would be the reduction of individual relief payments, the imposition of new taxes, or the passing of an unbearable burden to the local taxpayers; and

Whereas, Both political parties in this Commonwealth are pledged to the continuance of WPA, the maintenance of adequate relief, and the avoidance of new burdens for State and local taxpayers; and

Whereas, The dismissal of 97,000 WPA workers in this State will reduce living standards, lower purchasing power, promote insecurity and injure business; therefore be it

Resolved, That this House respectfully petition the Senate and House of Representatives of the Congress of the United States, to allay this danger to this Commonwealth by restoring the WPA appropriation to $875,000,000 as recommended by President Roosevelt.

Referred to Committee on Federal Relations.

By Messrs. MALLOY and SCHWAB.

RESOLUTION No. 3.

In the House of Representatives, January 16, 1939.

Whereas, The newspaper strike in Wilkes-Barre has stopped publication of three daily and one Sunday newspaper for more than three months; and

Whereas, several hundred employes of those newspapers have been idle, seriously affecting the purchasing power of their families, and injuring business; and

Whereas, The community of Wyoming Valley, with more than 350,000 persons has been seriously inconvenienced by the absence of newspapers,

Resolved, That the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby calls upon the publishers of Wilkes-Barre and the Newspaper Guild of Wilkes-Barre promptly to resume negotiations seeking to terminate this prolonged and costly strike on an honorable basis.

Referred to the Committee on Printing.

By Mr. FLANAGAN. (Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 4.

In the House of Representatives, January 16, 1939.

Whereas, The foundation, tradition and welfare of our Nation and State are unalterably based on a Democratic form of government, guaranteeing freedom of religious worship, freedom of speech, freedom of the press, and freedom of assembly; and

Whereas, The cause of democracy and liberty is being assailed in many parts of the world and the people of many nations are being deprived of all individual liberty and voice in governments; and

Whereas, There are groups of people in our State and Nation who espouse the cause of foreign governments in preference to our own, and who seek to bring into being in our State and Nation authoritarian or dictatorial government.

Resolved, (if the Senate concur) That the General Assembly hereby unalterably condemns the efforts of proponents of fascism or communism or any other "ism" to foist their dictatorial ideologies upon the people of this State and Nation, and reaffirms and reasserts its support and conviction in a Democratic government of a free people.

Referred to the Committee on Law and Order.

By Mr. ROSENFELD.

(Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 5.

In the House of Representatives, January 16, 1939.

Whereas, The United States of America and the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania was founded by those who sought peace and security, and

Whereas, The world is now engaged in a mad race to arm and prepare for war, and

Whereas, At this stage of civilization it is time for the nations of the world to stop and think of peace rather than war, and

Whereas, Every effort ought to be made and every step taken to establish peace for all mankind, therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate Concur) That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania does hereby memorialize the President of the United States, the Secretary of State, and the Congress of the United States to call a World Peace Conference to be held in Philadelphia to which shall be invited the duly authorized representatives of all of the nations of the world in the interests of peace, and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States, to his Secretary of State, to the Clerk of the Senate and the House of Representatives of the United States and to the members of Congress and of the United States Senate elected from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Referred to the Committee on Federal Relations.

REPORT OF WESTERN SAVING FUND SOCIETY

The SPEAKER laid before the House the report of the Auditors of the Western Saving Fund Society for the year 1938, which was read by the clerk.

(For report see Appendix.)

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. NORMAN WOOD from the Committee on Agriculture, reported as committed, House Resolution No. 1.

RESOLUTION NO. 1

Mr. NORMAN WOOD called up Resolution No. 1 and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was twice read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, January 16, 1939.

Whereas, Pennsylvania Farm Products Show is the largest winter agricultural exposition in America and its attendance is increasing every year and

Whereas, The number of visitors exhibitors demonstrators contestants judges and participants requiring rooming accommodations during the Farm Show taxes the capacity of hotels boarding houses tourist homes and private residences in Harrisburg and vicinity and

Whereas, The present annual dates of the Farm Products Show conflict every two years with the first full week of the regular session of the General Assembly and conflict every four years with the Inauguration of the Governor of the Commonwealth both conflicts being to the discomfort of citizens desiring to attend these events and having business with the General Assembly and

Whereas, Members of the Farm Show Committee at a recent meeting indicated informally their willingness to have the dates of the Farm Show changed in order to avoid conflicts and to afford better accommodations for those attending the exposition therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives call upon the State Farm Products Show Commission to give serious consideration forthwith to setting the dates of the annual Farm Show in a week which will not conflict with the Inauguration of the Governor or with a week when the General Assembly is customarily sitting

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Winner.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Montgomery permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WINNER. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to inquire of the gentleman from Montgomery how the numerical number of the present appointees differs from the numerical number of the appointees who are sought to be appointed by this resolution.

Mr. WINNER. Will the gentleman state that question again, I did not understand him, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to inquire of the gentleman from Montgomery the difference in number between the employees of the House at the present time and the employees of the House who are sought to be appointed by the report of the Slate Committee.

Mr. WINNER. Mr. Speaker, the number that is being sought to be appointed by this resolution is about the same as those employed at the present time.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, is there any difference in the number.

Mr. WINNER. Mr. Speaker, there might be a slight increase. With that slight increase we anticipate a little more efficiency.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from Montgomery know the numerical increase exactly?

Mr. WINNER. Mr. Speaker, I don't know that.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

OATH OF OFFICE ADMINISTERED TO EMPLOYEES

The SPEAKER administered the oath of office to the employees of the House.

ANNOUNCEMENT

The SPEAKER. The employees will meet in the House Caucus Room, which is on the third floor, at 4:30 this afternoon.

SENATE MESSAGES

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, January 17, 1939.

Resolved (If the House of Representatives concur) that when the Senate adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday evening, January 23, 1939 at 9:00 o'clock; and when the House of Representatives adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday evening, January 23, 1939, at 8:00 o'clock.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

It was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

NOTIFICATION FROM SENATE

A Committee on the part of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate will be ready at 11.00 o'clock to proceed to the front of the Capitol to attend the inaugural ceremonies.

The Speaker thanked the Committee on the part of the Senate.

RECESS

The SPEAKER. If there are no objections the Chair is about to declare a recess until 4.00 p. m. Are there objections? The Chair hears none and declares a recess until 4.00 p. m.

AFTER RECESS

The House reconvened at 4.00 p. m.

The SPEAKER (Ellwood J. Turner) in the Chair.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER

The SPEAKER: The Chair desires at this time to thank the Committee on Committees, the Slate Committee and the Committee on Seating, engaged in the work of preparing the House for organization. The Chair feels that the committees have performed their duties in a very satisfactory manner and at this time desires to discharge the Committee on Seating, with the thanks of the membership. The Slate Committee and the Committee on Committees will have to continue for the time being because there are still some appointments to be made and I believe we have not as yet received the assignments of the minority members to a few places on the committees.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. VOORHEES.

HOUSE BILL No. 80.

An Act to amend sections one and two of the act, approved the twenty-first day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 1937), entitled "An act authorizing the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania to prescribe rules of practice and procedure in civil actions at law and in equity in certain courts of this Commonwealth, to prescribe rules and regulations for the conduct of any general business, either civil or criminal, by judges of any court of record; authorizing the courts of common pleas to prescribe and adopt local rules, not inconsistent with such general rules of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania; authorizing the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania to appoint a Procedural Rules Committee, and to fix and define its powers and duties; imposing duties on judges and other officers of every court of record," by including the municipal court of Philadelphia.

Referred to the Committee on Judiciary General.

By Mr. O'CONNOR.

HOUSE BILL No. 81.

An Act making an appropriation to aid certain school districts.

Referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

COMMUNICATION

The SPEAKER laid before the House a communication from the Pennsylvania Bar Association which was read by the Clerk.

Referred to the Committee on Judiciary General.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

APPOINTMENT OF SECRETARY TO THE GOVERNOR

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, January 17, 1939.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I have the honor to inform you that I have appointed Mr. J. Paul Pedigo, of Philadelphia, to be Secretary to the Governor.

ARTHUR H. JAMES.

GREETINGS TO SECRETARY TO GOVERNOR

The SPEAKER. The Chair wishes at this time to greet the Secretary to His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, and welcomes him on his first visit to the bar of the House, and assures him that the House and its officers and employees will be pleased to cooperate with him at all times.

SECRETARY TO THE GOVERNOR. Mr. Speaker, the Secretary would like to thank you.

PRINTING OF GOVERNOR'S INAUGURAL ADDRESS

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I move that the inaugural address of Governor Arthur H. James be printed in full in the Legislative Journal.

The motion was agreed to.

INAUGURAL ADDRESS OF GOVERNOR

GOVERNOR ARTHUR H. JAMES: Seventy days ago the people of this Commonwealth wrote a second Declaration of Independence. This declaration in effect was a statement of principles; not new ones, but a re-affirmation of faith in those unfailing guideposts along the lanes of human rights and constitutional government.

On November 8th last, you voted for the principles of honesty, thrift and integrity in government; for reawakened initiative; for common sense in the relations of your government with industry, labor, agriculture and all the other groups which make up our population.

You voted to restore the Ship of State to control by the people, and to set sail on a course charted by the compass of constitutional democracy and two-party government.

Your election called me from the hills of Plymouth to become your servant, charged with leading in an enterprise in which we have joint responsibilities. That enterprise is making Pennsylvania a self-supporting state in which her one-time prosperity may flourish anew.

You imposed upon me a solemn trust to do my utmost to see that your wishes be carried out.

A few minutes ago I took the oath of office and now address you as your Governor. I desire that my first act as executive head of Pennsylvania be to reaffirm all the pledges which I have made to the men and women of this state, as well as those contained in the Republican platform, and to promise you that I will spare no effort in attempting to return Pennsylvania to her proper place in the sun.

The problems facing our state are large and complex. They are far more than one man, unaided, could hope to solve. I have no magic wand, no rabbit-in-a-hat, no Alladin's lamp. But I do have faith in the courage and enterprise of the people of Pennsylvania, in their intelligence and spirit of cooperation, and I bring to the office of governor a full measure of my own courage and energy.

In the tasks before our state, I want to help—and I want also to be helped. I will need, and I now call for, the aid and support and encouragement and patience and cooperation of all the men and women of this state, of whatever race, creed, party or color, that together we may do for Pennsylvania the things which need to be done.

Especially do I call for cooperation by those who are in business and commerce—who, whether in a large way or a small, are employers. It is through the instrumentality of business and industry that Pennsylvania can hope to free herself from the distressing twin burdens of taxation and human misery which are presented by widespread unemployment.

Previous administrations have placed emphasis upon unemployment. Today I should like to place the emphasis upon employment. I hope to see employment grow steadily until every idle man who wants a job can have one. To accomplish that, we need the aid and confidence and forbearance of business men throughout the state.

The administration is going to try to help industry, and in return, industry must try to help the state.

In line with campaign promises, I propose the organization of a new branch of state government, a Department of Commerce, which will strive to halt the flight of industry from Pennsylvania and which likewise will endeavor to bring back to our state industries which already have left.

Specifically, this new Department will be empowered to do the following: first, provide means whereby the advantages of Pennsylvania as an industrial state may be pointed out to those seeking sites for their industries; second, provide an opportunity for public hearings for complaints of adverse industrial conditions in the state; and third, provide a means whereby specific recommendations may emanate for the remedy or improvement of conditions affecting the expansion of business and industry.

By placing under this department a sufficient number of functions at present miscast elsewhere in the state administration, its operation should be made possible without additional cost to the taxpayer, while efficiency will be improved by coordinating all state activities in the three lines specified.

One of the principal tasks of this new department will be to investigate and correct punitive legislation directed against industry, whether overtaxation or otherwise. I have every confidence that the legislature will subject to thorough and sympathetic scrutiny all suggestions originating from the body or elsewhere looking to the remedying of improper obstacles in the path of industrial revival.

Pennsylvania has reawakened to the fact, already known to both labor and industry, that in this age of keen competition, a customer for the state's mining, industrial or agricultural products is hard to get, and once lost is doubly hard to get back.

The great market which we must revive and reopen is our own home market. We can make no better contribution to the national welfare than by restoring the full buying power of our ten million people.

That can be accomplished; it will and must be done. Many things will contribute to accomplishing it. The most important, of course, is large scale reemployment at adequate wages. Another is by means of anything which encourages both the production and the consumption of Pennsylvania-made goods. We want no trade fences, no economic barriers, around our state; but most decidedly we want to help those who help us.

By means of this new organization, Pennsylvania will be able to advertise Pennsylvania's advantages throughout the world, and at the same time will be able to offer to industry a new and friendly relationship a new measure of sympathetic encouragement.

What Pennsylvania needs is a new kind of pump-priming. She needs a Private Pump-Priming Program for Prosperity in Pennsylvania—and I believe that the new Department of Commerce can promote exactly that. The pump which needs priming in this state is the pump of confidence. The springs of hate and fear and discouragement have been flowing freely, and their bitter waters have left a bad taste in everyone's mouth. We need now to build for the future with hope and faith and courage. We need to bring private money out of hiding and put it to work. We want more pump-priming by private capital and individual initiative, and less of it by public moneys and partisan greed.

Overspending and overtaxation have dried up the wells from which the waters of industrial life should flow. If the many experiments which have been tried upon us in recent years have no other value, they at least have demonstrated that neither man nor state can get rich by spending all he owns or can borrow. In the words of the famous Pennsylvanian whose birthday this is—as Benjamin Franklin wrote in his Poor Richard's Almanac: "He who goes a-borrowing goes a-sorrowing."

Overspending is only another name for an evil philosophy of government which is as old as civilization—and which never has been known to work successfully, the theory of inflation. It remained for the New Deal philosophy to re-dress inflation and to rename it pump-priming.

By means of constitutional principles first set down on Pennsylvania soil more than a century and a half ago, Pennsylvania and the United States grew great together. Issues and crises were taken in their stride. But in the midst of the world-wide economic depression of a few years ago, our people suffered from a still more distressing depression—a spiritual depression—which led them to harken to the voice of the charmer and to abandon the one beacon which had always guided Pennsylvania aright, the guiding principles of constitutional American government.

Driven by fear and hopelessness and self-pity, which were fostered and nurtured for political advancements, Pennsylvania has spent years of time and millions of dollars in hysterical experimentations which have accomplished but few of the benefits promised by their promoters, and instead have mortgaged our future, weakened the control of the people over their own government, and threatened us with chaos.

We know now how unwise most of this conduct was. Instead of striving so hard to attain blessings which we had not, we would have been wiser to count the many blessings we had, the loss of which has been so seriously threatened by certain governmental policies and experiments.

One of the theme songs heard during this period was a hymn of hate against industry, sung into the ears of the men and women of this state until they were beguiled into forgetting that when we burn down the house of industry, we are burning down the house in which all of Pennsylvania lives.

Last November, Pennsylvania voted for a more sane and helpful relationship between business and the state government. She voted for encouragement of job-giving industries, and for an end to punitive taxation, over-regulation, and other sprags in the wheels of industry.

But the men and women of this state accepted at its full face value an implied promise from industry and business and commerce—a promise that operators of business would do their share in helping find employment for the state's idle. Industry must contribute to, as well as benefit from, the resumption of normal activity in Pennsylvania.

Let there be no misunderstanding on another point: business in Pennsylvania must not attempt to escape proper responsibility to its employees, proper methods and proper working conditions; it must not try to dodge reasonable taxation.

Certain acts which have been passed in recent years, covering the relations between employers and employees, will have to be amended, but this is not because fault is to be found with the purposes of these laws, nor with the protections they attempt to offer. Instead, the reason these laws must be changed is that as they now stand they not only are not workable, but are so burdensome that they prevent the attainment of the very objectives for which they were enacted.

I do not propose to weaken proper regulation of business, either by ignoring the enforcement of just and sound laws, nor by placing my signature on legislation which in my judgment would weaken such proper regulation.

We will have no return to rule by overlords of industry during my administration.

But neither will we have rule by overlords of labor. The men and women of Pennsylvania have voiced in no uncertain terms their conviction that political bosses have no place in labor unions. We have seen too many of the evils caused by the activities of politically-inspired, power-seeking labor leaders—especially when their greedy enterprises are backed and subsidized with public money. Labor spokesmen of this type do not speak for the working men and women of the state, but only for themselves and for the selfish cliques and purposes which they openly or secretly represent.

For too long, labor and industry have suffered and in the end both have registered net losses from failure to cooperate with each other. The vote cast by the men and women of Pennsylvania last fall was an appeal for labor and industry to clasp hands in cooperation and to refrain from controversy at least until normal employment is re-established. The tyranny of either group can be tolerated no longer in Pennsylvania—and it is unmistakably to the advantage of those who make up these groups that they be led to work in harmony with each other, with the state government standing by as the impartial friend of both.

With cooperation of this type, Pennsylvania can take her present problems in her stride. Difficulties and hardships are nothing new to Pennsylvania. She grew great overcoming hardships. She kept her hand on the plow and her feet on the ground when all of her area except one small corner was rugged wilderness. More than once she has seen part of her territory held by armed invaders, and has rallied to drive them out—courageous, steadfast, and serenely sure of her own power. Pennsylvania has taken disaster, loss, reversal and crisis in her stride before; she can do it again.

More than that, again and again when the nation's fate has trembled in the balance, it has been Pennsylvania which turned the scales. She was a leader from the first—not for mere geographic reasons has she always been called the Keystone State.

The human resources of courage and hope and fortitude are still within our boundaries, just as are the mineral and other natural resources; our mines are still full of coal, our streams full of water, our valleys and hills still teem with productivity and fertile lands.

It is squarely up to the leaders of industry, of labor, of commerce and of agriculture to band themselves into an army of progress. This is nothing new; our fathers before us did it, and so can we.

We have all the materials at our fingertips—mills and mines and factories; cities and hamlets and farmlands; a great seaport and a great lakeport and a splendid network of rail and highway communication between. We do not even lack funds with which to begin, for idle money is filling almost every bank in the state.

"Ill fares the land, to hastening ills a prey,
"Where wealth accumulates, and men decay."

As I take my seat in the conning tower of the Pennsylvania Ship of State, and scan the horizon with anxious eyes, I am beginning to see the reefs and storm clouds around which we must steer.

Repeatedly during my campaign, I said that no man could tell in advance what we would find when we entered the Governor's office, and never have I felt more forefully the truth of that statement than right now. The first job which the new administration faces is to take inventory, to determine what the financial condition of the state actually is. We must diagnose before we prescribe. The results of this inventory will be made public as soon as they are available, which probably will be within a few days. We know already that there is a large deficit in sight before the end of the biennium, and that the state government has been led into a scale of living far from warranted by any income now in sight. We shall have to wait, however, for a detailed accounting before it can be determined just what is necessary for us to do to live within our means.

At this time I want to make it clear that we propose to make a continuing rendition of stewardship during my term in office, so that the voters and taxpayers of Pennsylvania may know at all times the fiscal condition of their state. This is your problem as well as mine. It is one in which are needed your suggestions, your cooperation, your loyalty and your patience, quite as much as are needed the determination of the executive and legislative branches of government to prepare and enact a program of solution. For your information about your government, I shall maintain an open door policy in every office, from that of the Governor down.

Part of the picture which must be clarified is the extent to which Pennsylvania is being called upon to carry the national burden. We must determine how much money is being taken out of Pennsylvania for the national coffers, and whether this state is getting its fair and proper return.

Much has been said about governmental spending, and Pennsylvania last summer and fall saw methods which raised grave doubts of the propriety and impartiality of the Federal disbursements. But the question of Federal taxation is quite as important to Pennsylvania. It may be that at the seat of Pennsylvania's financial problems lie national taxation policies which fall too heavily upon industrial states such as ours.

Pennsylvania wants to pay her proper share of the national costs. She is more than willing, even anxious, to extend her helping hand to any other communities which may have more distress and suffering than Pennsylvania has. But in the present crisis, in which we have fallen far behind most other states in employment, in which we ourselves may be in grave need of help, it would be manifestly unfair for this state to be expected to pay a disproportionately large sum of national cost without an equally large ratio of return.

At the proper time I shall submit to Washington Pennsylvania's request for further PWA, WPA and similar grants. There is no reason to expect anything but a favorable response to these requests, since it is my intention to do my full share in seeing that such moneys are expended for precisely the purpose for which they were raised—honestly expended for worth-while projects that will furnish employment to men and women who otherwise would have to be supported by relief.

It is to be hoped that Congress will see the wisdom of putting control of the WPA back into the States and removing it completely from political domination.

We recognize the relief problem as one of the most pressing confronting us, and it shall receive our constant attention to the end that justice may be done to all concerned.

The vote of Pennsylvania last fall was an edict that politics must be banished from direct relief and from madework relief as well. We have promised to divorce relief from politics, and I am glad to take the opportunity afforded by this address to carry out that pledge.

I have requested your new Attorney General, as his first official act, to draw up a bill re-enacting the anti-macing laws which were secretly repealed two years ago. That new bill I now hold in my hand, and do hereby formally submit it to the legislature, with my earnest recommendation for its speedy enactment.

This bill makes it a penal offense for any one to demand money for political purposes from any person who receives money from the state—whether a state employee, a person on relief or madework payrolls, a recipient of pensions, or anyone doing business with the state. That bill, once passed and enforced, will go a long way towards stamping out the political relief racket. Relief will come out of politics, and politics will come out of relief. We will cure most of the relief ills by pulling out the teeth of politics.

It is common knowledge that a large share of the relief funds in this state have been diverted to political purposes. A survey will be needed to determine how much saving can be effected by confining relief expenditures to relief purposes, and I shall instruct the new Secretary of Public Assistance to take such steps as are necessary to make such a survey and report his findings at the earliest possible moment.

In this connection, however, I want to repeat my pledge and that of the Republican party, that every person in Pennsylvania who needs relief will get it; there is no thought of curtailing relief to the unfortunate. It is even more to the advantage of those dependent upon relief than to those who pay the bills, that Pennsylvania get its money's worth out of these expenditures; and that waste, straw bosses and political misuse of the funds be eliminated. We must see to it that political drones improperly placed upon the relief rolls are ousted, and at the same time we must put on the relief rolls any unfortunates who were taken off or kept off for political reasons.

Relief must be humanized; it must be prompt and adequate, honestly and fairly administered; and it must come out of politics.

During the campaign repeatedly I pledged myself to restore the tri-part form of government divided by the constitution into executive, legislative and judiciary.

I reiterate my pledge of not permitting the executive hand to interfere with the functions of either of the other two branches. I ask and shall accord full cooperation with those branches, to the end that the best interests of the whole people may be served.

For the past few years we have seen executive interference and domination of the legislative and judicial branches carried to a point which put us on the brink of disaster. That practice here and now comes to an end, so far as Pennsylvania is concerned.

The objectives ahead of Pennsylvania are well known, and the voice of the people as expressed in last Fall's election was unmistakable. I pledge my full cooperation with the legislature in working for those objectives. I am fully convinced that your Senators and Representatives will likewise strive to steer your government towards those goals.

I can pledge also the cooperation of that extension of executive authority, the new cabinet. The personnel of this body I submit to you as evidence of my good faith when I said during the campaign that I have no interests in the creation or furtherance of a political machine. Those whom I have named are competent, experienced, and qualified for their duties. They have been chosen because of their character and ability, and because of their interest in seeing that the responsibilities of these departments are fully and properly met.

They are especially well qualified to do their full share in the huge task of running the state administration through the wringer—of helping to squeeze out waste and duplication and graft. This is the largest immediate task before us.

Time will not permit me to review all of the problems lying before the new administration, nor to discuss in detail the program and pledges to which this administration is committed. The subjects which I have mentioned today, I have taken up more from the point of view of policy than of new laws. I have called for little in the way of new legislation. I do that advisedly, because I feel that Pennsylvania has hastily skipped too many legislative grades in recent years. I wish us to proceed slowly, to know in each case exactly where we are going before we plunge ahead.

My failure to mention in this address such problems as those of milk control, home rule, highways, coal, the liquor traffic, or other special issues, is not intended to minimize their importance, nor to indicate any intention not to carry out all the pledges contained in my own campaign speeches or in the Republican party platform. These problems will all receive attention, and my pledges will not be forgotten. I hereby reaffirm these pledges, and promise that steps will be taken to carry them out just as rapidly as is possible. These pledges were not the fruit of mere political love; they were part of a sound and considered program which grew out of a sincere and honest purpose to work for the betterment of our state and the happiness of our people.

As I said earlier, I take office today not only as the chief executive, but also as the servant, of ten million people. I want you to know that I take office with pride, with humility, and with a deep determination to do everything within my power to assist Pennsylvania as she marches forward through new frontiers toward the happiness and prosperity she so richly deserves.

What I have said before I say again—that today I feel responsibility to only two masters, my own conscience and the voice of the men and women of Pennsylvania. That does not mean that I will blindly follow popular whims merely because they are popular; I have no such intention. What I do will be those things which in my heart and mind I believe to be for the best interests of the people in our state.

If there be times when my course of action displeases some, may you be so generous as to believe that I am doing my best as I see it. Far more than even the greatest prosperity for Pennsylvania do I desire that the human rights and liberties of our people be protected and maintained.

To quote Benjamin Franklin once more: "They that can give up essential liberty to obtain a little temporary safety deserve neither liberty nor safety."

He wrote that of Pennsylvania and of Pennsylvanians, and never was more truly expressed the undying determination of the Keystone state to hew to the line of human rights.

I am deeply appreciative of the great honor you have bestowed upon me, but I am not unmindful of the fact that you have placed in me your confidence and your hope and I in return will keep burning brightly the light that has been Pennsylvania for two centuries and more.

My sincerest wish is so to govern Pennsylvania that I may complete my term of office with the approval of my own conscience, backed with an inner conviction that, whether success or failure crowns my efforts, I can still truthfully tell myself that I tried honestly and faithfully and diligently to do those things which I believed to be for the best interests of the whole people.

The spirit that shall guide my every act as governor of this great commonwealth was voiced more than two thousand years ago by the prophet Micah: "To do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God."

RULES COMMITTEE APPOINTED

The SPEAKER: The Chair appoints as the Committee on Rules, Mr. Woodside, Chairman, Messrs. Norman Wood, Yeakel, Hamilton and Schrack.

ANNOUNCEMENTS BY THE SPEAKER

The SPEAKER: The Chair desires to advise the members that it is the expectation to meet Monday night, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week, the purpose being to give an opportunity for the organization and meeting of committees. A number of bills have been filed and have been referred. The chairmen are requested to pick up the bills in the Speaker's office and be prepared to present them to the committees next week. Assignment of rooms and the times of meeting will be worked out between now and Monday. It is requested of the chairmen of the committees to be here Monday afternoon so that if any questions arise as to the time of the meetings we may be able to take them up.

The Chair desires to request the employees of the House to assemble in the House Caucus room at 4.30 p. m. today.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Monday, January 23, 1939, at 8:00 p. m.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 4.24 p. m.) the House adjourned until Monday, January 23, 1939, at 8.00 p. m.

SENATE

WEDNESDAY, January 18th, 1939.

The Senate met at 1:00 o'clock, p. m.

The PRESIDENT, (Lieutenant Governor Samuel S. Lewis) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. George Walker Buckner, LL.D., offered the following prayer:

Eternal One, whose angel encampeth round about them that fear Him; who imparteth life to His beloved in sleep—We thank Thee for the light and promises of another day. Anoint our eyes for its opportunities; bestow wisdom for its problems; sanctify our hearts for its duties.

A disturbing word comes to use of the serious illness of one who for many years was an honored member of this body. His life like our own, is in the loving care of Him who doeth all things well, yet our anxious human hearts cry out to Thee! We think also of one, the widowed consort of another senator, but recently gone to his reward, mother of a worthy son, who here takes up the unfinished task of the father. Humble, helpless and submissive, our Father, we yield to Thee; yet Thou knowest the instincts of our hearts and Thou art Good!

Our Father, give us to know the meaning and value of prayer. Often we waste words with one another; yet "They that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings, as eagles; they shall run, and not be weary; they shall walk, and not faint."

May the Grace of our Lord be with us. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I move that the further reading of the Journal, of January 17th be dispensed with and the Journal be approved.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Cavalcante and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—23.

Bartlett.	Farrell.	Mallery.	Stevenson.
Chapman.	Gelder.	Miller.	Tallman.
Crowe.	Geltz.	Owlett.	Thomas.
Detrick.	Hemsher.	Pierson.	Walker.
Ealy.	James.	Scarlett.	Wolfenden.
Edmonds.	Letzler.	Snowden.

NAYS—11.

Cavalcante,	Haluska,	McCreesh,	Ruth,
Coleman,	Kunkel,	McGinnis,	Sipe,
Eroe,	Lantus,	Reed,

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

POINT OF INFORMATION

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I rise to a point of information.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman will state his point of information.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, does the record show that the name of Senator Henney was called and that he did not answer?

The PRESIDENT. That was an error. His name had been called.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I rise to another question of Parliamentary Inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, will state his point of inquiry.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, does the roster of this Senate show that Mr. Henney is a member of this Senate or not?

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, we have seen in the newspapers that Senator Henney has sent his resignation to the Senate, and I would suggest that the Secretary of the Senate be instructed by the Chair to inquire from the former Secretary of the Senate and see to it immediately whether or not he received a letter of resignation from Senator Henney.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I would like to say something on that. I have merely raised a point of information to know whether the roster of this Senate on this day contains the name of Senator Henney. I am not interested in what newspapers say and what they do not say. I want to know whether the roster of the Senate contains the name of Senator Henney.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, we are not interested in what the newspapers say, except that we did find out the facts ourselves, the only facts that we have been able to find out is by way of the newspapers. We would like to know why some facts in the Senate have not been made known to us and we are still trying to find them out.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, with reference to the remark that the Senator from Susqueanna, Mr. Gelder has just made, he ought to be more specific. If he has any specific facts on what he said, we would like to know what they are.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, that is exactly what we are trying to do. We want to know the status of Senator Henney. I want to know whether or not he sent in his resignation. I understand that steps are now being taken to ascertain that information.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I thought that perhaps there were other facts he had in mind. If there are, we would like to know about it.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I can name him one fact that has been kept from us. There were some papers served on the Lieutenant Governor Thomas Kennedy, and the officer who served them informed me that he had been instructed by the Supreme Court to serve them on the whole body of the Senate. It was the resignation of Senator Henney, and I asked the Lieutenant Governor to read for the information of the Senate what those papers were. This, he refused to do. This information was kept from the body of this Senate.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I think I am entitled to have my information from the Chair. What I want to know is whether the roster of this Senate contains the name of Senator Henney today?

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate be at ease until the Secretary of the Senate has contacted the former Secretary of the Senate.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I second the motion. The motion was agreed to.

The PRESIDENT. In reply to the gentleman from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, the retiring Secretary of the Senate is not available at this time, and the Secretary of the Senate is trying to make further inquiry and report back to the Senate.

POINT OF INFORMATION

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I rise to a further point of information. May the Clerk inform this Senate whether the last roll call shows that Senators Deitrick and Woodward as having voted?

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, the roll call has been announced without objection.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I am not questioning the roll call. I am asking for information from the Chair. I want to know whether the records show on this roll whether Senators Deitrick and Woodward voted or not. I have the right to know that.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I suggest that the journal is the best place to locate that information.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I want to know now. I don't want to know next year or the next decade.

The PRESIDENT. The roll indicates that Senators Deitrick and Woodward both voted.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I impute no wrong doings to the President of this Senate, but I wish to inform the Senator that when the roll was called Senator Woodward did not answer to the roll call. Nor was he present in the Hall of this Senate.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, the members of the Senate certainly have no way of knowing at this time whether or not Senators Deitrick and Woodward were within the Hall of the Senate when the roll was called. The Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante slipped up on his rights, if he failed to call the attention to the facts that the recording clerks were in error regarding the proceedings.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, in answer to the distinguished President Pro Tempore of this Senate, I would say that the Senator from Fayette was not guiding the pencil of the clerk during the calling of the roll and there was no way of my knowing whether the clerk marked Senator Woodward as voting or not, and after the Chair announced the results of the roll call, there is no way for the Senator from Fayette County to obtain that except by asking for the information, and after receiving this information, it is shown that the clerk marked Senator Woodward as voting, when he was not actually in the Senate. Then the Senator from Fayette or any other Senator has a just right to object to the inclusion of the name of Senator Woodward as having voted on the roll call.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I think it is rather unfortunate that the Senator from Fayette seems to wish to impute the motive of any employee. I happen to notice the son of one of the Democratic Senators was the one that handed up the roll call in question, and not the Clerk who called the roll. I am sure that he did not make an intentional change in the roll call. I am sure that it was an error. I think that it is most unfortunate that the Senator from Fayette would impute that the son of our colleague, Senator Lanius would make an incorrect roll call.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, in answer to the gentleman from Tioga, I am not imputing any wrong on anybody. I merely asked a point of information to see whether an error was made, and when I asked for the information the gentleman from the other side of the house, objected to my receiving this information. I imputed no wrong doing and I apologize if my words inferred any wrong doing. I merely wanted that roll call checked and I didn't want it to show that Dr. Woodward voted when he did not vote and was not here.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, the members of the Senate have no objection to the Senator from Fayette seeking information as to what the roll call revealed. We certainly would have objection to the Senator changing the roll call simply on the assertion of the Senator from Fayette, and then questioning about Senators whose names are in question and stating whether or not they voted. I am very sure that at least one of the Senators was in the hall of the house this morning. One of the Senators is at his desk at the present time. We cannot change the roll simply on the assertion of the gentleman from Fayette no matter how much confidence we have in him that the roll call was wrong.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I have not questioned the vote of Senator Deitrick, although when his name was called, I did not hear his name answered. He may have been in the hall of the Senate somewhere, I did not hear his voice. When I turned around, he was not in his seat at that time. He is here now. I am not questioning his vote on the roll call, but the vote of Senator Woodward, I do question because he was not here.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, the Senator was here.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, he was not here when the roll was called.

MEMBER OF SENATE COMMITTEE TO ATTEND
CONFERENCE OF COUNCIL OF STATE GOVERN-MENT IN WASHINGTON, D. C.

The President Pro Tempore wishes me to announce the appointment of the Senator from Delaware, Mr. Heyburn in place of the Senator from Blair, Mr. Mallery, as a representative of the Senate at the Conference of the Council of State Governments at Washington.

BILLS RE-REFERRED

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, this morning because the committees have not regularly been appointed, Senate Bills 4, 5, 6, 7, and 8 were referred to the Committee on Executive Nominations. I desire to report these bills back to the Senate asking that they be referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. EALY, from the Committee on Executive Nominations returned to the Senate, Senate Bill No. 4, (House Bill No. 1), entitled:

An Act transferring money from the Motor License Fund to the General Fund and providing for the subsequent return from the General Fund of the transferred money.

Which was re-referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

He also returned to the Senate, Senate Bill No. 5, (House Bill No. 2), entitled:

An Act transferring money from the Liquor License Fund to the General Fund and providing for the subsequent return from the General Fund of the transferred money.

Which was re-referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

He also returned to the Senate, Senate Bill No. 6, (House Bill No. 5), entitled:

An Act transferring money from the Liquid Fuels Tax Fund to the General Fund and providing for the subsequent return from the General Fund of the transferred money.

Which was re-referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

He also returned to the Senate, Senate Bill No. 7, (House Bill No. 4), entitled:

An Act transferring money from the State Insurance

Fund to the General Fund and providing for the subsequent return from the General Fund of the transferred money.

Which was re-referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

He also returned to the Senate Senate Bill No. 8, (House Bill No. 5), entitled:

An Act making a deficiency appropriation to the Department of Public Assistance for the purposes of carrying out the Public Assistance Law for the two fiscal years ending May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine.

Which was re-referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INFORMATION

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, before we recessed, I raised a question of information. At that time the Chair advised that the information was not in no hands because the clerk was not here. Since the recess, I have made a personal investigation an inquiry and I am authoritatively informed by the State Treasurer and confirmed by the Auditor General that Senator Henney was paid his initial payment for his salary for this session. Now I again inquire whether the name of Senator Henney is on the roster.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, for the information of the Senate and the President of the Senate before he has made answer to the Senator from Fayette, I want to say that Senator Henney's check was issued by the State Treasurer. I am very much of the impression unless the State Treasurer had broken faith with me that his check is in escrow at the present time, and that Senator Henney's check has not been released and that he as not received a check. So that the other Senators could get their checks and to avoid complication in the bookkeeping of the State Treasurer's Department, at their request certified the check of the members with the understanding that certain checks were to be placed in escrow, and not released except upon authorization from me or the direction from me that they be returned to the Treasury Department. That agreement was made with the Auditor General and the State Treasurer.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I appreciate the explanation, but I am interested in that I be shown the courtesy of a member of this Senate, by being informed by the clerk whether the name of Senator Henney is on the roster.

The PRESIDENT. In reply to the inquiry of the gentleman from Fayette, the name of Mr. Henney is on the roster, but he has not presented himself here and we have no knowledge of what his status is, and the tally sheets were printed before this Senate convened and that is the reason why his name is called.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I am requested by some of my colleagues who know Senator Henney, and at this time I ask leave of absence for him for the reason that he is engaged at other duties at this time.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order. The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, will state his point of order.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, in reference to the leave of absence of Mr. Henney, I want to call the Senate's attention to the record of the Journal of January third, 1939, which will show on that day that the paper was served on the then Lieutenant Governor, Thomas Kennedy, presiding over this Senate by an officer of the Supreme Court. The then Lieutenant Governor refused to advise the Senate the contents of this paper, but the members of this Senate have knowledge that Mr. Henney resigned from this body and pursuant to that information that came to the members that he did resign, he has not been present in this Senate. I therefore suggest at this time that no leave of absence should be granted to him until it is ascertained whether his resignation was served upon the proper officers of the Senate. If he did resign from this body and if that resignation was served on the proper officers of the Senate as I am advised that it was, he is not a member of this Senate and therefore leave of absence could not be granted to him.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Fayette.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Fayette whether or not the Senator from Allegheny County has asked him to ask for a leave of absence for him.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I made that clear. I stated that my colleagues of this Senate who are familiar with Senator Henney in Pittsburgh know that he is engaged in other duties and is not here. It is upon that information that I have asked for a leave of absence for my colleague, Senator Henney.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, then are we to understand from the Senator from Fayette that Senator Henney has not actually asked him to obtain a leave of absence.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. No Mr. President, and may I interrogate the gentleman from Tioga, Senator Owlett.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, will the gentleman from Tioga advise this Senate under what authority the Supreme Court of this State can serve papers upon this Senate concerning the resignation of Senator Henney when under the law and the Constitution the person to receive the resignation in this particular office is the power authorized to call an election to fill the vacancy, which is the President of this Senate.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, do I understand the interrogation of the Senator from Fayette to be an inquiry to me as to what authority the Supreme Court had in taking its action. Is that the inquiry.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, that is what I would like to know.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, unfortunately I am not a member of the Supreme Court and cannot answer the question.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, apparently the gentleman from Tioga is not a member today, but yet he seems to be very familiar with the contents of the paper that was never read in the Senate and never brought to the attention of this Senate. Probably the gentleman from Tioga may be better informed by the Supreme Court than most of us.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, for the information of the Senate I might be able to enlighten the membership, the officer that came here to this Senate on January the Third, I met in the hotel and he told me he had been directed by the Supreme Court to serve papers on this body and he asked me if he could get in the Senate Chamber. I said there would not be anybody to prevent him from entering. I thought he would not have any difficulty in getting here. He said I have the signed resignation of Mr. Henney, delivered by Senator Henney to the Supreme Court in pursuant to the order which the Supreme Court had made to him directing him to resign as a State Senator or resign from the office of Coroner. He had elected to resign from the State Senate and handed his resignation to the Court. He told me he had been deputized by the Supreme Court to serve that resignation on this Body. That is how I knew why he was up here when the presiding, Thomas Kennedy, had the paper served on him he threw it on the floor and refused to give this body information as to what was in the paper.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, will the gentleman inform his colleagues if this officer is the same man whose name is before this body now for confirmation as Secretary of Revenue?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, the gentleman I referred to is the Sheriff of Philadelphia County who told me that he had been deputized by the Supreme Court to serve the paper. He was carrying out his duty under that direction.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, did the gentleman inform the deputy that it was an invasion of the dignity and sanction of the Senate to invade the rostrum to attempt to serve a Judicial process on a person of this Legislative body which is a coordinating branch of State Government.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I did not, because it was not a Judicial paper. It was a resignation directed to this Senate.

Mr. MCGINNIS. Mr. President, I understand that the Supreme Court has made no order in this case. There is not a thing on the docket. I have been advised that no order has been made by the Supreme Court and whether his resignation is here or not, it surely has not been accepted and he is a member of this Senate and his name should remain on the roster.

The PRESIDENT. For the information of the Senator from Allegheny I stated that his name is on the roster.

POINT OF LEGISLATIVE INQUIRY

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I rise to a point of Legislative inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, will state his point of legislative inquiry.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I desire to inquire where we are now.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. The Chair will please instruct the gentleman on that question of inquiry. I know where I am.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, stated that at the request of his colleagues he asked for a leave of absence for the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Henney.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I move that the request be laid on the table.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Cavalcante and were as follows, viz:

YEAS--23.

Bartlett,	Farrell,	Mallery,	Stevenson,
Chapman,	Gelder,	Miller,	Tallman,
Crowe,	Geltz,	Owlett,	Thomas,
Edwards,	James,	Scarlett,	Wolfenden,
Edmonds,	Letzler,	Snowden,

NAYS--11.

Cavalcante,	Haluska,	McCreesh,	Ruth,
Coleman,	Kunkel,	McGinnis,	Sipe,
Erce,	Lantus,	Reed,

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

BILLS REFERRED

The PRESIDENT. The Committees having been appointed since the three bills which were introduced at yesterday's Session were received, they will be referred to Committee.

Messrs. SHAPIRO and WOODWARD read in their place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1, entitled:

An Act to amend sections three and eight of the act, approved the thirtieth day of March, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 115), entitled "An act to provide for the permanent personal registration of electors in cities of the first class as a condition of their right to vote at elections and primaries and their enrollment as members of political parties as a further condition of their right to vote at primaries; prescribing certain procedure for the conduct of elections and primaries and the challenge and proof of qualifications of electors; and prescribing the powers and duties of citizens, parties, bodies of electors, registration commissions, commissioner, registrars, inspector of registration, and other appointees of registration commission, election officers, municipal, officers, departments and bureaus, police officers, courts, judges, prothonotaries, sheriffs, county commissioners, peace officers, county treasurers, county controllers, registrars of vital statistics, real estate brokers, rental agents, certain public service companies, persons, firms, and corporations operating vehicles for moving furniture and household goods, and boards of school directors; and imposing penalties," by providing that the registration commission is to consist of the county commissioners instead of appointed commissioners and by providing that appropriations to carry out the act are to be made in the same manner as other appropriations are made.

Which was committed to the Committee on Municipal Government.

They also read in their places and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 2, entitled:

An act for the better government of cities of the first class of the Commonwealth by providing, among other things, for a councilmanic form of government with a council elected by proportional representation and with a city manager selected by council; the creation, abolition and change of departments and the addition to departments of certain functions pertaining to parks, detention and correction, planning within the city, weights and measures, and dependent, neglected, incorrigible and delinquent children; improvement of the civil service; increased control over finances by requiring balanced current and capital budgets and by greater control over the collection of charges, fees and taxes, and over payments of salaries and other expenditures out of the city treasury; improvements in the making and revision of assessments; the grant of home rule to such cities; and penalties.

Which was committed to the Committee on Municipal Government.

They also read in their places and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 3, entitled:

An act regulating and improving the civil service of counties of the first class; defining certain crimes; imposing penalties; and repealing all acts or part of acts inconsistent with this Act.

Which was committed to the Committee on Municipal Government.

EXECUTIVE SESSION

By unanimous consent,

A motion was made by Mr. OWLETT and Mr. MALLERY

That Rule 38, which requires nominations made by the Governor, to lie on the table one day be dispensed with, and the Senate do now resolve itself into Executive Session, for the purpose of acting upon all the nominations reported at to-day's session.

Which was agreed to.

Whereupon,

A motion was made by Mr. OWLETT and Mr. MALLERY

That the Senate do now return to the Governor nominations made by his predecessor in office reported at today's Session.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

SENATE

MONDAY, January 23, 1939

The Senate met at 9:00 o'clock P. M.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Samuel S. Lewis) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain. Rev. Burleigh A. Peters, Pastor of the Grace Lutheran Church, Altoona, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, our Heavenly Father, we thank Thee for life, health and strength. We thank Thee this evening for our beautiful heritage, that is the great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

We are not unmindful of those who labored in other days, that we have entered into their labor. We pause in Thy holy and sacred presence for we remember that Thou hast wisdom, knowledge and understanding. We beseech Thee to give unto each one of us here that insight into the Legislative inactment which shall rightfully come to this honorable body. We pray before Thee constantly to remember that we are Thy creatures and that we receive from Thee the right and prosperity of our fathers, so that we must take to Thee our stewardship and so that we must give our counting unto Thee on the last great day.

May Thy spirit be in our hearts, giving us an insight and especially, O God, to the President of the United States, the Governor of this Commonwealth and upon all who are in authority over us. Give them Thine own divine guidance so that whatever they may do, may be in accordance with Thy Holy will and suffer us to come unto Thee, drinking from the fountains of loving knowledge and that we may do which is right, noble, honorable and just in Thy sight for we pray in Thy Holy blessed name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I move that the further reading of the Journal be dispensed with and the Journal be approved.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Shapiro and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—25.

Bartlett,

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I ask leave of absence for my colleague, Senator Henney.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I move that the request of the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante be laid upon the table.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, will the gentleman from Tioga state his reason why?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I make that motion, because my understanding is that Mr. Henney is not a member of the Senate. He has already resigned his seat.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, the case involving the right of Dr. Henney to sit in this Senate has created such widespread public interest that I deem it my duty—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order. The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett state his point of order.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, the motion to lay on the table is not debatable.

The PRESIDENT. The point of order is well taken.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order. The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett will state his point of order.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, there is nothing in order but the call of the roll.

The PRESIDENT. The point of order is well taken.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Cavalcante and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—24.

Bartlett,

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Washington, Mr. Reed will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. REED, Mr. President:

The case involving the right of Dr. Henney to sit in this Senate has created such widespread public interest that I deem it my duty to present my views thereon for your consideration.

It is not my purpose to defend Dr. Henney for holding two public offices. It might be said, however, in deference to a man of his high standing that such a situation indicates at least that he is popular with the electors of his county and district. My position has always been against any person holding two major, public offices at the same time, because I believe that the required standard of efficiency cannot be obtained under such circumstances. Some years ago I followed with keen interest the case of Senator Mansfield when he was elected County Commissioner of Allegheny County. When my friend Senator Rankin was elected County Commissioner of Allegheny County, my advice to him was against holding both. Similar advice did I offer my friend Walter Carson of Washington County when he ran for Prothonotary while yet a member of our House of Representatives.

Nor do I enter this discussion in an attempt to sway the balance of power to this side of the Chamber. The departure of Senator Heyburn and Senator Eroe from their original course has rendered such a policy fruitless. And advancing further into this subject, I might say that it is best if the administration in power controls the Assembly providing such control is acquired by popular assent and in a rightful and lawful manner; then responsibility can be fixed and criticism properly directed.

I repeat, I do not defend dual office holding; I do not court or entice political power. For the good of the American Cause, I propose to discuss the time and manner, the ways and means, of the Henney case.

In 1936 Dr. Henney was elected to a seat in this Senate over an opponent whose popularity reached to every corner of the state. In 1937 Dr. Henney was elected to the office of Coroner in Allegheny County over a well known competitor who had administered the office for years.

No one challenged his right to hold these offices until after the general election of 1938, for everyone in his County of Allegheny was familiar with the opinion in the Mansfield case. After the fall election of 1938, it became apparent that the balance of power in the State Senate was slight. It was then that a legal proceeding was instituted for the first time against him. I say frankly if his right to hold these two public offices had been challenged a year before, or after the general election of 1937, little if any criticism could have been offered. But when we take his case and consider it in connection with the allegations made by Senator Sipe and Senator Gilson on the floor of this Senate, charging fraudulent inducements, then I say to you that his removal was sought as a part of the plan to control the activities of this Senate. The Supreme Court of Pennsylvania took original jurisdiction of the cause. It came up in Philadelphia for argument and determination. It is reported that Senator Henney said he would obey the mandate of the Court. Other reports were current at the time to the effect that the decision of the Court was that Senator Henney must resign his seat in the Senate by a certain day and hour.

Then last week from the floor of this Senate, an able Senator and good lawyer from Allegheny County made the amazing declaration that no written court opinion or order had ever been delivered in the Henney case. If there is no written decision, what is the status of the cause? Some say it is up to this Senate to judge this cause. Others say the Court can determine the question of the incompatibility of the dual offices. Others say the court has the power to cause the official to make his selection. With these, and other divergent views, how can this Senate justly act without a written decision from the Court? Until we have such a written decision, we must follow the legal course already mapped out for us.

The Constitution of Pennsylvania, Article II, Section 9, provides:

"Each House shall choose its other officers, and shall judge of the election and qualifications of its members."

In McNeil's Contested Election, reported in 111 Pa. 235, the Supreme Court, through Chief Justice Mercur, said:

"Art. II, Sec. 9, of the Constitution of 1874 declares, 'Each House shall judge of the election and qualification of its members.'"

"Art. VIII, Sec. 17, provides that 'the trial and determination of contested elections of members of the General Assembly, and other officers therein named, shall be by the courts of law, or by one or more of the law judges thereof, and that the General Assembly should by general law designate the courts and judges by whom the several classes of election contests shall be tried, and regulate the manner of trial and all matters incident thereto.'"

"A careful reading of this Section 17 shows that its purpose is not to take from each House the power to judge of the election and qualifications of its members, given by Sec. 9 cited."

Judge Hargest of the Dauphin County Court, in 1922, in the case of Robert's Petition, reported in 2 District and County Reports, page 236, quoted with approval from the decision in the case of McNeil's Contested Election, by saying, "A careful reading of this Section 17 shows that its purpose is not to take from each House the power to judge of the election and qualifications of its members given by Section 9 cited."

The whole matter is ably reviewed in the Mansfield Case by that great lawyer, William A. Schnader, acting at the time as Attorney General of this Commonwealth, and because of the importance of the question involved, I desire to read his entire opinion and decision.

"This is a petition calling upon the Attorney General to institute a writ of quo warranto against Honorable William D. Mansfield, a member of the State Senate.

The facts upon which the petition is based are as follows:

On November 3, 1931, while holding the office of State Senator, Mr. Mansfield was elected a County Commissioner of Allegheny County. His term as Senator will not expire until November 30, 1934. At the present time he is holding both offices.

It is alleged that these offices are incompatible and that the respondent is disqualified to continue to hold the office of State Senator.

The petitioner admits that the Constitution of Pennsylvania does not render incompatible the offices of Senator and County Commissioner, and that there is no statutory provision forbidding a county commissioner to hold office as a State Senator, but contends that notwithstanding the silence of the Constitution and the statutory law, there is a common-law incompatibility between the offices of county commissioner and State Senator.

The petitioner does not furnish any authorities whatever to support his argument that there is a common-law incompatibility.

The respondent relies principally upon the proposition that the question of the qualification of a member of the Senate to continue to hold office as such is exclusively for the Senate, and is not a matter for judicial determination. He also denies that there is any incompatibility between the offices of county commissioner and State Senator and points to the fact that in COMMONWEALTH v. JOYCE, 291 Pa. 82 (1937), the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania expressly held that it was not incompatible for a poor director at the same time to be a member of the State Senate.

Article II, Section 5 of the Constitution specifically provides what the qualifications of Senators and Representatives shall be.

Sections 6 and 7 of the same article deal with "disqualifications." The first of these is that:

"No Senator or Representative shall, during the time for which he shall have been elected, be appointed to any civil office under this Commonwealth, and no member of Congress or other person holding any office (except of attorney-at-law or in the militia) under the United States or this Commonwealth shall be a member of either House during his continuance in office."

COMMONWEALTH v. JOYCE, already cited, was an interpretation by the Supreme Court of the Act of May 5, 1874, P. L. 186, in which the Legislature quoted verbatim the language of Article II, Section 6 of the Constitution. The Supreme Court said at page 84:

"The interdiction of the statute is not against holding any office, or any public office, or any office of profit, but against being appointed to any civil office under this Commonwealth or holding any other office of profit under this State. The legislature, therefore, confined to State offices the offices which might not be held; had it desired to exclude the holding of any other office it would have been easy to say so * * * ."

This is a statement by the highest court of this State that the Constitution itself does not forbid a county office holder from serving at the same time as a State Senator.

We are of the opinion that the common law does not cover this field, and that unless the Constitution or an act of the Legislature prohibits a county commissioner from serving as a State Senator, he may do so.

In any event, there can be no doubt that under Article II, Section 9, of the Constitution only the Senate can determine whether one of its members is disqualified to continue to serve as such. That section provides that:

"* * * Each House * * * shall judge of the election and qualification of its members."

If the Senate is the judge of the election and qualifications of its members, necessarily that body is the judge of the disqualifications of its members; and the Constitution having conferred this authority upon the Senate, it is removed from the sphere of judicial determination.

Upon this point there is no direct Pennsylvania authority, but the authorities of other states interpreting almost identical sections of their respective constitutions universally hold that the courts do not have jurisdiction to pass upon qualifications of members of the Legislature.

In passing, we refer to the decision of our own Supreme Court in COMMONWEALTH v. CROW, 218 Pa. 234 (1907).

That was a writ of quo warranto issued against the late William E. Crow, challenging his right to hold the office of State Senator on the ground that the Act of February 17, 1906, P. L. 31, constituting the County of Fayette the Thirty-second Senatorial District, was unconstitutional and void, and alleging that, because of the unconstitutionality of the act, Senator Crow did not rightfully hold the office to which he had been elected and in which he was then serving.

The writ was quashed because it was brought on the relation of a private citizen, and not on the relation of the Attorney General.

In rendering its decision, the Supreme Court said at page 236:

"* * * Even a judgment of ouster against the respondent would not give the office to the relator, for his own qualifications and the regularity and validity of his election would still be subject to the investigation and judgment of the Senate, which is the ultimate and supreme tribunal on these matters."

STAE v. TOMLINSON, 20 Kansas 692 (1878), was an action prosecuted by the State, on the relation of the Attorney General, to try the title of a member of the House of Representatives to his seat and to oust him from office. The member, upon the convening of the Legislature, had been adjudged by the House to be entitled to a seat in that body and to continue to act as such. It was held that the court had no jurisdiction to determine the question, as the power "to judge of the elections, returns, and qualifications of its own members" was vested in each House and could not even by its own consent or by legislative action be vested in any other tribunal or officer. It was further held that the power to judge of the qualifications of its members continued "during the entire term of office."

Chief Justice Horton, speaking for the unanimous court, very pertinently said:

"Within certain constitutional restrictions, the executive, legislative, and judicial powers of the state, are independent and supreme; and neither has the right to enter upon the exclusive domain of the other. We should be passing beyond the limits of our own power to judge of the election or qualifications of a member of the legislature; and as the constitution has expressly confided this power to another body, we must leave it where it has been deposited by the fundamental law * * *."

A similar conclusion was reached by the Supreme Court of Minnesota in O'FERRAL v. COLBY, 2 Minnesota 180 (1858).

PEOPLE v. MAHANEY, 1 Michigan 481 (1865), was a case in which the Supreme Court of Michigan held that each House of the Legislature was the exclusive judge of the qualifications, elections, and returns of its members and that decisions of legislative bodies upon such questions are conclusive, and not subject to review by the courts.

In HISS v. BARTLETT, 3 Gray 468 (1855), the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts held that the court could not review the reasons for expulsion of a member of the House of Representatives, that being an exclusive question for the Legislature, and not for the courts; and in DINAN v. SWIG, 223 Massachusetts 516 (1916), the same court held that the power to pass upon the election and qualifications of its own members is vested exclusively in each branch of the Legislature:

"* * * The grant of power is comprehensive, full and complete. It is necessarily exclusive, for the Constitution contains no words permitting either branch of the Legislature to delegate or share that power. It must remain where the sovereign authority of the State has placed it. * * *"

In view of the fact that the Senate of Pennsylvania is the exclusive judge of the qualifications and disqualifications of its own members, it would serve no useful purpose to allow the petition now pending or to institute in the name of the Commonwealth, at the relation of the Attorney General, quo warranto proceedings against Senator Mansfield. Only the Senate can inquire into and pass upon Senator Mansfield's right to continue to hold office as one of its members.

For these reasons the petition is denied."

This is the law unless more recent rulings have changed it.

There seems to be no writings of any kind bearing on this case before this Senate. If Senator Henney tendered a writing in the form of a resignation, believing at the time he was following out the order of the Supreme Court, and it later developed there was no such written order in existence, how could this Senate justly and rightly expel him? The Supreme Court of Pennsylvania is a Court of Record. To call it Supreme does not mean that it exercises complete control and dominance over all three departments of our government, Executive, Judicial, and Legislative. True, it is Supreme in its own judicial sphere, but the Executive and Legislative branches are likewise independent and supreme in their respective spheres.

In the Regular Session of 1937, I spoke in this Senate on the danger of executive encroachment. In the Special Summer Session of 1938, my friend and colleague from Fayette, Senator Cavalcante, and I opposed with our votes and otherwise an attempt to change certain Constitutional legal procedure by legislative enactment.

Tonight, I repeat that our democratic form of government owes its existence to the independent operation of the executive, judicial and legislative branches, and this salutary practice must continue without restriction or encroachment, if our present form of popular government is to survive.

I have no intention or desire to injure or defame our judicial system. For more than twenty years I have practiced actively in the courts of this Commonwealth, and during all of this time I have rendered unto them the highest honor and respect within my power. On the contrary, I strive sincerely for their preservation. I stand here tonight pleading for their continuance. I am an American citizen keenly interested in the welfare of my Country and my State. As such, I declare tonight to you that our government and its several agencies will not be destroyed by the forces from without; I say to you, that our judicial system will not be demolished by the agitator and the cynic, formidable as their assaults might be; nor will it be broken down by those who would attack it from without. Its end will come through the conduct of those within. We know that human nature in its weakness will accept the smooth and feathery path of ease, rather than the rough and narrow road of virtue. Strong men we must have, inspired by a sacred sense of duty, and in these critical times, when our Courts are the subject of such intense public scrutiny, it is the duty of those in charge to be most careful, most discreet, most unselfish, most impartial, most just and equitable, and most courageous; for in their conduct rests the preservation of our judicial system and in turn the salvation of the Republic.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Walker will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, last week in the course of my mail I received a letter from John C. Morlock, former Secretary of the Senate and one from Dennis J. Mulvihill, former Chief Clerk of the Senate. Mr. Morlock said the following: "Should you desire to consult me about anything, I shall be at your service." And from Mr. Mulvihill, in the second paragraph of his letter, he said, "If you should ever have occasion to require of me anything with relation to the Senate business or any other matters, I assure you, you may readily call upon me."

Accepting those invitations, I immediately wrote to both of these gentlemen explaining how they could serve me, and I asked them both what had become of the resignation tendered to this Senate by Senator Henney. Inasmuch as I represent a large portion of Allegheny County, I called upon Dr. Henney to find out first hand, his status in the Senate. I was advised by Senator Henney that he had tendered his resignation, that he had delivered it to the Prothonotary of the Supreme Court, that he was no longer a member of this body, that he had resigned and he resented very much being drawn back into these circumstances. In due homage and in all respect to the wishes of the man most deeply involved, Senator Henney, I think that we should accept that resignation. I feel that his fellow citizens respect his wishes and I think that we should respect them too.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I did not expect to get into this scrap, but I do think from what the gentleman who just spoke said that the only one most concerned about this resignation is Senator Henney. I want to record myself as objecting to that and saying that I don't agree to that at all. We think Senator Henney was elected to the Senate by the people of Pennsylvania to serve in the Senate for four years before he was elected to the office of Coroner. I am quite sure when he was elected that if the people of his district were to make the choice they would have said, stay where you were sent by the people. As a citizen of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, I object to a man who holds two jobs, one of which is more important to him financially that he will give up another one because it will cause him less inconvenience to give it up. Senator Henney did not have as much to say about this as the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the colleagues who were sent here, so I disagree with the gentleman who has spoken. Senator Henney had less to do with it than any of us or the people. I say Senator Henney's obligation was not to himself but to the people who had elected him. I would much prefer to attend to my practice in Philadelphia where I have a very important case coming up. I understand that on the Calendar there are questions of relief which involve the safety of women and children from our districts, many of whom have sent me here. I am here because I feel that it is my duty to serve them whether it is a little more convenient or whether it is not.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I would like to ask the gentlemen from Lawrence, Senator Chapman, if he will permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, there has been information brought to my attention that during the career of the gentleman from Lawrence, our State Senator at one time he also served as coroner of his county. I would like to ask the gentleman from Lawrence whether that is true?

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I served as Burgess of the Borough of Lawrence.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I wish at this time to yield the floor to the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis.

Mr. MCGINNIS. Mr. President, I had a conference last Saturday with Senator Henney and his lawyer; and both of them advised me that Senator Henney's resignation was tendered to the Supreme Court through a misapprehension, that Senator Henney was given notice that he had only one day, twenty-four hours, or until ten o'clock the next day to present his resignation.

He got on the train and went to Philadelphia. He went before the Chief Justice. It was just then 15 minutes to ten and he said to the Chief Justice, "It seems to me I ought to have a little more time to consult my lawyer and my friends" and he said Chief Justice Kephart pulled out his watch and said, "You have 15 minutes to resign." Senator Henney then said, "Isn't there some order, won't you give me some opinion" and Justice Kephart said, "You heard what I said." Under those circumstances he thought it was the proper thing to present his resignation which he did.

On January 3rd, about 10:00 o'clock in the morning Mr. Henney's attorney John O'Connell, advised me last Saturday, he was called by the Prothonotary of the Supreme Court of Philadelphia and he said, "We are giving notice to you from the Supreme Court that it is your duty as a lawyer appearing in this case and as the arm of this court to notify Senator Henney that if he appears in the Senate of Pennsylvania today, we will judge him in contempt of court and if you do not get this information to Senator Henney you may be adjudged in contempt of court because you are the attorney in this case and the arm of this court."

Mr. President, it seems that under these circumstances if that just was not quite the proper way to protest the eligibility or the incompatibility of the offices of coroner and State Senator and whether it was the right way or not, it seems to me that Senator Henney should have the right to appear in this Senate. It is his duty to appear in this Senate and get the permission of this Senate to accept his resignation and his resignation directed to this Senate and not detoured around through the Supreme Court and then through the Sheriff of Philadelphia County into this body which was then not received by our President, which is not the legal and proper way to test his right to his seat in this Senate.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

The PRESIDENT. The Secretary has received the following telegram which the Clerk will read:

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I move that the gentleman be advised, at the address given, that it was presented.

The PRESIDENT. Is there any objection to granting Leave of Absence.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I object.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Luzerne, Dr. Mundy will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, may I rise at this time to corroborate the statement made by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis.

I, too, have talked to Dr. Henney relative to the matter of appearing here on the Senate floor and he told me that it was his desire to remain a member of this Senate but that as a good, American, law abiding citizen he was afraid he would be adjudged in contempt of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania. He told me of the instance of having been called down to the Supreme Court, given a brief time to make a choice in this matter. I say, too, in joining the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis, that we have to go back just a little bit to realize that when most of us were young and growing up we had a profound respect for the Federal court and Federal officers, but the entrance of the prohibition era brought us in close contact with Federal agencies and Federal courts and I am sorry to say in most of us, a great many of us, it has the close proximity and the closest study of some of these agencies have left a feeling of somewhat contempt for many of them. And I say, too, that if any court, and I say this not as a practitioner of law and without any reservation, that if courts wish to command the respect of the people of Pennsylvania, their conduct should be so that they should deserve that respect. When officials in public life whether they be officials of government or officials of the court because from legal status and from fixed principles I am afraid that they will force some of us to give to them the respect which is due them. I repeat and join with the Senator from Allegheny in saying that when the bulwark of the American government loses the respect of the American people then we have the first seed planted for the dissolution of all government.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I rise to a question of Special Privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, will state his question of Special Privilege.

Mr. OWLETT. I ask leave to have the following communication entered upon the Journal.

To the Honorable The Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I certify that in accordance with the provisions of Section 1, Article VII, of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, to wit:

"Senators and Representatives and all judicial, State and county officers shall, before entering on the duties of their respective offices, take and subscribe the following oath of affirmation: 'I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will support, obey and defend the Constitution of the United States, and the Constitution of this Commonwealth, and that I will discharge the duties of my office with fidelity; that I have not paid or contributed, or promised to pay or contribute, either directly or indirectly, any money or other valuable thing, to procure my nomination or election (or appointment), except for necessary and proper expenses expressly authorized by law; that I have not knowingly violated any election law of this Commonwealth, or procured it to be done by others in my behalf; that I will not knowingly receive, directly or indirectly, any money or other valuable thing for the performance or non-performance of any act or duty pertaining to my office, other than the compensation allowed by law'."

Within one minute after the Honorable Herbert S. Levin was sworn as a member of the Senate on Tuesday, January 3, 1939, I administered the oath to the following members-elect of the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in the hall of the Senate, namely:

George Woodward—Sixth District.
Louis H. Farrell—Eighth District.
Howard I. James—Tenth District.
Franklin Spencer Edmonds—Twelfth District.
Montgomery F. Crowe—Fourteenth District.
Oscar Jacob Tallman—Sixteenth District.
Charles A. P. Bartlett—Eighteenth District.
Robert M. Miller—Twentieth District.
John G. Snowden—Twenty-fourth District.
George B. Stevenson—Twenty-sixth District.
Charles R. Mallery—Thirtieth District.
A. H. Letzler—Thirty-fourth District.
Charles H. Ealy—Thirty-sixth District.
James A. Geltz—Fortieth District.
John M. Walker—Forty-fourth District.
Leroy E. Chapman—Forty-eighth District.
J. Fred Thomas—Fiftieth District.

ALBERT S. C. MILLAR, Judge,
Court of Common Pleas No. 3,
First Judicial District,
Philadelphia County,
Pennsylvania.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Tioga, Mr. Owlett.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, will the gentleman state what is the purpose of incumbering the records with this letter?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, the purpose of having this certificate spread upon the minutes is that upon an examination of the Legislative Journal of January 3, it discloses that the clerks who took down the minutes of what transpired failed to note on their record the point at which the men were sworn in by Judge Millar and for the purpose of completing the record of this body, we file this certificate by Judge Millar stating and certifying as to who he swore in and when they were sworn in.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, is not it true that last week we spent some considerable time quietly and orderly in correcting the Legislative Journal of January 3. Is the gentleman confessing that he had overlooked that and does he think it is necessary to have the record contain a copy of the oath which we usually furnish these judges so that they will know how to swear in the members of the Senate?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I think it is well to have it on the record.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, will the gentleman agree that the oath to which he refers may be eliminated from the record?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, it is rather short and will make the record more complete.

Mr. SHAPIRO. The gentleman has no idea of why, before any particular member of the Senate,—

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I think the Journal will be more complete if the oath is included in the record.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, who was it that invited Judge Millar here to administer the oath?

Mr. Owlett. Mr. President, I do not recall which one of us asked Judge Millar.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, would not the gentleman indicate this in the Journal so that the reader might know how this judge from the Court of Common Pleas happened to be here, when we already had somebody here to do it. I think the record, if it is to be complete, should show—

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, we do not know who invited Judge Sheely and I do not think who invited Judge Millar is very important, but for the information of my colleagues whether we invited him directly or not, it was suggested that we have someone because it was suggested that the Lieutenant-Governor, the then presiding officer, might try some shenanigans and prevent our men from being sworn in and so we had him here for that purpose and he came in very handy.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to suggest that it was not the swearing in by Judge Millar but the twenty-six votes which the Republicans were able to garner the next week that came in more handy than anything Judge Millar did. To further complete the record Judge Sheely of Adams County was invited in an orderly way by the President Pro Tempore whose duties it is to extend this invitation.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President I will be very glad to.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, can you name the Senators who were sworn in by the very convenient Judge from Philadelphia.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I refer the Senator to the certificate of Judge Millar which lists them. I cannot say that I recall them all at the moment but I have no objection to having them read again.

The PRESIDENT. The names on the certificates will be read again.

The names were read as follows:

George Woodward, Sixth District
 Louis H. Farrell, Eighth District
 Howard I. James, Tenth District
 Franklin Spencer Edmonds, Twelfth District
 Montgomery F. Crowe, Fourteenth District
 Oscar Jacob Tallman, Sixteenth District
 Charles A. P. Bartlett, Eighteenth District
 Robert M. Miller, Twentieth District
 John G. Snowden, Twenty-fourth District
 George B. Stevenson, Twenty-sixth District
 Charles R. Mallery, Thirtieth District
 A. H. Letzler, Thirty-fourth District
 James A. Geltz, Fortieth District
 Charles H. Ealy, Thirty-sixth District
 John M. Walker, Forty-fourth District
 Leroy E. Chapman, Forty-eighth District
 J. Fred Thomas, Fiftieth District

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, as I understand it three names were called of Senators whose right to their seat was in doubt before the impromptu swearing in by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Judge Millar. Am I to understand that any judge in Pennsylvania can come into the Senate Chamber regardless of a contest against any Senator and swear him in as a member of the Senate in the face of the fact that the votes of the Senators would be necessary to unseat that man.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, apparently the Senator has forgotten the time at which these men were sworn in. I will call the Senate's attention to the fact that these men were all sworn in by Judge Millar at the time Mr. Levin was sworn in up at the Speaker's desk and that Mr. Levin was sworn in separately because he was being contested in Philadelphia. It was decided it would be necessary to give him special privilege and have him sworn in up on the Speaker's stand. It was then very evident that an effort would be made to prevent the Republicans from being sworn in. It was then, at that moment, Judge Millar came upon the floor of the Senate and swore in the Republican Senators. At the time they were sworn in there had been no action taken by this body. I also call the Senate's attention, however, that the fact that this chair has already ruled that these men were improperly excluded because they were not permitted to vote by a quorum of the Senate. If what was done on the seventeenth was proper and what was done on the third was proper this merely completes the record.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I just wanted to make sure whether any judge could come into this Senate and swear in any Senator at any time.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, in connection with this proceeding while it is true that at the last session of this Senate the Chair declared certain actions illegal although it is only the presiding officer's opinion and the votes were here you have an additional method of correcting the Journal by receiving a communication from a Judge which asked that it be filed with the record to correct the Journal and while I enjoyed the last one I am not enjoying this one.

In order to keep the records straight in this case and in order to correct the gentleman from Tioga in the keeping of the records of this Senate it might be well to call attention of the gentleman from Tioga, and not disrespectfully to the presiding officer either, that on January third the President Pro Tempore of the Senate acting upon an appeal of the gentleman from Tioga decided under the Constitution and the law and prior proceedings that the three gentlemen in question were not entitled to vote on the question directly effecting their seats in this Senate and the decision rendered on January seventeenth was in contempt and in direct opposition of that ruling by the Honorable President Pro Tempore. In order to keep this record straight and the gentleman from Tioga straight I ask the Senator to state whether this pettifogging jurist from Philadelphia administered the oath of office to the gentlemen on the right at the bar of this Senate as it has been the custom under the Constitution and the law and the parliamentary proceedings of this Senate.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, for the information of the Senator I will call his attention to the fact that the Judge of the Court of Common Pleas of Philadelphia swore in these men in the body of this Senate as the Constitution provides.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 4 (House Bill No. 1), entitled:

An Act transferring money from the Motor License Fund to the General Fund and providing for the subsequent return from the General Fund of the transferred money.

And said bill having been read at length the second time,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, or someone else. I want to find out the provisions of this bill.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would suggest the Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations, Mr. Ealy.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Somerset, Mr. Ealy, as Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Somerset, Mr. Ealy, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, this bill which is House Bill No. 1, Printer's No. 1, provides for the transfer of twenty-six million dollars from the Motor License Fund. I understand that is for the purpose of permitting passage in the Senate of Senate Bill No. 8, which provides for the appropriation of twelve million dollars to the Department of Public Assistance for relief.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, that is in part.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, will the gentleman state for the benefit of the Senators what is the purpose of transferring twenty-six million dollars when only twelve million dollars has been appropriated.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, it becomes necessary to transfer from the Motor License Fund the funds which will be available and will not be used for the ordinary road purposes during the early summer.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I ask that we have a little order. This is an important matter.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, under the report from the Department of Public Assistance and the investigation made by Dr. Logan, the Budget Secretary, it will require forty to fifty million dollars to provide for relief needs up until the end of this biennium. In order to get these funds without having new taxes in this biennium it will be necessary to transfer these available funds in the Motor License Fund. This Administration has just taken over at this time and the sum of twelve million dollars is appropriated. In the bill to which the Senator from Philadelphia referred its total will carry the relief needs until the first of March.

What further appropriations will be needed they do not know but it is thought that all of the funds will be needed and laid aside until this policy is fully worked out and until it is seen how much the expense and the cost of the overhead will be. It is not desirable at this time to make an appropriation of any more than twelve million dollars.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, will the gentleman state what is the purpose of transferring twenty-six million dollars if only twelve million dollars is presently appropriated. Why cannot the subsequent amount be transferred later when it becomes necessary.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, all of these funds, it is thought, will be needed. We do not want contracts to be made in excess of the ordinary normal expenses of the Department.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, then I understand two things. First you prefer not to use these funds so they will be available but to make a transfer and use the funds as needed for relief and secondly that the funds transferred are to be used only for relief. Is that correct?

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, practically all of the funds.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, will the gentleman tell the members of this Senate why it is that in the transfer bill and the bill in this Senate at present provides for the payment of deficiency appropriations to the Department of Public Assistance for the biennium ending May 31, 1939.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, the Senator from Philadelphia was instrumental in having a bill prepared at the last session of the legislature taking over the mental hospital at Byberry. It is estimated that it will cost the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania $1,100,000 to maintain the Byberry institution up until the end of this biennium. There is a small deficiency appropriation which will be needed in the Department of Justice. Those are the only two appropriations that we know of other than the relief appropriation.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, if the gentleman will look at these appropriation bills there is a provision that these funds will be used not only for relief but to cover other deficiencies. If the gentleman is referring to deficiencies in the Attorney General's department I suggest that the gentleman will recall that we passed a bill appropriating $5,000,000 to the Department of Forest and Waters and there will be a lapse of two million nine hundred thousand dollars before the end of the biennium because this fund will not be used. By a mere repeal of that Act or an amendment reducing the appropriation from five million to two million dollars we will be able to make available for relief two million nine hundred thousand dollars. Does the gentleman think that the community should be deprived of the use of the fuel tax which they should receive when there is enough money available for the purpose of relief to which the gentleman refers, without having to tap the Firemen's Fund.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, there is no bill here to tap the Firemen's Fund.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, well the Insurance Fund, that goes to the firemen anyway, two percent of it goes to the firemen.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, this fund is not a firemen's Fund, it has nothing to do with the local insurance question.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, Senate Bill No. 4, transfers from the State Insurance Fund to the General Fund, one million dollars. If there is only an appropriation of twelve million dollars I cannot see and I would like the gentleman to tell me why we need these additional transfers amounting to twenty-six and four and three and one making thirty-four million dollars.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, do I understand the Senator from Philadelphia to say we should make the whole appropriation to the Department of Public Assistance at this time.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I do and that is why I am speaking on this bill now. It can be amended and I wanted to avoid the criticisms that can be properly raised against us if we wait until it is on final passage. If you want to appropriate twelve million dollars to the Public Assistance fund the last three bills, namely, the appropriations from the Liquor Fuel Tax, the appropriations from the Liquor Control Fund and the appropriations from the Insurance Fund can be left out of the picture because you would have twenty-six million dollars in the first bill anyway. If the question of the two items cannot be undertaken or covered in the matters which I have suggested then you can increase your appropriation from twelve million dollars to fourteen million dollars and reduce your transfer from twenty-six million dollars to fourteen million dollars. I have heard the gentlemen from Somerset many times on this floor object to the continued transfers of funds from the Motor License Fund.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I did not expect to get into a debate on second reading on these bills. The Budget Secretary tells me that about 50,000 cases from WPA have been added to the relief rolls since December 1st, and about three persons to each case. Now it is expected not only will it be necessary to appropriate the twenty-six million dollars which is transferred from the Motor License Funds; but also the other monies which are taken from the other funds in these bills but the money to which the Senator refers in the Flood Control Fund and possibly one or two other funds. It seems a little like irony, like the irony of fate to ask the Senate to vote continued appropriations to the Department of Public Assistance under this present system. I think it was a terrible mistake for the last two Administrations to transfer or to change through these systems from the principle of the first Talbot Acts. But it has been done and we are up against the condition here and that is that, I think an appropriation at present of twelve million dollars to Public Assistance is plenty, and we should endeavor to find out as soon as we can how much overhead is spent and whether these relief payments are going to the proper persons. I think it is very advisable not to make a larger appropriation at this time, but in order to preserve these funds against the situation of a necessity which will arise for relief cases, it is advisable to transfer them at this time so they will not be used otherwise, so we have this money in the event that it is needed.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the Administration has control of these funds, isn't that true?

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, well I am not sure that this administration, nor that this Senate, or that this Legislature will have the courage to change this relief system, and I want to see it changed—and we are giving Public Assistance sufficient money.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, will the gentleman tell us whether he is familiar with the bill? Will these funds be returned by the First of September, 1939?

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, some gentlemen in the last Administration conceived the idea of raising money by tax administration certificates. It doesn't seem to me that it was a very business-like way of raising money. I am afraid we will have to continue that method for a year or two after the end of this biennium to again raise money and return these funds before the First of September.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, then I'm to understand that the objection is to appropriating money such as we are doing here for relief but not to provide taxes to raise the money until after the biennium, is that the plan?

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, we are pretty well loaded with taxes now.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, is that the plan not to pass any taxes until the next biennium?

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, if the Senator could suggest any new taxes we could put on the people— — —

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I am not introducing a bill or any bill to raise taxes for that matter. This is a very serious problem for which no one is to be blamed. I may say that if any one is to blame for the cutting down of WPA rolls, that those gentlemen on the other side are responsible for what is happening in Pennsylvania, but that is your condition. Now we have given considerable thought to this matter so that we can know what the plan is and how we can act. We have a responsibility to the people at home. Many of the elected Senators are being importuned by their people not to transfer any money from Motor License or other funds. Therefore, we would like to know whether we can say to our constituents that in the face of these transfers, it is going to be necessary to levy taxes to meet these transfers so that we may return the funds. That is the question I propound to the gentleman from Somerset.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, as far as I know there is no intention of levying any new taxes during this biennium. No one knows where they could be levied. The Liquid Fuel Tax Fund has been distributed. It would accumulate up and until the end of this biennium and the next distribution will be made about the first of June. I am told by the Budget Secretary that the Department of Highways normally would not spend this twenty-six million dollars until after the end of June so that it will not interfere in any manner with the building of roads under the plan normally adopted.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, why transfer it now, if they won't have any use for it until June.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, the transfer will have to be made now.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, will you consider an amendment to this bill, amending the transfer bill, for reducing it from twenty-six million dollars to fourteen million dollars.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I do not think that is practical.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, may I simply add to what the Senator from Somerset has stated. As I understand the situation, from the survey that has been made up to this time, it is indicated there will be between now and the end of this biennium a forty-million dollar bill for relief. This deficit has got to be provided for by economies in the next biennium. These bills propose to transfer thirty-four million dollars from the various funds of this kind. There will however, be appropriated under Senate Bill No. 5 only twelve million dollars of that transfer. The rest of it will be available for appropriations as the investigation determines the necessity.

This administration has been in office less than one week. Nobody has been able yet to ascertain how much of this money is going for salaries. We have one report here showing that one board has been spending relief money, one member of that board is supposed to be working for twenty-five dollars a day, and has had a salary in the last year of $9,225.00, and they have had expenses of a considerable sum like that. This administration proposes to institute a lot of economies, cut down salaries, cut down personnel. We hope it won't be necessary to use the forty-million dollars. We hope this thirty-four million dollars that is being transferred will be enough to take care of the situation until the end of this biennium.

I notice my friend from the other side smiling. I believe he is thinking of what took place here four years ago. Four years ago we made a real offer to this Senate to change the system of relief, put it back in local agencies, so the local people could handle this relief to cut out these high salaries and these expenses, finding out at that time they had receptionists and assistant receptionists, and every other kind of an office in this relief set up, and we find it can be administered and save a lot of money.

In that campaign four years ago we made appropriations for relief every week or so and other transfers which was made over the great objections by the Senator from Philadelphia. We are hoping that we might have harmonious and peaceful session here in 1939, so it was decided to provide all of the money at once. And we hope we can get along with this $34,000,000 to get us through this biennium. It amuses me to have the Senator object to making the appropriation of $12,000,000 or transferring $34,000,000 when I remember distinctly in his able address on the floor four years ago when it was done piece-meal.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Somerset, Mr. Ealy.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Somerset, Mr. Ealy permit himself to be interrogated

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. REED. In preparing the appropriation bill for relief were the figures submitted by the Department of Public Assistance or by the Budget Secretary?

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, the Department of Public Assistance prepared a statement on December 23, 1938, in which that Department estimated that a balance of $7,282,100 will remain in the appropriation for Public Assistance as of December 31, 1938. They estimated the expenditures for the month of December at almost $10,000,000. I am not sure just how much was spent during the month of December for relief but it is approximately $10,000,000. According to this information all the funds are now exhausted for relief and it is necessary this week to make some transfer and some appropriation in order to take care of the immediate and pressing cases.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the gentleman from Tioga has a cute way of remembering what he wants to remember and forgetting what he dislikes. He also couples what I said to make his own remarks. Last week because he had not seen so many Republicans around here for four years he made the statement that I was a Republican at one time, this for the benefit of the strangers, without finishing it, and without saying why I left the Republican party. It is because I did not like what the old-guard in the Republican party was doing. Now he tells us that four years ago I objected to a similar relief bill. That was on May 12, 1936 on page 124 of the Legislative Journal. It appears that I was the only one who voted against the action of the Republicans in cutting down the appropriation of $11,000,000 which came over from the House on May 4th. A few days after we convened we asked the Republican members to join us in passing a resolution to permit the transfer of funds under the Act of 1933 which permitted the Auditor General at fiscal offices to transfer from the Motor Fund to the General Fund this money for relief. We promised them we would pass legislation covering the $11,000,000 and the gentleman on the other side being in control at that time proceeded to have a caucus and they emerged from the caucus with a very interesting resolution reducing the original resolution from $11,000,000 to $3,300,000, and then hired a couple of auditors first at $500 and then at a $1,000 a month to examine the books of the associations of the relief department to see what was spent there. When the money ran out the next week they gave them another $4,000,000 or $5,000,000. I am consistent on that point. Now if you need $34,000,000 for relief I will vote for the transfer of $34,000,000 for relief but when you ask me to vote for $12,000,000 for relief and then ask me to vote for $26,000,000 transfer I am "affaired" of that. We know that with the situation in WPA your relief is going to be $9,000,000 or $10,000,000 every month from now on. Every one knows that there will be expenses of $1,600,000 for relief alone each week and so we know within a few million dollars we will need $34,000,000 to $44,000,000. I am willing to vote for the transfer of that amount of money if it is necessary but I think we should be informed where we are going to raise this money to pay back to the Fund and when you are going to raise it and by what means you are going to do it. It seems to me this is an important question and must be handled and should be handled by the gentlemen on the other side who are more concerned about this than I am. We know, in fact, it must be increased, the only tax we may be able to oppose will be an increase in the Gas Tax. The highway users of Pennsylvania will want to know how their money is appropriated and they will want to know how you will be using their money and whether you will be taxing them to pay it back again. I want the gentleman from Tioga to understand I am not suggesting you do it in piece-meal but if you want to transfer $34,000,000 for the purpose of relief I would like to see for the purpose of relief under these bills if you can appropriate this but not appropriate it for any deficiency that might occur between now and the first of June. The bill reads as follows:

"The purpose of this transfer is to provide funds for the payment of deficiency appropriations for public assistance and other deficiency appropriations made for the fiscal biennium ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine. * * *

You do not have a relief appropriation bill nor do you have a relief transfer bill. You should do it complete.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I think the gentleman from Philadelphia would like us to take a jump in the dark. As has been pointed out to him this administration has changed only within the last week. The casual survey that the Budget Officers made, has fixed our relief needs at about $45,000,000. This will be needed between now and the last of June. The prior administration was able to secure their needs by the simple expediency of the Tax Anticipation Notes and the self assessing clauses that was put into the corporation laws.

The present administration must confine itself to what comes in the next four years. It is essential that this money be transferred that it may properly be used. It is not essential however, that we appropriate the full amount that we have under control before we may be able to find out what the cost is going to be for relief month by month as has been pointed out here today. There may be an opportunity to cut down in the over-head. We had that problem four years ago in the regular session, and we found the over-head of about 16% and we considered cutting it down materially. I would judge from what Senator Owlett has said of the one gentleman getting over $9,000 a year it is high time somebody investigated the administration of relief before we decide just what the amount is going to be to carry us on until the first of June. It is a peculiar position we find ourselves in from what we were two years ago and, friends on the other side, we are just as much concerned about the Highway Funds as you are, so as to maintain the roads. As the former chairman of the Committee on Highways, I very zealously tried to guard the interests of that fund and we have seen the last two years we have had to bend in a great many directions, and I assume that our friends on the Democratic side are going to be just as willing as we have been in the last four years to secure relief that is necessary and I hope we may be just as zealous when they are in the majority to say we did not spend money that was not necessary in the maintaining of relief to see that the hungry do not starve.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I think that the gentleman will find we are not going to ask anyone to take a jump in the dark on these matters and we have agreed in our discussions so it will not come as a surprise that we propose to vote against the last three bills, those which appropriate $4,000,000 and $3,000,000 and $1,000,000 because we do not believe there should be $12,000,000 appropriated and $34,000,000 transferred. We do not think we need to impose any additional requests upon the municipalities. When you appropriate the money if there are for any reasonable requests whether they be piece-meal or not, we will go along with it if it is necessary. I would like to correct one thing. That is, that this $9,000 gentleman comes as a surprise and you say nothing was done about it.

We voted for one of the appointments of the Governor not because we believed that the Governor was entitled to decide that question, but that gentleman was an assistant to the other chief of the department and that gentleman comes from the school which imposes on the Commonwealth these so-called Social Service workers about which we have heard so much. The $9,000 item arises from the Governor making appointments, appointing these gentlemen who also hugged in with the Social Service Department and they made the appointments and kept a Committee of the House and Senate busily engaged for several months. My colleagues of the Senate who were appointed to that committee will recall that we could get no satisfaction in spite of the great deal of opposition and debate on the floor and the first thing that was done the gentleman who was getting $25, was appointed as head of that department. That does not enter into this picture. We would not have tolerated it but it comes because we have been thronged to, I believe, that I shall see that gentleman standing before the bar of this Senate in the same perspiration and under the same examination which will come not from the Democrats but from the Republicans as it did the last time. I am saying that this problem is not being approached properly and there will be no good reason why you will have to make appropriations piece-meal so you may govern yourself with the administration and you can tell the administration that one thing should be done, that is amend and reduce these bills to $14,000,000.

Mr. GILSON. Mr. President, in as much as the presiding officer has been so indulgent on the bill on second reading I trust you will indulge me further to read a communication, a resolution received today after which I shall ask leave to file.

RESOLUTION

Whereas, Representative Robert E. Woodside, Floor Leader in the House of Representatives, Harrisburg, has introduced a Bill proposing to transfer $26,000,000 from the Motor License Fund and $3,000,000 from the Liquid Fuels Fund to help meet relief needs; and

Whereas, both of these Funds are special funds raised by taxation of the motoring public, with the distinct understanding that said Funds are to be used for specific purposes and not for general State expenditures:

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, That the Automotive Association of Erie urge upon the Governor of the State of Pennsylvania, the Department of Revenue, State Highway Department, and the Legislative Committees in charge of such legislation, that any and all proposals for permanent transfers of such funds be unconditionally killed, and any and all proposals for borrowing from said Funds be opposed unless said borrowings provide for secured repayment at a definite time, with provision for no extension thereof, and that such time be fixed so as not to in any way interfere with the use of said Funds for the purposes for which they were collected.

AUTOMOTIVE ASSOCIATION OF ERIE,

By A. Grant Walker,
Secretary.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I thought it was made clear that these several bureaus did not intend to make a permanent transfer of these funds, but that they would all be paid back before the first of September. In the year 1938 at the end of May, there was a cash balance in the Motor License Fund of $34,781,958, and I think the Highway Department has agreed that this amount which we asked in this bill of $26,000,000 be transferred without in any way hampering the work of the Highway Department during the summer, providing the money is returned as provided for in these bills.

Now the reason for asking that only $12,000,000 be appropriated at this time, I believe has been stated well by the Senator from Susquehanna, Mr. Gelder, by referring to the fact that in a prior session, we put a limit on the overhead. We are putting one of our bills making an appropriation that the overhead should not be above a certain percentage; and that will have a good effect because it is my recollection that after that limit was put in the bill, that the overhead dropped in the Department of Public Assistance. If we find after this investigation in the next couple of months that the appropriation made subsequently to the Department of Public Assistance that some limit can be placed on the overhead, it may not be necessary to burden the Commonwealth with so many appropriations. We feel that all these funds are necessary to be transferred at this time so I want to point out again as I did awhile ago that the Liquid Fuel Tax Fund, if the money is secured by tax anticipation certificates, there need be no delay in turning this back to the State. I would also like to point this out, Mr. President, when the state takes over this relief load, we are relieving the local communities from a burden which is put on those, at least by taking care of the unfortunate in the several communities. They depend on funds of the Commonwealth to smaller communities it is only right and proper that that be done by the people who are paying for it want it done by the State.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations, Mr. Ealy.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, I would like to ask if this thirty-four million dollars is appropriated at once, what assurance we will have that these funds will be ear-marked for relief and not for any deficiency. I would say that this Senate has to vote on each of these appropriation measures and if they are going to vote for anything but relief everyone has a right to protest.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, as I pointed out there are a few small things that will have to be taken care of. For instance, the appropriation to the maintenance of Byberry until the end of this biennium. It has been taken over by the Commonwealth by this bill which I said last session was unconstitutional. Nevertheless, it has been taken over by the State. There is nevertheless, an appropriation which the Department of Justice needs in order that a few of these little odds and ends may be properly taken care of.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, I desire to ask the Senator if it is not important that we have a guarantee from the gentlemen from the other side that there is no intention to divert any large portion of this fund for the payment of any other deficiency.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I do not know what deficiencies were left by the other administration but I mentioned some. I do not know what deficiencies will occur, but we will have to have an appropriation to take care of it. I think it is well known here that it is necessary for a majority of this Senate to vote for the appropriation.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, I wish to have written in the record that representing my district of their actions that all the people will be taken care of, a proper appropriation will be made, but if it is to be a transfer of so much money, I feel there should be some assurance that all of these funds should be ear-marked for relief before the transfer is made.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I desire to ask the Senator from Somerset, Mr. Ealy, one more question.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Somerset permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, is it the purpose of the appropriation committee, of which you are chairman to ask this Senate for all monies that the chairman of the Department of Public Assistance recommends?

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I want to be shown that these requests are proper and if the Senator from Washington can show me any way in which I can properly vote against any of these appropriation bills, I will be glad to do so.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I believe Senator Ealy follows the course that he heretofore pursued that he will do his duty as he should.

And the question recurring.

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading?

It was agreed to.

And the said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, to be transcribed for third reading.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 5 (House Bill No. 2), entitled:

An Act transferring money from the Liquor License Fund to the General Fund and providing for the subsequent return from the General Fund of the transferred money.

And said bill having been read at length and agreed to, Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 6 (House Bill No. 3) entitled:

An Act transferring money from the Liquid Fuels Tax Fund to the General Fund and providing for the subsequent return from the General Fund of the transferred money.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 6 (House Bill No. 3), entitled:

An Act transferring money from the State Insurance Fund to the General Fund and providing for the subsequent return from the General Fund of the transferred money.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 8 (House Bill No. 5), entitled:

An Act making a deficiency appropriation to the Department of Public Assistance for the purpose of carrying out the Public Assistance Law for the two fiscal years ending May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine

The first section of the bill was read as follows and agreed to:

Section 1 The sum of twelve million dollars ($12,000,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated from the General Fund in the State Treasury to the Department of Public Assistance to provide assistance and for local and certain state administration expenses in the manner provided in the Public Assistance Law for the payment of deficiencies for the two fiscal years ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine.

The second section of the bill was read as follows:

Section 2 Out of the moneys hereby appropriated the Department of Public Assistance shall allocate from time to time among the several county boards of assistance funds with which to provide assistance and administrative expenses. Allocations so made to a county board of assistance shall be available for expenditure in that county for assistance and for administration expenses in the manner provided by the Public Assistance Law.

The Governor with the approval of the Auditor General and State Treasurer shall from time to time allocate to the Department of the Auditor General and the Treasury Department out of the appropriation made by this act such sums as may be deemed necessary to pay the administration expenses of said departments in auditing and disbursing the appropriation made by this act.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I move to amend Sec. 2, page 2, by inserting between lines 13 and 14 the following: "Out of the moneys hereby appropriated, the Department of Public Assistance may allocate a sum, not to exceed two hundred eighty thousand dollars ($280,000) for the payment of the salaries, wages, or other compensation of a deputy secretary and other employees, and of general expenses, supplies, printing and equipment necessary for the proper conduct of the work of said department, and for the payment of per diem compensation and expenses of members of the Employment Board, compensation of its employes, and general expenses, supplies, printing and equipment necessary for the proper conduct of its work."

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section as amended?

It was agreed to.

The third section of the bill was read as follows and agreed to.

Section 3 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment.

The title of the bill was read as follows

An Act making a deficiency appropriation to the Department of Public Assistance for the purposes of carrying out the Public Assistance Law for the two fiscal years ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the title?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I move to amend Title, page 1 line 3 of title by inserting after the word "Law" the following: "and for administration expenses"

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the title as amended?

It was agreed to.

And said bill as amended having been read at length the second time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill as amended?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, for the information of the Senate I desire to state that the amendments I have offered now provide $280,000 of this $12,000,000 that is being appropriated may be used for the payment of salaries, wages and other compensation or so much thereof that may be necessary for the reason that it now appears that there is no money left for over-head in the administration of this relief. If it is to be paid at all, this appropriation, as the bill now reads is for relief alone, and the money that is heretofore appropriated for over-head is entirely exhausted.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Tioga, Senator Owlett.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, will the gentleman tell us what percentage is allowed on the basis of the $280,000?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I think for the information of the Senate I can make a complete explanation of the situation. Under the General Appropriation Act of 1937 there was appropriated by the Legislature $1,452,000 for the payment of salaries and wages to the Department of Public Assistance. That appropriation was $1,452,000 to cover the whole expenses of the administration until the end of this biennium. It has now been discovered that this sum of $1,452,000 will be exhausted as of February 1, and I presume that the officials of the department will assign as a reason that this Fund for administration purposes of $1,452,000 has already been used and will need before the end of the biennium $280,000. In other words the money that is appropriated for administration expenses in 1937 of $1,452,000 is insufficient by the sum of $280,000 because this Employment Board has spent $280,000 that was not contemplated. My understanding is that this $280,000 or so much as may be necessary will carry the administration through to the end of the biennium. We expect that it is more than enough and that is the amount which you people were asked to appropriate to this one bureau we have been talking about.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered to be transcribed for a third reading.

Mr. SIPE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Somerset, Mr. Ealy, who is chairman of the Appropriations Committee.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Somerset, Mr. Ealy permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. SIPE. Mr. President, like you I come from a rural county in which we are interested in our roads. As I understand you correctly the passage of these bills will not interfere with the various building programs.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I cannot say that I talked directly with the Secretary of the Highways but the Budget Secretary informed me that normally the program of the Highway Department would not require this Fund not till sometime before this summer, when it can be repaid by taxes. As I stated there were in the funds of the Highway Department at the end of May, 1938, $34,700,000.

Mr. SIPE. Mr. President, I take it then you can give no assurance to these constituents of mine who are concerned about roads and that we can give them no assurance that the Motor License Fund will be infected by these transfers.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Adams, Mr. Rice.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Adams County, Mr. Rice permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I would like to ask Senator Rice whether or not he was chairman of the Appropriations Committee during the Session of 1937.

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I was.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator while he was chairman of the Appropriations Committee whether transfers were made from the Highway Fund for relief.

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I believe such transfers were made and were paid back.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, can the Senator inform us as to how much money was taken from the Highways Fund?

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I do not recall the exact amount but I have been advised the sum of $23,000,000 was provided for relief and was paid back to the Fund during the biennium in which it was transferred.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, then we are not resorting to any new expediency, but simply one they taught us to use. Unfortunately we have inherited from them a much larger expenditure, during the two years because they went to their Uncle Sam and received a large amount with which they doubled the capacity of most of the institution of the State and now they are going to expect the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to maintain those institutions. However, at the present time we are very glad to know that our Democratic friends had already tapped that Fund and that it was repaid. That being the case we can assure them that it will be repaid.

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I might assure the members of the Republican Party that if they continue to follow our example during their administration they will come out all right.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I am afraid it will lead us to destruction.

Mr. GILSON. Mr. President, I cannot help but suggest that on these remarks in passing there occurred that poem of Edgar Allen Poe in which he said there came a tap-tapping at my chamber door and I might suggest that the answer of the raven "Quoth the raven nevermore" might be the motto of this Senate for the remainder of the session.

ANNOUNCEMENTS BY THE SECRETARY

The Democratic Members of the Senate are requested to meet in caucus at 10:00 A. M., in the Senate Caucus Room, Tuesday, January 24, 1939.

Newly designated employes of the Senate will meet, directly after this session in the Senate Caucus Room.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Tuesday, January 24, 1939, at 11:00 o'clock, A. M.

Mr. FREY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 11:50 o'clock, P. M. until Tuesday, January 24, 1939, at 11:00 o'clock, A. M.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

MONDAY, JANUARY 23, 1939.

The House met at 8.00 p. m.

The SPEAKER (Ellwood J. Turner) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. Walter Evans Deibler offered the following prayer:

In the quietness of this evening hour, O God, amidst the many duties to which Thou dost call us, we pause to confess Thee before men. "Lord, thou hast been our dwelling place in all generations. Before the mountains were brought forth, or ever thou hadst formed the earth or the world, even from everlasting, to everlasting, thou art God." We thank Thee for thy constant vigilance over us, for the health and strength Thou dost give us with which to do our daily tasks. With free institutions for the public good Thou hast blest us. Ours is a glorious heritage. Grant, we pray, give Thy blessing to our state and nation and to all who are in authority. Wilt Thou bless the sessions of this House, its members and its leaders. Restore to health such of this number who are ill. Give us the guidance of Thy Holy Spirit from day to day that the work of our hands might worthily magnify Thy name forever, thru Jesus Christ, our Lord. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of Tuesday, January 17, 1939.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of Tuesday, January 17, 1939, when, on motion of Mr. BRONSON, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal approved.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE

Mr. ALLMOND asked and obtained leave of absence for himself for the remainder of the week after tonight's session.

Mr. Habbyslaw asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. SARGE for the week on account of illness.

Mr. Serrill asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. STEWART for tonight's session on account of illness.

Mr. Trout asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. ROYER on account of illness.

Mr. Trout asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. ALSPACH on account of illness.

Mr. Matthews asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. PEALE on account of illness.

Mr. Lyons asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. IMBRIE for the week on account of illness.

Mr. Kline asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. WAGNER for the week on account of death in the family.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE ON RULES

Mr. WOODSIDE offered a report from the Committee on Rules.

The report was twice read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, January 23, 1939.

Resolved, That no bill making an appropriation to any hospital, school, home, museum or other charitable, educational or religious organization, and no bill creating or changing any State highway route shall be introduced in this House prior to Wednesday, February fifteenth, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine.

ROBERT E. WOODSIDE, JR.
NORMAN WOOD
JACOB B. SCHROCK
WILSON L. YEAKEL
ELLWOOD J. TURNER

On the question

Will the House adopt the report?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I know that all the members of this House are very much interested in seeing that their various hospitals and schools and other organizations receive appropriations at this session and I know that there are also a number of members of this House interested in introducing bills changing state highway routes and creating new state highways. I just want to say that this is not to prevent any such changes, nor is it to prevent the possibility of these various institutions getting their full appropriations.

However, we do feel at this time that to have a flood of these bills would mean a tremendous expense to the Commonwealth in the matter of printing and that we ought to have a little time to consider the working out of some program which may save a tremendous amount of money, and still bring about the desired results.

As a matter of fact, in the last few years, some of these various appropriations and these various highway amendments have been contained in an omnibus bill, and it is hoped that we can in some way save the tremendous expense of introducing and carrying through various individual bills, which makes the committees' work more difficult, and of course, a great expense on the Commonwealth. We feel that this resolution will give us a chance to work out some plan which will save considerable work for the committees and also save the Commonwealth a tremendous amount of money.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I wish to say that I am heartily in favor of this bill. The only one objection I have is that I don't think it goes far enough. The Joint Committee of the House and Senate on State Government has been studying the problem of the introduction of bills for the past six or eight months, and we find that the vast majority of the bills that are introduced, running the number of bills in a session into two thousand, twenty-three hundred, twenty-five hundred or three thousand, is represented by hospital bills, school bills, bills for homes, bills for other charitable institutions, and bills for changing the state highway system, and it is very characteristic that of all of the bills that are introduced that tend to make those appropriations, of all the bills that are introduced that attempt to change the state highway system, those bills are not passed, but the contents of those bills are enacted into what is known as an omnibus bill. We have had one bill for the past two sessions and on one occasion before, that makes all the appropriations to all the state aided homes, and one bill that makes all the changes in the state highway system, so that of all the numerous bills that are introduced by the members of the House covering those particular subjects in reality but one bill passes.

This exposes the Commonwealth to a tremendous printing obligation: that goes even farther than the mere printing of the bills in pink. It occasions a very large history, it occasions other printing that imposes upon the Commonwealth a tremendous burden that is carried in the appropriations as legislative printing.

The Joint Committee on State Government has studied this and I am sorry that I did not know of the intention to introduce this particular resolution tonight. Had I been advised of it, I would have been glad to present to this House a report of the committee which analyzes the tremendous burden that is placed upon the finances of the Commonwealth.

I feel that we can withhold the introducing of these individual appropriation bills and individual road bills at least until February 15th, and I feel sure that the majority, by that time, will be able to give this problem careful study and possibly present to the House the recommendation of the Joint Committee on State Government, which would recommend the entire abolition of these particular types of bills, and suggest the means whereby the individual members would receive the same notice and their constituents would be advised of their efforts in securing these particular types of appropriations and these particular types of road changes, without the necessity of introducing bills. However, this, I understand, is a partial step in that direction and I would recommend to the House that this resolution be passed at this time withholding the introduction of these bills until February 15, 1939.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I am like the minority leader, I don't think the rule goes far enough. I hold in my hand two bills which I propose introducing. Were I permitted to file a declaration of legislative intent, that declaration of legislative intent, in the case of both of these bills, could be stated in three hundred words.

I have nine bills in my desk, and a declaration of legislative intent concerning those nine bills could be printed upon one page. That declaration of legislative intent could be referred, in proper manner, to a committee and if the Committee approved the intent of the bill, it could order the bill drawn.

What is the use, Mr. Speaker and Mr. Majority Leader, of consuming the time of the Legislative Reference Bureau drawing the bill, introducing it, having it printed in pink, without knowing whether the committee is ever going to report it out, when, by filing a declaration of legislative intent, you could know whether the committee approved the intent, and Mr. Speaker, you would reduce your printing cost of bills by two-thirds.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to say to the gentleman from York, and also to the gentleman from Cambria, as well as to the other members of the House, that the majority party would very much appreciate any suggestions that the members of the House may have to solve this problem. That is particularly true of the Committee on Rules, which is attempting to work out a satisfactory solution.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the report?

It was adopted.

RESOLUTION

SYMPATHY EXTENDED

Mr. KLINE offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was twice read, considered and adopted by a rising vote:

In the House of Representatives, January 23, 1939.

Sorrow again stalks through the House of Representatives following the news of the death of Mrs. Emma E. Wagner, mother of the Honorable Paul L. Wagner, Member of this House of Representatives from Schuylkill County, on Saturday, January 21, 1939; therefore be it Resolved, That the House of Representatives hereby extends to the Honorable Paul L. Wagner, and his family, its deep and sincere sympathy, and directs the Chief Clerk to transmit a copy of this resolution to our bereaved Member.

RESOLUTION

Mr. FINNERTY offered a resolution which was filed with the clerk under the rules.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. KOWALSKI. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until tomorrow at 1:00 p. m.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 8:58 p. m.) the House adjourned until Tuesday, January 24, 1939, at 1 p. m.

SENATE

TUESDAY, January 24, 1939

The Senate met at 11:00 o'clock A. M.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Samuel S. Lewis) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. Burleigh A. Peters, offered the following prayer:

O God, we have come here this morning because Thou hast preserved us in the graciousness of Thine own doing. We pray for Thy abiding strength and divine wisdom in all our deliberations. Constantly may our hearts seek Thy will, that in this period of legislation all things may be done to Thine own glory; for we remember the words "To Thine own self be true and it must follow, as the night the day, Thou canst not then be false to any man."

For this particular session this day give us Thy divine guidance. For Jesus' sake. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. OWLETT, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

REQUEST FOR LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Mr. CAVALCANTE asked for leave of absence for the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Henney.

MOTION TO LAY ON THE TABLE

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I move that the request of the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, for leave of absence for the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Henney, be laid upon the table.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I second the motion. The motion was agreed to.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Mr. GELDER asked and obtained leave of absence for the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, for the week.

REQUEST THAT LEAVE OF ABSENCE BE REFUSED

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I ask that leave of absence be refused the gentleman from Oklahoma, Mr. Dando.

NOMINATIONS BY THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor, being introduced, presented in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, nominations for appointment as Notaries Public, which were laid on the table.

BILLS INTRODUCED

Messrs. STIEFEL and SHAPIRO read in their places and presented to the Chair, Senate Bill No. 26, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Trustees of Temple University at Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

Which was committed to the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. STIEFEL read in his place and presented to the Chair, Senate Bill No. 27, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Saint Christopher's Hospital for Children, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

Which was committed to the Committee on Appropriations.

He also read in his place and presented to the Chair, Senate Bill No. 28, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Kensington Hospital for Women, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

Which was committed to the Committee on Appropriations.

He also read in his place and presented to the Chair, Senate Bill No. 29, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Saint Luke's Children's Hospital, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

Which was committed to the Committee on Appropriations.

He also read in his place and presented to the Chair, Senate Bill No. 30, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Stetson Hospital, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

Which was committed to the Committee on Appropriations.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 4, (House Bill No. 1), entitled:

An Act transferring money from the Motor License Fund to the General Fund and providing for the subsequent return from the General Fund of the transferred money.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—44

Bartlett,	Farrell,	Kunkel,	Rice,
Cavalcante,	Frey,	Lanlus,	Ruth,
Chapman,	Gelder,	Letzler,	Shapiro,
Coleman,	Geltz,	Mallery,	Sipe,
Crowe,	Gilson,	McCreesh,	Snowden,
Deitrick,	Haluska,	McGinnis,	Stevenson,
Dent,	Heyburn,	Miller,	Stiefel,
DiSilvestro,	Homsher,	Mundy,	Tallman,
Ealy,	James,	Owlett,	Thomas,
Edmonds,	Jaspan,	Pierson,	Walker,
Eroe,	Kilgallen,	Reed,	Wolfenden,

NAYS—0

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same without amendments.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 5, (House Bill No. 2), entitled:

An Act transferring money from the Liquor License Fund to the General Fund and providing for the subsequent return from the General Fund of the transferred money.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the constitution.

CHANGE OF VOTES

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I desire to change my vote from "aye" to "no".

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I shall be very glad to be interrogated.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, will the Senator from Tioga state the reason for his change of vote?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I am changing my vote so that I may be in a position to make a motion to reconsider.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, that is a truthful but not a legal answer.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I desire to change my vote from "aye" to "no".

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Susquehanna, Mr. Gelder.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Susquehanna, Mr. Gelder, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, will the Senator from Susquehanna state for the record his reason for changing his vote?

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I am changing my vote because our Democratic friends are apparently trying to tear down the program for relief, and I want to be in a position to save it.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I am glad the record states that. As a matter of fact, I object to the change in vote by the Senator from Susquehanna as the reason stated is not sufficient, under the Constitution, to change it.

The yeas and nays as recorded were as follows, viz:

YEAS—23

Bartlett,	Eroe,	Letzler,	Stevenson,
Chapman,	Farrell,	Mallery,	Tallman,
Crowe,	Geltz,	Miller,	Thomas,
Deitrick,	Heyburn,	Pierson,	Walker,
Ealy,	Homsher,	Snowden,	Wolfenden,
Edmonds,	James,

NAYS—22

Cavalcante,	Gilson,	McCreesh,	Rice,
Coleman,	Haluska,	McGinnis,	Ruth,
Dent,	Jaspan,	Mundy,	Shapiro,
DiSilvestro,	Kilgallen,	Owlett,	Sipe,
Frey,	Kunkel,	Reed,	Stiefel,
Gelder,	Lanlus,

Less than a majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the negative.

MOTION FOR RECONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL No. 5, HOUSE BILL No. 2)

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now reconsider the vote by which Senate Bill No. 5, (House Bill No. 2), entitled:

An act transferring money from the Liquor License Fund to the General Fund and providing for the subsequent return from the General Fund of the transferred money was defeated.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I voted "no."

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I voted "no."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, will state his point of order.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I question the right of a reconsideration of the vote on the bill before any new business has occurred since the action taken by the Senate.

MOTION WITHDRAWN

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, believing that the point of order is well taken, and withdrawn the motion temporarily.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, as the seconder of the motion, I also withdraw my seconding of it. The point of order is well taken.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 6 (House Bill No. 3), entitled:

An act transferring money from the Liquid Fuels Tax Fund to the General Fund and providing for the subsequent return from the General Fund of the transferred money.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution.

CHANGE OF VOTES

Mr. GILSON. Mr. President, I desire to change my vote on this bill from "aye" to "no."

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, having voted under a misapprehension, I desire to change my vote from "aye" to "no."

Mr. GILSON. Mr. President, I want it noted that I was under a real misapprehension.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, does the Senator from Tioga change his vote on this bill for the same reason that he changed it on the one we just voted on?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I have already stated that I voted under a misapprehension, and desire to change my vote from "aye" to "no."

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, having voted under the misapprehension that perhaps some of my Democratic friends had seen the light, I also desire to change my vote from "aye" to "no."

The yeas and nays, as recorded were as follows, viz:

YEAS—22.

Bartlett, Chapman, Crowe, Detrick, Ealy, Edmonds,	Eroe, Farrell, Geltz, Heyburn, Homsher, James,	Letzler, Mallery, Miller, Pierson, Snowden,	Stevenson, Tallman, Thomas, Walker, Wolfenden,

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 7 (House Bill No. 4), entitled:

An act transferring money from the State Insurance Fund to the General Fund and providing for the subsequent return from the General Fund of the transferred money.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of Constitution.

CHANGE OF VOTES

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, having voted under a misapprehension, I desire to change my vote from "aye" to "no."

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I desire to change my vote from "aye" to "no," having voted under a misapprehension.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Susquehanna, Mr. Gelder.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Susquehanna, Mr. Gelder, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, my question is, did the Senator from Susquehanna really think this bill was going to pass?

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I thought "while the lamp of life holds out to burn, the repentant sinner may return."

The yeas and nays as recorded were as follows, viz:

YEAS—22.

Bartlett, Chapman, Crowe, Detrick, Ealy, Edmonds,	Eroe, Geltz, Farrell, Heyburn, Homsher, James,	Letzler, Mallery, Miller, Pierson, Snowden,	Stevenson, Tallman, Thomas, Walker, Wolfenden,

Less than a majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the negative.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 8 (House Bill No. 5), entitled:

An Act making a deficiency appropriation to the Department of Public Assistance for the purpose of carrying out the Public Assistance Law and for administration expenses for the two fiscal years ending May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—44.

Bartlett, Cavalcante, Chapman, Coleman, Crowe, Detrick, Dent, DiSilvestro, Ealy, Edmonds, Eroe,	Farrell, Frey, Gelder, Geltz, Gilson, Haluska, Heyburn, Homsher, James, Jaspan, Kilgallen,	Kunkel, Lanlus, Letzler, Mallery, McCreesh, McGinnis, Miller, Mundy, Owlett, Pierson, Reed,	Rice, Ruth, Shapiro, Sipe, Snowden, Stevenson, Stiefel, Tallman, Thomas, Walker, Wolfenden,

Governor's Office, Harrisburg, January 24, 1939.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

In conformity with law, I have the honor hereby to nominate for the advice and consent of the Senate the following person for reappointment as a Notary Public, for a term of four years to compute from the date set opposite his name:

CLEARFIELD COUNTY

Herbert A. Moore, Moore Bldg., 113 West Long Ave., DuBois, January 26, 1939.

ARTHUR H. JAMES.

EXECUTIVE SESSION

By unanimous consent,

A motion was made by Mr. EDMONDS.

That Rule 38, which requires nominations made by the Governor be referred to an appropriate committee, be dispensed with, and the Senate do now resolve itself into executive session, for the purpose of acting on the foregoing nominations.

Which was agreed to.

Whereupon,

A motion was made by Mr. EDMONDS,

That the Senate do advise and consent to said nominations.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—44

Bartlett,	Farrell,	Kunkel,	Rice,
Cavalcante,	Frey,	Lanius,	Ruth,
Chapman,	Gelder,	Letzler,	Shapiro,
Coleman,	Geltz,	Mallery,	Sipe,

Deitrick,	Haluska,	McGinnis,	Stevenson,
Dent,	Heyburn,	Miller,	Stiefel,
DiSilvestro,	Homsher,	Mundy,	Tallman,
Ealy,	James,	Owlett,	Thomas,
Edmonds,	Jaspan,	Pierson,	Walker,
Eroe,	Kilgallen,	Reed,	Wolfenden,

NAYS—0

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Governor be informed accordingly.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, while we are still in Executive Session here, considering Executive Nominations, I wish to state that some time ago his Excellency, the Governor, sent to this Senate the Executive appointments of Mr. Hamilton and Mr. Adams, which were duly referred to the Committee on Executive Nominations.

Yesterday the committee held a meeting, at which some testimony was taken. This morning I have observed in the newspapers that the contents of the evidence or testimony were made public, and the Democratic Caucus was furnished with several copies. I would like to ask the Senator from Somerset, Mr. Ealy, the Chairman of the Committee on Executive Nominations, whether it is possible to have a copy on that testimony furnished to each member of this Senate before next Monday, or before those two Executive Nominations are considered.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I have no objection. I think two copies were furnished the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, and he may have copies made, or, I presume, we can have copies made for the Senators, if desired. I have no objection to it.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I make this inquiry because I would like to avoid making a motion that that testimony be transcribed and a copy of it placed upon the desk of each Senator; and I think we can get that done without adopting any motion of any kind. I think that the Committee on Executive Nominations can have 50 copies of that testimony made, and a copy given to each Senator.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I will endeavor to have it done.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, do I understand the Senator from Somerset, Mr. Ealy, to say that he will have it furnished to us before any action is taken on the nominations?

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I shall endeavor to have the copies furnished as the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, desires.

As to the action on the nominations, I do not know when action will be taken.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, that is satisfactory.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I move that the Executive Session do now rise.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

RECONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL NO. 5, (HOUSE BILL NO. 2)

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now reconsider the vote by which Senate Bill No. 5, (House Bill No. 2), entitled:

An Act transferring money from the Liquor License Fund to the General Fund and providing for the subsequent return from the General Fund of the transferred money.

was defeated.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I voted "no."

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I voted "no."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. SHAPIRO and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—24

Bartlett,	Eroc,	James,	Snowden,
Chapman,	Farrell,	Letzler,	Stevenson,
Crowe,	Gelder,	Mallery,	Tallman,
Deitrick,	Geltz,	Miller,	Thomas,
Ealy,	Heyburn,	Owlett,	Walker,
Edmonds,	Homsher,	Pierson,	Wolfenden,

NAYS—20

Cavalcante,	Gilson,	Lanius,	Rice,
Coleman,	Haluska,	McCreesh,	Ruth,
Dent,	Jaspan,	McGinnis,	Shapiro,
DISI'vestro,	Kilgallen,	Mundy,	Sipe,
Frey,	Kunkel,	Reed,	Stiefel,

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I just desire to call to the attention of our brethren on the left that their vote against the reconsideration of the vote on final passage of this bill is, in effect, saying to the people of Pennsylvania, and to those on relief, that no matter how badly you may need this money we are going to put this Senate in the position of not being able to use funds available for relief.

That is the only possible interpretation of a vote of "no" on reconsideration. But I want to call the Senate's attention to the fact that if we are correctly advised, that there are forty million dollars or thereabouts needed for relief until the end of this biennium, it is absolutely necessary to transfer some of these funds temporarily—as a temporary loan.

I could hardly believe my ears when I heard by colleagues on the left voting "no" on reconsideration of the vote on this bill, by which reconsideration it was intended to keep this bill in position so that if we do need the money we will have the power to use it for relief.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, with the same unparalleled right used by my friend, the Senator from Tioga County, I rise to suggest that that is not our position. We prefer to have our position stated by ourselves.

The transfer of twenty-six million dollars has been voted. The Administration finished up with surplus funds of six million dollars, due to the fact that certain items which were voted—the purpose for which they were appropriated has fallen. I referred to those items last night, that totaled the sum of six million dollars; so that, as far as ordinary expenses of government are concerned, there are six million dollars available, and bills for proper action are in the house now, and the money can be made available to the General Fund. Twenty-six and six, in my humble opinion, means thirty-two. That is available—thirty-two million dollars, for use on relief.

When these gentlemen introduce appropriation bills for relief to the extent to which those funds are available, we will be glad to help. We are not going to stop relief, but we are not going to permit county government to be interfered with unless it is shown to be absolutely necessary. Now on the other hand, if these gentlemen come in and state that an investigation has been made and they have come to the conclusion that forty-two million dollars are necessary to be provided for relief, and it must be done now, we will be very glad to help them in that program. At the present time we see no necessity for voting thirty-four million dollars of transfers with only twelve million dollars of appropriations. My friend, the Senator from Tioga, and his colleagues have put themselves on record by virtue of that appropriation bill that for the present there is only twelve million dollars necessary.

From now on they can continue to appropriate to the tune of thirty-four million dollars if they will accept the suggestions we are making. We are not here merely to do my friends a favor, and give them a few votes, too, but we are here to help them govern the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania properly, and when they show us the necessity we will be very glad to go along; but we want the same new papers to whom he addressed his remarks to give our position in the matter, and that is, that there is no sense diverting funds from gasoline taxes, which belong to the counties, unless an immediate emergency arises.

Philadelphia County today has not paid its employees for a whole month. Philadelphia County is looking to the unused cash funds to continue functioning, and I say it is not necessary, it is unfair and unwise, to tap these funds belonging directly to the counties until no other source can be found.

I suggest to the Senator from Tioga and his colleagues that they proceed to consider now what taxes will be needed sary to raise these funds so they can repay the Motor Fund, and I suggest to him that when he does that he will find it will be a much safer plan than merely to tap these funds and postpone action until maybe it will be too late, and the money will not be available.

Last night we stated our position clearly, and I thought it would not be necessary to say anything today. We gave notice of our intention, and nobody could have voted on the other side under a misapprehension.

What we said, and will continue to say, is that we will support any measure that will be suggested that is necessary to continue the government in its ordinary functions, and to provide relief for those who need relief; but we will not agree, and we should not be asked to agree, to transfer funds without appropriation bills accompanying them. We will go the limit when this Administration says it is necessary to provide those funds. We do not know; and, unless it is shown to the contrary, I say we have no right to help the Administration in the transfer. As soon as these gentlemen make up their minds as to the amount, we will be glad to go along wherever possible in the program.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, certainly.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, if I correctly understand that their position is that these transfers provided by Senate Bills Nos. 5, 6 and 7 should not be made until it is definitely ascertained that they are necessary for relief.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, that is it, plus the additional provision that they should not be made until it is ascertained, first that they are necessary, and, secondly, that there is no other avenue for procuring these funds.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, may I ask the Senator from Philadelphia what objection he and his colleagues have to a reconsideration of these bills and to placing them on the postponed calendar, so that if the necessity does arise they have not been defeated on reconsideration and the door closed forever on the use of those funds.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, my answer is that I suggested to the Senator before he voted, and we told them what we proposed to do last night, so that they would not find themselves in that position. Now, if we are going to work harmoniously to provide a properly functioning government, the things we suggest are obvious and should be considered. The position in which the Senators on the other side found themselves this morning was not due to the fact that we did not tell them. We reversed the process that obtained when the Republicans were in control; they did not tell us until the last minute what they intended to do. This is too important a problem and too late a time to try to jockey for position, and we served notice yesterday that we would not vote for those bills. We voted against reconsideration to maintain our position. We are going to be consistent in the matter.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, the fact remains, the Senators on the other side have voted against reconsideration of these bills, and if they had succeeded in that move, it would have voided the possibility of ever using those funds for relief in this biennium. Now, it is not the fault of the Republican majority that the money has all been used up and that we have a deficit of some $40,000,000 facing us. This administration proposes to see that the needy of this State are taken care of, and proposes to use such means as are available to do it. Now, those five bills were to provide a definite program to make available appropriations for relief; and we made it clear that the sum of $34,000,000, together with the funds that have been mentioned by my colleague, Mr. Shapiro, would make approximately $40,000,000, which it is believed would be necessary. Now, the point I wish to make, and I wish again to reiterate, is that this arbitrary stand of defeating these bills and voting against their reconsideration they are in effect saying "We are going to close the door forever on those funds for relief."

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, may I suggest that the newspapers please quote me also? The Senator from Tioga and his colleagues knew very well when they voted for these bills, or asked for a vote on their reconsideration, they would have enough votes to pass them, even if they were defeated first; and the Senator from Tioga would not have suggested that they be voted upon unless he was sure of his position, so there was no danger of the bills being defeated. The practical proposition is that it was not necessary to try to pass those bills when everybody in the room knew there was not a constitutional majority available to vote for them.

All that was necessary was for the Senator on the other side to adopt the suggestion made by the leaders on this side to place these bills on the postponed calendar, and when a situation arose requiring the use of these funds then they could have asked us to vote for them.

Let the newspapers know we did not vote to kill these bills. We asked that the bills be placed on the postponed calendar. We believe we have the courage of our convictions. We are convinced we are not hurting but helping the Commonwealth by taking this position.

MOTION TO POSTPONE BILL

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, the Senator from Philadelphia having finished talking for the newspapers, I move that the question together with the further consideration of Senate Bill No. 5 (House Bill No. 2) be postponed for the present.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I wish to interrogate the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, before a vote is taken on the motion.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I want to ask the Senator from Tioga if, before we voted on that bill, he was not asked by members of the Democratic side to place that bill on the postponed calendar and not to put it to a vote today?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, in reply to the Senator from Fayette, I am very glad to state that two or three Democratic Senators came to me and said that they proposed to vote against these transfer bills which are part of the program, and which have been passed by the House to take care of this relief situation.

We were not aware, Mr. President, that all of the members on the Democratic side would be led into voting against these relief measures, and we therefore, felt justified—knowing the keen interest of many of our colleagues on the left side in the relief problem, and with the feeling that there would probably be enough votes to pass them in spite of the fact that the Senator from Fayette and the Senator from Philadelphia saw fit to vote against the bills in bringing them to an issue.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I do not desire to be discourteous. I did not ask the Senator from Tioga to make a speech for the newspapers; I am merely asking him whether any members on the Democratic side asked him to place this bill on the postponed calendar before we voted on it. Now, he can surely answer that very honorably by replying "yes" or "no."

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I thought I made it clear that we were asked by Mr. Cavalcante, and I think also it was suggested by the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, that they be placed on the postponed calendar.

I repeat, however, that we felt there were enough members on the Democratic side interested in the relief problem and in taking care of the needy in this State so that we could pass these bills, and for that reason they were put up to this Senate.

Now, we have been chided about what everything we have said this morning that everything we say is for the benefit of the newspapers. I want to say this, Mr. President: If what we say hurts, and they do not want it in the newspapers, that is their fault; we propose to state our position.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President the Democrats are hurt by anything, and we fear not what the newspapers carry. We are merely stating our convictions, and we do not want the Senator from Tioga or any other member on the other side of the Senate to try to state our position. We will state our own position. We have stated it. We are not opposed to appropriation of relief funds but we do not understand your logic, your wisdom, your judgment in transferring thirty-four million dollars and only appropriating twelve million dollars—in view of the situation that prevails in those counties, in those little municipalities, where the liquor license money and the liquid fuel tax money is very much needed by those local communities. Those local communities are at this very moment drawing up their budgets for this year and they have taken those items into consideration, and you have made no provision for the paying back of these transfers before September 1st, 1939.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, may I interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro?

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I will be glad to be interrogated by the Senator from Montgomery.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, last night, in the course of the debate, I understand the Senator from Philadelphia to say that relief was an item that would take nine or ten million dollars a month.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, that is correct, in my opinion.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, expand that a little and tell us just how he gets that. I understood relief was an item that took six or seven million dollars a month.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, when we spoke of relief in the old days, we spoke of relief as a separate proposition. Today we have relief under a department known as the Department of Public Assistance, which includes not only what we term relief but also other forms of assistance, which we mean when we use the term relief, and if the gentleman will recall, I used the word advisedly.

We have mother assistance, old age pensions, we have pensions for the blind, and the total distributions if the present record of WPA workers dropped from the payrolls continues—there will be necessary in the neighborhood of nine or ten million dollars a month for relief.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, Then, what the Senator had in mind was relief for the unemployed, plus old age assistance, plus mothers' assistance and other forms of social security.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, that is correct.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I move that the question together with the further consideration of the bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

RECONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL No. 6 (HOUSE BILL NO. 3)

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now reconsider the vote by which Senate Bill No. 6 (House Bill No. 3), entitled:

An act transferring money from the Liquid Fuels Tax Fund to the General Fund and providing for the subsequent return from the General Fund of the transferred money was defeated.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I voted "no."

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I voted "no."

The motion was agreed to

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I move that the question together with the further consideration of the bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, there is a misapprehension here. The Chair was considering a motion to reconsider the vote by which this bill was defeated, and from the Democratic side, then, it was suggested that if the motion is made that it be reconsidered and placed on the postponed calendar, then the one roll call will dispose of the whole question.

The PRESIDENT. That was the Chair's understanding.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, that was not done.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, is it on the postponed calendar now?

The PRESIDENT. Yes.

RECONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL NO. 7 (HOUSE BILL NO. 4)

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now reconsider the vote by which Senate Bill No. 7, (House Bill No. 4), entitled:

An Act transferring money from the State Insurance Fund to the General Fund and providing for the subsequent return from the General Fund of the transferred money.

was defeated.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I voted "no."

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I voted "no."

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I move that the question together with the further consideration of the bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, some gentlemen were using my desk last night and this morning, and while I do not object to that I want to compliment them on the fact that instead of taking something from the desk, they left something. I am now the proud possessor of a very valuable fountain pen, and I am ready and shall be glad to deliver it to the person who left it there. I do that for a very practical reason: I do not know when I may be suggested for appointment by the Governor, and I do not want there to be any question of my honesty.

RECESS

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess until three o'clock, P. M.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

Mr. OWLETT offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered, and agreed to:

In the Senate, January 24, 1939.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That when the Senate adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday evening, January 30, at nine o'clock; and when the House of Representatives adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday evening, January 30, at eight o'clock.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

NOMINATIONS BY THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced presented in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, nomination for appointment as Commissioner of Deeds, which was laid on the table.

The Clerk of the House of Representatives, being introduced, presented communication from the House of Representatives informing the Senate that the House has concurred in amendments made by the Senate to House Bill No. 5, entitled:

An Act making a deficiency appropriation to the Department of Public Assistance for the purposes of carrying out the Public Assistance Law for the two fiscal years ending May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine.

BILLS SIGNED

The PRESIDENT. (Lieutenant Governor Samuel S. Lewis) announced that the Chief Clerk having reported that the following bills had passed both houses of the General Assembly and the same being correct, the titles were publicly read as follows:

House Bill No. 1 entitled:

An Act transferring money from the Motor License Fund to the General Fund; and providing for the subsequent return from the General Fund of the transferred money.

House Bill No. 5 entitled:

An Act making a deficiency appropriation to the Department of Public Assistance for the purposes of carrying out the Public Assistance Law for the two fiscal years ending May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine.

Whereupon,

The PRESIDENT. (Lieutenant-Governor Samuel S. Lewis) in the presence of the Senate signed the same.

APPOINTMENTS BY THE CHIEF CLERK

The PRESIDENT. The Chief Clerk announces the following appointments:

An Act making an appropriation to the Industrial Home for Crippled Children, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

Which was committed to the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. COLEMAN read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 32, entitled:

A Supplement to the act, approved the second day of July, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 2706), entitled "An act creating a commission; providing for participation in the New York World's Fair and making an appropriation," by making an additional appropriation thereto.

Which was committed to the Committee on Appropriations.

RECESS

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess for five minutes.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I second the motion. The motion was agreed to.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SECRETARY

There will be a meeting of Committee on Appropriations in the room to my left immediately.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed the Senate will be in order.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. HEYBURN, from the Committee on Appropriations, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 32, entitled:

A Supplement to the act, approved the second day of July, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 2706), entitled "An act creating a State World's Fair Commission; defining the powers and duties of said commission; providing for participation in the New York World's Fair; and making an appropriation," by making an additional appropriation thereto.

BILL INTRODUCED

Mr. EROE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The President. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. EROE read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 33, entitled:

An Act providing for the pensioning of certain persons residents of this Commonwealth of Pennsylvania who have been or shall be soldiers, sailors, marines or members of the enlisted nurse corps designated as "blind veteran;" defining the term "blind veteran;" imposing certain duties on the Department of Welfare; imposing penalties for violation thereof; making an appropriation and repealing inconsistent legislation.

Which was committed to the Committee on Welfare, Public Assistance and Pensions.

MOTION TO READ BILLS THE FIRST TIME

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, as Democratic Floor Leader for the time being, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the first reading of all bills reported from committees for the first time at today's session.

Mr. SIPE. Mr. President, I second the motion. The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON FIRST READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the first reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 32, entitled:

A Supplement to the act, approved the second day of July, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 2706), entitled "An act creating a State World's Fair Commission; defining the powers and duties of said commission; providing for participation in the New York World's Fair; and making an appropriation," by making an additional appropriation thereto.

And said bill having been read at length the first time. Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SECRETARY

Senate Committee on Executive Nominations will meet next Tuesday morning, January 31st, 1939, at 10:00 o'clock, A. M., in the Senate Caucus Room, for the purpose of a hearing.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Wednesday, January 25th, 1939, at 1:00 o'clock, P. M.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I second the motion. The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned, at 6:20 o'clock, P. M., until Wednesday, January 25th, 1939, at 1:00 o'clock, P. M.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

TUESDAY, JANUARY 24, 1939.

The House met at 1:00 p. m.

The SPEAKER (Ellwood J. Turner) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. Walter Evans Deibler, offered the following prayer:

For a new day, O God, we thank Thee and that Thou didst watch over and protect us from danger and harm. We praise Thee for the strength Thou dost give unto us for the performance of every duty. For Thy guidance upon this House we continue our prayer, that as Thy children we may acknowledge Thy help and receive Thy blessing from day to day. Wilt Thou inspire our hearts with confidence and our minds with vision without which Thy people perish. May we acknowledge Thee in all our ways and then Thou wilt direct our paths. Bless the homes of our land with all parents and children. Help these Thy servants so to legislate that happiness and peace may abide at every fireside. Bless the men and women of industry; the farmers who till the soil; the educators who teach; those who engage in commerce and trade; the vast human family of our Commonwealth whatever their work. Thus bring honor to Thy Name. O God, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of yesterday, when, on motion of Mr. O'Connor, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal approved.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. POWERS.

HOUSE BILL No. 82.

An Act to further amend section six hundred and twenty of the act, approved the first day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. TAYLOR. (Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 6.

In the House of Representatives, January 23, 1939.

Whereas, Nearly four hundred thousand sons of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania wore the uniform of our Nation during the World War; and

Whereas, Many other Pennsylvanians have served honorably in the Army, Navy, or Marine Corps in every war and military expedition authorized by the United States Government prior and subsequent to the World War; and

Whereas, Although Pennsylvania contributed more men and money to the Federal Government during the World War than any other State in the Union (excepting the State of New York) the Federal Government has not recognized this fact by erecting a proportionate number of United States veterans hospitals within the Commonwealth; and

Whereas, To date the Federal Government has constructed only two hospitals in Pennsylvania, one at Coatesville and the other at Aspinwall; and

Whereas, As many as five hospitals have been erected in other States; and

Whereas, At present the hospitals at Coatesville and Aspinwall are filled to capacity and there is a waiting list of disabled veterans seeking admittance; therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, memorialize the President of the United States and the United States Veterans Administration to construct and equip immediately a large general medical war veteran hospital in Pennsylvania, in order to provide hospitalization for thousands of disabled Pennsylvania war veterans who are in need of hospital attention, but who are unable to receive the same because of present inadequate facilities.

Referred to Committee on Military Affairs.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. ANDREWS.

RESOLUTION No. 7.

In the House of Representatives, January 23, 1939.

Whereas, it has been variously asserted that costs of government, state and local, have shown a steady tendency to increase from year to year during the last decade; and

Whereas, All political parties, through their platforms and through their candidates, have persistently asserted not only their willingness but their determination to take such action as may be best adapted to curtail the costs of government; and

Whereas, The most effective way for the General Assembly to proceed in considering the possibilities of reducing governmental costs is to compile and study the specific instances in which governmental costs have increased as a direct result of legislative action; and

Whereas, There is, during the early days of this General Assembly, a period which its members will be at liberty to study governmental costs, state and local, and to further familiarize themselves with the structure of government; and

Whereas, Such studies would be worth while in and of themselves even though they failed to effect an immediate reduction in the cost of government, state and local; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Speaker of the House is authorized to appoint various special committees, as follows:

1. A committee which will tabulate and analyze the cost of all services, if any, rendered by the Commonwealth which are wholly or in part duplicated by township, borough, city or county agencies and which will recommend whether such services should be continued wholly under the jurisdiction of the State, wholly under the jurisdiction of the local community or abandoned if it shall be found that the need for such services no longer exists.

2. A committee which will tabulate the cost of all inspection services rendered by the Commonwealth and analyze such services for the purpose of ascertaining instances, if any, in which one state agency duplicates the inspection services rendered by some other state agency and which will, in addition, further analyze the facts and figures for the purpose of ascertaining instances in which inspection services now performed by various state agencies could be centralized in a Bureau of Inspection, employing inspectors technically qualified to inspect a particular premises for and on behalf of several state departments, such as, for example, the Department of Health, the Department of Agriculture and the Department of Labor and Industry.

3. A committee which will investigate and report upon the suggestion that all premises subject to inspection should be licensed by the Commonwealth to operate and that the total license fees collected should be sufficient not only to pay the cost of inspection but to yield, in addition, a substantial revenue to the Commonwealth; or, in any event, the schedule of licenses and fees to be so graduated as to yield to the Commonwealth a minimum of $12,000,000 a year.

4. A committee which will ascertain what legislation, if any, enacted by the General Assembly since 1929, has operated to increase the cost of administering the affairs of the various townships of the Commonwealth, and which will report whether these increased costs, if any, have been justified by experience, whether, if justified, any such increased costs should be abolished.

5. A committee which will ascertain what legislation, if any, enacted by the General Assembly since 1929, has operated to increase the cost of administering the affairs of the various school districts of the Commonwealth, and which will report whether these increased costs, if any, have been justified by experience, whether, if justified, any such costs which are now mandatory should be permissive, and whether, in the opinion of the committee, any such increased costs should be abolished.

6. A committee which will ascertain what legislation, if any, enacted by the General Assembly since 1929, has operated to increase the cost of administering the affairs of the various cities of the Commonwealth, and which will report whether these increased costs, if any, have been justified by experience, whether, if justified, any such costs which are now mandatory should be permissive, and whether, in the opinion of the committee, any such increased costs should be abolished.

7. A committee which will ascertain what legislation, if any, enacted by the General Assembly since 1929, has operated to increase the cost of administering the affairs of the various counties of the Commonwealth, and which will report whether these increased costs, if any, have been justified by experience, whether, if justified, any such costs which are now mandatory should be permissive, and whether, in the opinion of the committee, any such increased costs should be abolished.

8. A committee which will ascertain to what extent, if any, it would be possible, without in any way increasing the law's delay, to reduce the number of Common Pleas judges by enlarging existing judicial districts or by abolishing judges in counties, if any, which the records may show are now overstaffed with underworked judges.

9. A committee which will ascertain what legislation, if any, enacted by the General Assembly since 1929, has operated to increase the cost of administering the affairs of the various school districts of the Commonwealth, and which will report whether these increased costs, if any have been justified by experience, whether, if justified any such costs which are now mandatory should be permissive, and whether, in the opinion of the committee, any such increased costs should be abolished.

10. A committee which will study the governmental structure of the various counties of the Commonwealth and suggest what economies, if any, could be effected by consolidating the functions of various existing county offices or by applying the principle of the commission form of government in the operation of the various counties.

11. A committee which will report upon the advantages and disadvantages incident to the creation of larger county units by consolidating counties in which population and property values have conspicuously declined during the last quarter of a century.

12. A committee which will investigate and report concerning the advantages and disadvantages of abolishing the office of county corner and providing that the functions of the corner shall be performed by the district attorney.

13. A committee which will investigate and report concerning the advantages and disadvantages of abolishing the office of county detective in all counties except counties of the first and second class; the duties of the county detectives to be assumed by the State Police; the counties to compensate the Commonwealth for services rendered to the extent of one-half the total annual sum they are now authorized by law to spend for the services of county detectives.

14. A committee to report concerning the advantages and disadvantages of dispensing with the services of the approximately 750 local registrars of vital statistics; births, marriages and deaths to be reported to the county commissioners in the respective counties by physicians in the case of births, by the person performing the ceremony in the case of marriages, and by physicians and undertakers in the case of deaths; the county commissioners to forward the data so received to the Bureau of Vital Statistics at such intervals and in such form as the Department of Health may require—and do so as a part of the duties of their office.

15. A committee to investigate and report concerning highway maintenance costs in comparable areas, with a view of ascertaining whether it would not be possible to effect substantial savings by employing only technically proficient supervisors and only workmen capable of doing a fair day's work and willing to do so—and effect these savings even though the labor rate were materially advanced; the committee to ascertain whether the results achieved in some districts do not indicate there is considerable loafing and general inefficiency in many other districts.

16. A committee to investigate and report whether, in its opinion, material reduction in local costs of government could be effected if all cities were permitted to frame their own charters unimpeded, unhampered or unrestricted by state legislation, the sole obligation being that the city charters be kept within the structure of the Constitution.

17. A committee to investigate and report what portions of House Bill 22, as presented to the General Assembly in 1933, are still sound and worthy of presentation to the House of Representatives.

18. A committee to study and report upon the suggestion that all bureaus and departments be subject to audit not only as to their accounts but also as to performance; the audit to be conducted by a bureau operating under the direction of the Governor and the purpose of the audit being to ascertain whether, in every instance, the State is receiving the service for which it is paying, whether, on the basis of their day-by-day performance, departments and bureaus are understaffed or overstaffed, whether individuals and organizations are actually producing, whether persons in the field and responsible for collections are operating on a basis which would be considered satisfactory by the manager of an industrial or commercial concern—whether, in fact, the state service in all its branches performs in accordance with accepted business standards; the auditors to make a special effort to tabulate the total amount of idle time devoted to the service of the State by its various employees and to report to the Governor for immediate corrective action.

Be it further resolved, That an additional special committee be appointed to receive, classify and report upon suggestions designed to promote economy and efficiency in government submitted by the various members of this House, each member being specifically requested to submit to this special committee a minimum of five such suggestions, to the end that with all the members of this House working together to promote economy and efficiency in government, substantial results may be achieved at this session of the General Assembly.

In appointing the Committees outlined, it is the sense of this resolution that the Speaker of the House determine the number to be appointed in each instance and he is authorized to select the personnel.

Referred to Committee on Rules.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. FINNERTY.

RESOLUTION No. 8.

In the House of Representatives, January 23, 1939.

Whereas, There has been a movement started in the United States to lift the present embargo on shipments of war materials to belligerent countries; and

Whereas, Were the present embargo to be lifted the United States by permitting shipments of war materials would be directly contributing to the further slaughter of innocent men and women, therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby memorializes the Congress of the United States to maintain the present embargo on the shipments of war materials to belligerent countries and if any change is to be made in such laws, they should be strengthened further to prevent any evasion of the existing laws; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives of the United States by the Chief Clerk of this House.

Referred to Committee on Federal Relations.

HARRISBURG, PA., WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 25, 1939.

No. 8.

SENATE

WEDNESDAY, January 25, 1939

The Senate met at 1:00 o'clock P. M.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Samuel S. Lewis) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. Burleigh A. Peters offered the following prayer:

Most Gracious God, Thou hast written in the Word, "Righteousness exalteth a nation but sin is a reproach to any people." Therein Thou hast made plain the foundation upon which securely must rest national integrity, permanent prosperity and amicable relationship by a people walking in the right way.

These fruits we have tasted, both as a nation and as a Commonwealth. We pass this way but once. May Thy grace attend us and lift us up into that place and plane of high-motived service and righteous endeavor that men seeing our good works may glorify our Father in heaven.

We ask the granting of our petition this day for Thy Name's sake. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. OWLETT, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

NOMINATIONS BY THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary of the Governor, being introduced presented in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, nominations for appointment as Notaries Public, which were laid on the table.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 32, as follows:

A Supplement to the act approved the second day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 2706) entitled "An act creating a State World's Fair Commission defining the powers and duties of said commission providing for participation in the New York Worlds Fair and making an appropriation" by making an additional appropriation thereto.

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows:

Section 1. The additional sum of three hundred twelve thousand five hundred dollars ($312,500) is hereby appropriated to the State World's Fair Commission created under the act approved the second day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 2706) entitled "An act creating a State World's Fair Commission defining the powers and duties of said Commission providing for participation in the New York Worlds Fair and making an appropriation" this appropriation is made for the purpose of carrying into effect the provisions of the act to which this is a supplement.

The funds herein appropriated shall be payable from general revenues on or before the first day of July 1939. Any funds not used for the purposes aforesaid shall be returned to the general treasury.

This bill shall become effective immediately on final passage.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered. To be transcribed for a third reading.

HOUSE MESSAGE

The Clerk of the House of Representatives, being introduced, informed the Senate that the House has concurred in Resolution from the Senate as follows:

In the Senate, January 24, 1939.

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur), That when the Senate adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday evening, January 30, at nine o'clock; and when the House of Representatives adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday evening, January 30, at eight o'clock.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Monday, January 30, 1939, at 9:00 o'clock, P. M.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 1:22 o'clock, P. M., until Monday, January 30, 1939, at 9:00 o'clock P. M.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 25, 1939.

The House met at 1:00 p. m.

The SPEAKER (Ellwood J. Turner) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. Walter Evans Deibler, offered the following prayer:

Accept, we beseech Thee, O God, our deepest gratitude for this another day. With this day Thou hast brought us new opportunities and new duties. Sometimes we stagnate and grow weary in well doing. We confess our failure to recognize the power Thou art willing and ready to bestow upon us. Forgive us, O Lord, when we err or stray from the pathways of righteousness. Help us to be optimistic; to be willing to see better days for Thy people. Give us grace to pray—"O Lord, revive Thy work in the midst of the years; in the midst of the years make it known; in wrath remember mercy." Guide the minds and hearts of these Thy servants in the answering of this prayer that all good and needful works might be accomplished; that evil and wickedness might be suppressed and that righteousness might exalt our nation. Through Jesus Christ, our Lord, we pray. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of yesterday, when, on motion of Mr. Irvin, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal approved.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER

The SPEAKER. The Chair desires to state to the members of the House that our Chaplain has been visiting those members who are nearby and who are sick. He would appreciate it if the members of the House knowing of any members who are ill in the hotels or in any of the hospitals nearby, would advise the Chaplain of that fact. He will gather the names of any of the members who are ill at home from the Chief Clerk's office, if possible. Cooperation on the part of the members in advising the Chaplain as to members who are ill will be greatly appreciated.

RESOLUTION

SYMPATHY EXTENDED

Mr. IRVIN offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was twice read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, January 25, 1939.

Whereas, death has claimed an old and honored former member of this House, namely Thomas F. McGowan of the first district of Philadelphia, who died on Monday, January 16, 1939; and

Whereas, Mr. McGowan was active in Republican politics in South Philadelphia and particularly in the 39th ward where he was formerly ward leader. He served in the Legislature from 1921 to 1925; and

Whereas, during the World War he served on the draft board and was engaged in relief work. He was in charge of emergency hospital stations in South Philadelphia during the influenza epidemic of 1918; and

Whereas, Mr. McGowan was a member of many fraternal associations and well known in the city of Philadelphia, and

Whereas, he is survived by his widow, Mrs. Regina A.
McGowan and two daughters and two sons; therefore be it

Resolved, that the members of the House of Representatives hereby express their deep sympathy for the family of our former member, the Honorable Thomas F. Mc-Gowan, and be it further

Resolved, that the Chief Clerk of the House be instructed to transmit a copy of the resolution to the family of the deceased.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER

The SPEAKER. The Chair desires to advise the members that as we see the program for next week the House will not be in session longer than Tuesday. We cannot, of course, guarantee that, but we feel that it is only fair to the members to let them know in advance our intention to adjourn on Tuesday, if possible.

RESOLUTION

Mr. TRONZO offered a resolution and asked unanimous consent to have it read for the information of the House.

The SPEAKER. The Chair desires to inquire of the gentleman from Allegheny, whether the resolution is a privileged resolution.

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker, I feel certain it is not.

The SPEAKER. The Chair, of course, does not desire to oppose or hinder the gentleman from Allegheny in asking unanimous consent for the consideration of the resolution, but we would appreciate, where these resolutions are not privileged, that they be filed with the Clerk in the usual way. Does the gentleman desire to ask for unanimous consent?

Mr. TRONZO. Yes, I do, Mr. Speaker. I desire unanimous consent for the purpose of having it read for the benefit of the members.

The SPEAKER. This is not a privileged resolution. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Tronzo, asks unanimous consent to have the resolution read for the information of the members of the House. Will the House give its unanimous consent?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I object.

Mr. BAKER. Mr. Speaker, I object.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objection and consent is not granted.

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent of the House for the immediate adoption of this resolution.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of the resolution?
Is there objection?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I object.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objection, and consent is not granted.

MOTION TO SUSPEND RULES

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker, I move that Rule 84 be suspended for the specific purpose of immediate consideration of the resolution.

The Chair desires to advise the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Tronzo, that it requires one hundred and five votes to suspend the rules. Does the gentleman desire a roll call?

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker, I do.

The SPEAKER. Is the roll call seconded?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. TRONZO and Mr. ROSENFELD and were as follows:

YEAS—16.

SENATE

MONDAY, January 30, 1939

The Senate met at 9:00 o'clock p. m.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Samuel S. Lewis) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. Burleigh A. Peters, offered the following prayer:

God of our Fathers, known of old, who hast made and preserved us a nation, let Thy benediction rest upon us this evening. We are here again to assume the labors which our common tasks demand. We remember the skillful labors of others, now gone to their eternal reward, who have served acceptably and well in this chamber. Give us, we pray Thee, the vision of their forward-looking statesmanship and help us earnestly to emulate their highest virtues, for "Where there is no vision, the people perish."

Endue each member of this great body with a deep sense of his duties and responsibilities to Thee and the people of this great Commonwealth. Let not one of us think of himself more highly than he ought to think but rather to love justice and walk humbly with our God. Therein lies the security of any nation or Commonwealth. Give us courage to do the right thing regardless of the price we may have to pay; yea, even above the political pressure which may be brought to bear upon us. This is Thy way. May we truly be Thy servants this hour and always. We pray in the name of Jesus. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. OWLETT, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE

Mr. GELDER asked and obtained leave of absence for the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. WOODWARD, for the week.

Mr. GILSON asked and obtained leave of absence for the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. KUNKEL.

Mr. SHAPIRO asked and obtained leaves of absence for the Senators from Philadelphia, Mr. DiSILVESTRO, Mr. JASPAN, Mr. STIEFEL and Mr. LEVIN, who were attending the President's Ball.

Mr. RICE asked and obtained leave of absence for the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. FREY.

REQUEST FOR LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Mr. CAVALCANTE asked leave of absence for the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. HENNEY.

MOTION TO LAY ON THE TABLE

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I move that the request of the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, for leave of absence for Mr. Henney, be laid on the table.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I second the motion. The motion was agreed to.

CONSIDERATION OF REQUEST FOR LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, on this same order I now call up for action the request for leave of absence for my colleague, Senator Henney, that was laid on the table, January 18th, as shown by the Journal of this Senate on page 149.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. OWLETT and Mr. GELDER.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I call up for action the request for leave of absence for my colleague, Senator Henney, that was laid on the table January 18th, as shown by the Journal of this Senate on page 149.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I object.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, will state his objection.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I take it if any member of the Senate objects to the calling up of this request, which was laid on the table as stated by the Senator from Fayette, that it will require a motion to call it up from the table, on which motion a roll call may be required.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, there is such a motion and it has been seconded.

The PRESIDENT. For the information of the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, there is such a motion before the Senate.

Mr. OWLETT. Then, Mr. President, I ask that the roll be called, and that the Senate vote down the motion.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. OWLETT and Mr. GELDER, and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—0

Two-thirds of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Governor be informed accordingly.

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I move that the Executive Session do now rise.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I second the motion. The motion was agreed to.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, on January 3rd, immediately after the Chaplain of this Senate had pronounced his prayer, the Journal shows this to have happened: "The PRESIDENT. May the Chair say that at my left is the Sheriff of Philadelphia County, about to serve a paper on the presiding officer. May I say to him and to all others that I have charge of police matters in this room and I am immune from the service of papers, so you can take your paper, please and —" There the conversation breaks off.

This evening I find on my desk, conformably with the request made last week, stenographic notes of the hearing before the Committee on Executive Nominations. The papers of this Commonwealth have made public some of that evidence, and they have also written editorials and news items concerning that testimony. All of this, Mr. President, refers to Mr. William J. Hamilton, Jr., who has been nominated by His Excellency, the Governor, as Secretary of Revenue, and whose appointment, for confirmation, is before this Senate.

In the notes of testimony I note that when Mr. Hamilton was questioned concerning his invasion of the sanctity of this Senate on that particular day, and the reason why he had done it, he stated that he had in his possession certain papers that had been handed to him by the Prothonotary of the Supreme Court, whom we all know to be Mr. Waters. When questioned about these papers he was very uncertain as to just what they might be. The only thing that he was positive of was that they were exemplified or certified records of the Supreme Court. He admitted very readily there were no writs, and he also admitted that he had been instructed by the Prothonotary to serve those notices, two of them, on the Senate of Pennsylvania.

Now, I do not find it too outrageous for a Sheriff of Philadelphia County to serve notices given him by the Prothonotary of the Supreme Court, but I do find it rather outrageous when a Prothonotary of the Supreme Court and a sheriff together conspire to serve anything upon the Senate of Pennsylvania as a body. We are beyond that jurisdiction. Mr. Hamilton was here on January 3rd, in the Halls of this Senate, long before we adjourned at the noon hour conformably with the constitution, and Mr. Hamilton knew where the Lieutenant-Governor's chambers were, he saw the Lieutenant-Governor in the hallways of the Senate, he had all the opportunity that any sheriff needed to serve papers on the Lieutenant-Governor while he was in the Halls of this Senate, in the corridor and in his chambers; but no, Mr. Hamilton lies in wait like a thief in the night — and waits until the Lieutenant-Governor, presiding officer of this Senate, ascends the rostrum and takes the gavel in his hand, convenes this Senate, the Chaplain has said his prayer — and then Mr. Hamilton, I do not know where he thought he was — in some of those countries where they have no law and order, where they have no constitution — but just like a bold knight of old he ascends the rostrum and in a threatening manner, with the papers in his hand, he interrupts the presiding officer of this Senate to serve papers upon him.

I would hate to think that any member of our Supreme Court had anything to do with that affair. I would hate to think that any member of our Supreme Court would be a party to a design to interfere or stay the prerogatives of this Senate, for if that were possible, if they would entertain a thing like that, it will not be very long before they will have sheriffs up here with injunctions to prevent the Senate from functioning within its constitutional sphere.

This man, Mr. Hamilton—I think, and I state that he acted with a high hand, with an utter disregard of our constitutional form of government and he invaded the sanctity of this Senate like a thief in the night when he could have served his papers on the Lieutenant-Governor long before the Lieutenant-Governor had ascended the rostrum.

Mr. President, under this question of personal privilege there are many other things that might be said by me concerning this gentleman, Mr. Hamilton, but I do not want to tire the President with my views on the matter any longer, and I would like to yield, and do now yield the floor on this question to the Senator from Armstrong.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. SIPE. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Armstrong, Mr. Sipe, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. SIPE. Mr. President, I wish to say to the Senate just what I have to say on this question, will have at least, one good point. Without wishing to be egotistical, perhaps it will be well for me to explain what good point my remarks will have.

Mr. President and members of the Senate, they will have the same good point that a certain sermon had that was preached fifty or sixty years ago to a country congregation in Butler County by the Reverend Mr. Pugh, long the nestor of the ministers of Butler County. He told me the story himself. He said that one Sunday-afternoon when he was a young minister he preached a sermon to a country congregation, and as he was on his way home, driving along in his buggy, with the buckwheat fields on one hand and the soap mines on the other, he overtook a boy trudging along amid the heat and dust of the mid-summer day. He asked the boy to get into the buggy and ride with him, and the boy complied; and as they rode along and conversed the boy said to him, "I was at your church today. I heard you preach. And you preached just the kind of sermon that I like."

The good Reverend, thinking that he was about to receive a compliment, said to the boy, "Well, what was there about my sermon that especially pleased you?"

The boy replied, "It was short."

So, that is the point that I hope my remarks will have.

I am not strong for reading speeches, but I am going to read my remarks on this occasion, under the question of personal privilege relating to the question whether or not William J. Hamilton, Jr., should be confirmed by this Senate as Secretary of Internal Revenue. Bear with me, for I am not a very good reader—I do not have very much practice at it.

Mr. Hamilton is Sheriff of Philadelphia County, and his term as sheriff will not expire until 1940. He was also sheriff of Philadelphia County for the last four months of 1931. Therefore, he has had lots of experience as sheriff, which includes selling people out, bag and baggage. Perhaps the Governor thinks that this sheriff experience well equips Mr. Hamilton for the duties of Secretary of Revenue.

According to the statements of Mr. Hamilton, made a few days ago before the Senate Committee on Executive nominations, and also according to the sworn testimony of Mr. Hamilton, his attorney and others before the Shapiro Committee about two years ago, there is a custom in the office of the sheriff to Philadelphia County which has at least the approval of the sheriffs. It is as follows, briefly speaking:

Inasmuch as the law does not require a sheriff to render service in any civil proceeding until he receives indemnity satisfactory to him for the payment of his official fees, mileage, etc., the sheriffs of Philadelphia County, for many years past, have required attorneys and litigants to make a deposit of fifty dollars to cover such costs, mileage, etc. Additional sums of money, as bids of unconsummated real estate purchases, also come into the hands of the sheriffs of this county, as deposits, by reason of the sheriff sales of real estate. After the sheriff's services are performed, the attorneys and litigants are supposed to come to his office and lift their deposits or whatever balance of same may remain.

In Philadelphia County, the number of sheriff sales is staggering to a Senator from the country, like I am. Their number sometimes reaches twelve hundred in a single month.

By reason of the vast number of sheriff sales and by reason of poor memory on the part of lawyers and litigants who have made these deposits with the sheriff, it happens that thousands and thousands of dollars of these deposits are not claimed by the attorneys and litigants. Then the sheriffs, when they leave office, take these unclaimed deposits with them. If an attorney or a litigant comes to the sheriff after he is out of office and convinces him that he is entitled to redeem his deposit, well and good—he gets it. If he does not come, he does not get it. In this latter case, it remains in the hands of said former sheriff.

It is a matter of record that, during the past decade, sheriffs of Philadelphia County have taken with them when they left office hundreds of thousands of dollars of these unclaimed deposits.

Such is the vogue among sheriffs in Philadelphia County. Now coming to William J. Hamilton, Jr. He readily admitted under oath before the Shapiro Committee and also readily told the Senate Committee on Executive Nominations a few days ago that, when he completed his four months' term of office on January 1, 1932, he took eighteen thousand dollars of these unclaimed deposits with him. He further told the Senate Committee on Executive Nominations that, after the lapse of more than seven years, he still has between ten thousand and twelve thousand dollars of these unclaimed deposits in his hands as William J. Hamilton, Jr., Sheriff, in both cash and bonds of the city of Philadelphia. He says he will continue to pay the deposits back to the claimants as fast as they are claimed. But I think we will know that, under the vogue that he has followed, there will be thousands and thousands of dollars of these deposits that will never be claimed by those making them.

I report that William J. Hamilton, Jr. has simply followed the vogue among sheriffs of the metropolitan city and county of Philadelphia. Coming from a country district as I do—being simply a plain old farmer—I find it hard to get used to a lot of city ways—especially the ways of the sheriffs of the city and county of Philadelphia. Behold I show Mr. Hamilton “a more excellent way” to deal with money that he knows and admits does not belong to him and that he knows will never be claimed in toto by those who deposited it with him; and this way is to go into court with a petition to pay it into court with a bond whose premiums are to be paid from the interest on the fund.

Mr. Hamilton did not go into court with such petition. Later he did go into court, and this is how he did it:

After the Act of 1937, P. L. 234, was passed requiring county officers of counties of the first class and former county officers of such counties to pay over to the county treasurer for safe keeping such unclaimed money as he has in his possession, the treasurer of Philadelphia County made demand upon him that he pay over this money and upon his refusal to do so the treasure got a Mandamus ordering him to pay the money over. Then and not until then did Mr. Hamilton go into court. He went into court resisting the Mandamus on the ground that the law upon which it was based, the said Act of 1937, is not constitutional. A fair conclusion to be drawn from his action is that he thinks that it is perfectly “constitutional” for him to hang onto money that he knows is not his and that he knows will never be claimed in toto under the vogue that he has followed.

I think I can hear Mr. Hamilton say: “The Pennsylvania Constitution; it must and shall be preserved.” And I say: “O, sacred Pennsylvania Constitution, beloved of the law observer and the law evader.”

It is true that, after the Shapiro Committee had Mr. Hamilton before it two years ago, he has sent out a number of notices to depositors. However, the notice does not look any too good to me. It says the account is “apparently still open.” It does not mention any specific sum still due the depositor. It would have a much more compelling appeal if it definitely stated that the account is open and that there is a specific sum of money due the depositor. The impression I gather from the notice is that Mr. Hamilton since the Shapiro Committee had him before it, wants to hold himself out as being anxious that the depositors come to him but at the same time is not losing any sleep if hundreds of them never come.

Now this is the man that Governor James wants to handle the revenue of Pennsylvania. I feel sure that business firms in search of a person to handle their revenue would not be very favorably impressed with Mr. Hamilton's record. I would not employ him to handle my own revenue.

The Senate has no little responsibility in cabinet appointments. As Senators, we should not lose sight of the fact that the Governor makes such appointments with “the advise and consent of the Senate.” It was a pleasure for me to vote for the confirmation of most of the other cabinet members; but I must draw the line with Mr. Hamilton. I will not put my seal of approval on the vogue that he has followed. I must not be swayed by the Governor's desire to pay a political debt which he owes Mr. Hamilton as his campaign manager in Philadelphia. And I am willing to help the Governor get some other Republican for the office of Secretary of Revenue. I can name him off hand a hundred Republicans who can fill this office with credit and distinction against whom the finger of serious criticism cannot be pointed.

I base my objection to Mr. Hamilton on the grounds that the vogue he has followed and insists on following is highly improper and unethical. I also frankly state that perhaps the ethics in the situation do not make a strong appeal to Governor James. While it is true that the Governor often preaches a lofty idealism, it is also true that for many months last year he did not do a tap of work on his job as judge of the Superior Court but nevertheless continued to draw down his salary of eighteen thousand dollars a year. In his radio address a few nights ago misrepresenting the financial condition of the Commonwealth, he said that his administration has found the state's cupboard to be empty. I say to him that if all state employees had acted as he did for the greater part of last year—do not work but draw full pay—the state would likely not have any cupboard by this time. On the basis of the Governor's record as judge of the Superior Court for the greater part of last year—a record of no work but full pay—I repeat that the ethics in Mr. Hamilton's situation very likely do not appeal to him; and furthermore, on the basis of that record, I pronounce him Pennsylvania's number one office-holding drone. “Beat it if you can.”

When the temple of Solomon was built, the Mountains of Lebanon, the mines of Ophir, the quarries of Tyre and the islands of the sea were laid under contribution for materials to be incorporated therein; and the master workman of many nations were caused to work together for the one common result. Now we are building on Pennsylvania soil a temple more magnificent and more enduring than the temple of Solomon—the splendid temple of a free people's government. Amid the rampage of commercialism and political contention, its mystic walls are rising. The fathers who long ago crossed the dark floods of death, saw to it that “lively stones” went into its firm foundations and that the workmen of their day were actuated by sublime ideals. Let us, Senators of Pennsylvania, see to it that the building stones of our day are "lively stones" and that the workmen of our day are men of high ideals; and let us not grow weary in our efforts until the very cap-stone of this temple elaborate shall swing into place.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Somerset, Mr. Ealy, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, it seems that this debate has gone far afield from the question of whether or not we should take from the table the request to grant a leave of absence to Senator Henney. The question of the confirmation of the appointment of Mr. Hamilton to the position of Secretary of Revenue is not now before the Senate. Nothing was ever further from my intention than to speak about that. But it seems to me that the statements of the Senator from Armstrong County, Mr. Sipe, should not be allowed to go entirely unchallenged at this time, because it would be doing a grave injustice to Mr. Hamilton, and also to the Governor, who has suggested his nomination for appointment to this high position.

As I understand the situation down in Philadelphia, when Mr. Hamilton retired as Sheriff after his first term there were funds in his hands of perhaps a hundred thousand dollars or more, and when he went out of office he left with the Office of the Sheriff, the Sheriff who succeeded him, with a Mr. Myers in that office, who was deputized for that purpose, his check-book, with the idea and instructions that Mr. Myers would write checks to all lawyers and others who were entitled to fees from the office of the former Sheriff, and Mr. Myers did perform that duty. For a period of perhaps three years or more that check-book and that bank account remained there with Mr. Myers, and all of these funds were drawn out during those three years excepting about eighteen thousand dollars. In other words, this fund was reduced from perhaps a hundred thousand dollars to about eighteen thousand dollars. All the other moneys were paid to those attorneys who came in and receipted on the docket, according to custom. After this period of time, the money was drawn out of this account and invested in city bonds, or the bulk of it, and those bonds were placed in an envelope marked "William J. Hamilton, Jr., Sheriff," and those funds, as Mr. Hamilton testified, are available for anybody who is entitled to them. Mr. Hamilton said in his testimony that he was anxious to pay that money out to those to whom it was due, but he must have receipts, and the proper place to have a receipt is on the records. Now, there was an Act of Assembly passed in 1937, I understand, whereby the funds remaining in the hands of the Sheriff were to be turned over or put into Court, with the intention of complying with the further provision in the Act that those funds would be placed in the hands of the City Treasurer of the City of Philadelphia.

Mr. Hamilton, I believe, has been informed by his attorney—and I hope his attorney will appear at the proper time to make a statement to anyone who questions it—Mr. Hamilton was advised by his attorney that the bond which he gave as Sheriff will be binding upon him for a period of ten years from the time he entered office or until the year 1941, and if those funds are paid into the City Treasury of Philadelphia, there is grave fear they will be like the Social Security Funds which are put into the Treasury of the United States, and not be there when they are needed and the people who are entitled to those funds when they want them will come back to the bondsman, Mr. Hamilton, and therefore, properly, he has refused to pay them into Court and also to pay them into the hands of the City Treasurer of Philadelphia until he is protected. All the money is there and he has testified it is there, for anyone to whom it is due, who will just simply come and say so, who will say here, I want my money. All he has to do is to receipt for it. Mr. Hamilton testified before this Committee he is more than anxious to pay it out.

BILLS INTRODUCED

Mr. MALLERY read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 34, entitled:

An Act to further amend section five hundred eight of the act, approved the eighteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and eleven (P. L. 309), entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, together with the provisions by which it shall be administered, and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof; providing revenue to establish and maintain the same, and the method of collecting such revenue, and repealing all laws, general, special, or local, or any parts thereof, that are or may be inconsistent therewith," by further regulating the incurring of temporary indebtedness and the repayment thereof.

Which was committed to the Committee on Education.

Mr. FARRELL read in his place and presented to the Chair, Senate Bill No. 35, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Frankford Hospital, at Frankford, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

Which was committed to the Committee on Appropriations.

He also read in his place and presented to the Chair, Senate Bill No. 36, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Northeastern Hospital of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

Which was committed to the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. DENT read in his place and presented to the Chair, Senate Bill No. 37, entitled:

An Act to amend section one of the act, approved the twelfth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five (P. L. 603), entitled "An act concerning conditional sales; and to make uniform the law relating thereto," as amended, by including contracts for the bailment or leasing of goods.

Which was committed to the Committee on Judiciary General.

He also read in his place and presented to the Chair, Senate Bill No. 38, entitled:

An Act to further amend section sixteen of an act approved the thirty-first day of May, one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws, four hundred sixty-eight), entitled "An act providing for the establishment of a State Highway Department, by the appointment of a State Highway Commissioner, two Deputy State Highway Commissioners, chief engineer, chief draughtsman, superintendents of highways, and a staff of assistants and employees defining their duties and the jurisdiction of the State Highway Department, and fixing salaries of commissioner and deputies and other appointees; providing for taking over from the counties or townships of the Commonwealth certain existing public roads connecting county-seats; principal cities, and towns and extending to the State line; describing and defining same by route numbers as the State Highways of the Commonwealth; providing for the improvement, maintenance and repair of said State Highways solely at the expense of the Commonwealth, and relieving the several townships or counties from any further obligation and expense to improve or maintain the same, and relieving said townships or counties of authority over same; requiring boroughs and incorporated towns to maintain certain State Highways wholly and in part; requiring the State Highway Commissioner to make maps to be complete records thereof; conferring authority on the State Highway Commissioner; providing for the payment of damages in taking of property, or otherwise, in the improvement thereof; providing for purchase or acquiring of turnpikes or toll-roads forming all or part of any State Highways, and procedure therein; providing for work of improvement of State Highways to be done by contract, except where the State Highway Commissioner decides the work be done by the State; providing aid by the State to counties and townships desiring the same in the improvement of township or county roads; defining highways and State-aid highways; providing method of application for State aid in the improvement, maintenance and repair of township or county roads and prescribing the contents of township, county, borough, or incorporated town petitions, providing for percentage of cost of improvement or repairs to be paid by State, county, township, borough, or incorporated town, and requiring contracts by counties, townships, boroughs, and incorporated towns with Commonwealth governing same; providing for the minimum width of State Highways and State-aid highways, and kind of materials to be used in the improvements; providing for payment of cost of improvement and repairs; providing penalty for injuring or destroying State Highways; making appropriations to carry out the provisions of the act; and providing for the repeal of certain acts relating to Highway Department and improvement of roads, and of all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith; and providing that existing contracts are not affected by provisions of this act" by providing for the payment by the Commonwealth of all property damages and cost of the removal of structures heretofore paid by counties.

Which was committed to the Committee on Highways.

Mr. OWLETT read in his place and presented to the Chair, Senate Bill No. 39, entitled:

An Act validating county treasurers sales for delinquent taxes, when the reports and returns of such sales were made to the court of common pleas, and the deeds thereto were executed and acknowledged, by an attache of the office of the county treasurer and not by the county treasurer as required by law.

Which was committed to the Committee on County Government.

Messrs. GILSON and WOLFENDEN read in their places and presented to the Chair, Senate Bill No. 40, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Forests and Waters for the use of the Pennsylvania State Park and Harbor Commission of Erie.

Which was committed to the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. GILSON. Mr. President, Senator Wolfenden and myself introduced this bill and I ask indulgence of my colleagues at this time to explain this bill.

This bill is making an appropriation of seventy-five thousand dollars to the Department of Forests and Waters for the use of the Pennsylvania State Park and Harbor Commission of Erie, for the purpose of emergency construction to prevent the destruction of the highway and banks which form the peninsula at Erie. I wish to say that Secretary Stewart expects to be in Erie tomorrow to make the necessary inspection, and the matter is to be taken up with Secretary Stewart and with Governor James. The situation is critical. On the 23rd of December a storm of unusual velocity struck the Presque Isle Peninsula, and this endangered not only the harbor but the roadway and the development of the peninsula. The Presque Isle Peninsula has a part in which the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has an investment of over a million two hundred-fifty thousand dollars. In the year 1938 there were over one million six hundred thousand people who visited the Presque Isle Park. This is a large park of some thirty-two hundred acres, with eleven miles of roadway, and it is now in a very dangerous and critical condition, and very much in need of repairs, and immediate action is needed for the construction of the steel bulkheads. The major part of this appropriation is required by the engineers of the Federal Government, on the basis of supporting and protecting the harbor. They have secured a recommendation that the Federal Government will stand half the expense. There is required, in addition to these steel bulkheads, the construction of a number of other jetties.

This bill provides that all this work is to be done according to the design and under the approval of the engineers of the Department of Forests and Waters.

I wish to say that this matter is entirely non-partisan, non-political. It is an emergency. State property to the value of over a million dollars involving a park which has been frequented by more people than any other state-owned park in the State of Pennsylvania is involved. The situation is critical and action is needed at once. The Department of Forests and Waters will be represented there in Erie tomorrow; the engineers of that department have made a design which has been approved by the Federal Government; and I ask my colleagues on the committee to which this bill will be referred—which I assume will be the Committee on Appropriations—to expedite and if possible get this bill over into the House this week. Any changes or amendments which His Excellency the Governor desires, or the Secretary of Forests and Waters, or the engineers of that department recommend, can be made at that time and certainly will be acquiesced in by the entire delegation from Erie County, both Republican and Democratic.

BILLS INTRODUCED

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, I rise in place and present a series of four bills. On this matter, I feel I should also make a short statement in relation to those bills. During the 1937 session, a joint commission of the legislature was appointed to investigate criminal procedure in the courts of Pennsylvania, to report to the Legislature and to make recommendations on the basis of that work, which was carried on over a period of eighteen months. I want to say that we made as fair and impartial an investigation as could be made, and out of that investigation numerous abuses were found in the court procedure of Pennsylvania. This has been recognized, not only in Pennsylvania, but throughout the Nation. I have here in my hand a pamphlet that was worked out at a meeting of the National Association of Crime Commission Chairmen held in New York. In it they cite sixty-four separate abuses that were found in Pennsylvania; they compared the situation in Cincinnati, Baltimore, New York, Washington, Philadelphia and Newark, New Jersey, on the same abuses. It is a very interesting study. It was sent to me after the meeting was held. I was not a member of the meeting, but was very interested in it. I also have a copy of the report of the Journal of the American Judicature Society, made in October, 1938, at Ann Arbor, Michigan, and in part they say, "the report, in plain words, is a business-like document, which will enable the Legislature if it is moved to effect great reforms."

I receive requests for copies of this report every day from libraries, law schools all over the United States and from Canada, and in line with the duty of the commission, I have ordered bills to be drawn for every recommendation that the commission makes.

There are four of these bills prepared, and I will just briefly state what they are.

The first one is an amendment to the Constitution to revise our election of judges. We feel that the judiciary, as a third part of this Government, should be absolutely free, and if this amendment is finally adopted by the people it will make the judges free from any political group or the underworld, or any other kind of domination. It is an opportunity to give to the Judges of Pennsylvania what the constitution intended them to have.

The second is the investigation of the Judicial Council. There are twenty-five states in the United States that have this Judicial Council. Every state bordering on Pennsylvania has it, and every state comparable to Pennsylvania has it.

Then the third is an Amendment to the Constitution to permit five-sixths of a jury to render verdicts in all cases with the exception of life imprisonment or death.

The next one is a real-estate bail to be recorded with the Recorder of Deeds as a lien against the property on which bail is given.

As other bills under this program are prepared I shall present them to the Senate.

Therefore, I read in place and present to the Chair the following four bills:

Mr. RUTH read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 41, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to sections fifteen and twenty-five of article five of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Which was committed to the Committee on Appropriations.

He also read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 42, entitled:

An Act establishing and relating to a judicial council.

Which was committed to the Committee on Judiciary General.

He also read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 43, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article one, section six of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Which was committed to the Committee on Judiciary General.

He also read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 44, entitled:

An Act regulating the entry of real estate as bail in criminal cases and providing for the forfeiture thereof, and determining the validity of liens thereunder.

Which was committed to the Committee on Judiciary General.

BILL INTRODUCED BY REQUEST

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I read in place and present to the Senate a bill which I have introduced by request, and, like the last two of my colleagues, I would like to say something about the bill.

It deals with the question of Teachers' Tenure as prepared by the Pennsylvania School Directors Association. I have not personally completed all of my study on the subject, but I am introducing it by request, so as to bring it before the Senate.

Mr. EDMONDS read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 45, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act, approved the eighteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws, three hundred nine), entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, together with the provisions by which it shall be administered, and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof; providing revenue to establish and maintain the same, and the method of collecting such revenue; and repealing all laws, general, special or local, or any parts thereof, that are or may be inconsistent therewith," by defining probationary professional employe, substitute employe, and temporary employe, providing for a probationary period for professional employes, and further regulating the employment, dismissal, suspension, demotion, and retirement of such employes.

Which was committed to the Committee on Education.

BILL TO AMEND THE CONSTITUTION

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I am going to introduce a bill in the form of a resolution, proposing an Amendment to the Constitution of Pennsylvania, and like the other Senators, I would like to have their indulgence to make a short explanation.

The bill is for the purpose of setting up a county manager form of government, with the consent of the electors of the county, and the fundamental basis of the bill is governmental economy. Today the atmosphere seems to be charged with talks bearing on governmental economy. My good friend Senator Woodward and I sometime ago discussed the question of the county manager form of government, and he told me there was a county in Virginia that had such a system, and I communicated with the head of that county and got much data bearing on this question. Of course we all know that they have statesmen down in Virginia, such men as Carter Glass, Senator Byrd, and other men of that type, and from that report that I received I find that under that form of government many political hacks were taken out of office and by reason thereof there was a saving in that little county in the matter of personal compensation—$33,020 before the system went into effect, which was reduced to $15,850 after it went into effect; and then in connection with the purchase of supplies and other necessities there was a saving of around twenty per cent. So I sincerely hope that those Senators who are standing today for economy in government will assist me in getting this bill through the Senate at this session.

Mr. REED read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 46, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article fourteen of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Which was committed to the Committee on Judiciary General.

RESOLUTIONS

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

Mr. CROWE offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, January 30, 1939.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That when the Senate adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday evening, February 6, 1939, at nine o'clock; and when the House of Representatives adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday evening, February 6, 1939, at eight o'clock.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

OFFICERS AND EMPLOYES OF THE SENATE

Mr. CHAPMAN offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered, and agreed to:

In the Senate of Pennsylvania, January 30, 1939.

Resolved that Malcolm Osman be elected Message Clerk of the Senate, transferred from the position as Clerk to Committee.

Evan J., Hughes., 416 Rutter Ave., Kingston, Penna., be elected Transcribing Clerk, vice Peter J. Brennan, resigned.

J. Reppell Moorhead, Indiana, Penna., be elected Clerk to Committee, vice William L. Ingersoll, resigned.

William Stewart, 6512 N. Thirteenth St., Philadelphia, Penna., be elected Assistant Sergeant-at-Arms, vice John J. Nahrang, resigned.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Somerset. Mr. Ealy, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I ask leave to make a statement. A bill which is up for third reading this evening has to do with an appropriation for constructing and furnishing a Pennsylvania Building at the New York Worlds Fair. Some of the Senators wish to raise a question, or wish a little more information, as to certain features in connection with this bill, and I understand the architect or one of the men connected with the construction of this building is here, and I am going to ask for a recess of fifteen minutes, in the room to the left, in order that the architect can be there, and any Senators who desire may be enlightened.

RECESS

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess for fifteen minutes.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I second the motion. The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed the Senate will be in order.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 32, entitled:

A supplement to the act approved the second day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 2706) entitled "An act creating a State World's Fair Commission; defining the powers and duties of said commission; providing for participation in the New York World's Fair; and making an appropriation" by making an additional appropriation thereto.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—37

Bartlett,	Farrell,	Lanier,	Scarlett,
Cavalcante,	Gelder,	Letzler,	Shapiro,

NAYS—1

Mallery.

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Blair, Mr. Mallery, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I wish to state, for the purpose of the record, that my reason in voting against this bill is that the State of Pennsylvania at this time does not have the money it is appropriating; that the money is being borrowed; that the money is needed for relief; that there are public schools in the State of Pennsylvania that within a month or two may close if money is not provided, and I have my suspicions that if the Legislature is asked for money, they will be told there is no money available. Furthermore, I do not believe industry is going to move into Pennsylvania because of looking at an exhibit that may be displayed at the World's Fair in New York, regardless of how costly it may be.

I would favor a lesser appropriation. One hundred twenty-five thousand dollars, in addition to the seventy-five thousand dollars which has already been appropriated, would, in my mind have been sufficient.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, after the explanation given by my good friend Mr. Mallery, I desire to change my vote from "Aye" to "No".

The PRESIDENT. The vote has already been announced.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Tuesday, January 31, 1939 at 1:15 o'clock p. m.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 11:00 o'clock p. m. until Tuesday, January 31, 1939 at 1:15 o'clock p. m.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

MONDAY, January 30, 1939.

The SPEAKER (Ellwood J. Turner) in the Chair

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. Walter Evans Diebler, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, our heavenly father, we thank Thee for blessing us with another week. Surely "Jehovah is merciful and gracious. Slow to anger, and abundant in loving kindness. He will not always chide; neither will He keep His anger forever. He hath not dealt with us after our sins. Nor rewarded us after our iniquities. For as the heavens are high above the earth, so great is His loving kindness toward them that fear Him." Our hearts are strangely moved with gratitude to Thee for this Thine everlasting beneficence. Our spirits are warmed with the knowledge of Thy constant oversight which Thou dost manifest unto us. It is blessed to know, O God, that Thou dost forgive us our iniquities and our failures of the past. "If Thou, Jehovah, shouldst mark iniquities, O Lord, who could stand? But there is forgiveness with Thee, that Thou mayest be feared." Grant, we beseech Thee, O God, to give to all Thy servants everywhere and to these Thy servants who serve in our midst in their several capacities, the fear of the Lord which is the beginning of wisdom; so that their work may be done under Thy divine guidance that we may live godly, righteous, and sober lives to the honor and glory of Thy holy name. We invoke these blessings upon us O God, thru Jesus Christ our Lord, Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The Clerk will read the Journal of Wednesday, January 25, 1939.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of Wednesday, January 25, 1939, when, on motion of Mr. Bower the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal approved.

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. TRONZO.

RESOLUTION No. 9.

In the House of Representatives, January 25, 1939.

Whereas, The bulwark of democracy, now imperilled by dictatorships in many parts of the world, is the confidence of the people in the integrity of their elected representatives and the freedom of their legislative body from corrupt influences and solicitations, bribery, intimidation and coercion; and

Whereas, The organization of the Senate of this Commonwealth was marked by the attempted judicial usurpation, equivalent to intimidation and coercion; and

Whereas, By the statements of several Senators to the effect that they were offered bribes to vote in a particular way against the interests of the people, and by other circumstances giving rise to rumors and charges which cannot help but undermine the good repute of this Legislature; and

Whereas, The framers of our Constitution of Pennsylvania, in their determination to insure the integrity of our legislative body, inserted the following sections in Article III thereof:

"A member of the General Assembly who shall solicit, demand or receive, or consent to receive, directly or indirectly, for himself or for another from any company, corporation or person, any money, office, appointment, employment, testimonial, reward, thing of value or enjoyment, or of personal advantage, or promise thereof, for his vote or official influence, or for withholding the same, or with an understanding, expressed or implied, that his vote or official action shall be in any way influenced thereby, or who shall solicit or demand any such money or other advantage, matter or thing aforesaid for another, as the consideration of his vote or official influence, or for withholding the same, or shall give or withhold his vote or influence in consideration of the payment or promise of such money, advantage, matter or thing, to another, shall be held guilty of bribery within the meaning of this Constitution, and shall incur the disabilities provided thereby for said offence, and such additional punishment as is or shall be provided by law.

"Any person who shall, directly or indirectly, offer, give or promise, any money, or thing of value, testimonial, privilege, or personal advantage, to any executive or judicial officer, or member of the General Assembly, to influence him in the performance of any of his public or official duties, shall be guilty of bribery and be punished in such manner as shall be provided by law.

"The offense of corrupt solicitation of members of the General Assembly or of public officers of the State or of any municipal division thereof, and any occupation or practice of solicitation of such members or officers to influence their official action, shall be defined by law and shall be punished by fine and imprisonment.

"Any person may be compelled to testify in any lawful investigation or judicial proceeding against any person who may be charged with having committed the offense of bribery or corrupt solicitation, or practices of solicitation, and shall not be permitted to withhold his testimony upon the ground that it may criminate himself or subject him to public infamy; but such testimony shall not afterwards be used against him in any judicial proceeding, except for perjury in giving such testimony, and any person convicted of either of the offences aforesaid shall, as part of the punishment therefor, be disqualified from holding any office or position of honor, trust or profit in this Commonwealth;" and

Whereas, One would hesitate to say that the members of the Legislative body of our State are not familiar with these sections, nevertheless, the circumstances as outlined above are such that investigation should be held; therefore be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in pursuance of the constitutional powers and duties of the House of Representatives, the Speaker of the House of Representatives is hereby authorized and directed to appoint a special committee, consisting of seven members of the House of Representatives, one of whom shall be designated as chairman, to investigate the circumstances above mentioned; and

Resolved, That the said committee, through the chairman or the member designated by him, shall have the power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman, or the member so designated by him, requiring and demanding any proper person or persons to appear before it and answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee, and to produce such books, papers, records and documents relating to the subject of inquiry, as the committee may deem necessary. The chairman or the member designated by him, shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the committee. Any person who shall wilfully refuse to appear and testify before said committee, or to produce any books, papers, records or documents aforesaid, shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases; and be it further

Resolved, That the committee shall report to the House of Representatives its conclusions in respect thereto, together with its recommendations, to the end that the House of Representatives may take appropriate action thereon.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Mr. TRONZO.

RESOLUTION No. 10.

In the House of Representatives, January 25, 1939.

Whereas, Franco with his army made up of Italian and German mercenaries threatens to take over the Spanish Government, and

Whereas, The Loyalist Government is the legally constituted government of Spain and the United States has so recognized it and has done so since the establishment of the Spanish Republic, and

Whereas, The Government forces of Spain have found it impossible to cope with the combined armies of all the dictators of Europe due principally to the fact that she has been unable to purchase war materials from the United States, her sister democracy, and

Whereas, The present day democracies cannot at this time stand another defeat at the hands of dictators, therefore be it.

Resolved, That the House of Representatives hereby memorializes the Congress and the President of the United States to immediately lift the present embargo on war materials to Loyalist Spain, and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of this House shall transmit a copy of this resolution to the Speaker of the House of Representatives, the President of the Senate and the President of the United States.

Referred to the Committee on Federal Relations.

REPORT OF THE PHILADELPHIA SAVING FUND SOCIETY

The SPEAKER laid before the House the report of the Philadelphia Saving Fund Society as of the first day of January, 1939, which was read by the Clerk.

Referred to the Committee on Printing.

REPORT OF THE SAVING FUND SOCIETY OF GERMANTOWN

The SPEAKER laid before the House the 84th annual statement of the Saving Fund Society of Germantown and its vicinity, which was read by the Clerk.

Referred to the Committee on Printing.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER

The SPEAKER. The Chair wishes to announce that communications from the different Saving Fund Societies are being referred to the Committee on Printing for their consideration in connection with the printing program.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE

Mr. Lloyd H. Wood asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. BOORSE for the week on account of illness.

Mr. McClester asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. IMBRIE for the week on account of illness.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE ON RULES

Mr. WOODSIDE offered a report from the Committee on Rules and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was twice read as follows:

In the House of Representatives, January 30, 1939.

Resolved, That the following shall be added as a Rule of this House:

No bills appropriating moneys to State-aided hospitals or State-aided homes shall be introduced in the House of Representatives except such as appropriate in a single bill the total sum to be appropriated to all of the institutions within the same class or group. Requests for appropriations for particular State-aided hospitals or State-aided homes shall be filed with the Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations on forms to be furnished by the Legislative Reference Bureau, and shall be signed by the Member requesting the appropriation.

No bills for the establishment of new State highway routes shall be introduced in the House of Representatives except such as included in single bills the total mileage to be added to the State Highway System or the Rural State Highway System at a session of the General Assembly. Requests for the adoption of a particular highway or portion thereof as a State highway or rural State highway, or amendments making additions to or changes in any existing State highway, with the description thereof, shall be filed with the Chairman of the Committee on Highways on forms furnished by the Legislative reference bureau, and shall be signed by the Member requesting the same.

Signed by the Committee on Rules

ROBERT S. WOODSIDE, JR.
JACOB B. SCHROCK
NORMAN WOOD
WILSON L. YEAKEL
ROBERT S. HAMILTON
ELLWOOD J. TURNER

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

The majority of the members having voted in the affirmative the resolution was adopted.

PROCEDURE FOR INTRODUCING APPROPRIATION AND HIGHWAY BILLS

The SPEAKER laid before the House an announcement from the Committee on Rules which was read by the Clerk as follows:

The procedure for the Members to follow in accordance with the rule just adopted is:

First, take your requests for appropriation to Hospitals, Homes and other State-aided institutions to the Legislative Reference Bureau. Leave all the correspondence and other data with them. They will prepare the request forms in Triplicate and send them to your desk.

You are to sign and date these copies. Send two copies to the Bill Clerk in the same manner as when introducing a bill. The Clerk will give one to the Chairman of the Appropriation Committee and the other to the Press. The third copy is for your personal files.

The Chairman of the Appropriation Committee will acknowledge these requests by writing direct to the institution concerned, stating that you have submitted to the Committee the amount asked for by you.

Requests for Highway Route Changes and additions to existing Routes are to be handled in exactly the same manner as appropriation bills.

Appropriation Bills and Highway Bills which have already been drafted and those now in your possession are to be signed and dated. Send two copies to the Bill Clerk in the same manner as other bills. They will be handled by the Clerk as suggested and will not be numbered or printed. Keep the third copy for your files.

ANNOUNCEMENT

The SPEAKER. We are going to make an effort to put in every Member's post office box, each Legislative day, a mimeographed copy of announcements of all committee meetings and public hearings.

To do this, it is important that the chairmen send their Committee meeting notices, at the beginning of each day's session, to Mr. Ollie Martin, the Assistant Reading Clerk who sits to the Speaker's left; otherwise your notices will not appear on the mimeographed lists.

May the Chair further state to the Chairmen that it is important, as far as possible, to send the notices of committee meetings or public hearings, at least a day in advance, if we are going to be able to work out this system. In years past it has usually been the custom of every chairman of a committee to put notices on the board, or to send pencil notices to the Clerk to be announced to the House. Many times members are out of the House when the notices are read, or they are read about the time of adjournment, when there is much confusion, and the Chair knows from experience that very often the memorandum as to when a committee is going to meet has been lost or mislaid or forgotten.

It is the expectation that by this system, we can give the members notice of meetings in advance, so that they may have a written notice on their desks or in their post office boxes, and thereby enable them to know as much in advance as possible of the committee meetings, and when they are going to be held.

The success of this system will depend entirely upon the cooperation of the Chairmen. Where meetings of committees are determined upon in committees it will depend upon the manner in which the Chairmen report those committee meetings, the dates, times, and places to Mr. Martin, and as much in advance of the time as possible.

STATEMENT BY MR. HERBERT B. COHEN

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, after being in office for a period of ten days, found occasion to talk to the people of the Commonwealth by radio, and in an eleven-page address, analyzed the financial situation of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

I do not at this time deem it advisable to discuss the speech of his Excellency. It is beset with so many misstatements and inaccuracies, that I feel a discussion of his speech, prior to the submission of the Governor's budget in February, would be useless.

However, the tone of the Governor's address is such that it calls for a response from the minority. I can see no better method of impressing his Excellency with the fact that his utterances are now the utterances of the people of the Commonwealth, and that his newspaper releases are now State papers, than to have his speech printed in full in the Legislative Journal, so that those who desire may refer to it at will.

GOVERNOR'S RADIO ADDRESS PRINTED

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I respectfully move that the Governor's radio address of January 27, 1939, be printed in full in the Legislative Journal.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER. The Chair wishes to inquire of the gentleman from York whether the motion is in writing and whether copies are available.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I might say that there are, and I have also sent to the desk a copy of the Governor's release to the press, which I believe is an accurate copy of his message of January 27, 1939.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

ADDRESS

(The following was a Newspaper Release. Those parts which did not form part of the radio text are identified by being heavily indented on both sides.)

Fellow Philadelphians:

Ten days ago, when I took office as Governor, I promised the men and women of this State to give them an inventory of our house of government. I promised to explain Pennsylvania's financial condition, and to tell you what we are doing to meet the problems which we have uncovered.

Tonight I wish to lay before you the facts which we have learned.

The methods by which a State raises and spends money are complicated. I shall have to ask your indulgence and attention while I try to make clear what has been going on in Pennsylvania. At the risk of boring those who are familiar with such details of government, I wish to explain these matters so that all of us can understand the State's financial position.

Several times during the campaigns, I said that running a government is very much like running a household, and that the same principles of thrift and foresight which enable a housewife to keep the family living within its means should be applied to the State administration.

In general, I consider that a good comparison. However, you must remember that the household of which we are talking, the house of Pennsylvania, is a large one, in which there are several members receiving incomes, and that all sorts of things are happening from time to time to those different members—some of them lose their jobs; some of them get Christmas bonuses; some receive inheritances; unexpected doctors' bills must be paid. And so forth.

Any of you who have ever watched a mother supervise a family of children old enough to work know what I mean—neither income nor expenses are ever exactly what was expected, and the prudent household is the one which is able to meet its bills even when checks fail to arrive.

Pennsylvania receives money from various sources. Some of this may be used for the ordinary needs of government, and some must be set aside for special purposes. For instance, taxes on motorists are put into the highway fund, and in the main are not intended to be used for anything except building new roads and maintaining old ones.

The fund out of which all of the ordinary costs of government are paid is the general fund. Every second year, in the spring, all of the departments of government decide how much money they expect to need for the following two years. After the total is reached, the legislature authorizes taxes enough to raise that amount of money.

If all the department live within the figure on which they agreed, and if the taxes bring in the amount of money which is estimated, the State will come out even for the two years.

One of the most important jobs which a Governor has is to watch the expenses of the various branches of government, from month to month, and see that they are at least trying to live within their budget. If one department is compelled to spend more than it had expected to, other departments are called upon to tighten their belts a bit and make up the difference.

In the spring of 1937 Governor Earle submitted his budget for a two year period, which ends next May 31. That budget was widely discussed at that time because it was about twice as large as any budget in the history of the State. It was Pennsylvania's first half-billion-dollar budget.

A large share of the increase was due to the relief needs, but far from all of it can be laid to the depression. There was scarcely a department which did not decide at that time that it needed a lot more money. Instead of tightening their belts to help ease the load of caring for the unemployed, the various departments nearly all increased the burden by increasing their own expenditures.

To meet the long list of increases, the Democratic Legislature passed the so-called emergency taxes.

Let me emphasize to you that each branch of government received money which was intended to run that department until the end of next May. For twenty months, under the Earle administration, these departments conducted their business with full knowledge of their duty to live within their incomes.

In the last ten days the new department heads whom I have appointed have been going over their books to see whether their Democratic predecessors left them cash enough with which to round out the next four months.

Tonight it is my painful duty to tell you men and women of Pennsylvania that, like Old Mother Hubbard, we find that the cupboard is bare.

The Earle administration used up, in twenty months, the money which it raised to run the government for two full years—used it all up in spite of the fact that it had allowed itself far more for that period than any other administration in Pennsylvania's history.

The General Fund, out of which most of the bills of the half-billion dollar business which has been set up on our Capitol Hill are supposed to be paid, has only about $200,000.

Despite the fact that the situation must have been known to those in charge of the state, despite the obvious responsibility to meet the needs, despite the fact that an expensive special session of the Legislature met to try to grind some political axes, the Earle administration failed to do its plain duty in meeting this shortage.

My New Deal predecessors in office talked a great deal about their interest in and sympathy for the unfortunates—for the unemployed and the destitute; for those dependent upon the arm of the state for their food and shelter.

You can judge for yourselves how shallow that interest was when I tell you that the Earle administration went out of office perfectly well aware of the fact that they had left no provision whatever for the next four months for relief, for old age assistance, for pensions for the blind, for aid to dependent children, for maintenance of the Philadelphia State Hospital formerly known as Byberry, for certain public school deficiencies, and for many other vital purposes.

The Earle administration raised a tremendous sum of money, twice as much as had ever been expended in a two-year period—and used it all up in twenty months.

For the next four months, they left—not a cash balance with which to run the government until my own administration's two-year budget can go into effect, but a pile of bills which will represent a deficit of approximately $50,000,000.

Before I tell you what we have done to meet this emergency, to see that the unfortunate are cared for during the remainder of the Earle administration's biennium, there is another side of the financial picture I want to discuss.

No doubt some of you are wondering whether the expected tax receipts may have fallen short and thereby caused the deficit. Let us consider the taxes collected by the Earle Administration.

The taxes customarily levied for general purposes in this State were never intended to meet half-billion dollar budgets. Therefore, the Earle Administration asked for the emergency taxes to help make up the deficiency. They also had a Christmas bonus in the form of inheritance taxes on some large estates.

Those three items, added to some incidental revenue, represented the income of the State for the two year period. Did they fall short of expectations? Oh, no! They far exceeded expectations. The emergency taxes, for instance, ran $25,000,000 in excess of the estimated amount. But more than that, the Administration found a neat way in which to cut an additional tax melon. Until the Earle Administration virtually all State taxes were collected on the previous year's business. That Administration, however, passed laws making certain taxes become what they called "self assessing." The long and short of that plan was that throughout the State many individuals and business houses were required to pay two years taxes in one—the taxes for the previous year and for the current year at approximately the same time.

By this ingenious plan, the Earle Administration was able to collect five years taxes on a number of major levies in a four year term, and by this means they increased their spending money by forty-five millions of dollars.

Let us add up and see how near the Earle Administration has come in the last two years to living within the normal income of the State. Put down first the item just mentioned—forty-five millions of dollars gained by slipping in an additional year's taxation by means of the self-assessing tax plan. Then add the extra amount which the emergency tax program brought in, $25,000,000 which was promptly spent. That is seventy millions of dollars which the administration spent over and above normal expected revenue. To that must be added the sum needed to round out the Earle administration's two-year financial period ending next May 31—or the present deficit of approximately fifty million dollars.

We then come to the astounding total by which the Earle administration failed to live within its own normal income. That total is one hundred and twenty millions of dollars. And remember that tremendous over-spending was on top of a tax program which was far higher than any which the State had ever seen.

With two tax bonuses, aggregating seventy millions of dollars, the Administration spent so much money that we now are faced with the need for raising fifty millions more to pay that Administration's bills up to May 31.

You now are asking—"Governor James, what do you propose to do?"

First of all, even before I took office, preparation was made to see that the relief funds were not allowed to become exhausted. At its first session I recommended to the Legislature certain laws to permit us to borrow enough money out of the motor license and other special funds to keep the relief checks flowing. These transfers of funds are loans, and must be repaid after June 1. However, they are being done in such a way that highway construction and other State functions will not be delayed.

This type of taking from one pocket and putting it in another is not desirable, but it is the only present solution. We have an emergency to meet and we must meet it. The group whose political philosophy led them to call me a "law-burning Judge" for their political purposes, left office with the house of government afire. We must put out that fire.

Because of the waste and political misuse of WPA funds received by this State from the Federal government, Pennsylvania has not obtained the proper benefit of WPA moneys in relieving the relief rolls. WPA funds are rapidly becoming exhausted, and more and more persons are being moved back from WPA to relief. For that reason, the relief rolls are at their highest point in this State since WPA began. It is estimated that at least $44,000,000 will be needed to carry the relief burden to the end of May.

It is quite true that a large portion of this relief cost might be avoided if Pennsylvania were to receive from the national government a prompt allotment of WPA funds, which could be administered efficiently and non-politically, and expended in such manner as to fit into the State's actual needs. There is little present indication, however, that control of WPA funds is going to be put where it belongs—in the hands of the various State administrations—in time to have any bearing on the present relief problem in this State. The likelihood is that Pennsylvania will be compelled to carry the full brunt of the present relief shortage.

I am told that about six million dollars will be needed by various State departments where my various cabinet members found that their cash drawers are empty.

We are raising the bulk of that money by economies in the departments which still have cash on hand, and by spreading these available funds to cover those which are penniless.

The economies we are making are of two kinds. First, we are stopping every State expenditure which can possibly be avoided without interfering with necessary State functions. Second, we are drastically reducing the State's payrolls.

Prompt ratification of the greater number of my cabinet nominations has enabled us to make a quick start at these reductions. You no doubt have seen references in newspapers and elsewhere to long lists of employees who have been dropped. Virtually all of these are not replacements; nearly all represent positions which have been abolished.

Large as is the number already dismissed, it will continue to grow.

The need for this reduction is easily shown by the increase in employes in typical departments. The Public Utility Commission employed less than 200 in 1934. It now has more than 700. The Revenue Department had 1100 at the beginning of the Democratic Administration. It now has 1900. The Highway Department had 2200 employees in 1934 and it had about 3,700 about the time of the election last fall.

It is too early to estimate the number of persons who can be dropped from the State payrolls. In two departments we are being somewhat delayed by the fact that men I named to help in this work of economy have not yet been able to start in on the task. However, I am confident that the State Senate realizes the importance of bringing these departments into the general economy program, and that that body will not long delay its decision in this matter.

Let me say that we are making every attempt to effect our economies without interference with normal State functions. The department heads would easily be able to strike a set number of names from the payroll, if that were the whole question. But determining which are of the least value to the State, deciding which portion of the departmental activities may be cut with the least inconvenience to the men and women of the State, is not a matter so quickly done.

Doubtless mistakes will be made. We may in scattered instances attempt saving which prove harmful instead of helpful. When that happens, of course we will remedy our mistakes as soon as they are found. On the other hand, the economies must be made, and I am frank to tell you that I would far rather see some temporary inconvenience in the name of economy than I would to permit the Ship of State to continue along the aimless course it has followed for so many months.

During recent years the Ship of State has been accumulating barnacles. They have clustered along her keel until she is waterlogged and her progress is almost stopped. The time has come to put that ship in the dry-dock long enough to scrape its bottom. That is going to be a painful job, but it is one which must be done unless we are willing to take a chance of our ship foundering.

In closing, let me make clear to you that tonight I have been discussing merely the problems which our State faces between now and the end of the present biennium, which ends next May 31st.

We will have an equally serious problem in attempting to lay our plans for the next two-year period which begins on June 1. These are matters, however, which I will lay before you early in February, by which time we shall have had an opportunity for further study of the task before us.

In the present situation, I ask the patience and cooperation of all Pennsylvanians in seeing that a difficult job is done, that it is done promptly, and that it is done properly.

Thank you and good night.

SENATE

TUESDAY, January 31, 1939.

The Senate met at 1:15 o'clock p. m.
The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Samuel S. Lewis) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. Burleigh A. Peters offered the following prayer:

O Lord God Almighty, ruler of all nations, strengthen us this day with Thy divine presence, for we are weak and helpless without Thee. Make plain Thy way in this day's legislative deliberations, and may they issue into that highest ethic and maximum helpfulness—the greatest possible good to the greatest possible number. May our clarity of vision never be beclouded by the circumvention of words nor the suasion of speech but with the definiteness of purpose for which we were elected and the beautiful ideal of a godly service in government, hew unswervingly to the dictated policy of an untrammeller conscience. But since conscience can only operate in the field of its knowledge, teach us Thy ways, that it may not be that "right forever be on the scaffold" nor "wrong forever on the throne" but that we may have that sweet consciousness that "God, standing within the shadows, is keeping watch over His own." That the consciousness of the presence of God may actuate our every endeavor this day is our earnest prayer. For Thy name's sake. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. GELDER, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Mr. KILGALLEN asked and obtained leave of absence for himself for the ensuing week.

He also presented communication in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, which was read as follows, and referred to the Committee on Executive Nominations.

APPOINTMENT AS BRIGADIER GENERAL

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, January 31, 1939.
To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

In conformity with law, I have the honor to nominate for the advice and consent of the Senate the following:

Robert McKune Vail, 20 South Pierce Street, Wilkes-Barre, Luzerne County, for appointment as Brigadier General, Pennsylvania National Guard, until annulled, vice William Swan McLean, Jr., deceased.

ARTHUR H. JAMES.

HOUSE MESSAGE

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced informed the Senate that the House has concurred in Resolution from the Senate as follows:

In the Senate, January 31, 1939.

Resolved, (If the House of Representatives concur), That when the Senate adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday evening, February 6, 1939 at nine o'clock, P. M., and when the House adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday evening, February 6, 1939 at eight o'clock P. M.

RESOLUTION REQUESTING SUPREME COURT OF PENNSYLVANIA TO FURNISH SENATE WITH WRITTEN OPINION DEFINING THE RIGHT OF DR. P. J. HENNEY TO HOLD OFFICE AND EXERCISE THE DUTIES OF STATE SENATOR WHILE HOLDING OFFICE OF CORONER OF ALLEGHENY COUNTY

Mr. McGINNIS offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, January 31, 1939.

Whereas, the 45th Senatorial District has been without voting representation in the Senate of Pennsylvania since the organization of the present session of the Legislature; and

Whereas, the status of Dr. P. J. Henney, the duly elected Senator in the 45th Senatorial District, is not clear because of the unusual and uncertain action of the Supreme Court in the Quo Warranto proceedings instituted in the said Court against Senator Henney; and

Whereas, the only County office declared incompatible with that of Senator by the Legislature of Pennsylvania is that of District Attorney; and

Whereas, the Courts of this State, as well as the Attorney General, have uniformly held that the only County office incompatible with that of Senator is the District Attorney; and
Whereas, the Supreme Court has not issued an order or written an opinion in said Quo Warranto proceedings; and

Whereas, the Senate of Pennsylvania is desirous of passing finally upon the eligibility of its member, said Dr. P. J. Henney, to hold and exercise the office of Senator.

Be It Resolved, that the Senate of Pennsylvania hereby respectfully requests the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania to furnish to this body a written opinion defining the right of the said Dr. P. J. Henney to hold the office and exercise the duties of State Senator while holding the office of Coroner of Allegheny County.

Mr. MCGINNIS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be dispensed with and the Senate proceed to the consideration of the foregoing resolution.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I object.

The PRESIDENT. The resolution will lie over for printing.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Cambria, Mr. Haluska, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, by way of the press, I have been informed that His Excellency the Governor has already started his economy drive. Tonight's paper reads: "1077 lose jobs on Capitol Hill." I certainly cannot agree with the Governor. If he is sincere, if he is determined to pare down the list and eliminate a number of hold-overs in the jobs that now exist on the Hill, provided, of course, there is no intention of replacing those people at a later date, then the people of this Commonwealth, who, no doubt have placed in him their confidence to put on an economy drive, an economy program, are justified in their confidence. However, Mr. President, I find it has been reported that the Governor of this Commonwealth is making plans to eliminate, or, rather, to abolish the Department of Mines. Whether that be true, I do not know. For that reason I rise to my feet this evening. I, possibly, am the only one and if I am wrong, I stand to be corrected ever to be elected to this Senate, who has worked both in the bituminous and in the anthracite mines.

I have gone down into the bowels of the earth to make my livelihood, and certainly I have some experience along the lines of coal-mining. I am a firm believer that if any department should exist on this Hill, it is the Department of Mines; certainly the coal miners and the coal operators should have some place to take their problems.

Certainly the Department of Mines should be a department that should be non-political, and throughout the Democratic Administration I believe that even our Republican colleagues will admit that very little if any politics was played in that department. Your present Secretary of Mines was appointed under a Republican Administration years ago. He was a hold-over who knew his work, and he was retained. Today, once again he has been so honored. I think he can do the job and do it right.

However, as I said a moment ago, we certainly should have men in that department that understand mining, that know the problems of the coal-miner, and of the coal-operator. We must not forget that coal is the basic industry of our great Commonwealth; and certainly the department should function, and function non-politically. I regret very much to learn that the Governor has already eliminated one department in the western part of our State. I trust that the elimination of this department will not curtail the efficiency of the Department of Mines.

I wish to assure my colleagues, on my right, that as one who has worked in the coal mines I stand ready at all times to serve on any commission, any investigation, any committee, to give to members of this Senate the maximum of my experience if it will benefit them and the Governor.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I am directed by the Committee on Executive Nominations to report with favorable recommendation the following nomination by His Excellency the Governor of the Commonwealth:

TREASURER OF DELAWARE COUNTY

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, January 30, 1939.
To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

In conformity with law, I have the honor to nominate for the advice and consent of the Senate the following:

James T. Stewart, Lansdowne, Delaware County, for appointment as Treasurer of Delaware County, to serve until the first Monday in January, 1940, vice William F. Russell, resigned.

ARTHUR H. JAMES.

CONSIDERATION OF EXECUTIVE NOMINATIONS

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of nominations for appointment as Notaries Public, sent to the Senate, January 30th. and 31st, 1939, by His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, together with the nomination just reported from Committee.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

EXECUTIVE SESSION

By unanimous consent,
A motion was made by Mr. WOLFENDEN and Mr. OWLETT.

That Rule, 38, which requires nominations made by the Governor, to lie on the table one day, be dispensed with, and the Senate do now resolve itself into Executive Session, for the purpose of acting on the foregoing nominations.

Which was agreed to,

Whereupon,

A motion was made by Mr. WOLFENDEN and Mr. OWLETT.

That the Senate do advice and consent to the nominations reported.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—45.

NAYS—0.

Two-thirds of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Governor be informed accordingly.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, I move that the Executive Session do now rise.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE POSTPONED FOR THE PRESENT

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now resume the consideration of Senate Bill No. 5, (House Bill No. 2), on final passage postponed.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed consideration of Senate Bill No. 5, (House Bill No. 2), entitled:

An Act transferring money from the Liquor License Fund to the General Fund and providing for the subsequent return from the General Fund of the transferred money.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, for the information of the Senate, this is a bill transferring from the Liquor License Fund four million dollars to the General Fund, for the purpose of taking care of relief. This is one of the bills that failed of passage last week, and if this bill is not passed today those funds will be distributed and they will not be available for relief.

It has been definitely determined this money will be needed for relief before this biennium closes. We have ready, and propose to introduce promptly, a bill appropriating this and the other moneys to be transferred to relief, and we are asking that this transfer be approved today in order that this money may be safe for relief purposes.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I should like to interrogate the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I shall be very glad to.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, for the information of the Senate, will the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, state where this money will be distributed if it is not transferred?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, this is part of the Liquor License Fund and goes to the municipalities; and, Mr. President, this is a mere temporary use of this money; if any, of the municipalities are in anyway inconvenienced by not having this money promptly, they can borrow against it, as it is merely a temporary transfer—to be paid back. It is the same method that has been used heretofore, and if relief is not to break down in this Commonwealth we must use this fund.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, will the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, state whether it is not true that unless tax laws are enacted, this money can not be replaced?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, if the budget is not balanced for the next biennium, this money will not be refunded, of course.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I am assuming that the budget—from the transfers already made—is already unbalanced to the tune of twelve million dollars. I assume this will require tax legislation to cover the transfers; is that correct?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, this administration has found itself in an unfortunate position. When this administration went in office January 17th, it found facing it a deficit of from forty to forty-five million dollars, the greater part of which was needed for relief until the end of this biennium. Any money that is used temporarily—borrowed from any fund—must of course, as the Senator from Philadelphia well knows, be paid back out of taxes levied in the next biennium, and if we transfer forty million dollars, or if we transfer forty-five million dollars, making a temporary loan of that sum why, of course, we have that much more to levy next year and are that much worse off next year. It is unfortunate, but it is a matter we cannot help unless we are going to allow relief to drop back in this Commonwealth.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I want it plainly understood that I am not particularly interested in the question of whether this transfer or any other transfer is made; I am particularly interested that this transfer shall not be made because I know what the situation in my county is; and it is all right for the Senator from Tioga to say that we can borrow money, but I know that in Philadelphia no further funds can be borrowed. As a matter of fact, Philadelphia has anticipated its borrowing capacity already by two million dollars emergency funds, which were put into the budget even before the money was borrowed.

I have no doubt other communities are in a similar situation, but none of these people whose funds are being taken have been consulted, no body has asked these people what effect this transfer of four million dollars will have upon their governmental functions. And there is no immediate need to make the transfer, because last week we transferred twenty-six million dollars from the Motor Fund.

I have no doubt, although I do not know the exact figures, I have no doubt more than twenty-six million dollars will be needed to carry this relief problem from now until the end of this biennium; and I am quite sure that if the Republican members of Congress continue in their agreement with some of the Democratic members of Congress to cut further the Government's participation, in the relief problem, the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania will require more than even the forty million dollars that has been talked about here. It is just this proceeding at cross purposes, without working in harmony, that brings about these results.

It is an easy matter for the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, to get up on the floor now and talk about relief and say, "If you do not do this, you will stop relief, and newspapers please copy." I am not concerned with that; it is just as easy for the Governor of the Commonwealth to say he was left a deficit, that when, like old Mother Hubbard, he went to the cupboard, he found it was bare.

The only difference between the expression of this Governor and that of the one before him, in February 1937, was that the former said he found the Treasury bare; he did not call it a cupboard. But, as a matter of fact, I would like to have the difference between the bareness that both of them found, when they went to the Treasury, because, as a matter of fact, when the Governor made his speech on Friday, the 27th, of January, he had the small sum of $3,332,664.05 in that so-called bare cupboard, and on Thursday, the day before he made his speech, he had the small sum of $2,486,213.34; and as a matter of fact, he had in the Treasury of the State, all funds included, $64,000,000. Now, when Governor Earle came in he found in the cupboard only $1,513,714.18; and in all funds he found only $39,575,337. Now, he would have found sixty-two million dollars there if it had not been for the fact that twenty-three million dollars had been taken from the Motor License Fund; and, in addition to that, he faced an actual deficit—not an estimated deficit, as this Governor is facing—an actual deficit of an additional three and one-half millions of dollars that was owed to colleges, three and one-half millions of dollars that was owed to hospitals, and six and one-half million dollars that was owed to schools, or, rather, six million dollars that was owed to schools because we voted six millions of dollars for impoverished districts, so that there was thirteen millions of dollars deficit, and obligation he had to meet, which this Governor does not have to meet.

This Governor has said, and we are told, that not only was the cupboard bare but there is a deficit of fifty millions of dollars, and he will have to immediately proceed to make economies to save six million dollars of that, which is the amount which is the difference between what I think will be needed for relief and the shortage in running the Government; but he couples his remarks in such a way that most of us got the impression he was fifty million dollars short. Now we are on the subject of relief, and it all dovetails in. Let us find out whether he is fifty million dollars short.

In the first place, there was nine million, one hundred thousand dollars that came into the treasury this month, January. According to the estimates there will be $22,500,000 that will come into the Treasury in February. In March there will be $46,150,000; in April there will be $26,000,000, and in May there will be $19,600,000. That means a total of $123,000,000 that will come into the Treasury from the first of January until the thirty-first of May.

The expenses to run the Government, including the payment of tax anticipation notes, will be not more than $103,000,000. There has already been removed from those items the $25,000,000 transfer which was made at the Special Session, so that the funds plus the transfer available, will run this Government until the end of the biennium and will leave available to the Governor all of those funds which I previously called attention to, which total the sum of $6,200,000.

Now, that being the picture, I would like to know how, as a business man or as a housewife, anyone can complain about a bare Treasury. The deficit has not yet occurred. There is no deficit in the State of Pennsylvania except such as occurs from the amounts necessary to provide relief; and the position of the Governor, that he will save $6,000,000 in economies, seems to be ridiculous on its face, because it takes but $36,000,000 to run each biennium—to run the governmental affairs. In other words, a million and a half dollars is required to run the Legislative, Judicial and Executive branches of the Government.

In the next four months, if he stopped governmental functions entirely, closed his office, and refused to pay salaries, the only thing he would be able to save would be $6,000,000, so how in the name of common sense he expects to save $6,000,000, that he claims to be short, by economies, I do not understand.

There has been the claim that we have had five years' taxes in four. That is a matter of bookkeeping and no more. In conjunction with that claim it has been stated that corporations were compelled to prepay their taxes. Now, you can look at that, and if you are looking at the record you will find what I did. In the first place, in 1937, when we came to make up the budget for this biennium, we found that after paying up the deficit of $36,000,000, to which I have just referred, $23,000,000 transferred from the License Fund and $13,000,000 in obligations made necessary to meet relief because of the rising demand of relief, we found ourselves with a deficit of $23,000,000, in 1937, which was owed to the Motor License Fund. By the way, it was that $23,000,000 deficit that was added to the budget of this year which enabled the Governor to say that for the first time in years Pennsylvania had a $510,000,000 budget. It is also true that the $510,000,000 budget grew out of the fact that that Governor had no control over one of the funds—that is, the Motor License Fund; and the Motor License Fund in 1935-37 was $138,000,000, whereas in 1937-39 it was estimated at $151,000,000.

So, if you remove the $23,000,000 deficit and the $13,000,000 excess from those figures in the Motor License Fund, you will find there was no half billion dollar budget, and it compares very favorably with the $447,000,000 which existed in 1935-1937, particularly if you remember that in 1937-1939 increases of over $8,000,000 were given to State-aided institutions in subsidies.

Now, it seems to me that when the Governor tells us that he is met with a deficit of $23,000,000—as we were in 1937-1939, when we had the choice between levying new taxes and putting into the Government real business methods—we should have chosen the method of taxation. That he has not done—following the same steps that he will take now; nor is he following good business.

What happened? For years the Commonwealth has been in the habit of sending forms out to corporations that pay loan and capital stock taxes, with a request that they return reports. They came in in March, April and May. When they came in, before the last administration, they were sent to clerks and accountants who figured them up and proceeded to compute the tax due, and then the corporation received its bill; and after it received the bill its accountants proceeded to check and find out and prove to the State there was not that much money due. As a result, years passed—in some instances more than three years—before the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania got a dime. Now, when we were met with the situation of either placing new taxes or changing that procedure, we adopted the method of changing the procedure. Nobody prepaid anything. A corporation owed the money for the previous year in which the return was made.

In other words, it made its return in 1935, in March, April or May—its return for taxes due for the year 1934, and by good business methods and by following methods adopted by the Federal Government, namely, make your tax return and send your check with it, and then the Government checked and asked you to pay more or gave you a refund, if you paid too much—we were able to get together some $38,000,000 in immediate cash which was necessary because any taxes which would be levied, outside of gasoline and cigarette taxes, would not come in for some time. And so I say that the administration showed its good sense and its good business judgment in proceeding along those lines; and I say it was made necessary because of the deficit that was left—and inherited by the administration—from the previous administration.

In 1937-1939, however, if you look at the budget you will see that the taxes levied in 1935-1937, if re-enacted, would have realized not only enough moneys to pay off the $23,000,000 to the Motor License Fund, but to leave a surplus of $25,000,000; and so, certain nuisance taxes enacted in the 1935-1937 session were eliminated from the 1937-1939 program, and so in the early part of February we knew exactly what we would need.

Remember that in 1935-37—rather, in 1935—the Republican organization controlling this Senate refused to give the Governor the complete amount for relief according to the program adopted by him; he asked at that time for $120,000,000, and the Republican Senators cut it down to $60,000,000—to give him for one year. That was a compromise, and then a Special Session was necessary in order to raise the additional $60,000,000; but, notwithstanding that fact, there was spent not only $120,000,000 but there was spent a total of $152,000,000 for relief by this State government in 1935-1937.

But we knew and everybody in the Senate was told in the latter part of January and the early part of February what the estimate was and we knew in 1937 what we would need for relief, and a program was presented, and a tax program presented at the same time. I recall distinctly my friend, the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, on every appropriation bill or transfer, interrogating the gentleman from Adams as to how we were going to raise the money for those bills—bringing out, of course, the reply which was necessary in order to be able to tell the public—and, of course, the gentleman said we were going to impose taxes; and out went the story "The Democrats are going to impose taxes;" and, of course, that was true—they were going to impose taxes and they did impose taxes.

As a result of the imposition of those taxes people have been fed and clothed and housed. I am ready now, and I am sure my Democratic colleagues are ready now, to join in any program, any reasonable program, that will tell us what are the necessities, where the money is coming from, how you propose to raise it, and what you want to do with it; but I want protest, with all due respect to the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and without any reflection on the high office which he occupies, that it is not the proper method of approach—to try to confuse the issue, after election, by a speech which can be termed nothing more nor less than political. That election is over as far as I am concerned, I am no more concerned with elections; but I am concerned with the problem which is growing in extensiveness every day we are here, a problem which means the Commonwealth must raise in the next two years more money than it has ever raised before for relief.

I am concerned with that problem and no other problem, and I do not think that it helps the problem any to make charges which serve only to excite people even if they were true—and certainly excite them when, to say the least, the charges are confusing. The fact that I got this information on the state of the cupboard is evidence of the fact that the Governor's representatives or agents could have gotten him the information just as readily as I got it when I wanted it. Nothing would be withheld along those lines from him.

And it does not help for Mr. Russell, in charge of the Department of Public Assistance, to issue a statement that he believes if WPA wages were decreased it would force people back into industry. If you look at the records in that very department you will find the greatest increase in the relief rolls are due to the fact that people were dropped in industry—not WPA alone—but the greatest number of additions to the relief rolls came from industry.

Now, I am frank enough to say that I am not holding the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to the promise that he is going to increase relief, or give the same relief, or take care of relief—and reduce taxes. I think it is time his advisors and he make acknowledgment of the fact that you cannot do both those things; and you cannot do it now particularly, because this Governor is going to have more demand on him for relief because of the present situation than any other Governor in Pennsylvania history, as far as my memory takes me back. I am willing to say the fact that he is going to have more relief to take care of is not due to any fault of his own.

I reserve the right to charge that if the State and Nation act together, instead of fighting each other, the results will be less hazardous and dangerous in Pennsylvania. I reserve the right to charge that the Republicans and Democrats, alike responsible for the reduction in relief—those of them who represent Pennsylvania and voted for it, are voting against the interests of Pennsylvania citizens and industries. Because of the reduction of $150,000,000 in that program, Pennsylvania will lose at least $15,000,000 that would otherwise have come here and would have been used in employment, in giving work to people who want work.

The statement that if you reduce wages on WPA people will go back to work is silly. They are working when they are on WPA, and there is no industry ready to take them back.

Now, it is time we meet this issue fairly and frankly,—not as Republicans or Democrats; because, as I have said before and say again, when a man in public life forgets his party affiliations the citizens get better government. What is the amount that is needed? is what I say. Let us forget the talk about the cupboard being bare and the economy of the thousand people just laid off, which has been referred to. I think it would be much better if those things were not on the front pages; it would be much better six months from now if the Governor comes to us and says, "I have saved so many dollars," and it is not necessary to frighten Harrisburg and other places by setting forth in large headlines that a thousand people have been dismissed today and two thousand will be dismissed tomorrow. I saw that migration in 1935, when I was a Republican, and I see it now in 1939 again, when I am a Democrat, and I give you my word I did not relish it any better then, and did not like it on either occasion. Those people who emerge from this Capitol must either be consumed by industry or they must be put on the relief roll; and that is no pleasure to them, and it is certainly no profit to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. So there is nothing to brag about in that; and there is no sense in beclouding the issue by saying every department in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania was increased—instead of tightening our belts.

Of course, if you look at the dollars and cents columns the amount is correct, but if you analyze the figures you will find a six or seven million dollar increase in the various departments, and that was due to the fact that there was a new system set up in the Department of Property and Supplies which accounts for $3,000,000 alone.

Look at the 1937-1939 budget and you will find the Department of Supplies was awarded $3,000,000 less in this biennium than it was before. Why? Because each department was charged with its own purchases in the dollars and cents column, and, of course, that sent up the amount necessary to be appropriated to each other department, reducing by $3,000,000 that department alone, but, of course, you will find the amount awarded the Revenue Department was increased, because it stands to reason that when they collected an additional close-to $200,000,000 in new taxes they would require more money to operate this department. And that thing went through from one department to another, because the expense of collecting $450,000,000 or $500,000,000 is greater than the expense of collecting $350,000,000 or $450,000,000. And so, if you will stop trying to jockey for position, and meet the problem as it should be met, you will get cooperation from both sides.

No politically minded person, certainly no fair-minded person, can justify interference with the proper supply of relief, and the picture we have of that today is this: In the House of Representatives, when these bills were first presented, the complaint was made, "You are appropriating $12,000,000 and transferring $34,000,000. Now, why do you do that?" And no answer was given. And the matter was just passed because the votes were over there. I hope we are not going to proceed on that basis, because, if we are going to proceed on the basis that you have got votes, then you have got two parties that are antagonizing each other; but if you proceed on the basis we started here, when we said to these gentlemen on the other side, "We will vote for transfers if you will tell us that you need $40,000,00," we may be asked the same embarrassing question that we asked you at that time: "How are you going to raise the money?"

Probably there are two reasons. Let us assume the first one will be political, but the second and important one is that our position imposes that duty, and we will be able to tell our constituents, when we go home, that we have transferred these funds but we are sure we are going to get the money back again; but as long as the Governor persists in saying that he is going to cut taxes on industry, then we have no assurance that he will return the money to the Motor Fund, and those of us who are politically minded will say to ourselves "All these motor organizations will be on our necks for having transferred funds which rightfully belong to them, and the Liquor License people in the Department of Revenue, the city, county and borough officials are all going to come to me and tell me what they think of me, and what they are going to do with me when the next election comes around, because we took the Liquor License Fund and the Motor Fund, on which they depended for their budget—which is already made up in most localities—and I cannot show them how they are going to get that money back." That is what fair-minded men will say. You may be asked embarrassing questions, but, embarrassing as they may be, they should be answered, and we are entitled to be answered intelligently.

Last week we voted $26,000,000, and now you say you want $4,000,000 more. You appropriated $12,000,000, and, according to figures which have been given here, there will be required about $10,000,000 a month. You have $26,000,000 transferred, and that should last you until the middle of February or the end of February, at least. Certainly $26,000,000 should go two and a half months. Therefore, between now and that time we think you should come to us with the problem and let us know where we stand, and what you think is ahead of us; but do not come to us and tell us the whole question of relief depends upon your ability to tie up $4,000,000 of Liquor License Funds that belong to the counties. That is not so, it can not possibly be so; and if it is you must not let it be so, because those people are fighting and striving to meet their own obligations, and you must not depend on the transfer of $4,000,000 when you know the amount required will reach the tremendous sum of $120,000,000 for the next year.

I say to you gentlemen now, you can interrogate and ask and make statements all you want to, but you can not get away from the fact that we are not trying to tie you up. You are not prepared to state your program. I say to you: Do not take that $4,000,000; devise another plan. If you need $4,000,000, I say you have $6,000,000 surplus lapsed funds that will take care of the $75,000 that Senator Gilson talked about, and the $312,000 that we passed on the floor last night—take that out and that will still leave you some five or six millions of dollars to take care of this bugaboo called Byberry that has been injected into the picture again. Of course the Byberry appropriations were not made because we know of these lapses.

If the Federal Government should decide at this time to pay more on its contributions under these Flood control Acts and therefore release some $3,000,000, and you have in the surplus the $6,000,000 from the lapses, and if the Governor is really going to economize and you save not $6,000,000—which I know that he cannot save—but save $1,500,000—and I will say every administration coming in can cut down on the payroll of the previous administration, because unfortunately all administrations right before elections make appointments that otherwise could be dispensed with, and that would not be necessary, and that the government could function without it, if it were not for the fact that there would soon be an election and each side in wants to stay in—that is all water over the dam to me, but I am used to it, it does not faze me at all. I say if there can be savings made there should be savings made, and I hope these savings will be made before the next election, so that we will get the benefit of it now; but you do not need the $4,000,000 now, and no matter what political aspect you put on it I say we are taking a fair position and will not vote for it.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, the bill is to transfer $4,000,000 to the General Fund. This is part of a program of transferring $32,000,000. In addition to that $32,000,000 it has been definitely determined that we will need, before the end of this biennium, all the lapsed funds that the Senator speaks of, and also the benefit of all the savings that can be accomplished. We are asking for the transfer of this money at this time so it will not go out of the Treasury and it will be for relief, because we know it will be needed for relief purposes. Therefore, I ask that the Senate vote for this bill.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, if one looks about the state and sees the deplorable conditions in which some of these municipalities find themselves financially, it is very hard to justify the statement made by the Senator from Tioga that these funds must be transferred at this time in order to tie them up and keep them from going to those much distressed municipalities that need this money.

We should know, as Legislators, that many of these municipalities must make up their budgets, the same as the State Administration must make up its budget, and all these municipalities have already made their budgets. They have made their estimates, and the budgets of all these municipalities in our State do include this money as part of the income upon which they base their expenditures in their budgets.

Now, I would have no hesitancy whatsoever in voting for the transfer of this $4,000,000 if there was a present necessity, a present need for the $4,000,000; but there is not any present necessity. There is no danger of anyone going hungry just because we do not transfer this $4,000,000 today.

The Senator from Tioga says that if this program of $34,000,000 is adopted and these $34,000,000 are transferred from these special funds, then the relief money up until the end of the biennium is assured. But the end of the biennium is yet some months off and no one has any idea of what taxes, what revenue, will yet come into the Treasury of the State from these taxes that have not yet been paid into the State Treasury.

There is no immediate necessity for the transfer of this fund, and I do not think that it is fair—I do not think that there is much justification here to transfer this fund merely to tie it up, tie it up and keep it from these local municipalities.

I say that until the time comes when the fund is urgently needed, we ought not to harrass these local municipalities and keep from them money that they sorely need; and for that reason I think this bill ought to be defeated and this transfer stopped until there is a necessity shown, a present necessity for the transfer of the fund.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—26

Bartlett,	Farrell,	Letzler,	Snowden,
Chapman,	Gelder,	Mallery,	Stevenson,
Crowe,	Geltz,	Miller,	Tallman,
Deltrick,	Heyburn,	Owlett,	Thomas,
Ealy,	Homsher,	Pierson,	Walker,
Edmonds,	James,	Scarlett,	Wolfenden,
Eroe,	Lanlus,

NAYS—19

Cavalcante,	Gilson,	McCreesh,	Ruth,
Coleman,	Haluska,	McGinnis,	Shapiro,
Dent,	Janpan,	Mundy,	Sipe,
DiSilvestro,	Kilgallen,	Reed,	Stiefel,
Frey,	Levin,	Rice,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same without amendments.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Monday, February 6, 1939, at 9:00 o'clock p. m.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 5:48 o'clock p. m. until Monday, February 6, 1939, at 9:00 o'clock p. m.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

TUESDAY, January 31, 1939.

The House met at 1:00 p. m.

The SPEAKER (Ellwood J. Turner) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. Walter Evans Deibler, offered the following prayer:

In this hour, O Lord, may we learn the seriousness of living straightforward lives. "For if a man thinketh himself to be something, when he is nothing, he deceiveth himself." Help us to realize that we should "be not deceived; God is not mocked: for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap." Thus, through the stern experiences of life, O God, we learn that

"We get back our meat as we measure
We cannot do wrong and feel right,
Nor can we give pain and gain pleasure,
For justice avenges each slight.
True worth is in being not seeming,
In doing each day that goes by,
Some little good—not in dreaming
Of great things to do by and by."

May the inspiration of Thy presence keep our ideals lofty and our spirits humble, as we invoke Thy blessing upon us, O God, in Thy Holy Name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of yesterday, when, on motion of Mr. McNALLY, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal approved.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented extracts from the Journal of the Senate which were laid upon the table.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Mr. Habbyslaw asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. SARGE for the week on account of illness.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. TAYLOR. (Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 11.

In the House of Representatives, January 30, 1939.

Whereas, there are present in the United States various groups and associations of persons organized to foster foreign institutions to overthrow our government, and to engage in Un-American activities; and

Whereas, such groups pay allegiance to and follow the authoritarian philosophy of foreign governments in preference to our own; and

Whereas, such groups whether Nazis, Fascists, or Communists, are hostile to free, democratic government and endanger the welfare of our nation; and

Whereas, the Committee to Investigate Un-American Activities under Chairman Dies, appointed in the House of Representatives of the United States has done and is doing much to expose these foreign groups and associations, and it is to the welfare of the nation that such investigation continue, therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), that the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby memorializes the Congress now in session to appropriate the sum of $150,000.00 to continue the work of the Committee Investigating Un-American Activities, and be it further

Resolved, that copies of this resolution be forwarded to the Speaker of the House of Representatives and the Vice-President of the United States.

BILL RE-REFERRED

Mr. WOODSIDE returned from the Select Committee on Public Assistance with the recommendation that it be re-referred to the Committee on Appropriations, House Bill No. 6, entitled:

An Act to amend Act No. 47-A, approved the fifth day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (1937 Appropriation Acts, Page thirty-nine), entitled "An act making an appropriation to the Water and Power Resources Board, for payment into the Flood Control Fund for flood control purposes," by reducing the appropriation made by that act.

The SPEAKER. The bill is now re-referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

COMMITTEE MEETING

There will be a meeting of the Committee on Federal Relations, immediately after this session, in Room 324.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER

The SPEAKER. The Chair desires to advise the members of the House that the bills making appropriations for relief which were passed in the House are in the Senate awaiting final passage. It is important that these bills be passed now. The Senate went into session at one o'clock, the Chair is advised that there is a caucus in the Senate, and therefore, if there be no objection, much as the Chair regrets to do so, the Chair will declare a recess until four o'clock.

RECESS

The SPEAKER. If there are no objections the Chair is about to declare a recess until 4:00 p. m. Are there objections? The Chair hears none and declares a recess until 4:00 p. m.

AFTER RECESS

The House reconvened at 4:00 p. m.

The SPEAKER (Ellwood J. Turner) in the Chair.

RESOLUTIONS

SYMPATHY EXTENDED

Messrs. WEBSTER and HINDMAN offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was twice read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, January 31, 1939.

The Honorable Charles J. Stott, a Member of this House from the County of Chester, during the Sessions of 1931, 1933 and 1935, died at his home in Coatesville on the 18th day of December, 1938.

Born in the city from which he came to this House, he acquired his education in the public schools of Chester County, and afterwards engaged in the wire and steel business.

He was a director of the Coatesville Trust Company and the Coatesville Building and Loan Association, and President of the City Board of Health. His popularity and the respect in which he was held by his fellow townsmen resulted in his election to this House, and here his cordiality, and his genuine worth soon won the respect and friendship of those with whom he came in contact; therefore be it

Resolved, That this House of Representatives is deeply regretful of his death and that it extends to his widow and the three children that survive him, its sincere sympathy; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of this House shall transmit to the family of the deceased, a copy of this resolution.

SYMPATHY EXTENDED

Mr. SWEENEY offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was twice read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, January 31, 1939.

Judge William M. Lewis, for more than sixteen years a member of the Municipal Court of Philadelphia, and one of that city's most active leaders in the Zionist movement, died early yesterday at his home in Philadelphia, following a brief illness.

Very few men more merited the title, "self-made," than the man who came to this country from his native Lithuania as a boy of twelve, unable to speak a word of English.

He learned English so rapidly that he organized classes in English, to teach other immigrants, and after graduating from grammar school entered Central High School.

While attending the University of Pennsylvania he sold insurance and tutored in order to support himself. He was admitted to the bar one year after his graduation from the law school in 1905.

In 1922, he was appointed to the Municipal Court by Governor William Sproul, and the following year was elected for a term of ten years. He was re-elected to a full ten year term in 1933.

Judge Lewis is survived by his widow, Mrs. Marie Rosenthal Lewis; a daughter, Mrs. Mildred Freeman, and two brothers, Joseph and Hyman; therefore be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives, that in the death of Judge Lewis, the Municipal Court of Philadelphia has been deprived of the services and labor of an outstanding jurist, and the City of Philadelphia has lost a citizen with a record of loyal public service, whose work was but begun; and be it further

Resolved, That this House extends its most sincere sympathy to the widow, daughter and brothers who so deeply mourn his loss, and that a copy of this resolution be transmitted to them by the Chief Clerk of this House.

SYMPATHY EXTENDED

Mr. MUIR offered a resolution which was twice read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, January 31, 1939.

Having lived more than her allotted span of three score years and ten, during which she so loyally assisted her husband in his business interests, raised a family of two sons and three daughters, and took a leading part in the affairs of her home town, Mrs. Elisha Kane, the mother of Honorable E. Kent Kane, a Member of this House, early in the beginning of this new year "wrapped the drapery of her couch about her and lay down to pleasant dreams."

Mrs. Kane spent the early days of her life in Du Bois where she attended school and where an accident to her father caused her to combine teaching and studying in order to support herself.

She taught school for four years and then obtained employment as a bookkeeper for a firm in which her future husband was a partner.

After her marriage she continued her work with the firm, and at times directed its business affairs.

That same undaunted courage which caused her to triumph over adversities in early life, strengthened her in her dual capacity of business woman and mother.

Although her time was concerned first with her family and the business of her husband, she found opportunity to play an important part in the growth of the Prohibition Party in Pennsylvania, and for a number of years was President of the Women's Christian Temperance Union of McKean County.

She has left to her sons and daughters a splendid heritage, the memory of her splendid devotion to husband and family, and her unflinching loyalty to a cause in which she believed; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania hereby extends its sincere sympathy to our fellow Member, the Honorable E. Kent Kane, and to the brother and sisters who, with him, survive her; and be it further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted by the Chief Clerk of this House to the said Honorable E. Kent Kane, and to his brother and sisters.

SYMPATHY EXTENDED

Mr. ELY offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was twice read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, January 31, 1939.

Dr. Albert F. Merrill, a Member of this House for three regular sessions of the General Assembly, died at his home in Hallstead, Susquehanna County, on the 2nd day of December last.

A full half century of his life was spent in ministering to the physical ailments of the people of Hallstead, to which community he moved after his graduation from Hahnemann Medical College in 1888.

He was not only physician to his townspeople, but their counsellor and friend, and so won their love and respect that they elected him to represent them in the legislative body; therefore be it

Resolved, That this House extends its deepest sympathy to the widow and children of Dr. Merrill in this their hour of sadness and sorrow; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of this House shall transmit a copy of this Resolution to the widow of the deceased.

RESOLUTION

Mr. TRONZO offered a resolution and asked unanimous consent that it be read for the information of the House.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent? Is there objection?

Mr. McKINNEY. Mr. Speaker, I object.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objection and consent is not granted.

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of the resolution.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent? Is there objection?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I object.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objection and consent is not granted.

MOTION TO SUSPEND RULE

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker, I move that Rule 84 be suspended for the specific purpose of reading and immediate consideration of the resolution.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Tronzo, Mr. Edwin F. Thompson and Mr. Skale and were as follows:

YEAS—45

SUPPLEMENTAL REPORT FROM SLATE COMMITTEE

Mr. WINNER offered a resolution which was twice read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, January 31, 1939.

Resolved That the following be appointed to the personnel of the House of Representatives:

Millard Tawney, Harrisburg, Penna., Custodian, House of Representatives.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. THISTLE, from the Committee on Federal Relations, reported as committed, House Resolution No. 11.

SENATE MESSAGE

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, January 30, 1939.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur) That when the Senate adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday evening, February 6, 1939 at nine o'clock; and when the House of Representatives adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday evening, February 6, 1939, at eight o'clock.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

It was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. CLARK. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Monday, February 6, 1939, at 8:00 p. m.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 4.46 p. m.) the House adjourned until Monday, February 6, 1939, at 8:00 p. m.

SENATE

MONDAY, February 6, 1939.

The Senate met at 9:00 o'clock, p. m.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Samuel S. Lewis) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. BURLEIGH A. PETERS, offered the following prayer:

Our dear Heavenly Father, by the sustenance of Thy providential care we have reconvened this evening.

So often the seemingly smaller blessings of our lives—health, strength, right use of our faculties and the like—received regularly each day are simply taken for granted that we grow negligent in our thanksgiving to Thee. Too often we are so engrossed in the affairs of this material world that we forget the beautiful things of the spiritual.

May we be primarily concerned with the chief reason for living, not the making of a living but the making of a life, for it is written in Thy Holy Word, "Men shall not live by bread alone, but by every word which proceedeth out of the mouth of God."

Give thy people the inclination to lay hold more firmly upon Thy promises that everyone who "hungers and thirsts after righteousness shall be filled." Thus no subversive activity nor pagan philosophy inimical to the well-being, either of our nation or Commonwealth may long endure, and the only "ism" which can and ought to continue is Americanism.

Strengthen the bulwarks of our moral and spiritual defenses through a definite obedience to Thy holy will on the part of all our people.

We pray in the name of Thy Christ. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. HEYBURN, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Mr. CAVALCANTE asked and obtained leave of absence for the Senator from York, Mr. LANIUS, because of the death of the latter's wife.

REQUEST FOR LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I ask for a leave of absence for my colleague, the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Henney.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I move the request be laid on the table.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I object. In this same order I call from the table at this time the request for a leave of absence for my colleague, Senator Henney, that was laid on the table, as shown by the Journal of this Senate of January 23, 1939.

The PRESIDENT. Do you want a roll call?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I do not want a roll call. I have the rules of parliamentary law to show that when a matter is laid on the table it may be called up from the table for action, and I am calling it up for action.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I move that the request of the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, be laid upon the same table.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, will state his point of order.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, the motion is out of order because the rules of this Senate and the parliamentary law applicable to this problem say that when a matter is laid on the table it may be called up at any time for action, and it can not be laid on the table again. This motion would lay the matter on the table again. It is already laid on the table, and I am calling it up for action; and I cite the Chair Senate Rule No. 34, that says in cases not covered by the rules Jefferson's Manual shall prevail. Then I call the Chair's attention to Section 445 of Jefferson's Manual, which covers the point.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I suggest that the point of order is not well taken. The Senate, as a body, can refuse to act on any request at any time, and the fact is that it has been laid on the table and called up—it is true it can be called up but the Senate by a motion, and can again lay it on the table. That is in the control of this body and I therefore suggest the point of order is not well taken.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I think my point of order is well taken. The President must first call it up for action.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, called it up and the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, moved that it be laid on the table, which motion was seconded by the Senator from Susquehanna, Mr. Gelder.

So now the motion before the Senate is to lay the request on the table.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. SHAPIRO and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—28

Bartlett,	Farrell,	James,	Snowden,
Chapman,	Gelder,	Letzler,	Stevenson,
Crowe,	Geltz,	Mallery,	Tallman,
Dando,	Haluska,	Miller,	Thomas,

Which was committed to the Committee on Highways.

DISCUSSION OF PROPOSED LEGISLATION

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I ask leave to make a few remarks.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Westmoreland may proceed.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, back in 1935 I introduced legislation over in the House reducing the number of licensees in the liquor business. I was very pleased to note in the newspapers recently Governor James also believes in that policy. Therefore, I am introducing a piece of legislation to allow Governor James to have a vehicle with which to reduce the number of liquor licenses in Pennsylvania.

Then I have another bill in line with Governor James policies on economy. I believe all positions in the state that are not needed should be abolished. From the records of the Superior Court, of which Judge James, before his election to the Governorship was a member, I find that he has not served for the past ten or eleven months. If that is true evidently we can get along without another Superior Court Judge, which would mean a saving of about thirty thousand dollars a year, which may mean relief for thirty or so families in the State of Pennsylvania, and I know the Governor will be pleased to sign this bill reducing the Superior Court Judges by one.

The other bills are incidental bills—appropriations and so forth.

BILLS INTRODUCED

Mr. DENT read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 65, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Westmoreland Hospital Association, Greensburg, Pennsylvania.

Which was committed to the Committee on Appropriations.

He also read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 66, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act, approved the first day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 1216), entitled "An act to define real estate brokers and real estate salesmen; and providing for the licensing, regulation, and supervision of resident and non-resident real estate brokers and real estate salesmen and their business," by requiring real estate brokers to file a surety bond.

Which was committed to the Committee on State Government.

He also read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 67, entitled:

An Act reducing the number of judges on the Superior Court.

Which was committed to the Committee on Judiciary General.

He also read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 68, entitled:

An Act to amend article four of the act approved the twenty-ninth day of November one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (P. L. 15—1933-34), entitled "as amended" "An act to regulate and restrain the sale, manufacture, possession, transportation, importation, traffic in, and use of alcohol, and alcoholic and malt or brewed beverages; conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board and its agents, the Department of Public Instruction, other officers of the State government, courts, and district attorneys; authorizing the establishment and operation of State stores for the sale of such beverages not for consumption on the premises, and the granting of licenses, subject to local option, to sell such beverages for consumption on and off the premises; forbidding importation or bringing of such beverages into the State except as herein provided; prohibiting certain sales or practices in connection with, and transactions in such beverages by licensees and others; providing for the forfeiture of certain property; making disposition of the receipts from State stores and of fees; and imposing penalties," as reenacted and amended, by limiting the number of restaurant licenses; increasing the license fee to all licensees; limiting the transfer of licenses and permitting a limited sale of liquor for consumption off the premises.

Which was committed to the Committee on Law and Order.

RECESS

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess for twenty minutes.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed the Senate will be in order.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I am directed by the Committee on Executive Nominations to report with favorable recommendation the following nomination by His Excellency the Governor of the Commonwealth:

SECRETARY OF REVENUE

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, January 17, 1939.

William J. Hamilton, Jr., Philadelphia, Philadelphia County, for appointment as Secretary of Revenue, to serve until the third Tuesday of January, 1943, and until his successor shall have been appointed and qualified, vice J. Griffith Boardman.

ARTHUR H. JAMES.

EXECUTIVE SESSION

By unanimous consent,

A motion was made by Mr. OWLETT and Mr. WOLFENDEN

That Rule 38 which requires nomination made by the Governor, when reported from Committee lie, on the table one day, be dispensed with, and the Senate do now resolve itself into Executive Session, for the purpose of acting on the foregoing nomination.

Which was agreed to.

Whereupon,

A motion was made by Mr. OWLETT and Mr. WOLFENDEN

That the Senate do advise and consent to said nominations.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, to me, the matter of confirmation is a very serious and important one. It certainly should not be considered or treated as a personal or partisan matter. I think I have convinced the Republican Senators in this body of my desire to be honest and sincere in questions concerning the eligibility of candidates or nominees submitted to this body for confirmation, irrespective of party affiliations and in this connection, may I recall to their minds the Session of 1937 when I refused to vote for a Democrat for the position of President Pro Tempore of this body, believing him to be unfit for office by reasons of his interests and later voted against a Democrat for a position on the Liquor Control Board.

I realize it is very easy to criticize and sometimes attack but nevertheless it is a very unpleasant duty to shortcomings and weaknesses. In this connection, may I judge fellowmen aware of the fact that we all have our I draw upon the ancient Greek classics for a quotation:

"In men whom men condemn as ill
I find so much of goodness still,
In men whom men pronounce divine
I find so much of sin and blot,
I do not dare to draw a line
Between the two, where God has not."

However, we as Senators, and if true to our oath, owe it to the public and to ourselves to serve honestly and conscientiously and above all express ourselves with the courage of our convictions.

I am not attempting to philosophize or idealize. I want to speak plain and to the purpose. I am not an idealist or an impractical dreamer. If anything, I am now painfully aware of the subtleties of playing the game of politics and I would be the last man in this Chamber to contend that this is a place where men would be angels and angels would be Gods. I realize fully that the purification of politics is an iridescent dream. But I say with that great national Senator of another generation, John C. Calhoun,

"That the very essence of a free government consists in considering the officers as public trusts bestowed for the good of the country, and not for the benefit of an individual or party."

Throughout the ages, it has been the noblest duty of a Senator to be the faithful watchdog of the State and to be alert to repel the intrusion of corruption across its threshold no matter how expedient that practice might appear to the party in power.

Can we so soon forget the example of that great Senator of Roman days, Cicero, who in charging Catiline with the conspiring against the safety and principles of the state, exclaimed:

"Shame on the age and its principles.
The senate is aware of these things."

Has there not in fact been entrusted to us by the Constitution of the State, the specific duty of "advising upon and consenting" to the appointment of certain high offices? We must not forget that this power to "advise and consent" has, through the deteriorating medium of political exigencies, been left to fall into neglect, until today this prerogative is but a mere shadow of what was once proud and majestic duty on the part of this body. Would we not be derelict in the conception of this, our historic duty, if we lightly acted in the interests of expedience and against the best interests of the State, unless there were some more compelling reason to relax our vigilance?

The nomination or candidacy of William Hamilton is before us for consideration. Personally, I have known him for a number of years. I have never had any occasion to question his personal honesty or his general qualifications to hold public office. As to his promotion in public life, I could not even truthfully say that the Republicans are losing a good captain and getting a bad general. However, upon learning of his acceptance and unwarranted retention of fees and costs received by him in his office as Sheriff of Philadelphia County and his questioning of the propriety of legislation passed by this body to terminate that evil, I could only come to the conclusion that he fails in vital respects to measure up to the high standards required of the man seeking to fill the position for which he was named.

In fact, the word "candidate" in the dictionary comes from the practice in ancient times of having those proposed for public office to wear white, the symbol of purity.

Sheriff Hamilton has protested his innocence but does not an innocent man act honestly and sincerely. Mr. Hamilton on the contrary upon appearing at the committee displayed an utter lack of candor and sincerity and above all refused to cooperate. He was very evasive and parried questions put to him as to the illegal retention of funds. He acted very much like a defendant in a criminal case who when faced with facts concerning his guilt twists and turns and fails to answer pointed questions, trusting to luck that the jury will acquit him. We who are lawyers can better appreciate it and there are many lawyers in this body. He cannot deny that he has converted moneys of others to his own use. That, in itself, without going further, should convince us that he is not fit for the office. There are other things, there are other instances, too numerous to mention, which should disqualify him; but these matters were gone into very thoroughly and ably by both Senators Sipe and Cavalcante one week ago.

I must say of him as Charles Lamb said of an opponent in a card game whose hands were dirty:

"If dirt were trumps, what a hand you would have."

However, it has been forcibly brought to my attention by the press and pressure of other sources, which I need not name, that it should be the inherent prerogative of an incoming Governor to choose as his aides, men in whom he has full confidence. I will not quarrel with the view because I realize that in so doing I would be assuming the grave responsibility of challenging the Governor's judgment in selecting the fitness of the men to sit in his Cabinet if not in fact thwarting the public will, which selected him to head the destinies of the State for the next four years.

Personally, I feel that this matter has come to the attention of the Governor during the past two weeks and notwithstanding he is persisting in the confirmation of William Hamilton and I, therefore, say, it is now his responsibility.

Let it not be later said that we did not warn him of the reasons which would tend to disqualify this man from the particular office. However, I am bowing to that compelling reason that it is the Governor's inherent prerogative to choose his aides and agree to Mr. Hamilton's nomination. Let him take his new post with our blessing and good wishes, but let him not forget the immortal words of Shakespeare as he assumes his new duties.

"Love thyself last: cherish those hearts that hate thee;

Corruption wins not more than honesty,
Still in thy right hand carry gentle peace,
To silence envious tongues. Be just, and fear not;

Let all the ends thou aim'st at be thy country's,

Thy God's and truth's; then if thou fall'st,
O, Cromwell, thou fallest a blessed martyr!"

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, some men find it easy, still other men find it hard, to pursue the path of rectitude. Some men, though the spirit is willing, yet selfish influences divert him from that path of rectitude.

I have already spoken on the floor of this Senate concerning the man whose confirmation is now before us. It is either fortunate or unfortunate that men do not see out of the same eyes; nevertheless, I do rejoice very greatly in those words of Shakespeare in which he said "Tis with our judgments as our watches, none go just alike yet each believes his own".

I appreciate that there can be an honest and conscientious difference of opinion. The history of mankind has shown that at a particular time, on the same question, there may be two divergent views and both views emanate from honest and conscientious minds. There are principles, however, upon which there can be no doubt. I feel not guilty of anything, but I do feel that when the confirmation of Mr. Hamilton was first sent to this Senate I was one of the very first who voiced opposition—opposition that I did not conjure up in my mind, for I did not know the man, I had never met the man, his name was for the first time brought to my attention when it was sent to this Senate for confirmation.

Upon inquiry I did find that Mr. Hamilton was the man who, on January the third of this year, when this Senate met in Session, invaded the sanctity of this Senate by attempting to serve judicial papers upon the president of this body while the president was on the rostrum with the gavel in his hand, and had called this Senate to order. I regarded it then a high breach of constitutional government on the part of Mr. Hamilton, who, later, I found out to be the Sheriff of Fayette County—you can strike that from the record, because I believe we have better sheriffs in Fayette County than this, and subsequent investigation has proven it to me; and at that investigation testimony was given by Mr. Hamilton himself before the Committee on Executive Nominations.

That testimony, from his own tongue, satisfied me conclusively that he was part of that conspiracy which started in the Supreme Court of this Commonwealth, in Philadelphia to deprive a lawful member of this Senate of his seat and his vote. I refer to the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Henney, for whom I have repeatedly sought to obtain leave of absence, which was refused by the Senator from Tioga.

I have high regard for the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, but I can judge men only by their actions, and by his actions he does lead me to believe that he, too, may be part of that conspiracy. But I am certain that Mr. Hamilton was a part of that conspiracy, and sought to carry out the object of that conspiracy by invading the sanctity of this Senate.

I am also appreciative of this tradition that a Governor, in years past, had claimed the right to have his cabinet members confirmed by the Senate; but I have not yet arrived at a position where I think that prerogative is absolute, for if the people intended the Governor to have a cabinet of his choice, absolute, they would never have put the check in the Constitution which says that those appointments must be confirmed, or must be with the advice and consent of two-thirds of the Senate. Surely there is some purpose for that provision in the Constitution, and in my humble judgment that check was put in the Constitution in order to stay the confirmation of a man like Mr. Hamilton.

I cannot see eye to eye with my colleague the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Jaspan, who with one breath stigmatizes Mr. Hamilton as a thief, stigmatizes him as having been guilty of improper conduct in the handling of money, and then with another breath says he is ready to condone that by his vote—and then seeks to excuse it under a pretended tradition that the Governor has the right to have those whom he selects for his cabinet to be confirmed.

I have sought to be guided, on the floor of this Senate, in my duties as a State Senator, to a great extent by my conscience in these matters, although I have had hurled at me in the Hall of this Senate, and in other places in this Commonwealth, that a politician does not have a conscience and should not have a conscience. Probably that may differentiate the politician from some of my colleagues here in the Senate.

I am not ready to sacrifice the purposes for which the provision of the Constitution gives the Senate the right to advise and consent to the nominations of the Governor. I am not ready to stultify myself or my conscience by saying that I know this man has improperly handled funds that did not belong to him—say that he is stigmatized thus, and then say, "I can wash my hands and clear my conscience of all this because the Governor wants him."

Well, I, too, was elected by the people of this Commonwealth in the Thirty-second Senatorial District, and I owe those people a duty, and I intend to pursue the course that my conscience dictates to be just and honorable.

I cannot see my way, as the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Jaspan, sees his way, to set aside these things and cast my vote for Mr. Hamilton. I cannot condone his invasion of this Senate, nor his participation in the conspiracy to unlawfully take away from the Forty-fifth Senatorial District of this Commonwealth its duly chosen Senator—representative in this body; and it is because of these things that I intend to cast my vote consistently with what I think is honorable and just, and vote "No" on this confirmation.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, like the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, I, too, did not know Mr. Hamilton, and I did not form my opinion of Mr. Hamilton upon any observation that I have made here upon any actions that he might have performed—I knew I could not dig in deep enough; but I did take the trouble to ask a gentleman in our community, who had lived in the city of Philadelphia for a number of years, a gentleman who lived for a number of years in the City of Erie, and whom I know that the Senator from Erie County, Mr. Gilson, knows very well—not just an ordinary gentleman, but a gentleman of outstanding ability, a gentleman who is written up in "Who's Who," a gentleman who in the World War gave his services to our country, a man who was the Senior Chaplain of the A.E.F.—and I said to this gentleman, "Do you know William Hamilton?" and he said, "I do, and I think he is an honorable gentleman. I am glad the Senate of Pennsylvania has the privilege of confirming a man of that type."

But that was not enough; he wrote me a letter about it; and I ask, Mr. President, that that letter be read by the clerk and made a part of the official record before we vote upon William Hamilton for Secretary of Revenue.

The PRESIDENT. The clerk will read the letter.

The letter was read as follows:

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Indiana, Pennsylvania

Harry Burton Boyd, D.D., LL.D., Pastor

January 28, 1939

Hon. C. Gilbert Wolfenden,
Indiana, Pa.

Dear Mr. Wolfenden:

I was very happy to see in the Press that Governor James had appointed Mr. William Hamilton, Sheriff of Philadelphia County, as Secretary of Revenue.

From 1928 to 1937 I was Pastor of the Arch Street Church in Philadelphia. A portion of that time Mr. Hamilton was an official in the Land Title and Trust Company where I did my banking. As Secretary of the Presbyterian Social Union he ranked as one of the outstanding Presbyterian laymen in the Philadelphia area.

Pennsylvania needs men with the business ability and the personal integrity of Mr. Hamilton in the key positions of the Governor's cabinet. I sincerely hope that patriotism will triumph over partisan prejudice when the Senate votes on his nomination.

With every good wish, I am

Sincerely yours,

HBB:h

HARRY BURTON BOYD

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Indiana, Mr. Wolfenden.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Indiana, Mr. Wolfenden, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I would like the Senator from Indiana to inform this Senate whether the practice that has been in vogue in the office of Sheriff of Philadelphia County, wherein the retiring sheriff takes the money in the Attorneys' Fund into his own personal account when his term of office expires.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, may I ask the Senator from Washington, Mr. Reed, to repeat his question? I did not quite understand him.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, is it a practice, or has it ever been a practice, in the Sheriff's office of Indiana County to follow the actions of the Sheriffs of Philadelphia County.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. No, Mr. President, but it has been the practice of Philadelphia County, according to testimony our Committee received.

Furthermore, the testimony shows that William Hamilton has bent over backward in trying honestly to administer that fund.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, the Senator from Indiana, Mr. Wolfenden, heard the testimony?

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, that is correct.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, how long did Mr. Hamilton have that fund?

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Well now, Mr. President, this is a guess: I would say he has had it about two or three years. But it showed in the testimony that that fund is a diminishing fund; that he has written, I believe, three letters trying to get the owners of the fund to call for it. There is no other sheriff, prior to him, that made any such effort.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, the sheriffs prior to him kept considerably more money; is that true?

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, that is what the testimony shows.

Mr. REED. And, Mr. President, is it not the practice in Indiana County, and in all rural counties, that when any public official has any considerable sum of money that money is immediately paid into court and gotten out of his hands?

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, we do not have that practice in our county, but it was shown in the hearing that we held downstairs in the Caucus Room that it was a practical impossibility to pay in a fund of that size to the court; it would have to be put out in two and three and five dollar balances.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I do not believe that was the testimony. Is it not possible to pay any sum of money into court?

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Well, Mr. President, balances of approximately—what was it? $150,000 or $250,000 to be paid out in two and three dollar amounts would certainly be impracticable.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, does the Senator from Indiana, Mr. Wolfenden, understand that in order to pay the fund into court it would be necessary to pay in two and three dollar amounts?

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, the sheriff would have to pay the whole claim in each instance, no matter how small.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, could he not pay whole fund into court, and let the court pay the claimants? Would that not be the honest way to do it?

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, that would be an impractical way to do it.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, it is not so much a question of practicality but of honesty.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, I do not think it has anything to do with honesty.

Mr. SIPE. Mr. President, my colleague, the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, said something about the conscience or lack of conscience of politicians. I cannot give much light on the subject, because I do not know whether a politician has any conscience or not. I, for my part, am not a politician; I would hate to be called a politician. So that, when I made my remarks on the floor of this Chamber about a week ago, giving my ideas on the question of whether or not William Hamilton should be confirmed, I was not speaking as a politician, I was speaking simply as an ordinary, fairly intelligent, honest country Senator.

I did not like the attitude of Mr. Hamilton on the stand—or more accurately speaking, before the Senate Committee on Executive Nominations. My colleague, the Senator from Washington, Mr. Reed, asked him the pointed question—five different times—“If this law, the Act of 1937 requiring that you pay over this balance to the County Treasurer, is declared unconstitutional by the Supreme Court, as you want it to be, will you nevertheless turn the money over after the bond has expired and the statute of limitations has expired?”

And five times he gave a hedging and evasive answer.

That attitude did not impress me, as a lawyer. Whenever I have a witness on the stand who acts in that manner I like to see the reaction on the faces of the jury, because it is in my favor.

I expressed my opinions, as I said a week ago, and, in addition—in addition I want to reiterate that I feel that if I would vote for the confirmation of Mr. Hamilton I would be putting the seal of my approval on a practice in the sheriff's office of Philadelphia County, which my intelligence and my conscience tell me is improper and unethical, and I feel that if I put my seal of approval on it I would not be in very good position back home in my country counties to repel the invasion of Philadelphia if such a practice would be endeavored to be instituted in my counties.

This unethical practice, as far as I can learn, in sheriffs' offices, seems to be confined to the county of Philadelphia. It is a Philadelphia County contagion, and I want to quarantine it there, to Philadelphia County, I do not want the contagion to spread to my county; and I do not want it to spread to Senator Wolfenden's county nor to my friend, Senator Ealy's County of Somerset.

So, in addition to the other reasons I have expressed, let me add this one: that I am voting against Mr. Hamilton to rebuke that unethical practice. My conscience tells me that is what I should do, and I am not very much impressed by the argument of my friends from Philadelphia, that the Governor has a prerogative, a time-honored prerogative to have his cabinet officers confirmed. The Constitution and law of Pennsylvania do not say that; they say that these cabinet appointments are to be made with the advice and consent of the Senate; so I am going to give Governor James my advice that Mr. Hamilton should not be confirmed, and I intend to practice what I preach by voting against him.

Mr. GILSON. Mr. President and my colleagues in the Senate, it seems to me we have generated an awful lot of the heat on this matter of confirmation, and, I think, with some reason and justification. I like to lay the cards on the table face up, and be sort of man to man about this situation. I will say at the beginning that I am going to vote for Mr. Hamilton. I am going to vote for him because I think that while he has sinned, he has also been sinned against, and I am looking over here at the illustrious twenty-five and a half Republican Senators, and I say that I agree that if I were on the other side—sitting over where they are—I certainly would not throw the first stone at Mr. Hamilton, because I believe that they, too, are contaminated—not to the extent of perhaps moral turpitude; but I will say to them, “Gentlemen, you are all in part way, and I want to tell you why.”

Mr. Hamilton made out a pretty poor case for his own confirmation, and so he got his attorney to come before the Committee on Executive Nominations and his attorney made out a worse one—and always with the approval and acclaim of the gentlemen on the other side of the house.

Now, I do not think—I know Walter Burton Boyd, knew him well, he is a fine man, and I think his endorsement of Sheriff Hamilton for the office of Secretary of Revenue was perfectly sincere; but I do not think he saw the record, I do not think he was much concerned with it, or would be, perhaps, any more concerned than I am; but, gentlemen, do you not think when you come in here and say our good Governor, in the process of a time-honored institution of asking for the confirmation of his cabinet, with which we ask you to go along—do you not think it would be a lot more manly and on the up and up if this issue would have been made without any subterfuge?

Now, you men recall the strained argument that his attorney made here. He said, “Gentlemen, just think of it! If you pay this money into court, what every one of these men will have to do will be to hire a Philadelphia lawyer to go into court and get it.”

And I asked of him: “Who are these men that it is due to?”

He said, “Why, it is due to Philadelphia lawyers, ninety-eight per cent. of it.”

Now, can you imagine a Philadelphia lawyer getting another Philadelphia lawyer to go into Court to get money which belonged to the first Philadelphia lawyer?

Then I asked him also, as I recall, where this money came from and he finally gets it around that what it actually is is the difference in estimate and actual advertising costs, and what this fund is is an accumulation of money—the difference between what Sheriff Hamilton estimated would be coming to a lawyer and what he actually paid to the lawyer; and all the notices from here to Kingdom Come would not get anybody to come in and get what he was owed or settle up and sign for it on the dotted line.

Now, that is why I say to my friends on the other side, "I really believe that Sheriff Hamilton has been largely sinned against by you gentlemen who have upheld him in a more or less devious circuitous route to this high position."

Now, I would rather take it on this basis: I do not think he had any dishonest intention, I think the man will probably get amount back where it belongs or will get it in court, but what I want to say to you is this: That the Governor has made this decision, he has underwritten this man, and I think he has signed a moral oath that Sheriff Hamilton, as Secretary of Revenue, will do what his attorney said he would do, man to man, when I put the proposition to him—that he would investigate thoroughly and find out if this fund was not just what it appeared to be, and then would see that it was put either into the County Treasury or City Treasury of Philadelphia or into court. And I think that this is more or less of a continuing process, and if His Excellency the Governor does not see to it that his cabinet member, Sheriff Hamilton, as Secretary of Revenue, makes good on the promise of his attorney, then he puts not only us on the Democratic side who have gone along with him but he is putting also you gentlemen on this side who have been so urgent in trying to secure this confirmation.

Now, I think all this might very easily have been avoided. We need not have had all this fuss if only Mr. Hamilton and his counsel had been perfectly frank. It bothers me, it irritates me, but I think there is something more than my irritation at stake. I think that we have already been down here waiting six weeks or better for an Administration program, and we have not had it—on the pretext that the Sheriff of Philadelphia County has been too much involved in trying to get himself confirmed to devote any time or attention to the actual situation of the finances of the Commonwealth.

Now, let us get that out of our system, and let us give the Sheriff a chance to see what he can do as Secretary of Revenue. Let us get this thing away and done with, see if we can have some kind of a fiscal policy so you gentlemen on the other side can give us something serious to object to; because I anticipate that this session is going to last quite a while unless you get started pretty soon on some of these bills that the majority of the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania have every right to believe you should be started on, and should have been started on many weeks ago.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

Two-thirds of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Governor be informed accordingly.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I move that the Executive session do now rise.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now resume the consideration of Senate Bill No. 6, (House Bill No. 3), on final passage postponed.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I second the motion. The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 6, (House Bill No. 3), entitled:

An Act transferring money from the Liquid Fuels Tax Fund to the General Fund and providing for the subsequent return from the General Fund of the transferred money.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, this is a bill which transfers from the liquid fuel tax fund to the general fund the sum of three million dollars, is that correct?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, that is correct.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President will the Senator from Tioga state what is the purpose of making this transfer?

Mr. OWLETT. The purpose, Mr. President, of making this transfer is to provide funds for relief, until the end of the present biennium.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, will the Senator from Tioga state whether the transfer of the fund itself will provide this money for relief?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, it will provide part of it.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, will the Senator from Tioga state whether or not it is not a fact the only appropriation for relief so far is twelve millions of dollars?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, that is correct but a bill has been introduced in the House tonight, a bill appropriating twenty-two millions of dollars for relief, which bill, together with the bill appropriating twelve millions of dollars which has already passed, were appropriated for relief to transfer funds provided by these two bills and the bills already passed by this Senate.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, then I understand the gentleman to state that a plan has been conceived and worked out to transfer at one time twenty-two millions of dollars—to appropriate an additional twenty-two millions of dollars for relief.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, that is correct.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, will the Senator from Tioga state when that plan was made and completed?

Mr. OWLETT. From the beginning of the Session, Mr. President, it has been the plan of this Senate, as I understand it, to provide adequate and necessary relief for the unemployed of Pennsylvania. I repeat again it was found when this administration went into office there was some forty millions of dollars short in the funds needed to provide relief by the end of the biennium. As a consequence, it was found necessary to transfer these funds to the general fund and appropriate it for relief in order to provide for the unemployed until the end of this biennium. This is part of that program and the twenty-two million dollar appropriation bill is part of that program.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, when these bills first appeared on the calendar, they were a group of bills which in effect provided for the transfer of thirty-four millions of dollars and for the appropriation of but twelve millions of dollars. At that time we called attention of the gentlemen on the other side that it would be better if they gave us their plan and their program, what they intended to do with the money, what the money was intended to be used for, and why they stated that they would require—or rather, why they transferred thirty-four millions of dollars without giving us a plan or some figures to ascertain just how much money was needed.

We were then told that the only purpose of the transfer bill was to tie up the funds and that in the meantime, since they knew that about nine million dollars would be required for the ensuing month they appropriated twelve million dollars, some of which was to be used for other than relief, a portion of it to be used to carry on for the rest of this biennium, an institution now known as the Philadelphia State Hospital, but formerly known as Byberry, and that there were other pending deficiencies which would be met, so that it was necessary to provide nine million dollars for relief and the balance for those deficiencies.

Subsequently, last week, four million dollars of funds were taken away from the counties, the very day on which they were to be distributed in the counties—the respective portion of the liquor license tax—and now without any previous notice and without any plan, we are asked to vote for the further transfer of three millions of dollars from the liquid fuel tax, all of which belongs to the counties.

Now, it seems to me that there are only one or two conclusions that can be drawn from that procedure.

The first is that these gentlemen know how much they need, what they need the money for, and when they need it, and they propose to carry that on, or, they do not know what the money is needed for, how much will be needed, and when it will be needed, and they propose to carry that on also. It is clearly obvious that in either event they have apparently made up their minds to carry this plan through without consultation with the minority members of this Senate, and if that is the attitude I think it should be publicly stated, and if it is not stated I feel that the public should be made aware of the procedure.

I have heard rumors of other plans which they will necessarily follow, a procedure to acquire twenty-two millions of dollars transfer and appropriation, and it would seem to me that in the face of the statement of the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that he will require more time to present his program to the members of the Senate, that the taking of this money blindly by any program or any plan is certainly not good business, and proves further not only is the administration unaware of what the necessities of the Commonwealth are and how they can be met, but that they are equally unaware or unwilling to ascertain what the emergency necessities are, so that proper emergency plans can be considered.

If the attitude of the gentlemen on the other side is as is apparent, and that is, that they have 26 votes irrespective of how they acquired them, and they are going to use those 26 votes to accomplish that on which they have made up their own minds, in Caucus or in secret conclaves, as to what they are going to do, then it is time they frankly tell us about it too. It is most unfortunate, and it certainly does not help towards cooperation, if, when one discussion is finished, then the leader of the majority stands up and moves to carry out plans which only they themselves know, and maybe not all of them know. It was not very long ago that we listened to tirades from the very man who made these motions and others on the other side, complaining that we were transferring funds, sacred funds, special funds belonging to others, which we had no right to take, and therefore we should not appropriate them, and many gentlemen on the other side voted against the transfer of those funds.

In fact, they told us we were violating the trust which these funds impressed. I want to protest against that method of procedure. I want to say that while I am a member of the minority here, I am a representative of the whole state of Pennsylvania and I represent particularly a large group of people, and I am entitled to the courtesy of being able to exercise my judgment in a proper way, and I do not think it is fair to put the rest of the members of the Senate in a position where they do not know whether their vote yes or no is the proper vote.

I know that the Senator from Tioga has explained, first, "we want to tie up these funds; we do not know how much we really need, but we expect to know shortly how much we will need for the rest of the biennium."

Now, if we are going to play politics with that program and try to keep from the people facts and merely provide funds or appropriate from other sources, we are not going to get anywhere. None of us are going to be able to vote intelligently on this. Those of us who vote against this bill will do it, if they feel like I do, as a protest vote, because by this transfer of funds, we are crippling counties which are very much in need of this money.

In Philadelphia, I imagine, the same ratio prevails on these funds as it does in all funds contributed throughout the state, and Philadelphia's portion of this seven million dollars is more than eight hundred thousand dollars. Those of you who live in Philadelphia, my colleagues even on the other side who come from Philadelphia, must know the situation there. They must know that people have been paid only by the grace of the Supreme Court taking upon itself legislative functions. They must know the cash position of Philadelphia is very bad. They must know there is not enough money even if the court granted a further permission for the extension of time for making the budget. There is not enough cash money to keep the hospitals going, to pay the carrying charges on the bonded debt, and yet last week we took away from Philadelphia four hundred thousand dollars, and this week we are going to take away from Philadelphia another three hundred and fifty or four hundred thousand dollars without a word of explanation, without a word telling them what your propose to do, and how you propose to replace those funds. Surely, two weeks time, three weeks time, since the Inauguration—and two or three weeks time before that when the Governor had the gentlemen going over the financial figures—surely that is sufficient to enable them to know how much money will be needed, within a million or two millions of dollars, for the next four or five months. Surely sufficient time has elapsed to let us know where this money is coming from for replacement purposes.

The Governor of Pennsylvania says he does not propose to put any more taxes on the people. Well, we raised emergency taxes for one hundred and thirty-nine millions of dollars last year. We did not raise any emergency taxes for the money that is necessary to carry on relief for the rest of the biennium, because we did not know until the end of the Session how much money would be needed, whether WPA rolls would be decreased, whether industry would take up some of the slack or not. Now, we do know that for every dollar that is spent for relief from now until the 31st of May taxes must be imposed, because they will require revenue in addition to the one hundred and thirty-nine millions of dollars that was levied in the last biennium.

In other words, all of the taxes levied in the last biennium were sufficient to enable us to pay for all of the bills up until the present time as to relief and up until May 31, as to other functions of the Government, but one hundred and thirty-nine million dollars plus twenty-five million dollars, which was an additional amount received over the estimate by the Revenue Department, have already been spent. Therefore, if you are going to raise enough money to pay only for what we have already spent in these two years on relief you must increase taxes. If the Governor says he is not going to increase taxes, it is obvious that this money is not going to be repaid, and if this money is not going to be repaid as and it must be unless you get it from taxes, then why are we asked to vote to take away from the counties money which rightfully belongs to them, without any assurance that they will get the money back?

If you consider that good judgment, then it is time the people know the facts, that that is your program and your definition of good government I do not understand. We have not been told and we can only guess by what we see in the papers, that the Governor says he is going to cut one hundred and eighteen millions of dollars in order to make expenses meet income. That can come, of course, only by cutting out relief, yet the Governor has said that he will not cut out relief, and if you do not cut out relief the only money that he can cut to save one hundred and eighteen millions of dollars is represented by the sixty-six million dollars that are given in special subsidies and the ninety-nine millions of dollars per biennium in the last budget for schools and hospitals and institutions.

Now, certainly, you are not going to put those institutions completely out of business. You can not get it from governmental functions, because that only costs thirty-six million dollars every two years. Now, where is this money coming from? It is time that somebody told the people who are being asked to vote on this legislation what program you have, what methods you propose for the purpose of repaying—or replacing, I should say—this money that you are taking from these special funds, and it is time that you recognize that you have a vote—not the right—but the vote to ignore the minority, and as soon as you convince us you feel that way about it, our work will become less burdensome. The time will come however, when you will find that a majority of twenty-six does not always exist.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, although the hour is very late I still have strength enough to stand up and claim to be more intelligent than my colleague from Philadelphia. There is nothing blind, as far as I am concerned, in my vote. The gentleman uses this argument on the fallacy that there should be no special funds of any kind, except a sinking fund—and our Lieutenant-Governor knows about that—liquid fuel tax, or game or fish or any other special fund. Some day we will outlive that, and our money will be in general funds, so I am delighted to vote for any bill transferring to the general fund, and, if I be blind, and see the light of day, I would like to see every cent going out of the special fund.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I need no conversion on the proposition advanced by my colleague from Philadelphia, whom I admit is more intelligent than I, and certainly he has better health. He has returned from a lovely vacation in the South. I know that the warm climate of the South has warmed his heart to the poor and unfortunate on the relief rolls, and it is not the terrible necessity of being involved in questions concerning these special funds, because really we are all worrying about those on relief.

I am opposed to special funds. In business it would not be tolerated, and it would be silly to ask the bookkeeper of the shipping department to ask the bookkeeper of the manufacturing department to ask for a loan of some fifty thousand dollars when it was in separate funds, but that is not what we are talking about, it is not like a special fund, it is not like the motor license fund, upon which no one has any particular claim, except those who use the highway, and then they have no real claim on it, they only have a right to enjoy it when they perform a special function. On the liquid fuel tax, and the liquor license tax or the insurance tax—at least on the liquid fuel tax and the liquor license tax, these are monies which belong to the communities—the State is merely a trustee—it is not a special fund in the same sense as the motor fund, and I am sure the intelligence, the superior intelligence of the Senator from Philadelphia will make him readily admit that there is a distinct difference between motor license fund and the two funds which we are now concerned. They are funds which belong to the counties, which belong to them by virtue of having them returned; every dollar collected in Philadelphia from the Liquid Fuel Tax should be payable—ought to be paid in Philadelphia and a certain proportion will be collected for and belongs to the citizens of Philadelphia. We have not consulted the citizens of Philadelphia as to whether or not they are satisfied with this arrangement. You have no right to take those funds. This is not a fish fund, this is not a motor fund, this is trust money belonging to the citizens of Philadelphia, and I am sure in the fairness I know the gentleman to have, he will acknowledge that fact.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I have listened with a great deal of pleasure to the two gentlemen from Philadelphia, and I have appreciated their mental agility, but not having that same degree, I must come down to what seems to me to be the root of the complaint of the gentleman from Philadelphia.

He asked the question: "Is this a part of a plan, and if it is a part of the Governor's plan, how is the money going to be paid back?" Well, now, the Governor took office three weeks ago tomorrow, I think—that is a very short period of time. He has taken office under a pledge that he is doing his level best to fulfill—cut down expenses of this Commonwealth. If he can cut down expenses of the Commonwealth, no new taxes will be needed. If he cannot cut down these expenses, that is the question that will come up there.

Now, I think in that policy the Governor has the support of the people of Pennsylvania, and for my part I shall vote for the transfer of funds with a very great deal of pleasure, if that will enable the problem of relief to be solved, until the administration can find out all that must be found out about the financial matters in which the Commonwealth is involved.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I wish to interrogate the Senator from Montgomery, Mr. Edmonds.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Montgomery, Mr. Edmonds, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I have just heard the gentleman speak about the Governor's problem. I have read with much interest in the newspaper about the Governor refusing to approve the budget of the Public Utility Commission until that budget is pared down so as to effect a saving. Will the Senator from Montgomery, Mr. Edmonds, state whether or not that economy will be reflected in this new treasury to the advantage of the taxpayers of this Commonwealth?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, the economy which the Governor will effect—and in which by the way he is pioneering—they will be reflected for the advantage of the people of Pennsylvania.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Montgomery, Mr. Edmonds.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Montgomery, Mr. Edmonds permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, again with pleasure, but I will ask him to speak a little slowly, I am not as agile mentally as he is.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I ask the Senator from Montgomery if he is familiar with the term, Timeo Danaos et dona ferentes.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I am thoroughly familiar with it, and may I inquire whether the Senator from Philadelphia is disposed to advise us where he obtained his classical knowledge?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, from the Senator from Montgomery. So I approach the suggestion you make about my agility with much fear.

May I inquire whether the Senator knows it is not a fact the monies that the Public Utilities Commission pays—whether it be for payroll or incidental expenses—whether that is borne by the Commonwealth, or is it borne by the Utilities?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, part of it is borne by the Commonwealth, by an appropriation made, but later that is to be paid by the utilities.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, will the Senator admit, as a matter of fact, when he says part of it is appropriated, he means all of it is appropriated temporarily, but that it is placed back into the treasury by the utilities.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, part of it is appropriated directly, I understand, for the biennium. As to the other portion, I do not know, and if the Senator from Philadelphia does know, I will be glad to have him tell me. I am not certain whether it is in this general assembly, or not.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I shall be very glad to tell the members of the Senate that every penny of the money now spent by the public utilities under an act of the past legislature, in its last session, is paid for by the utilities; by a certain appropriation, that money is first advanced by the Commonwealth to the Utility Commission, and then it is put into the treasury by utilities when they get their bills. There is not a penny of it paid by anybody else but the utilities.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, may I ask the Senator from Philadelphia whether we get an accounting from the Public Utility Commission as to what they have collected.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the Public Utility Commission sends out those bills and those bills are paid for by the Public Utilities and paid into the treasury.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I ask again when does the Public Utilities Commission report to the General Assembly how much money has been collected?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the Public Utilities Commission files a report or account with the Governor but it does not file any reports as to what it has collected with the legislature. The legislature, with the right to levy and impose taxes—

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, and as a result I understand they increased their payroll in December of 1938.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, they may have increased their payrolls and they may be wrong in increasing their payrolls, but I want it clearly understood that the camouflage or pretense of economy is a pretense, when it comes to the Public Utilities Commission. I hold no brief for any department which increases its payroll, whether for the necessity of political purpose or otherwise, but I have seen it done in several administrations during the time I have sat in this Senate and watched them go by—they all did it—and I protest it then and I protest it now. A protest now and then is a good thing, because it keeps them on their toes. Maybe an Utopian era will arrive when that will not happen, but that does not justify the Governor telling the people striving for economy "I am going to save $375,000 by making the Utility Commission reduce its payroll." That is the danger, because, in the first place, it does not save any money for the Commonwealth, and I do not justify the spenders, because they have no right to make the Utility Commission have unnecessary help.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I am glad to hear the Senator say that.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, let us understand each other, there are a great many things this Governor can do, if he will do them openly and not camouflage them by saying he is saving money by asking the Utilities Commission to cut their payroll.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order. The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, will state his point of order.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, the gentleman is not discussing this bill before the Senate.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I am answering the questions expounded by an expert parliamentarian before this Senate.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, the gentleman was not answering a question of the Senator from Montgomery, he was making a speech; it was not on the subject before the Senate, and I insist upon my point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, will confine himself to the subject.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I disagree with the gentleman, and if you have ruled that I am out of order, with all due respect to you, I disagree with you. I am talking on the question whether or not we are going to get the money back that is being transferred from these funds by this so called economy measure, and if the gentlemen are relying on saving money by upsetting the Utilities Commission they are not going to save money.

What happened is that that is a good method of curtailment operations of the Commission, and if the Governor in the guise of economy wants to do that when he says, "I want you to drop one hundred men," he could say by the same token, "I want you to drop seven hundred men," and leave them without any help and ruin and hamstring them all.

I want to point out to my friend from Montgomery County that when I say I want to know what those economies are, it is not because I am talking in the air, but because I have pointed out to these gentlemen you cannot save one hundred and eighteen millions of dollars by abolishing thirty-six million dollars of expenses. I said, and I repeat, that if every function—if the legislative, the judiciary, or the administrative, were curtailed, and the Governor does not take his own salary—which he has not been known to do—even if he does not take his salary he would not have saved any more than thirty-six million dollars, and yet you are asking my vote on the transfer of funds which you say you intend to repay by economy, first by reason of economy, and second, You cannot economize to that extent. The Democratic organization came into office on the seventeenth day of January 1935, and it found the necessity of making immediate provisions for relief—but you came in here and said you are going to borrow twenty millions of dollars from the Motor License Fund, and we are going to create and impose taxes to pay it back. No, we hear nothing from the other side, but we do get our information from the newspapers, which I suppose is just as reliable as the statement that an oil-burner has been taken out of the Governor's mansion which never had an oil-burner.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, my theory is if the Governor can make economies more power to his right arm. I feel that the Governor of Pennsylvania in his endeavor to effect economy has the support of the people of Pennsylvania, and if the Senator from Philadelphia can tell him where other economies can be made, why doesn't the Senator from Philadelphia do it, it would be a great help.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I never go to a man's house if I am not invited.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with the information that the Senate has passed the same without amendments.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now resume the consideration of Senate Bill No. 7, (House Bill No. 4), on final passage postponed.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I second the motion. The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 7, (House Bill No. 4), entitled:

An Act transferring money from the State Insurance Fund to the General Fund and providing for the subsequent return from the General Fund of the transferred money.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, in the interest of time I want the record to record that the same things I said about the former bill involving three millions of dollars, applies to this one million of dollars, and I ask the same questions of the gentleman from Montgomery, and I answer the questions of the gentleman from Montgomery the same as I did before when he put them to me, so it will not be necessary to have him interrogate me.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, my comment on those answers is the same as I made before.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I would like to call the attention of the Senator from Philadelphia to the fact that wherever we get the money to repay this fund one-third of the amount of the transfer will go to the City of Philadelphia.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, that is why I am complaining so bitterly.

And the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

NOMINATIONS BY THE GOVERNOR

NOTARIES PUBLIC

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced presented in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, nominations for appointment as Notaries Public which were laid on the table

COMMUNICATION

The Chair cleared his table and laid before the Senate the following communication which was read by the Clerk:

Harrisburg, Penna., February 6, 1939.

Office of the Secretary

Hon. Samuel S. Lewis,
Lieutenant Governor and President of the Senate,
Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

Sir:

On January 18th I was directed by your Honorable Body to inquire from my predecessor whether there was or had been in his office a resignation from Senator P. J. Henney of the 45th Senatorial District of Allegheny County.

On last Tuesday, following the adjournment of the Senate, the Assistant to the Secretary, in examining a folder of my predecessor which had been used for memoranda of personnel, found the attached document which I herewith present to the Senate.

Very respectfully yours,

GEORGE F. HOLMES,
Secretary of the Senate.

In The
SUPREME COURT OF PENNSYLVANIA

THE COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA EX
RELATIONE ANNA P.
ELKINS,
v.
P. J. HENNEY

Miscellaneous Docket
No. 1026

TO: THE SENATE OF PENNSYLVANIA:
HONORABLE THOMAS KENNEDY, LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR: and HONORABLE JOHN MORLOCK,
SECRETARY OF THE SENATE.

I, Patrick J. Henney hereby resign as a Senator representing the Forty-fifth Senatorial District, effective immediately.

PATRICK J. HENNEY
P. J. HENNEY

December 24, 1938

Witness:

Frederick G. Van Denbergh, Jr.

MOTION TO LAY COMMUNICATION ON TABLE

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I was going to move that on account of the fact that Senator Henney filed that paper under a misapprehension that the Supreme Court had already decided the case, it should be laid on the table.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I want to enter my objection to spreading this document on the record, for the reason that while the papers may have the name of Patrick J. Henney, or P. J. Henney, we do not know that that is the signature of the gentleman in question. I doubt very much whether the Senate can make any official record of a document purporting to bear the name of a Senator without the Senator's signature and I suggest therefore that before it be made a part of this record, that it be laid on the table until it can be ascertained whether or not that is his signature, and I therefore move that it be laid on the table.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I second the motion.
The motion was agreed to.

The PRESIDENT. The communication will be laid on the table.

ERRATUM

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I want to take this opportunity of asking that the Legislative Journal of January 31, 1939, be corrected at page 249, the third paragraph, line 9, the figures $3,332,664.05, should be $3,232,664.05 and I ask that the correction be noted in the Journal.

BILLS INTRODUCED

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. RUTH read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 69, entitled:

An Act to further amend section six hundred and nineteen of the act, approved the first day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 905), entitled "An act for the protection of the public safety; regulating the use of highways, and the operation of vehicles, tractors, street cars, trackless trolley omnibuses, bicycles, pedestrians, and the riding of animals upon the highways of this Commonwealth; providing for the titling, including liens, encumbrances, and legal claims; registration of certain vehicles and licensing the operators thereof, upon payment of prescribed fees; prescribing and limiting the powers of local authorities to deal with the subject matter of this act; conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue, the Department of Highways, peace officers, mayors, burgesses, magistrates, aldermen, justices of the peace, the courts and the clerks thereof, owners of vehicles, and garage keepers; providing that records are admissible as evidence; imposing upon owners, counties, cities, boroughs, incorporated towns, townships, within the Commonwealth, liability for damages caused by the negligent operation of their motor vehicles; imposing penalties; imposing certain costs upon counties; providing for the disposition of fines forfeitures, fees, and miscellaneous receipts; making an appropriation and providing for refunds," by making political subdivisions of the State liable for the negligence of their employees.

Which was committed to the Committee on Judiciary General.

Mr. LEVIN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. LEVIN read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 70 entitled:

An Act to amend section one thousand two hundred one of the act, approved the eighteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred eleven (P. L. 309), entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, together with provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof; providing revenue to establish and maintain the same, and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws, general, special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith," as amended by limiting the circumstances under which boards of school directors shall have power to employ substitute teachers.

Which was committed to the Committee on Education.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Tuesday, February 7, 1939, at 1:00 o'clock, p.m.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 11:59 o'clock, p.m. until Tuesday, February 7, 1939, at 1:00 o'clock, p.m.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

MONDAY, February 6, 1939.

The House met at 8:00 p. m.

The SPEAKER (Ellwood J. Turner) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. Walter Evans Deibler, offered the following prayer:

We are the beneficiaries of Thy continued mercy, O God. Again Thou hast permitted us to meet together to do the work of a new week. Thou hast created us for Thy glory. May our services to society dignify the confidence Thou hast placed in us. Thou, O God, art our most credible and reliable witness as to the manner in which we do our work. May Thy servants in these sacred halls have the assurance of Thy constant approbation. May the work that is being done promote the highest good for the people of the Commonwealth. Remember in mercy those members who are ill. May the ministrations of all the offices of this House continue to dignify the true ideals of government for the honor and glory of Thy Name, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of Tuesday, January 31, 1939.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of Tuesday, January 31, 1939, when, on motion of Mr. CALVIN the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal approved.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. TRONZO. RESOLUTION No. 12.

In the House of Representatives, January 31, 1939.

Whereas, The appropriation of $725,000,000 by Congress for the Works Progress Administration will cause the dismissal of over 100,000 WPA workers in Pennsylvania; and

Whereas, The great majority of dismissed WPA workers will, with their dependents be thrown upon the already seriously over-burdened relief rolls of our Commonwealth; and

Whereas, The dismissal of over 100,000 WPA workers in this Commonwealth will injure business, lower purchasing power, promote insecurity and reduce living standards; and

Whereas, Both political parties in this Commonwealth are pledged to the continuance of WPA, the maintenance of adequate relief, and the avoidance of new burdens for State and Local taxpayers; and

Whereas, The appropriation bill passed by Congress permits President Roosevelt to request an additional deficiency appropriation for WPA should the President see fit; therefore be it

Resolved, That this House respectfully petitions the President of the United States that he request the Congress of the United States for an additional deficiency appropriation of at least $150,000,000 in order to prevent further dismissals of WPA workers until such time as private industry can absorb them.

Referred to Committee on Federal Relations.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. DAVID P. REESE from the committee on Judiciary Special reported as amended, House Bill No. 26, entitled:

An Act to repeal the act, approved the fifth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 1670), entitled "An act to amend section three of the act, approved the twenty-seventh day of April, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven (P. L. 465), entitled 'An act to provide for the safety of persons employed, housed, or assembled in certain buildings and structures not in cities of the first class, second class, and second class A, by requiring certain construction and ways of egress, equipment, and maintenance providing for the licensing of projectionists; requiring the submission of plans for examination and approval; providing for the promulgation of rules and regulations for the enforcement of this act; providing for the enforcement of this act by the Department of Labor and Industry and, in certain cases, by the chiefs of fire departments in cities of the third class; providing penalties for violations of the provisions of this act; and repealing acts, as amended, requiring buildings to be equipped with certain equipment in connection with gas meters to prevent or retard the escape of gas'"

Mr. NORMAN WOOD from the committee on Appropriations reported as committed, House Bill No. 164, entitled:

An Act making a deficiency appropriation to the Lieutenant Governor.

Mr. STOCKHAM from the committee on Appropriations reported as committed, House Bill No. 186, entitled:

An Act transferring money from the Fire Insurance Tax Fund to the General Fund and providing for the subsequent return from the General Fund of the transferred money.

Mr. SCHROCK from the committee on Appropriations reported as amended House Bill No. 160, (Senate Bill No. 32), entitled:

A supplement to the act approved the second day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 2706) entitled "An act creating a State World's Fair Commission; defining the powers and duties of said commission; providing for participation in the New York World's Fair; and making an appropriation" by making an additional appropriation thereto.

Mr. THISTLE from the Committee on Cities—First Class, reported as committed, House Bill No. 143, entitled:

An Act to amend clause (b) of section four, article two of the act, approved the twenty-fifth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (P. L. 581), entitled "An act for the better government of cities of the first class of this Commonwealth," as amended, by providing a succession of officers of such cities to act as mayor in case of a vacancy or disability of the mayor to act.

Mr. CORDIER from the Committee on Appropriations, reported as committed, House Bill No. 181, entitled:

An Act making a deficiency appropriation to the Department of Public Assistance for the purpose of carrying out the Public Assistance Law for the two fiscal years ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine.

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT

Mr. CORDIER. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to have House Bill No. 181 read for the first time.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent to have this bill read for the first time? Is there objection?

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, I object and I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Woodside.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Dauphin permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOODSIDE. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, may I inquire why there is a rush at this time in having the bill read for the first time tonight?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, it is the desire to have this bill finally passed this week, or at the latest by February 27th, in order to meet the relief needs.

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, do we understand then that it is the intention of the majority to run this House through this week until this bill is passed, and then recess for how long a period?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, it is the present thought of the House that when the House and Senate adjourns this week, they will adjourn to reconvene on February 27.

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Dauphin hasn't as yet answered my question whether or not it is the intention of the majority to run this House until Friday of this week.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I beg the gentleman's pardon; I thought I had answered it. It is the intention to run this House until Friday of this week, and to pass finally this bill this week.

Mr. OMINSKY. I still object.

RULES SUSPENDED

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I move that Rules 14, 41 and 43, be suspended for the specific purpose of reading the bill for the first time.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the minority finds itself in a position where it must again object to the procedure which has been outlined by the majority, and we can object at the present time, and quite properly, and do so by saying, "I told you so."

This haste means waste. Three weeks ago when the House was confronted with this same proposition, the minority told the majority that the proper thing to do under the circumstances was to pass appropriations equalizing the transfers. Three weeks later the majority comes into this House and asks us to suspend the rules so that haste may be given to a situation that the majority itself has created. If they had listened to the representations that we made, for which we plead both in committee and on the floor of the House, this House would not be confronted with the problem which confronts it.

Today, for the first time, we are informed that it is the intention of the majority of this House to hold the membership of the House for the entire week in order to expedite the passage of bills, and take a vacation for a period of two weeks or more. Many of the members of the minority, coming to the House to the convention of the General Assembly this week, have made very important business arrangements, have made engagements that cannot be broken. Many of us are professional men, who owe a responsibility to our clients. The doctors of the House cannot leave their patients without making proper arrangements, and we are now confronted at a moment's notice, with the problem of holding this House in session until Friday of this week and to infringe upon all of our activities, our previous arrangements and important engagements.

If the majority of this House, three weeks ago, had passed the appropriation bill in the amount that the minority sought to amend it, we would not be confronted with this situation. But what do we find? We find that the first appropriation was passed for twelve million dollars in order to give the majority an opportunity, as they said, to look into the picture.

At that time they knew that these moneys would be required for relief and they did nothing. Today they expect by steam-roller methods to keep the House in continuous session and then declare a "do-nothing" recess for a period of two and one-half weeks or more.

Let me tell you, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, while this House is in adjournment for two weeks this great economy with which we are confronted, will be something that will disappear entirely. The salaries of the employees of the House, and the salaries of the employees of the Senate will continue to accumulate, will continue to grow, and will continue to further embarrass the Governor and his administration in their attempt to cut a supposedly $118,000,000 from the budget.

I say to the membership of this House that never before in the history of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has less been done by any administration, any General Assembly, than has been done by this General Assembly in its present convention. Five bills have been passed quickly. Outside of that not one single other piece of legislation moved. Those five bills were passed, passed incorrectly, because had they been passed properly we would not be here arguing on a motion to suspend the rules. I ask the membership of this House to apply themselves to their duties. If there is work to be done, we are here to do it, and there is no sense, there is no rhyme or reason to hold this House in session for five consecutive days this week and then take a recess for fourteen, fifteen or sixteen days with nothing to do.

I want to call the attention of the membership of this House to the fact that for the first time in the history of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania when a new administration came into office all the books, all the records, all the data, all the budgetary figures of accounting were made available to the incoming administration without any hesitancy on the part of the outgoing administration.

This problem is not a problem that has been created immediately. This problem of haste is not one that came upon the administration unexpectedly. Since November of the past year, they have had submitted to them every study of every department and every bureau in the entire Commonwealth, and they know as much as they will ever know about the situation of the finances of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and they know a little more than the Governor was willing to say in his radio speech a week or so ago, and still they are asking us to mark time.

Can it be that the desire for haste, and to get rid of the General Assembly for two and one-half weeks that they do not wish to know the difficulty that the Administration is having with the various interests of this Commonwealth in order to impress upon them the fact that promised tax reduction is not going to be a reality? Can it be that the Administration is having difficulty with the Grundys and the Industrialists of the State, that they can't reduce the taxes the corporations have been promised? Can it be that the oil interests of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania now realize that the proffered and promised reduction of the gasoline tax cannot be made a reality? Can it be that the utilities are now being impressed with the fact that the contemplated reduction of the tax on gross receipts or kilowatt consumption was just an idle promise made by a Governor, made by an individual, in order to gain election? If that is why the majority wishes to get rid of the minority, I think they are correct; I think they are justified, but they cannot get rid of the fact at this time that to hastily indulge in legislation, as the Speaker of this House said on numerous occasions when he was the floor leader, would come back to haunt them, and today you are being haunted by the fact that at the very inception of this Administration, after the very convention of this House, you refused to listen to a word of advice that came from the minority, and today the additional cost of the continuation of this session is the responsibility that is placed upon the shoulders of the majority, and you are being haunted by the fact that haste makes waste. Today you are being brought face to face with the fact that to continue this House is a continuation of an overstuffed appropriation; it means the continuation of drones on the payroll; it means that this House itself is going back on every promise made by the present administration and every promise made by the membership of this House to the effect that they will have economy in government. To continue this session and prolong it by vacations of two or three weeks is the waste that you gentleman said would be eliminated and now you are being haunted by the false promises, by the false hopes, by the false legislation you have sponsored in this session.

I ask the membership of this House to oppose any suspension of any rule that will allow this House to continue to make waste instead of properly acquitting their legislative functions. I ask the membership of this House to oppose the motion, and speaking for the minority, I wish to say that we are willing to come back this week, next week, and every other week in order to see that our legislative functions are properly performed. We are not willing to remain in this House on such short notice for the period of time indicated by the majority, just to cover up the mistakes made by the majority. Six weeks have elapsed and there is not one bill on the calendar and six weeks more possibly will elapse without a bill on the calendar. I understand that that is saving the printing costs, not getting the bills out, but the printing costs are only a small fraction of the cost to this Commonwealth, and to those ends, in the reduction of the expense of this House, we in the minority are willing to co-operate, but I say to you men, in this particular situation, to expect the minority to play along with you, is expecting too much. Possibly we will meet at the crossroads, but on the other hand, you have the vote. If you feel that it is equitable, it is justifiable, it is acquitting yourselves in the proper manner to continue this House over a prolonged vacation of two weeks, you have the votes to do it but remember you also have the responsibility.

We of the minority want it definitely shown on the record that we are willing to stay here and work with you to accomplish the regular ends of legislation but to be rushed in with no notice whatsoever to a prolonged week and a two and a half week vacation is not within our legislative contemplation and we will conduct ourselves accordingly.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to say to the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen, that some years ago they had a rule of the House in which each member was charged two dollars a column for every column in the Legislative Journal consumed by his speeches. Now, that would be rather expensive for the gentleman from York because I feel sure that he will admit that he went pretty far afield in his very lengthy debate on the motion to suspend the rule.

I don't propose to answer all of the various political insinuations and charges which he has made. There is one thing certain, that never in the history of this Commonwealth has any administration gone into office faced with the mess faced by this administration left to it by the Democratic administration that has just gone out. This is agitated and increased as a result of the administration in Washington's program relative to relief and the situation which really exists there.

I want to say to the members of this House that we are now faced with the situation of meeting additional relief, and we of the majority propose meeting it, and we propose to meet by passing this legislation which I am sure the minority in the end will join with us in supporting.

As to the recess, that is not going to be a vacation, it is going to be a recess of work in which various committees will be very active. It will, I feel sure, accomplish more and have this legislature in a better position at the end of two weeks than if we would continue to hold sessions. I think that the real objection coming from the minority, and some of its members, is not the objection to the two weeks' recess, but it is objection to working this week. We say to you, Mr. Speaker, and to the minority of this House that we of the majority propose to work through this week and we propose to work even harder through the next two weeks that this Commonwealth may have good and decent legislation for the 1939 session.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Dauphin.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Dauphin permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOODSIDE. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to inquire of the gentleman from Dauphin whether or not, at the present time, there are any appropriations due and owing to State-aided hospitals of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I don't know the relevancy of that question, and I don't know the answer to it.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, the relevancy of it is that the gentleman from Dauphin has indicated that the financial mess, as he calls it, with which he is confronted, is worse than any that has ever confronted any incoming administration. I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Dauphin as to whether or not there are any appropriation liabilities, any moneys due State-aided hospitals of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania at the present time.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I don't know the answer.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to answer the gentleman from Dauphin, because the gentleman from Dauphin has answered himself. When the gentleman from Dauphin says he does not know and the gentleman from Dauphin apparently does not know when he says that the mess with which we are confronted is worse than any other that confronted any incoming administration, I say that the gentleman from Dauphin is talking through his hat.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hopes that the gentleman from Dauphin does not have his hat on.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I hope not. The gentleman from Dauphin does not know that there is no liability, there are no appropriations due to State-aided hospitals in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to date in 1939. Apparently he also does not know that in 1935 there were $2,000,000 liabilities owing to the hospitals. The gentleman from Dauphin, I am sure, would not know that there is not one cent of money coming to our educational institutions throughout the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Then again the gentleman from Dauphin would not know that in 1935 there were millions of dollars owing to State-aided institutions in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

The gentleman from Dauphin does not know that there are no appropriations due and owing to our State-aided homes, and he still does not know that in 1935 there was a half-year of appropriation liabilities due State-aided

h. Dec. The gentleman from Dauphin apparently does not know the financial situation of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and he did not know the situation that confronted the Democratic administration, when we took over the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania from the previous Republican administration, so when the gentleman from Dauphin speaks about the mess with which we are confronted, he does not know that those same problems were solved by those of us who are in the legislature. It would do the gentleman from Dauphin good to consult with the minority and take our advice. We could help him in the solution of these problems. When the gentleman from Dauphin tells us that we must continue in session until Friday of this week; when he tells us that we must recess for two and one-half weeks, the gentleman from Dauphin is not seeking our solution of these legislative problems, he is dictating the course of this legislature's activities without consulting the minority who have had this experience and have had a worse experience, and know all the answers to the problems. The gentleman from Dauphin should know even though he does not know some of the problems that faced us four years ago. I feel sure that he does know that the problem of relief is, to a great extent, accentuated by the fact that our Senator in the United States Senate, Senator Jim Davis, voted against the necessary appropriation to unburden the Commonwealth of this relief problem, and the gentleman from Dauphin should know that for three years the Republican City Council of the city of Philadelphia has refused to cooperate with the WPA with the result that Philadelphia at the present time is bearing two-fifths of the relief burden of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania while it has but one-fifth of the population.

The gentleman from Dauphin should know that he should go to the leaders of his party and impress upon them the necessity of changing their ways, then the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania would not be confronted with the problem with which it is now confronted.

I would ask the gentleman from Dauphin in the future, so that he will be prepared, to thoroughly study the financial history of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania from 1933 up to the present time, and I feel sure if he will do so he will have the answers to the problems himself, and any time he does not know the answers he is at perfect liberty to consult the members of the minority.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, may I say to the gentleman from York who knows all the answers, and knew them all for the past three years to the satisfaction of the people of Pennsylvania, that while they may talk of $2,000,000 or $3,000,000 which they were short when they took office, there is now at least a deficit of $48,000,000 according to present estimates in relief alone. May I say also that the last administration has spent in excess of their normal income over $100,000,000 during the last two years. The gentleman from Dauphin does know that fact, and he does know that no such mess as that ever faced the Earle administration, or any other administration that took office in this Commonwealth.

Mr. TROUT. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it is very strange that all of a sudden the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen, became all-wise. If the Democratic administration had fulfilled their obligation it would have provided the necessary funds to continue relief up until the end of this biennium and we would not now be in this position.

Senator Davis, yes, voted "no" on the $850,000,000 for relief with the distinct understanding, and you may all know it, that immediately upon using up the appropriation of $725,000,000 if the President will ask for additional funds Senator Davis will vote for additional funds. But Senator Davis did the one right thing, that was to reduce the appropriation in an effort to at least give some semblance of economy to the Democratic administration in Washington.

The gentleman from York says that this proposed vacation of two weeks is an unheard of matter in the legislative halls of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and he wants to know what is going to happen. Ye Gods, men! do you forget the session of 1938; the Special Session of 1938? Do you forget that first week? The first six days we passed five bills, and that is all we did other than appropriate $50,000 to conduct a whitewash investigation of the Earle administration. Do you forget that the majority at that time, under the leadership of the gentleman from York asked for a vacation of two weeks and he got it in order that the Democratic members might go home and do their campaigning in an attempt to be reelected into this House?

What did we do during those two weeks? Were there any legislative matters being considered? No there were not. The only thing that was done was that the gentleman from York conducted his investigation, or supposed investigation, of the accusations that had been made by members of his own party.

This isn't an unusual procedure, it is perfectly reasonable, and we of the majority are perfectly justified in following the tactics of the majority in 1938, when the gentleman from York suggested that the members of this House take a vacation for two weeks, so that his whitewash investigation could be conducted.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker,——

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen. The Chair does not desire to in any way curtail the debate at this time, because it is on a question of importance, but we seem to be getting a little afield from the question to suspend the rule.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I only rise at this time to reply to the gentleman from Lancaster, due to the fact that the gentleman from Lancaster has made an accusation relative to the conduct of a Representative of this House. In my entire legislative career I have never felt the necessity of requesting that apologies should be submitted to me for any of my legislative activities. Men who have known me on the floor of this House for the past six years know that I am in a position and have always been in a position to maintain the integrity of my statements; the integrity of my activities.

I have been accused by the gentleman from Lancaster of conducting a whitewash investigation. I say to the gentleman from Lancaster, and I say to the members of this House, that whether or not the gentleman from Lancaster has been inclined to usurp that word from the Press, and make that a part of the official record of this legislature, is a problem for him, but I say to the membership of this House that in the conduct of my duties as Chairman of the Committee investigating the alleged incorrect activities of the past administration, I conducted that investigation sincerely, honestly and thoroughly and I feel sure that the question of doubt as to my activities as chairman of that committee did not arise from any of the members who sat on the committee with me, nor did I in any manner, nor would I in any manner impugn the activities of my colleagues both of the majority and of the minority. Enough of that.

Let me say to the membership of this House that I had no intention of indicating that the deficit that confronted the Democrats in 1935 was but the few million dollars that I have indicated, because the record is ample proof of the fact that the determined deficit inherited by the Democrats from the previous Republican administration was $38,000,000. I might call to the attention of the membership of this House, if we end up, as the gentleman from Dauphin has indicated, with a deficit of $40,000,000, we will then have conducted our administration with a deficit of $2,000,000, because the $38,000,000 we inherited from the Republicans was carried over into the Democratic administration, and if we pass over to the Republicans a $40,000,000 deficit, it means that we conducted our four years in office with a deficit of $2,000,000. In addition to that we amortized to the extent of $15,000,000 the loan that had been made by the previous Republican administration to carry on the necessary general expenses of the Commonwealth.

The membership of this House well knows that Governor Pinchot, the last Republican Governor, found it necessary, in order to get the necessary funds to conduct the affairs of the Commonwealth, to float a bond issue of $25,000,000. We have paid approximately $6,000,000 a biennium, or $12,000,000 in the four years of the administration in the reduction of this general expense obligation, so in fact just going into the figures superficially we find that the Democratic administration, rather than turning over a deficit, has run the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania at an excess of income over expenditures, on those figures alone, of $12,000,000. We have raised the standard of relief, we have raised the standard of administration, and we have maintained the integrity of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. We have borrowed money at the lowest interest rate that any municipality or state or any government has ever borrowed money in the history of the United States, and we have done that by facing the obligation of the people and looking it squarely in the eye, something that apparently the majority at this time cannot do, because they ask us now for more time, another recess, to adjust the conflicting interests that are trying to dominate the affairs of the administration of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

MOTION TO LAY ON THE TABLE

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the motion to suspend the Rules be placed upon the table.

The SPEAKER. The Chair desires to read for the information of the House Rule 88.

Any rule of the House may be suspended at any time for a specific purpose by a majority vote of the members elect; after the accomplishment of which purpose the rule shall remain in force as before.

A motion to suspend the rules may not be amended, postponed, committed or laid upon the table.

The gentleman's motion is therefore out of order.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Trout.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lancaster permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TROUT. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Trout, guarantee to this House that Senator Davis will vote for an additional WPA appropriation. Has he so stated to you?

Mr. TROUT. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the question of the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Davis personally told me that he would.

In reply to the ha-ha's from the other side, I want to say that in the presence of at least half a dozen gentlemen who are now in the House, Senator Davis made that statement.

I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Lancaster desire to make a statement?

Mr. TROUT. I was still answering the question, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. HOLLAND. Have I lost the floor, Mr. Speaker?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Lancaster has requested permission to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. Speaker, I am not through with my interrogation.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Allegheny refuses to be interrogated. Does the gentleman from Allegheny desire to interrogate the gentleman from Lancaster further?

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. Speaker, I do not refuse. I am not through with my interrogation. I will be glad to be interrogated by the gentleman from Lancaster.

The SPEAKER. Proceed.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from Lancaster know that Senator Davis placed himself on record, in reply to questions sent by people of the state of Pennsylvania, that he would vote for the $850,000,000 appropriation, and only changed his mind after he had a telephone call from somebody in Pennsylvania.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, this interrogation is entirely out of order, and does not bear on the question in any manner, shape or form. I think it has gone too far afield.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is well taken.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. Speaker, is this embarrassing to the gentleman from Dauphin?

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Allegheny desire to further interrogate the gentleman from Lancaster?

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Woodside.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Dauphin permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I shall be very glad to be interrogated on any matter that is properly before the House at the present time.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Woodside: is my question embarrassing to him or to the party that he represents?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I did not understand the question.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny please state his question clearly?

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. Speaker, the question asked the gentleman from Lancaster was: why did Senator Davis change his vote after he had promised to vote for the $850,000,000 appropriation? Now I ask whether my question is embarrassing to the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Woodside, or to the party he represents?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, that is in no manner embarrassing to me, nor to the party I represent, and the gentleman himself as a member of this House should know that such a question is entirely out of order and entirely improper.

The SPEAKER. The interrogation is out of order, and the Chair has so ruled. Does the gentleman from Allegheny desire to be recognized?

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of information.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. Speaker, the question was raised of the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Trout, as to whether or not he would guarantee the vote of Senator Davis. We of the minority don't know why this recess is being held, or why these bills are being hurried. We ought to have more information from these people who should know about it.

The SPEAKER. The Chair suggests that the gentleman from Allegheny consult with Mr. Cohen, his floor leader, as to why the recess.

On the question recurring.

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Herbert B. Cohen and Mr. Long and were as follows:

BILL ON FIRST READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 181, entitled:

An Act making a deficiency appropriation to the Department of Public Assistance for the purpose of carrying out the Public Assistance Law for the two fiscal years ending May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine.

And said bill having been read at length the first time, Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE ON RULES

Mr. WOODSIDE offered a report from the Committee on Rules.

The Clerk read the report as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 6, 1939.

Whereas, The work of this House is being retarded by reason of the lack of meeting facilities for the different committees of the House; and

Whereas, Forty-two House Committees are ready to proceed with the work assigned them, but are prevented from so doing because there are only six rooms available for use; and

Whereas, We are advised that the new Finance Building is ready for partial occupancy, the prompt removal from the main Capitol Building of these bureaus of the departments to whom space has been allotted in the new building would make available rooms for committee use; and

Whereas, Other rooms in the Capitol Building could be temporarily vacated and made available for use of the committees without seriously interfering with the work of those now occupying them, and

Whereas, The progress of the work of this House could be aided and the hope of early adjournment could be made more certain if sufficient rooms were now furnished for the use of the committees of the House; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House respectfully requests the State Authority, the Secretary of Property and Supplies, the State Treasurer, the Auditor General, and the Department of Revenue, which departments are to be located in the new Finance Building, to arrange in some way for the immediate occupancy of the new building by sufficient personnel to make rooms available in the Capitol Building for use of House Committees; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the House shall immediately request the heads of other departments of the State Government to advise him whether they can furnish any rooms for the use of House Committees; and that the said Chief Clerk shall immediately transmit a copy of this resolution to the State Authority, to the Secretary of Property and Supplies, the Department of Revenue, the Auditor General and the State Treasurer.

ROBERT E. WOODSIDE, JR.
WILSON L. YEAKEL
JACOB B. SCHROCK
NORMAN WOOD
ROBERT S. HAMILTON
ELLWOOD J. TURNER

On the question,

Will the House adopt the report?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I might say that I am in favor of this motion, and I feel that this resolution should be passed.

However, I do not feel that the House desires to have any of the departments that are going to be petitioned labor under a misapprehension, and I therefore move you, Mr. Speaker, that the second whereas clause reading as follows:

"Whereas, Forty-two House Committees are ready to proceed with the work assigned them, but are prevented from doing so because there are only six rooms available for use" be stricken from the resolution.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from York desire to amend the resolution?

MOTION TO AMEND REPORT

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I move to amend the report by striking therefrom the whereas clause which I have just read, being the second whereas clause on the first page, beginning with the fourth line, and striking therefrom lines four, five and six.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the report?

It was adopted.

RESOLUTION NO. 11

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Resolution No. 11, Printer's No. 7.

The Clerk read the resolution as follows:

In the House of Representatives, January 30, 1939.

Whereas, there are present in the United States various groups and associations of persons organized to foster foreign institutions to overthrow our government, and to engage in Un-American activities; and

Whereas, such groups pay allegiance to and follow the authoritarian philosophy of foreign governments in preference to our own; and

Whereas, such groups whether Nazis, Fascists, or Communists, are hostile to free, democratic government and endanger the welfare of our nation; and

Whereas, the Committee to Investigate Un-American Activities under Chairman Dies, appointed in the House of Representatives of the United States has done and is doing much to expose these foreign groups and associations, and it is to the welfare of the nation that such investigation continue, therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), that the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby memorializes the Congress now in session to appropriate the sum of $150,000.00 to continue the work of the Committee Investigating Un-American Activities, and be it further

Resolved, that copies of this resolution be forwarded to the Speaker of the House of Representatives and the Vice-President of the United States.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Taylor.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Dauphin permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TAYLOR. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from Dauphin County know that Congress has already acted on the resolution extending the activities of the Dies Committee?

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. Speaker, for the information of the members of the House, I might say that the House of Representatives have voted to continue this investigation but has not appropriated the necessary funds.

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Taylor, know that Congress is already pledged to appropriate $100,000 for the investigation?

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. Speaker, I am not aware of that.

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Taylor, withdraw this resolution as being unnecessary and a saving of funds for printing, if it is ascertained that Congress has already appropriated or is pledged to appropriate $100,000 for the Dies Committee?

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. Speaker, I will not because the United States Senate has not passed the necessary legislation.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Allegheny will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker, would a motion to place Resolution No. 11, Printer's No. 7, on the table be in order at this time?

The SPEAKER. Such a motion would be in order.

MOTION TO TABLE RESOLUTION

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker, I move that Resolution No. 11, Printer's No. 7, be placed on the table.

The motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. Speaker, may I make a brief statement in order that there will not be any misunderstanding as to what this resolution means?

As the sponsor of this resolution, I rise in its defense, even though it is not necessary in this body. This resolution memorialized Congress to continue the Dies Committee investigating un-American activities. It further calls for an appropriation of funds in order that that Committee may be enabled to function.

This resolution, I might say members of the House, has the endorsement of every American Legion Post in Pennsylvania; it has the endorsement of every Post of Veterans of Foreign Wars in Pennsylvania; it has the endorsement of every disabled war veterans post in Pennsylvania; it has the endorsement too of all of the Jewish American War Veterans of Pennsylvania. In addition to that, it has the endorsement of every Camp of Spanish-American War Veterans in Pennsylvania, and I am sure it has the endorsement of every real red-blooded American in this Commonwealth and in the United States.

These Veteran groups in particular are interested in the passage of this resolution. They are interested in the continuance of the Dies Investigating Committee, because everyone of them represents a one hundred percent American organization. They are further interested in this matter because many of them have had some part in aiding this Dies Investigating Committee in their investigation of un-American activities, which were later reported out by Mr. Dies of that committee.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I say to you that these Veterans are anxious to have this Dies Investigating Committee continue in its purpose of driving these un-American individuals out into the open where we may be able to see them and know who they are. No matter who they are, it is about time that we Americans stand up on our feet and throw the light of publicity on them. When we know who they are I am sure every American in this great land will want to drive them from our shores and place them upon the next ship leaving our country, sending them back to the land that will give them the form of government that they would try to force upon us.

That is why these Veteran organizations are for this resolution and for the continuance of the Dies Investigating Committee on un-American activities.

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I agree in part with the statements of the gentleman from Dauphin, the sponsor of this resolution, and I disagree on what he calls un-American activities—his definition of un-American activities.

I think that Senator Davis, when he voted against the $850,000,000 for WPA was un-American, and I believe his voting "no" on an additional $150,000,000 was un-American. The only trouble I see in this resolution is, who is going to decide who is un-American? That is a very technical point and for that reason I think we should oppose this resolution.

Mr. LONG. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, most resolutions to memorialize Congress to do this or not to do this, or to do that or not to do that, serve no real purpose, and in most cases they are useless. However, this resolution is even more so. The House of Representatives of the United States has seen fit in its good judgment, and I am quite sure that the majority of the Members of this House will agree with them, to continue the activities of the Dies Committee on un-American activities. They have furthermore, after a consultation with the Chairman of the Committee and other members of the Committee pledged themselves to the extent of one hundred thousand dollars to finance the continuation of those activities. I therefore see no reason whatsoever why this House or anyone else should now petition the House of Representatives of the United States to do something which they have already done. I therefore shall vote against this resolution.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I have consistently voted against every resolution memorializing Congress ever since I have been a member of this House and I do not propose to break that rule in voting on this resolution. I do not believe that this House has any more business to memorialize Congress than Congress has to memorialize this House. Individual Americans, as American citizens, may express themselves and memorialize Congress, but this House has no authority and no mandate to speak for and on behalf of the people of Pennsylvania upon these matters. The people of Pennsylvania have a means whereby they can themselves memorialize Congress. To my mind this business of memorializing Congress is so much poppycock and nonsense. I——. That is all.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Gates and Mr. Seif and were as follows:

STATEMENT BY MR. HOLLAND

Mr. HOLLAND asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it would be very appropriate to bring up a matter at this time, especially after a member of this House has memorialized the Federal Government, because I thought after I read a statement made by the Secretary of Forests and Waters, Albert Stewart, that Pennsylvania was having a feud with the Federal Government.

Mr. Stewart stated:

"I will not surrender one acre of Pennsylvania's soil to Washington."

That really sounds as if a war has been started, especially after we have been hearing about the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the American Legion and the Spanish-American War Veterans, of all of which I am a member, with the exception of the Spanish-American War Veterans. I want to say at this time that you would not need this Dies Committee investigating communistic activities in America if we took care of those people in the lower brackets who have to live in the flooded districts and are flooded out every time there is a heavy rain or a heavy snowfall. When the Governor of this state stops progress on flood control, when the Secretary of Forests and Waters stops progress on flood control, underneath it all it is not the Governor, nor the Secretary of Forests and Waters speaking, but it is the Utilities of Pennsylvania speaking, because they are afraid if these dams are constructed it will mean the generating of cheap electricity for the people of Pennsylvania and at the same time they stay in the background.

We read in tonight's paper about seven thousand families fleeing from the flood, but of course, we must admit that perhaps the Governor does owe some favors to the Utilities. I feel that the stopping of flood control now means a loss of life and large property damage to the people of Pennsylvania. All that the State has to do is to buy property and the Federal Government pays all the expenses to stop these floods. I say to you that when Governor James and the Secretary of Forests and Waters stop the construction of flood walls in the State of Pennsylvania, a little later on those people who are drowned in floods will come back and haunt them for the rest of their lives. Yes, you may laugh; you who come from districts who have no fear of floods, may laugh, but when you come down to the lower part of Pittsburgh and see there people who must live in those localities to get cheap rent, worrying when the next flood is coming, I say to you that this Governor who is supposed to make such a great record, is starting out on the wrong foot, because I prophesy now it will be a record for the Utilities and not for the people of Pennsylvania.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman will be spread upon the Journal.

STATEMENT BY MR. HARKINS

Mr. HARKINS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House:

Mr. Speaker and Ladies and Gentlemen of the House, I rise to express the gratitude of the citizens of the Eleventh Legislative District of Allegheny County to the Divine Providence which has spared them a disastrous flood in the past few days.

Each year for many years in the past, the Monongahela River, which rises in West Virginia and after crossing the Pennsylvania State Line, divides the Counties of Greene, Washington and Allegheny from Fayette and Westmoreland, has become swollen with heavy rains and melting snows and has been transformed into a mighty torrent.

When heavy rains and thaws occurred on the watershed of the Allegheny River and the watershed of the Monongahela at the same time, Pittsburgh, the Workshop of the World, was visited by severe floods. These floods inundated the lowlands near the rivers, causing many families to flee their homes and often, in addition to carrying away their furniture and other possessions, left famine, disease and death in their wake as the waters receded.

Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, I believe that you can easily understand the feeling of relief that filled all residents of Allegheny County when it became apparent Pittsburgh was to be spared a recurrence of the difficulties which accompany each flood however small. But I call the attention of the members of the House to the headline in the Sunday edition of the Sun-Telegraph, which reads, "Flood Spares City, Perils Ohio Towns." Mr. Speaker, the next flood which comes this year and those that may come next year may not spare the Golden Triangle of Pittsburgh, the lowlands of McKeesport, Clairton, Duquesne, Homestead and the hundreds of Communities bordering on our rivers in Western Pennsylvania.

It may be well to note that three factors united to prevent a serious flood, namely:

First, the fact that the Allegheny River was ice-locked at Freeport several miles above the Point at Pittsburgh, where the Monongahela and Allegheny flow together to form the Ohio River.

Second, that a sharp cold spell along the watershed of the Monongahela River checked the rapid rise of the small streams which feed it.

Third, That the flood control dam on the Tygart River further reduced the crest of the flood, thus saving the City of Pittsburgh and other Monongahela Valley cities and town from serious damage.

The most populous towns and cities in my Legislative District have located in them the greatest steel making plants in any part of the world. At Homestead is located the great Armor making plant where plates for the U. S. Navy's greatest battleships are made; at Duquesne are found great bar mills, while at Clairton is located in addition to steel mills, one of the largest, if not the largest, by-product coke plants in the world. Not far away is the new $60,000,000 plant of the Irvin Works of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Company. These and many other industries suffer each time there is a flood.

In addition to the destruction to these heavy industries, each year there occur losses to the people who live in the districts first flooded, irreparable losses of life and property.

Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, I have spoken somewhat at length of conditions that I know most of us are familiar with, for one reason. I notice that on Page 6 of Part One of the same issue of the Sun-Telegraph, dated Sunday, February 5, 1939, one headline reads, quote, "State Defends Flood Control Spending Curb," and another reads, quote, "Cincinnati Fears Flood as Ohio Nears Crest," and "Red Cross Prepares to Aid Sufferers." Mr. Speaker, we want no repetition of the disastrous flood of March 17, 1936 in Pennsylvania, and the only way we can prevent one is to continue with our program of flood control; to continue with the construction of flood control dams such as the Tygart Dam which saved Pittsburgh in the Spring of 1937 and this past week.

For these reasons, Mr. Speaker, I call on Secretary of Forests and Waters, G. Albert Stewart, to retract his statement in the same issue of the Sun-Telegraph, quote, "The Ohio division, with headquarters at Pittsburgh, will be discontinued in its entirety, since the only purpose in maintaining same would be to collaborate on a federal flood control policy with which we are not in sympathy," end of quote.

Mr. Speaker, it is deplorable if differences of political opinions between the present State Administration and the Federal Government are to be used by the State Secretary of Forests and Waters in order to scrap the plans and program hitherto worked out and thought necessary by experts in the field of flood control, regardless of political opinion.

In closing, let me say, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I speak not in a partisan manner, I speak not only for the Democrats in my district, but for the Republicans and members of other political parties as well.

I speak, Mr. Speaker, for those who are interested in economy of government, in the name of which an attempt to justify the abandonment of the Flood Control Policy of the State apparently is being made.

Mr. Speaker, all the citizens not only of my district but of all of Allegheny County, want adequate flood control and in their name, Mr. Speaker, I protest against any program which by curtailing flood control threatens the safety of the lives and property of our people. For these reasons, I ask Secretary Stewart not to abandon the present program, but rather to continue the flood control program of the past administration.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman will be spread upon the Journal.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Mr. Boney asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. McLANE for the week on account of illness.

COMMITTEE MEETING

There will be meetings of the Committees on Education Tuesday, February 7, at 11:00 a. m. in Room 323.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. BURLEIGH A. PETERS, offered the following prayer:

"O Lord, Our Lord! How excellent is Thy name in all the earth! Even before the mountains were brought forth, or ever Thou hadst formed the earth and the world, even from everlasting to everlasting, Thou art God." As of old Thou didst strengthen the law-givers, so we beseech Thee, give strength and wisdom and understanding to these and all Thy servants who give us our laws today.

And, Our Father, let Thy tenderest, comforting presence abide in the home of the gentleman from York, Senator Lanius, having sustained the loss of his help-mate in this life. Give him the satisfying consciousness that Thou art too wise to make mistakes and too good to be unkind.

Let each individual member of this Senate seek and find the justice of each decision whether it shall issue into legislation or not. We need Thy sense of equity in each bill we promulgate for it, should it become a law, vitally affects millions of citizens of our Commonwealth.

Give us the ability amicably to legislate together and that here especially we may seek "to promote the general welfare" and continue "to secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity." These petitions we ask in the name of Thy Holy One—The Messiah. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. GELDER and Mr. OWLETT, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal approved.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Mr. RUTH asked and obtained leave of absence for himself, for Wednesday, February 8th.

NOMINATIONS BY THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor, being introduced, presented in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, nominations for appointment as Notaries Public which were laid on the table.

CONSIDERATION OF EXECUTIVE NOMINATIONS
NOTARIES PUBLIC

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of nominations for appointment as Notaries Public, sent to the Senate February 6 and 7, 1939, by His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I second the motion. The motion was agreed to.

The nominations were read as follows:

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, February 6, 1939.
To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

In conformity with law, I have the honor hereby to nominate for the advice and consent of the Senate the following persons for reappointment as Notaries Public, for terms of four years to compute from the date set opposite their names.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS SIGNED

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Samuel S. Lewis) announced that the Chief Clerk having reported that the following bills had passed both houses of the General Assembly and the same being correct the titles were publicly read as follows:

House Bill No. 3, entitled:

An Act transferring money from the Liquid Fuels Tax Fund to the General Fund and providing for the subsequent return from the General Fund of the transferred money.

House Bill No. 4, entitled:

An Act transferring money from the State Insurance Fund to the General Fund and providing for the subsequent return from the General Fund of the transferred money.

Whereupon,

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Samuel S. Lewis) in the presence of the Senate signed the same.

HOUSE MESSAGE

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, presented an extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives which was twice read as follows:

In the House of Representatives, January 30, 1939.

Whereas, there are present in the United States various groups and associations of persons organized to foster foreign institutions to overthrow our government and to engage in Un-American activities, and

Whereas, such groups pay allegiance to and follow the authoritarian philosophy of foreign governments in preference to our own, and

Whereas, such groups whether Nazis, Fascists or Communists are hostile to free democratic government and endanger the welfare of our nation and

Whereas, the Committee to Investigate Un-American Activities under Chairman Dies appointed in the House of Representatives of the United States has done and is doing much to expose these foreign groups and associations and it is to the welfare of the nation that such investigation continue, therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur) that the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby memorializes the Congress now in session to appropriate the sum of $150,000.00 to continue the work of the Committee Investigating Un-American Activities and be it further

Resolved that copies of this resolution be forwarded to the Speaker of the House of Representatives and the Vice-President of the United States

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, I rise to speak on the Resolution just read.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, will state his point of order.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, there is nothing before the Senate. I have not heard anybody ask for consideration of this resolution.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, I then move that we concur in House Resolution No. 11.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I object to immediate consideration of this resolution.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair hears objection. The resolution will be referred to the Committee on Federal Relations.

RESOLUTION EXTENDING SYMPATHY TO SENATOR LANIUS AND SON, ON THE DEATH OF THE SENATOR'S WIFE.

Mr. RICE offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered, and agreed to:

In the Senate, February 7, 1939.

Whereas, God in his wisdom has seen fit to call to heavenly rest Mrs. Cora Elizabeth Lanus, beloved wife of our colleague from the County of York, Honorable Henry E. Lanus.

And Whereas, Mrs. Lanus embodied those Christian virtues which made her an ideal wife and mother, one who gave to her husband loving care contributing much to his rise among his people and whose kindness and pleasant ways endeared her to her neighbors.

Therefore Be It Resolved, that the Senate of Pennsylvania record its deep sorrows at the death of Mrs. Lanus and extends its heartfelt sympathy to our associate, the Senator from York County, and to her son, Marcus Lanus, long an employe of this body, and bids them be comforted by the memories of her fine unselfish personality with its rich heritage of service for themselves and their neighbors.

PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE TO APPOINT SPECIAL COMMITTEE OF THE SENATE TO ATTEND FUNERAL OF SENATOR LANIUS' WIFE.

Mr. HOMSHER offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered, and agreed to:

In the Senate, February 7, 1939.

Resolved. That the President Pro Tempore appoint a committee to represent the Senate of Pennsylvania at the funeral of the beloved wife of our honored colleague, Senator Henry E. Lanus, on Thursday afternoon, February ninth, at one-thirty o'clock, at the Lanus home in Spring Grove, York County

COMMITTEE TO ATTEND FUNERAL

The PRESIDENT. On behalf of the President Pro Tempore of the Senate, I wish to announce the following committee appointed to attend the funeral:

The Senator from Adams, Mr. Rice; the Senator from Lancaster, Mr. Pierson; the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Kunkel; the Senator from Cumberland, Mr. Jacobs; and the Senator from Lancaster, Mr. Homsher.

CALLING ATTENTION TO THE DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC ASSISTANCE TO EXCLUDE FROM RELIEF ROLLS ALL BENEFITS FOR MIGRATORY APPLICANTS

Mr. WOODWARD offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered, and agreed to:

In the Senate, February 7, 1939.

Whereas, The mounting cost of relief is a menace to the orderly functions of State Government; and

Whereas, There is a common belief that there are a large number of migratory beneficiaries on the relief rolls; therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the attention of the Department of Public Assistance is called to this complication, and that it is the sense of the General Assembly that the Department should exclude from relief rolls all benefits for such migratory applicants.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

PROPOSING A LEGISLATIVE INVESTIGATION OF ENTIRE MILK CONTROL PROGRAM OF STATE

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, on behalf of myself and the Senator from Chester, Mr. Scarlett, I am about to introduce a resolution, which directly affects the prosperity and health of the people of our community. Due to the fact that we have been unable to contact some of the members of the Senate this morning, I suggest that this resolution be referred to the Committee on Agriculture.

Messrs. HEYBURN and SCARLETT offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered, and agreed to:

Whereas, Milk Control has been the subject of much controversy, and

Whereas, The production and distribution of milk is a subject of such vital importance to the citizens of the Commonwealth; therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the President Pro Tempore shall appoint three members of the Senate, one of whom shall be designated as Chairman, and the Speaker of the House of Representatives shall appoint four Members of the House, who, together shall constitute a joint legislative committee and whose duty it shall be to investigate and study, (a) all regulations, records and activities of each department, severally and jointly, and to take the testimony of such witnesses as may be deemed necessary to ascertain full facts which will be useful and helpful in formulating future remedial and regulatory legislation;

Resolved, That said committee shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its Chairman, requiring and commanding any person to appear before it and answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee, and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the committee may deem necessary. Such subpoenas may be served upon any person and shall have the same force and effect as subpoenas issued out of the courts of this Commonwealth. Each member of the committee shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before it. Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to appear and testify for said committee, or to produce any books, papers, records and documents, shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of this Commonwealth in such cases.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

Mr. OWLETT offered the following resolution, which was twice read:

In the Senate, February 7, 1939.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That when the Senate adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday evening, February 27, at nine o'clock; and when the House of Representatives adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday evening, February 27, at eight o'clock.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I understand the Senate is going to be asked to stay this week until Friday, to pass a bill which is coming over from the House, appropriating the twenty-two million dollar balance of funds transferred from the Motor License Fund, the Liquor License Fund and Liquid Fuels Tax Fund. I understand there are a considerable number of bills over in the House, some of them important. There are forty-six bills which have been offered and introduced in the Senate.

This is the first time that I can recall to mind, in the history of the Senate, that after the House and Senate had convened and had taken the customary two weeks' recess, to permit the appointment of employees, the organization of the Senate and the inauguration of the incoming Governor, that we have asked for an adjournment and the Senate has adjourned for a further period of approximately three weeks.

I think the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, particularly at this session, sent us here to perform a duty. I do not think we have a right to run away from it. I think we have a very serious problem confronting the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; what we do in Pennsylvania will have its effect on the rest of the nation.

The problem of relief is one of the problems that will go far—the solution of that problem will go far in determining what form of government we are going to have.

I have been asked by some of the newspaper men—I have just received a note as to why I objected to the immediate consideration of the resolution relative to the Dies Committee, and I think my remarks on the subject of this adjournment will answer that question.

I think the kind of legislation we have just introduced, memorializing Congress, and asking that $150,000 additional be appropriated for the continuance of the work of that Committee—this Committee has already received plenty—is innocuous, it is merely a gesture that does not mean anything, it is a resolution that calls people names, the purpose of which many of us are unfamiliar with. To just simply say you object to a Communist does not get you anywhere. I do not object to "ists" and "isms," I object to behavior. I do not think that any resolution we can pass or any investigation we can start will do anything to stop what is referred to as "authoritarian"—what I think they mean is "totalitarian"—form of government. I think the behavior of the law-making bodies, the behavior of public officials, the appreciation of individuals and public officials of the real form of government, the Democratic form of government, we enjoy, will do more than investigations; and when I say "appreciation" I do not mean enjoyment, but appreciation by proper conduct.

The relief problem in this Commonwealth and in many Commonwealths will get beyond control unless we all get together and spend every moment of the time available to help solve it. There are a number of people in this country, and in other countries, who are willing to work and who cannot get the work, the employment. It is the obligation of the Commonwealth to help those people.

There are many people who take advantage of the fact that the Commonwealth is willing to do its duty and perform its functions, and ride on the coat-tails of anything or any cause or any program that will enable them to get something for nothing; and the longer we delay a proper study of the problem, which will confine relief within the true meaning of the word, the further we will be away from the solution of the problem and the nearer we will approach dictatorship. Undoubtedly people with understanding must know that as the roll of unemployed increases and as the roll of people who do nothing to earn the money which they receive increases we approach nearer to a form of government which means the loss of control by the governing body and by the people appointed and elected to control the government; and I think it is a pity that two weeks' or three weeks' time should be allowed to pass when the Legislature recesses at a time like this.

The Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania says that the problem requires study, and I think it's much better that the Legislature stay in session—to give to the Governor the advice and information that all of us have from our respective districts, to help him solve that problem.

I say to you now that I have somewhat of an inkling of what is going on with regard to relief. It is my impression that what I prophesied in the confirmation proceedings we had are coming through. The gentleman who was appointed as the Public Assistance Director is now giving to this Governor the same scare that his predecessor, in the former Administration, gave to the other Governor; as much as the intentions of the Governor of the Commonwealth may be of the best, he is going to have those intentions undermined by a fear instilled into his mind by the same group of persons, the only difference being in the representative.

We had DeSchweinitz, and Governor James has Mr. Russell; and all those people work on a theory and on a decimal point; they all figure out that it take 8.57 to keep certain members of a family in clothing and in good health. That is their theory, and it does not make any difference how that portion of this money is being distributed, whether sickness occurs—which increases the amount—or changes occur which decrease the amount. They have their pencil and their paper, and they are the most impractical group of people that we, as Legislators, have come in contact with. And we are allowing those people, while we are laying off these three weeks, to undermine the good intentions and the judgment of the Governor, and instill fear into his heart.

I have been wondering where the Governor of Pennsylvania gets the figure $118,000,000, and I have been wondering where he is going to save it; but I think what is happening is, he is being confused, and frightened into a decision which is going to bring us nearer to increasing the army of unemployed, because, after all, human nature is human nature, if I can find a way to get ten dollars or thirty dollars a week without working I am going to get that ten dollars or thirty dollars; and the sooner you make that possible the sooner you increase the multitude on the relief rolls.

The $118,000,000, in my mind, represents the difference between the amount of money which was allocated for relief in the 1937-39 biennium—in other words, I am sure the Governor has been told, "Now, it will take $139,000,000 plus $118,000,000, or $257,000,000, to support the relief roll in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania." If that is the information he has been given, we ought to know it; and if that is the information he has been getting and the plan upon which he is proceeding, we ought to know it, and ought to be here to talk about it and to find out the fallacies and dangers of misinformation. After all, we can make all the political capital we want; when it comes to the imposition of taxes I am sure the minority group here can shoot at the program which the Governor will present for the raising of money for the carrying on of the normal and abnormal functions of the government; but I am sure we would be better off if we quit this waste in our motions, and our opposition to that end of it; but I am equally certain that the tax proposition must remain in abeyance until the relief proposition is determined. In other words, nobody knows how much taxes are going to be necessary until it is determined how much relief is going to be necessary, and I for one, feel that we are derelict in our duty—to leave this Chamber and to permit these men to have paper and pencil to figure out for us how much money is necessary for relief, and say to the Governor, "Here is your bill; that is what you have got to provide. Now, you go and provide it."

And the longer that condition is permitted to go on the more conflict and the more contrary statements you will get from the Executive Chamber. Every time the Public Assistance Director visits the Governor the plan must change, because they keep on using those pencils—for which we pay—and increasing those figures, because in increasing the amount of money to be distributed that necessarily increases the amount of social service workers who will be on the payroll; and it has gotten to be, in our Commonwealth, that the job of a social service worker is to create work, and the only way she can create work for herself is to increase the number of customers they have to come in on the regular day and get their checks.

Now, of course, there are exceptions to every rule, and there are some high-minded people who are associated with public charity; but, also, all of those people, in the main, get so taken up with their own percentages and their own figures and their own theories that they lose complete sight of the practical situation. There is a limit to the money that can be raised; there is a limit to the people who are entitled to be on the relief rolls.

I want it understood that I would feel it is much better that ten per cent of the people are what we used to call "chiselers" here, that we would be much better off to let those people participate, than to stop relief. I want it understood that I have a great respect and feeling of sympathy for those people who are rightly on relief and cannot do anything about it and cannot get work; but I haven't the slightest sympathy for the man who wants to take advantage of the fact that we are providing relief for those who deserve it, and gets money without working.

There are hundreds of cases in my own district. I can tell any social service worker, within three minutes' time, what the situation is in any home in the district, in the division, in which I live. No social service worker, either under this administration, the last administration or the preceding administration, has ever come to me to get my opinion on the situation of the necessities of any person in my division. There are hundreds of committeemen, both Republican and Democratic, who could give the chiefs at headquarters, over the telephone, more information than any social service worker who spends a week or two weeks determining whether certain people are entitled to relief. Some of them, in the meantime, are starving, and others in the meantime are pretty happy that they are able to conceal the real fact that they are getting relief they are not entitled to; and the State is encouraged by these Public Assistance Directors and these social service workers, because they do not believe that I know anything about the situation in my neighborhood—because I happen not to have had a social service education, I cannot figure out in decimal points how much is necessary; and they don't think my wife, or any other wives in the neighborhood, who know these families, have any ability to tell them about the necessities of the children in the neighborhood because she didn't attend the social service school; and we are allowing, by adjourning here we are allowing this problem to be delayed three weeks further. The important thing in the Constitution is not with reference to appointments we had that provision referred to last night—is not that with the advice and consent of the Senate the Governor's appointments may be confirmed—I think it would be much better if that were changed, and if the Governor could have advice and counsel from the Senators on the new problems which are arising today, and which are much more important.

As I said, I did not advise the Governor that he should appoint Mr. Russell; he did not ask us and we did not consent—because we did not believe, and many of my friends on the other side did not believe, that Mr. Russell was the right man. But certain interested groups of people in Philadelphia—not Republicans or Democrats, but certain groups—the same groups that recommended the appointment of Dr. DeSchweinitz to one Governor recommended the appointment of Mr. Russell to another Governor; but he is the gentleman who is now the head of the Public Assistance Department and is going to have charge of the distribution of upwards of two hundred millions of dollars, and not one of us would think of putting at the head of any business establishment that we were interested in—a man to distribute that amount of money, who was inexperienced in such work. After all, this Senate is entitled to a bit of consideration, too, and many of us have had it here; and I am strongly objecting to this precarious and dangerous business—of allowing the Governor to be influenced, without our advice, by these men who have no practical experience but are dealing with theory.

MR. OWLETT. Mr. President and members of the Senate, the resolution that my colleague from Philadelphia has just spoken on is the resolution providing for a recess of this Senate until the twenty-seventh day of February, skipping two of the regular weekly meetings of this Senate.

I want to say, first, that what has been said by the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, in connection with the theory and approach that we have observed, to the problem of relief, I am sure that many of us concur in. We believe, however, Mr. President, and I am sure that the Governor believes, that the new Secretary of Public Assistance proposes to clean out this system which is saddled on this State. There are many people on the relief rolls whom we believed are not entitled to be there. However, this Administration and both parties have pledged themselves to furnish adequate relief to those in need.

Now, Mr. President, this resolution has as its basis the information, that has come to this body, that it will take at least two weeks in order to complete this budget. It will take, in other words, two weeks to ascertain what the requirements of the next biennium will be, what the effects of the savings in the various departments will be on the budget. In other words, the whole legislative program of this session of the Legislature depends to a large extent on just what can be worked out in the way of economy and just what will be found to be the actual needs for relief when the proper surveys have been completed.

Now, it is very obvious, Mr. President, that this Administration, having taken office just three weeks ago without having any opportunity to know the true state of affairs, and learning, after coming into office, that we are faced with a deficit probably greatly in excess of the deficit that was indicated prior to the inauguration—it is very obvious that the work necessary to be done in order to intelligently approach the whole legislative program has got to be carefully worked out.

I want to make it clear that this time is not going to be wasted. It is proposed, during this recess, to have numerous committees of the Senate and of the House work on this legislative program, consult with the heads of the departments, and see in what way we can cooperate to cut down these costs and save this State from what otherwise would be financial disaster—if we went on at the rate at which we were going prior to this Administration.

That is the purpose of this recess; it is to do this necessary preliminary work in an orderly way, and many of us are convinced that if this recess is taken and if this intensive work is done during this period, until the twenty-seventh, we will save much time in the end.

That must be so, under the circumstances; and, may I point out, it has been suggested by the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, that there is a lot of other legislation that should be considered. In the last Special Session of this Legislature bills were introduced and passed which have saddled on this Commonwealth some nineteen million dollars of additional expense—just last November. Now, that is a very good illustration of how necessary it is, in considering our whole legislative program, to know what the revenues are going to be and what the requirements are going to be for relief and for all other purposes.

Now, I want to assure the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, that we are all as anxious as he is to see that this department that handles relief cuts out the chiselers, cut down the expense, does away with these theories which we know have produced costs that run into fifteen or twenty per cent of the money that is appropriated for relief; and I want to assure the Senator from Philadelphia that this Administration will welcome, during this recess, any suggestion from any single member of this Senate, whether on the Republican side or the Democratic side, which will bring about a saving of money in this next biennium.

We are approaching this next biennium with a problem such as no Administration ever before faced, and it is going to require the concerted, intelligent, honest effort of every single member of this body and of the House to meet this problem; and I speak advisedly when I say that if there is any member of this Senate, whether he be on the right or the left, who has any suggestions to make by which relief can be cut down and still take care of the needy and unemployed in this State, or where money can be saved in any other department, we hope that such suggestions will be made, because we have got to cut the cloth to fit the pattern, we have got to economize. The people of this Commonwealth have got to understand that the time has come when there is not an unlimited supply of money, that in the last analysis the people pay these bills.

I could not help thinking, last night when I heard them speaking here on the Public Utility Commission, and explaining the actual necessity for the Public Utility Commission to cut down its expenditures, and they on the other side answered by saying, "Why, that does not come out of the Commonwealth"—I could not help thinking how erroneous that answer was; because it does come out of the Commonwealth, every cent of expense comes out of the people of this Commonwealth, whether it is paid through rates to a utility or through taxes which go into the State Treasury.

It is a fallacious approach to this problem, to propound such a theory. The time has come when we have got to realize that when you pay out money for a salary of an unnecessary employee, that money is coming out of the pockets of the people, whether you do it through the subterfuge of taking it out of the coffers of a utility or you take it out of the coffers of an industrial enterprise that pays, in rates, toward the expense of the Workmen's Compensation Board—it all, in the end, comes out of the people; and we propose, Mr. President, during these two weeks; to give—the Republican members propose to give practically all their time and thought to this; and we hope that our Democratic colleagues will join with us in studying these problems, and assist in working out a program so that when we come back here in the twenty-seventh we can face this whole situation as it should be faced, knowing what our requirements will be, and meeting this in the way it should be met. I hope this resolution passes, that we may have this time to give to this study.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I learned last night, and I want to say frankly I have heard a lot of talk about lobbyists coming around in the Senate. I should like to say to the members of the Senate that on many occasions I have taken dinner with some lobbyists, and also lunch; I know some of these so-called lobbyists personally—and I do that because I want to get their point of view. I talk to labor lobbyists and I see no reason why I should not talk to utility lobbyists, as long as they will give me their opinion without trying to sway me by ulterior means and for ulterior purposes; and I found to my amazement last night that one of the utility expenses, because of the new regulations placing costs on the utilities, is around ninety thousand dollars.

Now, I agree with the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, that that comes out of the pockets of the community; and I agree that if that can be cut down it should be cut down; but I disagree with the Senator in this way: that no problems can be solved unless the facts are approached with honesty and fairness; and I agree that if the Governor of the Commonwealth had said, "I want these pay-rolls cut down because you are putting an unnecessary burden on the Utilities," I could not have any quarrel with him; but when the Governor comes out on what is called an economy drive and says he is going to save millions of dollars, and in the course of that statement, and in the next breath, says he is going to have the Utility employes fired and save money, he is not frank, and if he believes that statement somebody is giving him misinformation.

Last night the Senator from Montgomery, Mr. Edmonds, suggested to me that if I have some way of helping solve this problem I should go to the Governor and tell him about it. I stated that I do not go to a man's home unless I am invited. I have been a Senator here since the first of January, and the Governor, I have no doubt, knows I am here, and knows a lot of other Democratic Senators are here, but none of us have been asked to give our views.

I say that, as a Senator, feeling my responsibility, I have examined the budget from 1927 to the present time, and I have analyzed it and am familiar with the figures, and with the governmental functions and what they cost; and the only source, I submit, for obtaining information, that I have known up to now, is by getting it on the floor of the Senate. And I say that when we vote $26,000,000, having already voted the transfer and appropriated it to the Department of Public Assistance when we had the information that it is going to cost $9,000,000 a month from now on to run the relief problem, and in my humble way I figure three times nine is twenty-seven, and therefore in three months that $26,000,000 should be enough—and when I see a member of the Senate, for whose integrity I have the highest regard, stand on the floor and say it is not enough—not only not enough for three months but, unless we pass these bills now, when we come here on the twenty-seventh we will not be able to send out checks on the twenty-seventh, then I say it must be because information is given to the Governor that nine million dollars per month is not the maximum but that probably twelve million dollars per month is the maximum, because three times twelve is thirty-six, and $34,000,000 is being asked.

And then I view with alarm the picture, as I figure it up in my own mind, and I say, why is it that these additional millions are needed now?—because the first figure was wrong or because the second figure was wrong? and when I read in the reports of the Public Assistance Department that last week—the week ending January the twenty-first, close to last week, one of the previous weeks, this was the situation, I am further alarmed: there were 9,628 cases opened, and 4,167 closed. That means we have increased our relief loads by some 5,400 cases; that of the 9,000 cases opened 4,118 were accepted for assistance because of the loss of private employment or decrease of wages, 2,946 were accepted because of loss of Federal Works Program. Now, I compared the closing—to be fair about it—and I say that 383 were dropped because of Federal Works employment, which means a net of 2,600 people were dropped off WPA employment. Those are the people I am concerned with, because they have shown they are willing to work and now they are thrown on the relief roll. Why? Because Republicans and some Democrats alike have failed to secure for Pennsylvania the benefit of the proper proportion of the taxes which we pay; and I say we should stay in session, because my first suggestion, making it from the floor as I would do—because I have not been invited, nor have any of my colleagues, to tell this to the Governor—that a resolution instead of memorializing Congress to give $150,000 to the Dies Committee—and, by the way, $100,000 has already been appropriated, so there is no use talking about the resolution—we should have a resolution there that a committee should be appointed, of members of the House and Senate, to visit those in authority in Washington and show them this picture and tell them that this load may likely be $12,000,000 instead of $9,000,000 if we continue to drop from Works Progress the people that they are dropping every week; I say that the Senators representing Pennsylvania, including the Senator from Pennsylvania Mr. Davis, should immediately proceed to join with us to solve this problem by introducing a resolution at once to increase that appropriation by the $150,000,000 which was unadvisedly refused.

Who is paying that $150,000,000? We have not reduced our tax payments to the Government of the United States in the last six months? our share is the same. Why should we not get that money we are receiving, so that Pennsylvania taxpayers will not be paying twice as much money—being asked to add this additional amount to their taxes? And that is the reason I say, when asked about this question of taxes, we can take our political views and spread them on the floor here but I am asking the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to give us the estimate of unemployed, I am giving him our word that we are ready to help solve this problem, with what little knowledge I have of the situation. But I want that he should make up his mind that the election is over, and that he did make promises which it is quite likely he cannot possibly fulfill; and I am agreeing, for the sake of settling the argument, that the situation is changed, if that will help, and it is not what he thought it was; and he frankly admits that the real problem in Pennsylvania is the relief problem, and we have got to see what we can do to solve it, and stop trying to play for political position by saying he will cut out four or five millions of dollars in the administration of the government, and that will save it.

If you will look at the address of the Governor in 1937, on February the twenty-fourth, you will find that he pointed out that he saved four million dollars in the costs of government; and he asked $139,000,000 for relief. What was his $4,000,000 compared to the difference between the amount appropriated for relief and the amount actually necessary? Why, for the two years, instead of $139,000,000 we are going to spend $218,000,000, and I would rather have spent that $5,000,000 by setting up an intelligent personnel who would have looked into the relief problem, given that $5,000,000 to them, and I am quite sure that in Philadelphia alone one-third of the relief can be saved by an intelligent and proper study of the situation.

But you will have to be equally frank about your politics, and stop worrying about whether Roosevelt is going to run for a third term or not, and give Pennsylvania its fair share of the taxes they pay to the Federal Government. That is what you will have to do; you cannot, in one breath, in Congress decrease the income in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania from the Federal Government, and then try to decrease the expenses, the money we will have to spend for relief.

And my friend referred to nineteen million dollars of a new program. I would like to have this $19,000,000 analyzed, and I would like to know whether some of it will go to the building of schools, to the building of public institutions—which will decrease our unemployment by providing employment, which will increase our industry in Pennsylvania, by enabling industries to sell to the manufacturers and sell building materials.

I would like also, on the other side, to look into the costs and see whether or not it will cost more than the Commonwealth can afford; but if, as we spend that nineteen million dollars, and as the result of the spending of the nineteen million dollars we get money from the Federal Government, an additional sum for employment, our relief roll will be reduced. The only problem we have to consider there is whether the overhead created by this new problem is so great we will not be able to function normally without additional taxes and expenses.

My friends, that is the proposition up until the approach of this relief situation, without politics. We are human beings; you cannot expect to call us names today and tomorrow expect us to sit down with you and help in harmony, help you with difficult matters and help you solve important problems, if you tell us we are children of an Administration that has been extravagant, and you tell us that with facts and figures that are not fair and not right. We are going to object and get mad about it, and if we get mad about it we are not going to be able to reason; and that is why I say, "Who are these committees that are going to meet?" That is why I say, "Why are you going to adjourn?"

You are going to have various committee meetings, and once these gentlemen leave here they will find enough problems to solve at home, and if other individuals ask them, they will not be back; and when I say it is an emergency, that in a situation as critical as this the people of the Commonwealth are not told—it is everybody's problem, it is every citizen's problem, and they should be warned that when they see a neighbor collecting relief to which he is not entitled it is not merely playing tattletale to tell on them, but it is a public duty to let the proper authorities know.

We know, no matter whom you get, you will have some unnecessary expenditures, and we will know, whether it is a Republican or Democratic form of government in power, these things will occur; but we can get it done. There is no reason why the thing should be allowed to run away with us, so we should take the word of one man here that relief necessity of one week has increased from nine million dollars to twelve million dollars.

We should say to Governor James, "You promised these gentlemen relief from taxes." He would say to that, "Well now, I thought I was going to be able to reduce taxes, but I find the record shows that as a result of private employment there were at least three thousand people dropped from their work by private industry last week, and put on the payroll."

I want to say to you, as Governor, now, that if that is what you are wanting to do on account of cutting taxes, you can intercede; and if he approaches it frankly, approaches it on both sides, he will get cooperation.

If a corporation is making six million dollars in profits and it will only make four million dollars by employing more people, it is its duty to put those people on the payroll and make the four million dollars, and keep them off the relief rolls for a year.

Who is paying that payroll except the people? They will be asked by these people; "Why run away now? Why run away now when in only a matter of two or three years from now we will be in the same position, and give the same excuses, and have the same reasons for over-throwing this form of Government as has caused the governments to be overthrown in Europe.

You gentlemen may have seen in the New York Times a review of a book by a former member of the Reichstag. I advise you to read it; it will give you the causes and the explanation—not the excuse—for the rise to world power of Hitler; it gives you an explanation; and I say to you when you compare those causes, as years go by, with what is going on in this country, you will find that they approach and parallel the excuses for the overthrow of government there; and it is time, high time, that we realize that we are playing with dynamite, and I see no reason why we, as Legislators, should leave this session now for two weeks when the problem is so all-important and so dangerous in its aspects.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, what I want to say is, I agree so thoroughly with my colleague from Philadelphia that there is no excuse whatever to stand up in opposition. I agree with him that the social workers have come to a point where they have what might be called a closed shop, and today are more or less what might be called cocky; and it makes no difference whether Isaac Biddle or Robert Johnson or Karl DeSchweinitz or Secretary Russell is in charge, if we have some way of bringing a large body of men to a focus, to intelligently cross-examine those people, I have no doubt it will save the Commonwealth money.

I remember distinctly, and you also remember, that we had Karl DeSchweinitz here at the bar of the Senate, and we cross-examined him here, and in at least one instance we did show an unnecessary expenditure of money; but, of course, that is a crude method—for fifty men to try to cross-examine an administrator. But, of course, that is our handicap—with all the members of the House and the members of the Senate it is very difficult to put your finger on the failure of these professional social workers.

But I realize that we are responsible for the money of the taxpayers, every penny is appropriated by us; and I can easily imagine that an over-worked man like the Governor is only too willing to yield to the opinion of the professional social worker.

Now, it is easy enough to say all that, and I digress for a moment—you may be interested—I knew a doctor in Jackson's Hole who was made the administrator of relief, and he was a very intelligent doctor and had many patients who owed him money, and he put all the delinquents on the payroll for relief, and when they made enough money they paid his bills; and that was a very intelligent way, I imagine, to administer relief, I imagine it was very wise; but my constructive suggestion, that I would like to put up to the Senate and the House, is that, recognizing our responsibility to the taxpayer, and also recognizing the fact that we are too big a body to operate as a Senate and a House, that we set up what we may call a Legislative Auditor—not a new idea at all, but this man would have the power to investigate any department and would have a perfect right to examine or use important file papers.

Some of us, perhaps, may feel this is a reflection on the Governor, but I think not at all if we recognize that the Governor is overworked and he would welcome such an individual as that. He would have to be a very exceptional man, I admit; but if he were given the power of pre-auditing, if he could shut the door before the horse is stolen, if he could discover extravagance in the administration of relief, I think it would be a very good idea, it would be very useful.

I would be very happy to have the Governor consider that; I think it should be considered; I am willing to vote for such a bill, and I think there is merit in the employing by the legislative body of a competent man to represent them and he to have the right to go into the Governor's office or anywhere else.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro is a man of many words and I take it from all these speeches he has made that he thinks while no one in this State should go hungry, and we all agree to that, nevertheless there is a great deal of waste, extravagance, and unnecessary expense in the administration of relief. The thing that sort of surprises me or impresses me is the fact that Senator Shapiro is introducing that as a new principle in this Senate. It seems to me that he has gotten some of those things from the pioneering some of us on this side and some on the other side did away back in 1933, 1934, 1935, 1936 and 1937. During all those years some of us were talking this but Senator Shapiro was using other tactics but I never heard him talking and saying that people were getting too much relief. I am glad to see that he is converted to that viewpoint. Someone has said, remember the old saying that arithmetic is first of sciences and the mother of safety, and I am very glad to know that the Senator from Philadelphia is converted to that viewpoint.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I think we should realize we are living in very precarious time. I am not so much interested in these political issues. I am more interested in the preservation of our Democratic form of Government. Every day brings new problems and I realize that the Governor of this great Commonwealth has many complicated problems before him. I want to say as a citizen of this Commonwealth that I want to help him in every constructive way I can. I want to further say that I am glad to have Senator Ealy as head of the Appropriation Committee; because of his past conduct I am sure that he will hold Secretary Russell and the other social welfare workers in line; but, my friends, I want to repeat that these times must take the full energy of every person who is interested in the Democratic form of government. This morning I received through the mail from a taxpayer in Washington County, a county that I hold dear, a clipping from a local newspaper which says that twenty thousand properties are to be sold for taxes and further down in the article it says "possible two and one half mill tax increase." That is another problem that we must consider, the problem of taxation in connection with this adjournment and I want to call attention of the Senators to this, that I learned, when I first came to the Senate, that almost all of the legislation was held until the last week or two of the session and that as a result it is a matter of common knowledge that no man—I do not care who it is—can give that legislation the attention that it justly deserves and as a consequence much of that legislation goes through in a very unsatisfactory manner and when it goes up to the courts much of it is declared unconstitutional. I advised some of our Democratic leaders before the session of 1937 that a lot of the legislation ought to be presented early and considered early and passed early, if possible, in order to get out of the jam that occurs at the end of every session. I repeat that today. It seems to me that unless there are other factors and forces of more importance that we should give any legislation that we have before the Senate now immediate attention, immediate study, immediate consideration, so that it will not go down the line to the end of the session and jam up other legislation and other things that may be before the Senate for consideration then. We have bills like the bill Senator Edmonds introduced, a very controversial measure that will require much attention, and there are other bills and matters of like import. Now it seems to me that unless we have reasons extraordinary or contrary I do not think we ought to adjourn but we ought to give these matters consideration in order to get them out of the way before the last week of the session, when we will have so many important problems to consider that we will not be able to give them the just consideration that they deserve. So, Mr. President, unless we have other reasons or important matters which to my mind have not been presented yet I shall vote against this adjournment.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, does the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, know approximately how many able-bodied men and women in this Commonwealth are unemployed?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I do not.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, does the Senator from Tioga know approximately how many able-bodied men and women are on the relief roll?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I do not know at this time.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, what problem is paramount in the view of the gentleman from Tioga—the effect of economies such as is contemplated by the Republican administration, economies through the pockets of the Public Utilities and corporations. I want the gentleman from Tioga to give us his view whether that problem is paramount in his mind or whether the solving of the unemployment problem should be paramount?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, in reply to the gentleman's inquiry I wish to state that the problems which this administration found confronting it after taking office on the seventeenth of January, have been found to be so many and so varied that it is pretty difficult to say what is the biggest problem. However, I think we can all safely suggest that this whole question of relief involving as it does the expenditures of millions upon millions of dollars is probably the greatest problem facing this State and this nation today. I was interested in hearing the Senator from Philadelphia complain of the WPA and the cutting down of that expense and in the same breath complaining of the manner in which relief has been administered. If I understand correctly it seems now that we are agreed that WPA if it was administered honestly, if it was administered with the cutting out of huge salaries, that have been paid and if politics were taken out of WPA, which we all know was begun in Washington that we probably would not have any relief problem in Pennsylvania anywhere near approaching what we have today. Now, unfortunately this administration cannot tell what is going on in Washington. We are in the position of having turned over to the national government the same type of people that the Senator from Philadelphia complains of. We are not in a position to object to the wasting of the money on public payrolls which we found existing in this state. That same waste everybody knows is going on in Washington but unfortunately we cannot do anything about that now. The elections do not come until 1940. We certainly can clean our own house. We certainly can meet the situation in an honest spirit here and that is what we propose doing and I say to the gentleman from Fayette, that if he has any suggestions as to the cutting down of relief, I repeat I think he owes it to the people that sent him to the Senate and he owes it to the State of Pennsylvania to give those suggestions and the value of his experience to this administration, because I take it that we are all after the one thing, namely, to adequately take care of those in need and do it at the least possible expense.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, whenever I go into court with a case and the problem or question involved is a very simple one and the law is very plain and then the court files an opinion of thirty or forty pages I know there is something wrong, the judge is trying to get away probably from an unpleasant decision that he does not want to make and so I feel it is with the gentleman from Tioga. The question I asked him was very simple and his answer to that question will govern the action of many of the Senators here on this floor. The question is plain; I want to know the views of the Senator from Tioga on this dilemma we have here. On the one hand we have millions of unemployed and on the other hand we have the claim of the public utilities and corporations who claim that the burden of taxation on them is too heavy and they are asking for relief of that burden.

Now the question I have asked the Senator from Tioga—I want to know from this administration which one of these two problems is paramount in their minds, the relief of the public utilities, and these corporations from these taxations or the solution of the unemployment problem, seeking to find jobs, and establishing jobs for these unemployed. Now this is a very simple question, it does not take a thirty or forty page opinion to answer what his views are on that.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, apparently the Senator from Fayette has an entirely wrong approach to this whole situation and that is why the elections resulted as they did last November. He apparently does not realize that the solution of this relief problem is fundamentally getting our people back to work, and he apparently does not realize that the way to get them back to work is to encourage business. Now that does not mean, Mr. President, and the Senator from Fayette knows it as well as anybody else that you can stand here or anybody can stand here and say relief is more important than corporations. The whole mess we are in today is a result of the demagoguery of certain people in this State and in Washington who, as an excuse for playing politics with human misery, has spent all their time talking about utilities and corporations and business. Instead of getting down to brass tacks, and if he wishes an answer I say if we are going to go ahead we do not need any classes in this country. We are all in favor of the same thing, are after good business to get our people back to work and that will solve the unemployment problem, and what we propose, if I understand this administration correctly, this administration proposes at the same time while they are taking care of those in need, to give encouragement to business so we can get the unemployed back on private payrolls at a decent salary so that they can be again independent law abiding citizens instead of vassals of the State kept on the relief rolls at inadequate wages so that they are merely existing, and that is the only answer I can make to the interrogation of the Senator from Fayette.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, then I am right in assuming that the view of the gentleman from Tioga is that we must reduce those taxes, if any, that are burdensome on the business so that business may have that relief, and as a result of that big business will then start the wheels of industry going and absorb the unemployed. May I take that as a proper view of the answer of the Senator from Tioga?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, the answer to the Senator from Fayette is that he apparently does not realize that all taxes in the final analysis are paid by the people. All taxes are. When he stands up here and says we want to relieve corporation taxes and talks as though that was only taking it out of some huge coffer or some bloated bond holder, he just is not talking about the truth.

All the taxes come out of the people in the final analysis and we want to relieve the people of Pennsylvania from all the taxes we possibly can. Of course we do. That is what our duty is, to cut down taxes wherever we can.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I want to understand the gentleman from Tioga real well.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I want him to.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, do I now clearly understand that it is his view that the reduction of taxation generally, state taxation is what this administration will aim to do in this session?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, positively, this administration, as far as I know and at least as far as my views go, is that one of our main objects should be the reduction of taxation all along the line as fast as we can and adequately take care of the functions of this government, and adequately take care of relief.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, since the Senator from Tioga is extending an invitation on behalf of this administration, expecting the Democratic members of this Senate to contribute their views towards this problem, will the Senator from Tioga also extend the promise or assurance to the Democratic members of this Senate that the administration will, in this session, take steps to reduce taxation on the people of this Commonwealth.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I think I have made that clear, on this whole situation.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I do not think he has with me, because I think every member of this Senate, every Democratic member of this Senate is ready to pledge to the Senator from Tioga and promise him faithfully that if the Governor will suggest what taxes can be reduced and taken off of relief—and by doing that the unemployment situation will be solved—I do not think there is a single Democratic Senator on this floor that will not pledge and promise faithfully and truthfully at this very moment that they will vote for that kind of a program.

We will do that and we want the Senator from Tioga, who is speaking for the Governor and the administration, if he will promise that, that they will give us, Mr. President, some idea of how legislation can be introduced here to reduce taxation, that will reduce unemployment. I always receive considerable information that I would not receive otherwise whenever debates on matters take place here on this floor.

I enjoyed immensely the suggestions made by the Senator from Philadelphia, Dr. Woodward, I regard his suggestions of a legislative auditor a very interesting one, and one that should not be passed up without some consideration, but I tell the Senator from Philadelphia, Dr. Woodward, that those who conceived the form of Government that we have and who conceived the machinery of this Government, the parliamentary machinery, had all of that in mind, because in the adoption of the parliamentary laws they devised a system of committees as we have here in this Senate. We have various committees, a Committee on Aeronautics, a Committee on Agriculture, a Committee on Appropriations, and a Committee on Banking. Now those committees are so classified and so designed, that when matters come before a body pertaining to a certain subject that that matter would be referred to a committee that would have knowledge of that particular matter, and that committee, if I understand well the intentions of the founders of this system of Government, if that committee should have on it—if it is a committee on Labor and Industry, why then it ought to have on it members who have some knowledge of that, if there are members in that body that has that particular knowledge. I trust that the Republican colleagues on the other side takes my remarks in the proper spirit.

I say this not as a reception upon the Senator from Delaware, Senator Heyburn, in making this illustration but here, ever since the Senator from Delaware, has been a member of this Senate, he has been regarded as one who has some knowledge of agriculture, an agriculturist. Of course I appreciate the fact that agriculture is an industry of this State and this nation, but I say that in the organization of a parliamentary Government it was also taken into consideration here in this Senate that we have a Committee on Agriculture. The intention is to refer to that committee all matters pertaining to agriculture, but lo and behold! in the organization of this Senate the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Heyburn, the agriculturist, the man who knows considerable about farming and agriculture, this man is Chairman of the Committee on Labor and Industry. In my opinion, that is putting a square peg in a round hole.

I want the Senator from Delaware to take my remarks in good spirit, because I am not reflecting on him, I am merely analyzing the suggestions made by the Senator from Philadelphia, Dr. Woodward, that we ought to have a proper man to be an auditor for this legislative body, and then we look down on those members of that committee who are members of the Committee on Labor and Industry. I cast no reflections, but I want to say that there is my good friend, Senator Chapman, on the other side. Now, Senator Chapman is a doctor, he has studied medicine, he is well versed in that philosophy and in that science and he has devoted all his life to that thing.

There is nothing that will convince me that Dr. Chapman would know as much on that subject as Senator Dent or Senator Haluska about the coal mining industry, the views of the coal miners. You cannot convince me and that is no reflection on the Senator from Warren, Mr. Chapman. That, I think, is another square peg in a round hole.

I have called attention of the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, who has devoted all his life to the study of the law and the representation of public utilities and corporations, now he knows a whole lot of things about the coal men or about the steel mills or industry of that kind, and I say that is another round peg in a square hole.

We can go all down the line and the appointments of those members of those committees—and I do not want to reflect upon the gentleman from Susquehanna, the Honorable President Pro Tempore of this Senate, I do not wish to reflect upon his good judgment here and his honesty in these matters but I say that if you were sincere and honest and statesmen as we understand statesmen to be, in this body there would be great care exercised in the appointment of chairmen to these committees and the appointment of members because you would take some pains at least, and if you wanted to pick out a committee on Labor and Industry you would pick out men in this body who would have reasons to have some knowledge of labor and industry, and when we pick a committee on Agriculture, we would pick men who have knowledge on that, and then when bills are left to those committees pertaining to those subject matters, they would have better consideration and would have a chance of getting better legislation.

I am inclined to agree with the gentleman from Philadelphia Senator Shapiro, and my colleague from Washington, Senator Reed, that with these problems before us and the chaos that prevails and the uncertainty of the plans of the administration, this is no time to adjourn, and say, "you go home, and when you come back about three weeks hence, we will know where we are heading."

Now, if the interpretation of the Senator from Tioga is sincere, then I say let us stay right here. We will stay here, we will give them our opinions on these problems, but do not send us home, and then expect us to come back here three weeks from now and then say well, you did not stay here and give us your views on this matter. We are ready now. Let us not shirk. Let us meet the problem. If the Governor wants our opinion you tell us, and if the Governor does not want to invite the whole Democratic delegation into his chamber, we will appoint a committee to go over and talk this matter over with the Governor before we adjourn.

Mr. SIPE. Mr. President, probably at the outset of the remarks of the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, members of this Senate got the impression that the Committee on Agriculture is a hopeless committee. I want to disabuse their minds of that theory. The Committee on Agriculture is in very good shape—because I am on it. At this point I would like to interrogate my friend the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I shall be very glad to be interrogated by the Senator from Armstrong, Mr. Sipe.

Mr. SIPE. Mr. President, I wish that the Senator from Tioga would tell this body whether or not—if he knows—whether or not the Governor has requested this intermission of several weeks.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, in reply to the Senator from Armstrong, Mr. Sipe, I desire to state that I do not understand that the Governor has requested the Legislature to adjourn. The Governor has stated, and the report was in the newspaper and I shall not try to question it, that his budget will not be ready for at least two weeks. The Republican caucus, having that statement before it, concluded that it would save time and expense, as I have already indicated, for all the Senators to work and be ready, when the budget is ready, to go ahead—the thought being that all the legislation is involved in the budget, directly and indirectly.

Mr. SIPE. Mr. President, the reason I asked the question is this: I was over in the House about half an hour ago and I heard Mr. Woodside, in the House, make the statement over there that the Governor had not asked for this intermission.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I think that is what I replied.

Mr. SIPE. Mr. President, I am wondering whether it is something the other side here are trying to ram down the throat, or throats, of both the Governor and us Democrats.

I am willing to admit that the Governor is greatly interested in economy, as well as the rest of us are. I am willing to admit that he has done a great deal of talking about the theory, at least, of economy; but he seems to be a little short on the practical side; and so it occurred to me that probably it was with his knowledge and consent that this adjournment or intermission of several weeks was asked for, that he wants to get a little bit of the practical side of economy in his mind.

I say, he has a great deal to say about the theory of it. Sometimes it takes a man a considerable time to bridge over from theory to practice—and he is short on the practical end; but, as I said the other night here, during the past year, for about ten months, he had a great deal to say about the theory of economy while holding down his job as Judge of the Superior Court, and doing no work; for ten months he leaned on his shovel. But at the same time I was hearing, in my district, a great deal of criticism about the poor fellow on WPA who occasionally leaned on his shovel; while here we have the spectacle of the now Governor of Pennsylvania leaning on his shovel for ten months, and drawing down approximately $14,000 for that shovel-handle leaning, which is as much as a poor devil on the WPA would be paid for his shovel-handle leaning in twenty-eight years. So, probably, I feel what the Governor really wants is a little intermission here for a couple of weeks while he gets booked up on the practice of economy.

I am sorry that the answer of the Senator from Tioga does not set me clear on it yet. I do not know, for the life of me, whether he genuinely and bona-fidely wants this adjournment or whether it is being rammed down his throat as well as down our throats on this side.

My own opinion of the matter is this: In these serious times, with these questions which are thundering in the ears of the State with the solemnity of the thunder of the Apocalypse, in this situation as it presents itself to us, it would be un-American for us to go home for two or three weeks.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I favor this resolution, and feel that the learned Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, should also favor it. He has led the opposition to the passage of certain bills in this Senate, and principally on the ground and for the reason that we are offering no definite program or plan. In fairness I will say that his arguments have had some logic and some soundness to them, and in some respects I agree with him. This I believe to be the opportunity to study, formulate and advance the proper program and plan for this Administration.

While we have received some sound argument and logic from Mr. Shapiro, I am sorry to say we have wasted an awful lot of time in this Senate listening to some of Mr. Shapiro's colleagues, on his side of the Senate. It appears we have in the Senate, unfortunately, a couple of Senators who appear to be quite good painters. They have attempted to paint pictures here since the opening of the Senate on the third of January. On the one hand the two gentlemen—the Senator from Armstrong and the Senator from Fayette—have attempted to paint the judicial and executive departments of our government in most terrible colors, while at the same time attempting to paint their portraits in brighter and fairer hues. The Senator from Armstrong has persistently attempted to show us his portrait in the spirit of a dirt farmer; and, try as I may, the only thing I have been able to see in that portrait of a dirt farmer is the corncob pipe which he has been smoking here on the Senate floor; and yet I suppose we do owe him some debt of gratitude because, as I recall, either on the third of January or the fourth of January he attempted to give us some reasons as to why he was proud of being a Democrat; and, incidentally, the fact that their supposed great leader, President Roosevelt, had admonished the people of this country not to look back at the horse and buggy days.

The Senator from Armstrong County takes us far beyond the horse and buggy days, back to the time of Thomas Jefferson, to find some reason for which he could be proud to be a Democrat. And yet, possibly he should not be blamed altogether for that, because we citizens of Pennsylvania have learned during the past four years some things about the Democratic party, and I am afraid many of the citizens of this Commonwealth came to feel that the Democratic party stood for a different principle than the one for which Thomas Jefferson stood; and, too, many of the citizens of this Commonwealth came to think of the Democratic party, in this State at least, along the lines of the Gag Law Rule and the Gravel Scandal; and so, possibly, we do owe a debt of gratitude to the Senator from Armstrong County for showing us some goodness in the Democratic party.

Now, the Senator from Fayette County has been attempting to paint his portrait in the guise of the squire and protector of the poor people; and so, every time he has taken his seat in this Senate he has again appeared to add to that panel portrait of himself even to the extent that he would try to create a laugh at Senator Owlett's expense, at being the representative of some companies, possibly, in this State.

Now, I do not know how the rest of the Senators feel but I, for one, am sick and tired of hearing the kind of stuff we have been hearing in this Senate. It seems to me that each and every one of us should come to the conclusion at this time, if we have not before, that the people of this State are no longer interested in Democratic fakers and hypocrites; the people of this State are interested in securing in this State a businesslike administration.

The people in this State do not want relief except as they are forced upon relief. What they do want are good jobs back in private industry. And so, I earnestly and sincerely make a request of all of our colleagues in this Senate, no matter on which side of the Hall they may be seated, that each and every one put his shoulder to the wheel and try to give to the people of this State that for which they have been so earnestly calling and praying for the past four or five years.

Before taking my seat, in fairness I want to say that I am thankful, and I think our citizens back home are thankful, to know that our Democratic colleagues from Allegheny County, on the other side of the house, have not been guilty of the same things that some of their own colleagues have been guilty of.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, this a debate on the resolution that we adjourn for two weeks, until the third Monday from now. On that resolution I shall vote "aye" with great good will, because I am convinced that the first step toward the orderly formulation of a policy requires a budget—a budget that will be accurate in regard to costs, and for the preparation of such a budget, the Governor says he needs more time. I am satisfied with that statement, and personally, I think we should adjourn in order that the budget may be prepared. But the discussion today has taken several very wide lines and very interesting lines. Like my colleague from Allegheny who has just spoken, I too, have observed the comments and the criticisms that have been made. Some people ask, "Are you going to provide money for relief?"—then, "Are you going to decrease taxes on business?"—and then, "What new ways are you going to devise for the purpose of raising money?"

I do not think, Mr. President, that anyone is qualified to answer those questions in advance of having reached a conclusion, and I do not see how anyone can reach a conclusion without knowing how much the legitimate expenses of the ordinary program of the State, as well as the extraordinary program of the State, are likely to be; and, therefore, while it may be possible to ask those questions, I do not attempt myself to answer them.

Now, I want to devote myself to this question of relief for a few moments—which seems to have been brought into the situation. As I understand the matter in the State of Pennsylvania, about 15% of our population are dependent upon Government funds for support at the present time; about one half of this comes from the State and about one half from the Federal Government. That is a very heavy proportion; it is about a million and a half people. How on earth can we get those people back to work and end this problem? I want to suggest a few facts on that subject, that I think are well worth while.

In 1870, when the census was taken, we had 32.4% of our population who were gainfully employed. In 1930, sixty years later, when the census was taken, we had 39.8% of our population employed in gainful employment,—a gain of 7½% on the basis of 120,000,000 population, so, roughly speaking, say 9,000,000, we had a basis of 9,000,000, then shortly after that came a stage when 9,000,000 got out of work.

Now, that has been due in very large measure to the abnormal growth and the employment of women which has gone on in my life, that has made of women up and honest producers in social life. I regard it as a very fine movement, and I know there are many of us in this Senate now who know of homes in which the man has not been able to be the bread winner, in which the women has taken on the responsibility; that is a great thing.

Now, we have right now forty-nine million people in the United States gainfully employed at the present time. That would include the men and women who would want to work, and would end the relief problem.

Recent statistics prepared by Colonel Ayres, of the Cleveland Trust Company—he will be remembered by those in the World War as the statistician of the Aes, who produced the figures in General Pershing's report. He has directed attention to the fact that out of the forty-nine million people, twenty-six million are engaged in productive lines, and twenty-three million are preserved in servicing lines; the two groups are almost equal in the United States, more nearly equal than any country on the face of the earth.

Twenty-six million factory workers, miners, agriculturists, that produce something by their labor; twenty-three million are the skilled workers, the clerks in retail stores, doctors, dentists, lawyers, and the people they serve, and as a result we are justified in saying in the United States that when we give one hundred people employment in a productive line, we employ ninety people in a servicing line. Now, as a matter of fact, we in the State of Pennsylvania could find private productive employment for eight hundred thousand, the servicing lines that would be necessary by the work of those eight hundred thousand would take up the other seven hundred thousand. How are you going to get it? We can only get it in my judgment, by encouraging new industries in this State; we will not get it by having a system of business taxation which sends industries to other states.

I call your attention to certain significant facts, that to my mind read a lesson to those of us who really want to end unemployment.

In the fifth year period from 1920 to 1926—now remember that—time. We can all remember that. It was a time, Senator Gelder, when you and I were serving in the House. In 1920 there was a panic, with a consequent low of employment. One thousand nine hundred twenty-six was such a prosperous period that in that six year time we had developed to such a stage that when a person now says he wants to re-establish economic standards he refers to 1926, and that is what we want to reach. In other words six years went through the cycle which we hope the next six years will go through, starting with a panic and unemployment and ending with a period of prosperity for this country. In that six year period there were nine hundred and seventeen thousand fewer employed in factories, and yet the factories produced more work; and there were eight hundred thousand fewer employed in agriculture, and yet the farms produced more food; there were two hundred and forty thousand fewer employed by the railroads, and yet the railroads carried more goods and carried them more cheaply. Now, if I stop at that side of the line you would say they were too many employed during that period, probably two million lost their work, and there are a great many of the economists who talk about economies, merely from the desire to avoid trouble, they just give you the figures and stop that side of the line, and yet to complete the answer, by presenting the other half of the case, that same period of six years from 1920 to 1926, seven hundred and sixty thousand more people were employed in the automobile and its servicing. Including a hundred thousand drivers on Sundays; a hundred thousand more were employed as insurance agents; a hundred thousand more in electrical servicing, a hundred thousand more in the general direction of construction enterprises; two hundred and thirty-two thousand more as teachers in the public schools made necessary by the tremendous increase and the enrollment in the higher schools and colleges; a 125,000 more in the servicing of motion pictures; 170,000 more as barbers and hairdressers, made necessary by a development to which I myself contributed nothing. Five hundred and twenty-five thousand more were employed in the preparation and servicing of food in the great settlements of restaurants and road houses, tea houses, to the extension of traffic.

Now, in these new lines, two million one hundred and twelve thousands were employed in that same period of six years, and that is the normal development for this country.

I see no objection at all to a boy leaving the farm and becoming an insurance agent, if he is good in that field. I see no objection at all to a man leaving a factory and becoming a school teacher, that is an indication of the higher development of civilization on the part of the American people.

How can we bring that about in Pennsylvania? I do not think—this is the only partisan element that comes into this speech that I make this morning—I do not think we can do it by the kind of legislation that was enacted in 1937. I am inclined to think that there must be a kindlier attitude before men who have ideas will bring those ideas into Pennsylvania, in order that they might settle here.

As I suggested along this line, I hope my colleagues will permit me to refer to a bill that was introduced in the House of Representatives this morning, Act No. 237, introduced by Representative Edwin Winner, of Montgomery County. This is the first attempt to introduce taxation along practical lines that I personally have heard of in the United States. There may have been other attempts, but this is the first thing that has come to my attention as an incentive to encourage employment within this Commonwealth; providing for refunds from capital stock and corporate net income taxes for a limited period, to corporations, joint stock associations and limited partnerships, which, during the calendar year 1939 increases its employment within this Commonwealth as hereinafter prescribed, ten per centum or more over its employment within this Commonwealth during the calendar year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-eight, shall be entitled to a refund equal to five per centum of the amount of the capital stock tax and corporate net income tax, if any, paid by it at any time during the calendar year one thousand nine hundred and forty for the preceding calendar or fiscal year; and every corporation, joint-stock association and limited partnership, which during the calendar year one thousand nine hundred and forty, increases its employment within this Commonwealth as hereinafter prescribed, ten per centum or more over its employment within this Commonwealth during the calendar year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine, shall be entitled to a refund equal to five per centum of the amount of the capital stock and corporate net income tax, if any, paid by it at any time during the calendar year one thousand nine hundred and forty-one, for the preceding calendar or fiscal year. Employment is to be determined on the basis of a combination of three factors, the average number of employees within this Commonwealth per working day; the total amount paid out in salaries and wages to employees within this Commonwealth during a total year; and the total number of man-hours of employment furnished as compared with the total number of man-hours of employment furnished in the preceding year.

I was interested in studying that question, and obtained figures from a dozen representative corporations in manufacture and transportation and that bugaboo, the utilities and other things of that kind, and I find there that if they raise their employment ten percent, and we then give them a deduction of five percent on their taxes for two years we would gain ten dollars for every one dollar we lost; we would lose the one dollar but we would gain the ten by the number that would be taken off the relief rolls.

I regard the spirit of this bill as indicating what legislators can do to encourage industry. I do not feel that the speeches of the three guardsmen, if I may so call them—I do not think those figures will encourage newcomers to come into this Commonwealth. I think we have got to show them Pennsylvania is prepared to give the worker, industry, its good share, that Pennsylvania is prepared to play fairly with industry, and when we once demonstrate that, we can look for the time when each year there will be an increase of the migration of industry into Pennsylvania. Remember, with every thousand productive workers you have got nine hundred service workers provided for, and realize that it will not take so many years before we can recover from this period.

If, on the other hand, we adopt the attitude that the industrialist is an undisclosed crook, if we adopt the attitude that the industrialist is to be penalized for his work, then we will not have small industries growing great in this State.

Remember, Mr. President, that every big industry in this country starts with a man, and ideal. The Baldwin Locomotive Works, one hundred years ago, Baldwin was a little jewelry store up in the Frankford region, and he produced a steam engine in his back yard, and out of that finally developed the Baldwin Locomotive Works.

Henry Ford had precisely the same experience. I believe there is just as much inventiveness among the American people as ever. I believe very strongly ideas of fermenting now, that will make as much change in the social life of our people as the automobile and the motion picture has been in our own generation.

I believe we in Pennsylvania should account those industries into our State and I believe we can do it by playing fair with industry.

All of this is far aside from the question we have before us, as to whether or not we will give the Governor time to prepare a budget, so that he may proceed with his plans.

Personally, I am in favor of giving him the time and I am going to vote "aye".

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I would like a couple of minutes to talk on the square peg and the round hole. Now, evidently, my good friend from Fayette, Senator Cavalcante, has not taken the trouble to investigate the background of his colleagues in this body. I, of course, own and operate a farm, and I am a partner in another establishment. I have arbitrated labor disputes in Delaware County. This thing has been going on now for some time.

The Senator from Fayette has been putting this on my shoulders on innumerable occasions, so I took the trouble to investigate the thing and I found out the Senator has aspirations to the chairmanship, and the disappointment has been too much for him. I regret very much he has taken it so hard, and I wish to state that some time in the near future I will introduce a resolution expressing the sympathy of this body to the distinguished Senator from Fayette in his dark hour of bereavement.

Mr. MCGINNIS. Mr. President, I am not surprised that our friends on the right and the Governor do not know what to do. They promised us so much during the campaign, they promised to give a good job to every WPA worker, they promised to reduce taxes on industry, and attract and hold industry in Pennsylvania, and all I heard was, "Well, we have got to get back to the good old days."

Well now, I remember the "good old days" very well and I saw under that system of "good old days" values disappear in the United States. I saw ten thousand banks close their doors, and they were closing up like paper shells and as I said, I saw values disappear in the United States.

We have had an administration that had some tough propositions. I am proud to stand here today and have our Governor acknowledge that the taxes that we levied in the last four years cannot be reduced now. He did not say that during the campaign, but he does have the courage and manhood to say it now, and so we have got to have the same taxes, and that is an admission that we did not levy too much taxes. We have got to have the same taxes, that same amount, or maybe more and I know that is bothering my good friends on the other side, how to keep their promise of taking taxes off the manufacturer or industry, or whatever you may call it, and putting it some place else.

Of course, for forty years in Pennsylvania this Government provided a taxation system that made the real-estate man, the little home-owner, pay about ninety per cent of the taxes of Pennsylvania; although of all the wealth you see in Pennsylvania, of all the land and all the buildings and all the mills you see that is only about forty per cent of the wealth of Pennsylvania. Sixty per cent of the wealth of Pennsylvania you can not see at all, and yet there has been only about a ten per cent taxation of Pennsylvania industry; and so, when we in the last four years, took some of this tax off of real-estate locally and made some of the people, who had a little—like the owners of stocks and bonds—they could have paid a little and help the Government.

I want to say to you we have gone through a crisis and we are in a crisis now, and if we are going to save this nation, if we are going to save this nation and if we are going to save this State, I am saying to you that you could not have done that by economies from taxation, but in doing that we have helped to keep the people alive.

I can say while I hear a lot of criticism about our National Administration here on this floor, I know that in Western Pennsylvania eighty-seven thousand homes were saved by the Home-Owners Loan Corporation, to say nothing about the banks and trust companies saved through those loans, obtained through the Federal government. I am proud to say that during those years I have not seen a soup house in the United States; and I know that for years under the B. and O. depot in Pittsburgh there is a wide open space there and for years—and especially during the Hoover administration—I have seen thousands of people sleep there at night with nothing over them but papers. Thank my stars since President Roosevelt took office there has not been a soul that has slept under the B. and O. from the day he took office.

Now, we hear a lot about industry being run out of Pennsylvania. I do know that the manufacturing corporations of this state save about fifteen million dollars a year through exemption from the capital stock tax. I feel today the manufacturing corporations of Pennsylvania are not taxed any more than they are in any other State.

Now, of course, you can pick out one class of taxation in this State, or in one line of industry or one class of property, and go over to another state and say they are not taxing that much over there; but when you add up all the taxes in that other state, and all the classifications, you will find that even today in Pennsylvania the manufacturing corporations or industry are not taxed on the whole any more than in any other state. By the way, during these last four years of this terrible administration that we have heard so much about during the campaign, in my county there was built over a hundred million dollars' worth of mills; in my county, during the last four years, a sixty million dollar mill was built this year—or last year—so that I do not see that the industries are very scared about what has happened in Pennsylvania.

Now, I know this relief problem is a fearsome thing, and I was not in favor of Johnson or DeSchweintz being at the head of relief, or of Dr. Russell being at the head of it; I am mighty sorry that our Governor did not pick a hard-headed business man to handle relief, and cut down on these taxes. I am thoroughly convinced that so long as we have a professional social worker running the relief of this State we will never get anywhere, and we can worry and fret and sit here, you gentlemen on the other side and we on this side, but so long as we let a professional group like that run relief we will have that condition. We have got to adopt different methods; and so I say, then, let them take a pencil and write out what they want.

I know there are some men on the other side who would oppose that kind of financial management, and I know that there are men on the other side who will cooperate. I do feel, however, that this thing is so serious, and I know it is a pathetic thing to see a party come into power and after three, four or six weeks they then find out they have a job and not know where to turn.

I do not say they are lost but I do say they made so many promises during the campaign that they cannot fulfill now that they are worrying and do not know where to turn, and want to call a halt for a couple of weeks so that if possible they can find some way, somebody who has some sort of a program—and I agree with the Senator from Philadelphia that the place to do that is right here—not let these department heads handle it—what do they know about state government? No man, no matter how brilliant he is, can go in and clean out a department or cut out those positions. It was amazing how he cut into the Utility Commission payroll, and I was a little bit suspicious that maybe the urge there was to save the utility treasuries as much as the Treasury of Pennsylvania; then, too, it may be that these utilities do not want to have quite so much inspection as they have had, to see whether they were doing right or wrong, but I do not see how any Governor or any man could come into the State of Pennsylvania and say you must chop out two or three hundred men in a department.

That sounds good for Pennsylvania and that will sound good for two or three weeks, and I see the political effect of that, it will be in the people's minds for three or four weeks and soak, or lie there, but I know, and every Senator in this room knows, or on this floor knows, that this payroll will not stay cut. When you weed out a department almost completely and then say—for a few weeks—we are going to save millions and millions and millions of dollars, I can see how that looks good in print for the time being, but everyone of us knows that the greater portion of these men will slip back in there so slyly that no one of us will hardly know it; so that in no time you will find that department will be manned by about the same proportion as in our administration, because I say you may all watch the old administration pretty carefully, and I say to you they did a lot of cutting, but they never did as much wholesale cutting without replacements right off the bat. Even today or when this Republican administration took control of this administration of this State, one-third of the old payroll was still here. In other words, after four years of Democratic administration there were only removed two-thirds—after four years so that one-third old Republicans, under the old Republican administration remained on the payroll and are there today, unless our new Governor has knocked them off; and so I realize we are up against a stiff proposition, but I say to you, Mr. President, the thing to do is for us to stay here and get at the bottom of this thing.

Mr. GILSON. Mr. President, I presume I am poaching a little bit on the preserves of the Senator from Armstrong County if I go back not merely to the time of Jefferson, but go back even beyond the Caesars to the time of the Tunic Wars.

It is proposed that we adjourn for two weeks, to come back the twenty-seventh of February. I do not remember about Carthage, but I remember that there is a famous Latin phrase Carthago delenda est, which means for the benefit of agriculture and labor and industry or Carthage must be destroyed.

Now on each and every occasion where the noted Roman at the Bar was speaking, he said Carthago delenda est, which is very germane to this resolution of adjournment. I would like to indulge in a little repetition of the inaxim, and in doing so I take keen pleasure in contemplating the courteous gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Woodward, who, I think, joins me in this same translation or conception of this idea.

I have noticed that at almost every session of the Legislature the gentleman from Philadelphia has a resolution to amend the Constitution which goes to the question of the form of taxation. I believe that he was wholeheartedly in support of the adoption by the electorate of Pennsylvania of a Constitution which would be sufficiently elastic to be competitive with the bordering States and enable us to compete with them in the kind of taxes which we might levy, regardless of the size of the burden, where it could most readily and most equitably be borne.

Now, I think there is a little poetic justice and a little irony of fate that the organization which took upon itself the burden of convincing the people of Pennsylvania that their Constitution should not be amended according to the lines suggested by the gentleman from Philadelphia, who belongs to their own organization are faced here today with a problem which they helped at that time to create.

It seems to me that it is an act of human nature to see a problem in one particular light and then magnify that and keep the spotlight focussed upon that one particular idea. We are all prejudiced toward our own ideas. Everyone who has listened here this afternoon is convinced that the members of this Senate who are Republicans are still Republicans, and we who were Democrats are still Democrats. There is a lot in the philosophy that has to do with pride of performance.

Those who have conceived the idea that the sole solution of the problem of relief and the problem of industry in Pennsylvania rests upon the policy of taxation are only following the bent of human nature, and sort of indulging themselves in the delight of their own conception.

Now I say there is much more to this question than that, there is a great deal more, Mr. President; you and I and the good Senator from Montgomery County have given us here today facts that ought to remind us that the necessities of industry change with science and invention.

We can remember when the railroad in this Commonwealth were not only great employers of labor but they were the great purchasers of materials, because of the purchase of steel rails, the construction and improvement of roadbeds, the construction of railway cars—men by the thousands were employed. Our coal fields, both bituminous and anthracite, have reflected and coincided more or less with the development and then with the decadence of that great industry.

That is not the only industry in Pennsylvania that has been affected not merely by the development of automobiles, not merely by the development of other means of transportation and communication, but we have seen a change in the method of doing business and we have tried to accommodate ourselves to this swift moving cycle and finding no adequate solution it is perfectly easy and simple to say it all refers back to the tax burden.

Now, let us assume that if we relieve the burden of taxes upon industry by cutting one or two mills off the five mill tax, capital stock tax, of Pennsylvania we are going to assist the coal mining industry of Luzerne County or the bituminous industries of the western part of the State, that we are going to create a demand for steel rails, or that we are going to create a demand for railroad cars, that are going into some other industry and create a demand—now, let us not focus our minds too much upon a subject that is too easily discussed, but which does not have the significance that it should have.

Now I think that any solution that is approached on such a general basis without any understanding of the real cause of the decay of Pennsylvania industry is not going to do anything to satisfy the fellow who advocates such a change.

We do have a large job in Pennsylvania, and this Legislature can perhaps be of some assistance in trying to work out that problem, to do anything that while we may by taxation be able to lick this problem in a very small degree, we can not during this time overlook the fundamental difficulties that have reduced Pennsylvania industry to the low ebb at which it is today.

I have heard nothing excepting the subjects of taxation and relief discussed in this Senate for some time. I think these are both important problems, but taxation means very little to an industry or an individual whose income is perfectly adequate to take care of the taxation. It means a great deal to industry or to the individual who has no income with which to take care of these taxes.

I think it would be very well during this interim that is going to be imposed upon us that it be called to the attention of the designers of the mechanics of recovery, which we expect to see in full bloom when we return back here two weeks from now to call the attention of these architects to the fact that there is something else wrong in the policy of Pennsylvania Legislation in its relation to business besides the subject of taxation and I would like to have an answer when I come back here in two or three weeks from now as to whether or not the administration is satisfied that there is anything else wrong and whether or not there is anything that we as a Legislature can do to help, and I then would like to analyze that answer and I think I can then demonstrate that what is proposed as a method of taxation is far less important than what we can do to directly bring out established industries in Pennsylvania to a place where they become not merely producers but also customers in the market stimulating production of other industries and the reduction of unemployment.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, we have gone far afield from the question whether or not we should adjourn now to discuss the relief problem. The best answer on the question has been given by my friend, the gentleman from Somerset, Mr. Ealy, when he said that he now is glad to find that I have been converted to his view; and now, whether it be conversion or not, I am of the opinion that the Governor should adopt his budget at a time when he can still be in a position to secure an exchange of views. I would like to tell him directly on the question because I think being here will be helpful.

For instance the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Edmonds, suggests there is a very fine bill in the House, a marvelous bill that will help industry to increase employment.

Now, let us analyze that for a moment and then we will know he cannot do it. That is not going to solve our problem because in the years 1935-1937 there was collected from corporations a capital stock tax of fifty-three million dollars from domestic corporations and twelve million dollars from foreign corporations, a total sum of sixty-five million dollars and if all the corporations took advantage of the Act and were entitled to their five percent discount, which would entitle them to $3,250,000, and if that were divided among forty thousand corporations, then you could release the magnificent sum of eighty dollars per corporation—that would be the benefit derived by the corporations.

Now, seriously and honestly, are we to believe that corporations are going to increase their payrolls ten percent, increase their employees by ten percent, because they will have had an average decrease in taxation of eighty dollars a year, or rather eighty dollars per biennium, two years, or forty dollars a year.

Now, that may be an answer to the question, but I cannot see it. There is nothing to the proposition that by saving three and a quarter millions of dollars out of sixty-five million dollars that will induce employers to increase employment.

We are discussing the subject of adjournment, and I say there should be no adjournment while we have these problems to solve.

Certainly, before we can sit down and discuss these problems intelligently, all this steam has to be gotten out of our systems and all these resentments should be laid aside and this is one of the ways of laying them aside.

The new Senator from Allegheny is amazed at some of the things presented, at some of the things that have been said on this side of the house—he has not heard any from the other.

I am in the fortunate position of being one gentleman who has been on both sides of this Senate, and you can appreciate, and I think my friend from Tioga will admit that that is a distinct advantage, because of that I have been able to listen to both sides, and you can appreciate the opportunities I have had to listen on both sides. I will say that although the song may have been titled differently, the tune has been the same, there has been very little harmony and plenty of discord and lack of mutual understanding. The gentlemen will find these things can be intelligently handled, and we want to help and there is no malice on this side of the Senate, but in the excitement on these questions I do contend and do insist that the arguments that have been made and the talks that have occurred on the floor—I am convinced of the fact that this session should not adjourn, it is not necessary, that I should go home while the Governor makes his budget.

If it has taken so long and he is unable to make the budget, then that is because he has not received proper assistance, and we should be here daily to confer with him and discuss these matters with him. We are ready to show you that we are willing to cooperate in solving these problems. I cannot promise you we will be able to cut taxes and solve it in that way, but we can talk about what the problem is.

The gentleman from Somerset says I am converted. I was not converted. Let me put the proposition to you. We came here in 1935, there was great excitement, people were starving, there was pressure from all groups, nobody was able to consider the problems fairly and in a proper way and we did what we thought best under the circumstances, but shortly afterwards the Governor of Pennsylvania appointed some men who I consider are outstanding citizens—and I do not think the problem can be solved unless you will give the people who pay the bills the outstanding citizens, who are interested an opportunity to take a real interest, and how can they expect to cut taxes without understanding that it could or could not be done.

We should take these people into our confidence and we found ourselves that when we appointed a committee of interested citizens—disinterested from politics, but interested in the problems confronting us, what did we get? We got a report from those people that it would take $39,000,000.00 to take care of old age, mother's assistance, and blind pensions and that it would take $99,000,000.00 to take care of direct relief, and that is $138,000,000.00. Now, what happened? Remember—and you will understand the importance of the situation when you find that in addition to that $138,000,000.00 the Government almost matched the first $39,000,000.00 contribution to old age assistance, mother's assistance, and pensions for the blind, and you have a colossal sum.

What is it that caused that tremendous increase from the amount suggested by people who made a disinterested survey? That took into consideration the fact that by virtue of the fact that by taking off the unemployed list what were known as old age, from the relief, where we would reduce the amount spent for direct relief—we could then increase the proposed payments for old age, mother's assistance and blind pensions, because we would get money from the Federal Government which would match our efforts. If that was so why is it today instead of that plan having worked out the necessities have increased from $139,000,000.00 to $218,000,000.00?

It is in discussion of that fact—it is in consideration and analysis of those figures that we will arrive at some solution of this problem, because we will arrive at the cause of the failure if you will call it that, and that will enable us to reach a solution.

There is no sense talking about the politics of the situation and saying that the Democrats were licked—everybody knows they are licked—that is past, and that is not going to help.

Instead of saying Carthage must be destroyed—the Democratic party must be destroyed—so that the Republicans can get full control of the Government, my answer is in the form of saying if you destroy the Democratic party you will destroy Government, because you can not start out with that perspective today any more than you can accomplish the best results.

I believed in that report, I believed those men were disinterested in creating that bill which created the Department of Public Assistance. It is wrong to put this machinery in the hands of people—and I say to you now I sat on the other side of this House, and I do not want to see this machinery put into the hands of the same type of people.

I have seen political appointments made, I have seen them made before this, and I hold no brief for that, it is just one of the evils of our form of government.

Let us understand this one thing, the Governor does not need that we adjourn in order to make his budget up. The Governor needs only two things, first, that we shall not adjourn and shall give him our counsel if he will take it, and secondly, he should adopt this—he should forget politics for the next four months, because there are no elections until the fall election—we should forget all about politics, and make up our minds that we will not have opportunity to be either politicians or statesmen.

POINT OF INFORMATION

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I would like to rise to a question of information, if I can get the information from the gentleman from Tioga, I desire to know whether he will be interrogated.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I will be glad to.

Mr. DENT. Is it not true that the statutes provides the Governor shall make his budget message to the General Assembly on or before February the 15th?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I am sorry I can not answer the question of the Senator from Westmoreland. I have not read that statute recently.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, it has come to my attention that that is a law, and I believe that that is the reason for the answer about whether or not the Governor asked for a recess. I feel the Governor would not do that knowing so well he must submit his message before the fifteenth of February.

I feel it is unfair to the minority to put us in a position of saying to the people at large that the Senate of Pennsylvania and the House of Representatives of Pennsylvania recess for two weeks, and therefore the Governor of Pennsylvania cannot give his message on the situation of the budget to the General Assembly as the law provides. I do not think it is fair to put him in a position where he cannot obey the law as it is written.

I don't think this General Assembly should recess for two weeks. I do not want to go into the case of taxation, because when I do I will present facts, after a study of them—and some of the members tried to get a report of that study long before it was due. When we make that report we will give you the best of our knowledge and information, and the proper status of the taxes and what should be and what should not be done regarding taxes on industry.

I therefore intend to vote "no", and I think you all ought to vote "no"—although I know you will not.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I am intrigued by the musical figure of speech my colleague from Philadelphia, Senator Shapiro, used. In his conducting of a symphonic orchestra of the Senate I want to extend my compliments to him, for his energy in conducting them, but my one objection is that he is very fond of encores.

Mr. SIPE. Mr. President, I have no intention of consuming any considerable time of the Senate on this occasion. I simply wish to make one or two remarks in reply to the remarks of the new Senator from the State of Allegheny. Abraham Lincoln called it the State of Allegheny, so therefore, I have good Republican precedent for calling it that myself.

In one breath he seems to be greatly distressed that Senator Cavalcante and myself painted what he called pictures of ourselves, but I believe that down in his heart he is not greatly opposed and averse to painting personal pictures, because he has just gotten done painting a picture of himself, and he seems to have made up his mind that he would not keep us weepingly waiting for an early view of that picture.

As to the epithet "demagogue" which he hurled at us—and I take it that he meant it as an epithet, because that is the general acceptation in these times, I like to think of the word "demagogue" in its original meaning—you know it is from the Greeks—demos, meaning the people, and gos, to leave, so that it literally means leader of the people, and that peradventure he meant it in that sense, and I accept the compliment on behalf of my colleague and myself with profound thanks.

Now, I do not know that I have been particularly noted for criticising the courts on the floor of the Senate. It is true that I did criticise a member of the Superior Court of Pennsylvania—now the Governor of Pennsylvania—for his lying down on the job, for his doing no work but drawing full pay. I would consider myself a coward if I would rebuke a WPA worker for loafing on the job—rebuke a poor devil for loafing on the job and drawing full pay—and not having the courage to rebuke the Governor of Pennsylvania, who is setting an example that is worse than a thousand WPA loafers. I would think I was as big a coward as any person of my acquaintance if I would rebuke the little fellow and be afraid to rebuke the big fellows, and I have no apologies to make for rebuking the Governor of Pennsylvania for setting that bad example, either here in this Senate or elsewhere.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, I have enjoyed the excursion this afternoon far afield, and I certainly have enjoyed the brilliant talks of my colleagues in this Senate but I confess that I have only a certain amount of cerebral brilliance, but I think the best effect of all this culture could be brought about if we had just a little interval in between to digest the same. I say to you, Mr. President, if you continue in the extreme tolerance you have shown this afternoon that the Senate will not be called upon to vote for an interval of months, so I move you that we proceed to the original question.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, before that is done I would like to say a few words and I would like to ask the good Senator from Montgomery, Mr. Edmonds, a question. There has been, Mr. President, an awful lot of discussion here this afternoon, but I have attempted to follow it very closely and while there has been a lot of chaff thrown out here this afternoon, there has been a lot of good constructive information. I was particularly impressed with what the Senator from Montgomery furnished in the way of statistics. I believe that there was in what he said much constructive information that can be used in the solving of the problems that must come before this body. I would like to ask the Senator from Montgomery one question along the lines that he has discussed.

Senator Edmonds, in your investigation of these economic problems did you find any statistics showing how many people had deserted the farms in Pennsylvania in the last ten years?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, no sir, at least I have no figures on that line, but I think they might be obtained. The figures that I gave for the six year period were prepared by the Committee of Social Changes at Washington, for a ten year period, and they were accepted by the American Statistical Association and published by them. That is the best authority that I have seen in this country, but I have never seen it broken down into states. I have no doubt Pennsylvania would have its fair share.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, thank you very much.
And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. CAVALCANTE and were as follows, viz:

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

TUESDAY, February 7, 1939.

The House met at 1:00 P. M.

The SPEAKER (Ellwood J. Turner) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. Walter Evans Diebler, offered the following prayer:

We thank Thee, O God, for the definition Thou dost give us concerning the performance of our civic duties. Thy Word teaches us "Let every soul be in subjection to the Higher Powers: for there is no power but of God; and the powers that be are ordained of God. Therefore, he that resisteth the power withstandeth the ordinance of God: and they that withstand shall receive to themselves judgment. For rulers are not a terror to the good work, but to the evil. "Wherefore we are in subjection for conscience' sake. Help us then to render to all their dues: 'Tribute to whom tribute is due; custom to whom custom; fear to whom fear; honor to whom honor." Bless all public officials in the discharge of their duties in the light of this Sacred Trust. This we pray in the name of our God. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of yesterday, when, on motion of Mr. G. R. THOMPSON, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal approved.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. ANDREWS.

RESOLUTION No. 13.

In the House of Representatives, February 6, 1939.

Whereas, The former Secretary of Health, Dr. Edith MacBride Dexter, repeatedly stated that the grounds at the Cresson Sanatorium were so undermined that it was not deemed advisable to construct any more heavy buildings on that location; and

Whereas, Competent engineering authority has questioned the technical accuracy of the statements made by the former Secretary of Health; and

Whereas, Cresson State Sanatorium property presents a valuable holding which should not be in danger; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Department of Mines is requested to make an examination and furnish the House of Representatives, within thirty days, with the following information:

1. To what extent has the coal underlying the Cresson State Sanatorium grounds been removed.
2. Has the removal of coal endangered any of the buildings which comprise the sanatorium plant?
3. Is it true that it would be unsafe to construct any additional heavy buildings on any of the sites now available at the Cresson State Sanatorium?
4. Should the Commonwealth, in order to insure the safety of the Cresson Sanatorium plant and place it in a position where it would be capable of future development, purchase, in whole or in part, any of the coal seams underlying the property?

Referred to the Committee on Mines and Mining.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. SWEENEY from the Committee on Judiciary General, reported as committed, House Bill No. 132, entitled

An Act to repeal the act, approved the thirtieth day of July, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-eight (P. L. 18), entitled "An act suspending, retroactively as well as prospectively, any other pending investigation, legislative, executive or judicial, of charges of, or involving, misdemeanor in office on the part of civil officers liable to impeachment, which the House of Representatives undertakes to investigate, and providing under what circumstances the suspended investigation may be resumed."

Mr. ALSPACH from the Committee on Judiciary General reported as committed, House Bill No. 131, entitled

An act to repeal the act, approved the thirtieth day of July, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-eight (P. L. 13), entitled "An act relating to the investigation of charges of or involving, misdemeanor in office made against civil officers subject to impeachment; providing that the jurisdiction of the House of Representatives to make such investigations shall have precedence over the jurisdiction of grand juries; and limiting the circumstances under which courts of oyer and terminer and general jail delivery or courts of quarter sessions, or judges of such courts, may authorize grand juries to make such investigations."

Mr. HAINES from the Committee on Elections, reported as amended, House Bill No. 92, entitled

An Act to prohibit assessments and demands for contributions for political purposes; and providing a penalty.

Mr. DENMAN from the Committee on Judiciary General, reported as committed, House Bill No. 128, entitled

An Act to repeal the act, approved the thirtieth day of July, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-eight (P. L. 17), entitled "An act defining the relative powers of the Attorney General and of district attorneys in investigations or proceedings in the criminal courts; authorizing the judges thereof to appoint, subject to appeal to the Supreme Court special prosecutors in certain cases, and providing for their compensation by the county."

Mr. JACOB L. MOSER from the Committee on Judiciary General, reported as committed, House Bill No. 129, entitled

An Act to repeal the act, approved the thirtieth day of July, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-eight (P. L. 15), entitled "An act defining the procedure for, and regulating, the investigation by the House of Representatives and its committees of charges of, or involving, misdemeanor in office on the part of civil officers liable to impeachment; authorizing the Speaker of the House to appoint a special committee for any such investigation; authorizing the presentation of evidence by the Attorney General and other counsel and the officers investigated; providing for the summoning of witnesses and for the punishment of persons refusing to appear, produce evidence, or testify; and authorizing the employment and compensation of counsel and other assistants."

BILLS ON FIRST READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 26, entitled:

An Act to amend section three of the act approved the twenty-seventh day of April one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven (Pamphlet Laws four hundred sixty-five) entitled 'An act to provide for the safety of persons employed housed or assembled in certain buildings and structures not in cities of the first class second class and second class A by requiring certain construction and ways of egress equipment and maintenance providing for the licensing of projectionists requiring the submission of plans for examination and approval providing for the promulgation of rules and regulations for the enforcement of this act providing for the enforcement of this act by the Department of Labor and Industry and in certain cases by the chiefs of fire departments in cities of the third class providing penalties for violations of the provisions of this act and repealing acts as amended eliminating the requirement that certain buildings shall be equipped with certain equipment in connection with gas meters to prevent or retard the escape of gas.

And said bill having been read at length the first time,
Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

Agreeably to order,

sand nine hundred and nineteen (Pamphlet Laws 581) entitled "An act for the better government of cities of the first class of this Commonwealth," as amended by providing a succession of officers of such cities to act as mayor in case of a vacancy or disability of the mayor to act

And said bill having been read at length the first time,
Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

INTERROGATION

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Woodside, relative to one of the first reading bills.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Dauphin permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOODSIDE. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, may I inquire whether it is the intention of the majority to appropriate another million and a half dollars to the relief fund, the general appropriation, by transfer as indicated in House Bill No. 186?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, House Bill No. 186 provides for the transfer from the Fire Insurance Fund of one million five hundred thousand dollars. It is the intention eventually to appropriate that sum along with an additional sum for relief to the Department of Public Assistance.

I might say, in further answer to the gentleman, that the bill on second reading provides for the appropriation of twenty-two million dollars. This we feel will not be sufficient to take relief through to the end of the biennium, May 31st, and it will be necessary to appropriate not only the one and a half million dollars which is transferred by House Bill No. 186, but it will be necessary for us to find additional sums in the amount of six to eight million dollars to appropriate to relief, and when that sum is definitely ascertained, an appropriation of the one million five hundred thousand dollars plus what ever additional sum may be necessary will be made.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 181, entitled:

An Act making a deficiency appropriation to the Department of Public Assistance for the purpose of carrying out the Public Assistance Law for the two fiscal years ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine

The first section was read as follows:

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 The sum of twenty-two million dollars ($22,000,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated from the General Fund in the State Treasury to the Department of Public Assistance to provide assistance and for local and certain state administration expenses in the manner provided in the Public Assistance Law for the payment of deficiencies for the two fiscal years ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendments.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend Sec. 1, line 1 by striking out the following after the word of H "$22,000,000"

Amend Sec. 1 line 1 by inserting after word of the following:

H "23,500,000 Twenty-three Million Five Hundred Thousand Dollars"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, as is apparent on its face, the purpose of the amendments is to increase the appropriation from twenty-two million to twenty-three million five hundred thousand dollars. Due to the fact that we have already passed on first reading House Bill No. 186, which transfers another million and a half dollars, rather than introduce a new bill, as we have already been informed through the interrogation of the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Woodside, for one and a half million dollars later on, we could do it through these amendments thus saving printing expenses and various other mechanics necessary for future action.

I therefore ask the membership of this House, since eventually we will appropriate one and a half million dollars to do it now through these amendments, and thus save time, money and effort.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, and members of the House, we appreciate the offer of the minority to save time, expense and effort in connection with this matter. However, I desire to call to the attention of the members the reason I am going to ask the House to oppose these amendments. The bill making the appropriation for twenty-two million dollars is on second reading. The bill making the transfer is on first reading. As a result of that situation it will be necessary to delay an additional day before any bill making the appropriation of twenty-two million dollars could become effective. For this reason we cannot appropriate the money unless it has in some way been provided. We have provided in transfers twenty-two million dollars, but we have not provided in transfer twenty-three and a half million dollars, and we could not provide that sum until the day after the passage of House Bill No. 181. In addition to that, I might point out to the membership of the House, that this one and a half million dollars additional appropriation would not be sufficient to carry relief to the end of the biennium, so that it would be necessary to make still another appropriation. This one and a half million dollars will be included in that other appropriation, so that there would not be any saving as a result of the adoption of these amendments. Therefore, I am asking the membership of the House to vote "no" on these amendments.

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it is not my intention to prolong debate on these amendments. I think they are proper at this time, and I trust the reason for the majority floor leader's asking the members to vote down these amendments is not because they were introduced by our side of the House. If that is so, I will be glad to have somebody from the other side of the House introduce them. I feel it is better to take a day longer so that these bills will be passed with the amendments, rather than later on, when it will take three legislative days to pass a new bill or a new appropriation. Therefore, I ask the membership of the House, to cast aside any partisanship feeling in this particular instance and vote for these amendments because eventually we will have to do it in the form of a new bill, and Mr. Speaker, I ask for a roll call.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Ominsky and Mr. Jiolanilo and were as follows:

RESOLUTION

Mr. HOLLAND offered a resolution and asked unanimous consent that it be read for the information of the House.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent for the reading of the resolution? Is there objection?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I object.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objection and consent is not granted.

MOTION TO SUSPEND RULE

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. Speaker, inasmuch as this resolution makes haste and does not make waste, but saves money, being a flood resolution, I move that Rule 84 be suspended for the specific purpose of reading the resolution for the information of the members.

STATEMENT BY MR. ACHTERMAN

Mr. ACHTERMAN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, reports emanating both from the press and Republican leaders indicate that the Governor at the present time is engaged in the throes of wrestling with a serious problem involving, according to the reports, perhaps shortages of twenty million dollars or forty million dollars, and I believe also the problem of endeavoring to cut the budget by one hundred and eighteen million dollars. As a matter of fact, it would seem that the problem is so serious that the Governor finds it necessary to have a period of at least two or more weeks to study it further in order to deliver his message to this House.

The Governor has indicated that it is his intention to pare to the bone all unnecessary expenses, and I believe, Mr. Speaker, that it is really the duty of both the Democratic and the Republican members of this House to assist him, wherever possible, in saving expense to our State government, and I rise at this particular time to point out that the Governor has himself demonstrated where it is possible to save a considerable sum of money in the cost of our government.

The Governor while still a member of the Superior Court for a period of ten months did not function, but the work of that Court went on as though they had never missed him or never had him upon the bench. As a matter of fact, opinions were handed down promptly in the same efficient and regular manner, and it has become very evident, Mr. Speaker, that instead of having a non-functioning judge upon the bench, we should have a non-existent judge upon the bench. Now, there is a difference between those two terms, Mr. Speaker. You understand, a non-functioning judge draws his salary, and of course, a non-existent judge draws no salary. Now there, Mr. Speaker, is a very considerable saving, because in addition to having no judge, you also eliminate a law clerk and a secretary. As a matter of fact, Mr. Speaker, you will save approximately twenty-five thousand dollars per year, or in other words fifty thousand dollars. As my contribution, small though it may be, as a suggestion to the Governor, I am introducing a bill reducing the number of the judges of the Superior Court from seven to six. I realize in so doing that I am going to assist the Governor in that tremendous wrestling problem he has with his conscience, because he will now be faced with the worry of whether or not he should reduce the number of judges, because while I appreciate that the members of this House are going along on this bill, and are going to help the Governor save fifty thousand dollars, he can wrestle with his conscience, because there I understand he is responsible on the question of whether he should or should not sign the bill.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman will be spread upon the Journal.

STATEMENT BY MR. WOODSIDE

Mr. WOODSIDE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

I think in fairness to the Governor a correction should be made to one statement made by the gentleman from Monroe, and that is in connection with the present recess. I know that most of the remarks of the gentleman were made in fun and as sarcasm, but that one particular remark may have been serious. The Governor did not request the legislature for a two weeks' recess in order to complete the preparation of his budget. The suggestion was made by members of the legislature, who thought that by taking that recess, we could by active work with the committees put the legislative program in such a state that in the end we could adjourn earlier than would be possible by continuing in session during the next two weeks.

RESOLUTION

Mr. ROSENFELD offered a resolution and asked unanimous consent that it be read for the information of the House.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent for the reading of the resolution? Is there objection?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I object.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objection and consent is not granted.

The resolution will be filed with the Clerk.

INTERROGATION

Mr. ROSENFELD. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Woodside, who made the objection.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I shall.

Mr. ROSENFELD. I desire to ask the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Woodside, whether he is familiar with the contents of this resolution.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman should know that I have no way of obtaining knowledge of what is in the resolution.

STATEMENT BY EDWIN F. THOMPSON

Mr. THOMPSON asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I wish to state my position clearly, being a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and of the American Legion. On last evening there was a resolution introduced to memorialize Congress to appropriate one hundred and fifty thousand dollars to investigate un-American activities. I would like to say that the few dollars that might be appropriated by Congress, might be used in the Chairman's own state of Texas, to investigate the activities in his state. I would like to say that there are many things that have appeared in the Press, that are happening and really recorded.

There was an article dated February 3rd that appeared in the Evening Bulletin of Philadelphia that called the President "a mental case." I feel that if there is any money to be spent in America, it might be better that we should begin at home, to investigate and beat down such opposition, referring in such a way to the greatest humanitarian that America has produced in many years, and that these people should know that the American people really stand for what they advocate.

In the Italian Press it was stated that having a President in the White House who had been affected by infantile paralysis, he should be surrounded by nurses instead of hoodlums, robbers and Jews.

I feel it is asking too much of the American people to stand by and allow a man to be beaten down when he has stood by American principles, and I have not heard the voice of the Chairman of the Dies Committee raised against such damnable expressions through various newspapers and through the Associated Press of America. The chairman of that committee has really said nothing against such opposition. I feel the time has come when we as soldiers and American citizens should raise our voices in protest. I have nothing against my friend who introduced the resolution. I believe that he is fair and sincere, but there are many things in the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion which should be wiped out, and there are many things in such organizations that should be set right. I believe that we should clean house in America before we start to memorialize Congress to do anything otherwise. I thank you.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman will be spread upon the Journal.

INTERROGATION

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Woodside.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Dauphin permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOODSIDE. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, I have heard the gentleman from Dauphin say several times before that during the next two weeks committee meetings will take place. Am I correct in that?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, that is correct. I said special committees will meet.

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, may I as a member of the House have the privilege of knowing just what particular committees are going to meet?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I will be glad to give the gentleman from Northampton such information when it is available.

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, I would like to inquire of the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Woodside, whether or not on these particular committees which will meet in the future there is going to be any minority representation.

The SPEAKER. The Chair could give a good answer to that.

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, I am not interrogating the Speaker; I am interrogating the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Woodside.

Mr. WOODSIDE. I yield to you, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. JIROLANIO. With pleasure, if the Speaker leaves the rostrum.

The SPEAKER. The Speaker would have no greater pleasure than returning to the floor and answer the interrogation.

Mr. JIROLANIO. I am sure you would, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, as to the appointment of committees, the Speaker is in a much better position to answer that question than I am. Frankly, I have very little if anything to do with the appointment of committees. That will be done either by the Speaker or by the chairmen of the standing committees and I am therefore not in a position to answer the interrogation of the gentleman from Northampton.

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, just one more question.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would like to state that the gentleman from Dauphin has stated that he is unable to answer further what the Chair would be pleased to answer—

Mr. JIROLANIO. May I again caution the Chair that at the present time I am interrogating the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Woodside.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would say to the gentleman from Northampton what he started to say before the gentleman from Northampton interrupted him, that he would be pleased to answer any inquiry that the gentleman might desire to make.

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, I now appeal from the ruling of the Chair, and ask that the Speaker step down so that I can interrogate him on several matters.

The SPEAKER. The Chair has made no ruling.

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, I will give the Chair an opportunity to rule now.

The SPEAKER. The Chair has no ruling to make; there is nothing before the House. The gentleman from Northampton has the floor and desires to interrogate the gentleman from Dauphin. Will the gentleman from Dauphin permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, may I suggest to the gentleman, if he desires information, he should know how, when and where to get it.

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, may I ask where, how and when?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I suggest that that question be addressed to you.

The SPEAKER. The Chair desires to inform the gentleman from Northampton that if he will come to the office of the Speaker following adjournment he will be able to secure any information he desires.

STATEMENT BY MR. JIROLANIO

Mr. JIROLANIO asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I arise only on a question which I know is also bothering every member in this Legislative Hall today.

It has been said on the floor of the House by the majority leader that certain meetings are to take place. I as a member of the Legislature representing my district, Northampton County, feel that not only am I entitled to know what particular committees are going to meet and what is going to take place at them but every member of the House that is here today is entitled to know, because after an election is over we represent all of the people of Pennsylvania and no political party in particular. Therefore, I want to say this, that we as members are entitled to know what is going on, when it is going on and how it is going on.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman will be spread upon the Journal.

ANNOUNCEMENT

The Speaker requests that the Chairmen of the following Standing Committees meet with him in his office at 4 p. m. today:

Agriculture, Schrock; Appropriations, Norman Wood; Dairy Industries, Snyder; Education, Stewart; Highways, Gillette; Insurance, Kline; Labor, Peale; Liquor Control, Lyons; Mines & Mining, Kane; Motor Vehicles, Trout; Printing, Hewitt; Public Utilities, Stockham; State Government, Habbysaw; Ways & Means, Winner; Welfare, Van Allsburg; Workmens Comp., Wilson.

HOUSE COMMITTEE MEETINGS

Appropriations, Tuesday, February 7, immediately after this session in Room 323.

Cities, 2d Class, Tuesday, February 7, immediately after this session in Room 324.

Counties, Wednesday, February 8, at 10 a. m., in Room 323.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Cambria will state his question of parliamentary inquiry?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, would it be in order for a member at any time to inquire if there are any lawyers in the House who have not obtained leaves of absence?

The SPEAKER. The Chair is of the opinion that it would be proper at any time for a member to inquire whether there are any lawyers in the House who have not secured leaves of absence, or any other profession, including newspaper men.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, would it be within the province of this House to grant all of the lawyers an indefinite leave of absence?

The SPEAKER. The Chair would say to the gentleman that as the Constitution gives to this House control over its members that it would be perfectly proper, within the sphere of the question which the gentleman has asked, for the House to give an indefinite leave of absence to all of the lawyers, but the Chair will say that that would be a great calamity to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

STATEMENT BY MR. ANDREWS

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I would like to make a statement not to exceed one minute and a half.

The only way that the members of this House who are not lawyers are ever going to get a square deal is to get all the lawyers to go home. These lawyers dearly love a judge. The gentleman from Monroe, Mr. Achterman, introduced a bill reducing the number of the judges in the Superior Court from seven to six because he knew that I had a bill in preparation reducing the number in that court from seven to five.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. O'DARE. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until tomorrow at 1:00 p. m.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 2:17 p. m.) the House adjourned until Wednesday, February 8, 1939, at 1:00 p. m.

Legislative Journal.

SENATE

WEDNESDAY, February 8, 1939.

The Senate met at 1:30 o'clock, p. m.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Samuel S. Lewis) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. BURLEIGH A. PETERS, offered the following prayer:

O Thou Great Artificer of the Universe, unto whom all hearts are open and all desires are known, direct and control our every thought, word and deed this day. How wonderful these moments of prayer are, and may constantly become, as we bow in humility and devotion before Thee e'er we begin our legislative task! Surely it must be pleasing to Thee to see us so doing if, perchance, it be not done perfunctorily nor of necessity but out of good and honest hearts who seek Thy favor.

We are stewards of the use of power for the welfare of others. May we use it wisely and mercifully. We are stewards of the sacred trust of government reposed in us by others for all the people of this Commonwealth. May we never betray it. Only by the daily replenishing of the altar fires of our faith in Thee shall we be kept faithful and constant in the honorable discharge of the duties devolved upon our shoulders.

Gracious God, may not one of us be so preoccupied with the lesser things of this life nor be inclined to minimize the great value of prayer nor even to under-value the use of prayer to the degree of utter neglect, that we shall fail of the life to come. May we scale the rugged heights of lofty purpose and high ideals in Thee by the royal road of fervent prayer, receive the vision of Divine service on the mountain-top and return to the valley indecision with a positive life of faith and power. Let this be our personal, spiritual attainment henceforth. In the Master's name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. OWLETT and Mr. GELDER, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Mr. GILSON asked and obtained leave of absence for himself for the balance of the week.

REQUEST FOR LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I ask for a leave of absence for my colleague the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Henney.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I move that the request be laid on the table.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, may I interrogate the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, we have read the tragedy of MacBeth, and you know all about Banquo's ghost. Mr. President, we on this side are getting pretty well like the guests at the banquet of MacBeth, we cannot, while Mr. Cavalcante may, see Dr. Henney's ghost—we on this side cannot see the ghost—we think the word applicable, that I confess; it is like, at the time of the banquet, when the other members of the party could not see Banquo, yet MacBeth saw him, and these were the words that Lady MacBeth told the guests:

"His highness is not well,

Sit, worthy friends, my lord is often thus

And hath been from his youth, pray you keep him so,

The fit is momentary, upon a thought, he will again be well, if much you note him, you will offend him and extend his passion.

Feed and regard him not."

So Mr. President, I have no concern, because I believe Mr. Cavalcante will soon be himself again.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, if the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, will pardon the prolongation of the session for about one minute, I would like to quote MacBeth also, and also with regard to Senator Henney, I would like to suggest to the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, a further quotation from Lady MacBeth when she said "Out, damned spot", and I think that applies to the Coroner because he is out.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, just to keep the records straight, I would like to call the attention of the Chair to the fact that we have received the resignation of Senator Henney; and, on motion, I believe by the Senator from Fayette, it was laid upon the table. The resignation was received and read.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I wish to state that a paper was presented which purported to bear the name of Senator Henney, but there was no proof it was his resignation, that it contained his signature. If the Senators on the other side think they have the resignation, why do they not bring it up and act upon it? The Senators on the other side have the right to accept a resignation, and then designate a date to hold a special election. Are you willing to do that?

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, it was the Senator from Fayette who moved to have that laid upon the table.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I disagree with the Senator from Susquehanna. I did not make any motion to that effect, but a motion to that effect was made by my colleague the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I stand corrected. I know it was made by one of the Senators on the other side and I thought it was the Senator from Fayette.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The motion was agreed to.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I listened yesterday afternoon to the remarks of my fellow Senators, and among them were remarks of my colleague from Philadelphia, Senator Shapiro. I was very much impressed by the high water mark that he attained yesterday afternoon in the debate; and, going back to the good old days mentioned by another Senator, I think it was a vast improvement over the good old days when there was very little debate. That little sign up there says "Speech is silver and silence is golden," and this morning I was impressed by the intelligence of the members of this Senate in the two hour meeting under the chairmanship of Senator Ealy, when we questioned and cross-questioned the Secretary of Public Assistance.

Now, there is no question that this problem of relief is a terrific problem, but it seems to me that this morning there was one side of the question that was conspicuous by its absence, and that is the question I want to refer to—and that is the amount of cheating or chiseling. It is very difficult to ascertain how much of that is going on.

Yesterday afternoon, when the Senator from Fayette was talking about the square peg in the round hole he seemed to regard with approval a suggestion I made of setting up a legislative auditor.

Fundamentally, we, the members of the Legislature, are directly responsible to the taxpayers as to how their money is spent. Now, it is a kind of a paradox that the Republican party in Washington, under the leadership of Senator Vandenburg, have declared one of the Articles of War against the President the bad practice of making lump sum appropriations, and the paradox is that in Harrisburg the Republicans are doing that very thing, making lump sum appropriations for relief.

Now then, it should be attempted to break down and get the items; and the main reason I am arising at this time is, if you admit—and you will have to admit—we have a great responsibility with the taxpayers' money, you will agree we have a lot of power that we do not exercise, and I would like to see it exercised at this time. Instead of having merely a legislative auditor, even with his pre-auditory power. I would like to go further and a bill is being drafted on the status of such an officer as a cabinet member. I suppose I should wait, but I cannot resist the temptation of making a few remarks.

This bill would set up an officer selected by the two Houses, who would pay his salary as a member of the Cabinet and he would be clothed with extraordinary power, as, after all, these expenditures are in the nature of an emergency, and he could call on the Highway Department to use their force in any county to check up on the Department of Public Assistance—you may call it a census—by going on a house to house canvass, or whatever you want to call it. Also he would have power to use the Motor Police for the same purpose. I am told, in that connection, that in Lancaster County, and I believe in some other districts, there are barracks where the Motor Police have very little to do. The highway Department and the Motor Police could be made useful in this direction, and it is a very practical idea to check up on this Department of Public Assistance and see whether there are chislers in what you might call X. Y. Z.

I talked with two men last night, one from the western part of the State and one from Philadelphia. The one from the western part of the State was from a little town named Renova. He said a conductor on the Pennsylvania Railroad told him about the number of chislers right there in Renova. That is a very small place, and they know all that goes on in those small communities.

The man from Philadelphia said one of his servants asked to be discharged—not to be actually discharged, but so that she would be able to say that she was discharged so that she could still have the job and at the same time be on relief. He also said that truck-drivers were bringing negroes from the South into Philadelphia, at so much per head so that they could get on relief in Pennsylvania.

That may be old stuff to the rest of you, but I got pretty excited about that; and therefore I am simply making a few remarks in the hope you will be sympathetic with that idea that we set up an officer representing ourselves, one who has the right of entry anywhere on the executive side—no slur on the Governor—and we can call him in generally to check up on the number of chislers cheating the State Treasury.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I had intended this morning to discuss what I think is a very important subject and to give to the members of this Senate some information which I think is important, because we are going to have a two weeks' vacation and we can think it over.

I do not like, however, what the gentleman from Philadelphia said. The last Administration, when I was a Republican in 1933, the Republicans would not listen to me at all. I have accomplished something—I have become a Democrat; and now the gentleman from Philadelphia said he listened to everything his colleagues said, and some of the things I said.

If I were not modest I would say if the Republicans had listened to some of the things I said and suggested when I was a Republican, maybe there would never have been a Democratic Administration in Pennsylvania, but I am too modest to say that.

What I want to do this morning is to read to the gentlemen of the Senate Section 602 of the Administrative Code. It says: "Section 602. Submission of budget to General Assembly—as soon as possible, and not later than four weeks after the organization of the General Assembly—" which would make it not later than February 17th, "—the Governor shall submit a State budget, embracing—" and so forth.

That is a mandatory provision which requires that the Governor submit to the General Assembly, not later than four weeks after organization of the Assembly, his budget. That has not been done.

The problem of relief is a serious problem and it is part of the budget. Yesterday I referred to the gentleman who has been chosen as the Administrator of Relief in Pennsylvania, and what I find after meeting that gentleman—and in fairness to him I should say he has been judged by us, and certainly by me, by the company he keeps—I find, if he carries out his intentions as expressed before the Committee maybe we will get some real co-operation and maybe get some results. Down in Philadelphia, and perhaps everywhere else, but particularly in Philadelphia—it may be true in other places; and I say this without being critical—since the Governor of Pennsylvania gave his address, which he called an inventory of the House of the Government, people generally have the impression that five hundred and ten millions of dollars were taken up into Harrisburg in the last two years and were spent right there for Governmental functions. That is an amazing figure and an astounding thought; so I thought it would be very helpful for the people in all communities if it were possible in a few words, and without using confusing figures, to let them know just what the situation is. I am going to try to put it without referring to millions—and if you gentlemen here will just forget the word "millions," as I use it, and think only of the number, you will get the same result.

Five hundred ten millions—all you have to think of is five hundred ten—was the total figure in the budget for 1937-1939—I am dealing with estimates. Twenty-three million dollars was what I would call a non-recurring item, because it was a repayment to the Motor License Fund. One hundred and fifty-one millions of dollars was the Motor License Fund, which really does not belong, so those two items do not belong.

Eleven million dollars approximately, because there was nine million five hundred thousand dollars for Forests and Waters and five million dollars for the State Authority, which is another item which you can leave out. That makes a hundred and eighty-nine million dollars, which is your figure, one, eight nine—that what it is. If you subtract that from five hundred and ten you get three hundred and nineteen, which is the normal State budget, leaving out special funds.

I think my figures are correct. You might have to deduct the additional five million dollars of special funds for Game and Fish, Banking and so forth, but the budget is reduced to three hundred nineteen millions of dollars.

Now, what is the amazing part of that picture? It is this: How many people realize how much money is actually spent here in Harrisburg for government, strictly as such? The total amount of that three hundred nineteen millions is exactly $35,995,000; that was the amount included in the budget the last biennium for Legislature, Judicial and Administrative functions. This time you will find in the budget, which is headed "For Government functions Other Than Subsidies," and it appears in the budget as sixty-six million dollars plus; thirty-five million dollars of it is, as I say, for purely governmental functions.

The other thirty million dollars goes to the Welfare Department for the upkeep of State-owned institutions, so that if you include both amounts of sixty-five millions—call it roughly sixty-five millions of dollars—you realize that out of three hundred and nineteen millions of dollars some two hundred and fifty-three millions of dollars are spent for other than governmental functions. What are they? Roughly speaking they are for schools, colleges and relief.

Let me break it down for you. Ninety-nine millions of dollars is included in the budget for what is known as subsidies. Of that amount eighty-two millions of dollars was awarded to schools—that is, the Department of Public Instruction; eight million dollars to the hospitals; and the balance to miscellaneous State institutions or State-aided. The remainder of the money was thirty-nine millions of dollars for Old Age Assistance and ninety-nine million dollars for relief, which makes up your three hundred and nineteen millions of dollars.

Now, the Governor has not presented a budget, but last night I sat down and I think in about an hour's time I prepared a budget for 1939-1941, and I am assuming—I am assuming in making these figures that the expenditures will be approximately the same, for the purpose of enabling the members of the Senate to think, and the public to think, about where those expenditures can be cut down.

I should have added, when I just discussed the cost of government, when I said thirty million dollars and thirty-six million dollars, I should have added fifteen million five hundred and seventy-five thousand dollars, which is the interest on the bonded indebtedness (and I am assuming, since we pay interest only on the balance, that the expenditures for the biennium ending in 1941 will be as follows: Bonded indebtedness, fifteen millions of dollars; Governmental functions, Legislative, Administrative and Judicial, thirty-six millions of dollars; State-owned institutions, thirty-millions of dollars; Subsidies, which include schools and colleges, will amount to ninety-nine millions of dollars—this same amount, ninety-nine millions of dollars.

Now, if you take that one hundred and eighty-one millions of dollars—one hundred and eighty, to be exact about it, but it amounts to a hundred and eighty-one, because I have left off the dollars and cents. You take that hundred eighty millions of dollars and you add to that what your relief will be and you will have the expenditures for 1939; and I will estimate the relief to be that which we have spent and will be required to spend, based on discussions with Mr. Russell today, to amount to two hundred and four millions of dollars. It is four millions less than what I think he definitely stated, and that is the budget of last year, plus the additional expenditures, and that amounts to three hundred and nineteen millions of dollars last year plus an additional sixty-five millions of dollars spent for relief over and above the anticipation of the three hundred and nineteen million, and the sixty-five millions gives you three hundred and eighty-four millions of dollars that you will need for the budget.

Now, where are you going to get that money? You are going to get a hundred and ninety-two millions of dollars from the normal taxes and income from the Government. That includes inheritance taxes, it includes normal corporation taxes and so forth. In addition to that you will receive, if our revenue is the same as last year, one hundred and eighty-six millions of dollars from the emergency taxes imposed in the previous administration; and that will give you three hundred and seventy-eight millions of dollars which you will receive.

Now we are going to transfer, at least as I figure it, forty millions of dollars—forty millions of dollars within these four months, so that you will have to add to the amount necessary, which I have said will be $383,000,000 or $384,000,000—you will have to add the forty millions of dollars which is to be repaid next year and you have the budget appearing as follows:

Three hundred eighty-seven millions of dollars income.

Four hundred and twenty-three millions of dollars necessary expenditures. And so you arrive at the fact that what the Governor will need to do, if he intends to meet that money, is to re-enact all of the existing taxes, both emergency taxes, and, of course, permit the other, normal, taxes to remain; and find an additional sum varying from forty to forty-five millions of dollars. On my figures it means forty-five millions of dollars and that may be increased to fifty millions of dollars in order to make both ends meet next biennium.

Now, that is your budget in simple figures, and it should be known—and I want to impress on the public, and I hope this will receive the publicity to which it is entitled, because everybody thinks and nobody knows the extent to which this Government participates in protecting and keeping alive its citizens and keeping them well. Very few people, I think, know that of the total of the figures I have just read to you—the tremendous sum of four hundred and twenty-seven millions of dollars, only thirty-six million dollars of it can actually be said to be for government functions and fifteen million dollars for debt service.

Now of course I have said—and Senator Gelder suggested I should do it—and I will do it again, that does not include the road fund, which has grown to the enormous sum of one hundred and fifty-one millions of dollars per biennium—every two years—it does not include additional special funds, the Game and Fish and other special funds, which I do not recall at the moment, which amount to four or five millions of dollars; and when you realize that this hundred and fifty-one millions of dollars is a piece of money over which we have no real control except for the purpose of temporarily switching from one pocket to another, you understand that there are groups which grow up with funds whose only interest is focused upon their selfish desire to protect that which they have created and to which they think no one else has a right.

The same thing may happen with relief, and that is why I want to call attention to the fact that the people should know that whether it be this Governor or the last Governor we will have expended by the time May 31st comes around at least, and I am afraid it is going to be more—unless something is done about it, two hundred and four millions of dollars for relief; and that means directly handing cash to people to eat, and to pay the rent, and to keep a roof over their heads; and a sum in excess of thirty-nine millions of dollars to take care of unemployables, Old Age Pensions, Mothers Assistance, and blind, and what may be more amazing and astounding, and should be listened to and considered, is the fact that that does not include at least a million and a half dollars, approximately that amount, which is monthly contributed by the Federal Government; eighteen million dollars a year or thirty-six million dollars a biennium, towards Old Age Assistance and Mothers assistance, nor does it include the contributions of the Federal Government, which in 1935 ran as high as fifteen millions of dollars a month, or a total of one hundred and eighty millions of dollars in that year; nor does it include any contributions made toward what might be termed reducing the relief roll which come from the payments by the Unemployment Compensation Department or Bureau of the Department of Labor and Industry, which means that the Department of Labor and Industry, in that bureau, is receiving the first year under the Act approximately twenty million dollars, the second year forty million dollars and the third year sixty million dollars and if there is any additional pick-up in industry, since the tax is based on the payroll, it may rise to the tremendous sum of seventy-five million dollars and that is per year.

My purpose in making these statements is to impress on the members of the Senate and the public two things, first, governmental function and such is not to increase any cost at all—that is, not perceptibly, and comparatively to no great extent, but this is what we call, in institutions, extramural activities of the governmental function, taken on as a result of compassion, believing in the fact that it is our duty—pressure groups, groups of various kinds who believe the government has acquired, as the world moves on and develops, additional responsibilities—these things have accumulated so that out of the normal budget of three hundred and seventy-eight millions of dollars, and now an abnormal budget of four hundred and twenty-seven millions of dollars, forty-five million dollars of that amount is spent for extramural governmental activities; and, secondly, what I want to impress is the fact that when you speak of presenting the budget to the Governor and when we hear the gentlemen on the other side say the Governor has not been able to prepare a budget, I must say I cannot quite agree with that, and I present these figures to you and say to you that I have used round figures, and left off some thousands of dollars; and when you want to check the figures you will find the figures are two millions of dollars or a million and a half dollars one way or the other, because I have left these sums out; but it is easy from the structure we have created in the past to turn to any one of these budgets that are distributed every biennium, and if you will take them from 1927 down to now you will find that the cost of government has increased—if you just look at the total figures—from a hundred and fifty-one million dollars for the biennium ending 1927-1929, to this sum now of four hundred twenty-seven millions of dollars, which, by the way, does not include the special funds, the Motor License Fund, which the one hundred and fifty-one millions of dollars in 1927-1929 did include. Of course the Motor Fund has grown.

Now, it would have been very easy for Mr. Russell to have said to the Governor, "It is going to cost you either forty or forty-four millions of dollars more for this relief program, and it is going to cost you anywhere between one hundred and thirty-nine millions of dollars, which was figured as the estimate by the Goodrich Committee—which we found was wrong—and these two hundred and four million dollars we are spending now;" and it will depend not upon pencil and paper, because if the Governor asks for another two months to make the budget he will never be able to make it up with any degree of accuracy, because he has got to decide with our help or without it whether the relief roll shall be one hundred and thirty-nine million dollars or thirty-nine million dollars or a hundred million dollars or two hundred million dollars, and he has nothing except past experience with which to guide himself, and his past experiences are being upset by his present problem. The past experiences show that relief has steadily mounted. There is nothing that you can turn to and say, "Well, we know four years ago relief cost so much and now it will cost so many dollars." Everything that he requires for the purpose of preparing a budget is available except one item, and that is the relief item.

If he does not want to impose any additional taxes, and if he wants to give adequate relief—I think it should be given—then he will have to cut forty-five millions of dollars from the budget; and my third reason for giving these figures in the way in which I did was to enable you to immediately focus your attention on individual items and ask yourselves the question, "Which one of these items can be cut?" Certainly not the fifteen million dollars for debt service. But the thirty-five million dollars for governmental functions?—yes, that can be cut. Maybe the Governor does not require that we shall go into some of the frills that are in the various departments and maybe something can be or should be cut from that.

But, if you examine the budget from 1927-1929 up to the present day you will find that with all the talk of economy by every one of the Governors who happened to have the honor and responsibility of exercising that high office in this Commonwealth there has not been a difference or change of more than two million dollars, so that the thirty-five millions of dollars has remained constant. It has been either thirty-three millions of dollars, thirty-five millions of dollars, thirty-four millions of dollars or thirty-six millions of dollars.

I read in the 1937 report of Governor Earle that he reduced governmental costs, as such, by four millions of dollars. I am frank to say that while that may be so I have not been able to find it. I do not know whether I cannot find the figures or whether I have not found the location; but, generally speaking, I say advisedly there has not been any reduction or any difference in that figure over two million dollars, and you must take into consideration this additional fact that with the imposition of these new taxes, running from a hundred and fifty to two hundred millions of dollars, the expenses of normal governmental costs were increased because you will require more people to collect and assume these added burdens and collect the taxes, so you cannot find much hope in that.

You could cut out some political appointments, but then you may find yourself, as Governor, at the end of the year being in the position of having to receive or make political appointments, and half the time he does not know he is making them. After all, there are some twenty-three thousand employees in the various departments on the Hill.

The next item is the thirty millions of dollars for State-owned institutions. Well, everybody that has had any experience in the Senate in the past four years knows what the cry has been. Senator Gelder will remember the condition of these State-owned institutions. We sat here sometimes in committee and were afraid to move or make a turn for fear some fire would occur in some institution and the equipment not be capable of taking care of the fire, and the blame for the catastrophe be placed upon us; and in those cold winter days, when there was only one boiler in operation when there should have been two, or some of the tubes were out of operation and the others ready to go any moment, the people were liable to freeze to death. That is the reason you will find an additional sum in the 1937-39 budget for those institutions. You cannot do much with that item.

The next item is the ninety-nine million dollars that you give in subsidies. That ninety-nine millions of dollars divides itself, as I said, into eighty-two millions of dollars for schools, which was suggested last year—I have not been able to check on that and I do not know whether the figure was given, but that was the amount included in the budget; and then it divides itself into thirteen millions of dollars between State-aided institutions—eight million dollars and five million dollars, approximately five million dollars for the care of mental patients—and the rest is miscellaneous, like the Department of Agriculture, with just a million and a half, and is included under subsidies. That is ninety-five millions of dollars.

Of the State-owned institutions, if you are going to cut down on the hospitals and mental institutions, you increase your relief; theoretically, you do, and, practically, I am pretty sure you will be doing that.

The biggest is the eighty-two million dollars for the schools. That exceeds the previous Administration awards at least six million dollars. I do not know what to say about that except my feeling—and it may be called a horse and buggy feeling; it may be we only travel part time in horse and buggy, and the rest of the time by automobile—but I recall, in hearings of the Education Committee, that I raised this question—I think the figure is somewhere in the neighborhood of five millions of dollars that is spent for transportation of school children to and from schools. I know that is done and is necessary in some communities, but I marvel why it is done in Philadelphia to any extent. I made the suggestion that when I went to school we walked two miles to school and got our exercise that way; and now we are taking them there in a bus and we have to build costly gymnasiums in order to give them the exercise they would otherwise have gotten had they walked instead of taking a bus. There are a number of frills in the educational system, that I think can be cut out. If you try to meddle with the salaries of teachers you will be met with a pressure group; but in fairness I want to say to them that on the whole I do not believe that these teachers who build themselves up and perfect their information so that they can transmit it to others are in any degree overpaid, compared to other work, and I think you will find it very difficult to cut their salaries. But I do think there is room in the educational system to save some money, but there are limitations, and when you talk about six, seven or eight million dollars you are talking about a great deal of money, and pretty nearly talking about the limit you can do there.

In the whole budget we have discussed you will find, on fair consideration, if you leave out the politics, that there is nothing of any moment that you can save compared to the other man in the picture who always seems ready to drop his head and say, "I am somewhat worse—and I am Mr. Two-Hundred-And-Four-Million-Dollars." That is the thing that may drive us to do some injustice to the rest of the functions of government, extramural or intramural, and that is one of the reasons why I have produced these figures in the way I did, because there can be no good purpose found in crippling a school system to save three or four million dollars if in doing that you are not going to solve the tax problem, which is the only problem. All of us can afford to be generous with the school system; all of us can afford to be more generous, as we should be, with the hospitals, if it were not for the fact that the relief roll—the tremendous amounts to which the relief roll has grown; so I ask that the newspapers copy and let the public know what the budget situation is; it can be done in simple fashion. It can be put down in two columns, the figures are down in six or seven columns on one side and two on the other side. The people will then begin to more fully understand the problems with which we are confronted.

I want to finish by turning to the suggestion of Senator Woodward, for after I have made the statements for the public and somebody is liable to ask me, "Well, what did you do that for?" Dr. Woodward suggests an auditor who shall have great power. I do not think that will help, because, if you will forgive me for saying so and permit me to be frank for the purpose of making my point, I think the trouble is right here in the Senate. We are delegating to much of our responsibilities to someone else; and when I ask your indulgence I do not want you to think I am placing myself on a different plane. I say very few members of the Senate take the trouble to analyze the financial structure of the Government and merely accept an explanation given to them by someone else. I do not suppose every member will be interested in the figures, because some of us are not interested in figures, some of us have an abhorrence of figures, which others do not. For myself I have always like figures, because figures are part of my work and I spend considerable of my time dealing with them; but for Dr. Woodward to suggest that a monitor can be appointed or have some one give us the information, that will not solve the problem unless it is supplemented with the suggestion I am going to make. I have dictated a resolution—I do not know whether it is ready or not—it is here—which contains the thought I have; I do not think it has been properly worded, but I can explain it without reading; I do not think I will introduce it now.

I think if six members of this Senate were to make it their business to find out about this relief situation, understand what it consists of, break it down into meritorious cases, and cases not deserving of attention, break it down into personnel of the executive department, administrative costs and functions; and then deal with those other governmental institutions which come in with this, and then the six members, knowing what it is, give the benefit of their information to the rest of the members, and then these six members be either supplemented or given the same powers as the auditor suggested by Dr. Woodward, we will be able to get further. I am sure every man who sat down in that room this morning at the meeting with Mr. Russell received information, a great deal or some information—depending on the trouble he took to find some of the things out before. I think a meeting like that—it might have been better if the meeting had been public and the whole public invited, to understand what this picture means. I think we all have to remember, with unemployment compensation, with Federal Relief, and with our own relief all aiming for what?—to keep people fed, clothed, housed, and warm—that there must necessarily be an overlapping in all of these functions unless there is greater cooperation.

I think one of the things to consider in relief is what resulted from the questions I asked, that some of you heard down there, "What effect, if any, has the unemployment compensation distribution had upon the relief problem?" and we were told that it has had a considerable effect. Now, if this fund accumulates and increases from twenty-five million dollars to seventy-five million dollars, and if in the first two years, when the additional extra funds were not available, there has been a help from the unemployment compensation, why is it not possible that unemployment compensation shall be increased and relieved? Just remember the answer to the question I put as to whether or not when a man gets unemployment compensation he also gets relief, which answer is, "Yes, he gets unemployment compensation, which has a minimum of seven dollars and a maximum of fifteen dollars," and if this social service worker to whom I again refer, has made up her mind as a result of paper and pencil that he is entitled to $8.56 a week in order for the man and his family to live, then the relief administration organization sends him a check for $8.56 a week.

Now, therefore, that is the situation. It discloses clearly that if there is a man who wants to work and he is dropped, so that he is not getting the benefit of the Act, then this committee of ours that I am suggesting could investigate that phase and find out whether the funds available as a result of unemployment compensation tax are as much as to enable two things to happen, first, the minimum and maximum allowance to be increased and the other the period of compensation to be increased. We have thirteen weeks, we are amongst one of the lowest in the group which operates under compensation. Many of the States which have adopted these laws have sixteen to eighteen weeks, and if we want to take people off of relief we certainly must follow the other way and see that the man who wants to work, who has been laid off because of seasonal or other depressions and contingencies, and certainly having worked and contributed to the fund, is entitled to be cared for more than he is being cared for.

I think I have bored you enough, but I hope I have made a few things plain to you. I know I have been told that I have talked too much on many occasions. I suggest to those who feel I have talked too much that they read in the record some of the statements I have made, and if they find the figures or advice I have given are not right I will be glad to listen to or correct any of them, but in the last three or four days I have spent some time on this picture because I am very seriously concerned about it. Anyone can see what is going on—anyone who has eyes should see what is going on and I do not see how they can sit still and not be concerned about it. The less concern we have about it, the graver the situation becomes. I can see only one hope and that hope is that in this big problem, politics and prejudices will be laid aside—the Federal Government—the President of the United States—should not be used as a butt for accomplishing a purpose, the only result of which can be the destruction of a real democracy. It does not make any difference whether you agree with the President politically or not. After all he is our President, and so far as the rest of the world is concerned we should honor and respect him in his efforts.

I do not mean that it is criticising when we make suggestions. I am criticising the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania—with no bitterness and with no feeling about this situation. I am willing to be helpful. I am making these suggestions so nobody can say to me afterwards why didn't you give them to me. I offer these suggestions because I feel when a man is a member of the Senate, that when he was elected, whether by the Republicans or the Democrats, when he reaches this office he is representative of all the people of the State. These Senators are representatives of all the people, and anyone who is accurate would confess he is the representative of all the people. It makes no difference whether I am a Democrat or a Republican, what effects you effects me.

I am seriously concerned about it, I think it is a tremendous problem, I think it is an important one and I think it is fraught with danger, with grave dangers to this democracy, and unless it is properly handled, and I suggest—although I have no pride of ownership in the plan at all, Dr. Woodward's objective being the same—a vehicle, the vehicle is the only thing in question, and we here at this time should agree to forget politics and build a wagon that will carry us to the end of this road that we are now traveling.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, on one question.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, your question to Secretary Russell was an excellent question. Namely, why has there not been a greater benefit accruing from the credit that ought to be established by men who are on unemployment compensation, and would you suggest what is necessary? Should not we know that credit a little more definitely than we got that this morning, and was the Senator from Philadelphia satisfied with Mr. Russell's answer?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the answer to that is this: unemployment compensation is not new. England started it in 1917 and has constantly amended and developed its procedure, stressing one of the things I have tried to point out here and in caucus meetings—the important part of unemployment compensation is not the compensation but the reemployment of the man who lost his job—and that same thing is true in relief.

England has stressed and all of the countries that have dealt with unemployment compensation have stressed the importance of setting up an employment agency so that instead of having an employment agency in relief when they go to check up they cover the same territory that this group over here covers. You have been told and I have been told, oh, yes, we coordinate our unemployment compensation. Maybe they do coordinate and cooperate but they overlap nevertheless, they are spending this much money, and that is one of the reasons why we are not getting the benefits from unemployment compensation that we should get.

Mr. WOODWARD. I think, Mr. President, in Great Britain, there was not thirteen weeks but twenty-six weeks.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, it started with nine weeks and developed up to twenty-six weeks.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, you remember in this hearing this morning we learned from the Secretary although so and so may be on unemployment compensation that he was getting relief at the same time.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, that is right.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, that is what annoys me. What are we going to do about that.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I think that goes back to what I said about forgetting politics. We heard this morning and we read in the papers, that the Federal government was going to buy surplus stocks from clothing manufacturers and that they paid somewhere in the neighborhood of eleven million dollars for clothing. You heard this morning in answer to the question that there is a certain minimum amount to which a family is entitled, including heat, light, power, clothing, food and so forth, and yet, when the Federal government delivers the clothing to these same people who are on relief there is no reduction in the amount, he still gets the same amount, although clothing has been included and is provided by the Federal government.

That is due to the fact that if the government in Pennsylvania is Republican and does not like the fellow who handles it down in Washington, because he is a Democrat and vice versa, that is the reason you get the same situation, the Senator knows about it in Philadelphia. They can sit on boards and if they are given to think it is their child they have the pride of authorship and will not have anything to do with Pennsylvania, but it would be different if we establish some means of compelling cooperation between these agencies—first of all we should study and learn all the facts—and we will then get somewhere. It will not do for me, or Senator Owlett, or some other Senator on the other side to get up and say WPA is no good, it should be abolished.

The answer to that is found in the relief rolls; when you reduce WPA then the relief rolls go up higher. Before you abolish WPA, please do one thing. Set your picture here on a stable basis. Make sure that if your relief—find out for sure how much money is being spent now on relief in Pennsylvania—rather by WPA in Pennsylvania—find out how much money is being contributed towards reduction of relief in the Unemployment Compensation Fund, as Mr. Russell told us today.

Then let us know what is happening, so that when Senator Owlett gets up, or I get up—and say let us abolish this relief—someone else will get up—someone of these six men, will get up and say if you abolish WPA in Pennsylvania you will have to provide five million dollars more a month.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, the Senator from Philadelphia has a very agile mind and he has given us a great deal of information, but if I were to make a complaint I would say that he uses too many words in expressing that. It is a little hard for us to follow.

I should like to ask one question: we learned today from Mr. Russell that the expense for February as estimated will be almost twelve million dollars for relief. As I got the figures submitted by the Senator from Philadelphia he estimates that it will take in the next biennium two hundred and four millions of dollars for relief. Is it his thought that we can cut down on the relief roll so that two hundred and four million dollars will cover the next biennium rather than the present rate of expense?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, no, I got the two hundred and four million dollars from this figure, Mr. President, and I said I am basing my statement on the last two years. There was one hundred and thirty-nine millions of dollars included in the budget. We appropriated, you will remember, twenty-five million dollars additional in the last special session; that makes one hundred and sixty-four. We are about to appropriate approximately forty millions more. That makes two hundred and four millions. I said taxes will necessarily have to be provided more or less depending on whether that two hundred and four million dollars goes up or goes down. Is that clear?

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, that is clear.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, but it is sad.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, it is clear that the more money that is spent for relief the more taxes you will have to put on the people; but what I am trying to find out is whether it is the thought of the Senator from Philadelphia that two hundred and four million dollars will cover the relief needs for the next biennium.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, that is not correct. If they continue to spend as they are spending now, you will need two hundred and forty million dollars.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, that is two hundred and eighty-eight million dollars.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, no, the Senator from Somerset forgets to deduct from that the appropriation from the Federal Government, which amounts to one million, two hundred fifty thousand dollars a month. That is about thirty million dollars in two years. You can reduce that—to simplify it, take the twelve million dollars you got this morning, and deduct from that in round figures one million four hundred thousand dollars, which is the Federal contributions for old age and mothers' assistance. You get ten million six hundred thousand dollars. If you multiply that by twenty-four you get two hundred and forty million dollars plus twelve million dollars, or two hundred and fifty million dollars, in round figures.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, that is two hundred and forty million dollars, rather than two hundred and four million dollars?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, if the rate is the same in March or April, the relief roll will drop, as it always does, unless WPA reduces its expenditures in Pennsylvania.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, the matter which Mr. Russell brought out this morning are the same things which we have talked about for three or four or five or six years.

I again want to say I am glad to note the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, offers his help in correcting some of these abuses.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, the arguments that have been presented by the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, and the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, bring these thoughts to my mind: first, I think it is a fortunate thing when the Senate is face to face with a problem, as we are today, that we are having it discussed in a statesmanlike manner from both sides of the Senate. Second, this trouble has come upon us and upon all forms of Government in the United States by a very rapid expansion of the functions of government during the past ten or twelve years, without considering how much the community could afford. Now, we have these problems upon us, and they are serious. There is no doubt about that. Anyone that was present this morning in the Senate Caucus Room must appreciate how serious it is.

I want to say however, I think the Senator from Philadelphia, at this time—I mean Senator Shapiro—ought not to be so derisive of the Governor of this Commonwealth wanting to save money by economy. He says that in times past only two or three or four million dollars have been saved. We go back in our legislative experience, some of us, to 1923. Senator Gelder was a member of the House then, and Senator Woodward was a member of the Senate. At that time Governor Pinchot found himself face to face with a series of deficiencies amounting to thirty-two million dollars, and he made a proposition to the Legislature, "If you will give me emergency taxes for one-half of this amount, I will save the other half out of the expenses of Government," and he did. And the advantage of his saving was that he convinced the people of the Commonwealth that the Governor was in earnest in eliminating waste, and when the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania were so convinced they pulled their belts a little tighter and prepared to pay the taxes. I think that is what is needed to be done now. I think Governor James ought to be commended for the study he is making all along the line in order to determine whether or not there is not some money, at least, that can be saved on the Executive side.

Now, I want to say a fourth thing. The Senator refers to the total cost of Government. To my mind there ought to be included in that cost the costs that the citizens must pay by our loss when we authorize an expenditure to be made by our Administrative agencies—and the funds to be collected by the Administrative agencies. They do not show in the budget. Take for instance the cost of the Department of Closed Banks and closed building and loan association. I understand that those costs in the last six or seven years have amounted to a sum that is pretty near eighteen millions of dollars. That money has been taken from the assets of the owners of the deposits in the closed banks and the owners of the building and loan association stocks and it is a very large sum, and if our law permits that kind of expenditure to be made we surely should have some supervision over it.

Let us go a bit further, to the Public Utility Commission. I tried to obtain from the Senate a statement as to how much they collected from the utilities. I have a resolution here which I propose to offer instructing the Commission to advise us how much they spend and how much is the appropriation from this General Assembly, and how much it collected from the utilities themselves.

My friends, we must realize that every time we allow money to be taken from the citizens we diminish their ability to pay taxes. If the money is taken in a direct way, well and good. If it is taken in an indirect way it still decreases his ability to pay.

My opinion is this discussion has been most informing to us all. I think the approach the Senate has taken is a most helpful approach for us all, but I think also that the leadership which the Governor has given in his endeavor to eliminate waste is one of the finest things that has happened in Pennsylvania in all my life.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I should like to interrogate the Senator from Montgomery, Mr. Edmonds.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Montgomery, Mr. Edmonds allow himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the Senator from Montgomery, Mr. Edmonds, spoke of savings in the Pinchot administration; I assume he means 1933-1935.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I referred to the first Pinchot administration, 1923.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, and how much were the savings?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, sixteen million dollars for the biennium.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, is that 1923?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, that is correct. There was no budget at that time. The General Assembly was without any information whatever as to the conditions in the State.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the Senator from Montgomery also asked me how much money we appropriated for the Utility Commission and I told him we did not appropriate for the Utility Commission, and he also wanted to know how much was collected from the utilities. The answer to his first question is in the figure of thirteen million dollars I gave you, included in the ninety-nine million dollar figure, there was an item of fifteen thousand dollars for the Utility Commission which is the total appropriation made by the Senate to the Utility Commission, and if the Senator from Montgomery will look on his desk he will find a report of the Pennsylvania Utility Commission which will save him the trouble of introducing the resolution he mentioned, and included in that statement he will find a statement which I would like him to read.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I would like to get that; it is not on my desk.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, it was put there Monday night. However, in order to save the Senator from Montgomery the trouble, I will read briefly from this statement: "For the first time in Pennsylvania Public Utility Companies are paying the expenses of the Public Utility Commission."

"To date payments amounting to $290,117.33 has been received by the Commission and transmitted to the State Treasurer. This amount represents 43.75 per cent of the total assessment made against utilities in the State. The total amount of the assessment of all utilities is $665,613.50." There is included in that the individual amount paid by each one of the Utilities.

In regard to the Banking Department, the banking department cannot help our budget any. I am assuming that what the Senator from Montgomery means by that is that if we would relieve somebody who pays that cost other than the Commonwealth he would make a better contributor to the State government in taxes or in some other way. That may be true. I can take the administration of Governor Pinchot and say to you that when I was a member of the Banking Department I found that a member of this Senate had on the payroll of the Banking Department his brother and another member of the firm and also two or three employees of the firm—two or three lawyers in the firm, who charged expenses to the Banking Department.

I do not think that is peculiar to the Pinchot administration. I do not know how long we have to tolerate it or how long we have to accept of it but I do not think it is fair to say because this administration saved sixteen million dollars that we can thereafter cut it down. Unfortunately there are in these governmental divisions and departments people who feel that because they helped to elect a Governor that they ought to get a job, and that theory is not peculiar to the Democrats. It is not peculiar to the Republicans. I know that is in the atmosphere and Governor James will be a strong man if he can withstand it, and I would not blame him if he does not to the fullest extent, I mean if he goes overboard.

I want to object to your use of a word in connection with my talk to you about the Governor. I am not criticising the Governor for failing to produce his budget. I do not recall the word that you used.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, the word I used was the word "derisive."

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I want to say to the Senator from Montgomery that I have been brought up on the basis that I have been taught and have followed the principle that I do not deride or ridicule or bring into public contumely people in high office.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, that may have been what the Senator was taught, but he has changed.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, if you continue to do that you will cause people to lose respect. I do not think, as a Senator that we should be permitted to freely and honestly criticise in the sense that we disagree with a position that has been taken. Now, my position with regard to the Governor's statement is this:

The budget is known. The budget is made up. A budget can be made up, what he proposes to do, because, after all, all those things are only estimates. If you look at the actual reports from the Treasury department you will find expenditures and income differ from the budget. That is to be expected because they are estimates. The Governor can make his estimate without relief and he can say to us these are the expenditures that will be necessary. Now, if he will get that, then the budget will show so many dollars for expenditures, and relief will cost so many hundreds of thousands of dollars or so many millions of dollars. Some time between now and the next two weeks he will have to take that stand and no matter when he takes it it will only be an estimate or a guess; that is what I am talking about when I talk about the Governor's program.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I should like to further interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, does not the Senator from Philadelphia want the Governor to cut out waste if it can be done?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Yes, Mr. President, but he will not be able to do that in two weeks or in two months.

Mr. EDMONDS. And yet, Mr. President the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, does not want to give the Governor time.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I think the Senator from Montgomery, Mr. Edmonds, misunderstands me. I think the Governor made a mistake when he made the statement that department A will only need four millions of dollars because department A may not function properly and may require five million dollars. I do not think the Governor has the right to call in his men and say this is how much I am going to cut. I think that is the wrong way of doing it. It makes no difference whether he does that—it is clear, or it should be clear—the budget is there. He has had sufficient time. I could, if I were Governor, take that budget there and say it will cost thirteen millions of dollars but I will give you ten millions of dollars, that is all I can do.

Then in these months when these departments function, when he gets reports, he can say it might be well to cut this down.

There is left out of this budget entirely $11,900,000 which covers State Authority expenditures and the Flood Control. The Governor has to consider that too; he cannot say now, this minute, how much of that is going to be spent.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, all I can say is this: in the Governor's efforts to cut out unnecessary expense he should have all of our support. I rather think Mr. President, the gentleman from Philadelphia agrees with me, but he has never said so as clearly I would like.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I will agree if he can cut any expense he should do it.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I think it is rather unfortunate that Senator Shapiro did not advise us yesterday, when we passed the resolution to adjourn until the twenty-seventh of February, how quickly he could prepare a budget, because we could have sent him to the Governor's office and it would not have been necessary to adjourn.

I want to call the Senators attention to the fact that on February 10, 1937, Governor Earle sent a message to the Legislature stating he would be delayed in the preparation of his budget because of the relief problem and other problems in connection with preparing it, and it was not submitted until February 24th.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I would like to say to the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, that it is not too late to amend that resolution to adjourn, and I will be glad to make up a budget for the Governor.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, perhaps a budget that was conceived in two hours might get us into an endless amount of trouble because later on, it may overlook, as the Senator from Philadelphia did, quite a number of millions of dollars for state authority and also some other items.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I am glad to see there is a stenographer here who is taking down the figures in the budget I presented, and venture to suggest that when the budget comes through it will not be very far off in principle from that which I have suggested, and that is not because I have any particular ability at it, but I have read the record, and I know what the picture is.

It is true the Governor of Pennsylvania, in 1937, said he was not prepared with the budget, but the Legislature did not adjourn; they stayed right here with the Governor and helped him prepare it.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I hope my colleagues will indulge me a little bit longer so that I might contribute a thought about things that have already been said, and I want to say that I realize fully that a great juggling of figures here has taken place. Before I express my thought, if the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Edmonds, would like to have the fine technique of deriding public officials in high office, I recommend to him the reading of the Legislative Journals of 1935, and those during the Special Session of 1938, and then he will very easily learn the fine technique of deriding public officials in high office, from his own colleagues on the Republican side.

Now ever since the General Session of 1935 this problem of relief has been before the Assembly in one form or another. All the assemblies since that time have endeavored to find a proper vehicle by which we could apply these funds to the people for whom they were intended. Over and over again we have analyzed the problem. We have inspected and examined the problem with a view of improving on the vehicle and seeing that a proper vehicle was constructed, and in all of our inspections and examinations of this Public Assistance jallopy we have always come to the same point, the trouble in this whole set-up.

I have likened this Public Assistance vehicle to an automobile on the highway. The automobile on the highway travels but it takes fuel to make it travel. The Public Assistance vehicle travels but it takes fuel and that fuel is the appropriation and the money that we have to appropriate. Now, if the automobile on the highway should spring a flat tire and the person who is running the automobile continues to drive that automobile along the highway, and pays no attention to the flat tire, the ultimate result of the riding is going to be that other parts on the vehicle are going to be injured and damaged, and that the vehicle will not travel very rapidly.

Now this Public Assistance system or vehicle is the same way and in our inspections and examinations of the Public Assistance vehicle it has always let us to the evil part of that vehicle that seems to be out of order and that part of that vehicle is that individual in that vehicle that is known as the professional social welfare worker. Now that professional social welfare worker is to the Public Assistance vehicle the same as a flat tire to an automobile on the highway and as long as the flat tire remains on the Public Assistance vehicle we are going to have flat riding, and session after session we have come to that very point but it seems that those groups of social welfare workers, who have maintained a well greased and oiled lobby here in the halls of this Senate, has succeeded in exerting sufficient pressure upon members of this Senate so as to forestall the changing of this flat tire and putting on a new tire; putting something new on that wheel. And I say this: I want to add that thought to all that has been said here on this subject of Public Assistance, because I am convinced that this group of social welfare workers is well organized.

I deny not them the fact that they have trained minds but they are human like everybody else. They have studied that provision—if you want to call it a provision and they are interested in perpetuating it and in order to perpetuate it, this mighty system of public assistance, this vehicle must be kept going for them; and the whole system is developing into a gigantic public money spending machine or vehicle, and the good Lord only knows how far it is going to extend and how big it is going to expand; and I say if we leave this vehicle in the hands of these professional social welfare workers—we will have to continue to appropriate two hundred and forty to three hundred million dollars every General Assembly when we meet here. It is natural for them to want to perpetuate their position but their perpetuation, the perpetuation of their position, is so enmeshed with the pocket-books of the taxpayers and the people who foot the bill—that I do hope that we finally come to grips with the solution of this problem, that we will tackle the social welfare workers present in this set-up honestly and fearlessly and not be in any way affected or biased by any pressure that they may exert.

Mr. President, I know that my colleague from Armstrong County, Mr. Sipe, has something to say and I will yield the floor to him.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, will state his point of order.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I sat here yesterday afternoon, and it was a beautiful day outside, and we had a field day in here. I do not know how this ever got started today, but, as a freshman in the Senate, and not an expert parliamentarian, I would like to have the Chair inform me whether we are going to have another field day this afternoon so if we are some of us may retire to study some of the many problems before this body.

Now, I appreciate the seriousness of this relief problem, but, just at the moment, I do not understand that the relief problem is directly before us. I am one who would like to study the relief problem, and I should appreciate it if we could get down to the business of the afternoon and forestall these field days.

Mr. MCGINNIS. Mr. President, I can hardly agree with the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Walker. I know I have learned a lot here yesterday and today; I think they were the two best sessions we have had since I have been here. I might add, I am not so much impressed with these savings—or so-called savings that the Governor has already instituted; and we read in the newspapers all over Pennsylvania that we have a Governor now that is cutting to the bone, and he is going to knock off thousands of employees.

Now, we have listened to the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, here, and compared to that—taking into consideration the entire budget—that is a very, very small item. Now, there are thousands of men on there that do not belong there or that we could get along without them—and there is not a Senator on this floor that would not say that is a good thing—but I feel that down deep in the heart of every Senator on this floor, he knows very well that within six months most of that number will be back, because when you wipe out a department, practically wipe it out, in the first weeks of an administration, that is done without study or investigation, and to my mind is done mostly for consumption in the newspapers; and so I will guarantee that most of those thousands that have been knocked off, which is the only real saving I have read about, will be back on the payroll, and I think the Governor knows it as well as you people do.

And yet, as you read the budget as given to us by the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, in the last ten or twelve years there has not been so much change in the actual costs of running the State of Pennsylvania; and it appears here today the big problem with which you need to contend is this $204,000,000 for relief, and you will find that you cannot cut very much in any of the departments; you may cut a million or two here or there, you may fire five or six hundred or a thousand, even if they do come back—that is not the big problem in Pennsylvania today, the big problem is relief; but I wish to remind the Senators that are going to stay here for the next two weeks, that if they try to boil this thing down and get to the bottom of it and try to go over the heads of the Department of Public Assistance, you will not get very far. I am thoroughly convinced that the spot to go after relief is to go back to the districts. I know that in my district, and in the country districts, you go to the citizens there who are not on relief, and they can tell you about people right around their neighborhood that are on relief that ought not to be on relief.

I know people that would like to have some work done on their homes. They go out and ask the fellow who is on relief, and he says; "No, I am afraid to take that job to fix your roof, to put the shingles on, I am afraid to do that because when I go down to the office they say; 'you are working, and you will be cut off'"—and it will take him two or three weeks to be put back on relief.

Now, that could be worked out; and I say there are people in every community—I would not say how many, but there are people who would rather be on relief than work. I say the social workers can not determine that and have not determined that; but I say there are people back in the districts that can tell their social workers of that class of people, and who they are, and why they should not be on relief, and how they refused jobs.

And so, in this investigation or this study you are going to make in the next two weeks in Harrisburg you will get the same old story we have gotten in the last two years.

If you go to the head of these departments, the head of the Department of Relief, you will find he must have so much; but if you are not going to cut down this two hundred and four million dollars or this two hundred million dollars you are not going to get very far. But I do say, I suggest, that you devise some system whereby you can get reports from every precinct, from some interested person or some neighbor there, or some man interested about his neighborhood and knows the man on relief, and have the report come from that party to the Relief Department.

Mr. CROWE. Mr. President, I have been sitting here during this session and hearing about spectre of relief rise every day, and listening to some of my colleagues on the Senate floor and I feel that some of us are like the old Spanish Compradore, Don Quixote, going around tilting at windmills.

I was so fortunate or unfortunate to be for the last year Chairman of the Public Assistance Board in my district and I can tell you some things about relief there, from the local angle.

I think we are getting nowhere by our arguments, any more than we would be if we put a ping pong table out between the aisles and knocked the ball back and forth. The only way we will get anywhere on this situation is put in a business administration like Governor James proposes to put in, and I will guarantee the relief subject will be solved.

As far as relief is concerned, I have heard reports about the inefficiency and inequalities in the situation; and in my own district I personally investigate every case, and out of every hundred cases I found that ninety-six of the cases reported as unjust were absolutely just.

I hold no brief for the social welfare worker, but I do think, and I am entirely in accord with the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante on that; but I do think they have a place of assistance somewhere.

My suggestion on the subject is to join your Unemployment Compensation Bureau and your Public Welfare Bureau together, and I think we will get somewhere, because a poor devil that is on relief and is thrown out of work—the first thing he does is, he goes to the Unemployment Compensation Bureau and puts in his claim and sometimes he has to wait six or eight weeks before he gets any money. In the meantime he is pleading for relief, and running back and forth.

I speak with the voice of experience. That is the situation, and I think you will get somewhere if you do that.

MOTION TO READ BILLS THE FIRST TIME

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the first reading of all bills reported from committees for the first time at today's session.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I second the motion. The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON FIRST READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the first reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 76, (House Bill No. 181), entitled:

An act making a deficiency appropriations to the Department of Public Assistance for the purpose of carrying out the Public Assistance Law for the two fiscal years ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine.

And said bill having been read at length the first time, Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

REQUESTING APPOINTMENT OF SENATE COMMITTEE OF SIX MEMBERS TO INVESTIGATE RELIEF.

Mr. SHAPIRO, offered the following resolution which was twice read:

In the Senate, February 8, 1939.

Whereas, it is important that all persons rightfully entitled to relief should receive adequate and prompt relief and, whereas the cost of relief has mounted to tremendous sums and is increasing to unprecedented extents and, whereas, the extent of relief is affected vitally by other state and federal governmental agencies and, whereas, in Pennsylvania, the Unemployment Compensation laws have contributed greatly to the reduction of the relief expenses and, whereas, the problem of proper relief Unemployment Compensation and federal grants are inter-related, and an understanding of the effect of one upon the other is necessary and will be helpful in an effort to solve the relief problem, now therefore, be it

Resolved that a special committee of six members of the Senate, three from the majority and three from the minority parties be appointed, whose duty it would be to study the operations, expenditures, and effect, of the various agencies including among other, federal grants and Unemployment Compensation upon relief. The Committee should further study expenditures for administration, supplemental aid, and general relief grants by the Department of Public Assistance, and furnish information concerning all these matters from time to time to the Members of the Senate, for use by Members of the Senate and the House for their guidance in dealing with the whole relief problem.

Further Resolved that the Department of Public Assistance and the Unemployment Compensation Division of the Department of Labor and Industry and all other, shall furnish to the said Committee such information and assistance as they may request.

Which was committed to the Committee on Judiciary General.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 34, as follows:

An Act to further amend section five hundred eight of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (P. L. 309) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" by further regulating the incurring of temporary indebtedness and the repayment thereof

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1. Section five hundred eight of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws 309) entitled "An Act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" as last amended by section three of the act approved the second day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (Pamphlet Laws 2860) is hereby further amended to read as follows.

Section 508. Any school district having no indebtedness or whose indebtedness incurred or created without the assent of the electors thereof is less than two (2) per centum of the total valuation of the taxable property for school purposes therein may at any time for the purpose of providing funds in any fiscal year for current expenses and debt service for permanent improvements or in anticipation of proceeds from a bond issue already officially authorized and approved by the Department of Internal Affairs with such limitations and for such length of term as hereinafter provided by or through its board of school directors incur in addition to any bonds therein authorized a temporary debt or borrow money and issue an obligation or obligations therefor under the seal of the district if any properly attested by the president and secretary thereof and bearing interest not exceeding the legal rate but no such obligation shall be sold for less than par Provided That the incurring of any such temporary debt or borrowing money upon such obligation shall receive the affirmative vote of not less than two-thirds of the members of the board of school directors therein.

The total amount of temporary indebtedness incurred for current expenses and debt service shall at no time exceed an amount equal to the State appropriations not received but payable during the fiscal year and the tax levied upon taxable property within such school district for school purposes and remaining uncollected (for the current fiscal year) and unpledged. All such loans shall be paid out of the receipts available or pledged for the repayment thereof when and as the said funds are received Provided That the total amount of the temporary indebtedness for such purpose remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal year shall become an obligation upon the following year's budget and be included therein.

The total amount of temporary indebtedness incurred in any school district for the purpose of permanent improvements shall at no time in school districts of the first and second class exceed one-half of one (1) per centum of the last assessed valuation of taxable property for school purposes therein and in school districts of the third and fourth class two (2) per centum of such assessed valuation Provided That at or before the time of incurring such indebtedness for such purpose provision shall be made for the collection of an annual tax sufficient to pay the interest and also the principal thereof within the term of such indebtedness as hereinafter provided Provided That the total indebtedness in any school district of the first class including all bonded indebtedness and temporary indebtedness shall never exceed two (2) per centum of the last assessed valuation of taxable property for school purposes therein and in school districts of the second third and fourth class shall not exceed seven (7) per centum of such assessed valuation.

The total amount of temporary indebtedness incurred in anticipation of proceeds from a bond issue already officially authorized and approved by the Department of Internal Affairs as hereinbefore provided shall not exceed seventy-five (75) per centum of the full amount of bonds authorized by such bond issue.

All money borrowed for the purpose of current expenses and debt service as hereinbefore provided and remaining unpaid at the close of any fiscal year shall be paid out of the receipts of the following fiscal year for school districts as heretofore provided but in all events not later than the first day of July of such following year in school districts of the first class and not later than the first day of November in school districts of the second third and fourth class Provided That all temporary indebtedness for such purpose existing prior to the first day of July one thousand nine hundred [thirtyseven] thirty-nine shall be payable at any time not to exceed three years thereafter

All money borrowed for permanent improvements for which no bond issue has been provided and for which an obligation or obligations other than bonds have been issued shall be paid within three years from date of issue of such obligation together with interest and at least one-third of the total principal of the original loan shall be paid annually Such obligation or obligations may be paid in full or in part each year when the taxes are received and reborrowed again the latter part of the fiscal year Provided That the amount reborrowed is less than the amount borrowed the preceding year by at least one-third of the total amount of the original loan Provided further That each time the money is reborrowed the date and purpose for which it was originally borrowed shall be restated Provided further That the amount of the original loan shall be paid in full within a maximum term of three years from the date of the original loan for such purpose.

All obligations other than bonds issued by any school district in anticipation of proceeds from a bond issue already officially authorized and approved by the Department of Internal Affairs shall be paid in full together with interest out of the proceeds of such bond issue within one year six months from the date of authorization of such bond issue.

In case of an emergency any school district in this Commonwealth in any fiscal year after incurring temporary indebtedness for current expenses and debt service to the full extent of the provisions hereinbefore provided and finding the receipts from said temporary loans together with all other receipts to be inadequate to meet the expenditures of the official fiscal year's budget may appeal to the State Department of Public Instruction for permission to increase the temporary indebtedness of such school district beyond the amount hereinbefore provided and shall present to the State Superintendent of Public Instruction or his agent such financial statements or reports as he may require to give him adequate facts relative to the necessity of such increase in indebtedness The State Superintendent of Public Instruction is hereby authorized after due examination of the need of such school district either to refuse or grant permission to such school district to borrow additional funds beyond the provisions hereinbefore provided and in case of approval he shall set a maximum limit of the total amount of additional temporary indebtedness that such school district may incur during the fiscal year in addition to all temporary indebtedness outstanding at the time of such approval Provided That such additional amount of temporary indebtedness together with all other temporary indebtedness at any time for the purpose of payments on current expenses and debt service in school districts of the first [and second] class shall not exceed four-tenths of one (1) per centum and in school districts of the second class shall not exceed three-fourths of one (1) per centum and in school districts of the third and fourth class shall not exceed one (1) per centum of the total amount of taxable property in such district and the total indebtedness for such purposes together with all other indebtedness incurred without authorization by vote of the electors of the district shall at no time exceed two (2) per centum of the last total assessed valuation of the taxable property therein All temporary indebtedness remaining unpaid at the end of the fiscal year shall be paid in the same manner as hereinbefore provided.

And said bill having been read at length the second time,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I should like to interrogate the Senator from Blair, Mr. Mallery.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Blair, Mr. Mallery, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I will be glad to be interrogated.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, this bill that has just passed second reading, as I understand it, changes the method of computing indebtedness in certain school districts. Is that bill confined by its terms to second class school districts?

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, that is the only change.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I know there is another change which extends the time for repayment until three years after 1939.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, the change, I believe, does not affect first-class school districts. If it pertains to first-class school districts, I will be glad to have it returned and amended. It will have to be amended.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I would like to call the attention of the members of the Senate to the fact that this bill does two things, in my opinion: I think it might be interpreted to apply to all school districts; and secondly, it allows the school districts to pledge not only the uncollected taxes for the purpose of increasing their indebtedness but allows them to pledge all uncollected taxes. In other words, there is a tremendous amount of taxes in arrears. I have in mind, in Philadelphia, the tremendous amount in arrears that the school district would never collect, and this bill would permit them to increase indebtedness and permit them to borrow in the uncollected taxes. I think if it affects Philadelphia it is a bad bill, and I do not think anybody wants it passed in that form; and I suggest that the Senator from Blair return the bill back to committee, so as to give members of the Senate an opportunity to study it.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, that is agreeable to me.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 34, the bill just read, be recommitted to the Committee on Education, for the purpose of further consideration.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Thursday, February 9, 1939 at 11:00 o'clock p. m.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 3:58 o'clock p. m. until Thursday, February 9, 1939, at 11:00 o'clock p. m.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

WEDNESDAY, February 8, 1939

The House met at 1 p. m.

The SPEAKER (Ellwood J. Turner) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. Walter Evans Deibler, offered the following prayer:

Eternal God, Creator and Preserver of the universe, we thank Thee for the beautiful day Thou hast given us. Help us to appreciate these blessings Thou dost so constantly bestow. In this season when the memory of the immortal Lincoln is before us, may we again hear him speak. For "He being dead yet speaketh." It was he who said "Be sure you put your feet in the right place and then stand firm." "Determine that the thing can and shall be done, and then we shall find the way." "With malice toward none and charity toward all," may we, O Lord, truly say with him—"Let us have faith that right makes might and in that faith let us to the end dare to do our duty." This we pray in the Name of our God. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of yesterday, when, on motion of Mr. RHODES, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal approved.

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. STOCKHAM.

RESOLUTION No. 14.

In the House of Representatives, February 7, 1939.

The whole world is distressed and waring and following strange dogmas.

Our own country continues in the grip of the severest economic depression and financial panic in our history.

The federal administration, by its domestic policy, has engendered an unhealthy class consciousness within our borders.

Secret diplomacy, a policy strange to our Republic, threatens to embroil our Nation in the dangerous and viscious disputes of Europe.

The policy of reciprocal trade tariffs seem to build up our unemployment roles rather than spur trade.

The dangerous "isms" of Europe appear to be fostered and encouraged by certain federal bureaus, threatening the overthrow of our government.

The whole New Deal has created the largest debt in our history, makes no effort to balance its budgets and threatens inflation.

The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has a large interest in these problems and a great stake in the economic affairs of the United States; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Speaker of the House of Representatives be directed to communicate with the two United States Senators, the Honorable Joseph F. Guffey and the Honorable James J. Davis, the Keystone State's ambassadors to the seat of the federal government at Washington, and invite them to appear together, at an agreeable time, before this House and give to its members a report of the state of the Nation, to the end that Pennsylvania may be fully and authentically advised of the things which threaten our people and that this great Commonwealth may be the better guided in the formulation of a legislative policy that shall protect her best interests and the quicker relieve her distress.

Referred to the Committee on Federal Relations.

By Mr. HOLLAND.

RESOLUTION No. 15.

In the House of Representatives, February 7, 1939.

The threat of spring floods again fills the hearts of multitudes of citizens of this Commonwealth with apprehensive dread, and brings to mind with fearful vividness the horrors of the great floods of 1936, still so fresh in the memory of thousands of sufferers and eye-witnesses.

In the face of this threatened repetition of disaster, the Governor of the Commonwealth and his Secretary of Forests and Waters maintain that, to effect economy, it is necessary to defer the completion of all flood control programs until such time as the Commonwealth's budget shall have been balanced.

Under existing flood control programs, the Commonwealth is required only to pay for lands necessarily taken for flood control purposes, while the Federal Government defrays all other expenses in connection therewith.

In comparison with the many millions of dollars of property destruction and damage, and the loss of human lives—not capable of reckoning in mere monetary values,—the small expenditures required of the State becomes trivial.

The Federal Government is ready and anxious to proceed. The so-called difference of opinion is not genuine, but is augmented by the public utilities, who fear the lowering of rates for electric power through cheaper production by governmental agencies.

The statements of the Governor and the Secretary of Forests and Waters are misleading, insomuch as true economy in this respect can be attained only by completing all programs for flood control within this State thereby avoiding untold loss of life and property in the future.

Resolved, therefore, That the House of Representatives hereby urge upon the Governor of the Commonwealth the imperative necessity of considering first the lives and property of multitudes of citizens, rather than the financial interests of the utilities; and that he adopt a policy of not only at once resuming and pressing to a speedy conclusion the present flood control programs, but also of using all facilities at his command to effectually bring about safety and security from future floods in threatened areas, and to forever avoid a repetition of the great floods of 1936.

Resolved, also, That copies of these resolutions be certified by the Chief Clerk and transmitted to His Excellency, the Governor of Pennsylvania, and to the Secretary of Forests and Waters.

Referred to the Committee on Federal Relations.

By Mr. O'NEILL.

RESOLUTION No. 16.

In the House of Representatives, February 7, 1939.

Yesterday the mortal remains of one of Scranton's most sincere philanthropists and leaders of progressive movements were consigned to their last resting place. The funeral of M. E. Comerford, who passed away in Florida on Wednesday last, was held in St. Peter's Cathedral. The homage due the great leader and humanitarian was such as to prove that there has been universal appreciation of the good deeds that have marked the career of this self-made man.

Starting life amid humble environments, he advanced from modest undertakings up the ladder until he had gained national fame as one of the leading magnates in the motion picture business.

A leader and liberal contributor in all progressive and charitable moves in Scranton, M. E. Comerford was known far and wide. But it was in the unknown private aid to the unfortunate in humble walks of life that the character of this philanthropist was best revealed: therefore be it

Resolved, by the House of Representatives of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, That in the death of M. E. Comerford, the State has lost an outstanding citizen, and the City of Scranton has been deprived of the help of a sincere philanthropist and a great humanitarian and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the family of the deceased by the Chief Clerk of the House.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Mr. LICHTENWALTER.

RESOLUTION No. 17.

In the House of Representatives, February 7, 1939.

H. Stanley Welty, a former member of this House from Lehigh County, died at the Veterans Hospital at Coatesville on November 23rd last, where he had been a patient for the past seven years, suffering from the effects of gas attacks during the World War.

He was one of the few members of the American Expeditionary Forces to be decorated with the Croix-de-Guerre for gallantry in action, and received, in addition a personal award from the French Government for exceptional bravery shown during the bombing of a French hospital.

Mr. Welty was a graduate of Blair Academy and Lafayette College. After reading law in the office of Recorder Butz in Allentown, he was admitted to the Lehigh County Bar in 1922.

His ability as a lawyer, his personal popularity and his outstanding war record combined to bring about his election as a member of this House, where he conscientiously served his constituents during the sessions of 1925 and 1927.

As a result of the service he rendered his country, he passed from the active life he loved long ere the evening shadows fell: therefore be it

Resolved, That this House of Representatives, recognizing his valiant and heroic service to the Nation during the World War and his work here in this House in the interests of his constituents, respectfully pays homage to his memory, and extends to his sorrowing wife and children its most sincere sympathy; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief of the House shall immediately transmit a copy of this resolution to his widow.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Mr. ROSENFELD.

(Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 18.

In the House of Representatives, February 7, 1939.

Whereas, It is of vital importance that the General Assembly be thoroughly familiar with the personnel requirements of the different departments of the State Government in order to intelligently pass upon appropriations for the coming biennium; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), That a commission is hereby created, which shall be composed of six Members, three of whom shall be Members of the House of Representatives to be appointed by the Speaker, two Members of whom shall represent the majority party, and three Members of the Senate to be appointed by the President Pro Tempore of the Senate, two of whom shall represent the majority party: whose duty it shall be to investigate the personnel of each department of the State Government in order to ascertain the appropriation requirements thereof and to determine upon any changes therein that might effect economy; and be it further

Resolved, That said commission shall report the result of its investigations to the General Assembly as speedily as possible.

Referred to the Committee on State Government.

RESOLUTIONS

SYMPATHY EXTENDED

Mr. WOODSIDE called up Resolution No. 16, and ask and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 7, 1939.

Yesterday the mortal remains of one of Scranton's most sincere philanthropists and leaders of progressive movements were consigned to their last resting place. The funeral of M. E. Comerford, who passed away in Florida on Wednesday last, was held at St. Peter's Cathedral. The homage due the great leader and humanitarian was such as to prove that there has been universal appreciation of the good deeds that have marked the career of this self-made man.

Starting life amid humble environments, he advanced from modest undertakings up the ladder until he had gained national fame as one of the leading magnates in the motion picture business.

A leader and liberal contributor in all progressive and charitable moves in Scranton, M. E. Comerford was known far and wide. But it was in the unknown private aid to the unfortunate in humble walks of life that the character of this philanthropist was best revealed; therefore be it

Resolved, by the House of Representatives of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, that in the death of M. E. Comerford, the State has lost an outstanding citizen, and the City of Scranton has been deprived of the help of a sincere philanthropist and a great humanitarian and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the family of the deceased by the Chief Clerk of the House.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was unanimously adopted.

SYMPATHY EXTENDED

Mr. WOODSIDE called up Resolution No. 17, and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 7, 1939.

H. Stanley Welty, a former member of this House from Lehigh County, died at the Veterans Hospital at Coatesville on November 23rd last, where he had been a patient for the past seven years, suffering from the effects of gas attacks during the World War.

He was one of the few members of the American Expeditionary Forces to be decorated with the Croix-de-Guerre for gallantry in action, and received, in addition, a personal award from the French Government for exceptional bravery shown during the bombing of a French hospital.

Mr. Welty was a graduate of Blair Academy and Lafayette College. After reading law in the office of Recorder Butz in Allentown, he was admitted to the Lehigh County Bar in 1922.

His ability as a lawyer, his personal popularity and his outstanding war record combined to bring about his election as a member of this House, where he conscientiously served his constituents during the sessions of 1925 and 1927.

As a result of the service he rendered his country, he passed from the active life he loved long ere the evening shadows fell; therefore be it

Resolved, That this House of Representatives, recognizing his valiant and heroic service to the Nation during the World War and his work here in this House in the interests of his constituents, respectfully pays homage to his memory, and extends to his sorrowing wife and children its most sincere sympathy; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the House shall immediately transmit a copy of this resolution to his widow.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was unanimously adopted.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

APPROVAL OF HOUSE BILL No. 2.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,

SENATE

THURSDAY, February 9, 1939.

The Senate met at 11:00 o'clock, p. m.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Samuel S. Lewis) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. BURLEIGH A. PETERS, offered the following prayer:

With the deep sense of our utter dependence upon Thee for all aid in solving the problems confronting us from day to day, Our Father, we humbly and honestly knock upon the door of Thine immeasurable depths of wisdom that it may be opened unto us as we wait in Thy sacred presence. May we know that "The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom." May we be fearful not in the sense of bodily injury or mental intimidation but in the moral and spiritual sense of doing that which may not be pleasing unto Thee. Hence, our need of Thy Fatherly care and wise direction in these hours of tremendous problems and momentous decisions.

Whatsoever may come before us for consideration this evening, grant us clarity of vision, definiteness of purpose and certainty of decision.

Just as each member of this body differs from the other in intellect, personality, profession, religion and the like so we cannot share the same opinions in every particular upon the problems which become our legislative tasks. But it is certain we may all share the bounteous love and perfect understanding of God, in which we will become united upon the perpetuation of good, sound government for the common good of all.

In all the relationships we sustain to each other here in this chamber may they always be tempered with "charity for all." Abide with us now while we work. For Thy name's sake. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. OWLETT and Mr. WALKER, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President and members of the Senate, although the hour is late and I do not like to take your time up on this problem this evening, however, due to the fact that this important order goes into effect tomorrow, I think that it is proper that I say a few words relative to the question of Milk Control.

During the Regular Session of 1937 I made an attack upon the proposed Milk Control Legislation when it was up for final consideration before this Senate.

In doing so I pointed out the unfairness in the legislation and the avenues it would open up for the fleecing of both the consumer and the producer of milk.

When one considers that the Milk Control Act was originally conceived and proposed with the purpose in mind of establishing marketing principles and practices that would give to the consumer a fair deal in milk prices and to the farmer a fair return for his production of this vital food necessity, one can readily see from an examination of the records and orders as issued by the Milk Control Board since Oct. 1, 1934 until the last order effective on February 10, 1939, that the person benefited by this Act and its administration is neither the farmer nor the consumer, but rather the middleman profiteer known as the retailer.

Men in my county who are both producers and retailers tell me that they are reconciled to their losses as producers, because they make a profit out of the retail end of the business. You can easily see what happens to the farmer who has been forced out of the retail field by various orders and schemes and now is at the mercy of the retail middleman. I am not going to go into the ramifications of the dismal forest of milk grading and its crazy-quilt method of price juggling and quantity rationing that gives a farmer the same headaches as a primary student in physics trying to solve the Einstein theory. One thing I do intend to do is to give specific prices and figures that show conclusively that the whole question of milk production, distribution and consumption is in need of investigation and study, and compliment my colleague Senator Heyburn for his introduction of a resolution asking for such a study. We hope this study will offer recommendations that will cure the evils attached to the present Milk Control set-up.

Dairy farmers supplying milk to the Pittsburgh Milk Marketing Area, according to a new price order effective February 10, 1939, and mailed out from the Milk Control Commission's office yesterday, will receive a reduction in price of 76c per hundred pounds on Class 1, or fluid milk, and 47c per hundred pounds on Class 1A, milk from which is derived fluid cream.

Previously, on January 17, 1939, the farmers in the Pittsburgh area received a reduction of 20c per hundred pounds on Class 2 milk, and 5c per hundred pounds on Class 3 milk used in the manufacture of ice cream and butter respectively.

The new price order reduces the price charged consumers for fluid milk in the Pittsburgh area from 13c per quart and 8c per pint to 11c per quart and 7c per pint.

If we compare the prices paid producers for milk and charged consumers for milk and cream in the Pittsburgh market as incorporated in the official general price order which became effective October 1, 1934, and which was not superseded until January 16, 1936, with the prices incorporated in the new price order, it is possible to show how unfair and unreasonable the present price order is to both the dairy farmers supplying milk to the Pittsburgh area and the consumers in that area.

The order which became effective October 1, 1934, provided that the dealers pay the producers $2.48 for 3.5% milk which would be equal to $2.68 per hundred pounds for milk testing 4% butterfat.

The price fixed in the new Pittsburgh order is $2.30 for 4% milk or a decrease of 38c per hundred pounds to the producer.

The consumer price fixed in the order effective October 1, 1934, was 11c per quart and 7c per pint, which prices are identical with the prices incorporated in the present order, with the exception that under the order effective October 1, 1934, the consumers in the Pittsburgh area were permitted to buy milk at stores at 10c per quart and 6c per pint, a reduction of 1c per quart and 1c per pint.

The price paid producers for Class 1A milk, milk from which is derived fluid cream, for the month of February, 1935 was $2.07 for 3.5% milk which is equal to $2.27 for 4% milk and the consumer price for Light Cream was 40c per quart, 23c per pint and 13c per half-pint, with the privilege of buying cream at stores for cash at a reduction in price of 4c per quart, 2c per pint and 1c per half-pint.

The price to be paid producers for cream as incorporated in the present price order is $1.75 for 4% milk, representing a price reduction of 52c per hundred pounds less than the price paid in February, 1935.

The price fixed in the new order to be charged consumers for light cream is 48c per quart, a price increase of 8c per quart; 26c per pint, a price increase of 3c per pint and 15c per half-pint, a price increase of 2c per half-pint as compared with the prices fixed in the order effective October 1, 1934.

Furthermore, the consumers are denied the privilege of buying cream at stores at a saving in price, which really means that the consumers who purchase cream at stores, under the new order will be required to pay 11c per quart, 4c per pint and 2c per half-pint more for their cream than they were under the order previously mentioned; yet, as stated before, under the new order the farmers receive 52c per hundred pounds less for their milk from which the cream is derived. Who then receives the greatest benefit under the new order—the farmer, the consumer or the dealer? Definitely, in my humble opinion, the dealer gets the cream in the milk industry in this State.

For comparative purposes, I am listing below the official prices to be paid producers for milk during the month of December, 1938, in the Pittsburgh Milk Marketing Area under Order A-28 as compared with what the farmers will receive for milk in the same classifications under the proposed order, A-35 at the reduced prices, assuming that the butter market will remain the same.

PRICES PAID PRODUCERS IN PITTSBURGH AREA

DATE	OFFICIAL ORDER No.	Price Class 1	Per Hundredweight Class 1A	Class 2	Class 3
1938
December	A-28	$3.06	$2.22	$1.56	$1.23
Under PROPOSED ORDER	No. A-35	2.30	1.75	1.36	1.17
REDUCTION PER HUNDREDWEIGHT IN PRODUCER PRICES		$.76	$.47	$.20	$.05

From October 1934 until December, 1936, the consumers in Pittsburgh could purchase both milk and cream at a lower price than the prices written in the present milk order and the farmers' price was 48c higher for fluid milk and 52c higher for milk used in the form of fluid cream as fixed in the new order.

Information given me shows that there has been an increase in consumer price in this State of over $20,000,000 a year since the original Milk Control Act went into effect.

Why then should the farmers in the Pittsburgh area receive such a drastic cut in their milk prices and the consumers continue to pay a proportionately higher price for milk and cream than they did when the farmer prices were much higher?

In the interest of both the consumer and the producer, this Act and its administration should be thoroughly overhauled by this new State Administration and the General Assembly.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

MR. SIPE. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

THE PRESIDENT. The Senator from Armstrong, Mr. Sipe, will state his question of personal privilege.

MR. SIPE. Mr. President, I have been giving some study to these two milk orders mentioned by the Senator from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent. I live in the Pittsburgh district, and although my friend from Allegheny, Mr. Geltz, may think that I have no closer relation to farming than smoking a certain kind of pipe, yet it is true that on my farm I produce thousands of gallons of milk annually and sell it, so that I am interested as a farmer in this Milk Control set-up.

I do not intend to make a speech on it, because, frankly, I have not gone deeply enough into the ramifications and possibilities of these orders to deal with the subject as I would like to; but I would like to say to this Senate that as far as I have gone my honest impression is that these orders have resulted and will result in the gypping of the farmer and the gypping of the consumer and the enriching of the big dealer. The farmer, in other words, has gotten a drastic cut, and the consumer has not gotten relief anywhere in proportion to the cut that the farmer has gotten.

NOMINATIONS BY THE GOVERNOR MEMBERS OF THE STATE ATHLETIC COMMISSION

The Secretary to the Governor, being introduced, presented communication in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, which was read as follows, and referred to the Committee on Executive Nominations.

The House met at 1 p. m.

The SPEAKER (Ellwood J. Turner) in the chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. Walter Evans Deibler, offered the following prayer:

May the inspiration of Thy Holy Presence, Oh God, guide these Thy servants, to discover the best ways to serve the people of our Commonwealth. Help us to realize that every new day is a new opportunity; impress upon our minds that "new occasions teach new duties." May we be further guided by the practical advice of the great liberator who said, "Stand with anybody that stands for right. Stand with him while he is right, and part with him when he goes wrong." May we be strong while there is hard work to do and loads to lift, we pray, Oh God, for the honor of Thy name through Jesus Christ, Our Lord. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday.

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. FREED.

RESOLUTION No. 19.

In the House of Representatives, February 7, 1939.

Whereas, For a period of over a year, checks for those entitled to old age assistance have failed to reach them when due, and often have been delinquent for a week or more; and

Whereas, This delay works hardship, pain and agony, physically and financially, embarrassing them in living up to a standard of moral ethics; and

Whereas, A humane spirit and feeling to the old age pensioners shall be voiced in this General Assembly; therefore be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives, That the Department of Public Assistance is hereby urged to give its reasons for the delay in the payments of old age assistance; and be it further

Resolved, That the General Assembly hereby expresses its willingness to assist those aged persons who deserve the assistance of the Commonwealth in making life just a little better for them than it has been in the past.

Referred to the Committee on Welfare.

By Mr. MONTGOMERY. (Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 20.

In the House of Representatives, February 8, 1939.

Whereas, the Members of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania are cognizant of the fact that a large number of Aliens reside in Pennsylvania; and

Whereas, many such Aliens illegally entered the United States; and

Whereas, many Aliens who have entered the United States illegally are gainfully employed while patriotic American Citizens are not only unemployed, but on relief rolls; and

Whereas, there are many Aliens in this Country who also receive relief from a generous government; and

Whereas, many of these same Aliens (who entered this Country legally or illegally) preach and foment strife, dissension, and teach and encourage un-American principles and ideals; and

Whereas, this Nation has no accurate record of the actual number of Aliens who are gainfully employed or who receive relief; nor of the number of Aliens who entered the Country illegally; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania memorialize the Congress of the United States to enact Legislation which will require every Alien to register with the Department of Labor and Industry of the United States and with similar Departments in the State in which they reside; and be it further

Resolved, That the General Assembly urge the Congress of the United States to enact Legislation to compel Aliens to carry cards of identification, and to subject aliens to penalties for failure to register and carry cards of identification.

Referred to the Committee on Federal Relations.

SENATE MESSAGE

RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented the following extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows, viz:

In the Senate, February 7, 1939.

Whereas, The mounting cost of relief is a menace to the orderly functions of State Government; and

Whereas, There is a common belief that there are a large number of migratory beneficiaries on the relief rolls; therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the attention of the Department of Public Assistance is called to this complication, and that it is the sense of the General Assembly that the Department should exclude from relief rolls all benefits for such migratory applicants.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

Referred to the Committee on Welfare.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Mr. Ellwood B. Welsh asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. ROONEY for the remainder of the week.

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. JOHN N. HOFFMAN, Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the postponed calendar.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, having sent to the desk amendments to the bill prior to the motion to place it on the postponed calendar I would request that the amendments which I submitted be returned so that I may have them for my file.

The SPEAKER. The amendments offered by the gentleman will be returned to him. The bill was not before the House when they were sent to the desk.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, prior to taking a vote on the motion to place this bill on the postponed calendar I might call attention to the fact that House Bills Nos. 128, 129, 131 and 132 all cover practically the same subject, and I desire to ask the gentleman from Northampton whether or not it is his desire to place all the bills in this series on the postponed calendar.

Mr. HOFFMAN. Mr. Speaker, it is my intention to place all four bills on the postponed calendar.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, is it the intention of the gentleman from Northampton to make a motion to reconsider the vote by which House Bill 132 passed second reading, so that it might also be placed on the postponed calendar and be in the same position as the other bills that have not yet been read for the second time.

Mr. HOFFMAN. Mr. Speaker, that is my answer and my agreement.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

BILL ON SECOND READING

NAYS—0

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House Proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 186, entitled:

An Act transferring money from the Fire Insurance Tax Fund to the General Fund and providing for the subsequent return from the General Fund of the transferred money.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Woodside.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Dauphin permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOODSIDE. I shall.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Dauphin please explain to the membership the character and nature of the Fire Insurance tax which he contemplates transferring to the General Fund?

MR. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, there is a two percent tax on foreign fire insurance companies that is put into the Fire Insurance Tax Fund. From this fund payments are made under the law to certain municipalities for payment to fire companies, volunteer and otherwise, who have organized a relief or pension fund. This money accumulates to some extent as a result of some fire companies not forming the proper organization for relief and pensions, and that accumulation extends over a period of years. It is the purpose to take this accumulation, which would not now be paid to any fire company, plus the amount which would be paid to the municipalities, and by the municipalities to the fire companies for their relief and pension funds, and transfer that money to the general fund for the purpose of making a relief appropriation for the deficiency in the present biennium. This fund according to the act and the plan will be repaid prior to September 1, 1939.

It is the intention of the Administration to immediately after June 1, float tax anticipation notes to repay this money to the special fund from which it will be repaid to the municipalities, and by the municipalities to the fire companies' relief and pension funds. It is merely delaying for a few months the payment to the various municipalities, and in turn their paying it over to the various fire companies' funds. The plan I understand is satisfactory to the fire companies and firemen as a whole, who are perfectly willing to forego the payment for a period of three or four months in order that this relief situation can be met, fully realizing that the money will be paid over to them at the end of that period.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, did I understand the gentleman from Dauphin to say that this act would only transfer from the fire insurance tax fund to the general fund the moneys that are not specifically allocated to fire companies throughout the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I did not say that. At any rate I did not mean to say it. It will transfer the fund which has accumulated, but which will not be paid out between now and September 1, and it will also transfer that which has accumulated and is not now in the fund, but which will come into the fund between now and May 31st, and which would be paid over to the fire companies between now and that date.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, did I understand the gentleman from Dauphin correctly when he stated that this act will transfer to the general fund the allocated and unallocated moneys that are in the fund?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, that is correct.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, as the gentleman from Dauphin has indicated, this bill transfers from the Fire Insurance Tax Fund moneys which are allocated to the various volunteer fire associations of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for the continuance of their relief program. This act also transfers unallocated moneys due and owing to the volunteer fire companies relief program. I might state that it has always been the practice of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, after a certain accumulation has been realized, to take such unallocated funds and divide them amongst the various volunteer relief associations that are in existence and are entitled to receive those moneys.

This act indicates more than anything else the obstinacy on the part of the majority. We are now being asked to transfer a million and a half dollars of relief funds due and owing to volunteer fire associations throughout the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, when we have indicated a source of income approximating six and one-half million dollars, and are willing and ready to indicate an additional source of income, which would obviate the necessity of making this transfer, but the obstinacy of the majority is such that they refuse to accede to the advice of the minority, irrespective of how beneficial it might be to the people of the Commonwealth.

Incidentally I might state that there is no finer institution in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania than the Volunteer Fire Association. The community in which I live, the city of York, has what I would say has without doubt one of the most outstanding fire departments in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. They have saved for the taxpayers of the city of York millions and millions of dollars by their unstinted efforts in trying to hold down fire hazards in our community, and they have done it so well that the city of York, which I represent, enjoys one of the most favorable fire insurance rates that is enjoyed by any community in the entire Commonwealth. In the mad desire to take every available bit of money that the majority feels is susceptible to transfer, in their mad desire to gather those funds and deprive the firemen and their families of the relief that is pledged to them by their fire associations, the majority is asking this House to vote for an unnecessary transfer. What I stated on the other bills, I say on this bill more emphatically, if the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania was in such a precarious position that it would be necessary to dip in and to rob every particular fund in order to maintain relief, I might say that the action of the majority was warranted, but on the other hand, in order to obviate the necessity of making this transfer, I now say to the majority that there is an additional $2,000,000 over and above the six and one-half million dollars which we have shown you, that is now susceptible of appropriation without the necessity of any transfer. Under the General State Authority program there has been allocated to the Department of Property and Supplies the sum of $2,750,000 by the act passed in the 1937 session, to pay for the rentals of institutions completed by the General State Authority during this biennium. Out of that $2,750,000 not more than $750,000 will be utilized by the Department of Property and Supplies to pay for the rentals of the buildings completed, so that there now remains susceptible for utilization by this House, or by the Commonwealth, the sum of $2,000,000, obviating the necessity of this transfer.

I say to the membership of this House, don't milk the Commonwealth dry. You have $2,000,000 available. Don't ruin the institutions that have protected the people of this Commonwealth for years. In behalf of the destitute families of the Volunteer Fireman, and in behalf of those who have so gloriously served us in time of need, I ask the membership of this House to vote against this bill.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I don't see why the gentleman from York who knows all the answers and has made so many fluent speeches on this subject, cannot understand what we have been saying.

He has spoken a number of times about the question of rebating various appropriations that have been made, and I have answered him each time by saying that we intend to abate those appropriations. There is one reason, and one very sound reason, why we have not done it up to this time, and why we are not doing it at the present moment, and that is because we do not know and cannot now ascertain the exact amount we can abate but we propose to take advantage of every bit of money that can be abated, and we propose to use that for the payment of the deficit left us by the Democratic administration.

If you will refer to these transfer bills, you will find that the transfer of this fund is to be made for the amount that is actually necessary. If that amount is not necessary, transfer need not and will not be made. I would say to the members of this House in order to meet the deficit left to the Republican administration by the outgoing Democratic administration, it is necessary for us not only to make the transfer which we are making, but also to take advantage of all the abatements which we can find and this transfer, in addition to other transfers and abatements, will be necessary in order to meet the deficit left us.

I might say also that the State Association of Firemen have agreed that this transfer is satisfactory and will in no way interfere or handicap these funds.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, under the Rules of the House which prohibit a member from voting upon a bill in which he is vitally interested, I desire to inquire of the Speaker if my membership in a volunteer fire association, known as Vigilante Fire Company No. 1 of the city of York, prohibits my voting on this bill even though I am not a member of the Relief Association.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from York is a member of a group known as the Volunteer Firemen, and therefore is not personally interested in this measure, and cannot be deprived of voting. However, should the member from York feel in his conscience that he should not vote on this measure the Chair will excuse him.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I wish to say in regard to the ruling, that my conscience dictates to me to vote "no," and I hope that the same honest conscientious consideration will be given by other members of the volunteer fire department who are members of this House, and that they will also vote "no" on the bill.

The SPEAKER. The Chair appreciates the facetious remarks of the gentleman from York.

Mr. WOODSIDE. I would like to say to the gentleman from York that the fire companies of Dauphin county, and I think I can speak for them, both locally in the borough of Millersburg and as a member of the County Association, are anxious to help in any way possible. As far as my little contribution, my share of the appropriation is concerned, I will be very glad to have the payment delayed for four months, and I will ask the gentleman from York whether he will not volunteer that the payment of his share of the appropriation be postponed for a period of four months.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, did I understand that the gentleman from Dauphin desired to interrogate me?

Mr. WOODSIDE. No, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. I had a real good answer, Mr. Speaker.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken.

Messrs. Ominsky, Holland and Baker requested a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified and was as follows:
